Glengarrians Block Germans

By ROSS MUNRO—Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 26 — (CP Cable). — In the Norman village of Les Buissons and in the woods and fields around it the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders from Cornwall, Ont., fought their roughest battle in the early days of this campaign and drove back German infantry and armored thrusts which would have dangerously imperilled the beachhead if they had been successful. That first week in Normandy was a furious one for the Glengarrians but they won a great name for the regiment in the fighting at Les Buissons. They call it "Hell's Corners" in the Glengarrians' camps—which isn't original but aptly describes that shell-shattered village where they stood against crack German units.

The Glengarrians were in the divisional reserve which came ashore at Bernieres on D-Day behind the Queen's Own Rifles from Toronto and the Fort Garry Horse from Winnipeg. By evening the Glengarrians had advanced to Beny Sur Mer with the Highland Light Infantry of Canada from Galt, and fighting was going on down the road where the Canadian spearhead was striking toward Caen and Carpiquet.

At Beny the Glengarrians dug in for the night and were shelled and sniped at. In the morning they pushed south just behind a column of North Nova Scotia Highlanders and tanks of Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, Sherbrooke, Que., who near succeeded in reaching Carpiquet before being hit by German armor.

The Glengarrians' colonel, a Kingston, Ont., High school teacher in peacetime, heard reports over the wireless of the tough time the Nova Scotias and the tanks were having around Authie on the Carpiquet road and ordered his battalion to consolidate at Les Buissons.

Fored To Retreat

Then the fireworks started. After a bitter fight in the Authie area, elements of the Nova Scotias drifted balk to the Glengarrians' positions and remnants of the Sherbrookes also came into the defence

Five Allied Air Armadas Drumming Europe Steadily

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 26—(AP).—R.A.F. Mosquitoes flying from Britain maintained steady Allied air pressure on the enemy both in Normandy and the German homeland overnight, while medium and heavy bombers from Italy hit Budapest, Hungary's capital.

Continuing the Allied air operations that kept five air armadas—four from Britain and one from Italy—drumming German installations in France virtually all day Sunday, the Mosquitoes last night attacked German troops concentrations, railroads and supply dumps near the French battlefront and industrial objectives in the German city of Homberg, northwest of Duisberg.

Unfavorable weather this morning threatened to limit today's operations over the beachhead sectors.

Beyond the Normandy front lines, the Mosquitoes left German supply dumps hidden in the forest of Bretonne on the Siene a mass of flames. Fliers said the fires stretched two miles and were advancing in a series of semi-circles when they left.

The Mosquitoes bombed German troops in the village of Evrecy, southwest of Caen. Railroads north of Laigle and at Argentan were among other targets.

3,500 Planes Out.

Supreme Headquarters announced that although most of yesterday's tactical assaults were directed against enemy fuel dumps and railroads, some American dive-bombers struck German gun emplacements in Cherbourg.

Some 3,500 planes participated in Sunday's attack, ranging from Pas de Calais to the southern coast of France.

Two of the mighty fleets, one British and one American, battered the Nazi winged bomb emplacements at Pas de Calais. Absent from English skies during daylight yesterday, the robots began coming over again during the night but many were blasted before they got across the Channel.

Another forces of the U.S. four-engined bombers struck into France from Italy.

Swarm Over Normandy

Medium, light and fighter-bombers and fighters swarmed over and beyond the Normandy battle areas throughout the day in steady support of ground forces.

Allied losses for the day were placed at 43 planes, including 20 heavy bombers. Fifty-nine Germans were downed.

Second Edict Given Garrison

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS OUTSIDE CHERBOURG, June 26—(CP-Reuter) — While American troops already have entered the city of Cherbourg and occupied parts of it, the American Command today sent an ultimatum to the beleaguered German garrison demanding its "immediate and unconditional surrender." The message told the defenders the city was "surrounded isolated and breached."

The message was addressed to Gen. Von Schleiben, commander of German forces in Cherbourg.

The ultimatum said:

"The fortress of Cherbourg is now surrounded.

"Its defences have been breached and the city is isolated.

"You and your troops have offered stubborn and valiant resistance to our advance. You are overwhelmingly outnumbered and it is merely a question of time until the city will be captured.

"The immediate unconditional surrender of Cherbourg is demanded.

"Answer by radio on 1,520 kilocycles and raise a white flag or shoot white rockets or flares from the Naval Hospital and the Hospital Pasteur in Cherbourg.

"Thereafter send a staff officer with a white flag by way of Port du Roule to Farm de la Montague to receive detailed conditions of surrender.

One German version of the ultimatum — issued by the D. N. B. agency — said "the German commander of Cherbourg refused repeated American demands to surrender. German occupation forces of Cherbourg in fact defended themselves up to the last grenade and the last shell."

This was believed to be the second ultimatum addressed to the enemy commander in Cherbourg. Latae last week the London Daily Sketch said it had heard a broadcast ultimatum from the American field commander demanding the surrender of enemy forces holding the port city.

A spokesman at Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force said at that time he was unable to confirm such an ultimatum had been issued but said it was possible the field commander had issued one.

Claim Germans Evacuate Berlin

LISBON, June 26.—(AP).—Twenty Hungarian passengers who arrived here last night on a German airliner said Nazi authorities had ordered the evacuation of Berlin.

Hitler's Reich Chancellory was among "many important buildings" smashed or damaged "during the most devastating daylight air attack Berlin has ever had, made last Wednesday by American Liberators and Fortresses," the BBC reported Sunday in a broadcast recorded in New York by CBS.

"Pictures taken during the attack show more than 100 concentrations of bombs in the heart of Berlin," the BBC said.

"They damaged more than 35 separate industrial plants, four railway stations, five marshalling yards, and many important government buildings. These included the Reichs Chancellory, the Gestapo Headquarters, the War Office and Propaganda Headquarters."

Sailor Fights Tiger Shark

Comrade Loses Life In Sea Battle

ABOARD A COAST - GUARD VESSEL IN CARIBBEAN, June 26—(AP)—A I.S. Coast-Guard officer, Lieut. S. B. Kurta of Brooklyn, N.Y., waged a bare-handed battle against a monster Tiger shark in a vain attempt to save a shipmate, washed overboard from this anti-submarine patrol ship.

Blood from the wounds of the doomed man dyed the sea about him as Lieut. Kurta grabbed the tail of the shark and kicked and gouged until the thrashing man-killer released its victim.

The injured youth was still alive although frightfully hurt, and grabbed for Kurta's shoulders. The officer managed to get behind him and support him under the arm-pits. Then the sailor lost consciousness.

While the shark warily circled the two men, Kurta tried to manoeuvre closer to the ship. Suddenly the injured man was wrenched from his grasp and was not seen again.

Reds Fight In Streets Of Vitebsk

45,000 Germans Encircled By Four Armies

MOSCOW, June 26—(AP).—Red Army men, fighting their way through the streets of Vitebsk where five divisions are encircled, were reported today to have driven the Germans across the western Dvina River to the central part of the city.

The Red flag was flying over that part of Vitebsk on the east bank of the river, Soviet dispatches said, and one of the main buildings in the city had been taken.

LONDON, June 26 (CP).—Attacking with shattering force on a 250-mile front in one of history's greatest land offensives, four powerful Russian armies drove westward through the broken German "fatherland line" in White Russia today, leaving behind an island of 45,000 trapped enemy troops. These were being cut to pieces in the battle-torn streets of encircled Vitebsk.

As Russia's vital role in the Allied Teheran master plan to crush Germany this year unfolded front by front, German broadcasts noted with alarm that a fifth Red Army had struck in the Ostrov sector, 165 miles northwest of doomed Vitebsk. That would make a 325-mile front in the east, exclusive of the two Russian armies now battering Finland.

4 Others Poised.

At least four other great Soviet armies are poised on the Polish and Romanian fronts — waiting for the signal for a concerted push toward Berlin and in conjunction with Allied armies in the west and south.

Rolling over roads strewn with dead Germans and wrecked equipment, the Russians had thrown a broad belt of men and machines around the fortress city of Vitebsk, and were threatening the strongholds of Orsha, Mogilev and Bobruik to the south.

Moscow said more than 16,000 Germans had been killed—8,000 of them in the area south of Vitebsk alone. Hundreds of big guns, trucks and other equipment also had been seized. Machines in full-working order were announced by the Germans, whose flight was called a

Germans Hang 100 French After Battle

PORT BOU, Spain, June 26—(AP)—German troops who blasted their way back into the guerilla-held French village of Ussel Tuesday night climaxed their victory by hanging 100 Frenchmen in the town square, a Paris dispatch reported today.

A Spanish correspondent of the Barcelona newspaper Vanguardia, writing under German censorship, said that after "liquidation of 100 responsible partisans" calm was "again imposed" in the town, located in the Correze Department at the foot of the Plateau de Millevache, a stronghold of the French Maquis.

Frenchmen reaching the Spanish frontier previously had reported the hangings. They said Ussel first was taken by the Maquis without much resistance. The Maquis then withdrew, the border report said, but returned when Vichy authorities and the Germans failed to bring civilian supplies to Ussel.

The Maquis brought flour and other food and distributed it in the town, the frontier reports said, and

"Up The Glens" New Battlecry

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 26.—(CP Cable).—The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders have a battlecry, "Up the Glens!" which range through the woods around the town of Les Buissons during the stormy four-day action the battalion fought there after their landing.

The cry originated in an English pub before the unit sailed for France. The colonel was having a beer one evening with Maj. Fred Lander, of Kingston, Ont., when the barmaid remarked, "There are a lot of you Glens around here."

The unit has always been known as the Glengarrians, but here was a new name—"The Glens."

The colonel and the major liked it and drank a toast, "Up the Glens." It caught on through the battalion and in "Hell's Corners" of Les Buissons the Highlanders shouted it when the battle was hottest.

"My men would pop their heads out of their fox-holes and shout, "Hiyah, colonel, 'Up the Glens!'" said the colonel. "The enemy is going to hear that cry again."

7 Hun Divisions In Position To Meet Attack

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 26—(AP)—American troops held one-third of Cherbourg late today while British forces in the eastern half of the bridgehead smashed ahead to a point four miles southeast of Tilly Sur Seulles.

In embattled Cherbourg both American infantry and tanks pushed through to the waterfront and the vital docks, Supreme Headquarters said, but the Germans are shelling the city from their final refuge on the cape to the northwest.

Headquarters announced that more than 20,000 prisoners have been taken by the Allies in Normandy since D-day, including 3,400 captured at Cherbourg in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. today.

Heavy Barrage

British infantry and armor, advancing under cover of a tremendous barrage from artillery and naval guns, captured Brettevillette four miles southeast of Tilly, and another British attack took Tessel-Bretteville 2½ miles southeast of Tilly.

The German D.N.B. agency said British forces storming the Nazi lines on either side of Tilly, which is 12 miles west of Caen, made a breach two miles deep and three miles wide.

Warships have joined in bombarding the Germans east of Tilly, said William Stewart, Canadian Press War correspondent, in a front-line dispatch. He said the British attack in this sector gained its objectives.

British and Canadian artillery, one unit to every eight yards, supported this sweeping assault by British tanks and troops.

In this sector on the east British and Canadian artillery, one unit to every eight yards, supported this sweeping assault by British tanks and troops.

In this sector on the east wing of the beachhead front German armored and mobile strength was being held up by British and Canadian local attacks and threats to break through.

The struggle was particularly bitter east of Tilly sur Seulles, where British forces made a strong infantry attack, knocking out at least half a dozen German tanks and advancing two miles south of Fontenay.

Field-Marshal Rommel tried to re-take Ste. Honorine, four miles north-east of Caen, in a series of strong armored attacks, but was beaten off.

Use 7 Divisions.

Four German armored divisions and three infantry divisions now are known to be in position in the Bayeux-Caen region.

Supreme Headquarters in this morning's communique said "fighting everywhere" in the port of Cherbourg was "extremely severe" but that the full liberation "cannot be long delayed."

(The German radio gave conflicting reports on the battle for Cherbourg. A French language broadcast on Monday informed the people of Occupied Europe the city fell at nine o'clock last night (3 p.m. E.D.T.). Shortly thereafter,

Japs Threaten Hengyang City

CHUNGKING, June 26 (AP)—Severe fighting in the northeastern outskirts of Hengyang, where the Japanese are threatening seizure of the Hankol-Canton railway in their most serious attack in China since 1938, continued all day Sunday without a change in positions, the Chinese high command announced today.

Yuhsien, 45 miles northeast of Hengyang and Hengshan, 25 miles northeast, fell to Japanese east wing columns, however. A column on the west wing advancing on Siangsiang, 60 miles north of Hengyang, was driven back, the communique said.

The Japanese drive down the Canton-Hankow railway threatened to cut China in two, with the Japanese obviously determined to upset the Allied plans to use China as a base.

Allies Move Closer To Leghorn

Take Pimobino Port Beyond Elba Valuable Port

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, June 26.—(AP).—American troops of the Allied 5th Army seized the port of Pimobino without opposition yesterday, thereby gaining a valuable advanced supply base for continued thrust up Italy's west coast, while both American and French troops converged on the inland town of Siena, Allied Headquarters announced to-day.

Pressing after the enemy, who was compelled to evacuate Piombino to avoid encirclement, infantry and tanks stabbed within five miles of Suvereto and within 38 miles of the important port of Leghorn. Piombino is almost directly opposite the captured island of Elba. Further inland the Germans were rolled back upon the approaches to Senna from three directions. One 5th Army force cracked through the villages of Torniella and Scalvala and threatened the town of Monticiano, five miles further north and less than 15 miles southwest of Siena.

French Gaining.

French troops, meanwhile, advanced on the west side of the River Ombrone, 20 miles due south of Siena. At the same time other French forces approaching from the southwest took the town of Castiglionа Dorcia and the village of Rocca Dorcia, 25 miles from Siena.

Between these points and the Tyrrhenian coast the reinforced enemy was employing considerable numbers of big Mark VI Tiger tanks, which were defeated in a midnight battle in the area of Massa Marittima. The enemy delaying position in that sector was by-passed or wiped out.

A 5th Army force stabbing toward Montieri still was locked in a bitter tank and infantry battle with desperate Nazi defenders south of Montieri and eight miles north of Massa. The village of Boccheggiano was taken in this area.

Across the entire 5th Army front Field Marshal Kesselring was employing the 88-mm. guns of his Tiger tanks as mobile artillery. Most of these were from the Nazi 504th Tank Battalion, rushed from France three weeks ago.

Fighter Planes Cover Beachhead

LONDON, June 26—(CP Cable).—R.C.A.F. fighter planes roamed over the Normandy beachhead yesterday on armed reconnaissance patrols, shooting up at least 20 armored vehicles and damaging many more, it was announced today.

An R.C.A.F. Typhoon destroyed with cannon-fire a German staff car armed reconnaissance vehicles. Canadian Spitfires over Caen shot down one enemy plane.

As far as is known, no Canadian planes are missing.

The plane destroyed over Caen, the eighth victim of the R.C.A.F. Nighthawk Squadron since D-Day, fell to FO. W. H. Vincent of Vancouver.

Four other enemy planes also were downed by Canadian fliers during the week-end, it is learned. The marksmen were Flt.-Lt. J. F. McElroy, D.F.C., Kamloops, B.C.; Flt.-Lt. Paul Johnson, San Diego; Flt.-Lt. R. C. Wilson, Toronto, and FO. George Mayson, Banff, Alta.

These airmen of the Red Indian Squadron tangled with an enemy formation twice their size but escaped unscathed.

Japs Fall Prey To Opium

Scourge Of China Acts As Boomerang

WASHINGTON, June 26—(AP)—Hints come out of Tokyo that portions of the Japanese army may have fallen victim to the opium curse the Japs themselves spread for profit in China and other countries invaded by Nippon.

"Competent reports have long indicated," says a U.S. Army unit's newspaper just received from the Pacific, "that the Jap soldier, weary of the hardships of war, has often fallen pry to the drug in an effort to get the thrill it supposedly gives at first.

"Jap interest in a cure for the habit, strange in view of the fact that they have helped to spread it more successfuly than any other agency in the modern world, indicates that the dope problem may have grown serious in their army."

Tpr. Bun Flagler Back Home After 4 Years

After more than eight months of hard fighting in Italy and Sicily, Tpr. Austin "Bun" Flagler, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Flagler, Western avenue, returned home for a 30-day leave Friday evening, after which he will go to Kingston for further medical treatment.

"I'd like to go back to England for a visit after the war, but I've seen enough of Italy to last me forever," Tpr. Flagler said.

"There's and old adage 'see Naples and die'... well, Naples was so battered up there was nothing to see except rubble," he added.

Tpr. Flagler praised the work of the Canadian Legion, and other organizations overseas providing entertainment, recreation and comforts for the men in the front lines, describing them as doing a "wonderful job."

"After severe fighting, and continual attacks by German bombers, to come back and have these organizations relieve some of the tension is marvellous," he stated.

He said the individual Nazi soldier is well trained, well equipped, and a tough fighter not to be underestimated.

Wounded at Ortona by a mortar, he was sent to a hospital near Naples, from where he could see smoke and flames belch from Mount Vesuvius, nearly ten miles away. Speaking of Ortona, one of the fiercest battles of the war, Tpr. Flagler said, "Ortona was a lot of hard fighting. Block by block, street by street, that's the way the Canadians took it."

On the way to Italy "Bun" met many boys from Peterborough and district, including Gnr. Art McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. McGrath, Business street. While in Italy and Sicily, "Bun" was with the First Canadian Division with the Eighth Army.

Tpr. Flagler enlisted in 1940, and went overseas in April of 1941. He worked at Canada Packers before enlisting.

VETERAN OF WAR IN ITALY —Tpr. A. B. Flagler, Western Ave., who was wounded in action in Italy by an exploding mortar, returned to Canada in a hospital ship, and arrived home Friday evening. Before enlisting, Tpr. Flagler was employed at Canada Packers, Ltd.

perimeter. The defences had not been completely organized when the Germans launched their first counter-attacks at Les Buissons.

The enemy threw in infantry supported by plenty of artillery and mortar fire which crashed into the woods and town. Panther or Tiger tanks lay off about 1,000 yards in the vicinity of Buron and blazed shells into the Canadian positions.

The Glengarrians with the North Novas and the Sherbrookes, who now were knit into the plan, broke up this German attack with small arms and tank fire and mortars and the excellent support from Canadian artillery. Forward observation officers were with the Glengarrians and they brought salvoes right down on the targets within a few minutes.

Held the Line

Other German attacks followed and each was turned back with the Canadian infantrymen holding firm in their deep slit trenches. Once when enemy tanks appeared to the southeast, the Sherbrookes formed up what was left of their battered regiment and sallied out to meet them. There was a tank-against-tank fight and although casualties were high on both sides, the Germans did not press the advance and withdrew after this action.

During the night the enemy fired blindly into the woods and town and the Canadians blazed back at them. On the third day of this struggle there were no signs of German infantry in the open but outposts spotted them crawling out of Buron toward the Canadian positions. They got half-way to Les Buissons and from the wheatfields and hedges fired machine-guns and other guns opened up from Buron.

It was then that machine-gunners of the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa did a superb job. Their Vickers guns were right on the perimeter and they came under terrific German fire. One gun after another of the Camerons was knocked out by bullets and shells but the Camerons kept firing despite heavy casualties.

During the following night the Camerons still were punching away with their Vickers, supporting the weary infantry and tanks.

On the fourth day German attacks petered out and without resting the Canadians took the offensive and sent out patrols. In the afternoon a squadron of the Fort Garry Horse, which had come up, and a company of the Glengarrians swung west from Les Buissons to the village of Vieux Cairon, a mile away. Tanks went in and shot up the town, but the little force came under shelling from an 88 mm. battery north of it.

They withdrew as ordered and passed through the position of a carrier platoon of Glengarrians on the western fringe of Les Buissons.

Hamilton Is 2-I.C.

For two hours the Germans shelled the carrier platoon positions and the Glengarrians had to stick there and take it until British medium guns located the enemy battery and drove it out.

The situation on this front settled down after that and the Glengarrians patrolled and cleaned out enemy pockets of resistance behind them which had been passed in the initial push forward and which could not be handled during German counter-attacks.

Maj. Archy Hamilton, of Peterborough, is second in aommand of the Glengarrians and the adjutant is Capt. Shan Lafontaine, of Tweed. Lieut. Reg. R. Dixon, of Peterborough, is at battalion headquarters and the liaison officer between the unit and brigade is a Glengarrian, Lieut. Lorne Smith, of Ottawa.

Company commanders are Maj. F. L. Fisher, Kingston, Maj. N. M. Gemmell, Peterborough, Maj. Archie MacDonald, Alexandria, Maj. Fred Lander, Kingston, Capt. H. K. Kernaghan, Lakeport, and Captain Harry Willis, Peterborough.

Capt R. H. Smith, Pembroke, is the carrier officer who handled the situation excellently when his position was being shelled on the fourth day. The carriers also have done a fine job on reconnaissances.

Among other officers who went through this battle are Capt. Athole Stewart, Peterborough, Captain J. F. Peterson, Peterborough, and Capt. J. G. Stothart, Ottawa.

The Colonel praised the work of the medical officer, Capt. Bob Rowed, Waseca, Sask., and his medical orderlies, who acted as platoon commander when his officer became a casualty, did some outstanding work and Sgt. Tom Plumridge, Kingston, in the carrier platoon, was a pillar of strength to the unit during the shelling of the carrier positions.

The Colonel said casualties were moderate in view of the fighting that took place at Les Buissons, and they had been replaced by reinforcement troops from Eastern Ontario.

A. Caravaggie Wins Automobile

Anthony Caragaggio, 495 Parnell street, was the winner of the automobile offered as the first prize in the draw held in connection with the annual Rotary Carnival.

He was the holder of the ticket drawn by Mayor James Hamilton, at 11.30 o'clock Saturday night as the annual Rotary Carnival scored a record with the largest attendance in the history of the event.

The winning ticket was sold by C. Milheron who receives $25 for his good luck.

Fifty Dollar Victory Bonds were won by John Cromie, Lakefield and John Houlihan, Robinson street.

Although the first night of the carnival was washed out by rain, the attendance Saturday night made up for the blank Friday. The crowd came early stayed late and was in a spending mood, with the result that every game on the grounds was surrounded all evening by eager patrons. Last minute purchases of tickets in the draw brought the total receipts up materially and Rotarians expect that a handsome surplus will be the result of the annual carnival in spite of the unfavorable weather of Friday and the early part of Saturday.

$25 Fine Imposed For Not Giving Notice

Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., registered a conviction in police court this morning against Joseph Secco of having left his employment at the Canadian Raybestos Company without having given the necessary notice under the selective service regulations.

John A. Bradshaw, who appeared for Secco pointed out that the accused had returned to his job and was again working at the Raybestos plant.

W. F. Huycke, K.C., who prosecuted, said the Selective Service officials took a somewhat serious view of such cases. He said that Seccon had left his work in March and had been absent for some time. In the interim the officials had sworn out a warrant and sent it to the R.C.M.P. in Rouyn, Que., where the accused had gone. Secco, however, he said, had returned to Peterborough voluntarily.

Magistrate Langley imposed a fine of $25 and $7.75 costs.

Eight Fatalities Over Week-end

By The Canadian Press

There were eight fatalities in eastern Canada over the week-end, all of them in Ontario. Four persons died in traffic accidents, two drowned, one died of a heart attack while driving a car and another died from bullet wounds.

Eugene Bastien, 63, died in hospital in Toronto Saturday from injuries received in a traffic accident. It was the 36th traffic fatality in the city this year compared to 29 for the corresponding period of 1943.

however, a German DNB Agency broadcast informed the people of Germany fighting still was going on in the city.)

It was said here that last night's German premature reports that the port had fallen indicated the German high command was out of touch with the hard-pressed garrison.

In the drive on the peninsula St. Vaast la Hogue, Quettehou and Barfléur on the east coast, were left behind American lines.

Isolated pockets of resistance still were holding out in the northeastern tip of the peninsula but the American advance had overflowed the entire sector and it was just a question of mopping up. Some Germans were entrenched deeply underground in strong fortifications and had to be blown out.

Remnants of some four Nazi divisions were making a stand also in Cap de la Hague on the farthest northwest point of the peninsula. In this area the American advance line ran from Vauville on the west coast to Equer-Dreville near Cherbourg itself.

East of the port the Germans still hold a small salient from Brettville along the coast toward Cap Barfleur.

OBITUARIES

SETH ADLAM

For over 70 years a resident of Peterborough and for more than 52 years an employee of the Peterborough Lock Company, where he worked in the shipping department, Seth Adlam, 517 Bolivar street, passed away at his residence after an illness of five months on Sunday. He was 74 years old.

Born in Warminster, Wiltshire, England, he was the son of the late John Adlam and Harriet Dicks and was very active in lodge affairs, having been a veteran member of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I.O.O.F. since 1912; a members of the Grand Encampment of Ontario, Mt. Hebron over 25 years and of L.O.L. No. 50, Peterborough, and of Court Stanley, Ancient Order of Foresters. He was a member of Trinity United Church.

Mr. Adlam's wife, the former Lily Edwards, predeceased him in 1936. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Frank Petherbridge of Peterborough; a brother, Fred, also of this city; and by four nephews, Leonard, Harry, Walter and Percy.

A service will be held this evening at 9 o'clock at the Nesbitt Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street, under the auspices of the Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I.O.O.F. The funeral, which will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. from the Nesbitt Funeral Home, will be conducted by Rev. W. MacDonald. Interment in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. MICHAEL SCOTT

The death occurred early Sunday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital of Mrs. Michael Scott, 560 Water street after a short illness. She was 61 years old.

Born in Peterborough County the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hogan, she had lived all her life in the district. She was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral, of the Altar Society and of the Catholic Women's League.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Michael Scott, three sons and two daughters, Joseph O'Brien and George O'Brien and Mrs. B. Powderly of Peterborough, Rev. Following a long illness, Edward Convey, who has lived at the House of Providence for 15 years, died Saturday in his 85th year. Born in Ireland, he made his home in Grafton until coming to Peterborough in 1929, and while there he was a member of St. Mary's Church.

Surviving are two nephews in Montreal and Ottawa. His wife and daughter predeceased him.

The body was removed from the Bert Duffus Funeral Home on Saturday and taken to Grafton, and the funeral will be held Tuesday morning from the J. M. Blacklock Funeral Home to St. Mary's Church for mass at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Grafton.

GEORGE H. DUNDAS

George H. Dundas, 360 Mark street, who has had an extended illness, died Saturday at the age of 50, having resided in Peterborough for 25 years.

Born in Fenelon Falls, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Noble Dundas, Mr. Dundas lived there until he moved here. He was an employee of the Western Clock Company for 25 years and attended Immaculate Conception Church, where he was a member of the Holy Name Society.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Margaret Burns; one daughter, Betty, and two sons, William Joseph and Robert G. Dundas, all at home.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the residence to Immaculate Conception Church for service at 10 a.m. Interment will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

THOMAS McWILLIAMS

An employee of the Canada Packers for more than 30 years, Thomas McWilliams, 43 Ware street, died Saturday in his 67th year, following a long illness.

Born in Peterborough, son of the Thomas McWilliams, and Catharine Fitzgibbons, Mr. McWilliams lived here all his life. He was a member of All Saints' Church and the Otonabee Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 13 and Hiawatha Encampment.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Bertha Graham, two sons, Percy of Toronto and Roland with the Ordnance Corps in Italy; two brothers, John and William of Peterborough; one sister, Mrs. E. King of Toronto, and two grandchildren, Sylvia and Vivian of Toronto.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street. Rev. E. C. Moore officiated and interment was in Little Lake Cemetery.

FREDERICK FOOTE.

A lifelong resident of the city and district, Frederick Foote, 195 Perry Street, passed away in hospital on Sunday after a two weeks' illness. He was in his 60th year.

Born in Otonabee the son of the late John and Annie Foote, he was engineer for the City Waterworks Pumping Station, and was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Jack Morrow of Peterborough, four sisters Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. Garner Thompson, Mrs. George Paudash, and rMs. atthew Proctor of Toronto.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2.30 p.m. from the funearl parlors of A. Comstock & Sons, 305 Water Street. Rev. Mr. Patterson of Millbrook will officiate. Interment in Little Lake Cemetery.

JOHN HOWLAND

John Howland, who has operated a meat and grocery business at the corner of Douro and Rogers street, died Sunday, following a short illness which he contracted a week ago today.

Mr. Howland, who lived at 498 Rogers street, has been in Peterborough for more than 50 years, coming here from Yorkshire. In his 77th year, he was an elder of Mark Street United church, and took a keen interest in its activities. For years he operated a butcher shop on George street north.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his widow, formerly Patricia Jane Voycey; one daughter, Olive, and two sons, Victor and Ralph all of Peterborough. There are also two sisters Mrs Grace Airriess of Peterborough and Mrs. N. Gawley of Toronto; and three brothers Fred of Auburn N.Y. and Robert and Thomas of Lumsden.

The funeral will be held Wednesday from the Nesbitt Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street at 2 p.m. Rev. E. W. Rowland will officiate and interment will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Oddfellows Hold Decoration Day

Led by the Salvation Army Band, under the direction of R. G. Routly, nearly 100 members of the Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges and Independent Order of Oddfellows marched to Little Lake Cemetery Sunday afternoon, and after a brief memorial service, placed flowers on the graves of their remembered dead.

Upon arriving at the cemetery, the crowd formed a circle, with the band inside, and sang "Nearer My God To Thee." Boats on the lake ceased motion momentarily to pay silent tribute.

F. Harris, noble grand and chairman of the Decoration Day committee, introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. A. J. Arthur, of St. Luke's Anglican Church.

Mr. Arthur said, "This is a fitting event for it shows that you have not forgotten those who are gone, and the bonds of fellowship still remain. This is the resting place of those who have entered into a far vaster existence, and every time we visit here, we should look forward to a glad reunion in God's good time. We should continually dedicate ourselves afresh, to the work which our departed loved ones have laid down."

F. G. Mann, secretary of the British War Victims, thanked those present for their assistance to the Fund, and declared that Decoration Day in Peterborough had been put on an eternal basis, by giving help to others on that day. He said he could think of no better way to honour the dead, than by giving help to those who are left behind.

The band then played "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds," and G. A. Gillepsie and E. Ritchie placed flowers on the Oddfellows' plot.

Then, the Oddfellows members, together with hundreds of Peterborough residents, completed the ceremony by decorating the graves of their beloved dead.

Bouchard Sticks To Statement

MONTREAL, June 26—(CP)—Senator T. D. Bouchard said in a prepared statement here today that "whatever the leaders of the Liberal party themselves think of the timeliness of my speech sounding the alarm, I will remind all true patriots that when a fire is discovered the alarm is sounded at the start of the fire and not when the building is in ruins."

Senator Bouchard in his maiden senate speech last week said the secret order of Jacques Cartier in Quebec province was harmful to relations between English and French and that it was founded "with the blessing of the Catholic and French clergy." His speech was termed "absolutely unjustified and very damaging" by Premier Adelard Godbout who on Friday relieved Senator Bouchard as chairman of the newly-created Quebec Hydro at $18,000 a year.

Godbout Upset

Senator Bouchard in his statement today said that his first reaction to the word that he had been dismissed had been one "of sympathy for my former chieftain, Mr. Godbout, who must have been more affected than I by the state of affairs into which the happenings of political life had so rudely hurled him."

Senator Bouchard said that Mr. Godbout "to whose success I devoted very loyally the little talent I have, all the force of my intellectual faculties and a goodly part of my health, has been driven into a corner as few of his political predecessors ever found themselves.

"... He has believed it his duty to bow before the propaganda made against myself and, in order to placate the fury of a group... he has sacrificed his former colleague."

(Until his recent appointment to the Senate, Senator Bouchard was Roads Minister in Mr. Godbout's cabinet.)

Senator Bouchard's statement added;

"I regret that Mr. Godbout should have thought it necessary to become the tool of those who dominate our province by exploiting popular prejudices. I bear him no grudge at all, and I ask all those in the province who still have cosfidence in me to continue to give him their strongest support in the struggle which will soon begin.

"His government has not been perfect, but it has been in matters of social and economic reforms the most progressive and by far that we have had since Confederation. It would be national suicide to replace it with the former Duplessis administration or by a reactionary government such as the Bloc Populaire.

"Before making my speech to the Senate, I was well aware that I was running into plenty of trouble, I agreed to take all the risks first of all in the interests of my fellow-citizens of Quebec and also in that of the whole Canadian nation.

"As for French-speaking Canadians, I like them much better than do those who flatter and exploit their religious beliefs so as to dominate them all the more in politics.

"On their behalf, I have suffered; for them, I have known defeat. In 1911, I went under because I preached compulsory education; 25 years later Council of Public Instruction vindicated me by recommending such a measure to the government.

To Start Writing

"I have recently felt it my duty to put my fellow-citizens on guard against the subversive intrigues of a separatist secret society which is dominating the Bloc Populaire and the Union Nationale, two political parties which are out to undermine the Godbout government and the King government, two administrations which have in the most admirable way led the province and the dominion through the gravest situations we have known in our whole history.

"... Freed now from my onerous duties and the long hours of toil imposed upon me by virtue of my office as chairman of the Quebec Hydro, I am going to take up my journalistic pen once more and to continue the fight began more than a quarter of a century ago for the intellectual, economic and social advancement of the descendants of those two great races which populate our country to its wide and so promising horizons."

Liberals Meet To Hear Nixon

TORONTO, June 26—(CP)—Ontario Liberals met here today to further reorganization of the provincial party—a reorganizations which was quietly inaugurated following the Liberal defeat at the polls last Aug. 4.

The gathering—a regularly called meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association—was to hear reports from the provincial leader, Harry Nixon, and the Association president, Lt.-Col. Harry Hamilton of Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Nixon and Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Federal Labor minister, will address tonight's banquet meeting.

Association officers will be elected and it was reported unofficially that the management committee would make a so far unrevealed recommendation to the general meeting relative to the party leadership.

The Association's new secretary, Maj. A. G. Hale, former Sarnia newspaperman, said the meeting probably would extend into tomorrow. He added that the Ontario Association of Young Liberals would hold a meeting prior to the opening of the general meeting this afternoon.

Maj. Hale succeeded Harry Johnson, long-time secretary who recently retired from the position.

about this time Vichy authorities ordered collaborationist militia to consider Frenchmen who accepted food from "terrorists" as "terrorists" themselves.

The fugitive French men said the Maquis had blasted bridges and highways leading to Ussel but did not resist once the Germans had reached the outskirts of the town, choosing rather to retire into the plateau Millevaches where guerillas are said to number in the thousands.

Frenchmen expressed belief those hanged probably were chosen at random from Ussel's civilian population.

Few Tax Changes Expected In New Budget

OTTAWA, June 26.—(CP).—Finance Minister Ilsley will make his annual budget speech in the Commons tonight. Until then it will not be known what changes in taxes he will propose.

Prominent Liberal members of the House expressed the view Saturday there would be few tax changes.

Belief is that there may be some adjustments here and there in the income taxes and possibly some relief in the excess profits taxes to give business firms a chance to pile up some reserves to meet expenditures when they have to change from war work to peace-time production.

There have been vigorous urgings by some Liberals that the income taxes in the lower brackets be lightened and that the limit of $660 annual income below which no taxes are collected from single persons be raised and the $1,200 limit for married folks also be moved up. But if the Government is heeding these urgings it has given no intimation.

Mr. Ilsley has decided to continue the practice instituted two years ago of delivering his budget speech at night instead of the afternoon.

In some quarters this has been interpreted as indicating the budget will have some important pronouncements that might affect the stock markets, and that it is for this reason he is holding it over until night. An official close to the Minister said, however, it had been found that the night delivery had smoothed out so many problems in regard to distribution that they had decided to make it a permanent practice.

Mitchell, Nixon To Address Liberals

TORONTO, June 26. — (CP) — Federal Labor Minister Mitchell and Harry Nixon, Ontario Liberal Party Leader, will be speakers at the dinner Monday night in connection with the annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association opening in Toronto Monday. Recommendations concerning the Provincial leadership have been prepared by the Party's Management Committee.

(In a story yesterday The Canadian Press erroneously stated that the meeting was to be held at Hamilton, Ont.)

Pte. Lyle Powers Says Huns Respect Canucks

"It sure does feel good to be home at last," said Pte. Lyle Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Powers, Water Street, when he returned home on Friday evening from action in Italy and Sicily. "We had some tough times in Italy, and while I am home, I'm just going to take things easy and enjoy a nice long rest for a change," he said.

Wounded in action twice, once in the heavy fighting that marked the Sicilian campaign, and again during the crossing of the Moro River in Italy, Pte. Powers is home on a 30-day leave, after which he will go to Kingston to report for new duties.

Red Patch Devils.

"The Germans hold a healthy respect for the Canadian boys," Pte. Powers reported, "and most of the Nazi prisoners I met referred to us as 'the Red Patch Devils.' But they are still arrogant and stubborn Nazis, and even when they learn how the war is going against them on all fronts, they are still convinced they will win for their Fuehrer."

While in Italy Pte. Powers served with the First Canadian Division of the British Eighth Army, and often fought alongside the tough Gurkha troops.

When Pte. Powers was asked to tell how he felt while undergoing a dive-bombing attack, he answered, "I don't think there are words to describe it. Personally, I thought the end of the world had come. It's marvelolus to see planes that are on your side, when you're on a battle-front."

He was with the assault troops that formed the spearhead of the invasion of Italy and Sicily, and he said the Italian citizens welcomed the Allies into captured towns and appeared very relieved to see the Nazis flee.

"Italians despise Mussolini and Hitler," Pte Powers said, "and hate the German troops that occupied Italy even more."

Pte. Powers joined the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in March, 1942, and after training in Peterborough and British Columbia, went overseas in September of that year. He was educated at the Queen Alexandra School and Peterborough Collegiate. Previous to his enlistment, he was employed by the Canadian General Electric Company.

WMA Observes Half Century Of Progress

MILLBROOK, June 26 (ENS) — A unique event in the history of Grace Presbyterian church was celebrated when the Women's Missionary Auxiliary reached its fiftieth birthday.

Included in this was the presentation of a W.M.S. Life Membership to Miss Olivia Gardiner, senior member of the society, Mrs. H. Seaton reading the address, and Mrs. Charles Thorndyke presenting the engraved certificate. Miss Gardiner was not able to be present, and her sister, Mrs. Joseph Burns, accepted the gift on her behalf. The Gardiner family has had a long history of service in connection with Grace church, and it was noted that Miss Gardiner's father, the late Matthew Gardiner and her brother, Charles, had both filled the office of elder.

Following the presentation, the names of the charter members still living, Miss Amy Carveth, of Toronto, Mrs. Arthur Mulligan (Edwina Eakins), of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. J. H. Paul and Mrs. J. R. Eakins, were read, and the latter, who were in attendance, invited to the platform, where they were presented with arm bouquets of flowers by Mrs. H. W. Ball, and Mrs. Thorndyke.

A chart, with the figures, "1894-1944," and the lettering: "The World for Christ," Grace Presbyterian W.M.S. 50th Anniversary" done in gold on a white background, had been prepared by the present secretary, Mrs. J. R. Thompson; and this with the historical sketch which she also wrote, will be sent on to headquarters at Toronto for permanent keeping. It had been found difficult to secure complete material for the sketch, but among the highlights of the history as read by Mrs. Thompson were such interesting facts as, that Presbyterianism in Millbrook had its beginning in 1834, this being a sister congregation to the one at Centreville for fully 56 years, 34 of which were under the faithful ministry of the Rev. John Douglas.

Near Cemetery

The first church was a frame building erected west of what is now the Presbyterian cemetery, and was often referred to as the "Toll-Gate," the latter being then at the cemetery's east side. Later a red brick church was built on Tupper street, where divine services were carried on until it was destroyed by fire in 1896. In November of that year the corner stone of the present Grace church was laid by the late Mrs. Hugh Waddell, of Peterborough. On Sunday, July 17, 1897 the new home of Presbyterianism in Millbrook was opened for service, and has continued there ever since.

In September, 1890, by a vote of the congregations, Millbrook and Centreville separated, and Garden Hill joined with the former the following month. Four years later Rev. William Johnston became the minister, continuing his pastorate for twenty years. In 1925 Centreville and Grace churches again became united as one charge under the ministry of Rev. John Riddell.

While the W.M.S. in Canada had its beginning in 1864 at Montreal, it was not until 1894 that the Millbrook Presbyterian Auxiliary was organized, with Mrs. William Johnston as its first president, Miss Edwina Eakins as its first secretary, and Miss Amy Carveth as treasurer. The first record if its missionary givings comes in 1899, the total amount raised and sent being $42.80. In the fifty years, an item of interest lies in the fact that the office of secretary has been filled by just three members: Miss Eakins, 1894-1901; Mrs. J. R. Eakins, whose record extends over 30 years, from 1901 to 1931; and Mrs. J. R. Thompson, the present secretary, who has filled the position for the past thirteen years. As branches of the Auxiliary, a Mission Band carried on successfully for five years during Mrs. Johnson's term as president, and then apparently died out for lack of leadership; and a Young Women's Auxiliary, with Miss Agnes Johnston as leader, flourished from 1937 to 1941, the demands of the war leading to the girls leaving home either to enlist for active service, or to engage in war work.

During the half century Grace church Auxiliary has had seventeen life members, and three others are now associated with it, the list, from the chart, with the presidents who have served, and the charter members, being read by Miss Agnes Johnston, the president elected this year. The names are: Presidents: Mrs. William Johnston, 1894-1914; Mrs. Kerr, 1914; Mrs. William Lee, 1915-1921; Mrs. G. S. Gervan, 1922-1925; Mrs. R. J. Doak, 1926-1928; Mrs. H. Seaton, 1929-1930; Mrs. J. Riddell, 1931; Mrs. W. T. A. Deyell, 1932-1934; Mrs. S. E. Eakins, 1935-1939; Mrs. A. Raeburn-Gibson, 1940-1942; Mrs. H. Seaton, 1943; Miss Agnes Johnston, 1944.

Life Members: Mrs. William Archer, Mrs. J. R. Eakins, Mrs. R. J. Doak, Miss Mary Malcolm, Mrs. W. T. A. Deyell, Miss Mary Eagleson, Mrs. W. E. Russell, Mrs. William McKnight, Mrs. J. H. Paul, Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mrs. S. Hawthorne, Mrs. H. R. Williams, Mrs. E. McMahon, Mrs. James Armstrong, Mrs. S. Weatherup, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, Mrs. W. Patterson, Miss Olivia Gardiner and Miss A. Johnston.

As a concluding feature of her report, Mrs. Thompson prayed for a continuance of God's guidance, this expressing the atmosphere which marked the anniversary observance throughout. The event was held in connection with the regular Presbytery gathering, and Mrs. Moynam, a missionary from China, in her address on "Living Memorials," referred to the faithful and consecrated women who had organized and carried on the Auxiliary during the fifty years of its history, as having made this society their own memorial, still vitally alive in service.

Closing the afternoon, the hostess society served afternoon tea, the hostess table being done in a color scheme of white and gold carried out in the gold candles burning in brass holders, and the yellow lillies in crystal containers on the lace cloth. It centred a birthday cake, with two candles, one for the initial year, 1894, and the other for the anniversary year, 1944. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. H. Paul and Mrs. James Kennedy, and Miss Johnston placed the silver knife in the cake and cut it.

WRITES FROM JAPAN—Pte. Clarence Bevan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bevan, Cobourg, has written his parents from a prisoner-of-war camp in Japan. He said that he was fine and mentioned the names of several district boys who were captured at Hong Kong.

Son Unhurt In France

MILLBROOK, June 26.—(ENS).— Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kerr have received one of the Field Service post cards from their elder son, William of the S.D. and G. Highlanders, dated June 10, Normandy Beach. "I am feeling fine," and letter to follow soon" were the uncancelled messages on the card.

Pte. C. Bevan Writes Mother From Jap Camp

COBOURG, June 26 (ENS)—Mrs. Rose Bevan is in receipt of a copy of a radio broadcast made by her son, Corporal Clarence Bevan, who has been a prisoner of war since the fall of Hong Kong. She has also received records made of the broadcast, which was received on shortwave and by comparing the phonograph records with the typewritten transcription of the broadcast she has been able to establish the names mentioned by her son. The message purports to come from Tokyo Camp, Japan, and is as follows:

"Hello Mother, Dad, sisters and brothers and all my friends. From the mail I have received I know you are all well and looking good. As for me, I am still waiting patiently to get home to see you all again. We have received quite a lot of mail. I have received about 35 letters and cards, mostly from the family, but I also got mail from Ada, Marge, Kay and Peggy. I was certainly glad to hear from them all and know they are all well. I also received a very lovely parcel from you, Mother, and was very happy to get it. They were all things I needed very much.

"Now for the benefit of all families and friends of boys from the surrounding districts, the following are fine: Jim Archibald and Frank Jiggins from Port Hope, Donald Southworth, Ralph Alley and Donald Dainard from Campbellford, Mathew Murray, Ronald Inch and Cameron Lott of Oshawa, Allan Harper of Stouffville, Fred Cooper of Sutton West, Ken Campbell of Collingwood, Tom Jones of Pembroke, who wishes to be remembered in Cobourg as well and alho Chick Query of Winnipeg whose mother has moved to Toronto.

"Say hello to my grandmother and my close friends and relatives. Well, Mother, I must say goodbye to you, Dad, Pat, Bob, Jack, Betty and Jill, for now but let us pray we can see each other in good old Canada before very long. Well folks cheerio for now. Bud."

Bud is the nickname Clarence Bevan is known by in Cobourg.

PEMBROKE, June 26.—(CP). — Hans Hautkapp, 22 and Heinrich Schollmanns, 20, two German naval prisoners of war who escaped from an internment camp Thursday in the nearby Petawawa military camp area were recaptured Saturday about seven miles from the point where they made their escape from a work gang.

Goose Leader Missing

TORONTO, June 26.— (CP). — Wing Cmdr. David Sinclair Jacobs, D.F.C., 29 year old commanding officer of the Canadian bomber group's Goose squadron, is reported missing after air operations over Europe, his wife said last night. He was within a few trips of completing his second tour of duty.

Dr. A. J. Madill To Retire From The Normal

After more than 26 years of faithful service as Agriculture Master at Peterborough Normal school, Dr. A. J. Madill is planning to turn over his duties to others on the staff, and retire at the end of the term.

Taking an active interest in church and horticultural affairs, he has been the superintendent of Murray St. Baptist church for nearly 20 years. He is a director of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists Association and past president of the Peterborough Nature Club. Through his interest in this work, Dr. Madill played a leading role in designing the scenic route. He has written several books on agricultural science, including "Nature Study," and "History of Agricultural Education in Ontario," the later is used as a text-book at the Agricultural College in Guelph.

Born in Pickering township near the town of Markham, Dr. Madill spent much of his earlier life on a farm, where he became interested in agriculture and science. He was educated at Springfield Public school, Aylmer Collegiate in Elgin county, and McMaster University in Hamilton, where he graduated with high honors in 1902, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree.

During his university years, he travelled extensively, visiting Southern States, Mexico and Europe and in 1930 he received his doctor's degree from the University of Toronto. He first began his teaching career at S.S. No. 1, Dunn Public school in Haldimand county. Later, he taught science and mathematics at high schools and collegiates in Paris, Ontario, Fort William, Orillia and Niagara Falls. It was while he was teaching at Fort William that he met his wife, the late former Virginia Barclay of Whitby, Ontario. Mrs. Madill passed away six years ago, and left two daughters, both of whom are married and living in Toronto.

Come Here in 1918.

Dr. Madill came to Peterborough in 1918 to take up duties at the Normal School here. Since then, he has played a big part in the construction of agricultural education in Ontario, preparing many courses of study for schools all over the Province.

Dr. Madill looks back on his days at Peterborough Normal with fond reminiscing. He said he has enjoyed teaching at Normal very much, and expressed satisfaction at having seen the young people who have gone through his classes grow up and take a useful part in their respective communities. He also observed with pleasure the interest and enthusiasm the students held for the work and lessons prescribed them.

Upon his retirement, Dr. Madill plans to do considerable travelling, but will continue to live at his residence, 606 George street, in Peterborough.

He Was Sober

DETROIT, June 26—(AP). —A house figured in traffic court news of the man-bites-dog variety. Admitting to Traffic Referee Robert J. Teagan, Jr., that it all seemed like a dream, motorist Charles W. Wiggins nevertheless insisted that the house "crowded me right against the curb." Further testimony developed the house that hit Wiggins' car was being towed down the street. Wiggins' sentence, on a reckless driving charge, was suspended.

Children's Allowances

Prime Minister Mackenzie King last week in the House of Commons introduced a resolution which will provide children's allowances commencing July 1, 1945, and on Saturday John Bracken, national Progressive Conservative leader in a prepared statement offered an alternative plan. Canadians now have before them two plans.

Mr. King's plan advances social legislation a long step. The allowances will run from $5 per month per child up to six years old; $6 a month for children between six and nine; $7 per month for children between ten and twelve; and $8 per month for children over twelve and under sixteen. This bonus will be reduced by $1 per month for the fifth child, $2 per month for the sixth and seventh children, and $3 per month for the eighth and any additional children. Parents in the position to pay income tax will not get the cash allowances, but will receive compensating benefits through deductions in income taxation.

Mr. Bracken's plan is much more simple. It would remove the ceiling on low wages and an easing of tax levies on low wage groups. Mr Bracken maintains that these low wage groups will pay eight millions in taxes this year; the government should increase the exemptions on low-paid workers and let them keep some more of the money they need.

* * *

The obvious intent of both plans is to safeguard the welfare of the children and prevent undue economic disadvantage. Mr. King's may be called a form of state paternalism. Organized labour has already expressed its opposition to the plan as being a violation of personal independence, and maintains if wages are sufficient there is no need for such a scheme. But we fear that organized labour is not speaking for that low wage group which does not directly come under any labour organization. It also can be argued will either Mr. King's plan or Mr. Bracken's really achieve its purpose? What provisions are there in either plan that the children will directly benefit from either scheme. Will irresponsible or ignorant parents—and every community has its quota—suddenly be made responsible or intelligent upon receipt of a cheque from the government or a reduction in income tax. Experiences today often have shown us that just the opposite is the case, for never in the history of this country were there such large numbers of children, who are being neglected and yet still wages and wage levels are high. However, it is generally agreed some plan is necessary. We feel that family allowances are more in keeping with the general realization, that a nation of poverty stricken families can neither be a happy nor prosperous land. Family bonuses or allowances may be going too far but one thing is certain that the man with the family will be the man who is getting the direct benefit, while raising the ceiling on low wages will fail to aid the man with the family proportionately to the man without the family.

* * *

Mr. Bracken's plan does not go far enough to benefit the man with the family sufficiently. It is only a blanket promise, which will prove very difficult to enforce, for so many things enter into the ability to pay wages by the employer. It resembles too much the past when wages were much higher in good times than in depression periods.

* * *

Opponents of the King Plan, and this includes Mr. Bracken, are very critical of the cost which is estimated to be $200,000,000, or as Mr. Bracken puts it, a gift which will increase the peace time taxes of everybody by 50 per cent. But this money will not disappear. On the contrary it will be spent by the recipients. Canada has in wartime spent billions of dollars of taxes annually and this $200,000,000 expenditure is something that is going to mean more money to every man who in the past has found it difficult to feed his family, difficult to clothe his children and he will be able to give those children an equal break with those from more prosperous homes. They will be able to go longer to school, instead of getting out as so many do today on work permits, and work permits today are issued, under the present Ontario law, when the child is needed for financial help in the family. Finally Mr. King's plan should make for a better manhood and womanhood with a better chance for all to make good.

Further Gas Rationing

Hon. C. D Howe, Minister of Munitions and supply, has warned that there may be a further reduction in supplies of gasoline and fuel oil to civilians. That the warning will be accepted with reasonable good grace by the majority of Canadians we feel confident. Mr. Howe has made it perfectly clear that no further reduction would take place unless it was made imperative by the military requirements.

Canada today is more fortunate than any other country. With few exceptions the states of the American Republic have been less generously supplied and the people in Britain receive a negligible quantity in comparison. Hence if a further reduction becomes necessary there will be little ground for complaint.

What ground there is, however, could be eliminated if the public could be satisfied that the restrictions on the use of gasoline are being impartially applied. There is not the least doubt in our minds that compared with the rationing in 1943, there has been a general tightening up all over the nation. But we still hear complaints and rumours that this, that, and other motorists are getting a higher ration than they are entitled to.

Not all these stories are true and the ones that are may be exaggerated. But the persistence with which they are repeated leaves little doubt that there is a measure of truth in them, and the authorities, in common justice to the great majority of law-abiding citizens should make a renewed effort to weed out the greedy and unpatriotic violators of gasoline restrictions.

More and more gasoline is going to be required by our armed forces. Thousands of Canadian soldiers who were, relatively speaking, motionless in Britain and now on the march—and their "march" is made in or accompanied by vehicles fueled by gasoline. As more Canadian soldiers join in the offensive still more gasoline will be needed and the soldiers must never be allowed to suffer from lack of this vital fuel. There should be no pleasure driving in Canada, in fact there is not a category issued today which permits pleasure driving. An "AA" category is just as much for essential driving as a "C" category.

Victory In The Pacific

The smashing victory of the American fleet over the Japanese navy in the Pacific last week is comparable to the victories of the Coral Sea, of Midway and of Guadalcanal. At first it had been hoped that the naval battle would be decisive and that Japan would throw in her main battle fleet; but apparently the Japanese navy still prefers to play hide and seek and withhold coming out until the showdown for Japan itself. But the nature of the victory cannot help but have an important moral significance.

But progress in the Pacific in recent weeks has been marked by more than a naval victory; first there came the bombing of Japan from the Chinese mainland and then the landing of American forces on Saipan Island. The air raid on Yawata thrilled the allied nations, brought more cheer to the hard-pressed Chinese armies than any event in a long time, and it served notice on Tokyo that all cities in Japan are now within range of the mighty Allied air force.

Saipan, less than 1,500 miles from Tokyo, has great importance. Under Allied control it can become an unsinkable aircraft carrier from which air raids can be launched on Japan itself and it also threatens the Japanese positions in the Philippines.

The naval battle has again demonstrated the superiority of the United States airmen over the Jap fliers. It has also shown that air power is a modern navy's first weapon, for in this battle the Japs lost 360 planes to an American loss of 21—a ratio of over 17 to 1. Japan also lost five definitely sunk and a sixth probably sunk with nine others damaged. The U.S. Navy's loss was only superficial damage to two carriers and a battleship.

These naval blows have left 20,000 Japanese on Saipan without hope of reinforcement or rescue and complete control of the island by the Americans can only be regarded as a matter of time.

Farming News and Views

By HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL

A LOT of hay has gone into the barns and some more is yet to go, as well as second crops, particularly of alfalfa. The use of salt is very general to prevent heating if the hay is green, and some farmers use twenty pounds to a good load. Don't overlook slaked lime for his purpose. It is not so palatable as salt but it will save many a load of damp hay in good condition. I don't know that any great proportion of hay is cut yet, the middle of June, but the weather has been catchy and saving hay has been quite difficult. Hay in England and Scotland is mostly put up in stacks, or ricks as they call them, and haymakers are always ready to risk a "hot rick" rather than let the grass dry too much and get like switches. There is a common saying with them: "A man who has never put up a hot rick has never put up much good hay." Meaning that the risk should be too little rather than too much curing. Hay in Western Canada is almost all put up in stacks and sweeps and stackers are used reducing the labour and getting quite good hay. Weathering in autumn and winter is not as wet or bedraggling in their climate, however.

Good, sweet hay is a fine asset on a farm and as the years go by we are realizing its value, and so taking more care in its cutting and making, and in the mixtures we sow for its production. Alfalfa stands out as one of the greatest plants yet produced for cattle feeding, but various mixtures are very useful and, as alfalfa grows well in all parts of Ontario, it usually forms one of many grasses used in these mixtures.

THERE is not too much time for fencing in these days but the odd post has to go in, and if you are not near a place where cedar can be secured it is well to know the methods of preserving wood that is inclined to rot easily. Creosoting takes a bit of doing and every farmer cannot easily undertake it; besides, creosoting is only done efficiently under pressure. Here is a method of preserving soft wood posts, given by a practical English farmer. He says it was used on poplar posts. It should be used on live, green wood. This is his recipe. Take freshly-cut green posts, bark need not be removed; place the posts butt down in a wood barrel in which a mixture of copper sulphate (bluestone) is made at the rate of 2½ to 3 lbs.—soak for 10 to 12 hours, until the tops show bluish. Pile for curing, for from 4 to 6 weeks before using. The mixture in the barrel need not be more than a foot deep. This should work well with basswood, or similar soft wood. The farmer says the ordinary life of a poplar post in England is two to four years, while a fence made with these posts, treated with bluestone, when demolished, after being up for forty years, had about 70 per cent of its posts quite sound. It would be interesting to see if soft maple or black ash would soak up this bluestone mixture.

SOIL that has a slight acidity will avail itself of phosphate fertilizer, when applied, to a greater extent than soil that has been sweetened with lime. A pasture with very little clover in it is generaly in a condition to use phosphate to quickly revive its growth. It is important to have such a pasture mowed, so instead of nourishing the wiry top, new blades of grass shoot up and greatly improve the grazing.

WE are informed that The Toronto Union Stock Yards has been taken over by the province. It is briefly stated that its value is about $1,700,000 and that a Board of Directors is to be formed to operate it in the interests of the farmers. Bonds are to be issued and guaranteed by the province, and doubtless these bonds will be exchanged for stock in the company. In other words, the province will go into debt for the value of the yards as a going concern. We are not told what interest these provincial bonds, or this new debt, will bear. Over one-half of the stock in the yards is held by people in the United States, and Ontario is creating a new debt, equivalent to borrowing money, to take up these American interests. In other words, we will have that much less foreign capital invested here. This is good Socialist C.C.F. legislation, but it seems a pity that the province, if it is going in for this kind of action, did not select something that needed revolutionizing, or at least, improving.

SASKATCHEWAN seems to have had a General Election and no doubt about the result! I am interested mostly in who will be minister of agriculture and what his policy shall be. Saskatchewan is an agricultural province; it is also one in which there are large areas, of what has proven at times to be semi-arid land. This is important not only to Saskatchewan but to the whole of Canada, as crop failures on the Western plains have proven to be expensive experiences for the Dominion treasury. Large irrigation projects have been proposed and a considerable expenditure has been made in dams and artificial ponds for collecting and holding water for stock. I looked over some of these three years ago and they were proving useful. The development of a permanent agriculture lies to a great extent with the provincial government.

I hope that the new minister of agriculture in that province will be a man who can give leadership to farming and will have forward-looking policies. Saskatchewan has had some good ministers of agriculture. The first, in 1905, was Hon. W. R. Motherwell who was one of the earliest promoters of the Grain Growers' Organization and was himself the largest producer of Brome Grass seed in his province; thus setting an example of the necessity for grass growing and the promotion of mixed farming on the prairies. Lately, Saskatchewan has made very considerable progress in cattle raising and the feeding of pigs, and not a little in dairying, being the only province in Canada that increased its butter output in the first three months of this year over last. The increase was 6½ percent; the reduction in all Canada was 12 per cent.

Sally Starts A Fire

Sally, South Perth Zoo's aged chimpanzee, is an inveterate smoker.

When she has finished her smoke Sally stubs her cigarettes under a sack in her cage. One day she set fire to the sack. She tried to put the fire out by heaping other sacks on the smouldering one. A keeper extinguished the fire. Sally was not injured, but for hours after she crouched in a corner with her fur standing on end.—Australian News-Letter.

THE SUNSHINE HOUR —By Thomas

Germany Could Still Win

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

IT cannot be emphasized too strongly that Germany still hopes to emerge from this war without serious loss, that the Reich for some time has been concentrating upon salvaging from the peace to come sufficient strength to prepare again for conquest. In this connection the Nazis' only hope is Goebbels, and they know it. They can no longer nurse any illusion that Germany will win a military victory. By their own well-advertised military theory they are beaten, for they have explained their defeat in the last war by the fact that they had to fight on two fronts. Hitler said that this was a blunder he would never repeat. Now they have three fronts to fight on—Russia, Italy and France.

On two of these fronts the forces they face are the combined armies of the British Commonwealth and Empire and the United States. History offers no previous example of such deep-welded unity between the armies of two nations as there exists on the fighting fronts of Italy and France. Possibly the British and American soldiers do not know each other as well, or fraternize as closely, as the optimists have hoped. But the men of both fighting forces are quick to declare admiration for each other's fighting competence and courage. And on the staff level, officers have long ago learned to forget their nationalities. For this, Britain and America owe a huge debt to General Dwight Eisenhower, whose conception of unity was first shown in the Mediterranean, and now at invasion headquarters.

It is not on the two Anglo-American fighting fronts that Goebbels can cherish any hope of driving a wedge between the Allies, in order that inevitable military defeat can be turned into a German victory at the peace-making. There are no gaps where he can break through on the fighting fronts, and that hope places a heavy responsibility on the press and radio of both Britain and America, for they can do a great deal to minimize Goebbels' efforts. The danger lies in the fact that, in each country, anxiety over the situation of their own forces, and a natural pride in their prowess, will induce a forgetfulness that the battle is a joint one. The result will be that, in the minds of the reading or listening public of the respective countries, the impression will take root that the battles are being fought almost entirely by the men of their own forces, with those of the other nation playing a minor part. The tragedy of such a false impression becoming widespread will be evident when the times comes to iron out the difficult problems of peace. They can give rise to recriminations of the "Well, we did all the fighting" type, which will be disastrous to unity. The moment that happens is the moment when the Germans will have the chance to win the peace.

In England, American servicemen have become part of the scenery; nearly everone in the country knows some of them personally. Therefore, interest in them is much more intimate and their prowess at the front is obviously good copy. But without the aid of press or radio the vast contribution of American manpower is a matter of common, visible knowledge to most of the inhabitants of the British Isles. They see it every day with their own eyes. Relatively few men of the British fighting forces, however, have come to the United States, so interest in them is rather remote in that country. It is only proper that priority of position and space be given to the forces of one's own country, but some effort to keep a sound balance is of high importance to the national interest of both Britain and America, if the gaps are to be closed against Goebbels.

And the gaps must be closed. We should remember that this feeling of national pre-eminence in winning the First World War had its inevitable political reactions after that conflict, and the feeling was mainly confined to the civilian population. We will do well to guard against a repetition of the occurrence, lest mistaken national pride leads us to play Germany's game.

Canadian War Loans

(FROM NEW YORK TIMES)

OUR Canadian friends have made an impressive record in all phases of their all-out war effort—particularly in the hold-the-line program. An important feature of their program has been the large volume of war bonds sold to individuals, with the consequent need to have only minor recourse for funds from the banking system. In its Sixth Victory Loan, inaugurated in April, the Canadians sold about $1,400,000,000 in bonds. Approximately 46 per cent of these sales were to individuals. Compare this with less than one-third sold to individuals in our last bond drive and with the objective of 37½ percent in the current drive. The Canadian record is even more favourable than the above figures indicate because they exclude sales to "special names"—that is, to those buying in excess of $25,000—from the total sales of to individuals; such sales are included in our totals. However, we sell many more bonds under the payroll deduction plan than do the Canadians.

An interesting device used in Canada is the recruitment of a large sales staff to whom small commissions are paid for the sale of bonds to individuals on a house-to-house basis. The basic commissions are pooled in an equalization fund, so that a somewhat higher amount can be paid to those who sell in less lucrative territories while a relatively smaller amount is paid to those in better territories commensurate with their efforts. Partly as a result of this practice, sales to individuals in Canada (excluding sales to the special names) are estimated to have been 13 per cent of their national income last year, while in this country the total was only 10 per cent, including the larger sales.

Liquid savings by individuals were estimated to equal about 25 per cent of our national income last year. If only half of this total had been invested in war bonds, we would have approximated the 13 per cent figure attained in Canada. Is it too much to ask that we invest at least our current savings in war bonds when our fighting men are giving their all so that those of us at home will have peace and security?

Thanking the Sergeant

The Home Guard has acquired a large anecdotage, much of it obviously invented. Here is a story for the authenticity of which a correspondent vouches. In the very early days of the L.D.V. an ex-sergeant of the old school, complete with waxed moustache, roaring parade-ground voice and all, had an experience which was novel to him in spite of his long and varied military career. With an incredible effort of patience, self-restraint, energy, and vocal variation he had wrestled hours with a very raw squad whose sole redeeming feature was its obvious anxiety to please.

At the end of the parade he was standing for a moment regarding them much more in sorrow than in anger when one of their number took a pace forward from the ranks and, turning towards the squad, said in precise and precious tones, "Gentlemen, I should like to propose a vote of thanks to the sergeant for his efforts with us tonight!"

Nobody knows what the sergeant's thoughts were, but as he left the parade-ground he was observed to be swallowing hard and looking slightly dazed.—Manchester Guardian.

REBEL RHAPSODY

Invited to conduct Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture" at the town of Oaxaca during his recent visit to Mexico, Leopold Stokowski hired some villagers to ring church bells and fire shots for sound effects—forgetting, however, to notify the police.

Hearing shots, the local constabulary thought a revolution was in progress, charged the meeting and arrested all the musicians. Stokowski's explanation got them out.—Newsweek Magazine.

THEN HE BEGAN

Fat persons give various reasons for dieting, but it is doubtful that any one ever had a more valid one than Laird Cregar, Hollywood film actor, seen recently in The Lodger. He has reduced from 350 pounds to 260, and this was the cause of it: He was attending a crowded social event one afternoon when he overheard a woman near him say to another: "I'll meet you by Laird Cregar in ten minutes." That settled the matter there and then.—Hamilton Spectator.

Something went wrong in the cookhouse and the piecrust was as hard as a brick. The mess wag sent it back with a message:

"Give us the tools and we'll finish the job!"

SMOKING IN CHURCH

Arrangements to relay services from St. Mary's Church, Chatham, to an adjoining hall where those who wish can sit and smoke as they listen might have seemed a trifling concession to some churchgoers of the past who claimed the right to enjoy a pipe even inside the church. In some English country churches smoking used to be so customary that pipe-racks, and even spitoons, were provided, and in Wales, as late as the middle of last century, the start of the sermon was regarded as a general signal for male members of the congregation to light up. Readers of "The Heart of Midlothian" will remember an important personage who through the whole of the sermon smoked tobacco borrowed from other worshippers.—Manchester Guardian.

NOT SITTING DUCKS

There was a story in the news about a Western Canadian rifle battalion which brought its mascots, Donald and Doris, into the second front with it. Donald and Doris are a couple of ducks. Doris, who is snow white, was won in a raffle. Donald, who was bought by the battalion to keep Doris company, runs to a light brown with a green head.

The Germans, if they happened to glance back, no doubt took Donald and Doris for a couple more of those secret weapons with which they are becoming acquainted.

In any event, there is nothing of the sitting duck about Donald and Doris, nor about their masters—the whole outfit is on the move. And intends to keep on the move right into Berlin. —Winnipeg Tribune.

A Bible Message

And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire: and he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth, and cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth....

And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey, and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter. And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings. (Rev. 10: 1-3, 9-11.)

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars: and she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered....

And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne. (Rev. 12: 1, 2, 5.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"On the right-form platoon!" roared the sergeant.

The recruits carried out some kind of manoeuvres which left the sergeant speechless.

He looked at them for a moment. Then his voice returned—and no words can describe the tone of it. "All right—now take your partners for the Lancers!"

A young man was filling in an application form for an insurance policy.

"What did your father die of?" asked the agent.

"I'm not quite sure," said the man, wishing to make the best of things, "but I don't think it was anything serious."

◊ ◊ ◊

"It's disgraceful," cried an irate patron to the manager of a cinema.

"What is the trouble, sir?" asked the manager soothingly.

"I paid two shillings and sixpence for a seat and I've just sat on a couple of tacks left by one of your careless employees, no doubt. It is a scandal!"

The manager was a quick thinker.

"That's quite in order, sir," he said, and pointed to a notice. "You will observe that all our prices include tax."

Mrs. F. E. Latimer, leader of Group D of the Women's Missionary Society of George Street United Church, is general convener for the garden tea, sponsored by the group, being held Tuesday evening from 7 to 9.30 at the home of Mrs. G. Miller, 161 Douro street. Proceeds will be used for missions.

Family Reunion

ROSENEATH, June 26—(ENS)—Thirty-two descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Harper of Haldimand township, gathered at the summer home on Rice Lake of Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Brisbin Saturday. Guests were present from Warkworth, Oak Heights, Gore's Landing, Roseneath and Fenella.

Newlyweds Entertained

ROSENEATH, July 26—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCracken (nee Winnifred Beamish) a recent bridal couple, were guests of honor at a dancing party with a miscellaneous shower of gifts, held in the Orange Hall recently. In addition to individual gifts, a charivari party, of a few nights previous, took advantage of the occasion to present Mr. and Mrs. McCracken with an occasional chair. Jack Webb made the presentation and Clarence Parker read the accompanying address.

Included among the gifts was a combined end table and magazine stand from St. James' Anglican Church.

Cavan W.I.

CAVAN, June 26—(ENS)—The regular meeting of the Cavan Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Norman Braithwaite. There were about thirty members present and the roll call was answered by garden suggestions.

As none of the Cavan members were presented at the district annual meeting held at Elizabethville, Mrs. Herbert Snyder read an account of it. Miss Malone, who is in charge of historical research gave a paper on 'Princess Elizabeth" and Doreen Armitage gave a reading. Plans were discussed to have a program presented in the community hall the latter part of September or early in October, the proceeds of which go entirely to the Red Cross. At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments.

Bride Given 3 Showers

Prior to her marriage on Saturday to Osborne Johnson, Kay Cooney was honored at a trousseau tea by her mother, Mrs. E. Cooney, when 75 guests attended. The table was decorated in pink and white, with pink candles, and tea was poured by Mrs. S. Massielle and Miss Leith Johnson. The trousseau and gifts were shown by Mrs. R. Horton, Misses Dorothy Constable, Peggy Cooney, Zeta Kennedy and Mrs. R. O. Parnell.

Other entertainments given for the bride included a pantry shower given by Mrs. Parnell, a miscellaneous shower by Miss Dorothy Constable, and a kitchen shower by Mrs. Irene Cooney.

The bride was also presented with a table lamp and a pair of pictures from the office staff of the Genelco and the groom an occasional chair by the staff of the Regent Theatre.

Whitney—O'Brien

BANCROFT, June 26.—(ENS). — A quiet wedding took place at 9 a.m. at Our Lady of Mercy Roman Catholic church, Bancroft, when Rita Ellen O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Bren of the Town Line Bancroft, became the bride of Jack Whitney, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Whitney, of Cobalt. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. J. Kennedy of Bancroft, with Miss Anita Buckley of Maynooth playing the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white brocaded satin gown with a floor length veil and carried a corsage of red roses. Miss Margaret Haxton, of Weston, was the bridesmaid and the groomsman was Frank O'Brien, brother of the bride.

Following the wedding ceremony the party left for the bride's home where a reception dinner was held. About twenty-five guests were present. The couple left later for points in Eastern Ontario. On their return they will take up residence in St. Thomas.

CELEBRATE DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY—Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Mabee, 324 King Street, who today celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Mabee were married in the parsonage of the Methodist Church in Sydney, in Hastings county, first came to Peterborough 54 years ago, returning to take up residence here in 1940, after spending several years in Frankfort. They were honored at a reception this afternoon, and plan to be "at home" to friends and neighbors from 7 to 9 this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Mabee Have Diamond Anniversary

Filled with memories of days gone by, remembering Peterborough as it was, well before the turn of the century yet looking forward to full and happy years, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Mabee, 324 King street, are today celebrating their diamond wedding anniversary.

Mr. Mabee, who is 86, and Mrs. Mabee, the former Sarah Bush, who is 81, were married in the parsonage of the Methodist church in Sydney, in Hastings County, and came to Peterborough 54 years ago, settling in the southern section of the city, at Crawford's Grove. Mr. Mabee, a gardener, followed his trade for 10 years, on land where S. J. Newhall now lives.

Vividly recalling happenings of other days, Mr. Mabee tells of the building of an undenominational Sunday school in that district, since there were no churches south of Charlotte street. At first, he explains, the children used to meet in various homes, but soon the numbers became too great and several of the men decided to build a Sunday school, and began soliciting funds. When $250 had been collected, work on the building was begun and it was set up where St. George's Church now stands. In the group which built the school were men well - known in Peterborough: George May, M. Johnston, Harold Stevens and John Hart. When the building was completed at a cost of about $450, raised entirely through donations, it was also used by the townspeople for meetings, and Mrs. Mabee was the organist. With Harry Webber, Mr. Mabee was a trustee of May's School when it was first built, and Miss S. Hamilton, now Mrs. J. E. Moore, was the teacher.

After spending 10 years in Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Mabee went to Frankford, selling their land in Crawford's Grove. However, three and one-half years ago, they returned, taking up residence in their present home, 324 King street. Both very active, the couple still enjoy good health. Mr. Mabee's hobby, if it may be called so, is looking after one-third of an acre of garden, which he proudly claims is certainly well cared for and definitely minus weeds. Mrs. Mabee, who has always been fond of knitting and crocheting, has been obliged to give them up for the present, due to a serious illness in the spring. She is now feeling much better, however, and looking forward to the summer months.

They have five living children: Roy Mabee, of Woodstock; Mrs. Alice Hendricks, of Toronto; Ernest Mabee, of Detroit; and Ethel and Audrey Mabee, who are living at home. One daughter, Alta, died. There are seven grandchildren and six great - grandchildren. Several members of the family and close friends were present at the reception held this afternoon when a three-tier wedding cake centred the table. Mr. and Mrs. Mabee will be "at home" to friends and neighbors from 7 to 9 this evening. On their fiftieth wedding anniversary, in Frankford, Mr. and Mrs. Mabee also had a reception to mark the occasion.

Saturday Bride Uses Veil Worn By Her Grandmother

Her grandmother's wedding veil, and a gown of white taffeta, with fitted bodice, long tight sleeves, sweetheart neckline, and buttoned down the back from neck to waistline, was chosen by Elizabeth Margaret Agnes Reid, when she became the bride of LAC. Paul Robert Evans, R.C.A.F., on Saturday at 12 o'clock, in Bethel United Church. Given in marriage by her father, she also wore the gift of the groom, a string of pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reid of Keene, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Evans, of Indian River. Rev. George Murray officiated, in a church decorated with iris, ferns, peonies and white roses. Ashton Fife was at the organ, and accompanied Miss Mona Gibson of Peterborough, when she sang "I Love You Truly," and "Because," during the signing of the register.

Miss Harriett Reid, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, in mauve net over taffeta, with a small flower hat, and a shoulder-length veil of matching net. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Flt. Sgt. A. R. MacDonald, R.C.A.F. of Polson, Man., was best man, and ushers were Stanley Wood, uncle of the bride, and John Evans, brother of the groom.

At the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother received, in pale blue gabardine ensemble, with blue and white hat, and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, also receiving, was gowned in printed silk jersey, white hat, and a corsage of roses. The table, set with a lace cloth, was centred with the bride's cake, flanked by pink tapers in silver holders. Tea was poured by Miss M. R. Reid and Mrs. David McNevan, aunts of the bride, and friends of the bride assisted in serving.

The bride's gift to the groom was a Parker pen. The organist received a leather wallet, and the soloist, a cup and saucer. The young couple received many lovely gifts, and sums of money, from their friends and relatives.

A PROMISE MAN SHOULD BREAK

Son Who Permits Tyrannical Mother To Keep Him To Pledge Not To Wed Shows Weakness

DEAR MISS DIX: For three years I have been engaged to a man who loves me very dearly and whom I love with all my heart. We are well suited to each other in every way, but we cannot get married because his mother has made him promise not to marry anyone as long as she lives. She is not an old woman and she is strong and healthy and will probably live for years.

What should I do? Should I wait for him, or should I just say goodbye to him and try to put him out of my mind and heart?

Promise Should Be Broken

ANSWER: I think that a man who would let a tyrannical mother force him to make a promise not to marry as long as she lived must be singularly weak in character, and that if he doesn't break such a promise he is lacking in good, hard, common sense.

It is difficult to understand how any mother could be selfish enough to be willing to wreck her son's happiness for the sake of gratifying her desire to monopolize him. She must have had a satisfactory marriage herself. She must have had a great joy in holding her baby in her arms and have found interest in watching him grow up and develop into manhood. It must be a great comfort to her to have him to lean upon as she grows older. Yet she has no hesitation in depriving him of a wife and children and a home of his own.

On the contrary, she deliberately plans to narrow him down to her society while she lives, and leave him lonely when she dies. And she does that in the name of love. Malice itself could invent no greater cruelty.

If this man has not the courage to defy his mother and marry you in spite of her selfishness, I think you will be well-advised to break with him. You would always be second fiddle to her. He would always be tied to Mother's apron strings. And there is no happiness for any wife in such a husband.

by Martha Logan

Premium Table-Ready Meats

Tasty, tempting, and so easy to prepare! Save time and work by serving Swift's Premium Table-Ready Meats frequently this summer.

Summer calls for planning meals that take little time and fuss in preparation. With work in your Victory Gardens, children soon coming home from school and all the ordinary wartime activities, meals should be streamlined ... but, of course, still nutritious and satisfying. That's where Swift's Premium 'Table-Ready' meats come into their own! Here are some tips for making the most of these appetizing loaves and sausages:—when buying, select a variety for appetite appeal and to suit each member of the family. Get several slices of three or four different kinds, with contrast in flavour, texture, colour and shape.

Leftover slices are excellent in sandwiches for next day's lunch. See your family get their vitamins by serving a good green salad (see recipe for dressing) with the meats. And start the meal with a bowl of soup.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The open tournament for men's rinks that was scheduled for Monday, July 3rd has been withdrawn. The announcement came to us over the week-end.

It seems that this special tournament committee, R. F. Downey, chairman, met on Saturday night and decided, after considering all of the circumstances to withdraw this tournament and leave the date open for any other committee to act as they see fit.

We are told that there were a number of reasons for the committee's decision, but the main one was that Peterborough is about the only place in our bowling district that is holding Dominion Day on Monday and therefore the clubs from other centres could not give us the support that they would have had the holiday been celebrated on the same day all over the Dominion.

But, however, there will be bowling and lots of it for men and women on the holiday. The games committee is attending to that. All they ask is for the skips to keep in close contact with their rinks and be ready to play on Monday.

At the time of writing we are not prepared to say just what form the tournament will take. There are a few things to be straightened out first.

The main attraction at our club this coming week is the ladies' big open tournament on Wednesday. They tell us that they have eighteen local entries already, and if that is the case the chances are they will have a successful contest. Let's all hope that it does not rain.

No less than 38 runs were scored on 40 hits during a senior Inter County fixture at Stratford Saturday when the Nationals came out on top 24-14 against the London nine. The encounter was also featured by nine errors of which six were charged to the losers while a procession of pitchers distributed 13 passed to the first sack.

In contrast to the loose display at Stratford was the smartly-played Inter County tilt at Galt in which the Terriers turned back Hamilton 3-1.

Alfred Parker's By Jiminy scored an easy five-length win in the $50,000 Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct Park Saturday with Toronto's Ted Atkinson handling the reins, the result further complicating the three-year-old situation. Back of the winner were Stir Up, Lucky Draw, Bounding Home, Stymie, Shut Up, and other name horses.

The Yankees, Dodgers and Giants are playing a three-cornered exhibition game at the New York Polo Grounds tonight for the Fifth U. S. War Loan Drive. Each of the teams will rotate six times at bat and in the field in the novel engagement.

14-Year-Old Twirler Fans 11 Girls

The unbeaten Westclox team went further out in front in the Girls' Softball League Saturday night when behind effective six-hit pitching by Joyce Withers, they defeated the second-place Aircrafters 17 to 5 at the Ashburnham Bowl before the season's biggest crowd.

Starting of the fourteen-year-old twirler, the youngest player in the league, against their strongest opposition was a surprise move on the part of the Big Bens and it worked. The young hurler, pitching cooly and steadily all the way through, struck out eleven Aircrafters, allowed them only six well-scattered blows and yielded only two bases on balls. She was never in much trouble after her teammates had given her four runs in the second inning to work on.

Norma Strickland, who pitched for the losers, also struck out eleven, twice retiring the side via the fanning route, but in between she allowed sixteen hits and gave eight passes, six of which blossomed into runs. Behind her the Aircraft team was shaky in the field and with the Big Bens hitting well and running the bases smartly to take advantage of every slip the score mounted rapidly.

Three old Westclox standbys, Isobel Bullock, Marg. Hawthorne and Aggie Anderson led the attack for the winners. The Big Bens' catcher drove in four runs with three hits and one of her blows was a homer to cars in left with a runner on the bases. Marg. Hawthorne and Aggie Anderson also had three hits each.

Eleanor Craig with a double and a single was the only Aircrafter to get more than one blow off the effective pitching of Joyce Withers.

The fielding feature was contributed by Barbara Rome, Westclox left-fielder, who made a running catch of a low drive to short left and completed a double-play unassisted by tagging second in time to retire a base-runner who had left as soon as the ball was hit.

Aircrafters opened the scoring in the first. With one out Audrey Patterson singled through short, went to second while Joyce Withers was throwing out Norma Strickland and scored on Eleanor Craig's double past third.

Beats Out Bunts

Westclox went in front in the second. Viola McLean and Barbara Rome both beat out bunts and Joyce Withers dropped a single into right to fill the bases. Verna Patterson rolled to her sister and Viola McLean scored on the play. Olive Hanwell struck out but Aggie Anderson singled, scoring Barbara Rome and stole second. When Nona Whetung slashed a fast roller through short, Joyce Withers and Aggie Anderson ran home.

The Big Bens broke up the game completely by scoring six runs in the fourth. Passes to Olive Hanwell and Aggie Anderson started the parade and after Nona Whetung struck out Isobel Bullock, Marg. Hawthorne, Viola McLean and Barbara Rome all hit safely in succession and with a couple of errors tossed in along with some slow fielding the winners ran six over the counting station.

Aircrafters got two back in their half on a pass to Norma Strickland, Eleanor Craig's safe bunt and Marg. Selkirk's roller which got away from Verna Patterson.

The winners scored three more in the fifth on passes to Olive Hanwell and Nona Whetung, a safe bunt by Aggie Anderson, a couple of fielder's choices and a pair of errors.

They added four more in the eighth on a pass to Joyce Withers, singles by Verna Patterson and Aggie Anderson and Isobel Bullock's homer to the cars in left.

A Big Edge

That made it 17 to 3 but Aircraft cut the margin down a little by getting two in their end of the frame. With one out Marg. Batley singled to centre and Audrey Patterson walked. When Norma Strickland rolled to Nona Whetung, Marg. Batley scored on a low throw to third and Audrey Patterson registered when Eleanor Craig grounded to Marg. Hawthorne and was thrown out.

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

As to what is going to happen in the City Softball League next your guess is as good as anybody's. Last week was featured by a number of upsets and there are liable to be more during this week's doings. Anyway action is resumed at Riverside Park tonight with Switchgear and St. Peter's, the victims of the last two surprises tieing into each other at 7 o'clock and it ought to be good for plenty of thrills. Both outfits want a win. Switchgear can feel the hot breath of the Plazas on the back of their necks while the Saints find themselves all tied up with Soldiers in a third-place tie and with the Union team storming along only a game behind so that both outfits are going all out for a victory in this battle, the third of the season between the two. And each of the other two clashes was a tight argument. Saints may start Gene Reynolds who handcuffed the Switchgear for the last eight innings the last time the rivals met or they many call on Bill Moorhead who held Plazas at bay for 12 innings before dropping the decision to the second-placers. Manager Chambers of Switchgear will probably ask Ron Akers or Bert Harrison to do the gunning for the leaders.

* * * * * *

Tomorrow night another hectic struggle is carded with Plazas meeting the much-improved Soldiers and that should develop into a honey of a ball game. The rivalry between the two clubs has been keen for the past three seasons and the Military Training Centre team would ask nothing better of fate than a chance to knock over the champs tomorrow night. Plazas have beaten the Soldiers twice this season but hadn't much to spare the second time the two outfits met and now that the khaki team has dug up another new pitcher they are confident that they can take a fall out of Jim Ellis and Company. They could use a win to take over third place and will have their strongest battle array in line. They will probably start big Earl Revoir, the new twirler who beat the Switchgear last week. Plazas haven't announced their starting pitcher but it will probably be either Frank Stokoe, the former Toronto hurler or Terry Woods who pitched last season for the Genelecs. The game can be listed as on the "must" list for softball fans.

Westclox's Busy Week

With the Westclox holidays coming up this next week-end this is going to be a decidedly busy week for the Big Bens and the Baby Bens in the Girls' Softball loop. The senior Westclox team is billed to play three games and the junior team twice, after which they will not be seen in action again until the two weeks' vacation period is over. The Baby Bens start off the heavy program with a game tonight against Brintons and it should provide a lively battle for the patrons. The Brinton team hopes to pull off its third intermediate championship in a row and from now in every game will be important as there are signs of a lively race for the intermediate title this season. The Johnson Motors team is a distinct threat and the other outfits are showing steady improvement so that it looks like a nice battle for the honors. Tomorrow night Westclox seniors will play the first of their three games of the week, meeting the Johnson Motors and the Outboard Marines will be battling all the way to hand the champs their first defeat of the season. Westclox will probably use Joyce Withers, their 14-year-old twirler against the Johnson team with Helen Mark getting the assignment for the Outboards.

All Peterborough youngsters, 16 years and under who are interested in the formation of a juvenile City Lacrosse League here this summer are asked to report tomorrow, Tuesday evening at 6.30 o'clock at the lacrosse bowl, Townsend street. This is a decidedly important gathering and it could be that the question of whether or not a league will be operated here depends upon the result of tomorrow night's gathering and the interest shown by the youngsters themselves in the project. Some of the old guard of lacrosse enthusiasts in Peterborough are anxious to keep the game alive here and they realize that the best possible way of doing so is to start with the kids and have them take up the game during their formative years so that material for future intermediate and senior teams will be running off the assembly line. The plans included the securing of enough lacrosse sticks to equip four young teams and also of two sets of sweaters which can be used by all four teams on match nights, thus cutting down the overhead. Much depends, of course, on the response of the kids themselves. If there are not enough of them interested in this opportunity to learn to play one of the fastest of Canadian games then obviously there is not much that can be done. But the friends of lacrosse in Peterborough feel that the youngsters will welcome this chance and that they will show it by turning out at the lacrosse bowl in droves tomorrow evening.

Baseball Picks Up

According to Ken Colling baseball is showing signs of picking up in Belleville. Says the Quinte sports columnist: "Baseball, a game that once brought sport prominence and distinction to Belleville, is headed for a revival of major proportions. This return cannot be accomplished over night, but various steps in that direction have slowly been taking form. The recent city council news announcing that the Stewart-Warner-Alemite Corporation had offered to purchase the old circus grounds (Pine St. at McDonald Ave.) is one of the steps that will see baseball established in the eastern extremity of the city. The purchase was assured by L. A. Young, general manager of the SWACO plant, who has long championed baseball in this city. Mr. Young's first intentions are to construct a baseball playing field, back-stop and other primary necessities to provide an adequate baseball diamond. Art Young was always of the opinion the new Fair Grounds layout, with the patrons or fans so far removed from proximity of the game and players, was one of the first downfalls of baseball in Belleville."

Plenty happened in the big show over the crowded week-end. One important development was the fact that the fast-travelling Chicago White Sox by winning a double-header from Cleveland Indians climbed into second place in the American League with the Boston Red Sox dropping back to fourth. Another was the capture by Bucky Walters of his 12th victory of the season. Bucky had a narrow escape at that. The Reds won the argument by 4 to 3 and he had to have some help in the final inning when he weakened and the Cubs pushed two runs over and threatened to get more. George Munger of the St. Louis Cards continued his winning ways with a 2 to 1 win over Pittsburg and Saturday Mort Cooper came up with a three-hit shutout. The Cards are making every post a winner and will soon be in a league by themselves. Tex Hughson garnered his 10th win of the campaign by shutting out the Washington Senators 4 to 0 while Bill Voiselle rooking pitcher of the New York Giants also became a 10-game winner with a three-hitter against the Boston Braves. He had to beat Jim Tobin, too. Dizzy Trout and Al Newhouser pitching stars of the Detroit Tigers both failed to beat the St. Louis Browns yesterday, the Tigers dropping both ends of a double-header.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: The attendance at the Westclox-Aircraft game Saturday night was so large that a ground-rule of two bases for a hit into the crowd had to be established. New York Giants have bought Pitcher Andy Hansen of the Jersey City club.... He has won eight and lost four in the International League this season.... Toronto has sold Catcher Dewey Williams to the Chicago Cubs.... The Leafs are going to miss his steady work behind the bat and his effective hitting.... Gundar Hagg has set another new mark, covering two miles in 8:46.4 which is moving, chum, in any language.... Ol' Bobo Newsom was a victim of the Yankee bats yesterday when the old veteran took a shellacking.... Incidentally the Yanks won two from the Philadelphia A's in the Sunday doings.... Bill Voiselle would have had a shutout yesterday if he had not pitched a home run ball to Tommy Holmes.... The former International Leaguer is having a great first year in the big show....

ESTHER IS 1944 "SWIM FOR HEALTH" QUEEN—Glamorous Esther Williams, former national A.A.U. 100-meter free style and 300-meter medly swimming champion, rules as the 1944 "Swim for Health" week queen, and will open the 1944 campaign by giving a series of swim exhibitions. Golfers Compete For Trophies At Kawartha Club

While the main topic of conversation around the Kawartha Club is The Kawartha Invitation Tournament which takes place just three weeks from now, the matches for the different club troph[illegible] go on without interruption.

There are fou[illegible] trophies being competed [illegible]llows: The President's Cup, Kawartha Cup, Riley Cup and Glover Trophy.

Riley Cup matches (two-ball mixed foursomes) played over the week-end: Mrs. L. Browne and J. King defeated Mrs. E. Riley and D. McIver; Mrs. F. Hall and G. Tollington defeated Miss Sherin and W. B. Brown; Miss Cranfield and R. Jones defeated Mr. and Mrs. T. Miller; Mrs. K. Smylie and Dave Price defeated Mrs. V. Selkirk and J. Menzies.

In the T. Glover Trophy (men's two-ball foursomes) the following results were turned in over the week-end: C. Low and A. Sands won from J. King and S. Munro; A. Heckman and B. Jopling won from T. and P. MacArthur; G. Solmes and T. Miller won from C. Cummer and K. Currie; S. Hall and A. Hood won from H. Weir and E. Riley; D. Price and L. Browne won from G. Putnam and D. McIver.

Third round President's Cup: S. Hall defeated V. Gallon; C. Fraser defeated T. MacArthur; N. Finnie defeated H. G. McKenzie; R. Akers defeated R. Hay.

Third round Kawartha Club: H. M. King defeated T. Glover; L. Ackford defeated H. Siddall; P. MacArthur defeated G. Bouck; G. Copping defeated D. Menzies.

Sunday Sweep

The scores in the Sunday ball sweep were quite interesting and Charlie Low won low gross with an 82. (Last Thursday night Charlie turned in a 73. Net scores were as follows: First, H. Wilgar, 71; 2, K. Smylie, 72; 3, D. McIver, 73; A. Heckman, 73; 5, T. Miller, 74; 6, D. Price, 75; 7, N. Finnie, 75; 8, H. Caverly, 77; 9, H. Siddall, 77; 10, A. McGregor, 78; and 11, Dr. C. McKee, 79.

Senior Competition

A brand new competition is on tap at the Kawartha Club this year, and one which should create a lot of interest. So far there are only nine entries in this competition which is called the senior competition and is for members of 50 years and older. The members who have entered this match are: G. Copping, H. G. McKenzie, L. Ackford, J. Geraghty, F. Strickland, T. MacArthur, T. Glover, D. Menzies and J. R. Murray.

If there are any members who are eligible for this competition the handicap committee would appreciate it if you would add your names to the list as soon as possible so a draw can be made.

Kawartha Invitation

As we mentioned earlier in this report, the big talk around the club is the Kawartha Invitation which is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 15 and 16. This year the prize money for the pros has been raised, and many golfers will be playing for the following cash prizes: First prize, $150; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $50; fifth, $40; sixth, $30; seventh, $25; eighth, $20; ninth, $10.

The pros will play 54 holes over the 6565-yard Kawartha course, and proving that this tournament has gained quite a reputation as an annual affair, entries have been received from many of the top Canadian professionals. Bob Gray will be here to defend the title he has won the last two seasons. The Borthwick brothers, Dick and Hugh, will be back, as will Gordie Brydson, Bill Kerr, Les Franks, Bob Burns and, it is hoped, Gerry Proulx, Stan Horne and Jules Huot from Quebec. Invitations have been sent to professionals to some of the border clubs in the United States and while none of them have accepted as yet, there are still hopes that they will.

Handicap Match

The Kinsmen Club, sponsors of the tournament, haven't forgotten the amateurs. There will 18 and 36-hole matches for the simon pures, and there will be three flights. For those with handicaps 1 to 10, 11 to 20 and 21 to 32. There are prizes for first and second gross and first and second net in each flight, and we have been assured that Phil Farley, he of the loud pants, will be here to defend the title he won last year.

The handicap committee ask that all matches be played as soon as possible, and the help of the members in cooperating will certainly be appreciated.

We shouldn't close this report without a word about the lunches and suppers that Joe and Mrs. Leeming are serving ever Sunday. Starting as as experiment, these meals are growing in popularity with the members, and every Sunday finds more members taking advantage of this service. You don't need to make reservations as the Leemings are always prepared for you. Make use of the club this summer.

TORONTO, June 26 —(C P) — It's nothing unusual for baseball teams to toss players on their ears when they aren't producing, or give the merry heave-ho to a manger when the team hits the skids, but the higher-ups of the baseball world usually are a little more secure in their sea of authority. But not so at the Lakehead.

The Lakehead Senior Baseball League has changed its presidents twice already this season, and it's in a fair way to become known as the "parade of the presidents," Dick Elliott opines in the Port Arthur News Chronicle. Ray Smith, after several years as prexy, handed over the reins to Bob James and now Bob is heading for St. Paul, Minn., and the league is looking around for a successor.

Sing Singh:

The wrestling fans in Toronto got their money's worth at a bout between Nanjo Singh and Frank Sexton. Tired of being mere spectators a few daring souls at the ringside nailed Singh by the ankle and dragged him from the ring to give him a going over.

Singh had been roughing-up Sexton a bit too vigorously, and the boys apparently didn't like his villain act, so decided to make him cry uncle for a change. Just as we were saying the other day,, wrstling crowds have more fun than anyone else.

Here and There:

Western-bred horses evidently improve with age, Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning says. Teeworth, one of the West's best, wasn't much as a juvenile or three year old, but has done nobly since he passed the four-year mark. Noble King became a good steady racer at five, Patage didn't produce unitl he got past three, and Contributor made a rare comeback at the age of eight to become a good handicapper. Herb thinks the answer lies in the fact the western nags aren't overworked. They race in the summer, but rest all winter. That may make them last longer but chances are they won't do so well against horses that are kept in condition all winter in sunny southern climes. Harry Hatch's victories with his winter-trained horses proved it's quite a benefit.

Defer Vacations

HAMILTON, June 26 — (CP) — Labor is co-operating with the Steel Company of Canada and Algoma Steel Company of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. in a plan to defer vacations in order to maintain production levels required by the Munitions Department, it was revealed here on Saturday.

Jersey City Takes 2 Games

By the Associated Press.

Andy Swede) Hansen should prove a big help to New York Giants, to whom he was sold by Jersey City Giants, yesterday.

The 19-year-old righthander won his eighth game in the opener of yesterday's twin bill as he hurled Jerseys to an 8-4 decision over Rochester Red Wings. The Jaycees also won the second game 3-2.

Hansen failed to last the game, however, leaving for a pinchhitter as the Jerseys rallied for six runs in the ninthf to win.

By winning both games, the Junior Giants moved into a tie with Buffalo for third place.

The Bisons split with the league-leading Baltimore Orioles, the Orioles winning the first 13-10 and the Bisons taking the second 9-4. Nine pitchers worked in the opener, while three of them repeated in the nightcap.

Montreal and Newark divided a twin-bill. The Royals won a free-for-all opener 9-8, scoring the winning run in the ninth after the Bears had rallied for eight runs to tie the score, and the Bears taking the second 2-0, behind the five-hit pitching of Dutch Hiller.

Syracuse won its second double-header of the season, taking both games from Toronto, 7-5 and 6-5 in 10 innings. John Tyler led the Chiefs' attack with three doubles and a homer.

Bucky Walters Aiming At 30 Victories

By JOE RICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer.

It looks as though there may be at least eight 20-game-winning pitchers in the major leagues this year. It is even possible that one, Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds, may become the first hurler in 10 years to win 30 victories in one season.

According to the ratio of their games won and the number of the games played by their respective teams, Walters should just hit the 30 mark and George Munger of St. Louis Cardinals, Bill Voiselle of New York Giants, Rip Sewell of Pittsburg Pirates, Hank Borowy of New York Yankees, Tex Hughson of Boston Red Sox, Hal Newhouser of Detroit Tigers, and Bill Dietrich of Chicago White Sox should gain at least 20 triumphs.

Walters gained his 12th triumph yesterday, as the Reds won the first game of a double-header from Chicago 4-3. Claude Passeau of the Cubs, blanked the Reds in the nightcap 5-0.

Munger won his 10th game against only one defeat, as the Cards won the opener from the Pirates 2-1. Sewell failed to win his 10th bowing to his younger rival. A two-run homer by Spud Davis in the ninth gave the Bucs a 5-5 tie in the final, halted by curfew at 6:50 p.m.

Voiselle lined an even split for the Giants 4-1, limiting Boston to three hits in the second game, after the Braves had grabbed the first contest 5-1.

Borowy eased out a close 4-3 decision for his 10th win as the Yankees swept a twin bill from Philadelphia. Ernie Bonham, after three weeks of idleness because of a strained side, pitched a 5-2 victory in the second game.

Tigers Drop Two.

Newhouser was stymied in an attempt to register his 11th success, as the league-leading St. Louis Browns swept two games from the Tigers, 5-4 in 11 innings, and 5-2.

Dietrich hurled a seven-hit shutout to earn his ninth victory as the White Sox won two from Cleveland 11-0 and 4-3. Thurman Tucker homered with one on to decide the second contest.

After losing the first game 5-4, the Red Sox, with Tex Hughson gaining his 10th triumph against three defeats, came back to shut out Washington 4-0, in the nightcap. Hughson yielded only three hits.

Brooklyn swept a four-game series from the Philadelphia Phillies, by taking both games of a twin-bill, 4-1 and 2-1 in 10 innings.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Gene Sarazen made it a golfing double 12 years ago to-day by winning the United States Open just after he had triumphed in the British Open. The stocky little United States pro fired a four-under-par final round of 66 for a 72-hole score of 286, three strokes better than the next man.

Quaker Tennis Players Form 3 Teams

The Quaker Oats Tennis Club, with a large and active membership, has divided the players into three teams and will play inter-club matches on alternate Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons.

Conestogo Dam

KITCHENER, June 26—(CP)—Marcel Pequegnat, vice-chairman of the Grand River Conservation Committee, said yesterday proposals for the construction of a dam on the Conestogo River as one of the national projects of the post-war period have been submitted by the commission to the Ontario Department of Planning and Development. Estimates places the cost as $2,000,000.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, June 26 — (A P) — The Pacific Coast Conference, at its recent meeting, appointed a committee to look into the possibilities of staging a National Inter-Collegiate Baseball Championship after the war and to consult colleges in other sections on plans .. Lieut. Seek To Improve Postal Service

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, June 26—(CP)—Improvement in postal service was the purpose of a visit to the Italian theatre by Col. E. J. Underwood and Col. G. W. Ross, directors of Postal Services at Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, and Canadian Military Headquarters, London, respectively.

The Colonels visited many formations in the Canadian Corps, talked to scores of men to find out about their mail problems and received many constructive suggestions. They found that in contrast to the troops in England the men here worry more about delay in delivery of letters than they do about parcels.

Two bombers a week bring mail to the Canadians in the Italian theatre and service has been so speeded up that a Thursday Ottawa paper arrived here Sunday. Service is not always so fast but delivery from Canada and England in a week is common.

LONDON, June 26—(CP. Reuters).—Firemen digging for victims of a flying bomb in the south of England early Thursday heard a hoarse voice crying from beneath a heap of rubble: "Blimey, what a blooming war." The exclamation was repeated again and again and firemen thought the victim had become unbalanced because of shock.

After digging for a half-hour, the firemen cleared away broken floor-boards and saw in a cavity—a parrot. The bird was taken away, still screaming, "Blimey, what a blooming war!"

SON IN FRANCE

Mrs. J. Fraley, 301 Parkhill road, received a field army postcard from her son, Pte. Roy Fraley, saying he was in France with the S. D. & G. Highlanders. This is the first word his mother has received since Christmas. His wife and daughter reside at 352 Gordon avenue. Besides Pte. Roy Fraley, Mrs. Fraley has two more sons in the service: Pte. Fred Fraley now stationed at Red Deer, Alberta and Pte. Lawrence Fraley at Camp Borden; also one son-in-law, Sgt. Emiel De Valkenaere, stationed at Prince Edward Island.

MAKING PROGRESS

The staff in charge of the chest clinic operating at the C.G.E. are well satisfied with their week's work and hope to be ready to start in Genelco by Wednesday. From Tuesday until Saturday of last week 2,130 people from the C.G.E. were examined.

THREE ON CASUALTY LIST

The names of three men in the Peterborough district appear in today's army casualty list. Two died of wounds and they are: Cpl. M. G. Moore of Oshawa and L.-Cpl. Howard K. Green of Belleville. Cpl. Thomas L. Madill, son of Thomas Madill Lindsay, is reported slightly wounded. His wife lives in Glasgow, Scotland.

Hasty-Petes Come To Rescue Of 48th Highlanders At Ortona

His severely wounded left arm encased in a cast, and facing the possibility of an amputation, Pte. Kenneth William Armitage, brave veteran of bloody battles around Ortona last December returned home Sunday morning from England. The 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Armitage, 171 Rubidge, he was one of a large contingent that came back on the Lady Nelson which docked at Halifax last week.

It was on Christmas Day last year that Pte. Armitage, a member of the 48th Highlanders, received his wounds when German machine gun bullets laced his arm in many places and grazed his head nicking his left ear. Glimpses of the harassing scenes of battle and carnage in which he and his regiment were involved when completely surrounded by crack German troops was told this morning by the young soldier who, still suffering pain and handicapped as he is, appears smiling and not embittered by his experiences.

"It was west of Ortona and we had made a push forward and advanced pretty far without meeting opposition, Pte. Armitage said. We were up against crack paratroopers and the 26th Panzer division, which surrounded us. They were getting at us with everything they had and from all sides and we were separated from the rest of our division. The casualties were bad," he said, mentioning some figures relating to his own company which he thought it wiser to refrain from mentioning officially.

After he got hit, Pte. Armitage said it was some time before he and the other wounded could be removed to hospital, as, trapped by the Hun, the embattled regiment awaited succour from other divisional elements to the rear. Relief finally came when the Hasty Petes, in a fierce action with tanks, broke through to the Highlanders support.

Taken to Malta

Pte. Armitage was removed to a hospital in Malta where it was found that he had sustained five fractures to his arm. Later he returned to England by ship and altogether has been in quite a number of hospitals and undergone many operations.

Enlisting in January, 1940, still underage but anxious to follow his brother's footsteps, who had gone into the army sometime ahead of him, Pte. Armitage joined the Queen's Own Rifles. He was stationed for a while at Camp Borden, and won his third stripe before the urge to get overseas prompted him to accept a reversion to private in order that he might leave Canada. He joined the Irish Rifles and landed in England in September, 1942. In the beginning of 1943, he volunteered in the draft for the 1st Division and in the Spring arrived in North Africa, where preparations were being made for the Sicilian invasion.

Served in Sicily

Pte. Armitage landed in Sicily on D-Day, and took part in many of the actions in which Canadians pursued the island's Fascist defenders. He was at Leonforte, Regalbuto, and Mt. Etna but in the light of fighting he was later to witness, the Sicilian campaign seemed more like a chase than a real battle. Pte. Armitage admitted however, that resistance at Mount Etna had been pretty stiff.

Pte. Armitage was also among the first to land on the Italian peninsula September 3, seeing plenty of action in various engagements before he was eventually wounded Christmas Day. Hospitals he has been in during the past six months have been visited by Generals Alexander and Eisenhower, and by Prime Minister Churchill.

Now on a 14-day furlough, Pte. Armitage must report back to the military hospital at Toronto for another operation. Then he will have an additional two weeks before his leave is up.

The soldier had high praise for the efficient and thoughtful medical care given to him abroad and on his way home. He said that the arrangements made for care of the wounded aboard the Lady Nelson were excellent. He met several Peterborough men on the return trip. Abroad he has met his brother Raymond, who is 23 and now taking part in the invasion and who cabled his parents only this morning that all was going well.

2 Get Terms On Car Theft Count

Although Ralph Rodine, 24, told the court that he had been informed by doctors that he might be totally blind in a few months, the plea did not save him from a reformatory sentence on charges of stealing an automobile from Ivan Lillico and five tires from W. M. German.

Magistrate O. A. Langley K. C., pointed out to the accused that under the statutes a minimum of a year's sentence was necessary in cases of car theft.

Rodine who has been living in Lakefield and formerly in Kirkland Lake made a plea for James Hutchinson, who had also pleaded guilty to the same charges.

"I am more or less to blame for his being mixed up in these charges", he said, "I am older than him and should have known better. I am also asking Your Worship to consider the fact that I have an honorable discharge from the Canadian forces."

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K. C., produced the accused's previous record and Rodine admitted that he had been convicted in Kirkland Lake and also in St. Catharines.

On the charge of stealing, the Lillico car Rodine was sentenced to 14 months definite in the Ontario Reformatory with a further indeterminate period of four months and for stealing the tires from W. M. German's car was given four months definite and two months indeterminate in the Reformatory, the sentences to run concurrently.

John A. Bradshaw suggested that suspended sentence should be given James Hutchinson, 16, who had pleaded guilty on the same two counts. He said that Hutchinson was the son of a veteran of the navy and that he, too had tried to join but had been rejected because of his age.

Magistrate Langley sentenced Hutchinson to a year definite and 10 days indeterminate in the Ontario Reformatory on the car stealing case and to three months definite and one month indeterminate on the other count, the two sentences to run concurrently.

Service Is Held For FO. Tranter At Park Street

"He chose to write victory over his own life," said Rev. J. L. Harton, Toronto, guest speaker at the special memorial service held in Park Street Baptist Church Sunday evening, in honor of Flying Officer Roy Hudson Tranter, who was killed in action June 11.

"Looking over his letters," Mr. Harton continued, "we discovered, and yet we did not discover, for we knew that his letters testified to the fact that in him was found the two essentials to real victory; victory is always in the way of God's will, and God's will is always the way of sacrifice. You can't follow God's will unless you know God, and Roy Tranter's life in all its phases was a testimony to his knowledge of God, and the presence in his life of the spirit of His Son, Roy acknowledged Lord and Master."

Mr. Harton said, "The price of privilege and the high cost of freedom has always been sacrifice. Statistics show that in the last war 7,450,000 men made the supreme sacrifice. These figures are impressed upon us when we think that graves dug two feet apart from Montreal to Vancouver would be necessary to accomodate the bodies. This war has again called for men who, like Christ, are writing victory over their lives, through their faith in God, faith in their mission, their high calling in Christ Jesus their Lord, and their conscientious assumption of their obligation to their homes, their country their King and their God."

The Rev. E. J. Whan, pastor of Park Street Baptist, read the 23rd Psalm, and the choir sang "Crossing the Bar." Mrs. C. Corbett sang "The Last Bugle Call," and special music was under the direction of Maurice Dunkley, choir leader. Miss Marguerite Dunkley was at the organ.

Pte. R. Millburn Reported Missing

Another Peterborough man has been reported missing following heavy fighting which his unit engaged in "somewhere in France." He is Pte. Robert Cameron Millburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Millburn, 274 Sherbrooke street.

The 19-year-old soldier enlisted April 14, 1943 and has only been overseas a few months. After leaving Canada he was attached to an Eastern Canadian unit, from which he was separated. Pte. Millburn attended Prince of Wales school and was not working at the time he enlisted.

Labor In Vain

PASCO, Wash., June 26 — (AP).—Al McCoy of Yakima, candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative in Congress, thought he saw an opportunity to talk to a group of voters. He interviewed workers harvesting peas on the farm of State Senator Henry Copeland. Ninety per cent. of them were willing to do all they could for him, he said. Back at the house, he learned the harvest hands were convict laborers without the right to vote.

Cupid's Dart Triumphs Over God Of War Flier And Bride Married On Hour's Notice

Redoubtable Dan Cupid won out again against wartime gremlins of rules and regulations Friday evening, when he managed, with the help of an understanding priest and frantic preparations on the part on the principals to see that Marcelle Agnes Jones, and P. O. Grant Edward Willis, R. C. A. F., were man and wife before 10 p.m. By law, couples cannot be married after 10 p.m. or before 6 a.m. However, the young couple didn't know this until 9:30 Friday evening, when P.O. Willis received his orders to report to his post immediately. Miss Jones and P. O. Willis had planned to be married Saturday morning in Sacred Heart Church, and all arrangements had been completed but the sudden orders had thrown everything out of kilter.

It was nip and tuck for a while as Charles Willis, brother of the prospective groom, raced down to the Jones home in the car, and brought the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Kathleen Jones, who were enjoying a cup of tea before retiring, back to Willis. After consultation the couple decided to be married if at all possible, and telephoned Rev. J. J. O'Brien to make arrangements.

Because of the hurried preparations, Miss Jones was not able to dress in her lovely wedding gown, and was married in just a street dress. Only one attendant, who was to be at the wedding on Saturday, Miss Patricia Lowe was able to reach the church in time, and she also had been too rushed to don other than ordinary garb. Little is known about the costuming of the groom, or the best man, Joe Collins, but it is surmised that they too had dressed hurriedly and were not as impeccably turned out as they would have been, had the arrangements for the Saturday wedding been carried out. Miss Betty McAuliffe in pink taffeta, played the wedding music.

Disappointment of having such a spur-of-the-moment wedding was somewhat relieved at the reception, held following the ceremony at the Willis home, where about 35 guests routed out of bed, but still willing to make things cheerful for the young couple, managed to gather Mrs. Willis, donned her lovely bridal gown of white satin with lace inserts at waist and in the skirt, to meet the guests. The gown was made with a fitted bodice sweetheart neckline edged with lace, and a lace yolk at the back, buttoned with tiny self covered buttons, and a long train. Her veil of richly embroidered silk net fell in a short train from a high Sweetheart halo.

The wedding attendants also managed to don their gowns. Miss Jean Collins wore a frock of yellow net over taffeta, in long torso lines, with a lace bodice, and long sleeves. Miss Patrica Lowe wore mauve suede lace in long torso lines with three-quarter length sleeves, and Miss Betty Stiles was gowned in pale blue. All dresses were made with Sweetheart necklines, and the attendants wore matching hats and gloves.

Since the train for Montreal left at 1:45, the bride and groom had to pack immediately, in order to be on time and they were lucky enough to secure the last reservation on the train. Mrs. Willis accompanied her husband to Montreal, and then returned home. "I can laugh at it now," she says," but certainly did not seem so amusing Friday night."

WOUNDED BY BOMB SPLINTER—Lieut. Gordon E. Clarke, grandson of Mrs. J. E. Emmerson, 297 Park Street North, has been wounded in France while with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders. He was formerly employed at the C.G.E.

Lt. G. E. Clarke Suffers Wound

Word has reached Peterborough that Lieut. Gordon E. Clarke has been wounded in action by a bomb splinter in his side and is in hospital. No further word has been received.

His wife lives in Vernon, B.C., but two brothers, Don and Charles live in the city, and a third, Captain Max, is serving in Italy. His grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Emmerson, lives at 297 Park street north and it was here that he made his home for the last few years before enlisting.

His friends will remember him as the junior goalkeeper and he worked in the Fractional Motors, C.G.E. Lieut. Clarke enlisted with a Kingston unit four years ago and later transferred to the S.D. and G. Highlanders. He was home for a few months last year, and a few months ago rejoined the Highlanders overseas.

Shoplifter Given Month In Jail

One month in jail on each of three charges of shoplifting, the sentences to run concurrently, was the penalty imposed by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning on Felix Larose, 33, Brown Street, who had pleaded guilty previously on all three counts.

On a fourth charge of having possession of a loose gasoline coupon, Magistrate Langley registered a conviction this morning and fined Larose $30 and $1.75 costs or a month in jail to begin at the expiration of the other sentences.

T. J. Carley, K.C., pleaded for leniency for the accused. Larose, he said, was a war worker in an essential occupation and had been employed at Genelco for two years. He had never been in trouble before and the fact that he had been drinking beer on the day of the shoplifting might explain the stealing.

O. C. Nesbitt, called by the defence, said that Larose had a good record at Genelco and intimated that the firm was ready to take him back again.

INVALIDED HOME—Pte. Nelson Windsor, who has been overseas for three years with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, has been invalided home. He was injured three months ago. Pte. Windsor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Windsor, River Road North.

Emily School Makes $50 For War Victims

One of the axioms or precepts taught in British schools in days gone by was that work should always preceed play, and that pleasure thus was fully earned and became all the sweeter because one was justly entitled to this relaxation on that account.

There is a great moral lesson of value and it would seem most appropriate thing both for the good they may do, and the lessons it holds for them all, that children could by a little extra effort do something towards assisting in some manner the war effort, before the schools close for the long summer holidays, for the hope of the future freedom that should be theirs is costing many others so much in blood, toil and sweat, in order that their future may be all the more free from danger in the days that are to come.

All teachers have a wonderful opportunity in guiding their pupils for the better things of life, and leadership in this particular has on many occasions been displayed through work done by those under their direction in raising money to assist the sufferers from enemy air raid attacks over Britain through the local and district fund which operates solely for that purpose.

For the fourth successive time before the schools have closed at the end of June, the classes under the direction of Milburn V. Jones of R. R. No. 2 Omemee, have been led by him to make an extra effort to help this fund along, the first two of these being from the school at Janetville, and the latter two from S. S. No. 10 Emily at Orange Corners.

The latest of these took the form of a Concert and a draw for a Pyrex set donated by the H. S. Routley China Store, which was held in the school grounds last Wednesday night, June 22, before a good audience of very interested parents and friends, the children having been busy selling tickets for the draw for some time previous to that.

To stimplate interest among the children in the selling of tickets, the teacher himself donated prizes of war saving stamps, and mailed out a large number of attractive hand drawn invitations, besides preparing the children for their program, and the display of art and manual training, which was shown inside the school, while the concert was held in the open on the school grounds.

With Mr. Harry Jackson, member of the board of trustees acting as chairman and the teacher as accompanist, the children presented chorus and solo numbers, with junior students giving a Virginia reel dance, and the school Rythm Band adding its share to the entertainment offered. Prizes for ticket selling were awarded to Carol Ann Fowler, Betty Finley and Gerald McCall, the first named as an extra award having the privilege of making the draw, which resulted in Mrs. George Goodson of R. R. No. 2 Omemee being the winner.

In all, the proceeds amounted to $48.60, and this was made up by the teacher and a friend to the even $50.00 which stands to their credit in this day's list for the fund, and follows a previous gift made at the Christmas season for the special donations raised at that time.

A personal gift of $5.00 from "A Friend, receipt No. 3679" is also included in to-day's list, and follows a similar gift not so long ago demonstrating how wide awake this donor is to the extra need at the moment, brought about by the new type of rocket bombing of the south of England by the enemy from the coasts of France.

Previously acknowledged	$76,842.14
Pupils and teacher of S. S. No. 10, Emily, proceeds of Concert and Draw	50.00
A Friend, receipt No. 3679	5.00
Total to date	$76,897.14

Pte. S. Bebee Returns Home From Overseas

Home from overseas on leave, and mighty happy to see his friends and family again is Pte. Stanley Bebee, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bebee, 122 Hilliard street. He enlisted in March 1942, in the Prince of Wales Rangers, (AF), and after training in Peterborough and Niagara, went overseas in September 1942 as a reinforcement to the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

Pte. Bebee tells of going through many air-raids while in England, and one in which he almost lost his life, as a neighbouring house was demolished. While overseas, he met many boys from Peterborough and district, including Pte. John Pollick, Hilliard street, who has been overseas nearly four years.

Before enlisted, Pte. Bebee was employed by the Quaker Oats Co.

LT. ALLAN PARK HOME—Lt. Allan Park, son of Lt.-Col. Maurice Park and Mrs. Park, formerly of Peterborough, who was seriously wounded in Italy December 14 while with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, returned to his home in Toronto over the week-end. Lt. Park is a graduate of the Peterborough Collegiate. He was shot in the head by a sniper.

Lt. Allan Park Wounded; Reaches Toronto

TORONTO, June 26—Quiet but fervent was the meeting between two veterans in Christie Street Hospital Saturday night when Lt.-Col. M. H. Park, commanding officer of the 2nd Reserve Battalion, Prince of Wales Rangers, Peterborough, met Lieut. Allan Park, casualty from Italy of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment. The father had come through the last war; the only son had just arrived back from this war.

The lieutenant's mother is Dorothy Allan Park, concert singer, teacher at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, and soprano soloist at St. Paul's (Anglican) Church.

Close Brush With Death

Col. Park who came as a master to the Normal School in Toronto from Peterborough two years ago, is commander of the reserve battalion of Allan's old regiment, the Rangers of Peterborough, from which the young man transferred to get overseas with the 'Hastie Petes.' Lieut. Park was described by doctors who came with the hospital train, as having probably had "one of the closest brushes with death among the men in this draft."

Lieut. Park was picked off by a sniper at the Moro River and the bullet passed through the back of his head. That was on Dec. 14 last year; since then he has been in and out of hospital beds so much that he feels right at home in one. He says he feels fine; his eyes, however, still bother him because sometimes he sees double.

Gift Lighter in Service

"For instance," he said with a brin. "I can see your twin double just a yard to the left of you. Or maybe you're to the right of him. Anyway that's how it is."

When Allan took a cigarette, his dad leaped to his feet and produced a lighter. He flashed a light.

"That," he said proudly, "is the lighter Allan gave me as a going away present just before he left."

3-Day Jail Term Given Boy 17

Three days' imprisonment in the county jail was imposed on Norman J. Brick, 17, Smith township, in police court this morning after he had entered a plea of guilty to stealing a girl's bicycle.

Provincial Constable Price Morris said that two girls had left their bicycles on the property of Thomas Hughes, North Monaghan while they visited the carnival nearby. On their return they found their wheels gone but later the bicycles were returned.

Brick said that he had taken the wheel to ride up town to get something to eat and brought it back in something over an hour.

Magistqrate Langley said that he would like to have imposed a fine but because the bicycle was valued at more than $25 he could not do so. He made the punishment three days in jail.

John Hendren, similarly charged, was allowed to go when the crown offered no evidence and the case was dismissed.

It was pointed out that Brick had been out on bail while Hendren had been held in custody.

Pte. Leonard Charles St. Charles, R.C.A.M.C., stationed at the Military Traning Centre, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing a wallet containing $15 from Elgin Smith on Saturday He was remanded until Friday for trial.

William Hanrahan, who pleaded guilty as a second offender to being drunk was fined $50 and costs or a month in jail and a similar penalty was imposed on Alfred Marshall who pleaded guilty to a second offence Liquir Control Act infraction.

Judgment was reserved by Magistrate Langley until Friday in a charge against R. L. McIntosh of failing to attend a drill of the Prince of Wales Rangers, Reserve.

Crowd Stampedes

BOSTON, June 26 —(AP)—Three hundred persons were driven from a subway station here last night by a series of explosions that halted service at a rush hour, causing a tie-up affecting about 150,000 for more than an hour. No one was injured by the explosions started by a burning cable which caused a short circuit in a feed box.

YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN if you can pay back $9.46 a month

No endorsers needed—Quick, private service—Both men and women invited to apply for $20 to $500

SHORT OF CASH? Get a personal loan at Household Finance in a quick, simple transaction. To apply for $100, $200 or any amount up to $500, just give us a few facts about yourself and your job—and choose a convenient payment schedule. We require no endorsers or guarantors, no recommendations from friends or relatives. Household Finance loans are made largely on character and earning ability. If you have a job or other source of steady income, you are invited to apply to Household for the loan you need.

Loans over $300 at reduced rate

Notice the choice of plans for repaying your loan. The shorter the time you take to repay the less your loan costs. A $100 loan repaid in twelve monthly instalments of $9.46 each—a total of $113.52—costs $13.52. If repaid in six monthly instalments a $100 loan costs only $7.10. Charges on loans of more than $300 were recently reduced. Notice that a $500 loan repaid in four monthly instalments costs only $22.40. Payments shown in the table include both principal and costs. You pay nothing more. We have no hidden charges of any kind.

Solve your problem here

Household makes loans to pay old debts, taxes, doctor bills, help relatives—for emergencies of many kinds. When you need $50, $100 or up to $500, phone, write or visit Household Finance.

IN MEMORIAM.

HAGGART—In memory of J. E. Haggart who passed away 3 years ago to-day, June 24, 1941.

What would I give his hand to clasp
His patient face to see,
To hear his voice, to see his smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day
We'll meet again,
Beyond the toil and strife
And clasp each others hand once more,
In heaven, that happy life.

— Ever remembered by his wife, Lillian Haggart.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Nelson Routley wishes to thank the nurses and doctors of Nicholls Hospital and all the kind friends who sent cards during her recent illness.

Mrs. Albert Miller and family extend the most deep gratitude and appreciation to all kind friends, neighbours, Canadian Legion members and Red Patch Club, who so heartily and generously expressed their sympathies during their most recent sad bereavement.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Are we married sisters and brothers justified in chastizing our 14-year-old sister because she uses cosmetics on her face as well as on her legs, and craves a lot of fun and insists on attending "Y" dances every Saturday night and sometimes doesn't come in until 12.30 o'clock? She is boy-crazy, but she is a very good girl. After school she practices her piano lessons, helps at home and also works out several days.

Mrs. M. K.

Girl Needs Sympathy of Family

ANSWER: Nobody is justified in "chastizing" a 14-year-old girl, and especially one who, according to your own account does nothing wrong. The only way to deal with her is to show your sympathy and understanding and affection. Make her feel that you want her to have a good time, but you want her to have it in the right way.

And, for goodness' sake, don't make an issue of her using cosmetics. Everybody does it and there is no more harm in it than there is in combing your hair. Of course, she is boy-crazy. Every girl of 14 is, but she will get over that. Encourage her to bring her boy friends to the house so that you can meet them and look them over and weed out the undesirables.

A 14-year-old adolescent girl isn't easy to deal with, but people stood by us in our adolescence. Pass on the courtesy.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 18, engaged to a boy who is overseas. Before he went into the service he wrote me every day and I replied. After he left I heard from him each day, but lately I only hear from him twice a week. Should I write him every day even if I don't hear from him that often?

ESTELLE

◊ ◊ ◊

ANSWER: If you feel like it and have anything interesting to say, but an every day letter gets to be a burden and dull as dish water so I am strong for fewer letters and more interesting ones. Nobody wants a duty letter. It must come bubbling up fresh and spontaneous from the heart to make it worth getting.

Weather Fails To Upset Garden Party

Because of the rain Saturday afternoon, the garden party sponsroed by the Catholic Junior League, was held in the Knights of Columbus rooms, instead of the lawn of St. Peter's rectory, but, in spite of the weather, a large number of guests were welcomed. Receiving the guests were Miss Gladys Costello, president of the League, and Miss Louise Hickey, first vice-president.

Tea was poured at a lovely table, set with lace cloth, and centred with a large bouquet of peonies, flanked by white tapers. Pouring tea were Mrs. T. McKenna, Miss Gladys Perdue, Mrs. A. R. T. Hailey and Miss Myra Hickey. The rooms were also decorated with bouquet of peonies, flanked by white tapers. Pouring tea were Mrs. T. McKenna, Miss Gladys Perdue, Mrs. A. R. T. Hailey and Miss Myra Hickey. The rooms were also decorated with bouquet of peonies, which brightened them considerably, in spite of the dark weather outside. Serving were Mrs. F. Wolff, and Misses Jean Doris, Marion Best, Vivian Sullivan, Doreen Sheehy, Madeline Whaley and Marnie Corkery.

Miss Helen Huppe was in charge of the tea table, and Miss Phyllis Cowie supervised the refreshments, assisted by Mrs. J. O'Brien. General conveners for the events were Misses Catherine Corkery and Helen Hickey. Mrs. Jack Brady was treasurer for the afternoon, and Miss Barbara Hickey received tickets at the door.

Two draws, one for a cake and the other for a chicken dinner, were well patronized, and kept interest high during the afternoon. Winner of the cake, which was in charge of Miss Helen Burke, was Mrs. John Cameron, while Rev. J. T. Finn was the winner of the chicken dinner raffle, supervised by Misses Veronica Scollard and Mary Clancy. The white elephant table, also a centre of interest, did brisk business. Miss Mary

Frederick Mapes Weds Enid M. Smith

Mark Street United Church, decorated with pink and white peonies, was the setting for a pretty wedding on Saturday when Enid Marjorie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith 336 Mark street, became the bride of George Frederick Mapes, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Mapes, of Hartsmere. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Rowland and Harry Northrop was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of ivory Faconne over taffeta, fashioned in long torso style, full skirt with slight train, sweetheart neckline and tight fitting sleeves, coming to a point over each wrist. Her finger-tip veil of net fell from a sweetheart halo of matching Faconne, and her only jewellery was a string of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of Bettertime roses.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Audrey Johnson, who was frocked in a floor-length gown of pale pink chiffon over pink taffeta with self-covered buttons edging the shirred yoke and round neckline, and long full sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of pink net was caught with a bandeau of pink roses. Her only jewellery was a string of pearls and she carried a ring bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Don Smith, brother of the bride, was best man.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, her mother receiving in a leaf green dress of printed silk with white hat and accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses, assisted by the groom' mother, who wore a queen's blue crepe dress with white hat and accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

For a trip to Belleville and points north the bride chose a two-piece dress of blue crepe with white polka dots and white accessories.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

To-day I am going to give you a couple of recipes for lovely desserts when the first part of the meal has been rather heavy.

Coffee Dessert.

1½ cups coffee infusion, 2-3 cup white sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon gelatine softened in ½ cup of milk, 3 eggs, ½ teaspoon of vanilla. Method: Pour coffee into double boiler, add gelatine, and half of the sugar and bring to the boiling point, then add remainder of sugar, salt, and slightly beaten egg yolks, cook until thick. Remove from the heat, add stiffly beaten egg whites and vanilla. Pour into mould, chill, and serve with cream.

Fresh Strawberry Bavarian Cream

Tow cups whipping cream, 2 cups strawberries, 1 package strawberry jelly powder, 2 cups boiling water, ¼ cup white sugar. Dissolve jelly powder in boiling water, let cool until partly set, then beat and add berries and whipped cream. Turn into mould and place in refrigerator until firm. Serve in sherbet glasses. Pineapple (crushed) may be used in this recipe, substituting pineapple juice (heated) for water.

For the rest of our space to-day we will give you two nice cake recipes, I am sure both your family and your friends will enjoy.

Canada Cake.

One cup white sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, ½ cup butter, 1½ cups pastry flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Method: Cream butter, add sugar gradually, beat in unbeaten eggs, add milk and vanilla. Sift flour with baking powder and salt and add to first mixture. Bake in two layers in moderate oven 375 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Put a cream filling between layers, but do not ice the top, just leave plain.

Chocolate Cream Cake.

One cup cream, 1 cup white sugar, 2 teaspoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 4 tablespoons cocoa, 1¾ cups pastry flour, 2 eggs, ¼ teaspoon soda, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream butter and sugar together, add to cocoa sufficient boiling water to dissolve add soda, and combine with first mixture. Beat in eggs and add vanilla, sift flour and baking powder, salt and add alternately with cream to the other mixture. Bake in layer cake tins in moderate oven of 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Ice with chocolate icing.

Deloro And Norwood Soldiers Storm Hitler Line With 48th

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, June 26.— (CP).—The Hitler Line loomed up like an impregnable steel wall before the 48th Higlanders.

Machine-gun posts bristled behind barbed wire strung with mines. Pillboxes mounted in concrete and steel controlled the approaches. The long barrels of 75 and 88-mm. guns jutted out from solid emplacements. An anti-tank ditch ran across the face of the line.

The 48th faced up to that line for 36 hours under ceaseless pounding from mortars and shells, patrolled, probed, reconnoitred, then drove forward in an assault which cracked the line at its southern end.

It was an opening which was widened next day to a full-sized hole when Western infantry followed by Maritimers and Quebecers, smashed through further north across the Aquino-Pontecorvo road. Other Ontario troops passed through the gap made by the 48th, and the Hitler Line was broken.

This story concerns the preparations for the Highlanders' attack and the attack itself, for without the first the second could not have been successful. The first half concerns a few men, the second involves the whole battalion.

First In Line.

First men to enter the line were Sgt. Stanley Caldwell, Toronto; Cpl. Bunny Boyce, Swastika, Ont.; and Pte. John Bernard, Victoria Harbor, Ont. of the scouts' and snipers' platoon. In daylight they patrolled 1,600 yards to the anti-tank ditch, observed where the Germans had their machine guns, mortars, snipers and other defenses, and brought back information on which were based the plans for the attack.

The following day, May 21, more daylight patrols went out, this time to reconnoitre demolished houses almost on the edge of the anti-tank ditch. It was necessary to know whether they were being used as machin-gun posts.

Seven houses were on the left flank, and the group which investigated them found they were unoccupied. Another group, which included Caldwell, Capt. Doug Deeks, Toronto; Sgt. Charlie Male, Toronto; and Ptes. Cecil Thompsen, Hamilton, and Ed Bethune, Verdun, Que., went to the right.

The first two houses were unoccupied, Deeks said, and nothing happened when the patrol crossed open country to the third house, 100 yards from the German wire, but as they were half way to the last machine-guns opened up from the left.

The patrol returned to report to Deeks who had remained a few hundred yards back. The officer then took the scouts out himself around the right flank of this fourth house. Two machine guns opened up, disclosing the German positions.

The main attack began at 10 o'clock next day, following a heavy barrage and with the support of a squadron of tanks. "B" Company was on the left and "D" Company was on the right.

Under heavy fire they pushed through and formed a bridgehead from 300 to 400 yards deep. "A" and "C" companies followed through making a right swing to fold up the line. Their objective was high ground across a 500-yard open plain, and their advance was made in face of heavy machine-gun fire.

C Company Stopped

The men of "C" Company tried three times to move forward, gained about 200 yards in all, and were stopped. They jumped into the anti-tank ditch on their right for the fourth assault and got almost to the top when more fire pinned them down and they decided to consolidate for the night.

From the base of Point 106 Cpl. Richard Riley, Halifax, started up the hill to clear three houses near the crest. With him were Ptes. Frank Mackenzie, Nova Scotia; Lloyd Cutting, Acton, Ont.; Wilf Gray, Delora, Ont.; Bruce Rennie, Toronto, and Stanley Rodger, Norwood, Ont.

They made four assaults, trying a different way each time, and when they reached the houses found the Germans had pulled back to the crest of the ridge. They killed a number of Germans on the way up and didn't lose a man.

There was to be tank support, but they had been badly mauled and the infantry went forward alone, "D" company getting halfway to the top of the feature before being pinned down. "B" company encountered ever fiercer opposition and was so cut up that eventually the remnants were placed under "A" company, their own commander having been killed.

The next, and final phase, was to be an attack to the crest by "A" company, but before this was mounted soldiers from another Ontario battalion passed through. This drive netted 280 prisoners whom the 48th had pushed back in driving their wedge.

Casualties were not light, but the Germans must have suffered just as heavily. Their southern anchor on the Hitler Line was broken and the Canadian drive forward resumed with ever increasing momentum.

SERVING IN FRANCE—L.-Cpl. Charles McDermott, son of Mrs. C. McDermott, 521 Chamberlain Street, has written his mother telling her that he has escaped injury and the going has been tough. Before joining the Army four years ago he worked at the C.G.E. and a brother, E.R.A. Stanley McDermott, is with the R.C.N.V.R.

Rector Leaving After 17 Years

MARMORA, June 26—(ENS)—Farewell services were taken in the Anglican parishes of Marmora and Rawdon on Sunday by Rev. A. B. Caldwell who has been rector of Marmora for 17½ years.

The services in the Rawdon parish consisted of Holy Communion at St. Thomas at 11 a.m. and Evensong at St. Mark's in the afternoon. A large congregation assembled at St. Paul's for Evensong at 7:30 p.m. with Marmora Branch No. 237, Canadian Legion also being represented. Before delivering his sermon, the rector referred to the large number which had been baptized, confirmed, married and laid to rest during his period of service as well as the man who had worshipped at St. Paul's who were now on active service or had a military record.

His text was taken from the 28th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles wherein it is stated that St. Paul thanked God and took courage. He referred to the blessings of God which merit our thanks and the occasion people have to take fresh courage in the trials of life. During the offertory, Mrs. Percy Gray sang, "Hope For the Dawn".

At the close of the service President T. E. Pritchard of the Legion presented Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell with a table lamp as a token of appreciation of their practical interest in the welfare of the Legion Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell are leaving this week for the parish of Elizabethtown with residence at Lyn near Brockville.

90th Anniversary Celebration Ends

CAMPBELLFORD, June 26 (ENS)—Concluding the special 90th anniversary services in Christ Church the rector, the Rev. W. J. Lennox conducted both morning and evening diets of worship. In St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church the Sacrament of Holy Communion was held at the morning service and ten new members were welcomed. At St. John's United Church where the Sacraments also were celebrated twelve new members were received. All church services in town were largely attended.

During July and August the congregation of St. John's United Church and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will unite. The service of worship will be held in St. Andrew's Church during July with the Rev. J. O. Ralston officiating and in St. John's Church with the Rev. M. Maxwell during August. Only morning services will be conducted.

Obituary

JOHN GIBLI.

HAVELOCK, June 26 —(ENS) — The funeral of the late John Gibli was held here this afternoon.

The late Mr. Gibli was born on June 23, 1865, near Round Lake, and was a son of the late John and Wealthy Gibb. He received his education at Old Havelock school and as a young man took up the trade of builder and masonry. For the past 50 years he has resided in Havelock.

He was married to Mary Ann Hubbel who predeceased him on February 25, 1927. Surviving are 3 sons and 1 daughter, Raymond C. of Peterborough; Lindon A. and John G. of Havelock and (Lillian) Mrs. W. K. Palmer of Detroit, Mich.; also one brother and three sisters, William G. of Vancouver, B. C.; Mrs. Margaret Thurlow, London; Mrs. Ida Brooks and Miss Jennie Gibbs of Hastings. One brother Hugh and one sister Mary predeceased him some years ago.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, with interment at Maple Grove cemetery. Pallbearers were Wesley Johnston, Bert Wannamaker, Harry Tinney, Harry Peters, Garnet Rutherford and Ernest Leeson.

31—Types of Suit Hands

IN PLANNING your play for a suit contract, you will find that most hands may be considered as coming within one of several principal classes. There are four main ones, each with a number of variations.

First, and simplest, is that in which you gain the lead at once, promptly play trumps to make sure of eliminating any which your opponents otherwise might retain for ruffing purposes, and finish by scoring your high cards in other suits. Second is that in which you run trumps first, then follow with the long side suit in your own hand or dummy, discarding losers of some other suit or suits on it. Third is the one in which you use dummy's trumps for ruffing out losers before you lead trumps. Fourth is that in which you never lead trumps, but use those of both your hand and dummy for ruffing—a process called the cross-ruff.

Here are specimens of those four types, with the contract in each case 4-Spades and the heart king being led:

	Declarer	Dummy
1.	♠ A Q 10 6 2	♠ K J 7 3
	♥ A 8 5	♥ 7 4 3
	♦ Q 4 3	♦ A K 5
	♣ Q J	♣ K 7 4
2.	♠ A Q 10 6 2	♠ K J 7 3
	♥ A 8 5	♥ 7 4 3
	♦ Q 4	♦ A K J 2
	♣ Q J 5	♣ 10 7
3.	♠ A Q 10 9 6 2	♠ K J 7
	♥ A 8 5	♥ 7
	♦ A	♦ 9 8 6 5 3 2
	♣ J 6 5	♣ 10 7 4
4.	♠ A Q 10 6	♠ K J 7 3
	♥ A 8 6 5 2	♥ 7
	♦ 4	♦ A 7 6 5 3
	♣ J 6 5	♣ 10 7 4

With No. 1, the declarer should take the first trick with the heart A and then lead the necessary number of spade tricks to use up the opponents' trumps. After that he merely cashes his side high cards and loses two tricks in hearts and one in clubs to make his contract. The only possible danger here is that, if he does not exhaust the defenders of trumps, there is a slight possibility that one of them may trump one of his high cards when he plays it.

No. 2 is very like the first type, except that, after dropping trumps, the declarer runs the long suit of diamonds and on it discards his losers in hearts. Four losing tricks were in sight at first, two in hearts and two in clubs, but the discarding of hearts cuts his losers to two and not only protects his contract, but gives him an extra trick.

In No. 3, the declarer's hand contains three losers in clubs and two in hearts, but the heart losers may be eliminated by ruffing. So he should win the first trick with the heart A, ruff the heart 5 with the dummy's spade K, lead the spade 7 to the A, ruff the heart 8 with the spade J, lead to the diamond A and run his trumps to make sure of ten tricks.

No. 4 presents a case in which he should not lead trumps at all. He should win the lead with the heart A, ruff the heart 2 with the spade 3, score the diamond A, ruff the diamond 3 with the spade 6, ruff the heart 5 with the spade 7, the diamond 5 with the spade 10, the heart 6 with the spade J, the diamond 6 with the spade Q, the heart 8 with the spade K, and the diamond 8 with the spade A. That gives him eight tricks with his eight trumps, plus two aces. Note that if the opening lead had been a spade, making him use two trumps on the trick, he could have scored only nine tricks.

Millbrook W.I. Holds Annual Picnic

MILLBROOK, June 26—(ENS)—The annual picnic of the Women's Institute was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Byam, Bank Street, the business session preceding the social time.

The president, Mrs. Delbert Olan presided and the treasurer reported $28.29 in the bank, and $7.98 in the Red Cross Fund. The correspondence read by Mrs. Henry Blakely, included a letter from the Christian Business Men's Association of Peterborough thanking the society for the use of the piano in the town hall at their religious service they had sponsored; and one from the Tubercular Association urging the purchase of Christmas seals.

Mrs. H. M. Trick was appointed to the sunshine Committee for the village, Mrs. Olan having this office for the country, and the report of the recent district annual for the East Durham W.I. was given by Mrs. J. W. Hilton. The gathering was at Elizabethville, and the guest speaker was Miss Mary Clarke, B.A., provincial superintendent. Two members had passed away during the year, Mrs. Cecil Quantrill, of Elizabethville, and Mrs. Henry Farrow of Millbrook, and for these a memorial service was held.

Mrs. Ira Lowe, retiring president, paid tribute to the men overseas, and urged all in their power to re-establish the men when they return after the war. She stated that she had visited all the branches during the year, and thanked them for the many courtesies extended during her term of office. Showing kindness to the English war brides when they come to Canada was also stressed.

Report on Funds

The treasurer's report showed a total receipts for the district funds of $143.59; expenses $98.63; balance of hand $44.96; from the branches $1,417.08 was totalled, expenditures $965.01, leaving a balance of $452.-07.

Miss Clarke was introduced by the president and said she was attending her ninth district annual this year, and that the woman's job is to guard sanity and souls in these days of strain. Education and war work are outstanding tasks, with the former still of vital importance she declared. Taking pride in one's own community was stressed, this to find expression in practical form, and taking part in the farm and other study forums was listed as worthwhile, and she said. The Jam for Britain in Ontario was 125 tons, half the total for the Dominion, Miss Clark reported. The value of good leadership was emphasized, but this is to come from each local branch, developing talents and abilities of individual members. She suggested having one objective in view and work for it.

The study of "Citizenship" was decided upon for the district this year, four classes to be held late in September for representatives of all branches. These meetings will be at Elizabethville with Morrish and Garden Hill joining; Bethany, Cavan and Mount Pleasant will join; and Millbrook and Bailieboro.

Elect Officers

Dinner was served at noon by the hostess branch, and in the afternoon Miss Jean Scott brought a report of the junior organizations, urging attendance at the girls' Achievement Day at Millbrook in July; also more interest in the "garden brigade", so that all girls available may join.

The election of officers resulted in the following: President Mrs. T. G. Soden, Elizabethville; vice-presidents, Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, Millbrook, Mrs. G. Nicholls, Elizabethville; Mrs. Price Bethany; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Hilton, Millbrook; Federation Representative, Mrs. Ira Lowe; with Mrs. W. H. Armstrong as alternate; district delegate, Mrs. Garnet Shield, Mount Pleasant, with Mrs. Beaton as alternate.

A solo by Miss Juan Shield was much enjoyed, and Mrs. Norman Whyte spoke on the growth of the Women's Institutes from their inception by Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless at Stoney Creek. Mrs. Maynard's address was on the functions of the standing commitees, for which conveners may receive literature by applying to the department at Toronto, and Miss Clarke gave information on the survey in connection with rural housing. Life memberships are $5 in a branch and $10 in the district, and the pin is an addior Bethany will be the next year's annual meeting place, and Mrs. tional $2. Garden Hill, Bailieboro, Hilton was given a hearty vote of thanks for her comprehensive report.

Western Wheat Better In '44

WINNIPEG, June 26 — Grain fields in the three Prairie Provinces show healthy, thick stands of wheat averaging from 12 to 9 inches high, and coming into shot blade over a wide area, says the Canadian Pacific Railway Agriculture Department's weekly report. Coarse grains average from nine inches in Manitoba to 6½ in Alberta, all higher than at the same time last year. Moisture outlook has been improved; in Manitoba excellent, in Saskatchewan very favorable, and in Alberta further improved, though almost everywhere on the Prairie warmth and sunshine would be beneficial.

Saskatchewan suffers most from cut and wire-worm damage, but the cool, damp weather has halted grasshopper invasion. Some root rot appears to be increasing in Southern and Central Saskatchewan. In Manitoba 2 to 15 per cent damage to crops is due to flooding south and east of Winnipeg, and slight damage from the same cause is reported in areas southeast and southwest of Regina.

School Pupils Honor Teachers Leaving

BETHANY, June 26 — (ENS).—A party assembled at the Bethany Schools this week at the closing session in the grounds, when the mothers were the hostesses in honor of the teachers who are leaving to take other positions. A short program was followed by the presentation to Miss Muriel Arkles of a beaded handbag from her pupils. Betty Waddell read an address and Peggy Reynolds made the presentation. Mr. McNeil of the Continuation Room was presented with a wallet, and an address was read by Dorothy Lowes, Kippy Jarvis making the presentation. Refreshments were served and a social hour was spent. Rev. Mr. Harding was chairman for the occasion.

Personals.

Rev. and Mrs. Harding and Miss Joy have left Bethany for their new charge near Ottawa.

Rev. Mr. Henderson, of Renfrew, will be taking over the pastorate at Bethany circuit.

Mrs. Husband, of Kenora, is the guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Driver, Wilson street.

Mrs. Milton Wright recently visited friends at Oshawa.

Selwyn News

The Women's Association of the Selwyn United Church held a quilting on Thursday when 16 women were present and one quilt was completed. Following this the church was given a house-cleaning. The next W.A. meeting will be held on Thursday, July 6, at the home of the president, Mrs. Melville Crapp.

Salesman Given 4 Months On Fraud Charge

LINDSAY, June 26—(ENS)—Edgar D. Craig, Toronto, was sentenced to four months definite and two months indefinite by Magistrate E. A. Gee Friday afternoon, when found guilty on the charge of false pretenses and fraud in connection with information laid by Barrister R. I. Moore, K.C., who gave the accused a cheque for $30 for a number of magazines, the delivery of which failed to take place although the bargain took place on January 20, 1944.

Just previous to pronouncing sentence Mr. Moore, the informant, arose and pleaded suspended sentence for the accused, which was, however, objected to by Crown Attorney J. E. Anderson, K.C.

Mr. Moore in giving evidence, said that he had dealt with the accused for some years. Craig had produced credentials and also gave him a receipt. He represented himself as an agent for a central reading service in Toronto. Two of the magazines, Time and Fortune, published in the States, the accused said, were hard to obtain.

Mr. Toy, of Central Reading Service, Richmond street, Toronto, stated in evidence that Craig had not been their accredited representative since November, 1943, and that they had many complaints concerning his methods.

Taking the stand the accused produced credentials to show that he was employed by the Reading Service and that he had turned them in subscriptions and money for various magazines, and even as late as June 6th, 1944, had turned over $400. He admitted that because of his wife's illness he had got behind and had been holding back subscriptions although he has been trying to catch up. He said he had no intention of defrauding.

Barrister Moore stated that restitution had been made to all parties in Lindsay. The accused pleaded for leniency, stating his wife was in a precarious condition, and that he wanted a chance. He promised to get out of the magazine business and seek work in a war plant. Magistrate Gee held that an offense had been committed and that Craig was liable for three years. He did not approve of the business methods of the firm Craig had been working for.

Women's Groups Hold Joint Quilting Bee

HAVELOCK, June 26 — (ENS)—A joint meeting of Knox church Ladies' Aid and Women's Missionary Society was held in the church on Thursday, and took the form of a quilting bee and pot-luck supper. About 35 were in attendance, and two quilts were completed during the afternoon.

Following supper a devotional period was held, which opened with the Scripture lesson read by Mrs. A. S. Thompson and Rev. John Davey leading in prayer. An interesting report of the Presbyterial meeting held at Millbrook, was given by Mrs. J. Davey, it having been the golden jubilee of the Millbrook W.M.S.

Tax Changes Effective After July 1

Gives Canadians 100 Million More To Spend

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP)—Elimination of the compulsory savings portion of personal income tax, announced by Finance Minister Ilsley in his budget speech last night, is going to mean about $100,000,000 more a year in the pockets of Canadians.

With it they have a stern warning that voluntary savings will have to be stepped up to meet the country's financial requirements.

Removal of the compulsory savings plans, introduced in 1942 and the source of about $200,000,000 in available funds to the government since that time—was the paramount feature of income tax changes and ranked among the top features of the 1944-45 budget.

With it Mr. Ilsley announced intention to introduce other changes in income tax legislation designed to remove some inequalities and hardships. Still other matters on which relief has been sought—the taxing of income from life annuities and the overlapping of income and succession duties in certain cases—are to be made the subject of study by a royal commission.

Insurance Factor

Elimination of the compulsory savings is effective July 1, but the amount by which payroll deductions will be decreased is dependent largely on the amount of insurance or similar allowable expenses which the taxpayer has to offset the savings for which he is liable.

Using as examples taxpayers with no insurance or deductible expenses, a single person with no dependents with an income of $1,500 has previously been liable for an annual tax, including compulsory savings, of $365. Now his annual tax will be $245.

A married man with no dependents, on the same basis and with an income of $2,000, has been subject to a total tax of $438, and this now is reduced to $229. A married man with two children and a $2,000 income has been subject to a $212 tax. This will be halved.

NO DEDUCTION

Iuterest Returns To Be Reported

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP). — The nation's tax-collectors will be provided with facilities for a closer check on interest payments on savings deposits under this year's budget.

It is proposed to amend the law to require persons authorized to accept deposits to file returns showing interest credited to depositors in 1944 and subsequent years.

Hitherto corporations paying dividends to shareholders or interest on registered bonds have been required to report such payments.

Now banks, trust and loan companies, provincial savings offices and other concerns taking deposits will have to report the amount paid in interest to each depositor which will give the tax gatherers a double check on the returns made by individual taxpayers.

Moot Nixon As Likely Senate Candidate Rumor Points To Slaght As Liberal Chief

TORONTO, June 27.— (CP).— Despite the expressions of confidence and pledge of united support given former Premier Harry Nixon at yesterday's annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association, gossip continued in party circles to-day that the Liberals would have a new provincial leader before the next Legislature session.

This gossip was prevalent yesterday around hotel corridors prior to the Association meeting which pledged Mr. Nixon support and continued to-day.

Names heard in connection with the leadership yesterday were Arthur Slaght, Member of Parliament for Parry Sound, and Lt.-Col. Harry Hamilton of Sault Ste. Marie who yesterday relinquished the presidency of the Association. To-day a new name was in the gossip list—that of a St. Clair Gordon, former provincial treasurer and one-time chairman of the Provincial Liquor Board.

It appeared that Mr. Nixon is headed for the Senate.

Air Blows Fire Budapest Also Oil Plant In Poland

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR—Associated Press Correspondent

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 27—(AP).—Up to 500 American heavy bombers attacked Budapest and Yugoslav railroads at Brod today, and U.S. strategic air forces in Russia announced the bombardment of a synthetic oil plant Monday at Drohobycz in Poland.

From yet a third direction, R.A.F. Halifax bombers from England attacked a military installation in Northern France. Dense clouds and near gales over the Channel, however, limited air blows from Britain although R.A.F. Mosquitoes by night bombed Gottingen in northwest Germany and Nazi troop encampments south of Caen in Normandy.

Brod Bombed.

The American heavies from Italy fought through screens of Nazi fighters and destroyed an unspecified number in reaching the overcast Hungarian capital and Brod. Targets at Budapest were not named and the clouds obscured results. The Brod yards were well covered.

The planes flying from the Russian shuttle bases were convoyed by U.S. and Russian fighters. "Excellent weather prevailed and crews reported good bombing results on the target," approximately 75 miles west of the west-bound Russian front, U.S. strategic air force headquarters in Russia announced. The attack group apparently returned to Russian bases.

The R.A.F. daylight attack was without loss. The target was not specified but it possibly was one of the bases from which the Germans have been launching buzz-bombers against southern England.

The weather early today was unfavorable for air operations over the Normandy beachhead area, but it improved later, at least in the Caen-Tilly sector.

The only other activity reported overnight for Britain-based Allied air units was a foray by a half-dozen R.A.F. medium bombers which administered a heavy pounding to a formation of E-boats near the Hook of Holland without loss.

2,268 Canadians Killed In Italy

OTTAWA, June 27 (CP) — Defence Headquarters today announced Canadian Army casualties in Italy from Feb. 12 until the fall of Rome totalled 5,735—almost the same for the four-month period as for the five-month period from the start of the Italy invasion Sept. 3 to Feb. 12, when they totalled 5,605.

The total for the four-month phase ended June 4 was made up of 1,009 killed, 4,542 wounded and 184 missing and prisoner of war. The period covered included the action of the Canadian Corps in breaching the Gustav and Hitler lines after being transferred from the Adriatic coast where action had been largely patrol activity after the fall of Ortona at the year-end.

Americans Take Saipan Airdrome

PEARL HARBOR, June 27 —(AP) —American soldiers and marines, who already have captured Saipan's best airdrome, biggest harbor and highest mountain, fought to-day for its largest town— Garapan, peace-time capital of the Japanese Maritanas.

While artillery rocked Garapan for several hours with heaviest barrage yet laid down on Saipan, shore guns and American planes and bombs made life miserable for front-line Japanese troops all the way from the Kurile Islands in the North Pacific to New Guinea and the Solomons across the equator.

In Saipan's centre, East of Garapan, marines reached the top on 1554-foot Mount Tapotchau and routed the enemy from caves and cliffs. From the summit, observers were able to direct artillery fire and bombing at every point on the north end of the island, nine-mile sector to which an estimated 20,000 Japanese troops have retreated.

Meanwhile formation of an Allied Far Eastern Air Force, coupled with indications the main Japanese aerial strength has been withdrawn from the New Guinea-Solomons theatre, illuminated the northwestward surge of the sky war.

General MacArthur announced the new air organization will be headed by Lt.-Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of Allied Air Forces in this area since 1942. The Far Eastern Force combines the 5th Army Air Force, which has operated in Australia and New Guinea, and the 13th Army Air Force, main striking power in the Solomons, Rabaul and Kavieng campaigns.

Secrecy Shrouds Finnish Moves

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press staff Writer.

STOCKHOLM, June 27 —(AP) — Finland's cabinet apparently was deliberating early to-day whether to attempt to force through full co-operation with the Nazis despite strong opposition from peace advocates who are pressing for a Government which can bring a settlement with Russia.

Because of unprecedented censorship it was difficult to ascertain the true situation. The cabinet met last night and apparently still was in session after midnight.

Robert N. Sturdevant, Associated Press correspondent, telephoning Helsinki, was cut off by the censor after saying "the sands of time run quickly in Helsinki." The censor refused to allow him to continue although the dispatch previously had been censored.

Finns here said the flying trip of German Foreign Minister Ribbentrop, to Helsinki last week appeared to have stiffened the cabinet considerably.

Some Finnish informants said the cabinet might try to short circuit parliament because of mounting opposition to continuing the war, which could result on a vote of "no confidence" and force the cabinet out of office, or oblige it to resort to a coup d'etat.

Grants Increased

TORONTO, June 27. — (CP). — Ontario Health Minister Dr. R. P. Vivian announced yesterday the Ontario Government will increase the provincial grant for indigent patients in Ontario to bring the level up to $2.75 per day, including municipal grants. The grant per day in organized municipalities is increased from 60 to 75 cents providing the municipality has increased its grant from the present $1.75 to $2.

Lift Luxury Restrictions

Allows Canadians To Import Non-Essentials

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP).— Repeal of exchange restrictions on the import of non-essential goods from the United States was recommended by Finance Minister Ilsley in his budget speech last night but no flood of imported articles for the benefit of Canadian consumers was expected.

The repeal of section one of the War Exchange Conservation Act will end one of the regulations prohibiting the entry to Canada of a long list of non-essential articles, other than from the Sterling area and Newfoundland.

Officials said that United States prices are generally in advance of those in Canada, and subsidies still would be necessary to keep imported articles under the Canadian prices ceiling. The Prices Board already subsidizes the importation of foods and other supplies considered essential and is unlikely to assist the importation of luxury products of any kind.

Other restrictive factors will be the shortage of shipping space, both by ship and rail, and the limited supplies of most foods and materials in the United States.

The minister warned that relaxation of the Exchange Conservation Act provisions might make necessary the supplementing of other import controls.

Hun Defences Crumbling Near Vitebsk

Terrific Air Attacks Supplements 4 Russian Armies

LONDON — Red Army forces have captured the White Russian bastion of Orsha, Premier Stalin announced tonight in a special order of the day.

MOSCOW, June 27.—(AP).—Under one of the most terrific air assaults of the war Germany's White Russian forward wall formed by the Orsha, Bogiley and Bobruisk bulge appeared to be collapsing today, with the entire salient of more than 100 miles in immediate danger.

Red air fleets from four fronts were ceaselessly attacking enemy reserves, tank formations and forward positions and hitting at bridges and communications behind the enemy's tottering lines.

On the ground, our powerful Red armies advancing along a 250-mile front began converging on the Minsk gateway to Warsaw and Hitler's Reich.

The Germans were fighting savagely to hold the great bulge, but it appeared a hopeless task.

Despite this stubborn resistance, the Red Army was closing in rapidly on the three bulge cities. Units were already in the outskirts and outlying sectors of both Orsha and Mogilev, battering at a deep system of trenches and concrete fortifications.

Orsha Surrounded

(A CBS broadcast from Moscow said Orsha, next most important city south of fallen Vitebsk, was already surrounded with all means of escape cut off to the Germans.)

The great air role is being directed by Col.-Gen. Vershinin, whose planes figured prominently in the capture of Sevastopol; Col.-Gen. Timofey Kruikin, brilliant, 33-year-old commander; Col.-Gen. Sergei I. Rudenko, and Lt.-Gen. N. P. Papivin.

Stormovik planes were blasting the enemy's armored divisions incessantly, shooting up trenches and blockhouses in continuous sweeps over Orsha and Mogilev.

Constituting the northern arm of the great converging ground forces was Gen. Ivan Bagramian's 1st Baltic front, which with 36-year-old Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's 3rd White Russian front, after taking Vitebsk, pushed rapidly at the heels of the beaten Germans through the lakes, swamps and forests of sparsely populated northern White Russia. Gen. Cherniakhovsky was promoted from colonel general to general, becoming the youngest general in the Soviet Union.

The threat from the immediate east was Gen. G. F. Zakyarou's 2nd White Russian front, currently closing in on Mogilev, and Gen. Konstantin Kokossovosky's 1st front driving through the valley lands of the Drut and Berezina Rivers upon Bobruisk, one-third of the way between liberated Zhlobin and Minsk.

Red Star correspondent Pavel Pavelenko, the first newspaperman to enter liberated Vitebsk, reported the roads were thronged with returning residents. The correspondent said the Germans had evacuated the civilians southward, westward and northwestward, but the sudden blows of the Russians interrupted their plans and they abandoned thousands of women, children and old people.

The Soviet bulletin said the Finns

World Security Plank Keenly Debated

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 27 (CP) — The wording of the proposed Republican platform plank on enduring World Security emerged today as the most contentious development of the party's national convention following an attack on Wendell L. Willkie.

Willkie Republican national candidate in 1940 said in a statement in New York last night that the proposed use of "peace forces" by nations acting co-operatively to head off aggression carried no effective force "for the sujppression of aggression."

But Senators who helped to draft the plank called it fully adequate. In its present form it calls for American participation in some organization employing "peace forces" to guarantee future world security.

Willkie said that the platform's proposed opposition to formation of a world state might upset efforts to form a workable combination and demanded that "armed forces" be specified to keep the peace.

The statement underscored a big question about Willkie's own future. His political intentions have not been announced since he quit the race for a Republican renomination last April when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey began gathering strength.

There was no sign that the campaign to nominate Dewey was weakening. His running mate probably be Gov. Earl Warren of California, who last night gave the convention's keynote address.

70 Persons Hurt In Street Battle

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 27 — (AP) A traveller arriving here yesterday said 70 persons were injured Sunday night in a pitched battle in Guatemala City between armed civilians and police, and that tension was mounting throughout the country.

Travellers reaching here last Friday said a general student strike had broken out in the national university in Guatemala, possibly in reaction to presidential suspension of constitutional guarantees, or as the beginning of general passive resistence to force President Jorge Ubico to resign.

Allies Move Nearer Livorno, Pisa

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME, June 27—(AP)—British 8th Army troops have again driven the enemy from the bitterly-contested ruins of Chiusi, while the Allied 5th Army, advancing along Italy's west coast, has reached a point 10 miles beyond Piombino in a stab toward Livorno and Pisa, Allied headquarters announced today.

The 8th Army, after retaking Chiusi, nine miles southwest of Lake Trasimeno, the area where the Germans have been putting up their most vigorous delaying action, slugged on several miles to the northwest.

Chiusi, where a company of South Africans who entered it a number of days ago was later overrun by German tanks, was retaken and held despite an immediately enemy counter-attack. Fifteen South Africans hiding in the town were rescued.

Seven miles to the northeast the 8th Army drove into the outskirts of Castiglione de Lago, on the west shore of Lake Trasimeno, occupying the village of Vitellino, taking 2,000

Montgomery Strikes On 7-Mile Front

Canadian Artillery In Action; Cherbourg Taken

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 27—(AP)—British formations in a major attack have struck within three miles of Caen, German bastion in eastern Normandy, a field dispatch said today as American troops mopped up in conquered Cherbourg and Supreme Headquarters estimated Nazi casualties since D-Day at "not less than 70,000," including 32,000 prisoners.

Even as Allied experts were rushed in to make Cherbourg a huge invasion funnel of men and supplies, Gen. Montgomery struck powerfully on a front six to seven miles wide east and southeast of Tilly Sur Seulles, toppling three more villages, and front reports said advanced elements reached within three miles of Caen on the west.

"The beachhead has been expanded to a bridgehead with a port and airfields," the supreme commanded said.

Drive Salient

The British armored and infantry thrust east and southeast of Tilly Sur Seulles has punched a salient in the German positions and threatens to outflank the city of Caen from the west. Headquarters said first-class German troops were opposing the big attack but added that crack British divisions were engaged in the assault and that the attack was "progressing well."

Canadian artillery is providing part of the tremendous barrage laid down during the attack, field dispatch said.

Fighting through muddy, shell-torn poppy fields, British soldiers and armor drove toward Caen, and fought this afternoon near the road running from Caen southwest to Villers-Bocage and on across the base of the Normandy Peninsula. They were within two miles of the river Odon, which runs parallel to this highway.

Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, said in a field dispatch that a British thrust cut the railway north of the road during the night.

Additional villages taken in this region were La Gaulle, Cheux and St. Mauvieu, in a stretch running some five miles east of Tilly.

Shell-shocked prisoners were among the first captured as the British infantry went through battered enemy positions.

While not as many guns were used here as at El Alamein, Canadian gunnery officers estimated that twice the number of rounds were fired in the two-hour-and-forty minute shoot.

Eastern Canadian machine-gunners under Maj. John Carson of Toronto and Ottawa shared in the task of supporting the British attack with Vickers guns, and heavy mortars under Maj. R. M. Ross of Ottawa also supported the British infantry.

Canadian artillerymen were complimented by a British headquarters officer for their support.

Allied Airmen Set New Mark

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 27 (AP) — In the three weeks of the western front assault Allied air power has far exceeded the expectations of even its most enthusiastic exponents and sober appraisal indicates there are still brighter prospects ahead—with certain important qualifications.

Air power had scored its first big point long before the first bomb was dropped on D-Day through the preparatory campaign against the German air force—an aerial offensive that proved so effective the Nazis didn't have the force to put up the opposition that was so desperately called for.

But the Luftwaffe is not dead. It is only decimated and still is strong enough to inflict considerable blows. At the start of the invasion it had about 2,000 bombers and fighters against the Allied estimated 11,000.

Many of them are being cagily husbanded on the home grounds in Germany. The Luftwaffe can make a comeback if the German airplane factories are not beaten down again and again.

Month Too Soon

GREENWICH, Conn., June 27—(CP).—Greenwich hospital authorities said last night that the condition of a 16-ounce baby boy was "good." Dr. Julian Hawthorne, attending physician, said the infant was being kept alive in an oxygen incubator and was being fed a special formula every two hours. The child was born Friday night, a month prematurely, Dr. Hawthorne said.

Salvage Corps To Clear Cherbourg Port

By ALEX SINGLETON
Associated Press War Correspondent

ABOARD VAN LST IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, June 24 (Delayed)—(AP),—Demolition and salvage experts are poised in the Channel with a convoy of dynamite ready to tackle the dangerous initial phase of turning Cherbourg into a sheltered supply base for Allied forces.

Hundreds upon hundreds of high explosives—mines, booby-traps and under water explosives—undoubtedly have been sown in Cherbourg's harbor and secreted in watefront facilities by the Germans in an effort to delay the harbor's use as long as possible.

The importance of swift acquisition of these facilities is obvious. Once the harbor is clear the port can be used to pour in supplies and troops aboard deep-water vessels without danger from wind and tide —the twin factors which have been impeding beachhead delivery.

The Allies long have been preparing for that moment. Aboard this LST are men trained especially for the job—both Britons and Americans. They are men who risked their lives in similar tasks at Naples, salvage experts who worked miracles or restoration at Pearl Harbor, demolition experts who learned the hard way in dealing with time bombs dropped on England.

Rocket Bombs Injure Many

LONDON, June 27—(CP)—Breaking through a cloud cover, German rocket bombs subjected Southern England during the night to one of the heaviest attacks it has suffered since the Nazis launched their robot assaults.

The robots seemed to include some of a different type. One crossed the sky at a slightly slower speed than the others and its engine cut out and then re-started. Some apparently carried heavier loads of explosives.

In the face of continuing attacks by these blind raiders, two London newspapers—the Daily Express and the Daily Mail—are campaigning for a relamation of the strict blackout.

"If pilotless planes are to replace bombers the sole original reason for the blackout will have gone," said the Daily Mail.

Dates Effective

June 26.—Imported agricultural implements and machinery exempted from 10 per cent. war exchange tax.

July 1.—Suspension of compulsory savings.

Aug. 1. — Import prohibitions for conservation of foreign exchange to be removed.

Nazis Stream Into Prison At Cherbourg

9,000 Prisoners Surrender; Hospital Taken

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press War Correspondent

CHERBOURG, June 27 (AP) — Thousands of German prisoners are streaming into prison cages today and a huge amount of enemy equipment has falllen into American hands—with no one yet having time to assess the great stores of ammunition and supplies captured in Cherbourg.

American forces went in today to clear out the last stubborn defence in the Arsenal area on the western side of the city, and to mop up isolated resistance around Hardinvast, four miles south of the city.

One of the most stubborn knots of resistance finally broke this morning when a German Colonel radioed that he wished to surrender. He was taken prisoner along with 300 others.

Underground

About 9,000 prisoners surrendered yesterday, among them Lt.-Gen. Carl Wilhelm Von Schlienben, German commander of Cherbourg, and Rear Admiral Walter Hennecke. These two came out of an underground fortress and gave themselves and 800 of their men up to the American Major-General who directed the drive seizing the port.

The 9,000 new prisoners bring to about 30,000 the total of prisoners taken by the Allies in Normandy since D-Day.

Still other Germans were surrendering today in the final, confused collapse of resistance.

The last diehard defenders—except for groups in the Arsenal area—gave up after Von Schlieben and Hennecke put up the white flag. Von Schleiben had refused a demand on June 21 to surrender, and even after the defences were broken up into isolated groups declined to ask his men to yield.

The Nazi commanders surrendered after American guns had pounded the fortress in which they were directing the defence of the city.

First a lieutenant emerged from a tunnel 30 feet underground, carrying a white flag. He carried a message that his commanding officer wished to give himself up.

A few minutes later Von Schlieben and Hennecke came out of the tunnel, with some 800 men and officers following them.

Roy Thomson Co. Buys 4 Papers

SARNIA June 27—(CP).—Change in ownership of four Ontario evening papers was announced today by H. M. Hueston, speaking on behalf of himself, A. D. McKenzie of Sarnia and Allan Holmes of Galt, joint owners.

The papers are the Sarnia Canadian Observer, the Galt Reporter, the Woodstock Sentinel-Review and the Welland-Port Colborne Tribune.

Mr. Hueston said announcement is being made today in each of the four cities that ownership of the paper concerned is transferred to a company headed by Roy H. Thomson, publisher of the Timmins Daily Press.

The individual announcements quote Mr. Thomson as saying there will be no change in the personnel of the staffs and that the papers' policies will continue unaltered.

New Zealand Recalls Men

Soldiers Must Return To Industries

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, June 27 — (AP). — New Zealand, two years ago one of the most highly war-mobilized nations in the world, is tapering off ½s armed forces and attempting thereby to boost its production of food and other war supplies.

Already a good many thousand troops of the 3rd New Zealand Division—veterans of the Vella Lavella, Treasuries, and Green Island campaigns in the Northern Solomons—have been or are being released for essential industry.

With manpower admittedly over-committed to the military, butter and cheese production have declined 10 per cent and a desired increase in military export of meat and wool has not been achieved.

Because New Zealand, like Australia, is close to battle zones, United Nations leaders in this part of the world acquiesced to conversion of New Zealand from a source of fighting men to a source of supplies.

At the peak, New Zealand, with a population of only 1,600,000, had 150,000 men under arms, with more than 100,000 of them overseas. Even after she winnows essential workers from her army she will maintain—for her size—one of the largest fighting forces on earth.

Cash Needed Increased 200 Millions

First War Budget To Be Free Of Tax Increases

By JACK WILLIAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 27 (CP)—Elimination of compulsory savings on personal incomes, revision of excess profit taxation to encourage post-war development, and removal of all duties on farm machinery are before parliament as highlights of the 1944-45 budget.

Finance Minister Ilsley in his budget address last night outlined a policy which he said was intended to speed Canada's war effort and at the same time pave the way for favorable post-war economic conditions.

Giving the country its first war budget that has been free of tax increases, the tall, fair-haired finance minister, speaking before a crowded Commons chamber, estimated cash requirements for the present fiscal year would reach a record high of $6,000,000,0000 — an increase of $300,000,000 from the previous year.

Lose 70 Millions

Added to this increase was the loss of some $70,000,000 from compulsory savings; but he expressed confidence that voluntary savings through the purchase of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates would make up the difference.

He placed borrowing requirements for the year at $3,300,000,000—an increase of $320,000,000 from 1943-44—while total estimated revenues were down $84,000,000, not including refundable taxes.

In his 99-minute address he placed the budgetary deficit at $2,635,000,000 — about $100,000,000 less than last year—but he warned that the speeded activity of the war would bring with it large unanticipated expenses and this estimate would be outdated.

Effective Now.

Customs tariff changes and removal of the 10-per-cent war exchange tax from farm implements are effective immediately. The suspension of compulsory savings becomes effective July 1 and the removal of import prohibitions under the War Exchange Conservation Act becomes effective August 1.

Main point of the income tax changes was the removal of the compulsory savings provision which has yielded the Government the use of about $110,000,000 a year since it was introduced in 1942.

"I must repeat and emphasize that this proposal does not imply that the need for saving is less," he said. "On the other hand the need is greater than ever before."

He outlined other changes intended to remove cases of special hardship.

G.O.P. Favors Deep Waterway

CHICAGO, June 27 —(A P) — Pressure for inclusion of a plan favoring the St. Lawrence Seaway increased yesterday as Republican platform makers strove to write a brief document for presentation to the party's national convention.

With nomination of New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey for president considered certain, there was mounting interest in the platform. Dewey recently let it be known that he was standing on past statements favoring both the seaway and power development phases of the St. Lawrence project.

The resolutions committee received a telegram signed by eight governors which urged a platform declaration in favor of the seaway. Albert Goss master of the Grange, and Representative William A. Pittinger of Minnesota, discussed the seaway in brief appearances before the committee.

Goss termed the project a "great necessity," said the Grange has favored it 20 years and declared it "cannot be developed without government aid." Pittinger said the House of Representatives Rivers and Harbors committee "has endorsed the seaway as one of the best of post-war projects."

Income Taxes Cut In Two

Effective July 1, 1944, compulsory savings are eliminated from the wartime tax program, which means that figures shown under the heading Savings Tax in the following chart will return to the pay envelopes of workers across Canada. Actually the compulsory savings is equal to the fixed tax, so it will mean in dollars and cents that income taxes of the individual are cut in two:

Provincial Election Expected In Alberta

CALGARY, June 27.—(CP).—Reports of a general election in Alberta in the near future have resulted in gradual speeding up of activities of political parties in the province, but party leaders said yesterday much organization work remains to be completed.

"We are taking steps to meet possibility of an early election," James H. Walker, Independent party leader, said in an interview. The Independents have already nominated four candidates, he said.

The C.C.F. and Independent-Social Credit parties each have between 25 and 30 men in the field, party leaders said.

At Winnipeg Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta last night declined comment on reports.

Cherbourg Port Captured Allies Start Inland Push

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 27—(CP).—The strategic port of Cherbourg now is in Allied hands after "a final day of fierce fighting" by American infantry units, while to the east British armor and infantry have driven ahead several miles towards the Villers Bocage-Caen road, today's communique No. 43 disclosed.

Lt.-Gen Carl Wilhelm von Schlieben, Cherbourg garrison commander, and Konter (Rear) Admiral Walter Henecke, Normandy sea defence commander, have been taken prisoner, the bulletin said, adding that in the battle for Cherbourg the enemy has lost "the greater part of four infantry divisions, numerous naval and marine units, and a line of communication troops."

Gen. Schlieben commanded a field division at Orel on the eastern front last year.

Ends 2nd Phase.

The announcement said the fall of France's third largest port completed the second phase of the second-front campaign—a phase which included securing the bridgehead, defeating the German tactical reserves and obtaining a suitable harbor to supply a large-scale operation.

There was indication that General Montgomery may have already begun the third phase of the campaign—that of engaging and defeating full-strength Nazi strategic reserves.

British columns, lashing out southeast of Tilly Sur Seulles after a path had been carved for them by a tremendous artillery barrage in the El Alamein tradition, drove towards the main Villers Bocage-Caen Road, reaching within a mile of the artery at one point.

Take 4 Villages

The drive engulfed four villages—Cheux, Fontenay, La Gaulle and Mauvieu—from two to four miles south and southeast of Tilly, and threatened the main German fortress of Caen.

British infantry and armor fanned out in an attack on a front several miles wide, and drove to within six miles of Caen.

The attack came in the wake of a carpet barrage laid down by British and Canadian guns, massed along the front, only eight yards apart. Ross Munro, chief Canadian Press War Correspondent in the field—who has witnessed heavy fighting in North Africa, Sicily and Italy—said in a front dispatch last night: "I have never seen or heard such a barrage."

In a later dispatch Munro said

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP)—For the full fiscal year of war Finance Minister Ilsley last night reported an over-all budgetary deficit fo $2,650,000,000.

In his budget-speech reporting on the year 1943-4 which ended March 31 last, Mr. Ilsley disclosed Canadian governmental paying and receiving had touched another new high in dollar figures, continuing the climb begun with the outbreak of war.

Total revenues were $2,855,701,000 against $2,319,496,000 the previous year and the total expenditures $5,360,122,000 against $4,387,124,000.

The figures are not final as books have not been closed, but they represent a close estimate of the actual year's financing. The results disclose Mr. Ilsley was fairly close to the mark in his forecast for the year in his budget speech of March, 1943. Actually things turned out a little better than he predicted for slightly more than half the total expenditure was met from current revenue and he did not expect as much.

The Dominion's total cash requirements for the year amounted to $5,841,000,000, greater than the total expenditures, because of advances on war purchases, payment of indebtedness abroad, purchase of securities, foreign exchange and other assets.

Refundable Income

Mr. Ilsley said the total revenues include $155,000,000 in the refundable portions of the income and excess profits taxes which go to add to the debt. After taking account of these he arrives at the year's cash deficiency of $2,935,000,000.

"It is this cash deficiency, not the budgetary deficit, which measures the amount of our borrowing requirements and it is often much the larger amount," said Mr. Ilsley.

"In the past year the cash deficiency was only 10 per cent higher than the budgetary deficit, but in three of five of the war years when we were greatly extending our war program, repatriating securities and accumulating sterling it was more than double the budgetary deficit."

Borrow Most

The cash deficiency was met by reducing cash balances to the extent of $42,000,000 and by borrowing $2,962,000,000. The borrowing proceeds also provided $60,000,000 to meet maturities in cash and $9,000,000 to reduce the floating debt.

The minister commented with satisfaction on the way the public responded to appeals to buy bonds and war savings certificates. But he warned against a tendency to sell bonds and cash in certificates before they came due. He said this meant withdrawing money from the service of the nation and advised that

British Casualties 73,122 In Italy

LONDON, June 27 — (CP). — Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons to-day that the total British casualties from the time of the landings in Italy until the fall of Rome amounted to 73,122 killed, wounded and missing.

The period covered represents a total of about 10 months of fighting ended June 4, during which time British units participated in many major engagements, including the Battles of Cassino and the Anzio Beachhead.

Mr Churchill said his figures included 14,331 killed, 47,966 wounded and 10,825 missing.

Figures on Air Force and naval casualties for this period were not available.

Mr. Churchill said it was found "impossible to give the figures for the other two services exclusively relating to operations in Italy as distinct from other operations of the navy in the Mediterranean and the air force over the Mediterranean, Germany, Eastern Europe and the Balkans."

He recalled that on Feb. 16 last he gave the House a statement on casualties in Italy up to Feb. 12. At that time the Prime Minister said British, Dominion and Indian forces had suffered a total of 36,626 casualties, made up of 7,635 killed, 23,283 wounded and 5,708 missing.

Heavy Fighting

He added that casualties between Feb. 12 and the entry into Rome totalled 36,496, including 6,696 killed, 24,683 wounded and 5,117 missing.

Last April Mr. Churchill informed the House of Commons that over-all casualties for British Empire forces for the first four years of the war totalled 667,159—with 158,741 killed, 78,204 missing, 159,219 wounded and 270,995 prisoners.

Civilian casualties for the same period were 109,101 and merchant marine casualties 30,314.

Defence headquarters in Ottawa announced last April that casualties suffered by the three Canadian armed services from the outbreak of war until Feb. 29, 1944, totalled 30,518.

These casualties included 16,768 suffered by the Canadian Army, made up of 5,742 killed or died, 538 missing, 3,539 prisoners and 6,846 wounded or injured. R.C.A.F. casualties totalled 12,457, including 8,137 killed or died, 2,309 missing, 1,255 prisoners and 756 wounded or injured. Royal Canadian Navy casualties totalled 1,313, including 1,120 killed or died, nine prisoners and 184 wounded or injured. No naval personnel were listed as missing.

Latest reports on United States casualties on all fronts were 178,677 for the Army through June 16, and 46,705 for the Navy up to June 22.

Mogaung Captured By Allied Forces

KANDY, Ceylon, June 27 (CP)—British and Chinese troops have occupied the Japanese stronghold of Mogaung in northern Burma after a bitter three-day battle, an Allied communique announced today.

The final assault, in which the Allied forces drove into the town from three sides yesterday, was preceded by a deadly aerial bombardment, the bulletin said.

The fall of Mogaung promised to intensify pressure on Japanese forces battling to retain Myitkyina, 40 miles to the east and last important base in northern Burma remaining in enemy hands. Myitkyina already has been partly invested by Allied troops.

Import Duty Changes Aid Farmers

Farm Machinery, Separators Freed Of Taxes

OTTAWA, June 27 — (CP). — Removal of all customs duties and the 10 per cent war exchange tax on agricultural implements and cream separators was announced by Finance Minister Ilsley in his budget address last night.

Steps also are being taken, Mr. Ilsley said, to remove duties on materials used in the manufacture of agricultural implements.

Other tariff changes include three new items providing for the duty-free entrance of pure-bred rabbits of all kinds, equipment for storing and transporting blood plasma and certain chemical preparations.

Provision is made for duty-free entrance of nno-metallic heating elements used in high temperature furnaces and the items covering machinists', engineers', surveyors', and draftsmen's precision instruments are widened to include parts.

The nickel chromium content requirement for duty-free entry of bars and rods for the manufacture of electric resistance wire is reduced from 60 to 50 per cent.

Comes from States.

Practically the only country from which agricultural implements are imported into Canada is the United States. The tariff reductions affect some 70 types of implements and equipment and spare parts on which present duties range from 5 to 25 per cent.

A duty of 5 per cent on imports from the United States, or any other most-favored-nation country, on articles which enter into the cost of manufacture of almost all agricultural implements and machinery in the list affected has been eliminated when imports are for manufacture of articles of that type.

A duty of $1 a ton on pig-iron and $2.75 a ton on iron or steel rods or bars used in the manufacture of agricultural implements also has been eliminated.

For a number of years the tariff

Emily Pioneer Dies Suddenly

OMEMEE, Jene 27— (ENS). — Hiram Cornell, a pioneer resident of Emily Township, who until one month ago enjoyed good health, and who was active right up to the last, passed away at his home in Emily Tonship on Monday, in his 84th year. One of a family of 1[illegible] he was the youngest son of the late David Cornell, who was born in Ireland and came to Canada to homestead on the farm two miles west of the village of Omemee, where Mr. Cornell was born May 6, 1861, and resided for his entire life. His mother as the late Jane Cunningham of Ops Township, whose parents were the first white settlers in Victoria County.

Mr. Cornell was a member of Trinity United Church, Omemee, and until recent years was quite active in church work. A staunch Orangeman, he always considered the Twelfth of July his day for a holiday and for meeting many of his friends. Until last year he never missed a July 12 celebration. During his lifetime Mr. Cornell earned the friendship and respect of many, especially in his home community.

On July 5, 1891, in Courtright, Ontario, he married Margaret Evans, who survives him. Also surviving are six children, Fred of Montreal, Ernest of Niagara Falls, New York, Joy, wife of Lt.-Col. Wansborough of Pembroke, Evie, on the homestead two miles west of Omemee, Ruth, Mrs. Dr. E A. Anderson of Kirkfield, and Robert of Toronto. There are 18 grandchildren: Margaret, David, and Rosemary Cornell, Ray, Carmen, and Beverley Cornell, Jean, Ruth, and Alexander Wansborough, Mary Evelyn, Glen, and Barry Cornell, Robert, William, John, and James Anderson, and Robert and Bruce Cornell. One sister, Mrs. J. Adams of Winnipeg, Man., and one brother, Robert of San Diego, Calif., also survive him.

The funeral will be on Wednesday, June 28, with a private service at his late residence at 1:45 p.m., and a service in Trinity United Church at 2:30 p.m. Rev. R. M. Patterson will officiate and interment will be made in Emily Cemetery.

Sincerity Main Sesame To Cooperation

Sincerity is the essential factor in any attempt to solve the problems of management and labor as long as it exists any difficulties can eventually be ironed out, without it nothing can be done, it was stated by R. W. Crumb, senior field representative of the Industrial Production Co-operation Board in Toronto, who addressed the meeting of the Rotary Club Monday.

"Never was there a greater need for co-operation than there is to-day," Mr. Crumb said, outlining the aims of labor-management production committees and the history of their work during wartime.

Without the measure of co-operation that there has been, we could never have reached the levels of production we have achieved, but," the speaker said, "there is still room for plenty more."

Slow in Starting.

As indicated by the title, the function of the committees, of which 225 were now operating in this country, was to discuss ways and means of making better products at lower costs and in less time; and to do this through having representatives of both sides sit down together and talk things over. "Here in this country we have gotten a late start in this kind of work," Mr. Crumb declared, adding that the 225 Canadian committees would not bear comparison even in per capita ratio, with the number of committees operating in either the United States or Great Britain.

Practically every field of better plan relations came within the scope of the labor-management committees, Mr. Crumb made it clear. They were active in the formulation of suggestion plans, in the conservation of tool steel, in extending salvage drives and in helping in the manpower situation. Problems of proper recreation came within their field too, and their chief aim in all their work was the building up of always better and smoother relations and improve morals.

Time to Act.

"To-day, with both parties in the frame of mind to talk to each other and while the tide is setting that way, we are trying to put the idea of co-operation over. We have one of the finest opportunities for bringing about better relations that has ever existed," Mr. Crumb believed.

The manpower situation was the most important task faced at the moment by the labor-management committee, the speaker said, revealing that in spite of Selective Service there was still a large turnover of workers. Absenteeism was very much a part of the problem of turnover, the speaker said, because the causes of the one were essentially the causes of the other. The committee helped in dealing with this situation, making surveys of workers who were inclined to take time off, finding what reasons were back of their action and attempting to remedy the different situations that were generally responsible.

Mr. Crumb mentioned in the course of his speech that military requirements this year would absorb 75,000 of the very best men now in industry.

Post-War Endeavors Of Church Outlined

CAMPBELLFORD, June 27 — (ENS).—The Church in the post-war world formed the basis for an interesting address by Rev. Dr. Semple of Tabernacle Church, Belleville, at the Campbellford Rotary Club dinner Monday.

The speaker stated that the Church must give a new place to worship. It has its gymnasium, its kitchen, its organ and its pulpit, yet is lacking in worship itself. The Church must be a teaching one and must have a teaching minister. It is the duty of the church to teach the people and to give them a reason for the faith that is in them and its growth and development must be represented in the church of tomorrow.

A vote of thanks was moved by Rotarian Arthur Loucks and conveyed to the speaker by Rotarian Bert Taylor, who presided in the absence of President Stuart.

Fred O'Leary Crushed By Door

COBOURG, June 27—(ENS)—Frederick O'Leary of Harwood was injured in a painful accident which occurred there recently when his car started down an incline and pinned him between the open door and the frame of the car, after its progress had been halted by a tree. The accident happened early in the afternoon and at 10 p.m. when he felt ill he summoned Dr. Edgar Hayden who had him transferred to Cobourg General Hospital. Dr. F. W. Blackwell was also called in on the case.

Enquiry at the hospital revealed that he had received chest injuries and an injury to the left arm. Whether the arm was broken or not had not been determined on Monday. Mr. O'Leary drove into his yard on Saturday and as he got out of the car it started down the grade. Not noticing its direction, he stepped partly in to pull on the emergency when it grazed against a tree, the open door jamming him and pinning him against the door frame. However it was not until later that he realized that he was badly hurt.

He is 64 years of age and has a brother, Rev. Arthur O'Leary, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church at Dixie, near Toronto and a son, Rev. Arthur O'Leary on the staff of St. Thomas Aquinas High School, Rochester, N.Y.

Blame Juveniles For Bad Fire

MONTREAL, June 27 (CP)—Four juveniles, whose ages range from 10 to 14 years, testified in fire commissioner's court yesterday that they had been smoking in the stables of the Eastern Public Cattle Market on the night of June 14 shortly before the buildings were razed in a two-alarm fire. The building was owned by Canadian Pacific Railway Company and leased to I. Bodnoff.

The youngsters said they had entered the building to "ride the horses" and later had been smoking. "When they had finished the cigarets, they tossed the butts over their shoulders, one of the boys said.

They denied that they had entered the building to set a fire but each was "pretty sure" that the cigaret butts had started the fire.

Campbellford Flier Still On Missing List

CAMPBELLFORD, June 27. — (ENS). — Flying Officer Douglas McMullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas McMullen, was reported missing some time ago. He received his education at Campbellford Public and High Schools, having graduated in June, 1941.

He was employed with the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Trenton for a time, and left the bank and was with the Hydro-Electric Commission as operator at No. 10 Power House when he enlisted.

Following his initial training he attended the Wireless School at Guelph for six months, where he won an award for proficiency. He was transferred to the Bombing and Gunnery School, Mossbank, Sask., and graduated from there on September 30, 1943, with rank of Pilot Officer. After he went overseas he was given further promotion in March. Flying Officer since then he has been on operational flights over Europe.

Flying Officer McMullen has one brother Ken of Seymour Township, and to sisters, Mrs. Fred Hooper of Peterborough and June of the Trent Valley Creameries staff.

Teacher Given Clock

CAMPBELLFORD, June 27. — (ENS). — Miss Aileen Parker, the teacher of household economics on School, has tendered her resignation to the Board of Education. The Badminton Club, of which she is a past president, presented her with a boudoir clock at a dinner held at which 30 members were present on Monday night.

Miss Parker, who has been on the staff for four years, has accepted a position with the Port Perry High School Board.

Cheesemakers Show Increase

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7. — (ENS).—There were 26 lots with a total of 2,337 boxes of cheese graded at the local station last week compared with one year ago, where 22 lots with a total of 1,991 boxes were graded.

A. L. Gibson, superintendent of Kempville dairy school, was a visitor at the grading station and was an interested spectator while cheese made by ex-students of the Kempville school were examined.

Production of milk in this section appears to have reached the peak and the leader on this score is a Rawdon township farmer who one morning last week reached the 1,780 lb. mark.

A cheesemaker of this district, who for years has had an enviable record for flavor, this year is having trouble with flavor defects. He believes this is due to the agitation that has driven the patrons back to the use of cloth strainers. These have been the source of a great deal of flavor trouble, and are not necessary with or without the filter in the urge for cleaner milk.

Council Holds Annual Meeting

CAMPBELLFORD, June 27 — (ENS)—The annual convention of the Ontario Religious Education Council was held in Tabernacle United Church of which, Rev. J. R. Bick is minister and Mr. H. Tinney, superintendent of the Sunday school.

An address was given by the Rev. Mr. Holden of Springbrook, his topic being "The Home, the Church and the Sunday School". He stressed the importance of the Sunday School and advocated a well planned program on how to keep children interested in Sunday School work.

There followed a questionnaire in charge of Rev. J. A. Dilts of Belleville which brought out an interesting exchange of ideas.

After luncheon Rev. J. W. Wilkinson of Havelock conducted a song service. Mrs. R. Williams and Mrs. F. Potts sang "Pray On" and Mrs. Wilkinson and Miss Puffer of Havelock also sang. Rev. Dilts spoke on "Helps Available for Teachers and Pupils" and Mr. Frank Heagle of Stephen's United Church had charge of the service of worship.

The following officers were installed: Past President, E. J. Pollock; president, J. A. Ruttan, 1st vice president, Thos. Fry; 2nd vice president, Mr. Smith; secretary treasurer, Miss Elsie Rennie; superintendents—children's dept., Mrs. A. D. Bennett; boys, Mr. E. J. Pollock; young people, John Coggins; adults, Rev. J. W. Wilkinson; temperance, Mrs. Howard Clark; teacher training, Rev. J. R. Bick; missionary, Mrs. J. O. Ralston; girls' dept., Mrs. Alex Stephens.

Mrs. Howard Clark, reporting for the resolutions committee, urged a definite and regular teaching of temperance.

SABOTEURS ISOLATING VITAL LYON—French saboteurs, after many long months of waiting, are striking in organized force at their Nazi overlords. According to reliable reports, they have succeeded in virtually isolating the city of Lyon, German military strongpoint commanding both the supply lines to the Mediterranean defence areas and all movement from southeast France to the fighting front at the Channel. Members of the underground have wrecked bridges, tracks, tunnels and locomotives north, east and south of the city, cutting communications with the Italian and Swiss frontiers and the Riviera coast. Traffic between Lyon and the northwest has been heavily disrupted by road blocking.

Magistrate Fed Up With Trouble Aboard Ontario No. 1 Car Ferry

COBOURG, June 27.—(ENS). — More labor troubles on car ferry Ontario No. 1 were aired in court Monday when five firemen appeared on charges of being absent without leave and desertion, laid by Captain W. Bryson. One of the accused was allowed to go when it was revealed that he had been under the doctor's care for an injured back. However, all five had been in jail since their arrest on Saturday. Captain Bryson turned down the advice of the car ferry company's solicitor when the latter suggested that the boys be taken back to work, the captain saying that he wanted them under lock and key, the evidence revealed.

The accused were Patrick McAleese, of Montreal, charged with being absent without leave, who was found guilty and fined one dollar and costs; James Dance, Montreal, pleaded not guilty to deserting his ship and the charge was dismissed; Phillip Saxe pleaded guilty to desertion and was fined two days' pay; Emile Hrekowk pleaded guilty to being absent without leave and was also fined two days' pay. James Frew pleaded not guilty to being absent without leave and was remanded until Thursday.

"I am not going to remand Frew to jail. I am fed up with this procedure entirely," commented Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

McAleese was first charged with desertion under section 246 of the Canada Shipping Act, but T. F. Hall, counsel for the Car Ferry Company, informed the court that he was going to amend it. Defence Counsel Fred C. Richardson asked the reason why.

"I don't have to furnish any reasons," replied Mr. Hall.

Wrong Section

"This man has been in custody since Saturday, and I was prepared to meet the original charge, and I want to know the reason for the change," replied Mr. Richardson. Magistrate R. B. Baxter pointed out that if it were established that the charge had not been laid on adequate grounds, the informant could be penalized by a fine. Captain Bryson then explained that the charge was altered when it was learned that it had been laid under the wrong section. Accordingly instead of being charged with absence and with desertion, the charge was amended to neglecting and refusing to join his ship.

Captain Bryson testified that McAleese walked off his ship and didn't appear back to go on duty. The captain said that he had not given the accused leave to go ashore, but that any other of the officers could give him permission.

Questioned by Mr. Richardson, the witness said that the boat docked around 7.30 on Saturday morning. It was uncertain as to when the ship would be leaving for Rochester, but the 20-minute whistle was later sounded that morning.

"Isn't it a fact that you were four firemen short and couldn't pull out?" asked Mr. Richardson. Witness replied that he was prepared to pull out.

"You knew you had four firemen short?" repeated defence counsel, and Captain Brysen replied that he was not sure as to how many were short. Mr. Richardson next asked him what McAleese's hours were and Captain Bryson answered that he didn't know.

"He is on the schedule of three hours on and six off and his watch would not start until 3.30 in the afternoon, and yet he was arrested at 2.30 p.m. Is that not right?" asked defence counsel.

"I can't say as to that," replied Captain Bryson.

Wanted Men Jailed

"Is it not a fact that when you were informed the men were ready to go back to work you said that you didn't want them—that you wanted them locked up. You told the company's solicitor that when he suggested they go back to work. Is that right?" asked Mr. Richardson. Witness acknowledged that such was correct.

"Captain Bryson, what is the trouble on your boat? They are not having this trouble on car ferry Ontario No. 2," querried defence counsel. Witness replied that there was no trouble on No. 2.

"Is it possible your management is responsible for this trouble. Is it because of the way you handle your men?" asked Mr. Richardson.

"I wouldn't say that. When I give an order, is it not to be obeyed?" answered Captain Bryson.

Chief Engineer W. Crate testified that McAleese finished at 9.30 in the morning on Saturday and didn't consult him as to when he would be back. Regardless of when his watch started, he was due back on the ship when the 20-minute whistle blew. The ship had not been able to sail since, witness said.

Double Duty

Defence counsel asked Mr. Crate if the ship could have sailed had the captain taken the men back when they said they would come, and the witness replied in the affirmative.

"They stayed in jail because Captain Bryson wouldn't take them back, and said that he wanted them locked up in jail. Is that not right?" was the next question.

"I can't say as to that," answered Mr. Crate.

"The accused has been on double duty. Did you know that?" asked defence counsel. Witness answered that he knew that McAleese had been helping out as some of the firemen were pretty young.

"Even after you told the captain that the ship would not be able to sail he went ahead and blew the whistle. That is a fact, isn't it?" Mr. Richardson asked. Witness said that it was apparently correct.

Murray Maxwell, purser, was called to produce the ship's articles.

Didn't Hear Whistle

The accused testified that he came off his watch at 9.30 and went ashore around ten a.m., but heard no whistle. He understood that the ship might not go out as they were short of men. On his way back to the ship in the early afternoon he met the second mate, who told him that the whistle had gone and that he was going to be arrested. He was arrested after he had gone back to the ship and returned uptown.

"The company's solicitor said to Captain Bryson that he had better take the men back on board, but the captain said he wanted them under lock and key. As far as I knew the ship wouldn't sail because they were short of men. The trouble is that nobody wants the three hours on and six off shift. It doesn't work in with your meals as you have to get up and have your dinner and go back to bed again when you are on a shift that starts at 3.30 in the afternoon," testified McAleese.

"Captain Bryson, who is so anxious to sail the seas, the war effort and all that—even when the company's solicitor suggests that the men go back, Captain Bryson says 'No, I want them locked up'—that is what the situation is," observed Mr. Richardson. Mr. Hall denied that he had suggested the men go back and asserted that the correct facts were that he had put the suggestion in the form of a query to the captain.

McAleese added that there was no way of finding out when the ship was going to leave. The only one who knew that was the captain and sometimes he didn't know himself until the last moment. The lower deck crew had nothing to do with the upper deck, and consequently there was no way of contact.

You can't go "ALL-OUT" If you feel "ALL-IN"

These days most people are working harder, worrying more, sleeping less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living lowers resistance—increases body and mental fatigue. Overwork; hasty meals; irregular hours; worry—any of these may upset proper kidney action.

When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and poisons remain in the system. Then backache, headache, rheumatic pain, disturbed rest or that "tired-all-the-time" feeling may soon follow. To help keep your kidneys in good order—to help guard against physical let-down—use Dodd's Kidney Pills, for over half a century a favourite remedy for faulty kidneys. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. Look for the blue box with the red band. 126

Peterborough Boys Are There

Peterborough in this war has not had the honor of having a battalion carry the name of a local militia unit into battle, although the 4th Anti-Tank Battery was mobilized from the 4th Battery, but our infantry units have been supplying officers and men to those from M.D. No. 3 carrying the names of others in the district.

However, when this war has been written into history the Prince of Wales Rangers should have an honored place. Wherever the Allied armies have moved men from Peterborough and district have been there in force.

First came Hong Kong, when almost 100 men from this district were drafted to bring the Quebec Rifles up to strength before setting out across the Pacific. Many of these boys are now prisoners of war in the hands of the Japs, while others gave their lives.

In Sicily it was the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment the infantry unit from M.D. 3 in the First Canadian Division. Hundreds of Peterborough boys enlisted in this unit, while others have gone on drafts from the Prince of Wales Rangers. Many of these boys are now returning wrecked by war. They fought with all the tenacity and courage that enemies of freedom have come to expect from Canadians. They stood their ground at Ortona and on the Moro River in Italy and they have done their part in establishing the record of the Hasty-Petes.

With D-Day and the Invasion another unit manned by many Peterborough and district men and at mobilization four years ago officered by men of the Prince of Wales Rangers went into action on the beaches of France. This was the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders. There second in command is now Major Archie Hamilton, a Peterborough boy; two of their company commanders are Major Neil Gemmell and Captain Harry Willis, both from the Rangers, and two of the men who are second-in-command of companies are Captain Jack Peterson from the Rangers and Captain Athole Stewart from the Irish Regiment. Other Peterborough boys are officers in the unit, but as yet their names have not been announced. Captain R. T. F. Brain, former curate of St. John's Church, is the padre. Along with these officers Peterborough sent the Headquarters Company of the unit, while the four other companies came from Cornwall, Brockville and Kingston, truly a representative unit from eastern Ontario.

While these units are not named for Peterborough, this city, however, is proud of them. We are glad to share in the glory that they are bringing to the units for which they are named and to eastern Ontario.

In another column today appears a resume of the history of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders as it appeared in the Kingston Whig-Standard. It is a remarkable story of a unit which has taken its part since early in 1700.

Mopping Up In Cherbourg

Cherbourg has proven a strong bastion and one difficult to capture. A terrific battle was waged before the Allies were able to announce that mopping up operations were being carried out. So far in the invasion of France not a great deal has been heard of the West Wall, but apparently Cherbourg has been an important key port on that Wall.

The Germans were in a difficult trap; for them there was no escape; but as evidence that greater and harder battles are yet to come, they chose to fight rather than surrender. The cost of storming this port has been high but the cost of defending it has been higher.

Could it not be that the Allies in landing on the beaches in Normandy rather than trying to capture an important port like Cherbourg first upset the whole German West Wall system. Apparently the Germans thinking that the major attacks would centre around the French ports which when captured would provide excellent landing facilities had made these ports the key points on their West Wall.

With the capture of Cherbourg the West Wall has been breached through one of its main gateways and the day is not now far distant when Allied troops and supplies will be entering through this important French port.

In the taking of Cherbourg it was the American troops which bore the brunt of the attack supported by bombers, which dropped on one day 1,000 tons of bombs, and also aided by the Allied battle fleets off shore.

Canadians have also played their part in this important battle. Cherbourg was long rated as a hornet's nest, with E-boats preying on channel shipping. Here it was feared that the E-boats would attempt to evacuate the Nazi Elite in accordance with the long standing Hitler tradition. Keeping watch over these would-be raiders' refugees, were British motor boats and operating with them were the trouble-shooting Canadian craft. Many of the Canadians served originally on British craft, then were transferred to their own flotillas.

Waste Paper Collection

During the month of May and the first week in June it is estimated that 80 tons of waste paper were collected for salvage in Peterborough. Of this amount over 50 tons came from the schools in the city and 6 tons were collected during the week of the drive, which was organized by Mrs. R. Whalon for the Women's War Service Committee.

Waste paper is still Canada's foremost salvage need and in the past the shortage of waste paper has held up orders for vital paper products. Marching ever nearer to Germany and with the tempo of battle increasing all over the world, the fighting men require more and more supplies. And to get these supplies to them there is no substitute for the containers made from waste paper turned in by the householder. This is a serious problem and in recent months it has been brought right home to Peterborough. The British Ministry of Food placed large orders with the Canadian mills for rolled oats in packages. The Quaker Oats Company has always handled the great bulk of this package trade, but because of the scarcity of packages this order is being found difficult for Canadian mills to fill.

In the past a good job has been done, at times, in Peterborough in the collection of waste paper, but unfortunately this good work has been very intermittent. One month would be away up and the next month would be down. What is wanted is a steady flow of waste paper going to Canada's mills.

While it might be said that the Department of National War Services, under whom the job of securing the waste paper comes, is not interested in who collects the waste paper we believe that citizens and also the Department should be interested in seeing a steady flow of waste paper goes forth every month from Peterborough. There is no steady flow from Peterborough, and this apparently is caused by too many agencies taking a hand in the paper collection. The June collections figures illustrate this. Eighty tons can be considered a big month but the agency which has been doing the work month in and month out only got 16 tons. This agency paid for the advertising, looked after the publicity, planned for the city-wide collection and the schools through the Home and School Associations "chiselled" in securing over 50 tons, with the result that the agency which organized the campaign barely got sufficient revenue to pay for the work it did. We know it was not intentional on the part of the schools, but we do feel that with the coming of September, it might be better if the waste paper collection was left to the Home and School Associations. A drive two or three months of the year is not enough and does not make for proper organization. It should at least be ten months in the year. This is a matter which the Home and School Council might study before September.

NOTE AND COMMENT

What is so wet as a day in June.

This country missed most of the tornadoes that have been sweeping northern states but Saskatchewan had a political storm recently that blew a lot of politicians off their foundations.

Senator Bouchard has been dismissed from his position as chairman of the Quebec Hydro. Probably because Premier Godbout thought there was more heat than light in his recent speech in the Upper Chamber.

With 47 members elected to the Saskatchewan Legislature the C.C.F. party will have no difficulty now in putting into force its election promises.

Issues In the Balance

By GRANT DEXTER

THE importance of the Prime Ministers' Conference, which met in London May 1 to 17, can be tested very simply.

The conference took place at a time described by Mr. Churchill as "the most deadly climax" of the war. Post-war policy in the widest concept was the chief question to be discussed. This discussion would follow from the Atlantic Charter, the Declaration of the United Nations, and the Moscow Declaration (Article Four) which recognized:

"....the necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving nations, and open to membership of all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security."

The structure of this international organization had already been studied by the Big Four and a further meeting to draft the final plan, it had been announced, would be held in the near future.

The British government, it was made known, had prepared a plan. It may be assumed that the other Commonwealths had been similarly engaged.

BUT before the British government entered these further, and perhaps final, negotiations it was desirable that there should be a meeting of the heads of the Commonwealth governments. It may be assumed that whatever plan the British experts had devised, it would not be finally adopted until the views of the other governments had been obtained.

Thus, the first task of this conference was to discuss what kind of post-war world organization is desired. And it follows that the nature of this organization will be profoundly affected by the discussions.

Thus it is not too much to say that the future of the world was in the balance at London. True, the British government is but one of the Big Four or, more practically, the Big Three. But if the Commonwealth governments had found against a world organization of sovereign states open to all freedom-loving nations, large or small, and in favour of a world to be ruled by Titan powers then, obviously, the chances of a world society of nations would have been slim. Alternatively, of course, it does not follow that the wishes of the government of the United Kingdom will be accepted by the United States and Russia, but it is obvious that agreement at London has immeasurably improved the prospect of success. It is, perhaps, too much to say that the new world was born at London; but it did not miscarry and its chances of lusty birth later on were vastly improved.

This, then, is the test of the importance of the London conference. The prime ministers might have decided one way or another. Whichever way, the marks of their decision would not soon have vanished from the earth.

IF the five prime ministers who met at London had been all of one mind and if their positions had been clearly defined before the conference assembled, the issue would never have been in doubt and there would be no occasion for comment. Indeed, apart from short term questions of war policy and the like, there would have been no purpose in holding the conference. The British government would have gone into the negotiations with the United States and Russia confident that its views were acceptable to the other governments of the Commonwealth.

But when the conference assembled on May 1, there was no assurance of unanimity. Only one government—the Canadian government—had defined its position clearly. Mr. King did so in the House of Commons on January 31, 1944. He then declared in favour of the kind of world organization forecast in the Moscow Declaration and against any kind of Commonwealth centralization looking to a post-war world to be ruled by Titans (of which a unified Commonwealth would be one). Collaboration and consultation—yes; unification in any form of empire institution or otherwise—no.

In South Africa, Field Marshal Smuts on March 17 had come down against either a closer or a looser Commonwealth structure. He favoured the existing arrangement. Yet Prime Minister Smuts' speech of last November, with its strong anti-Soviet bias and its emphasis on power, tended to make his position doubtful.

In Australia, Prime Minister Curtin stood for an Empire secretariat and talked much of unity. This seemed to be in contrast with Australia's past nationalistic attitude. In New Zealand Prime Minister Fraser had blessed the Halifax speech of January 24, which had called for Commonwealth unity and had looked forward to a world to be ruled by a few Titan powers, of which the Commonwealth was to be one. Moreover, New Zealand had a tradition of Empire consolidation. New Zealand and Canada in the early years of the century had been at opposite extremes.

The attitude of the United Kingdom government was uncertain. True, the British government was a party to the Atlantic Charter, the United Nations declaration, and the Moscow agreement. But these were couched in general terms. Speaking on the Moscow conference in the British House of Commons last November 11, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden declared Secretary of State Hull to be the parent of Article Four. He used language which could have indicated that the British government did not take the article very seriously. Lord Halifax is a member of the British government and his speech certainly was not reassuring.

There have been many debates at Westminster on Commonwealth organization, and in all of them there was noticeable a strong body of opinion favouring some form of Empire centralization. Indeed, in the debate in the House of Commons on April 20 and 21, on the eve of the conference, Mr. Churchill himself was not clear. His language could be construed as supporting either viewpoint. In this debate, in particular, the Canadian position as defined by Mr. King was regarded as extreme. Members kept on saying that "even Canada" might agree to this or the other proposition. Certainly the debate offered ground for the belief that the British government might not be in agreement with the Canadian government but, on the contrary, might favour some kind of a centralist policy—the Curtin plan or another.

THE event, however, proved that the Commonwealth governments are in agreement in favouring a world organization comprising all freedom-loving states, great and small. There was no important section of opinion in favour of centralization. Australia had been misunderstood. The tradition of nationalism, if anything, runs deeper than ever in that Dominion. It now takes the form, as will be explained in later articles, of desiring to place the power of the Commonwealth as a unit at the command of Australia in the South Pacific. Finding no support from any other part of the Commonwealth, the Australian proposal was pigeon-holed and Mr. Curtin signed the official statement issued at the conclusion of the conference. This statement, as will be shown, destroys the Australian policy. It destroys, as well, any policy calling for a common policy or a single voice for the Commonwealth.

New Zealand was not the opponent but the colleague of Canada. The United Kingdom lined up with the others.

And so the conference agreed to work for a post-war world organization of sovereign states of which, of course, the British nations would, each of them, be members in their own right.

THE BACKYARD ARMAGEDDON —By Thomas

The "Glengarry Fencibles"

(FROM KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

THE Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, one of the regiments now fighting in France, is well known in Kingston. In peacetime, its reserve establishment trained at Barriefield, and since war began companies of the regiment have been stationed here. Many local men serve in this regiment, which is one of the oldest militia units in the Dominion, possessing a battle record dating from the early colonial wars which gives it a definite status in the saga of British regiments. It is necessary to go back to Scotland to obtain the remarkable story of migration from Glengarry of the old land to Glengarry in Canada to gain the right perspective of the beginning of this fighting unit.

From the history of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders compiled for regimental use by Lt.-Col. W. J. Franklin, M.C., V.D., officer commanding the 2nd Battalion, it is learned that there laboured among the discontented clansmen in the highland of Inverness a missionary by the name of Alexander Macdonell, who was much distressed at the plight of the highland folk turned loose from their holdings by noblemen and landlords. This ambitious missionary secured work for 600 Scots in and around Glasgow, but when war with France broke out the highlanders again were homeless and destitute. The idea of forming them into a militia unit was conceived by the pastor, and authority was issued to raise the "Glengarry Fencibles" and Father Macdonell became the unit chaplain. The volunteer regiment, raised for home service, offered to serve anywhere and was posted to the Island of Guernsey for three years. Father Macdonell became known as "The Warrior Bishop."

After the rebellion which broke out in Ireland in 1798 and ended in 1802, the Glengarry Fencibles were disbanded, but under the guidance of their chaplain, they were held together and brought to Canada where they received grants of land as French War veterans. The immigrants, who landed at Lancaster, proceeded to a spot which they named St. Raphaels, after their patron saint on whose day they arrived at their destination. In 1930 the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders participated at the unveiling of a memorial dedicated in honour of the patron saint.

On the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, Highlanders from the St. Lawrence and in New York State immediately enlisted to aid the British cause. They served in three famous units; the Royal Emigrant Regiment (Old 48th), the King's Royal Regiment of New York, (Sir John Johnson's Royal Greens), and Butler's Corps of Rangers. At the close of the war in 1784, the men and widows of these units were given land on the St. Lawrence front. These United Empire Loyalists settled in the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, to be joined later by the warrior bishop's highlanders. The present Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders are in possession of blueprints which indicate where these Scotchmen settled in the counties. Lots were apportioned according to rank. The charts available, which are dated 1784, show the area from Lancaster to the Long Sault Rapids and along the Raisin (Black) River north, and then west to St. Andrews.

A plan for raising a corps of Highland Fencibles in the County of Glengarry, Canada, was submitted in 1807 by Lt.-Col. John Macdonell. It was not, however, until some time later that the suggestion was acted upon. Two Glengarry Regiments of Militia and the Glengarry Light Fencible Regiment fought with considerable courage and bestowed great honour on themselves during the border engagements of 1812 and 1814. From then until the present day the regiment has grown into a unit well worthy of its ancestry and a credit to the Highlanders of Glengarry, Scotland, whose stirring deeds will ever be remembered in Scotch history.

At the outbreak of the First Great War, the S. D. and G. Highlanders were called out for St. Lawrence guard duty, and later went overseas to be absorbed into the 156th Battalion. The regiment's battle honours in that war were Hill 70, Hindenburg Line, Ypres 1917, Arras 1918, and Pursuit to Mons. Again in active service, there will soon be other names to be embroidered on the regimental colours, won by these men who bear the ancient raven crest of the Macdonells of Glengarry—men who may, if they please, wear the tartan of that clan as well as its proud motto, "Dileas Gu Bas"—"Faithful Unto Death."

Chaloult's Laurentian Idiocy

(MONTREAL LE JOUR)

LE JOUR: When people speak of sectarians, narrow-minded individuals, racial maniacs and Anglophobes, the name of Mr. Rene Chaloult automatically comes to mind, for he personifies exactly that kind of Laurentian idiocy which has made several thousands of French Canadians unsupportable to all normal people.

This would-be saviour of our race made a laboured effort recently in the Legislative Assembly to demonstrate that, because French-speaking Canadians constituted nearly one-third of Canada's population, they ought to occupy one-third of the public offices in the Dominion. In other words, Government patronage ought to be distributed according to quantity; quality does not count. On this principle, Canadians of different origin—Scotch, Irish, Russian, German, Italian, Jew—could each exact their quota of public offices in the name of their respective race. The moment we refuse to recognize that we are one Canadian nation, there will be no limit to claims of this kind. We shall go from absurdity to absurdity. Certainly it is absurd to affirm that one-quarter, or one-third, of the Government jobs ought to be given to French Canadians. Canada owes nothing to any one race, not even to Canadians of the French language as such. But Canada owes everything to the labour and the utility of everybody, and, in making appointments, the Government should consider only the candidates' aptitudes. In this domain, racial proportion does not exist.

Those sorry individuals who have taught our people that the title, "Canadian of the French language", is valuable in itself have not rendered their fellows any service, but have degraded them. They have made our people forget that it is the man, and the man alone who counts; consequently, we are witness of this painful spectacle: Thousands of our compatriots have been made to believe they are persecuted; they have been given an inferiority complex and suffer through self-conceit at the same time, attributing their own mistakes to their neighbours.

Women More Sensible

It has always been a mystery to us why women use so much more downright common sense during the hot days of summer than do males. With the first trace of heat and humidity, the weaker sex literally "strip for action." Dark, heavy garments come off and light, cool ones are donned. In other words, they recognize nature is making a change and humans must follow suit or suffer the consequences. On the other hand about all some males do in similar circumstances is to discard woollen undies for cotton and usually are afraid to do that until the summer is half over. They continue to wear a coat, tight collar and tie in July and August as they did in January and February. Various types of cooler garments have been styled for them but tradition has them in its grip and they continue to mop the heated brow.—Dutton Advance.

True German Style

You can always count on Germany to do things that will outrage the world. Now, when it ought to be looking around for a few friends, it duplicates the horror of the 75-mile gun with which it bombarded worshippers at a Good Friday Mass in Paris, in the last World War. Hitler's hit-or-miss robot rocket is an outright weapon of terrorization. With no definite military targets, it's purposely contrived and fired to hit homes, shops, crowded streets, hospitals or anything else that happens to be in its path. Wait till you hear him yell when he gets it back with interest.—New York Sun.

A Bible Message

Now Moses kept the flock of Jethro his father in law, the priest of Midian: and he led the flock to the backside of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, even to Horeb. And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed. And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I.... And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows.... Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.

And Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt? And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.

And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is his name? what shall I say unto them? And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex. 3: 1-4, 7, 10-14.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"Does the foreman know that the trench has fallen in" asked the contractor.

"Well sir," replied the workman, "we're digging him out to tell him."

The scene was a Hollywood film studio. Thousands of "extras", attired as French revolutionaries storming the Bastille, filled the middle distance.

In the foreground, on a rostrum, was the director, bawling through a megaphone:

"We're going to do this over and over again—until the guy shouting 'whoopee' decides to cooperate".

She had gone to the fortune teller and had listened with increasing interest to the sketch of her life as portrayed in the lines of her palm.

"Madam", said the fortune teller in his most impressive manner, "you should be very, very happy. A nobler man than your husband you have yet to meet".

"How absolutely thrilling!" gushed the lady. "But when?"

In a certain golf club a handsome cup was put up for a competition open only to those who had never won a prize before. It was finally won by a member whose popularity exceeded his proficiency.

When the cup was handed to him he had to make a speech. So he began:

"I think it an excellent idea, this prize for players who have never won a prize before, and I'd like to carry the same idea further. I want to stand drinks to everyone who has never had a drink before."

Again the Newspaper Boy

It has been proved time and again that youngsters who peddle newspapers get valuable training that paves the way for a successful business career.

Evidently this early training also helps to push them up the ladder of success in the army. Major-Gen. James Ulio, adjutant general of the U.S. Army, stated in a recent article:

"An army doctor in Italy, as a result of his observation in the field, has said he believes the best officers are ex-newspaper boys."

It is the general's contention that the best officer material is coming from the ranks of young men who learn to act and think for themselves and make money as boys.

Resourcefulness is one of the essential qualities of a good army officer. The little merchant who peddles papers has a splendid opportunity to develop that quality which spells success in many directions.—Kitchener Record.

Dewey Certain To Be Picked As Candidate

By G. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 27—(CP)—Barring some unforeseen development, Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York will merge in the next few days as Republican choice for president of the United States, with Gov. Earl Warren of California the probable nominee for vice-president.

Enough of the 1,057 delegates to the Republican national convention opening today had been pledged to or claimed by Dewey supporters to to sure the New York governor's nomination on the first ballot — probably next Wednesday.

There seems little doubt that Gov. Warren, who delivers the keynote convention address tonight, will be Gov. Dewey's running mate.

However, Gov. John Bricker of Ohio, the only man who has been actively canvassing for the Republican nomination—or the Democratic nomination for that matter—is putting up a stiff fight.

The Pennsylvania delegation of 70 had swung behind Gov. Dewey last night, making it almost certain that even before the convention starts he will have a majority of delegates supporting him on the first ballot.

Tomorrow the revised Republican platform will be presented and discussed and Wednesday the work of selecting candidates is scheduled.

The platform is expected virtually to remove foreign affairs from the campaign—presenting a resolution little at variance with the pronouncements on this subject by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

LANDING ON R.C.A.F. FIELD IN NORMANDY—Servicing ground personnel for the first Canadian Fighter Unit to move into an airstrip in France were flown in by Dakota air craft of the Transport Command, manned by mixed Royal Canadian Air Force and R.A.F. crews. Spitfires escorted the flight from England across the Channel to an airstrip in Normandy from which R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons have been operating since June 10. This fully operational unit is under the command of Wing Commander M. Brown of Winnipeg, Man. The fighter squadrons are the Wolf Squadron, the City of Oshawa Squadron and the Red Indian Squadron. A giant Dakota of the Transport Command carrying ground personnel to man the new Canadian Airfields in France churns up the dust on a hastily constructed landing strip, somewhere in Normandy. The dust is worse than the desert, dangerous for flying and choking to the lungs. (Photo by FO. Cecil Southward, RCAF Public Relations Photographer in France).

Glengarrians Are Tops Veteran Says

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 27 — (CP Cable).— Capt N. B. (Ike) Buchanan of St. Stephen, N.B., a forward observation officer of the Royal Canadian Artillery, stuck at his post for three days and nights without relief, calling up artillery support for the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders during the struggle at Les Buissons during the first week of the campaign in Normandy. Les Buissons is about 4½ miles northwest of Caen.

Buchanan fought in Italy and won the Military Cross and Bar in the Mediterranean. The Colonel of the Glengarrians described him as the "coolest man in Les Buissons."

"Capt. Buchanan stood at his observation post through the heaviest shelling and firing and did not budge an inch.

"He kept his binoculars glued on the targets and wirelessed a steady flow of information back to the guns which gave us wonderful support."

Buchanan, on the other hand, paid tribute to the Glengarrians. "I thought until the Les Buissons scrap that the Red Patch boys of the Canadian 1st Division who fought in Sicily and Italy were the finest I have ever seen, but these Glengarrians showed they are just as good," he said.

Nova Scotia Highlanders Crack Toughest Spot

By WILLIAM STEWART,
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 26 —(CP Cable) —The fast march inland of the North Shore Nova Scotia Highlanders of Amherst N. S., which took the battalion deeper into Normandy in the first 48 hours after the invasion landings June 6 than any other unit on their front, is an epic of the Canadian fighting in France.

The Nova Scotia's forward elements pushed to within a mile of Carpiquet airdrome, south of the Bayeaux-Caen highway. Though the Nova Scotias represented a thin spearhead of the Canadian assault, they fought the first tank-supported German counter-attacks delivered against the Canadians and clung to their ground.

Heavy casualties suffered by the battalion, whose commanding officer is young Lieutenant Colonel from Montreal. The Nova Scotias were machine-gunned, mortared, shelled and attacked by German Panther tanks. Two companies were cut off in the fierce counter-attacks and made last stands with the Germans all around them. The commanders of both companies are missing.

After wrecking every one of the enemy's attempts to break their anchor at the front of the bridgehead, the Nova Scotias were withdrawn to positions around Villons Les Buissons where they form a solid line with other units. The Germans had taken enough punishment in their attacks to content themselves with mortar and shellfire bombardment of the Buissons position.

Though his troops were fighting their first actions, the Colonel said their morale and battle efficiency were "magnificent."

"Deeds of valor were too numerous to mention," he added.

The Nova Scotias were supported throughout their battle by Les Fusiliers De Sherbrooce of Sherbrooke, Que. with Sherman tank and the Colonel said that without their support, for which he had the highest praise, his battalion "couldn't have survived."

The North Shore Nova Scotias landed at Bernieres Sur Mer on D-Day as the leading battalion of the Canadian Reserve Brigade.

Lose Many Tanks.

Attacks developed and armored battles raged. Canadian tank losses were quite heavy, but the enemy lost 40. The Germans withdrew their remaining tanks behind Gruchy and Authie.

The Novas tried again to take Authie with two companies but the enemy tanks came out once more. Though anti-tank guns were in position, the Nova Scotias moved back and dug in north of Buron, where a two-pronged armored attack developed against them.

In front of the trenches the Nova Scotias fought it out hand to hand with the Germans. The major's communications were interrupted but following "no withdrawals" orders, his company held its ground and saved the day at Buron.

In the heroic effort the Maritime battalion remustered supporting tanks and counter-attacked. The stroke was successful and drove off the enemy.

The Colonel obtained permission to withdraw and moved back little more than a half-mile where the battalion dug in solidly.

Harwood W.I. In 26th Year

HARWOOD, June 27 (ENS)—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Harwood branch of the Women's Institute was observed recently when Bethesda United Church graciously loaned their church and Sunday School room for the occasion.

The reception committee were Mrs. McCulloch and Mrs. Graham and the guests numbered sixty-five. The annniversary, presided over by the president, Mrs. R. Earle Drope, began with the address of welcome given by Mrs. P. J. Corkery, who stressed the importance of the occasion, and her pleasure in welcoming the guests. Seated on the platform were all the past presidents and secretaries of the W.I. Mrs. J. E. Fisher, Toronto, replied to the address of welcome, speaking in humorous vein of the early beginnings of the Institute. Sixty-five answered the roll call with their maiden name, and married name. Mrs. T. Cheyne then gave a reading entitled "Flowers in my Garden," followed by an historical sketch of the past twenty-five years by Mrs. Lawton, who asked Miss Lottie Drope to present a report of the Institute War Work during the past four years.

Mrs. Rutherford of Vernonville, the District President, gave an address entitled "Home in a War-time World," while Mrs. Paul Harris, of Toronto, was soloist and her two solos, accompanied by Miss Lettice Drope, were enjoyed. Mrs. C. W. Calcutt displayed a photo of the first Institute, and eleven of those at the first meeting were present.

The correspondence from all of those unable to attend was read by the secretary, Mrs. Bell and letters were received from former members who now reside in New York, New Jersey, Texas, Detroit and Halifax.

Speeches were given by Mrs. William Blezard, Cobourg; Mrs. Tuck, Peterborough; Mrs. E. Hill, Peterborough; Mrs. G. Hogg, Harwood; Mrs. L. Payne, Warsaw; Mrs. H. Graham, Harwood; Miss Dennison, Harwood; Mrs. Lawton, Harwood; Mrs. J. Devigney, Vernonville.

Then all were asked to shake hands with twenty-five people. Afterwards refreshments were served. Mrs. McCulloch and Mrs. Lawton presided at the tea table and Mrs. Ross Davidson, Mrs. Glenn Hogg, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Isaac, and Mrs McFiggin assisted. Mrs. Bell and Mrs. W. W. Johnson held a bazaar table, and realized $14. Mrs. Graham and Miss Lottie Drope were in charge of a White Elephant Table and realized $10.70.

A lovely birthday cake was made and donated by Mrs. P. J. Corkery. The cake centred the tea table, which was decorated with red roses, pink candles and silver sandle sticks. Mrs. P. J. Corkery lighted the twenty-five candles and Mrs. T. Robson cut the cake.

Police Escorting Fliers On Leave

VALLEYFIELD, Que., June 27—(CP) — Members of the Royal Canadian Air Force stationed in this city about 50 miles west of Montreal leaving Saturday on 48-hour leaves were escorted to the railway station and bus terminal by military police who will be awaiting them there when they return to-day.

Escorting by military police was ordered, it was said, as a precautionary measure following the bursting into the police station here last week of a group of R. C. A. F. men who asked for the release for an airman taken into custody after a fight in a tavern.

Jr. Red Cross Runs Off Races

ROSENEATH, June 27 — (EN) — The pupils of Roseneath Public School held their last Red Cross meeting of the school term Friday afternoon.

During the business conducted by the president Francis Crego, it was decided to forward the remainder of the year's collection to the Junior Red Cross War Fund.

Jessie Linton presided over an interesting program, including a song by Carol McMillan and Mary Halstead; readings by Pauline Down and Barbara Adams; a piano duet; and an action song by the juniors.

Several races and relay games were enjoyed, the winners were as follows:—

Children under school age, Mary Skuce;

6 to 8 years—Girls, Donna Pringle, Boys Gerald Adams;

9 to 12 years—Girls, Myrna Adams, Boys, Ray Sherwin;

13 years or over—Girls, Jessie Linton, Boys, Royce Timlin;

3 legged race—Girls, Shirley Spiers and Barbara Adams, Boys, Royce Timlin and Leo Linton;

Minute race—Seniors, Doris Robins, Juniors, George Linton;

Boot and Shoe Race—Girls, Jessie Linton, Boys, Verne George;

Backward Race— Girls, Muriel Spiers, Boys, Eldon George;

Five relay games were played, Fire on the Mountain, Instalment relay, One legged relay, Balanee relay, and tug of war. Lois Dowler's team won the greatest number of points, weather conditions caused a postponement of a ball game.

Cocker Spaniel Gets Top Award At Toronto Show

TORONTO, June 27—Award for the best dog in the show at the Progressive Kennel Club's Dog show held Saturday at Dufferin Park, went to Ch. Whirlaway of Irolita, 2-year-old descendant of the champion cocker spaniel, My Own Brucie. Owned by the Glen Rouge Kennels, Markham, and shown by George Boyd, Niagara Falls, Whirlaway won the cocker class the class with the largest number of entries in the show, and was chosen first in the sporting dogs' group.

Winner in the working dogs class was George Wade's Doberman Pinscher, Am. Ch. Westphlia's Rameses, which was schooled by William Necker trainer of the "devil dogs" belonging to the United States Marine Canine Corps. Rameses possesses the initials C.D., standing for "Companion Dog," and C.D.X., standing for "Companion Dog Extraordinary" after his name.

Other winners include Mrs. W. P. Gudgeon's Afghan hound, Asri-Ravid of Five Mile, which was judged first in the sporting dogs group; L D. Currie and J. D. Whiteley's Strathglass Craig's Crust, winner of the terrier group; W. A. Harris's Trail Blazer of Geddesburg, winner in the toy dog's class; Walter Brown's Kempston Marovian Ajax, winner of the non-sporting class.

His War Work Couldn't Stop for RHEUMATIC PAINS

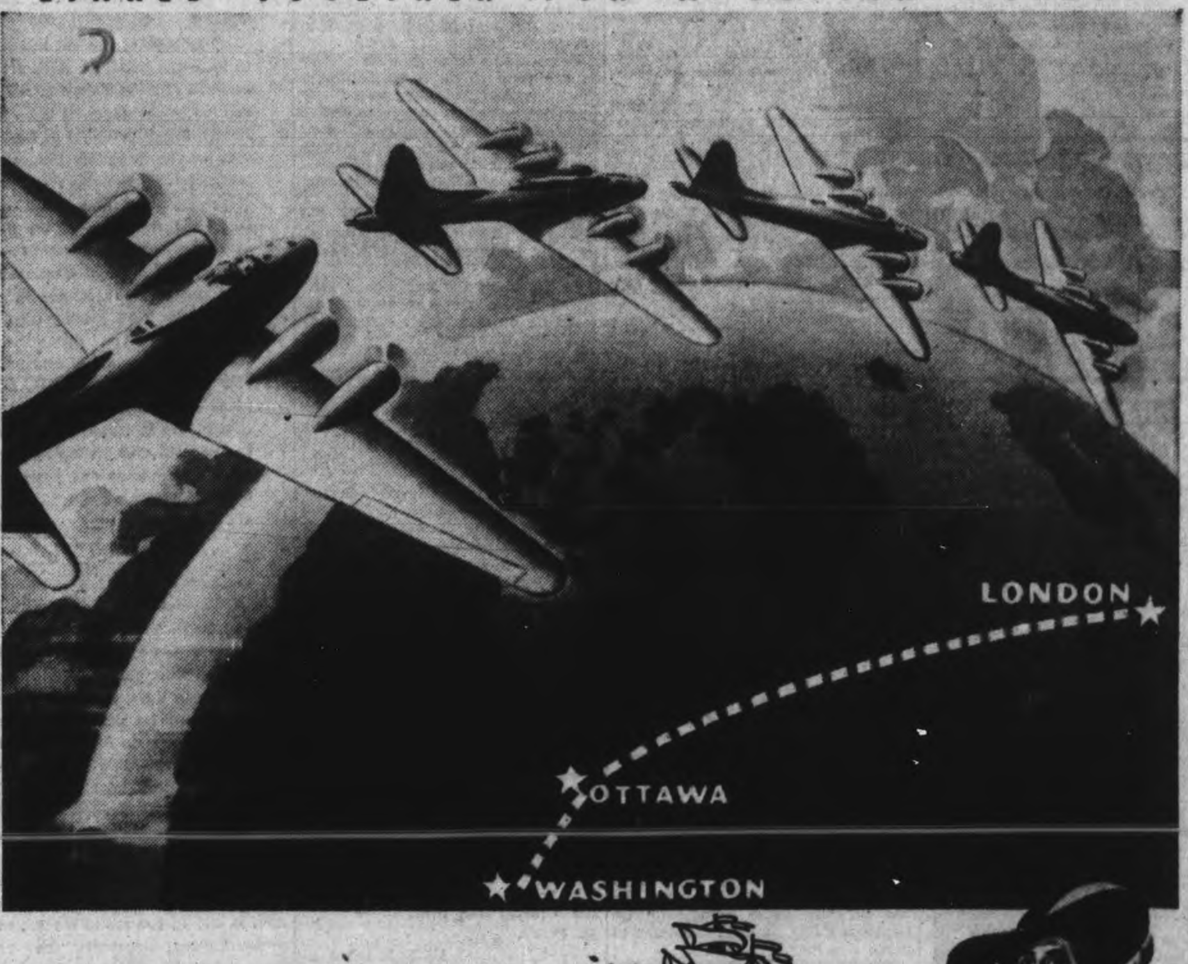
If rheumatic pains interfere with war work, the pains have to go! Here's how one British war worker gave his rheumatic pain its "marching orders":—

"My work is rather important," he writes. "I am in charge of two big boilers, and work all night. I had been troubled with rheumatic pains and constipation for about three years, and it was becoming a misery to do my work. I always felt tired. I tried Kruschen Salts, and after three weeks I felt like a new man. I do my work far better now than ever I have done before. One thing I noticed: I sleep much better too! I thank Kruschen Salts from the bottom of my heart. I would advise all men over [illegible] years to get the help of Kruschen."—J.G.

Rheumatic pains usually arise from poisons in the blood-stream. If you can clear them from the blood-stream, these poisons can't settle in your joints. That's how Kruschen helps you. Kruschen is a balanced combination of various mineral salts. It is aperient and diuretic. Because of this Double Action, Kruschen helps to cleanse the whole system thoroughly.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable of all Drug Stores. 25c and 75c.

LINKED TOGETHER FOR A BETTER WORLD!



AMERICAN bombers wing their way into a great Canadian halfway port . . . take off for British bases . . . then on to the all-important job of bringing war home to the enemy. This is but one of the many ways that Canada serves as a vital link between the United States and Great Britain.

And, English, Canadian and American airmen flying wing to wing have shown the same high courage and daring . . . shared with equal resolve the same dangers that men might live free! Their success has proved that our greatest strength lies in unity . . . that in peace, as well as in war, we must work together for a better world!

As Churchill has declared, "Canada is the 'linch-pin' between Great Britain and the United States". Truly, because we know and like them both so well, we Canadians can do much for future world security by furthering the mutual understanding of these two great democracies. This is our responsibility. Let us prove worthy of it!

In our hearts is the same concept of freedom!

IT is only natural that the peoples of Canada, the United States and Great Britain are bound together in the cause of freedom for we have always had the same concept of freedom. In fact, we share one of the earliest defenders of the freedoms we are fighting for today. He was a Calvert, a famous English statesman, Secretary of State to King James I. ◆ In 1622 he founded a colony off Canada's shores and a few years later a colony in Maryland. Thus, centuries ago a Calvert forged a link which has strengthened throughout the years—joining together, for the good of mankind, the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States of America. ◆ In 1638 Calvert's son and successor, carrying on the democratic Calvert tradition fined a man of his own faith five hundred pounds of tobacco for "villifying and profaning another's religion". Thus a man's freedom to worship as he pleases was established in the New World by a Calvert.

TORONTO, June 27 —(CP) — Their isn't much similarity between basketball and lacrosse, but out in Vancouver they've found out that basketball strategy can be applied to lacrosse with seeming success.

Joe Hall, intermediate basketball coach whose team took the B. C. title last winter, has been teaching the boxla boys a few basketball plays, and they've been taking to them like a crane takes to fish. As a matter of fact, they got so proficient, whether from the basketball plays or other reasons, that they handed the Dominion championship New Westminster Salmonbillies their first defeat of the season.

It's reported his men hadn't been any too eager about the new sytem, but if it produces a winning combination things will be looking up for all concerned.

And whatcha know, Joe? It may start a new fad in the lacrosse field, that badly needs something to pep up the game and the customers.

Incidentally:

Art Ross, junior, son of the Boston Bruins' manager, has been reported missing in action with the R.C.A.F. overseas. Baz (Montreal Star) O'Meara counted up the sons of N.H.L. officials and members who are in the services, and found they numbered quite a few. Two of Red Dutton's boys were lost overseas, while another one is in the navy. Lester Patrick has two sons in the U.S. Army, Jim Norris has a boy in the U.S. Navy, Conny Smythe of Toronto Leafs, is overseas himself and has a son in the Navy while a daughter was in the C.W.A.C. All Saints' Win Juvenile Tussle

All Saints came from behind to win a convincing victory in the first game of the Church League juvenile series at Nicholls Oval Monday night, taking the opener of the best-of-three round 17 to 8. The second game will be played to-morrow night and another victory for the Saints would end the argument.

Both teams scored in the first inning last night, each pushing a run over. Then George Street forged ahead with a marker in the second and when they added a pair in the third and again in the fourth and were in the van 6 to 1 they looked to be well away. However, McDougall held them to two more runs for the balance of the game and the Saints suddenly staged an uprising in the fifth when they blasted seven runs over the counting station and took over the lead 8 to 6. They increased their margin with a quartette of markers in the eighth and finally blew the top off the game completely by registering five times in the ninth to make it a rout.

The teams:

All Saints—McDougall p; Menzies c; Outram 3b; Ellis 1b; Kidd 2b; Cutmore lf; Doughty cf; Sisson rf; Franks ss.

George Street—Outram c; Estlick 3b; Lee 2b; Nicholls p; J. Dormer cf; Delahaye ss; Braund lf; K. Dormer rf; McKee 1b.

Umpires—Kingdon and Agnew.

Saints Extend Switchgear But Lose 6-5

Frank McCormick's popfly single to left field with two out in the last of the ninth drove in Ronnie Akers with the winning run in last night's City Softball League at Riverside Park as the leading Switchgear triumphed over St. Peter's 6 to 5 in an exciting battle that was in doubt until the final frame.

The loss toppled the Saints down to fourth place in the league standing.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Ronnie Akers for Switchgear and Bill Moorhead on the hilltop for the Saints and was the second tough loss in a week for the St. Peter's pitcher against the leading teams. Plazas beat him by the same score in 12 innings in his other start of the season.

Moorhead held the Switchgear outfit to seven hits, yielded only one base on balls and yet was beaten because his teammates bobbed up with costly errors. Only two of the runs scored against him were earned.

Akers blanked the losers for six straight innings but they managed to bunch hits in the seventh and ninth to score five runs and make it very close. His own good fielding helped him in the early innings for he speared a couple of hard-hit balls that looked like sure blows.

Switchgear led by 3 to 0 until the first of the seventh when the Saints came through with three runs to tie the score, only to hand two of them back in the second half of the frame. Again the losers struck back in the first of the ninth to sew it up again but Switchgear pushed over the winner in their end of the frame.

Both teams went out in order for the first three innings. But Switchgear finally scored in the fourth.

Padgett, first up reached second on Courneya's high toss. McCormick rolled to Condon. Courneya made a fine stop of Playford's hard hit roller and threw him out. Padgett remaining at third. Mowry got a single when his roller took a bad hop away from Caccavella. Padgett scoring. Mowry then was forced at second by Ashmore.

In the fifth, Carpenter beat out a bunt but was forced at second by Nicholls. The latter stole second and scored on Tompkins' single to right.

Switchgear made it 3 to 0 in the sixth. With one away Playford was safe on Courneya's fumble and Mowry hit to Caccavella and everybody was safe when Stewart missed the toss to second. Ashmore double scored Playford but Carpenter struck out and Nicholls popped to Courneya.

Saints came through with a rally in the sixth to tie it up. Hollingsworth walked but was forced by Moorhead. Condon singled to centre and both runners advanced when Pearson flied to McCormick. Archie Stewart doubled solidly to left centre scoring Moorhead and Condon. After Honey Tompkins dropped a pop foul, Caccavella singled to the left to send Stewart in with the tieing run. Courneya popped to Nicholls.

In their half the Switchgear went ahead again. With one away Akers was safe on Courneya's error. Padgett flied to Conroy for the second out. McCormick singled to left and Akers should have been out at third but Courneya dropped Conroy's perfect peg and everybody was safe. The miss was disastrous for Johnnie Playford lined a single into left to score Akers and McCormick. Mowry rolled to Caccavella.

The Saints tied it up in the first of the ninth. Moorhead laced a single past second. Moorhead stole third and when Pearson beat out a roller to Nicholls Moorhead went home. Stewart's fly to Playford sent Condon in with the run that sewed up the game. Caccavella rolled to Padgett and Pearson was cut off at the plate trying to score. Courneya got a life on his roller to Nicholls when Padgett dropped the throw at second but Conroy rolled out.

Switchgear won out in their half. After Tompkins had been thrown out on a bunt Akers drew Moorhead's only pass of the game. He went to second on a passed ball and to third after Masterson had caught Padgett's fly to right centre. With Conroy playing deep in left field McCormick dropped an easy fly into short left and it went for a hit that won the ball game. Akers carrying the winning tally over.

By FRED D. CRAIG

Tonight's City League game between the two old rivals Plazas and Soldiers looks like a natural and should attract the biggest crowd of the season to Riverside Park. For the past three campaigns battles between these two clubs have been about the gems of the campaign and now that the Military Training Centre has strengthened its team and developed new pitching strength the tilt tonight which both of them are dead anxious to win should be on a par with the struggles of other seasons between the champs and the Soldiers. The Training Centre will undoubtedly pin their faith on the right arm of Earl Revoir, the big pitcher who handed Switchgear their first defeat of the season the other night. Revoir in his first start for the Soldiers worked very confidently and had the Switchgear power hitters pretty well under control and if he starts tonight against Plazas will probably give the second-placers something to worry about. Tony McIlveen will handle his offerings. For Plazas all three regular pitchers, Dave Wilson, Frank Stokoe and Terry Woods are all ready to start with Eddie Starr behind the bat. Both outfits expect to field their strongest lineups for this all-important game. It starts at 7 o'clock.

Another good game looms up in the City League Wednesday night when the U.E.W. team and St. Peter's clash for the second time in a week. The Union outfit surprised the Saints by a clean cut win the last night they met and if they can repeat the feat tomorrow night will be tied with the St. Peter's outfit for fourth place. There is a whole lot at stake in this mid-week battle, therefore and it should prove a red-hot struggle. Rumor has it that the Union team has signed Pitcher Hattie Eakins, the Lindsay twirler who was the stormy petrel of the City League playoffs last season when Genelecs brought him in as a military replacement against a league ruling. But whether there is anything in the Eakins story or not the U.E.W. outfit have big Mac McPherson of Millbrook to throw in at the Saints and he turned the trick in good style last week. It will be Gene Reynolds turn to throw for the St. Peter's team. With a possible playoff position at stake this should be a thriller of a ball game.

In The Girls' League

The schedule in the Girls' Softball League for the next couple of nights has been reversed and that means that the attraction at the Ashburnham Bowl this evening will be Brintons vs. Westclox Seconds. The intermediate champs were originally scheduled to have met the senior Westclox squad tonight but that game has been switched until Wednesday night. Both games should be worth seeing. This evening the Baby Bens who have been playing good ball all season and have dug up some material that is going to be heard from in other campaigns will do their utmost to take a fall out of the Brinton outfit. Brintons cannot, of course, see it that way and they figure that with either Bernice Stinson or Phyllis Corrigan pitching they should dispose of the Westclox Seconds. Tomorrow night the Brintons will have to face the senior Westclockers, the unbeaten Big Bens. They gave them a close run early in the season and hope to make it interesting. Just who will pitch for Westclox is uncertain. The Big Bens sprung a surprise by throwing in young Joyce Withers against Aircraft and came back with another one when they elected Aggie Anderson, clever centre fielder to do the tossing against Johnson Motors last night and she came through with a neat exhibition.

The boys of the old brigade, former stars of the Central Ontario in the good old days are certainly doing their part to keep baseball alive in Kingston and while some of the players who remained in the game up to as late as last season have retired, Bob Elliott, Jakey Quinn, Jim Corkey, Vin McQuaide, Udell and other well-known Kingston Ponies of yesteryear are still performing in the Kingston League and not doing too badly at that in spite of the march of time. And they are not the only former Central Ontario Leaguers who are performing in the same loop. The other night the famous Chief Williams, the Indian southpaw whose duels with Al Heckman 20 years ago were classics finished a game on the rubber for the Vimy team and the veteran left-hander did a mighty effective job of relief hurling to win the game for his team. Another well-known performer is Red Jubenville, Oshawa baseball and softball star. "Red" who played second for the Oshawa Colts, intermediate Ontario softball champions last season is playing the keystone sack for the Ordnance club in the Kingston League and as usual is playing bangup ball in the field and hitting as well. He got a couple of hits off the Chief in one game and secured one of the three safe blows garnered by his team off Jarrell in another game.

Oshawa Colts Celebrate

Oshawa Colts finally celebrated their winning of the 1943 Ontario intermediate softball championship the other night and the Oshawa Times-Gazette says of the affair: Somewhat delayed but none the less enthusiastic, the Oshawa Colts, 1943 Intermediate "A" softball champions of Ontario, were showered with glowing praise and presented with their championship trophies, crests and spoils at a banquet held in their honor, at the Commercial Hotel. David Leether, of Peterborough, 2nd vice-president of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association and perennial O.A.S.A. convener for this district, was the guest speaker for the occasion. The popular and hard-working softball official, briefly reviewed the growth of O.A.S.A. softball in Eastern Ontario and throughout the province and touched also in more detail on the activities of the more recent years. "Oshawa has always been one of the best softball centres in the province and I feel that a major portion of the credit for Oshawa's splendid reputation in softball circles as strong competitors and fine sportsmen is due to the group assembled here tonight. I know many of them personally and know that they have been keenly interested in softball for a long time and have kept softball very much on the map in Oshawa," he stated.

Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club will be well represented at the Ontario swimming championships to be held in the Sunnyside Pool, Toronto, on Wednesday and Thursday. Swim Coach Gord Minty will take a capable squad to the Queen City and hopes for some wins. Bill Lech, Canadian junior breast stroke champion will compete in the 100 yards back stroke Wednesday and the 100 yards breast stroke Thursday. Dave Cottingham, former University of Manitoba swimmer now employed in the C.G.E. test is an entrant in the 100 yards free style Wednesday. Peterborough swimmers will take part in two relay races. In the medley relay Wednesday Bonnie Jackson, former Alberta diving champion will swim back stroke, Bill Lech breast stroke and Stan McBride free style. Thursday night in the free style relay the Peterborough team will be Jackson, Lech, Cottingham and McBride. In addition to these entries, Gordon Gildner, of the Y Club who is now in the R.C.N.V.R. will swim in the 100 yards free style, the 100 yards breast stroke and the special event for members of the armed forces. Cliff McInroy will accompany the Peterborough swim squad to Toronto.

Second Round Is Played For The Graham Cup

Excellent golfing weather Sunday afternoon attracted 46 players to the Peterborough Golf and Country Club to take part in the second round of the C. G. Graham Trophy and the first round of the consolation mixed two-ball foursome for R. R. Faryon's prize.

In the first match G. Whiting and Mary Strickland defeated B. Butler and Betty Richardson. R. Abbott and Margaret Abbott turned back Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Eastwood. Mr. and Mrs. J. McKerchar enjoyed a good match against Gordon Whatman and Miss E. Armstrong. Charlie Westbrook and Mrs. F. Roy tied with Stan McBride and Mrs. J. M. Watson. This game will be replayed using the same handicaps before the next two-ball foursome date is announced. J. M. Watson and Mrs. S. McBride defeated Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lloyd. Russ Kitchen and Miss M. Hatton defeated Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Graham one up, after a thrilling battle which found the Grahams at one time five down but fighting valiantly to survive. Max Lauder and Miss O. Hutchings received a bye into the third round.

In the consolation round A. Rutter and Miss Florence Leach defeated Jack Sackville and Miss Margaret Wood. Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Steer defeated Gordon Monkman and Mrs. McConkey. W. McCreery and Miss M. Johnston defeated C. Monkman and A. Davidson by default. Heck Thompson and Miss I. Bullock defeated Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wood. Mr. and Mrs. O. DeGraw defeated Tom Mackay and Mrs. F. Hall.

The Match and Handicap Committee had hoped that arrangements could be made so that the teams which were defeated in Sunday's match for the second round of the C. G. Graham Trophy could be redrawn into the second round of the consolation. However, owing to the large number of contestants and the fact that only two more mixed two-ball foursome dates are planned for this season, it now appears unlikely that such a plan could be followed through. Careful thought will be given to the problem and perhaps a sweepstake for those who have been defeated in the second round of the Graham Trophy and the first round of the consolation could be arranged for the next two-ball foursome date.

Players are requested to watch this column for further announcements.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Through the co-operation of Ken Sloane, the games committee is offering our bowlers on Monday, July 3rd "The Top Top Tailor" competion. This tournament was originally set for Civic Holiday, but when July 3rd was declared "open" the games committee and Mr. Sloane got together with the above result.

Here's the set up: Each rink must be of schedule calibre—no stronger. Three 15-end games, starting at 1 p.m. Fee $2.00 per rink. The 2-1-0 system to be used. Kindly let any member of the committee have your entry as soon as possible.

The number of rinks entered will determine the number of prizes to be given.

The singles competition for Group 3 and 4 got off to a good start on Monday night. Sure, there were some defaults, but that was to be expected when close to 90 players are involved. It's too early to make any predictions for the competition has a long, long way to go.

And, now for the ladies' tournament on Wednesday. All the ladies need is a fine day. They have made all kinds of preparations and are looking for a good crowd.

13-lb. Lake Trout Reward For Friends Dickering Over Purchase Of Outboard Motor

BANCROFT, June 27.—(ENS).—What started out as a business deal ended up a real day's fish for two anglers at Bancroft recently. E. Nicholl of Baptiste had been dickering with Collie Stringer of Bancroft for an outboard motor. When Mr. Nicoll was in town again, he asked about the motor. Mr. Stringer said: "Well, the best way to see how it performs is to come fishing with me," so the two struck out for Bay Lake some three miles south-west of Bancroft.

They were not fishing very long before Mr. Stringer hooked on to something heavy which for a moment put quite a strain on the fishing craft but in seconds later yielded enough to warn the angler that he had a more-than-ordinary fish on his line. After some fifteen minutes of hard battling and the use of an old gaff which happened to be in the boat, the fish was landed. It was a lake trout measuring some thirty-two inches in length and when weighed later tipped the scales at thirteen and a quarter pounds.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Week-end Camp

No data has been received in reference to the proposed week-end camp for the Scout officers and members of the Local Association. Scouter Ford was nominated as chairman of the committee.

Murray Street at Camp

Scouter Earl McNabb and four members of his Troop arrived at the Scout grounds on Saturday afternoon for a spot of camping over the week-end. Scouter Albert Ingham was on the grounds to make the stay with them.

First Aid Kit On Grounds

President Barry Ottwell, of the Peterborough Boy Scouts Local Association arrived on the Scout Grounds last Saturday with a First Aid Kit that is to be a permanent fixture in the main building. All officers are requested to see that only those appointed as First-aiders at any Camp be authorized to use same.

Camp Fire Places

We note that there are still a number of different fire-places built all over the grounds. Scouts and others should bear in mind that it is not necessary to build another fire place every time you go to the grounds. Use the old places and do not mar the grounds and destroy the grass. We are looking forward to seeing some action on the two proposed permanent fireplaces. Scouters take note.

Going To Camp

The St. John's Wolf Pack is planning to hold camp on the Scout grounds during the week-end of July 15-16th.

"PIPED" FOR KING—Leading Seaman L. H. Sweeting, R.C.N., of Gull Lake, Saskatchewan, lone Canadian rating serving in the flagship of the British Home Fleet. Sweeting was one of the special piping party to "pipe the side" for His Majesty the King, each time he came and went from the flagship during his recent visit to the home fleet.

St. Luke's Pack

A good attendance was gathered around the Council Rock as Lynn Thain led the Grand Howl and Baloo took the Pack in its opening prayer. The attendance records and inspection were followed with the playing of the game "Chinese Chicken". The Pack then got down to work, tests being passed as follows. Boot Cleaning:—Billy Davis, Lynn Thain, Jack Bertrand, Jack King, Douglas Britnall, Union Jack Larry Walsh; Ball Throwing:— Douglas Baptie; the game "Through the Loop" brought the evenings activities to a close. At Red Flower, Raska told the story of "The Save Jack Made" following which Billy Davis led the closing Grand Howl.

There a still a number of articles at Akela's that some Cubs left at Camp. Check over the following list and see if you are short:— 4 towels, 1 sheet, 1 tooth brush, 1 spoon, 1 cup wash cloth and the pants of a pjama suit. If you are missing any of these articles call round to Akela's home.

At St. John's

For the third in three consecutive weeks outdoor plans had to be cancelled as the old weatherman sure poured on the rain. Indoor games were played some in the Scout hall to give the Pack more room to move. Plans for the Camp were discussed and one of the proposed Camp song practiced. Only seven registrations were received but it was estimated that about 18 members of the Pack would attend Camp.

News

It is apparent that the officers in charge of the various groups are not very interested in getting their units news into this column and we are thinking that, with the closing down of the St. Luke's Pack for the summer, one of our main source of supply will be cut off. There has always been a yell that we do not advertise Scouting enough in this city but I am thinking that the ones who shout the most, do the least.

However, it is my intention to carry on this column to the best of the Scouting I can and will give reports of all activities that come to my attention, I have received word that our old and keen Scout friend Peter Dominik expects to arrive in town about June 29. Word has been received from Tom Littlefair that all is well in the Navy except that tht old sea can be rough at times. Last letter received was written at sea.

Have you any news of any of the old Scouts now serving in the various parts of the empire.

What Do You Think

Met an old Scout down town the other day, he is now in the Air Force with a commission. Got talking about the number of Scouts leaving the Troops for the Air and Sea Cadets. He told me that the thought that a good many of the leaders were to blame, "Give the boys what they want and you won't lose them. Get Air patrols in every Group. That is well in the Navy except that the plans for those Red Wings. I think that Scouting is the best character building movement ever started by man but get the boys something concrete to work on and you will find they will stick."

Yes, what do you think about that. Isn't it true.

Royals Trounce Baltimore Orioles

By the Associated Press.

George Washburn isn't one of the top winning picthers in the International League, but his Montreal teammates are convinced today he's a good man to have around.

The Brooklyn farmhands picked up a full game on the league-leading Baltimore Orioles last night on a 6-3 decision made possible by Washburn's pitching and hitting. The Maine native, who flunked his big league trials because of wildness walked six Orioles but struck out seven while scattering 11 hits and chiming in with two safeties on his own hook. Washburn singled during Montreal's winning three-run rally in the eighth.

Jersey City dumped Rochester for the third time in two days by grabbing an 11-7 victory for reliefer Ken Brondell. Starter Ken Miller of the Giants hadn't allowed a hit when he was yanked in the fifth after walking four men in succession.

Mike Portner's triple following Joe Buzas' single in the ninth enabled Newark to grab a 5-4 game from Buffalo. Eddie Kobesky's 12th homer gave the Bisons an early lead but Newark spurted for four in the seventh.

Toronto used 18 players but could not stop Syracuse from taking a 9-5 verdict as Lennie Rice drove in four runs with a homer and a single.

Dodgers Win War Bond Ball Tourney

NEW YORK, June 27 — (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers outscored the New York Yankees and Giants, 5-1-0 in a three-cornered game which was the feature event of a war bond show staged by the three greater New York teams under arc lights last night.

An estimated crowd of 50,000 people purchased over $56,500,000 in war bonds to watch the three local clubs meet in one game for the first time in baseball history.

The game was a regular nine-inning affair with each team having six turns at bat and six appearances. Score by innings:

Dodgers	12x 00x 02x—5	9	1
Yankees	0x0 0x0 0x1—1	4	0
Giants	x00 x00 x00—0	2	2

Batteries — Dodgers: Gregg, Branca (7) and Owen, Hayworth (4); Yankees: Lyons, Page (7) and Hemsley, Garbark (4); Giants: Alen, Seward (8), Polli (9) and Lombardi.

Winning pitcher, Gregg. Losing pitchers, Lyons and Allen.

Lights Go On

?JJERUSALEM, June 27 — (CP) — Lights shone last night for the first time in four years in the land of Christianity's birth. For the first time since 1940, the blackout has been lifted partially in the Holy Land provinces of Haifa, Galilee and Samaria.

Lopsided Count Features Girls' Game

Westclox Seniors, backed by steady firing contributed by Aggie Anderson, whipped Outboard Marines 11-1, in a Ladies' Softball League game played Monday evening at Ashburnham Bowl. The match, which was run off in 55 minutes, featured Vera Mitchell's usual neatly done first base chore for the Marines.

Westclox started the ball rolling in the first inning, clipping out four runs, followed in the third by two more. In the fourth frame, Outboard Marines made their first and only bid, with one run completed by Helen Mark. By this time however, Westclox had managed to pile up nine runs, and had the game well in hand. Scoring twice in the seventh, the Big Bens packaged up the final count.

Helen Mark handled the mound work for the Marines and though she tried hard to stem the tide of Westclox hits, the winners garnered 16 blows. Aggie Anderson, gunner for Westclox, held the losers to seven hits.

Bertha Philipps contributed some peachy short-stop work for Marines, assisting in tossing six Big Bens out.

Weak work at bat hindered the Marines more than anything else, but regardless of this handicap, they played a good game.

The teams:

Westclox—Aggie Anderson, p; Nona Whetung, 1b; Isobel Bullock, c; Marg. Hawthorne, 3b; Viola McLean, ss; Barbara Rome, cf; Joyce Withers, lf; Verna Patterson, 2b; Olive Hanwell, rf.

Outboard Marines—Eileen Young, c; Ollie Smith, 2b; Vera Mitchell, 1b; Helen Mark, p; Marjorie Smith, 3b; Faye Kelley, cf; Bertha Philipps, ss; Edna Smith, lf; Mabel Watkins, rf.

Umpires—Payne, plate; Barrett, bases.

ROPES "WILD HORSE" FOR CHAT—The biggest chore facing Stan Hack, Cub infielder, Right, these days, is getting into condition to perform for the Cubs. Just before the game at Wrigley Field, Chicago, Rancher Hack, who recently left his Oregon acres to rejoin the Cubs, met up with Pepper Martin, aging wild horse of the Osage. They had a lot to discuss.

NEW YORK, June 27 — (A P) — That $15,000 bonus the Red Sox paid to young Dick Callahan of New Orleans has started up fresh talk that such payments don't give independent minor league clubs a chance to sign kids that develop right in their own backyards .... It seems that last winter the major-minor post-war committee discussed a proposal to eliminate bonus payments, giving the player a cut in the sale price when he moved up instead .... Since nothing has been done yet, why not substitute the old idea of "territorial right?" .... In that way each minor club would have first chance to sign any prospect in a designated territory .... If some other club wanted him badly enough to pay a big bonus, okay, but it would also have to pay the club whose territory was invaded—say, 50 per cent of the amount given the player .... see any objections?

Bob Pastor, ex-heavyweight title contender has just won his second lieutenant's bars at Miami Beach and has been assigned to Randolph Field, Tex.— where they're liable to forget he was a fighter and remember he once played football for N. Frankie Sinkwich is out of the Maritime Service after considerable training at Sheepshead Bay and may return to the Detroit Lions.... which recalls that coach Gus Dorais recently estimated that full back Harry Hopp's enlistment in the navy left a bigger void in the Lion's attack than Sinkwich's departure.

Jockey Conn McCreary, who last month rode Pensive to victory in the Kentucky Derby, yesterday was suspended for the balance of the meet at Arlington Park, making him ineligible to participate an any racing until August 4. Track stewards ruled that McCreary, on Twosy of Calumet Farms, held back Jockey Al Bodiou on Blue Simmer as they were finishing the fifth race .Twosy finished a nose in front but was placed second with Blue Skimmer first and Surosa third, after the incident.

The U. S. National Intercollegiate golf team championship yesterday was won by Notre Dame with a one-stroke margin over the Universlity of Minnesota, the competition taking place at Toledo, O. Michigan the pre-tourney favorite, finished third.

President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cards yesterday named Joe Mathes, veteran manager as supervisor of the club's Minor League units in succession to Eddie Dyer who is resigning July 1 to enter the oil business.

George Munger, the National League's leading pitcher with a record of 10 wins and one loss ,is leaving the St. Louis Cardinals shortly for active duty with the armed forces, it was announced by Manager Billy Southworth yesterday.

Browns Must Whip Yankee Jinx

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

It's the St. Louis Browns on the first ballot in the popularity convention but Luke Sewell's men still have to prove they can whip the "Yankee jinx" if they're going to win their frist American League pennant.

Four games out in front of second place Chicago and four and a half games ahead of Joe McCarthy's New Yorkers and Boston, virtually tied for third, the Brownies head east for the second time with the shadow of the Yankee stadium darkening their horizon.

They open their eastern trip tomorrow against the world champions whom they have been able to whip but twice in seven starts.

Three times since 192 the St. Louis club has managed third place but never has it generated the coast-to-coast support it is getting his year. The cross roads and byways have awakened to the dramatic thrust of the only team in either major leagues that has never won a pennant.

Seventeen more games remain to be played between the Browns and Yankees and the St. Louis club must step up the pace against New York to hold the top rung.

Both leagues enjoyed a second straight open date to-day but resume action to-morrow with a full chart.

Direct Taxation Provides Half Revenue

OTTAWA, June 27 — (CP). — Canadians in the fiscal year 1943-44 paid in direct taxes on incomes and profits 56.7 per cent of the total Dominion revenue compared with 28.3 per cent in the last pre-war year 1938-39, Finance Minister Ilsley said in his budget address last night.

Total revenue for 1943-44 was estimated at $2,855,701,000, an increase of $536,205,000 or 23 per cent over the previous year or 460 per cent over 1938-39.

Mr. Ilsley said that of the total revenue in 1943-44, it was estimated that $155,000,000—of which $115,000,000 is in personal income tax—will be refunded after the war under provisions of the Income War Tax Act and the Excess Profits Tax Act.

This is in addition to the $70,000,000 refundable out of taxes collected in the previous fiscal year, making a total to the end of 1943-44 of $225,000,000 repayable after the war.

"A prominent feature of the overall picture for the year was again the large part played by direct taxation," said Mr. Ilsley.

"This form of tax is generally recognized as being most equitable, since it is possible in levying it to take account of family responsibilities in the case of the individual and impose a burden in proportion to the taxpayers ability to meet it.

"When levied on corporation incomes at high rates under both the excess profits tax and the corporation income tax it assures that no abnormal or unreasonable profits should be derived from production for the war effort."

Fierce fighting is in progress astride Highway 71, which leads to Siena, about 30 airline miles south of Florence, the communique said. Last reports had American and French troops battling up that road less than 16 miles from Siena.

The Mediterranean Army air force announced that at least 55 enemy planes were destroyed yesterday in giant air battles over the Vienna area, when the enemy sent the largest fighter force encountered in recent weeks into the skies against up to 750 American heavy bombers and their escort.

The Allies lost a total of 44 planes, including 36 heavy bombers.

Last night R.A.F. heavies poured two-ton block busters on the Aquila oil refinery at Trieste, causing fires and explosions which left much of the plant in ruins.

Budget Deficit

spending be curtailed until after the war.

The sales of securities to the public totalling $2,947,200 in two Victory Loans and the continuous War Savings Certificate and Stamp selling were the largest in volume for any year yet.

"But probably it will have to be exceeded in the present year," he said.

In his last speech in 1943 the Minister complained there had been too much borrowing from the banks in 1942-43. He said that was not healthy and more should be obtained by the sale of securities.

His speech last night indicated his goal was achieved although he made no specific reference to bank borrowing. In 1942-43 borrowing from the public at $1,070,000,000 was less than half the peak attained this year. To obtain the necessary funds the Minister had to borrow from the Bank of Canada and chartered banks to the extent of $983,000,000.

Canada's gross unmatured funded debt stood at $10,689,000,000 on March 31, against $8,842,000000 a year earlier. Of the total 97 per cent was held in Canada and the annual interest charge was $274,000,000 or an average rate of 2.57 per cent.

Income Doubles

The size of the debt should be placed in perspective. While it had increased national income had also increased, doubled since was started, it was almost wholely domestic. Payments in interest went into the pockets of taxpayers. It was well distributed among probably not less than 60 per cent of the income-earners.

"These are reasons why I have confidence in the ability of the country to carry this debt and in the soundness and stability of these bonds as an investment," he said.

Income tax receipts contributed heavily to the higher revenue showing a 52 per cent gain over the preceding year to $813,000,000.

The national income estimate was up roughly 12 per cent over the previous year, Mr. Ilsley said, and apart from pay to the forces the largest increase was in farm incomes.

may qualify as dependent relatives; the allowances for children are extended to cover all children dependent on the taxpayer for support and include illegitimate children; persons employing a housekeeper in supporting a dependent child are given an additional tax credit of $108; and married persons separated but not divorced may claim $150 credit through supporting dependent relatives in a domestic establishment.

The regulations covering deductions for medical expenses have been broadened to include expenses incurred outside Canada and to allow the taxpayer to claim for any 12-month period ending in the calendar year.

Employees who receive a lump amount of cash for long service may spread this over five years as income rather than having to consider it as income in a single year; regulations affecting alimony payments are eased; and increased tax assistance is provided blind persons.

Interest on taxes not paid on the due date is reduced from five to four per cent. and contributions through trade union dues to an approved pension fund may be deducted from income. Persons more than 65 years of age who are not in receipt of income of more than $5,000 a year may make immediate claim for the refundable portion of their tax held by the Government.

The minister spoke of suggestions that "drastic changes" should be made in the tax structures as it affects mining and oil producing industries. While the government was well aware of the importance of a comprehensive natural resources program such a plan should be worked out in co-operation with the provinces and would be a topic of discussion at the forthcoming Provincial-Dominion conference.

Meantime the oil shortage was acute and in an effort to find new supply sources special aid was being offered under restricted conditions.

To Stimulate Trade.

In introducing the tariff changes, in which interest centred in the removal of duties and war exchange tax on farm implements, Mr. Ilsley outlined the general tariff policy of the government.

He referred to discussions among Canadian officials and representatives of other countries in which, he said, Canada's view of the need "for a bold initiative in the orderly and agreed unshackling of world trade" had been pressed.

"The government continues to have the most lively appreciation of the importance to this country, and, indeed, to all other trading countries, of entering a post-war world which has been freed, or is assuredly being freed not only from the extraordinary wartime restrictions on trade, but also from the high tariffs, quotas, import licensing and other restrictive and discriminatory trade practices which so paralyzed and dwarfed world trade in the inter-war years."

The time had not yet come when Canada could present comprehensive tariff changes, but the government wished to indicate the direction in which it was faced and to give agriculture some assurance of the conditions it might experience in the post-war period.

received attention, but no action from Mr. Ilsley. He drew comparisons between Canadian taxes and those levied in other countries and said that in the low income groups the position of Canadians was not unfavorable.

Refunds Over 65

Removal of the compulsory savings and the consequent reduction of deductions was hoped to combat the tendency toward absenteeism and hesitancy to work overtime which hampered war production.

Another amendment provides for persons over 65 years with incomes not exceeding $5,000 to make immediate application for the refundable portion of their tax. Compulsory savings did not apply to persons with incomes under $5,000 when they passed 65.

Officials said there would not be an automatic refund. Application wuold have to be made.

tank battles were raging as the Germans gave ground six or seven miles from Caen.

Despite weather which robbed the British units of Allied aerial cover, the advance was continuing, according to latest front dispatches.

Fire 12 Miles

Added to the great land barrage was the explosion of naval shells hurled some 12 miles inland by Allied naval vessels standing off the Normandy coast, William Stewart, another CP War Correspondent, reported.

All the Caen area is within range of these floating batteries, and Gen. Montgomery is expected to make good use of them.

There now seems every indication that Field Marshall Rommel will defend Caen to the last, and an even greater battle than that fought for Cherbourg may develop as Montgomery seeks to break out of the bridgehead area, in which his troops have been contained into the open country.

Quite Nonchalant

CHICAGO, June 27—(AP).—As the street car approached an intersection the motorman fainted and slumped to the floor. The trolley shot ahead through a red light and the runaway car headed for a huge truck. Myron Morrison, 14, stepped to the controls, shut off the power and applied the air brakes—the car screeched to a stop inches from the rear of the truck. Morrison, who has always wanted to be a street car motorman, said: "Aw, it wasn't much. I didn't even get a chance to ring the bell."

Canadians Must Buy More Victory Bonds

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP).— Finance Minister Ilsley said in his budget address last night that sales of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates reached their highest volume in the fiscal year 1943-44 "but probably it will have to be exceeded in the present year."

Sale of securities and stamps, including conversion sales, totalled $2,947,200,000 in 1943-44.

"It is estimated that there are at lease 2,500,000 persons holding War and Victory bonds and perhaps more than 3,500,000 individuals holding War Savings certificates," said the Minister.

Costs of public borrowing operations were low—about 87 cents for each $100 of securities sold. This was "a proud record of accomplishmen," by the National War Finance Orgánization and volunteer workers and the support given Victory Loans by Canadian organizations and services.

Mr. Ilsley said he wished to repeat that when persons sold their bonds or had their certificates redeemed they were withdrawing help they had given in providing materials of war and fighting the home-front battle against inflation.

"Emergency needs for cash are one thing," he continued.

"Unnecessary spending, financed by the turning of bonds or certificates into cash is quite another. Unnecessary spending at this time is a betrayal of our obligation to the men who are risking their lives and dying in the great battle for world freedom."

A reserve of savings would be of great value after the war when materials and productive facilities could again be devoted to civilian use and more and better-quality goods would be on sale.

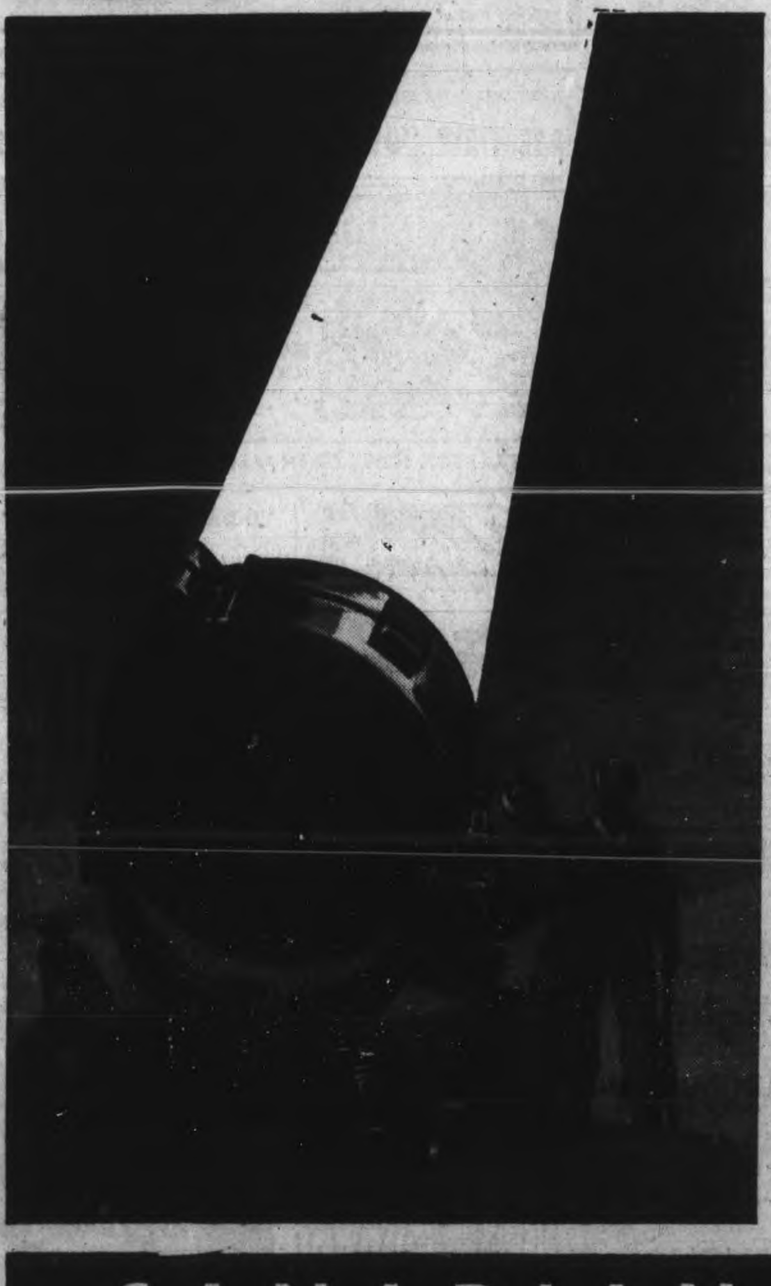
Salute to Canada's Armed Forces



● At this critical time, when the armed services of the Dominion are fighting mighty battles, all Canada is paying tribute to the spirit and courage of the men in khaki, navy and air force blue.

With confidence and with pride, we wish them swift and overwhelming success, and pledge ourselves anew to do everything in our power to speed the production of urgently needed arms and equipment. We rededicate our effort, our determination, to maintain unchecked the flow of war material from our plants.

Day in and day out the ten thousand men and women of C.G.E. are devoting their experience, resourcefulness and skill to the all-important task of producing arms for our fighting men, and electrical equipment for Canada's vast and vital war industry—to hasten Victory!

BACK FROM ITALY—Pte. Kenneth W. Armitage (Left) of the 48th Highlanders, has returned home from Italy, where he was wounded Christmas Day in the battle raging near Ortona. German machine-gun bullets laced his arm and grazed his head. A brother, Raymond Armitage (Right) is at present a member of the Invasion forces, and his parents received word Monday that he was safe. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Armitage, 171 Rubidge Street.

Main Street Topics

HE'S A MAJOR.

Neil Gemmell, who was listed in Monday night's paper as captain, should have been accredited the rank of Major, a rank which he has held for more than a year with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders. He worked on the office staff at Canada Packers before the war.

AN INTERSECTION CLASH.

A truck belonging to the Farmer's Co-operative and driven by Norman J. McMurchy, 384 Dobbin avenue and an auotmobile driven by E. M. Sollitt, 180 Romaine street were damaged in a collision at Charlotte and Rubidge streets early Monday evening. No one was hurt. McMurchy was making a left turn off Rubidge street to go west on Charlotte street and the other vehicle was crossing Charlotte street when the two came into contact.

FOUR CASUALTIES.

The names of four Peterborough district men appear in the Army casualty list to-day. They are: Pte. H. A. McPherson, husband of Mrs. Thelma McPherson, wounded, remaining on duty; Gnr. John A. Gordon, whose wife Mrs. Hilda Gordon, lives in Cobourg, injured; Gnr. A. M. Kingsborough, son of Mrs. James Kingsborough, Lindsay, seriously wounded; and Tpr. George J. Beaulieu, grandson of Mrs. Frank Dodge, Calabogie, slightly wounded.

BLOOD DONORS.

Eighty-seven blood donors were present at the Clinic on Monday, with 30 from the C.G.E. and the Genelco groups of employees from other plants, including Peterborough Lumber Co., Quaker Oats, B. F. Ackerman, Canada Packers, and Westclox. Out-of-town donors came from Keene, Bridgenorth, Ida, Lakehurst, Havelock, Norwood, Lily Lake, and Lakefield. An 11th donation was made by Dr. G. R. Penhall, and 10th donations were contributed by Howard Blewett, Joseph Rowan, and Fred McNeely.

VATICAN CITY MAIL

The Post Office has announced that regular mail service is now being resumed to the Vatican City State. Air Mail service, however, is not available.

IT MUST BE HOT

When main streeters were talking more about the weather than they were about the budget this morning the conclusion is inevitable that this was a hot day. The official statistics bear out the opinion. The noon temperature reading was 82 degrees.

BOYS AT CAMP.

Seven officers and 34 Sea Cadets left Monday morning to spend two weeks at the Sea Cadet camp in Gananoque. Four more officers and 11 boys, the latter having had to remain behind for examinations, expect to join them Saturday.

A BLANK DAY.

It was an absolute blank in the police court this morning. Owing to the holiday season a magistrate would not have been available in any event and there was no business had a cadi been on hand, as the police reported a quiet night with scarcely a complaint to investigate.

GETTING MORE TICKETS

Although police officers are distributing more than the usual number of tickets these days to motorists who persist in parking in illegal areas or during prohibited hours, drivers keep on violating the parking regulations. The number of $1 fines for this offence is increasing.

PARCELS FOR FRANCE

Postal authorities have announced that parcels may be sent Canadian soldiers in France on the same plan that has been followed in order areas. Parcels up to 11 pounds in weight may be mailed at 12 cents an ounce and should be addressed to the soldier, giving his number and unit plus "Canadian Army Overseas." Nothing perishable should be enclosed and of course matches are out.

Obituaries

MRS. GEORGE A. PATOINE

Mrs. George A. Patoine, who lived most of her life in Peterborough, moving with her family to Toronto four years ago, passed away on Monday in East General Hospital after a long illness. Born in Oshawa the eldest daughter of James and Jane Garrow, she was educated here and was a faithful member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, belonging to the Church Women's Association.

Mrs. Patoine is survived by her husband, George A. Patoine, who for 30 years was associated with the Lech Fur Co. here in town; and by a daughter, Margaret. She also leaves a brother, Willis Garrow of Peterborough, and two sisters; Mrs. Reg. Turner of Peterborough and Mrs. Stanley Taylor of Keene.

The remains have been brought to Peterborough and interment will take place in Little Lake cemetery.

DIANNE CAROL BONNER.

Dianne Carol Bonner 4 months' old daughter of Thomas Bonner and Mrs. Bonner, the former Olla Post, died to-day in St. Joseph's Hospital, after a two-day illness. Her parents live at R. R. No. 7, Peterborough. The child was the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Post, 133 Romaine street and a great-granddaughter of Mrs. E. Avery, Havelock. Four brothers, Robert Eric, Edwin and Paul, and two sisters, Shirley and Anne, also remain.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 p.m from the Comstock Funeral Home, 305 Water Street, with service conducted by Rev. F. W. Craik. Interment in Little Lake Cemetery.

ISAAC JOHNSON.

LAKEFIELD, June 27.—(ENS).—The funeral of Isaac Johnson, 68 years of age, who died at his home at Burleigh Falls recently, was conducted from the Burleigh Falls church by Rev. Walter Crone, of Peterborough.

Born in Hastings township he was the son of Isaac Johnson and Sara Spencer. A guide and a trapper, he was well known in Burleigh district, where he resided for 17 years. He died following a sickness of two years' duration. He is survived by his wife, Ruth Chase, and four sons, Pte. Delles Johnson at the 2nd Convalescent Depot in England, Pte. Josh Johnson with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, and Stanley and Gerald at home; also one brother, Johiah of Cruve Lake, and a half brother, Alfred Copperway.

Interment was at Cruve Lake cemetery.

MRS. SARAH JANE NUGENT.

A pioneer resident of the Peterborough district, Mrs. Sarah Jane Nugent, 563 Gilmour street, passed away this morning in her 90th year after an illness of five weeks.

Born in Cartwright Township, the daughter of the late Thomas Dever and Lurena Roseborough, Mrs. Nugent spent most of her life in Smith Township coming to reside in the city in 1931. She was a member of the Church of England. Her husband, James Nugent, predeceased her in 1916.

Two daughters and a son survive. They are Mrs. W. Duggan, Peterborough; Mrs. Earl McKercher, Omemee; and Harry, Peterborough. She also leaves two brothers, W. J. Dever and Alec, both of Young's Point.

The funeral will take place on Thursday at 2 p.m from the Nesbett Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street, Capt. W. I. D. Smith officiating. Interment in Lakefield Cemetery.

DOCTORS ON CALL

The Peterborough Doctors are observing Wednesday Afternoon as a Half-Holiday throughout the year. Those on call on Wednesday Afternoon and Evening of this week are Dr. Hammond, Dr. G. R. Scott, Dr. Moffat, Dr. McCulloch.

Men Sleep 5 Hours In Four-Day Battle

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hanes, 201 Stewart Street, received a letter on Monday from their son, Pte. Gordon Hanes, serving with the North Nova Scotia Highlanders in France.

The letter was written on June 10, after four days of heavy fighting. He described the going as tough at times, but said the boys were in high spirits, and so far had always come out on top. They had had only five hours of sleep since landing on D-Day.

Pte. Hanes went overseas in September, 1943, and was formerly a member of the C.A.B.T.C. staff here. He was employed at W. R. Turner's. His wife lives at 201 Stewart Street.

Budget Terms Satisfy Great Majority

Peterborough isn't surprised to discover there will be no new tax increases during the coming fiscal year, as outlined by Finance Minister Ilsley in his latest war budget. Although most people are elated to find the compulsory savings tax will be removed July 1, 1944, the man-on-the-street is most delighted about the abolishing of import restrictions on luxuries from the United States, which will come about August 1, 1944.

"Now I can get a few bird cages for my canaries," smiled W. J. Welch, Hunter street. "I don't think there's anything better to improve one's morale than a little luxury. We've taken taxes, liked taxes, and done our best under the circumstances, but it's all beginning to look better now. Personally, I'm very satisfied with the whole thing."

E. A. Outram, city clerk, was of the opinion that the only change that will affect the general public at the present time, was the lifting of the compulsory savings regulation.

"I am glad to see it lifted," Mr. Outram stated. "It has been hard on the low wage earner, and especially the younger workers who are just starting out and have not had time to establish life insurance policies. Without inspecting the details of the budget, I think it is safe to say the removal of tariffs on farm machinery and abolition of the 10 per cent war exchange tax will not make much difference at the present. Due to material shortages, we are not likely to feel the benefit of these changes as long as the war is on."

Remarkable Showing

C. S. Cummer, manager of the Peterborough branch, Bank of Montreal, said he felt the fact that 55 per cent of the cost of Canada's war effort has been raised by taxation was "a remarkable showing."

"No other country in the world can boast of an effort like that," Mr. Cummer added. He pointed out that removing the compulsory savings regulations was a step in the right direction, because the releasing of these funds, should boost the voluntary sales of war bonds and stamps.

Miss D. Allan, stenographer, said she was prepared to stand an increase. "I don't think we're too heavily taxed," she said, "and with people in Britain and the United States undergoing even greater taxation than us, we could stand a few more taxes."

B. Sargent, district manager of the Great North West Insurance Co., thought the Royal Commission that will study methods of taxation of life annuities, and similar kinds of incomes, the most illuminating feature of the budget. "The money people invest in annuities is capital," he observed, "and when the annuities begin to pay, it is classed as income. I think to have a commission study this is very worth-while."

"Doing away with compulsory savings tax is an intelligent move on the part of the finance department," advanced B. Austin, Charlotte street.

"We can now borrow on that portion already deducted, and use it as collateral," he said.

Buys More Stamps

Mr. Austin doesn't think removal of import restrictions on luxuries from the United States will have any immediate effect here. He cited material shortages in the States, and the high price of commodities will curb the immediate effect of the lifting of restrictions.

One factory worker apparently taking a long-range patriotic view of the financial picture said, "I got along nicely without the earnings taken from me in the form of compulsory savings, so I figure the best thing for me to do is advise my employer after July 1 to deduct from my pay an amount equal to the savings, and apply it on war savings stamps. In that way I won't handle the money, will build up an extra nest-egg, help finance the war, and will get along the same as I did while the money was being taken from me whether I liked it or not."

Several people, bluntly stated this budget is "typical election bait." None would elaborate on this idea, however.

Prisoner-of-War Parcels Can Be Sent U.S.

Arrangements whereby persons in Canada may transmit parcels to enemy prisoners of war in the United States have been completed by the post office, it was announced today. Persons desiring to mail such parcels must apply to the Prisoners of War Next-of-Kin Division, Department of National War Services, Ottawa, and prove that (a) he or she is a bona fide resident of this country; (b), that he or she is a first degree relative of the prisoner of war; and (c) that the prisoner of war concerned is not regularly receiving parcels from some other source.

A label to be affixed to such parcels will then be issued to the sender every three months. The weight limit is 11 pounds and other provisions of Canadian regulations governing parcels for prisoners of war will apply. No postage is required.

Dog Owners Warned Must Purchase Tags

Peterborough dog owners are warned that there is likely to be action along the canine front if there is not an immediate move to purchase 1944 dog tags.

It is estimated that Peterborough now shelters in the neighborhood of 1,300 dogs of known and unknown pedigree and it is known that not more than one-third of the owners of these animals have so far compiled with the municipal by-law requiring dogs to be licensed.

Police court proceedings are to be inaugurated against delinquent owners with the result that they may find themselves called upon to pay fines and in addition of course will have to take out the necessary license.

War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

June 27, 1940—British patrols penetrated 20 miles into Italian Somaliland. Romania yielded to Russian demands for Bessarabia and northern Bucovina and control of the Danube. British Supply Minister Morrison announced munitions orders totalling £5,000,000 had been placed in Canada in three weeks.

Decoration Day Sends $55 To War Victims

To some extent, all fraternal organizations receive the most favorable notice in the public eye by what they accomplish for the common good, rather than by what happens within their own select circle, for in the minds of the general public, they thus demonstrate the utility of their associations together as a group.

To the credit of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in general, and the Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges in particular as far as this city and district is concerned, it will ever stand to their credit that they initiated and have continuously carried on for at least fifty years, the very beautiful ceremony connected with what is known as Decoration Day.

This annual remembrance of those who have gone before, and to a large extent pioneered to what is the position that this city holds to-day, has become so widespread that it could without doubt be declared as belonging to the whole city at large, the significance of which is best judged by the universal advantage that is taken by those who have loved ones laying at rest in Little Lake Cemetery, of the ceremonies which are annually conducted by the local lodges of I. O. O. F.

Fellowship Spread Abroad.

To the secretary of the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund was afforded the extreme privilige of making an appeal in person on behalf of the fund to those gathered for this lovely annual event last Sunday afternoon, and it was very easy from the prayer that their chaplain recited, to visualize how well the sending of aid to sufferers from enemy air raid attacks over Britain completely fitted into the whole picture for a portion of it proclaimed that the best way to honor those who had passed on, was to give succor to the distressed and those who were in need and trouble.

Eight members of the Peterborough Women's Service Corps in the persons of Marion Thomas, Phyllis Dummitt, Milo Payne, Celestine Metcalfe Mary Lawrence, Dorothy Simmons, Margaret Lowe and Gladys Latchford, through the kind co-operation of their commander, Miss F. Mitchell were present for the occasion and assisted by taking up the collection which amounted to the nice sum of $55.50, which should be on its way to London before the end of this current week, linking the fellowship of this beautiful remembrance in this city, to the hearts of those who are in need across the waters, and will thus benefit through its being held.

This marks the third annual occasion that help has been sent by those who were present to honor the memory of those who have passed on, and the writer can hardly help but feel that the combining of these two acts of remembrane and mercy, almost brings the former into the realm of the eternal.

Accompanying this nice contribution to-day, is another from Sidney C. Boyles of Cavan, who has given in a personal way on many occasions to help the war torn sufferers in Britain, and its typical of the donor to come forward with further help when he knows its need, for during the last Great War, he offered all he had by serving in the active service in defence of the nation's freedom, which then as now, was threatened by a very ruthless enemy.

Budget Highlights

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP).—Highlights of the fiscal portion of Finance Minister Ilsley's budget speech to the House of Commons last night:

Estimated expenditures for 1943-44 are $5,360,000,000 and estimated revenues $2,701,000,000, indicating a deficit of $2,659,000,000.

• • • •

Revenues met slightly more than 50 per cent. of expenditures.

• • • •

Gross unmatured funded debt at March 31, 1944, estimated at $10,689,000,000 of which 97 per cent. was held in Canada.

• • • •

While the funded debt has increased slightly more than three times in the past five years the annual interest charges have risen 2¼ times.

• • • •

National income increased approximately 12 per cent. in 1943-44, with the largest relative increase going to farmers.

• • • •

Successful maintenance of the price control policy through the period of fighting and the subsequent readjustment period will be even more important than in the past and will be at least equally difficult.

• • • •

Income tax receipts for the year were $813,000,000, an increase of 52 per cent. from 1942-43.

• • • •

It is estimated that at least 2,500,000 persons hold War and Victory Bonds and perhaps more than 3,500,000 individuals have War Savings Certificates.

• • • •

New records in sale of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates may be necessary in the present fiscal year.

Interest on the public debt for the year was $243,000,000, accounting for $54,000,000 of the total $89,000,000 increase in ordinary expenditures.

SERVIG IN FRANCE—Word has been received that Spr. Gordon Mullen is serving in France with an engineering unit. Spr. Mullen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mullen of Smith, and his wife lives at 255 Reid Street. The letter notifying his family of his whereabouts stated that he was writing them from a house which had been taken from the Germans only a few hours before. A brother, Lorne, is serving with the R.C.N.V.R.

Soldier Notices Neat Streets Of Home Town

Returning to Peterborough for the first time in eight years, Cpl. Harold B. Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Wyman, 500 Aylmer street, is fascinated by the bright, clean aspect of the city and the contrast of its newly painted store fronts with the shabby shops and houses of the England he left recently after living there since 1936 and all through the war years.

"It breaks your heart to see the rubble of the bombed out towns," Cpl. Wyman says, "and no place has had a fresh coat of paint since the war began."

Arriving in Canada aboard a hospital ship, Cpl. Wyman has been invalided home and will soon return to civilian life. He is seeing his wife, who returned to Canada in 1940, for the first time in over four years, and his two children, Bill, 6, and Margaret, 4. His daughter was only three months old when he last saw her. Cpl. Wyman, who was born and brought up in Peterborough and attended the Collegiate, plans to live here now.

He lived in South America for three years before going with his wife in 1936 to England, where he established a silk business. He closed the business in 1940 and enlisted with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps of the 3rd Canadian Division in January, 1941, later transferring to Canadian Army Headquarters to which he has been attached the past year and a half, as an administrative clerk.

No Fuss Made

Cpl. Wyman was in England on Invasion Day though he had left before the German rocket bombs began to hurtle across the Channel. So thorough were the preparations and so smooth the organization that he said, his only indication of anything out of the ordinary happening before the first reports from the BBC came in, was having the morning paper delivered three hours late.

British kindness and courage came in for a large measure of praise from this soldier, who remarked on the thoughtful manner in which Canadians were treated everywhere they went in the British Isles. "You get really fond of England once you get to know it," Cpl. Wyman said.

He was enthusiastic over the educational facilities provided by the Canadian Legion, by means of which, as he put it, "you can learn everything from poultry-raising to chartered accounting." He thought that young soldiers would be returning after the war, because of opportunities like these, far better educated and more abreast of current events than was the generation of the First World War; and that as a result, they would be in a stronger position to get from rehabiliation plans that which was their due.

Like other servicemen who have returned on recent sailings of hospital ships and travelled from Eastern Canada by trains to their homes, Cpl. Wyman was agreeably surprised at the excellence of all the arrangements and accommodation. "It was fine on the ship," he said, "and the train was luxury itself compared to the ordinary troop train. I actually had a berth to myself. It was surprising to see all along the route people gathered at each station to greet us as we passed through. We got everything we wanted you couldn't spend a penny."

DIES IN ITALY—Pte. John Allen, son of Fred Allen, 206 Braidwood Avenue, is reported to have died in a German military hospital in Northern Italy, according to word received here from the German authorities. He was first reported missing in October, 1943. Pte. Allen formerly attended the Collegiate here.

Sunday School Observes Anniversary

The Sunday School anniversary and flower day was held in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday. Dr. E. W. Young conducted the service with Walter Morrow at the organ, and Eleanor Shirley at the piano.

The young people took part in the service, presenting the following program: Gordon Johnston read the lesson and the Sunday School choir, trained by Walter Morrow the pianist of the school, sang two hymns, showing careful preparation. The Salvation Army Junior Band, under Bandmaster Gerald Routley played four enjoyable selections. Dorothy Dundney sang a solo, and the junior congregation, with Ruth McNeely in charge, sang three choruses. The primary classes under Margaret Emerson and Allwyn Jones sang two hymns.

At the close of the service Angus Munroe presented Darrell Heffernan with a trophy for having the best attendance in her class throughout the year. Prizes were also given to those members of the junior congregation who had attended 30 or more Sundays. Mrs. F. W. Harris' class decorated the church with flowers. It was announced that the average attendance at the school has been consistently higher in this year than in the previous year. A prelude to the service, "Ave Maria" and the offertory "On Wings of Song" were played as musical duets on organ and piano.

Special reference was made by Dr. Young to the deep interest taken by the late Mrs. J. A. McKone in the spiritual welfare of the young people of St. Andrew's Church and appreciation was expressed of the work of the two previous superintendents of the school, Dr. C. M. Scott and J. A McKone, "we are reaping today the result of their labors."

Lt. Alex Carlisle Has Reputation Of Being Luckiest Man In Navy

AN INVASION PORT, June 27—(Special to The Examiner)— The story of how Lieut. Alex Carlisle, R.C.N.V.R., of Peterborough miraculously escaped death on "D" day is fast gaining for him the reputation of being the luckiest guy in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Alex is first lieutenant on a Canadian-manned LCI (L) — landing craft, infantry, light. LCI(L)'s have two troop landing ramps which thurst forward and down as the craft beaches. Alex, was standing on the forward end of one of these, making some adjustments, about 400 yards from the shore line, when the ship hit a mine.

The ramp up-ended, and crashed him against the bow of the ship. He hit the water with such force that for minutes he seemed to be going down, down . . . actually it was seconds . . . Alex thought of the slip-stream from the ship, sucking everything near the hull up and into the deadly propellers. He began to swim, and just then felt the hard steel of the keel butting his shoulders.

"That's when I decided it was all over—but I didn't stop fighting to get away, although my buoyant life jacket kept pulling me up. Next thing I knew I had popped up on the other side of the ship, quite safe, and it was slipping away from me. It just wasn't my time to visit Davy Jones' locker."

There was an LCT a half mile away and Alex, nursing only a few bruises, struck out for it in leisurely fashion. He arrived an hour later, and was transferred back to a Canadian LCI (L) that afternoon.

His ship, down by the bows, crashed-landed on the beach and discharged all of her troops except a few who were killed by the explosion. Although the ship was "in a sinking condition" her captain, Lieut. David Botly, R.C.N.V.R., of Port Arthur, nursed her back to the safety of a dry dock for repairs.

SECOND CHILDHOOD.

Whether or not a "Back to Childhood" movement has commenced we're not certain but the fact remains the male employees of one of the city's posh eating-places were having plenty of fun sporting yo-yo's the other evening. No one seems to know just where the play-things came from, but if the public refrains from eating for a few days, those boys in the kitchen should be able to do everything with the gadgets. —D. M.

NEWEST AND SMARTEST — This is quite the smartest and most popular high-style coat of many a year. Practically every top designer has her version of it ... the belted, tunic length, broad shouldered coat of dark satin or faille for after-dark dress-up wear. Note the bulky effect above the waist, and the way the coat skirt swings out, from L85's fabric conservation skirts. The bracelet-length sleeve, cut with swank width, is another integral feature of this smart wrap.—By Prunella Wood.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP

Nearly everyone —young and old —likes a nice pudding. There are many puddings you can make with the fruit, but to-day I am only going to give you a few recipes. Try each one, you will not be disappointed in any one of them.

Strawberry Tapioca Pudding.

2½ tablespoons quick cooking tapioca ⅓ cup sugar, 1 cup of water, few grains of salt, 1¼ cups crushed strawberries, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ cup whipping cream. Mix tapioca, sugar and salt, add water. Bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly, remove from the heat, cool stirring occasionally. Fold in strawberries and lemon juice. Whip cream slightly stiff, fold in.

Walnut Prune Pudding.

½ cup rice, 3 cups milk, 1-3 cup sugar, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ cup chopped walnut meats, two teaspoons grated lemon rind, 2 egg yolks, 2 egg whites, 6 tablespoons sugar. Wash rice thoroughly in cold running water and drain. Combine with milk, cover, cook over hot water about one hour, or until tender. Add 1-3 cup sugar, salt, nutmeg, prunes, nut meats and lemon rind. Beat egg yolks, add rice mixture. Pour into baking dish. Beat egg whites stiff, gradually add 6 tablespoons sugar, beating constantly. Swirl on rice mixture and bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F) for 20 minutes. Will serve six people.

Lemon Sponge Pudding.

Half cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 2 egg whites. Mix sugar, flour and salt, beat egg yolks slightly, add milk. Add lemon juice and rind. Beat egg whites stiff, fold in. Pour into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven 45 minutes. Chill and serve.

Strawberry Orange Cup.

Two cups strawberries, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind. Wash strawberries, hull and sprinkle with sugar. Add orange juice and rind and chill. Serve with thin custard or whipped cream.

Flt. Lt. J. Kelly Wed In Ottawa

CAMPBELFORD, June 27. —(ENS).—In St. Mary's Church, Ottawa, on Saturday, with Rev. Father Clement Braceland officiating, the marriage of Miss Christine Janet Mullen, daughter of Mrs. J. Mullen, to Flight Lieut. J. M. (Pat) Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelly, of Campbellford, was solemnized.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, James McKee, and was attended by Miss Phyllis Merrill. Pilot Officer Joseph J. Kelly recently returned from overseas, was best man for his brother. Mrs. Stapleton was the organist and Flight Lieut. M. Gelfond and Flight Lieut. A. Tilly acted as ashers.

The bride wore a daytime frock of Venice blue and shoulder-length veil. Her corsage was of red and white roses. The bridesmaid wore a frock of pale rose with hat to match and corsage of Sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 135 Sherwood drive, the bride receiving in a dress of pale green; her aunt, Mrs. Rayden Hughes, in blue; and the groom's mother in gold silk jersey, after which the young couple left by motor for Muskoka, the bride travelling in navy blue and white jersey with straw hat of navy.

They will take up residence at 214 Metcalfe street, Ottawa.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelly, of Campbellford; Miss Loretta Kelly, Goderich; Mrs. F. Fitzpatrick, Belleville; Miss E. M. Fenlon, Port Arthur; Mr. McLean Donald, Campbellford, and Flight Lieut. J. Snider, of Gimley, Manitoba.

Y.W. Girls Discuss Post War Plans

Post-war planning, and the part that the Y. W. C. A. can play in this important field were subjects of discussions held over the week-end at Camp Inglestane, by Miss D. McCrae, of the National Council, Y. W. C. A., Toronto, and a group of girls from the Peterborough "Y. W." Miss McCrae led in the discussions. The week-end was sponsored by the Girls' Council of the Y. W. C. A., but any girl interested in these vital problems was welcome.

Those present were: Mrs. Vera Walsh, and Misses Iris Forbes, Flora Metcalfe, June Wallis, Pauline Humphries Betty Detcher, Hilda McConkey, June McConkey, Dorothy Lemmon, Jean Carew, Doris Royea Marguerite Royea, M. McNeill, Doreen Lord, Isabel Pierce, Dorothy Hepburn, Doris Graham, Dale Duggan, and Margaret Gray.

Camp Inglestane officially opens on Friday, and a good registration for July has been booked. August is being more or less reserved for business girls, who want to spend a restful holiday in pleasant surroundings, and registration is still open.

War Workers List Year's Donations

Final results of the season's work, and the recent garden tea sponsored by the North-End War Workers, have been announced by Mrs. G. S. Kingdon, president, and Mrs. G. H. Simpson, secretary-treasurer, in addition to a list of donations made from the funds of the group. Donations are as follows: For burned-out family, $5, and a quilt; Milk for Britain Fund, $25; Red Cross, $45; British War Victims Fund, $50; Red Shield, $35, and three quilts to add to the four quilts already given to this cause. These donations have left a small balance on hand in the treasury to start work next September. Members, however, have all undertaken to complete a certain amount of work during the summer months.

Personals and Social

Pte. Monica O'Dell, C.W.A.C., of Toronto, nee Monica Conway, spent the week-end in Peterborough at her home, 374 Grady avenue.

Ord. Smn. Don. Davis, R.C.N.V.R., has now returned to his post in Kingston, after spending the week-end with his parents, Mr and Mrs. D. L. Davis, Bolivar street.

Friends of Mrs. W. J. Hickey, 213 Simcoe street, will be sorry to learn that she is in St. Joseph's Hospital, suffering from a sudden serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dimmock, of Detroit, spent the week-end in Peterborough as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Whaley, 509 Water street, and have now returned home.

Bdr. Roy Brown and Gnr. John Price, of the Maritime Royal Artillery, are spending their furloughs with the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Price, 643 Gilchrist street.

Mrs. J. B. Hills, of London, is leaving today to return to her home, after spending the past ten days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hills, 490 Dickson street.

S.B.A. Jack LeBarr, R.C.N.V.R., of H.M.C.S. Naden, in western Canada, is spending a furlough with his wife, 547 Rogers street and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth LeBarr, William street.

Misses Dorothy and Jean Mann are spending their vacations at their home, in Smith. Miss Jean Mann has just passed into third year of Commerce and Finance, with first class honors, at the University of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Howson have announced the engagement of their elder daughter, Agnes Isobel Howson, to Harold C. (Toby) Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wells, Peterborough. The wedding will take place the latter part of July.

Two Showers Given

Mrs. Paul Robert Evans, nee Agnes Reid, was entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. M. Wood, Aylmer street, by her girl associates of the flag department, J. J. Turner and Sons. Misses Lenore Stewart and Verna Hope entertained at a cup and saucer shower, when about twenty guests were present. Her fellow employees of the J. J. Turner Company presented Mrs. Evans with a travelling bag, as a wedding present.

Several Visitors At Centre

Attendance at the Uptown Recreation Centre was much better in the evening than the afternoon on Sunday, so lunch was served to the soldiers following the regular Sunday evening sacred sing song. This is to become a general practice for the summer months, since afternoon attendance is lower. About 30 hostesses were in attendance, for games and community singing in the afternoon, and the sacred singing was led by Pte Harold Wright, with Mrs. E. Norman at the piano.

Several airmen from Trenton and Picton visited the Centre over the week-end as well as a CWAC from Ottawa, 12 soldiers from Camp Borden, formerly stationed in Peterborough, and two corporals from Kingston.

Friends Honor Mrs. L. Mahood

Prior to her marriage to Lorne Noble Mahood, Muriel Mable Smith was entertained several times by her friends. Misses Violet Weaver and Thelma Revoy were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the former's home. During an evening spent in dancing and playing games, the bride-elect received many lovely gifts, in a decorated basket. Lunch was served by the hostesses. Misses Edna and Dawn Ephgrave were hostesses at their home, when Sunday School friends of the bride-elect presented her with a wine and white hassock, and a corsage of flowers.

Miss Mary Herlihey, Stewart street was hostess for another presentation, when Miss Smith received a Kenwood blanket from her friends. The girls of the setting department of the Brinton Carpet held a shower in the canteen recently. After a supper prepared by Mrs. M. Krogh, Mrs. R. Millen and Miss Mary Herlihey, the bride opened her gifts at a table decorated in pink and white.

Galipeau-Guyatt Vows Solemnized

BAILIEBORO, June 27—(ENS)—A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of Our Lady of Mercy in Port Hope Saturday morning at 9 a.m., when Myrtle Ann May Guyatt, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Guyatt of Bailieboro was united in marriage to Joseph Edmond Galipeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Galipeau of Rochester, N.Y. Rev. J. J. Guiry officiated at the ceremony.

The church was decorated with pink peonies and orange blossoms and the wedding music was played by Miss C. Gordon, while Miss Josephine Cancilla of Peterborough sang during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in heavenly blue sheer with brocaded yoke, full length sleeves and gathered skirt and the gown was buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons from the neck to waistline. For ornament she wore a pearl necklace. Her shoulder-length veil of blue net was caught with blue flowers and she carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Angeline Burns of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid in a lovely frock of pink sheer and wore a cap of pink flowers. She carried a bouquet of Bettertime roses.

Armand Galipeau, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Melville Guyatt, brother of the bride and Mr. Gaston Galipeau, brother of the groom.

A reception for about 60 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents at which the bride's mother wore a two-piece figured blue dress with white accessories and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a black crepe dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The couple left for a motor trip to points east, the bride wearing a two-piece dress of floral cocoa brown with beige hat and accessories. Upon their return the couple will reside near Bailieboro.

Guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. A. Croft and Mr. and Mrs. John Galipeau of Rochester, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Galipeau and Mr. John Huber of Montreal, Mr. Gaston Galipeau of Latchford, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Guyatt of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Gregory O'Regan of Oshawa.

Mary Armstrong Wears Mother's Wedding Gown

MILLBROOK, June 27— (ENS). —Against a background of peonies and orange blossoms, which banked the altar in Grace Presbyterian Church, Rev. Walter Patterson performed the ceremony on Saturday afternoon, when Mary Agnes, second daughter of Mrs H. R. Armstrong and the late Mr. Armstrong of Millbrook, became the bride of John Albert Burrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burrow of South Devon, New Brunswick.

Given in marriage by her brother Norman Armstrong of Toronto, the bride wore her mother's wedding dress of embroidered net over satin in a soft, creamy tint, with fitted bodice, high collar, long sleeves, and the skirt extending gracefully into a short train. Her finger-tip veil was of embroidered illusion, caught with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink and gold Rapture roses with bouvardia. White crepe shoes completed her costume.

Attending the bride was her younger sister Miss Esther Armstrong, whose floor-length dress was of white silk net over taffeta of a matching shade. It had a sweetheart neckline and the bolero jacket was of taffeta, and had the short, puffed sleeves, with which three-quarter length white gloves were worn. Her bouquet was of pink Delight roses, sweet peas and blue cornflowers, and she wore a large white hat of mohair straw, with narrow pink and blue ribbon intertwined about the crown and falling to the brim's edge at the back. Silver slippers completed the ensemble.

The groomsman was A. Thompson of Peterborough, M. Bauchier of Toronto played the wedding music, and the ushers were Theodore Sisco of Millbrook and B. Hamilton of Toronto. Following the church ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Armstrong wearing two-piece dress of dusky rose crepe with matching flowers in her off-the-face hat, and corsage of gardenias.

The bride's table was centred with the three-tiered wedding cake and was done in a color scheme of pink and white, with tall white candles in crystal holders. Pouring tea were Miss Maud Finnimore and Mrs. H. A. Fallis, while serving the guests were Mrs. Aubrey Fallis, Miss Joy Howson, and Miss Mary Ridge of Peterborough.

Later Mr. a ndMrs. Burrow left by train for their wedding trip to Montreal and the Laurentians, the bride travelling in a suit of silver grey Alpine cloth, with blouse in soft green tone, matching flowers on her black hat, and green accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Toronto.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, including a number of cheques, and among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Gordon Armstrong and three children, Nancy, Joan, and J. Gordon of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Armstrong of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burrow of South Devon, New Brunswick, Mrs. E. Robbins of Montreal, Miss May O'Brian of Buffalo, N.Y., Mr. Harry and the Misses Mary and Bessie O'Brian of Brunswick, Miss Ruth Robinson of Toronto, Misses Audrey Hatton, Dorothy Franks, Betty Ashdown, and M. Conroy of Peterborough.

Enjoy Picnic At Scout Camp

Although unsettled weather conditions made the attendance at the annual picnic of St. John's Sunday school smaller than usual, the spirits of the group that met at Victoria Park at 1:45 Saturday were not dampened. After a bus ride to the Boy Scout camp at Nassau, during which everyone got acquainted, an afternoon of games and sports was enjoyed, with a refreshment booth.

Victor Coleman was convener of the sports committee, assisted by Mrs. Victor Coleman, Misses A. Stout and Betty Coleman, and Walter Dyer and Robert Borden. Fred Stewart convened arrangements for the booth, assisted by Mrs. Walter Dyer, Mrs. Fred Stewart and Hilton Cryderman. George Groombridge was in charge of the arrangements for the grounds, and Gordon Clegg and B. C. Graham supervised the transportation.

This Week's Best Wartime Recipe

Contributed By Mary Moore Readers

DEAR MARY MOORE—I know that you usually recommend using uncooked oil mayonnaise, but the one I make is a compromise and cheaper and I think better flavor.

Cooked Mayonnaise

(Contributed by Pat's Wife)

One tablespoon butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup boiling water, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, dash of cayenne, ¼ teaspoon mustard, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup salad oil, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar. Melt butter, add flour, blend, then pour over the water and stir until thick. Mix together all dry ingredients and add to the cooked mix. Beat together the yolks and oil with rotary beater then add lemon juice and vinegar. Beat hot sauce into it for 4 minutes. Chill before using. This gives nearly 3 cups and last us a week, and we use salads every day.

I think it is best with green salads, but I have a neighbor who says the only potato salad that is good is made with it. When I use it for fruit salad I add a little sugar and whipped cream to a small amount of it.

I hope you have room to print this as so many people use salads these hot days.

PANNY O'NEIL.

Thanks for doing for me the job I should have done myself—this is indeed an excellent cheap mayonnaise, and would do excellently if I never knew another recipe.

Liberals Voice Loyalty To Harry Nixon

TORONTO, June 27 (CP)—The annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association adjourned today after pledging confidence in the party leadership of former Premier Harry Nixon and hearing Federal Labor Minister Mitchell warn that a campaign being waged by the "Socialist party" might create unfavorable conditions.

Mr. Mitchell told the wind-up banquet last night that the campaign "based largely on emotion being pressed at this time by the Socialist party" might create conditions that would sweep beyond the control of their leaders "and frustrate the best endeavors of reconstruction."

Mr. Mitchell was one of five members of the Federal cabinet at the banquet, the others being Munitions Minister Howe, Revenue Minister Gibson, State Secretary McLarty and Postmaster-General Mulock.

The Socialists, said Mr. Mitchell, if given control of Canada, could put the nation "down the drain for 25 years."

Under Liberal leadership Canada stood in the vanguard of social progress because intelligent direction and leadership by the state "have reached such a high order," said Mr. Mitchell.

"The man best fitted to lead this country into the paths of reconstruction and world peace is the greatest internationalist of your time — William Lyon Mackenzie King."

The gathering yesterday by resolution expressed confidence in Mr. Nixon's leadership and pledged united support. Mr. Nixon said the party was defeated in the Ontario election last August because those in authority got out of touch with the people. He said he was not offering any alibis for the defeat and that "temporary defeats at the polls have to be accepted philosophically."

A. J. Haines of Jordan, Ont., was elected president of the Association in succession to Lt.-Col. Harry Hamilton of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who did not seek re-election. Dan W. Lang of Toronto was re-elected treasurer and 12 vice-presidents were chosen.

These included: Dr. R. Kerr Dewar, Fort William; James Cooper, Sudbury; W. O. Dwyer, Kingston; C. Anderson, Oshawa; J. Richard, Ottawa; Hugh Wilson, Perth; Mayor L. Goddard, Chatham; J. M. King, Stratford; Frank Dillon, Hamilton.

Mr. Nixon referred to what he termed "the socializing of the stockyards" by the Ontario Progressive Conservative Government. He didn't know how the farmers would benefit but he knew some people would benefit by having a "white elephant" taken off their hands. As to the Ontario Government's legislation implementing a 48-hour week, the Liberal leader said he didn't think that wartime was an appropriate time for such a move.

He criticized the government's appointment of "an individual — at $14,000 a year—to sell us 13 ounces of liquor a month." (Victor Goggin recently was appointed head of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario and later the monthly ration of spirits in the province was reduced to 13 ounces.)

Mr. Nixon's chief criticism, however, was directed against what he termed the government's failure to implement its pledge to pay 50 per cent of the cost of education, thus reducing the tax on real estate. He added, however, that such money when paid out of the provincial treasury would only have to come out of the taxpayers pockets.

The Drew government's record of performance compared to its promises was not very satisfactory, Mr. Nixon said.

He emphasized there was no coalition or undertaking of any kind between the Liberals in the legislature and the government.

DOMESTIC VENDETTAS INCREASE

Mother, Daughter-in-law Problem Never Reached Such Peak of Tragedy As Now

THE mother-in-law-daughter-in-law problem has always been an acute one, filled with tears and headaches for all concerned but never has it reached such a peak of tragedy as it has just now. Why, when we are going through all the horrors of a global war, so many women should have chosen this dark hour to stage their own private domestic vendettas, is a mystery so terrible that it is almost unbelievable.

Yet it is happening so often that it requires as much finesse to steer a safe course between a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law as it would to harmonize a Nazi and a Russian when both were thirsting for vengeance. Noble Christian women who are pillars in the church and noted for their kind deeds have cast all pretense of affection to the winds and whetted their knives for each other and are locked in a duel to death. And whether this is the result of war jitters, or whether it is a throwback to cave-women tactics, nobobdy knows.

At any rate it is bringing out all of the greed, all of the selfishness, all of the jealousy all of the cruelty all of the worst traits in feminine nature. There isn't a day that I don't get lots of letters from wives and mothers who are fighting over their allotments and the insurance of their husbands and sons in the service, each trying to get every penny away from the other.

Women Fight Over Grandchild

Sometimes a tear-sodden letter will tell of how a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law are feuding over a baby, the child's mother complaining that her mother-in-law is trying to wean her baby from her. Or a lonely old woman will sob out that her daughter-in-law will not let her touch the baby when he is all that is left to her in the world now that her son has been killed in battle.

And saddest of all, most tragic of all, are the letters in which a jealous mother tells how she felt it her duty to spy on her son's young wife, and keep tab on her every folly and indiscretion, and gather up every scrap of idle gossip until she has broken up his marriage and blasted his dream of coming home to a wife who had been faithful to him.

And as I read these letters I think: Have these women no real love for the man they think they love? Have they no pity for his sufferings when they fight over him like dogs over a bone? For nothing tears a man's heart to tatters like having to choose between the two women in the world he loves the most and to whom he is bound by every tie of affection and loyalty. Is their enmity more to them than his happiness?

And then I think with wonder at their stupidity in not realizing that the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law war is bound to end in defeat for them both. For the only way a mother can keep her son when he marries is by making friends with his wife. If she is unscrupulous enough, she may make trouble between them and perhaps break up his home. But, if she does her son never forgives her for ruining his life.

And the only way a wife can keep her husband bound to her with hoops of steel is by winning his mother's heart. For a man's first love and his last is his mother, and any wife tries to break that at her peril:

And the pity of the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law feud is that it deprives them both of one of the happiest and most satisfactory relationships in life.

13 Bodies Recovered From Lake Erie

PORT COLBORNE, June 27—(CP)—The body of nine-year-old Joseph Salvatore Adili, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angeli Adili of 137 Langworth St., London, Ont., was brought here today by the bulk freighter, Cement Karrier. The freighter picked up the body in Lake Erie 30 miles east of Port Stanley. The boy was one of 17 persons who drowned June 4 when the pleasure launch, Olga, capsized off Port Stanley.

The body was taken to London this morning.

The Cement Karrier reported that two other bodies were picked up by other vessels in the same area.

This brings to 13 the number of bodies so far recovered. Three were found the day of the tragedy and seven others last week. Four are still missing.

Post-War Plans Facilitated By New Budget

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP)—Industry and business will be enabled to plan for post-war operations with a greater degree of certainty if some of the tax changes announced in last night's budget have the effect anticipated by Finance Minister Ilsley.

While calling for an even greater mobilization of the nation's financial and productive resources for war this year than in any previous year, the minister proposed changes in the excess profits and corporations tax laws designed, in part, to overcome the handicap which war taxation places on the post-war planning of individual businesses.

It was not a time, the minister said, for the execution— as distinct from the making—of post-war plans. There was other work for everyone in production.

"I am concerned only with clearing away some of the uncertainties of fiscal policy," he said, "opening the way for business firms, both large and small, to proceed on as definite as possible a basis, with the drawing up of plans for the post-war conversion and expansion of industry and trade on which employment after the war will depend."

Spread Losses

To the basic industry of agriculture, the budget assures duty-free imports of machinery.

To firms who pay heavily through the excess profits and corporation tax funds which would otherwise go into reserves for post-war development, it offers an opportunity to spread possible losses in the period of conversion to peace over a period, one year back or three years forward and so reduce their tax payments.

To concerns which have been unable to keep their plants in repair an dhave paid tax on profits which would otherwise have been spent in maintenance, it provides an opportunity to charge half of such expenditure against the profits of wartime years of high profit and high taxes.

Now Assignable

Business concerns also will be permitted to assign the refundable portion of their wartime taxes as security for loans to finance post-war plants conversions. Hitherto these repayable sums have not been assignable.

The starting of new businesses and the expansion of existing businesses, hitherto confronted with a degree of uncertainty is expected to be encouraged by two other provisions.

One assures new businesses a limit to the tax payable on first year operations at 40 per cent of profits.

Standard profits are to be adjusted upward by five per cent of the increase of capital employed under another amendment. Hitherto the only upward adjustment possible was when share capital was increased.

More allowances against taxable income are to be granted industries for carrying on research to encourage development of new markets. Formerly research had to be directly related to the concern's business.

Business taxpayers making new investment in depreciable assets will be allowed, after a date to be fixed later, to write off the investment at an accelerated rate, thus depreciating more than they otherwise would during the period of high taxation and spreading the income from the investment over a longer period.

Pending a review of the impact of taxes on mining and prospecting at the Dominion-Provincial Conference to be held soon Mr. Ilsley said it would be premature to make changes in that field.

Lend-Lease Plan Rebuilds Russia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—American lend-lease officials are already tackling the problem of how to help Russia rebuild and expand billions of dollars worth of shattered industrial plants, with the result that lend-lease to that country is undergoing a profound change in preparation for peacetime commercial trade.

The change is reported part of a broad plan for assisting Russian reconstruction and simultaneously helping maintain a high level of employment in the United States during the transition from war to peace production here. Soviet officials are understood to have the plan under consideration.

Its central provision is that lend-lease shipments must stop promptly with the end of the war but that materials useful in peacetime pursuits—electric generators, for instance—will be shipped as if lend-lease were continuing, except they will go on credit.

Meanwhile the principle is being applied to lend-lease shipments in advance on any general agreement and before the war ends. As a result long-life equipment like electric generators, which is shipped before the war ends but will be mainly useful afterward, is going out on credit.

Economic authorities here contend that one result of this system would be to prevent a war-end production slump in a great variety of lend-lease equipment.

One estimate here is that in the early post-war years the Russians will be able to take in close to $4,000,000,000 worth of imports for reconstruction of their plants, power-houses, transportation services and the like. Most of this would come from the United States.

Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said in Russia a few days ago that Soviet purchases from the United States would run into billions. Part of his purpose in going to the Soviet Union is to get some idea of what Russia wants to buy.

Gananoque Town Without Doctors

KINGSTON, June 27—(CP)—The army took pity on doctorless Gananoque over the week-end and granted a month's special leave to Capt. Kenneth Gray, R.C.A.M.C., stationed at military headquarters here. Gray returned to his Gananoque office after four years in service to relieve the strained medical situation there.

The only other doctors in Gananoque have both been ill and for the past week have been unable to attend to patients. The town council sent an appeal to George Taylor Fulford, Liberal Member of Parliament for Leeds.

Through the procurement board in Ottawa Mr. Fulford was able to get the special leave for Dr. Gray.

Police Fail To Support Bouchard Claim

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP).—Justice Minister St. Laurent, replying to a question of Fred Rose (Lab. Pro.-Montreal Cartier), said in the Commons yesterday the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have "found no evidence of any organization plotting to establish a corporatist state in Quebec or any other part of Canada."

Mr. Rose placed the question on the order paper after Senator T. D. Bouchard, Liberal member from Quebec, said in the Senate that the "secret" order of Jacqus Cartier was plotting to set up an independent and Catholic state in Canada.

Mr. St. Laurent said he was not aware of any such organization. He added that since the question had reference to recent statements he could tell the House the R.C.M.P. investigated "with the utmost diligence" any assertions or rumors of subversive activities.

"In view of the statements made by a prominent man in another place (the Senate) is the minister not of the opinion that a royal commission should be set up to investigate the matter" asked Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.E.-York-Sunbury).

"The minister of justice is not of that opinion," said Mr. St. Laurent.

NEW DIRECTOR—Lieut.-Col. A. James Creighton, 42, of Vancouver, B.C., has been appointed director of military training at national defence headquarters, with the acting rank of colonel.

IN MEMORIAM.

COURSEY— In loving memory of Billie Coursey who passed away 7 years ago, June 27th, 1937.

He was only a little white rosebud,
A sweet little flower from birth.
God took him home to Heaven
Before he was soiled on earth.

—Brother Jackie, Father, Aunt Rene and Uncle Pat Calladine, Aunt Marge, North Carolina.

COURSEY—In loving memory of Billie Coursey who passed away June 27th 1937.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.

—Ever remembered—Grandpa and Uncle Pat Coursey, Aunt Beryl and Uncle Ted, Rochester, N.Y.

WITH BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, June 27 — (AP) — German forces east of the Orne are smarting today under one of the sharpest defeats administered during the 19-day-old campaign on the Western front, in the wake of a clash with British tanks and anti-tank gunners and troops yesterday northwest of Caen.

The score is 20 of 35 Nazi tanks knocked out.

British losses are officially described as "very small."

The battle which raged all day long in the woods between Ste. Honorine and Cuverville, a mile southwest, died down as the enemy fell back to Cuverville while British troops consolidated their hold on newly-captured Ste. Honorine.

Eye Injuries

NEW YORK, June 27—(CP).—The British Information Service office here released a dispatch received from London last night which said the proportion of eye injuries among rocket-bomb casualties is so great that the British, Ministry of Health has warned people to stay away from windows during attacks. The report said nearly all the eye injuries had been caused by flying glass.

2nd Corps Lands

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP). —A Berlin broadcast heard by CBS said to-day that "a second American army corps, the 8th, has landed on the Cotentin (Cherbourg) peninsula and taken over the southern sector."

Veterans Of Three Invasions Two English Boys Visit City

By JEAN STENTON

Veterans of three Allied invasions, and disappointed at missing the fourth, two members of the Maritime Royal Artillery, Bdr. Ray Brown and Gnr. John Price, are spending a furlough with the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Price, 643 Gilchrist street.

The two men are part of the gun crews stationed on merchant shipping to give protection, and bursting shells and menacing torpedoes are routine things to them. The only badge indicating their work is a small gold cap badge and a band on the sleeve of their uniforms "O.E.M.S." They have been in the North African push, at Sicily and at Italy.

Reminiscences tumbled out from both of them as they looked back over several years of swift moving action, and they declared they couldn't begin to tell about their experiences, because it would take a book. Both of them like their work and are looking forward to fondling their guns once more.

No Rest For 3 Weeks

"The worst invasion I was in was that of Sicily," Bdr. Brown opined. "We were there for three weeks and were under almost constant dive bombing attack. We ate and slept and smoked (if we got the chance) by our guns. One of the greatest barrages I ever saw was set up and everyone on the ships tied up did a marvellous job. Several planes were downed, but none of us claimed them, because so many were firing at once. I saw one that was hit dive right down into a pit with a searchlight and its crew.

"I was in the first convoy to be attacked by glider bombs when two subs were sunk in the Bay of Biscay, and they remind me a great deal of these robot planes the Germans are now using. As the glider bombs swooped by our ship, I saw their red tail lights, and once they are set on their course, unless the ship veers enough, they hit the mark."

Gnr. Price, who comes from Kent, near Bristol, joined up in 1938 and has managed to have some near misses.

"Don't let anyone tell you they never get frightened," he asserted. "In Sicily I was scared plenty. Those bombs started coming directly at us and we couldn't do a thing but crouch by our guns and wait helplessly. We couldn't even get up and fire, because we might have been hit by some of the bullets from guns on near-by ships. I was shaking all over and ready to cry."

Narrow Escapes

Bdr. Brown, formerly a chief cinema operator in Cardiff, South Wales, who joined up in 1940, is a gunlayer on the ship and is in charge of the guns and their crews. He has had two narrow escapes with submarines and torpedoes. His most harrowing moment was some months ago when he was aboard an oil tanker and a U-boat came between his ship and the one next to it. They got away and it was later sunk by one of the escort. On another occasion, while his ship was passing Halifax on its way to England, a sub let go one of its deadly missiles.

"I watched the thing shoot through the water and around the end of the stern while I stood beside my gun. It just missed us and struck the cargo ship next to us.

This recalled one of the near misses experienced in Sicily by Gnr. Price. When they were tied up at the quay they were attacked by air and a type of glider bomb was used. As they slid down they didn't make any whiz or have the rush of air like the ordinary bomb and the crews didn't realize just what they were up against. Two civilians were running across to an air raid shelter by the dock and as they went to go in, one of them lit a match and the earth literally blew up. Oil around the edge of the quay caught fire and spread rapidly.

"Our ship was hemmed in by the quay on one side and by ships alongside and behind us. We were trapped. If the fire hadn't been brought under control, we wouldn't have had a chance with our cargo."

Language Difficulties

"We have both served on many Allied merchant ships," Gnr. Price continued. "I was sailing on a Dutch ship out of India where there were about five Dutch officers who could speak a sort of English. The crew was Javanese and the servants were Goanese."

"That's like an experience I had," Bdr. Brown interrupted. "I had one trip on a Norwegian ship and there were only two of us, my mate and I, who could speak English. He had mastered a little Norwegian, so we managed.

"One of the queerest experiences that ever came my way was last year in the Bay of Biscay. We were given an escort by a British and German plane all the way from Gibraltar to the Bay of Biscay. It was the funniest thing to watch. The British plane flew calmly along on one side of the convoy and the Fock Wulfe maintained the same position on the other. The Nazi plane stayed until it made contact with the submarine packs and gave our positions, then it disappeared."

Both boys contributed to the story about the surprise attack on their ships near Bona, North Africa. The Germans had gotten some Spitfires and they came in over the ships. Everyone thought they were Allied planes and they let them get into position and the bombs began falling before they realized the mistake. There were some near misses, but their ships escaped unhurt.

On another trip, Gnr. Price was aboard a vessel in the Bay of Bengal, when they had to battle Japanese submarine and air attack.

The soldiers said they much preferred Canada to the United States and the little they had seen of Peterborough, had made a great impression. One thing Bdr. Brown couldn't get over—square dancing.

"I saw it for the first time Saturday night and I adore it. We were out at Chemong and we picked it up pretty well for the first time. I'm going to have another go at it. It's a lot of fun" he declared enthusiastically.

The visit of his nephew whom he had never met, has helped compensate for some bad news Mr. Albert Price got a week ago. He and his wife had been planning after the war to go to England to visit his mother. But they received word that she had died in a hospital in her 84th year.

Health Measure Gets First Push

OTTAWA, June 27. — (CP). — Many members of the Commons today began preparing to take part in the debate on the budget brought down last night by Finance Minister Ilsley, but while they made their preparation the House resumed study of a bill setting up a department of national health and welfare.

The budget debate is scheduled to begin Thursday. As yet there is no indication of how long it will last.

Until the debate opens, the House will occupy itself with Government legislation, including the national health and welfare measure, given first reading after Mr. Ilsley completed his budget speech.

A resolution to the bill was passed after the House gave third reading to a bill setting up a department of reconstruction.

The purpose of the health and welfare bill is to establish a new department under the direction of a minister who would have powers extending to all matters relating to "the health, social security and welfare" of Canadians. The department would comprise that part of the present department of pensions and national health not included in the department of veterans' affairs.

Establishment of a department of veterans' affairs already has been approved by the Commons. The department would deal with all matters concerning ex-service personnel.

Opposition members expressed belief the duties the Government planned to assign to the health and welfare department might conflict with the duties and rights of similar provincial departments.

Magistrate Fed Up

"That is the upper deck's idea that we don't associate with them in any way" explained McAleese.

In finding him guilty, the magistrate stated that he felt that the accused was dissatisfied with his work, had been working hard and "didn't give a hoot when the whistle went."

Dismiss Charge

The evidence of Dance's case was that he was not able to work due to a bad back, and was under orders to come back when he was well. However, he spent the week-end in jail also. The charge against him was dismissed.

Evidence in regard to Saxe was that he had given an oral notice that he was leaving, but it was not in writing. Hrekowk missed the boat on Friday. Prew told the court that he gave his notice and changed to fireman, because they were short in that department, but was only working out his period of notice.

The court was told that the company didn't want the youth back.

PTE. E. R. HARVEY

Pte. Earl Raymond Harvey, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernal Harvey of Young's Point, was the first local boy to v[illegible]er for service in September, [illegible] went overseas with the H[illegible]d Prince Edward Regime[illegible]ecember of the same year, and is at present out of hospital recovering from a bout of malaria.

Stationed in England for several months, he later was attached to the Central Mediterranean forces and received special training in lifting mines and booby traps, the job he has been doing in Italy. He took part in the Sicilian invasion without injury. He remained with his unit and has seen much heavy fighting and many of his pals were lost in such bloody battles as Ortona.

In April, Pte. Harvey was stricken with malaria and he spent 10 days in hospital and has since been with a holding unit until he was fit again. He has been visiting some of the more interesting points in Italy including Naples and Mt. Vesuvius, Pompeii and New Pompeii. Besides his parents, he has one sister, his wife and two daughters.

It's all very well to talk about the beauties of foreign lands, but after visiting them, Canada looks like paradise, F.O. Arthur Holt, of the Ferry Command commented after a round trip to India and back. He is a brother of Maurice Holt, 469 Water street, who graduated as a navigator a few months ago.

"At the take off, the Captain, Carl Houser of London, and I checked in at Operations and then visited the Meteorological office. My job was filing a flight plan for the first hop. After a cup of coffee and loading on the baggage, the crew boarded the big Liberator. Outside of a casual inspection, this was the first time I'd been inside the navigator's cabin of this type of aircraft.

"After an engine warm-up, we taxied to the runway and took off. The big adventure had begun. The remainder of the crew were fine boys and experienced. I was the novice on whom they had to depend for the ship's position and courses to steer. Naturally I was a bit excited and nervous. Everything was strange—the crew, the plane, my instruments, and later on the stars."

Bad Weather

The trip did not begin too auspiciously for the group. At the first landing spot they ran into rain and low lying clouds. They couldn't see the drome but the pilot kept circling till he found a break in the overcast and down they went to ground level, then hedge hopped into the airdrome.

While the other fliers relaxed, P.O. Holt had to get his charts in order and organize for the flight. The weather was still bad when they took off and he had to fly on instruments for nearly three hours. Gradually the clouds disappeared and the moon was visible.

"Soon it was quite clear and I went to work on the heavenly bodies to determine where we were. Somehow or other, the plane had gotten a long way north of the required track,—this I found out from friends, the stars. So I worked out a change of course and was happy indeed to sight land shortly afterwards. By this time I was a bit tired, but had plenty to do before reaching our next base. To make matters worse, we had trouble with the compass and that caused me more worry."

Poor Accommodations

At one point where they stopped in Africa, the fliers found the accommodation very "native." The bunks were of wood, even the springs. The blankets were dirty and one of the boys was bitten in several places by "creatures" in the bedding.

"I found out that some of the people flying here make money on these trips by selling old clothes to the Arabs. I heard of one case where 4-year-old suit brought $80 American money; shirts $7 each, sun glasses $2 a pair and cheap fountain pens, twice their value. What I can't understand, is where the Arabs get the money for it.

"One section of the trip took us in the vicinity of Benghazi. From here we were able to see some of the battle grounds—nothing but sand everywhere you looked. Toward El Alamein wrecked tanks and trucks could still be seen. We flew low into the Depression and along the road where the British had made their last stand and from which the big offensive had begun. The tank traps and ditches were still in evidence.

Exist on Nothing

"The Nile Valley is in marked contrast to the endless waste of the desert. How and on what the Arabs live is a mystery. We saw signs of life, huts, camels, goats—right out on the desert and not a blade of green anywhere. One place we visited was 130 degrees in the shade.

"In India we turned over our papers, went through the Immigration, checked for inoculations and were interviewed by the C.O. We were driven into town and put up at the Bristol Hotel. As hotels go, it wasn't too bad except that spiders and lizards and some other little bug were often seen running up its walls or scuttling from view in the cupboards."

The young flier wrote that poverty in India is indescribable. Everyone begs, or so it seems when pedestrians walk along the street. He said that he had never seen so many half starved children before. At nights thousands sleep right on the sidewalks, some with clothing on, many stark naked. Sacred cows are everywhere.

"We flew back in a big transport plane the inside of which is like a box car. There were 27 passengers which included three transport crews, 10 soldiers, and two civilians. The seating arrangements consisted of bucket seats along each side. Some of us stretched out on the floor to sleep, while others used the seats.

He's Been Around

SGT. ALVIN MAIDENS

Sgt Alvin Maidens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Maidens, Warkworth, is stationed in Sicily with a United States Evacuation Hospital unit. He was born in Sacramento, Calif., and came to Canada when he was a year old. For a time the family lived at Hastings, but later moved to Percy township. Sgt. Maidens attended Warkworth public school and one year at the Continuation school. He enlisted in the Medical Corps of the U.S. Air Force at Reno, Nevada, in October, 1940.

Following a month's leave at his home in Warkworth in 1941, he was transferred to the Phillipines and was 500 miles out at sea when United States declared war on Japan and the ship was ordered back to Angel Island. In January, 1942, the young soldier landed at Casa Blanca and from there he was sent to Tunisia and then Sicily.

Sailors Have Happy Memories

Letters of appreciation from grateful sailors serving on H.M.C.S. Peterborough are still being received, and Mrs. F. G. White, 292 McGill street, has received one from Sto. 1-c James Buckley, who hails from St. John's, New Brunswick.

"I want to thank you for the wonderful time shown me while I was in Peterborough and Cobourg. Though visiting day at Cobourg is a thing of the past, most people will never forget it and I am sure all the fellows won't either. We want you to know that we all appreciated everything done for us and we are now having a wonderful time with the record player and records.

"The leather jackets are certainly needed on chilly mornings on deck and the ship's canteen is now open, which could not have been done for some time to come if not for the canteen money donated by Peterborough.

"We were outside of Toronto for our gunnery trials and the depth charges and explosives rocked the ship. I took pictures of the trials, and will send you some if we are permitted to develop them. The trip from Toronto down the St. Lawrence was beautiful. I had never seen the Thousand Islands before, nor how a lock worked. I was lucky enough to be the Stoker who drew the windlass which hauled the ship through the narrow pass with a large rope and saw it all. It was my first experience with a lock."

Mrs. White is particularly interested in this branch of the service because of her daughter, Wren June White, who is with the Navy in Ottawa.

Receives Flowers

Mrs. Terry Low 388 Water street, has received flowers from her husband, Sgt. Terry Low, who has been in hospital in Italy, since he was wounded December 6. The flowers were intended for Mother's Day, but have only just arrived. He was wounded in the ankle but is coming along nicely. Sgt. Low met his brother-in-law Pte. Fred Brand, in the hospital, and the two casualties had a good time talking over prewar days.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
32—Reversing the Order

THERE ARE times when judgment will tell you to reverse the usual procedure in almost any phase of bridge. In the play of a suit contract, this is especially true if your counting up of the apparent losing tricks indicates that there are too many of them for standard procedure to work. Or you may lack enough entries for standard methods. Or you may be able to protect yourself against additional risks by using some other method.

Here are cases of four important kinds of exceptions, with the declarer each time playing for 4-Spades against a lead of the heart king:

	Declarer	Dummy
1.	♠K Q 10 6 5	♠J 7 3
	♥A 8 5	♥7 4 3
	♦Q 4	♦A K 5
	♣Q J 10	♣K 7 4 2
2.	♠A Q 10 9 6 2	♠K J 3
	♥A 8 4	♥10 7 2
	♦7 5	♦A K 8 6 4
	♣8 3	♣9 4
3.	♠A Q 10 6 2	♠K 8 7 3
	♥A 8 5	♥7
	♦A 2	♦9 8 6 5
	♣Q 6 5	♣J 10 4 2
4.	♠A Q 10 6 2	♠K J 9
	♥A	♥8 7 6 4
	♦K 7 6	♦A Q 5
	♣9 7 6 2	♣8 4 3

In No. 1, the declarer can see that, after winning with the heart A, leading trumps at once would enable the opponents to take one trick in spades, two in hearts and one in clubs. But he has a chance to discard one of his heart losers by taking three diamonds at once, putting a heart on the third one. Then let him lead trumps, with only three possible losing tricks remaining.

In No. 2, there are two losers in hearts and two in clubs. If the opponents' six diamonds are divided three to each, an extra trick would be easy to make by leading trumps twice, then two high diamonds, next trumping a diamond, returning to dummy with the third trump and cashing the last two diamonds for discards of either hearts or clubs. But if one defender has four diamonds, that won't work. The safer play is to follow the heart ace with the spade A, take two top diamonds, ruff a diamond with the spade Q, lead to the spade K, ruff the fourth-round diamond with the spade 10, then lead the spade 6 to the J and cash the diamond 8 for a heart discard. This abandons a chance for an extra trick, but safeguards the game against a holding of four diamonds by one defender.

No. 3 is a case of the declarer being richer in trumps than necessary. After winning with the heart A, usual play would be to begin ruffing hearts in the dummy. But there is a bare chance one defender might over-ruff one of those tricks with the jack. Declarer here can afford to take two high trumps before ruffing, and still leave two in the dummy for the necessary two ruffs.

No. 4 is an example of how the declarer should completely reverse the usual process of ruffing in the dummy and should ruff in his own hand, treating the dummy as the "master hand." If he drops trumps after winning the heart ace, he may lose four club tricks in case the missing ones are not divided. Correct play is the heart A, spade 2 to the K, heart 6 ruffed by the spade A, spade 6 to the J, heart 7 ruffed by the spade Q, diamond 6 to the A, heart 8 ruffed by the spade 10, diamond 7 to the Q, the spade 9 and then the diamond 5 to the K. In other words, ruff the dummy's hearts in declarer's hand, and let the opponents have three club tricks.

Bell Veteran Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, June 27 — (CP) — Robert Hamilton, 69, well-known Bell Telephone official, who retired four years ago, died at his home here last night.

Born in Sebringville, Ont., in 1874, Mr. Hamilton was the son of George Hamilton, county treasurer of Perth county. He began his telephone career in Stratford in 1895 as a relief operator. Later he was inspector, manager and district manager at Brantford, manager at Lindsay, Owen Sound, Guelph and Windsor, and district manager at London and Hamilton.

He lived in Toronto since 1923, and when he retired on pension in 1940, after 44 years' service, he was division manager of the company's central northern division.

In his youth, Mr. Hamilton was a noted baseball, lacrosse and hockey player. An outstanding curler he was a member of three Ontario Tankard winners—once for the Hamilton Thistle and twice for the Toronto Granite Clubs. He was active in the Ontario Hockey Association throughout his lifetime, and was an early O.H.A. referee.

He is survived by his widow and two sons.

Funeral will be held Wednesday.

Whitfield's School Honors Mrs. C. Lee

CAVAN, June 27 — (ENS) — The pupils of Whitfield's School held their closing Junior Red Cross meeting recently.

At the end of the program, Mrs. Cairns Lee, who has been their teacher for the past year, was invited to a seat on the platform. June Miller read an address voicing their regrets that she was leaving and Edith Elson and Gerald Gillis presented her with a bone china cup and sauce and an autograph album.

Lions Club Arrange To Care For 29 Tonsil Cases

Peterborough Red Cross Society tossed a lifeline to the Lions Club this month with the announcement that the facilities of the Blood Donors Clinic would be available for the tonsil operations which the club had arranged.

Removal of tonsils from a number of school-age children whose parents are unable to finance such work is part of the annual service work done by the Lions Club, but this year, because of overcrowded hospitals, it seemed that the work would have to be postponed.

The offer of the Red Cross officials, the staff and doctors at the Blood Donor Clinic changes the picture completely and the program of tonsilectomies will be carried out on June 29.

Twenty-nine boys and girls selected from Public and Separate Schools by school nurses and the nurses in the Department of Health will have their tonsils removed on that date. This is an increase over 1943 when 18 cases were put through.

Kiwanians Help.

Kiwanis Club also added their co-operation by promising Bruce Sargent, chairman of this committee, that they would supply a sufficient number of cots to accommodate the patients. Other Lions on the Health and Welfare Committee are Herb Jamison, P. D. Scollard, and Police Inspector James F. Reid.

Doctors who assist the Lions in this health project report that with some minor additions such as anaesthetic equipment the Clinic will be quite suitable for these minor operations, and the patients will get the same splendid care they would receive if they were in the hospital. The complete staff of the Clinic will be on duty in order that full protection and comfort will be available.

At a recent meeting of the Lions Club, Bruce Sargent voiced his appreciation of the fine gesture of co-operation on the part of the different organizations and individuals, and his motion that a suitable written statement of appreciation be mailed was passed.

Pressure On Finns

STOCKHOLM, June 27 (AP)—Reports were circulated here today that German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop has visited Helsinki to exert pressure on the Finns to continue the fight on the side of the Nazis. The reports were regarded as reliable but could not be confirmed directly from Helsinki. There was no indication immediately what success he had met.

Chinese Take Half Mogaung

KANDY, Ceylon, June 27—(CP)—Chinese troops have taken the southern half of Mogaung, one of the three most important bases in Northern Burma formerly held by the Japanese, and bitter street fighting is taking place with the Allies pressing in an three sides. Allied South-east Asia Headquarters announced to-day.

Maj.-Gen. W. D. A. Lentaigne's British Chindits drove another 400 yards into the town from the east after capturing a section of the railroad from the station to the river. Chinese also were in the north of the town.

Chinese forces moved closer in an advance south of captured Kaiming, another of the three Japanese bases, and American troops advancing from the north down the Radhapur road on Myitkyina, the third enemy North Burma base, had almost effected a junction with Chinese attacking the city.

In Manipur State of Eastern India, British troops were pushing out in all directions from Imphal, inflicting heavy casualties 20 miles north of the town and repulsing an attack on a position called the "sausage" feature.

Germans Unable To Budge Canadian Paratroopers

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH CANADIAN PARACHUTISTS IN FRANCE, June 27—(CP Cable.)—For 11 wild days and nights the Canadian parachute unit in the British 6th Airborne Division fought German infantry and snipers on this incredible battleground east of the river Orne and northwest of Caen.

It was savage, chaotic fighting in closely wooded country which the Canadians call "squirtgun territory." After dropping by parachute before dawn on D-day, this unit took up positions outside of the perimeter of the beachhead gained by the airborne division east of the river and there stood and battled the enemy.

They were shelled and mortared mercilessly and German infantry stormed at them but they didn't yield a yard for 11 days and they held a vital crossroads and the little hamlet of Le Mesnil on the main Cabourg-Caen highway and 2½ miles east of bridges which cross the Caen canal and the river Orne at Benouville.

Some of the hottest fighting on the entire Allied beachhead was in those green woods of Le Mesnil and in ditches along the hedgerows.

Fed by Air.

Even when the Canadians could be supplied only by air they never wavered and stuck in that cross roads. Men from every province in the Dominion, wearing maroons berets and loose camouflaged battle smocks, fought like men inspired and their stand at Le Mesnil ranks with the most courgeous acts performed in the early phase of the Normandy invasion.

I made a dash in a jeep over the much-shelled Benouville bridges Saturday and went to the bivouacs of these paratroops.

A youthful Saskatoon lieutenant colonel who was on the Spitsbergen raid in August, 1941, said the unit went to its airdrome on the evening of June 5 and got into Douglas transports before midnight and took off for France.

As they crossed the Normandy coast at the mouth of the river Orne, heavy flak burst around their planes. Inside the parachutists were knocked about as the aircraft weaved over selected dropping zones. It was 1 a.m. on the 6th then and one Canadian company already had dropped in the Varaville area three miles southwest of Cabourg.

The colonel and the men in his plane jumped and from scores of other aircraft, airborne troops floated to the ground. They came down in woods, on roads, in towns and in muddy bogs dotted with ponds.

The colonel himself came down in a bog and plunged into 3½ feet of water. Then he met his intelligence officer and they hustled off to the rendezvous point near Varaville from where they went four miles down the highway in a southwest direction to Le Mesnil.

This point they had been told to hold at all costs and there they dug in and got strong positions in a brick factory. This was the main point for the whole unit but there were three other jobs done by other groups before they joined up with headquarters at Les Mesnil to fight until they were relieved for a brief rest just behind the line and still east of the Orne river.

The company which dropped before the main party landed scattered in bogs around Varaville. Eventually 40 or 50 linked and attacked the German garrison in the town. There was a fight in the streets and houses right in the centre of the town where the German headquarters was located and the place was captured.

A bridge was blown up by engineers and the parachutists then went down to Les Mesnill for a stand there.

Another company was to protect the flank of a British parachute battalion in an attack on a coastal battery at Merville, just east of the mouth of the river Orne. The Canadians ran into difficulties when their landing was not co-ordinated, but part of the company did get together and supported 130 British paratroopers as they stormed and cleaned out the Merivale position. These Canadians, too, eventually linked up with the main force at Le Mesnil.

"The country around Le Mesnil was very close with its ditches and hedges and it was just a perfect position for determined boys like ours," saiad the commanding colonel. "We were just one little pocket on one end of nowhere but after three days of this rough going we had 300 men which is a good force.

"We sat there for 11 days and the Germans threw in attacks at intervals. We had to hold out but we also took the offensive and sent out strong patrols to little towns outside the perimeter and gave Jerry a bloody nose a couple of times.

"The Germans were methodical as the devil in their attacks but with our mortars and Vickers we waited for him regularly and knocked hell out of his infantry. Between 200 and 300 dead Huns piled up in the field in front of us and for days we couldn't even get out to bury them because of the incessant sniping from those monkeys hiding in trees."

The Canadian position was under shattering German artillery fire between attacks, but the unit's entire invasion task was carried out as was the whole task of the 6th Airborne Division in this highly successful air-landing operation.

Canadian casualties were not heavy, the colonel said, but a number of troops still are missing. One drifted into camp Saturday from the enemy lines in an exhausted state and others probably will show up.

This was the first action for the Canadian airborne troops, but they made a name for themselves which rings around the beachhead. How they endured the gunfire, sniping and those fierce infantry attacks is a thing of wonder. But they held every inch of ground they were ordered to hold and had a longer time on the nerve shattering front than most units east of the Orne river.

San Vincenzo Falls To Allied 5th

8th Army Meeting Tough Units Take Two Towns

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent

ROME, June 28.—(AP). — San Vincenzo, only 32 miles south of the big port of Livorno on the Italian west coast, was wrested from the Germans after a bitter house-to-house battle that lasted for several hours last night, and today the Allied 5th Army was reported slugging steadily forward.

Meanwhile British 8th Army units took possession of Gioiella and Porto, west and southwest of Lake Trasimeno, moving forward slowly in the face of heavier opposition than that offered the 5th.

San Vincenzo had been converted into a fortress by the Nazis.

Farther inland on the 5th Army front an American armored force continued to roll back stubborn enemy resistance and occupied the villages of Chiusdino and Travale. Chiusdino is only 17 miles southwest of Siena, key highway and communications centre 31 miles south of Florence.

Partisans Aiding

Supported by Italian partisans, an American infantry force bypassed, then surrounded and captured the town of Sasseta, four miles northeast of San Vincenzo, despite its defence by elements of the German 7th S.S. Division, identified in that sector for the first time.

Other enemy units were mopped up in the village of Belvedere, south of Chiusdino and Travale, while the French, who advanced to the vicinity of San Quirico D'Orcia, 22 miles southeast of Siena on highway 2, beat back repeated enemy counter-attacks.

In addition to moving in reinforcements, the Germans opposed a further 5th Army advance with increased artillery fire, hurriedly laid mine fields and assembled new concentrations of anti-tank guns. Disabled German tanks were used as road blocks and the village of Travale was demolished by the enemy in an attempt to convert the entire town into a road block.

6-Hour Battle

The 8th Army continued to move forward slowly, capturing the towns of Gioiella and Porto. Gioiella, 4½ miles southwest of Castiglione, on the west shore of Lake Trasiemeno,

Laud Cameron Highlanders For Great Support Action

By ROSS MUNRO—Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 28—(CP Cable) —The Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa are just about the most popular soldiers in the Canadian 3rd Division. Vickers machine-gunners and heavy mortarmen and platoons from this battalion supported every infantry unit in the division during the hard fighting of the first 10 days in France. If you ask any infantry commander what he thinks of the Camerons, and particularly about how they handle their Vickers, you are bound to be buttonholed and hear glowing praise of these scrappy Ottawa and Eastern Ontario troops.

Editor's Note: Capt. Harry Marsh, wounded, and Lt. Jack Couper, missing, are the only two known Peterborough officers serving with the Camerons, although it is believed there are three or four Peterborough district boys serving in the ranks of this well-known Canadian regiment.

A portion of the Camerons—which are not to be confused with the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Canada a Winnipeg regiment—came in with the infantry and assault engineers in the first wave on D-Day and the rest of the battalion was not far behind the leaders. They fought on the beaches and supported infantry battalions in the difficult advance inland.

A Stern Battle.

Finally, in the positions around Brettevilie and northwest of Caen, where the Canadians met and turned back German counter-attacks, the Cameron Highlanders fought their sternest battles. The Vickers machine-gun proved its worth again and again as did the Camerons' heavy mortars which, however, were not in action as much as the machine-guns.

A lieutenant-colonel from Saskatoon commands the Camerons, and second in command is Maj. Roger Rowley of Ottawa. Capt. Alan Harris, Ottawa, is adjutant, and another headquarters officer is Lieut. Joe Morris of Chesterville, Ont.

On the second day in France, the Germans attacked the Royal Winnipeg Rifles in positions at Putotenbessin a mile west of Brettreville and Lieut. Roland Ashman of Brockville, Ont., and Ottawa, was in com-

Japs Surround Hengyang City

CHUNKGING, June 28.—(AP).—The High Command indicated tonight that Japanese forces have surrounded Hengyang, vital railway junction in Hunan province. Loss of this city would be the greatest blow to China since the fall of Canton and Hankow in October, 1938.

"Severe fighting for the possession of Hengang now is in progress on all side of the city," said a communique, adding that "the city, however, is still in our hands."

With the fall of Hengang the way would be open for a Japanese advance on Kuwong, provisional capital of Kwangtung, or on Kewilin, provisional capital of Kwangsi, from which most foreign agencies have already withdrawn or are now withdrawing.

Missionaries from abroad who were in the threatened areas have left for Weiyang or Kunming.

American planes continued their blows against the Japanese in Hunan. with widespread attacks on troop columns and cavalary units and Japanese-held ports. These slowed down but did not halt the enemy advance.

Lt.-Gen. Stilwell's north Burma headquarters announced that seven aircraft were missing from the latest operations in Hunan and Yunnan.

Nazis Losing Many Vehicles

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN FRANCE, June 28 (CP-Cable)—Wing Cmdr. George Keefer, D.F.C. and Bar, of Charlottetown, leading a Canadian fighter squadron, destroyed an ME 109 in the Beaumont area Tuesday, his fourth "kill" since D-Day.

"The pilot baled out," said Keefer. "I saw the aircraft crash.

In an operation just previous to this one, Sqdn. Ldr. G. D. Robertson, Toronto, destroyed an FW190, his second in a month..

This squadron had mauled a convoy of vehicles and were en route to a French base when the enemy plane was spotted.

A Spitfire squadron led by Sqdn. Ldr. L. M. Cameron, D.F.C., of Roland, Man., accounted for 27 enemy vehicles on the road south of Rouen Tuesday.

Flt. Lt. W. H. Johnson of Belleville, Ont., said "there were so many burned out vehicles back of the German lines it was hard to tell whether you were shooting at something already out of commission.

French Patriots Sever Railway

PORT BOU, Spain, June 28—(AP) —French guerillas striking in the Tarbes region of the Pyrenees, have cut the railroad between the junctions of Auch and Targes in a raid on Mielan it was reported today.

The patriots, descending from the Lannemezan plateau, which they were said to hold firmly, blew up stretches of the secondary rail line and cut telephone and telegraph lines at Mielan, frontier advices said.

The Toulouse-Bayonne main line had been reported severed previously in that region, compelling the Germans to rely on the secondary line through Auch for east and west rail communications.

Farther north French patriot forces were reported to have taken hostages from local collaborationists in the Villeneuve region on the Lot River, about 18 miles north of Agen, and to have driven off with a number of truckloads of food and munitions. Vichy officials were said to have retaliated by arresting Allied sympathizers.

Expect U.S.-Finland Break

Recent Move By Finns Ends Friendship

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP).—Relations with Finland were at the breaking point again to-day and some officials predicted that the final breach between the United States and its long-time Scandinavian friend would be made in a matter of hours.

The Finnish government's announcement last night that it had reached a "perfect understanding" with Germany and that the Nazis had promised the Finns all the armed help they would need in their fight against Russia, was described by advocates of break as "the last straw."

At the State Department it was said that the announcement ended all hope of reaching a Russo-Finnish peace on any basis short of Finland's complete defeat.

In the case of Finland the final decision would have to be made by Mr. Roosevelt. The President is understood to have prevented a rupture of relations on one occasion many months ago. He acted then, it is reported in the hope that continued American friendship would influence Finland to make peace with Russia. One major peace effort faialed and possibly others.

3 Armies Converge On Minsk White Russia Capital

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 28.—(AP).—Supported by one of the greatest air attacks ever hurled against the Germans on the Russian front, the Red Army closed in from three directions today on Minsk, capital of White Russia.

Dispatches from the front said that probably never before had Stormovik dive - bombers been thrown with such strength and effectiveness against Nazi armored forces. Hour after hour they were reported searching out German tanks, plastering them in mass with their flying artillery and blasting the way for four armies converging in a great semi-circle on the gateway city to Warsaw and Germany.

The northernmost of the three spearheads aimed at Minsk was composed of Gen. Ivan Bagramian's 1st Baltic Army and 36-year-old Gen. Ivan Chernikhovsky's 3rd White Russian Army. In the van of this group were the Stormoviks, fast Yak fighter planes and medium bombers of Lieut.-Gen. N. P. Papivin, Bagramian's 37-year-old air commander, and Col.-Gen. Timofey Kruikin, Cherinikhovsky's youthful aviation chief.

Officers Young

Two of the most astute students of aviation in the Red Air Force, these young officers were reported throwing clouds of dive-bombers and medium bombers against German ground troops and fortifications, blasting bridges and strafing communications lines over a wide area.

Chernikhovsky, youngest army general in Russia, turned westward toward Minsk after capturing Orsha and drove steadily forward. Two big obstacles were in his path —the Berezina River and the city of Borisov.

Field dispatches said Chernikhovsky's advance units were less than 50 miles from Minsk and about 26 miles east of Borisov. Other units under his command were reported moving rapidly through sparsely settled lake country to the forest area further north, where they were threatening to outflank Borisov from the northwest in conjunction with Bagramian's troops.

Fierce Armored Battle Near Caen City May Decide Fate of Two German Armies

Montgomery Units Cross Odon River

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 28 —(AP).—British tanks, smashing through Nazi defences into open terrain only four miles southwest of Caen, locked with the Germans today in the greatest armored battle of the invasion. A Supreme Headquarters estimated at 30,000 to 40,000 the total of prisoners taken on Cherbourg peninsula.

Smashing open the backdoor to Caen—eastern Normandy stronghold 120 miles from Paris — British tank and infantry columns burst the Germans' Odon River line, and plunged two miles beyond it, cutting two roads running southwest from Caen.

American troops meanwhile battled at the foot of Cap de la Hague, jutting northwest of Cherbourg, where the Nazis were making a last stand, they mopped up in the port, and subdued resistance at Maupertus airfield to the east.

Headquarters disclosed that Lt.-Gen. Miles C. Dempsey, commander of the veteran 13th Corps of the British 8th Army in Africa, Sicily and Italy was leading the British 2nd Army in France.

The big tank battle near Caen may decide the fate of a large part of the Germans 15th and 17th Armies. The Germans nave thrown four armored divisions into this area.

Carving down southwest of Caen in an outflanking drive, the British infantry and armor tore a breach six mile wide in Nazi defences, but the peninsular base road from Caen, poured over Odon river and battered two miles deeper to a point northeast of Esquay.

This deep penetration sliced the road from Caen to Evrecy and threatened the remaining German-held highways feeding into Caen from the south and southeast.

British armor can move swiftly across the open, rolling plains south of Caen, and the Germans must block this thrust or face the threat of having large forces encircled. Swift, stabbing armored drives are an old story to General Montgomery's desert veterans, and one of Britain's most famous tank generals is directing the operations.

Huns Pinned Down.

Fierce fighting also broke out a few miles north of Caen, with British troops pinning down German defence forces, while tanks swept in from behind.

Word Maquis Symbolizes Spirit Of France Name Given Corsicans Who Didn't Give In

NEW YORK, June 28 (CP)—Creeping into the war vocabulary of the world is a word that probably will forever symbolize the heroic resistance on a defeated France that acknowledged she had "lost a battle," but had not lost the war"—Maquis.

It came originally from the island of Corsica. When France capitulated, hundreds of proud Corsicans fled to the wild scrublands of their once-free island, to organize guerilla warfare against the Nazis and their Vichy puppet police.

Soon Free Frenchmen in London, Algiers, everywhere were hearing of the exploits of "ceux des Maquis"—the warriors of the underbrush of Corsica, where every "Maquisard" had to kill at least two Germans to win his spurs.

The handy word became adopted by all Frenchmen — even the Vichyites—to indicate the resistance movement in the homeland as well. Today there is no distinction. Anyone of the movement who will slay a Nazi, cut a railway or dynamite a power house may call himself a Maquis.

Vichy Minister Henriot Is Assassinated In Paris

By LEWIS HAWKINS—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 28—(AP).—Philippe Henriot, Vichy Minister of Information and Propaganda, was assassinated last night in Paris by 15 or 20 uniformed men who forced their way into his bedroom, the Axis radios announced today. Apparently a victim of French patriots, Henriot was the most important collaborationist yet to fall.

Berlin agencies first broadcast reports of the assassination. A short time later Pierre Laval, Vichy chief of state, took to the air and declared Henriot "was animated only by patriotism. He fell this morning a hero."

Masquerading As Soldiers.

The German agency Transocean, which said Henriot had reached Paris yesterday in company with Laval, declared it was not possible to ascertain whether the killers were "dressed in the uniform of militia or police." D.N.B. declared flatly the assassins were masquerading as members of the Vichy militia.

Transocean said 15 or 20 men forced their way into the Ministry of Information where Henriot was living, demanded to see him, and fired when his bedroom door was opened.

The Berlin broadcasts failed to mention whether any of the assassins have been captured—a strong indication that they got away.

3-Way Bombers Strike Europe

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR.
Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, June 28 —(A P) — American bombers struck the enemy hard to-day in France, Romania and Bulgaria in mass attacks from Britain and Italy close upon disclosure of the first three-way shuttle assault of the war.

A cloud of 750 or more U. S. heavies soared widely over France and Western Germany bombing the airdromes near Laon, targets near Paris and rail yards at Saarbrucken. By night R. A. F. and R. C. A. F. heavy bombers— about 1,000 in all were out.

The avowed purpose was to flatten every Nazi airdrome in France and tangle rail junctions. From Italy, 500 American heavy bombers with escorting fighter attacked two oil refineries near and in the Bucharest suburbs and rail yards at Chitila north of the Romanian capital on the main line to the Ploesti oil fields, 35 miles away. German reports said Bucharest itself and Ploesti both were bombed. The Karlovo airdrome in Bulgaria 75 miles East of Sofia also was attacked. A number of intercepting Nazi planes were destroyed.

This operation Monday —and disclosed only today—sent Flying Fortresses from new bases in Russia, to plaster the refinery at Dro Obycz, 45 miles southwest of Lwow in pre-war Poland and carried them on to Italy to complete the mission without loss. The bombers were those that flew from Britain on June 21 and gave Berlin its worst daylight pounding of the war before going to Russia.

Railway yards at Saarbucken and other unspecified military targets in the vicinity of Paris and Laon also were attacked by heavy bombers.

In daylight to-day another formation of R.A.F. heavies with fighter escort bombed French flying-bomb emplacements.

The R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. took over night operations following a day of brisk aerial activity in which more than 2,000 sorties were flown in unfavorable weather.

The R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. raiders split into three forces for their attacks, the two largest striking simultaneous blows at Vitry Le Francois and Valares, key rail junctions

363 Canadians Die 1,093 Said Missing

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP)—Canadian casualties in the first 15 days of the invasion of France totalled 2,815, it was announced today by Defence Headquarters. There were 363 killed, 1,359 wounded and 1,093 missing.

Canadian casualties were announced simultaneously with those of the United Kingdom and the United States.

The Canadian casualty statement contained no comment, but last week in the Commons Defence Minister Ralston said casualties had been "moderate" and below the total number estimate for the initial phase of the operation. He described this report as "gratifying."

The only Canadian division identified so far in France has been the 3rd Division under Maj.-Gen R. F. L. Keller of Kelowna, B.C., and Canadian paratroopers. However, there are probably other Canadian forces in the action and the United States-British units identified do not necessarily complete the total makeup of the force. The Canadians participated in the seizure of Bayeux and the hard fighting around Caen.

Yesterday defence headquarters here announced casualties for the nine months of the Italian campaign up to the fall of Rome, June 4, totalled 11,340 made up of 2,268 killed, 8,572 wounded and 500 missing and prisoners of war.

Dieppe Worst

Using these figures as a comparison, an army spokesman said Canadians, who pioneered mass invasion tactics at Dieppe, suffered possibly more heavily than any Canadian force since.

And his statement seemed borne out for the French figures covered a 15-day period compared to the dawn-to-dusk encounter at Dieppe when Canada suffered 3,384 casualties. The army spokesman made his statement before the French casualties were given and he said he doubted if any day's casualty total in France would exceed the Dieppe figure.

Other short campaigns which have taken a toll of Canadian arms have been the two-week Hong Kong stand where the Dominion suffered 3,384 in dead and prisoners and the four-week Sicilian campaign which resulted in 2,439 casualties.

Allied Losses 6,000 In Burma

KANDY, Ceylon, June 28.—(AP). —The Allies lost 6,000 men killed or missing and 12,000 wounded in the Burma-India campaign from Jan. 1 to May 1, it was estimated officially to-day.

The Japanese in the same period lost 21,700 dead, and probably 20,000 wounded, Headquarters said. Figures do not include losses suffered or inflicted by Lt.-Gen. Stilwell's Chinese-American forces in North Burma.

Chinese forces, following up their success in capturing the Japanese North Burma base of Mogaung in conjunction with British troops, have occupied Mamti, six miles northeast of that town, an Allied communique announced to-day.

Other Chinese forces are advancing south from Mogaung to Loilaw, the bulletin said.

Germany's Military Lifeblood Attacked In All-Out Effort

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 28.—(AP).—Capitalizing on lessons learned in Tunisia, when the Nazi war machine collapsed in a welter of stalled trucks and grounded planes because of an oil shortage, the Allies are making an all-out effort to speed Germany's final surrender by again draining away her military lifeblood.

Allied air chiefs directing this campaign say there already is an "acute shortage" of oil in Germany, but beyond this they will not go in assessing the situation.

Britain's ministry of economic warfare, however, has estimated that German oil production has been cut to one-third of maximum and that the Nazi army is getting less than half the oil it requires for normal operations—let alone for the present tremendous defensive effort it is facing on all fronts.

Since that information became available the Allied air forces have dealt some of their heaviest blows against enemy oil production.

Daylight bombers hit 12 German oil plants June 20 in a raid which the U.S. Army Air Force describe as one of the two heaviest blows they have levelled against the German war effort to date.

Last Friday and Saturday Mediterranean-based Allied bombers attacked the Ploesti oil fields in Romania and on Sunday joined with Britain-based heavyweights in raids on German oil installations in Southern France.

On Monday a refinery at Vienna was bombed and last night the Air Ministry announced that a night attack upon the synthetic oil plant at Gelsenkirchen had cut at least another 1,000 tons of oil per day from German supplies — "at least temporary."

That figure is about one-fortieth of the normal German supply, and on the basis of the latest estimates about one-tenth of the actual present supply.

Germany's normal oil supply (now reduced by two-thirds) is estimated at about 15,000,000 tons annually.

While this total supply is reported to have been cut to about 5,000,000 tons, it cannot be assumed, however, Allied experts point out, that Germany is about to go under because the oil situation is more complicated than these statistics indicate. Damage to installations is constantly being repaired, and there always is the imponderable question of German reserves.

Opposes Radio Paper Tie-ups

OTTAWA, June 28 — (CP). — M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, said at the Commons Radio Committee meeting here to-day that the body should consider recommending in its report the divorce of radio and press ownership in Canada.

He said he had just heard that Roy Thomson of Timmins, Ont., already owned a number of stations and now was buying up some newspapers. Mr. Coldwell said he thought this was "not healthy situation' to allow press and news channels to fall into the hands of a relatively small group of persons.

R. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said the CBC did not encourage control of press and radio by small groups.

Dr. J. J. McCann (L-Renfrew South) said the 1942 recommendations of the committee had suggested care be maintained in handing out licences in such cases.

Dr. Frigon said he had been told that Mr. Thomson was buying up papers because he knew he could not extend his activities in the radio field.

Mr. Coldwell said that he was in accord with the recent Government policy of divorcing air from rail transport in Canada, and he thought the same rule should apply to press and radio.

Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC-McLeod) said it seemed logical the papers would want to keep pace with modern trends by purchasing radio stations. Press as an advertising medium might become obsolete and the papers had the right to protect their business

Dr. McCann said a publisher told him that a radio licence was an important part of newspaper equipment these days as a printing press.

Mr. Coldwell said it tended to develop a monopoly.

J. L. Tripp (L—Assiniboia) interjected: "You would allow a man to buy two cows but not a house and cow."

Gordon Isnor (L—Halifax) said newspapers felt they needed an extra channel to support their business.

Mr. Coldwell said that while Mr.

Republicans Name Dewey

Bricker Slated For Vice-President Spot

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was nominated for president today by a wartime Republican national convention that was his from the start.

The 42-year-old mustached gangbuster swamped all opposition as state after state roared out their votes amid the traditional accompaniments of bands, klieg lights and bake-oven heat.

Another governor — John W. Bricker of Ohio—was slated for the vice-presidential nomination after forsaking his own drive for the No. 1 spot.

It was Dewey all the way, and the roll-call was just a formality after the riotous, band-led snake dance which followed nomination of the Michigan-born attorney by Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska.

"Dewey the people's choice" read the big placards carried by his supporters around the jam-packed convention floor.

"What'll we do, what'll we do, on a dew, dew Dewey day?" questioned a brass band, and the delegates took that for their theme.

Second Disaster Destroys Home

YOUNG'S POINT, June 28—(ENS).—Peter Robison of this village, who was burned out of his home in February, lost everything in a second fire Tuesday which destroyed his trailer home. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Mr. Robison said that he had not had a fire on in the trailer since 5 o'clock in the morning and the blaze did not break out until noon. He was away working and the flames were first seen by the lockmaster's wife, Mrs. Elmer Johnston, from her home. By that time it was too late to fight the flames. The trailer was parked on the original property of the Cement Company on Clear Lake, just below the dam.

In addition to the trailer and contents, Mr. Robison lost his dog and $20.

The fire which destroyed his home in February did away with the oldest house at Young's Point, for it had been built at the time the dam was put in. The people of the village took up a collection after the first fire and a friend loaned him the trailer as a dwelling.

Committee Is Ready To Report On Arena

The small committee which was named to make a study of the possibility of erecting a new arena in Peterborough has completed its work and will report to the main committee set up last fall next Wednesday night.

It is understood the new arena is only part of a very ambitious plan which will include a health centre as well as a sports centre. There will be a modern arena equipped with artificial ice, a building suitable for all year around sport and health activities as well as suitable ball diamonds and rugby grounds.

The site committee is prepared to make a recommendation as to a suitable place for this arena and health centre.

Revised Prices Order Issued By Board

OTTAWA, June 28—(CP)—The Prices Board announced today a revised order, effective July 1, under which sales of special high butterfat milk will be restricted to conserve butterfat for other essential purposes.

The board said the revised order, details of which were not given in its announcement, consolidates and clarifies all previous orders regulating the sale of milk and cream in Canada, but makes no changes in prices already in effect.

This combined force, which possesses great strength as far north as positions west of the captured town of Kamen, also offered the Germans another problem. While it is only 85 miles northeast of Minsk, it is just 38 miles from the railway leading from Germany and Poland into Polotsky, 65 miles from the Latvian border and less than 108 miles from Lithuania.

The third thrust to Minsky came from Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's 3rd White Russian army, driving up from the south-east over the Minsk-Gomel highway and railway.

A tremendous aviation force was likewise in the battle along this front.

Bobruisk Totters.

Rokossovsky's army has pushed ahead toward Minsk, its advancing units about 75 miles away, while other units mopped up and surrounded a group of five German divisions just southeast of Bobruisk, which is tottering, with Russians already in the streets.

Strong air support was thrown also into the battle for Mogilev, where Gen. Georg Fedorovich Zakharov's 2nd White Russian army battled the Nazis in the city's streets.

Between Mogilev and Orsha and Minsk, the Russians have seized numerous trains packed with tanks, guns, ammunition and other stores, front dispatches said.

The Red air force is employing a new two-engine bomber, the "Tupolev 2," over the entire front. It is especially useful against railways, trains and blockhouses.

In the far north the Red army continued its steady progress in the liberation of Karelia and the clearing of the Murmansk-Leningrad railway. Red army units edged steadily forward toward Petrozavodsk, on Lake Onezhskoe (Onega), 185 miles northeast of Leningrad.

BLEW UP NAZI LEAD TANK, SAVING HIS COMPANY—This 22-year-old British Tommy from Lancashire, Fusilier Frank Jefferson, saved his company recently in Italy when he faced an attack of Nazi tanks and under heavy mortar fire in an exposed position, blew up the lead tank with a Piat gun. He had waited until the tank was only 30 yards away. It was the first time he had fired a Piat. The remaining tanks fled.

Premier King Raps Bracken Promises Early Election

By JAMES McCOOK—Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 28—(CP).—Parliament Hill today was deep in the discussion of its commonest topic—the next general election. Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who as leader of the Government, will have a major responsibility in deciding the date of the next vote, assured the Commons last night that there will be an election before July 1, 1945.

That in itself was not surprising, as Mr. King on Jan. 31 told the House the life of parliament would continue until June, 1945, and he was opposed to parliaments extending their own terms of office.

But the Prime Minister last night said that he had told the House previously there would be an election either in the present year or next year. Some political observers, who have forecast an election this fall, said Mr. King's remark was "significant," in that it indicated an election this year still was possible.

When Mr. King spoke in January he said the Government hoped to continue its work without being interrupted by a general election until the war was won. But a situation might arise in which the Government could not continue with the authority it should have in wartime. Some questions might arise which would make necessary an appeal to the people. He had no desire for an issue of that kind to develop.

Mr. King last night spoke sharply of John Bracken, Progressive Conservative National Leader, who is chief of the party having the largest opposition group in the House although he has not been elected to a seat.

The Prime Minister said that Mr. Bracken had spoken of children's allowances proposed by the Government as a "bribe." The allowances would not be payable until July 1, 1945, and the election would have been held before that date.

No Restraining Hand.

If Mr. Bracken had made the statement in the House, he would have been forced to withdraw, Mr. King continued. He questioned the position in which Parliament was being placed before the country when the Leader of a great political party was granted licence to say what he pleased about legislation before Parliament with no one to call him to order.

But there would be a reckoning "one of these days" in the matter of public discussion on the making of laws as carried on by men responsible because they had seats in Parliament, and discussion outside Parliament by "those who profess to represent great parties and at the same time are free to make any assertions they please without being required to make good on what they say."

Mr. King made his references to Mr. Bracken as he spoke in support of the Government bill to establish a department of national health and welfare which received second reading. He outlined the Liberal record of social legislation, recalling the establishment of the labor department of which he was the first deputy minister.

Arguments against that measure used by Conservatives were similar to arguments presented by the opposition against the bill before the House yesterday.

The Prime Minister said he had not intended to speak of Mr. Bracken's position—"I will have occasion to speak of it at another time."

After Election

He himself was responsible for fixing the date of payment on children's allowances at July 1 next year.

"I was responsible for this reason, that I had told this House and this country that there will be an election either during the present year or next year, before the efflux of time of the present Parliament, which means that this Parliament will be dissolved before that measure can come into force," Mr. King said.

"I was not going to do what a former leader of the party opposite did. I remember an important election when money for wheat in storage was distributed throughout the whole of Western Canada within a couple of days before the polling took place.

"I was going to take great care to see that no one should say that a great social measure of this kind, a measure of great responsibility, was going to have its prestige lowered by taking steps in any way which could influence the vote one way or another."

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader: "Why do we have social welfare in politics, like you are doing tonight? It is nothing but Liberal party politics."

Mr. King: "The Liberal party is the only party in Canada that has ever put social legislation on the statute books."

Mr. Graydon: "The Prime Minister only believes that."

Mr. King: "I believe that an..."

Mr. Graydon: "You are only whistling while going through the cemetery."

Mr. King: "Every measure to which I have referred tonight has been a measure with which I have had a great deal to do, and I have had responsibility for. And it has been part of a consistent procedure on my part, as leader of the political party, to see that while need exists in our country and while something can be done to ameliorate burdens, and while help can be given, the Liberal party will take those measures which we feel will leave us free to do our full duty in our day and generation."

tank battle and lashed out at Nazi reserves. Twenty-five German tanks were knocked out in Tuesday's fighting, and to-day's battle was on a much larger scale. Planes shot up 27 troop-carrying vehicles rushing about 800 German reinforcements to a weak spot, destroying 12 and damaging the others.

British infantrymen alone have advanced more than 10,000 yards—some six miles —since Gen. Montgomery began his whiplash offensive Monday. The punch won Tourville along the cross-peninsular road from Caen, then thrust on northeast of Esquay, about 7½ miles southwest of Caen and midway between the Odon and Orne rivers.

The operation has been very successful in the face of concentrated German artillery fire. The enemy now is in an awkward situation in that sector, trying to prevent British tanks from getting into the open country between the Odon and the Orne Rivers.

General Montgomery's tanks have widened a breach in the German lines from four to more than six miles southeast of Tilly Sur Seulles, as slightly clearing weather yesterday allowed the Allied Air Forces to hurl more than 3,000 sorties at the Nazis.

American units continued to mop up on the Cherbourg Peninsula, capturing an arsenal that had been holding out, and attacking other still-resisting German units at Maupertus airfield and the remnants of a German force on Cape de la Hague.

There was no mention of action in the Canadian sector in Normandy in today's communique. William Stewart, Canadian Press War Corespondent, said that area was quiet, except for artillery action, in a front dispatch last night.

Rocket-throwing R.A.F. aircraft continued their war against the German high command, demolishing a Nazi Army Corps headquarters in a Chateau at St. Sauveur Endelin in the southern part of the Cotentin peninsula.

Four German generals already have been killed in the Normandy fighting and one captured.

In a move typical of his desert tactics, Gen. Montgomery has thrown his armor into a breach made by infantrymen, and widened it, crossing the Odon River beyond the embattled German strongpoint of Caen, moving into what has been described as "lovely flat tank country."

May Form Trap

The original infantry attack was preceded by an immense barrage laid down by Allied naval units and British and Canadian artillery.

A swift drive east from Tourville now would cut all Rommel's communications into Caen and almost certainly trap a large number of Nazi divisions around the city.

The German commander is known to have four tank divisions—two of them well-seasoned outfits—in this area and the biggest tank battle of the campaign to date appeared in the offing today.

The British advance was made against the hardest type of German resistance, with the enemy using tanks extensively, and dozens of big Panthers and Tigers being destroyed in defensive fighting.

The British breach in the German line extends from St. Mauvieu five miles west and south of Caen to a point west of Juvigny. The salient then shapes down into a "V" to the river Odon at Tourville.

On the Cherbourg Peninsula the American forces which took the vital port went about the dirty job of mopping up isolated enemy garrisons still holding out.

fell to a tank force only after a six-hour battle. Limited gains were made on the east side of the lake, where the enemy was holding Magione in force.

Five miles north of Perugia the 8th Army climaxed a day's hard fighting by occupying the dominating hilltops of Monte Bagnola and Monte Pacciano. East of the Tiber the village of Pagliaccia was taken.

Enemy losses at the hands of Italian-based Allied planes were placed officially at more than 100 in two days. It was announced that 38 Luftwaffe fighters were blasted out of the air by American heavy bombers and escorting fighters over the Budapest area yesterday. A total of 65 had been reported destroyed in the air and on the ground the preceding day.

Allied losses in all of yesterday's operations amounted to six planes.

The Naval Command announced at least one enemy vessel blew up when French naval units in the Adriatic made a spirited attack on an escorted enemy convoy.

Canadians Bag 4 Hun Planes

Written for The Canadian Press
By PO. STANLEY HELLEUR

A CANADIAN AIRFIELD IN FRANCE June 28—Four more ME-109s fell Tuesday to sharpshooters of Squadron Leader's Dal Russell's Canadian Spitfire Squadron over France. Flt. Lt. Harry Dowding, D.F.C., of Sarnia, Ont., and FO. Stan McClarty of Winnipeg each destroyed two.

The squadron, one of the recently arrived units from Canada, now part of the Canadian wing led by Wing Cmdr. Johnny Johnson, spotted six Messerschmitts flying at low altitude and peeled to the attack from about 8,000 feet.

Both Dowding, who raised his own score to six destroyed, and McLarty were close on the tails of their victims when they made the kills. McLarty, for whom it was first blood, in fact was so close he flew through burning wreckage and scorched the propeller, starboard wing and elevator rudders of his Spit so badly the paint was peeled off.

"I guess I wasn't much more than 50 yards away from him when he blew up," the young redhead said. "He seemed to go up in one big sheet of flame and I was smelling fire and brimstone and burnt rubber. It was a little too close for comfort."

Dowding's aircraft hadn't come to a full stop at its dispersal bay before his ground crew, led by LAC. Maurice Smith of Ottawa, the armorer, were on the wings and asking Dowding all about it. "That makes four Jerries knocked off by guns that I have worked on," said Smith.

mand of a Camerons Vickers platoon with the Winnipegs. The enemy attacked in the evening and all night and the following day fighting went on with the Camerons right in the centre of it holding forward positions.

Wounded Fight On

Ashman was wounded in the leg but refused to go out of the line and continued to lead his platoon. In the late afternoon next day the platoon's position was overrun but most of the Ottawa soldiers managed to get clear. Ashman was captured, but later was rescued by British troops and evacuated to a Canadian hospital in England where he is recovering, according to the latest word reaching the battalion.

The situation was later restored by a Canadian counter-attack in which a Camerons platoon shared.

The resistance shown by the Camerons in their long struggle had materially weakened the Germans.

A platoon of Camerons was with the North Nova Scotia Highlanders and tanks of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment in the dash for Carpiquet on the second day in France and they fought until they were almost all gone alongside the heroic North Novas and the Fusiliers. This was the Authie-Buron fight and they battled against German tanks and infantry.

Next day, remnants of this platoon and platoons with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders and the Highland Light Infantry of Canada, a Galt, Ont., regiment, took up positions in the woods at Les Buissons, four miles northwest of Caen. Here they fought alongside the Glengarrians in the indomitable defence of that position which went on for four days until the German attacks petered out.

Maj. C. C. Hill of Timmins and Ottawa, a company commander, was killed by mortar fire in the woods of Les Buissons and Capt. J. P. C. MacPherson, Ottawa, then led the company.

Six Schools Provide Musical Concert

APSLEY, June 28 — (ENS). — The annual school concert of the schools of the district under the direction of Mrs. G. Kilborn, the music supervisor, was held in the Parish Hall. A delightful program was provided by the pupils of six schools, consisting of massed choruses, part songs, duets, and solos, the teachers conducting the numbers of their respective schools.

The highlight of the evening was a minuet danced by four girls in period costumes which evoked a well deserved encore. The heavy downpour of rain affected the attendance, and the proceeds which were earmarked for the Peterborough Fund for War Victims in Britain were as a result considerably smaller than anticipated. The rental of the hall was kindly returned by the church wardens on this account.

south and east of Paris which the Nazis have been jamming with troops and supplies headed for the front.

The third force of British night raiders meanwhile subjected the Nazis' rocket bomb installations to another heavy assault.

Light bombers also were out during the night, bombing an enemy headquarters south of the Normandy battle area and a military telephone exchange on the Brest peninsula.

4 Bombers Missing.

Four bombers were missing from the night operations from Britain and at least six enemy fighters were downed. All Canadian planes returned safely. Twenty-three German planes were destroyed in yesterday's widespread operations, ranging from Cherbourg to Paris, and 13 Allied bombers and eight fighters were reported missing.

Both the rail centres blasted last night form important bottlenecks on the enemy's lines of communication direct from Germany. The attacks had the double purpose of cutting the roads and destroying a vast quantity of rolling stock collected in the yards.

On one of the most intensive low-level bombing and strafing attacks since the invasion, pilots of the U.S. 8th Fighter Command late yesterday made one sweep across France, netting these results:

Sixteen rail yards bombed or shot up; and 38 locomotives, 371 freight cars, a roundhouse, five ammunition cars, two troops trains, and one ammunition train, all destroyed.

Nazis Promise Aid To Finns

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, June 28 —(AP)— With the Finnish government finally committed to fighting on beside Germany, Nazi troops moved into Finland's cities and towns in force today in response to a plea for help against the onrushing Soviet armies.

Helsinki resounded with the songs of marching German regular troops and SS Guards. The Germans seemed to be occupying all parts of the country and it was reported some already were at the eastern front, where previously the Finns fought alone.

Last night a Finnish communique proclaimed "perfect understanding" had been reached between Germany and Finland and said that in answer to a Finnish appeal German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop had promised the military aid needed to continue the war against Russia.

Swedish dispatches said that so complete was Finland's alignment with the Nazis that henceforth the Finnish communique would be a part of the German communique. Thus ended Finland's pretentions that she was fighting a separate war with Russia.

Sturdevant said Finnish President Risto Rhti last week initiated the request for German aid and that Von Ribbentrop flew to Helsinki to confer with Ryti and Foreign Minister Sir Henrik Ramsay. It was uncertain whether Von Ribbentrop still was in Helsinki.

All through the negotiations, it was said, the Finnish parliament was uninformed of the proceedings, a duplication of the actions of Ryti and his associates when Finland went to war with Russia in 1941.

Senate Reviews 3 New Bills

OTTAWA, June 28 (CP) — The Senate last night received three Government Bills and after a brief discussion advanced one to second reading.

First reading was given the bill to provide for establishment of a reconstruction department and bills extending the charters of the chartered banks of Canada and the Quebec Savings Bank. They were placed on the order paper for second reading today.

Senator J. H. King, government Senate leader, gave a short explanation of the bill providing for a Veterans Affairs Department which, he said, was intended to consolidate Veterans' affairs in a manner to assure their interests being protected.

The Bill, sent to the banking and commerce committee after receiving second reading, was supported by Senator G. V. White (PC-Ontario), who in addition to endorsing the government's proposal paid tribute to officials of the Pensions and Health Department who, he said, were giving courteous and efficient service.

LEAVE UP—Stoker Bob Graham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Graham, 47 Sophia Street, has returned to his post, after spending two weeks' leave with his parents. He was formerly employed at the Westclox and attended the Peterborough Collegiate.

Obituary

MISS LAURA D. PENDER

COBOURG, June 28 — (ENS) — The death occurred here suddenly of Miss Laura Delina Pender in her 72nd year. She had been a resident of Cobourg almost all her life.

Miss Pender was born in Haldimand township but came to Cobourg with her parents when she was a young girl. She taught at the public school for many years and then entered the employ of the local hydro office as a bookkeeper, where she was employed for thirty years, being superannuated about eight years ago. Miss Pender was an ardent church worker and was a past president of the W.M.S. of Trinity United church and was also a member of the Evening Auxiliary.

No members of her immediate family survive, but she has three first cousins, Mrs. F. H. Hare of Oshawa, Mrs. Pearl Davey of Roseneath and Miss Ella Richardson of Toronto.

PALACE PIER DAMAGED.

HASTINGS, England —(CP) — St. Leonards Palace Pier here was badly damaged by fire recently. The pavilion was practically destroyed.

S.S. 13, Percy, Winner

CAMPBELLFORD, June 28 (ENS) —Northumberland schools are making a special effort to put the play grounds and school surroundings in better shape and the results have been gratifying.

School section No. 13, Percy township, taught by Mrs. Clara Wilson, R.R. 1 Campbellford, and the secretary, Eric Merrill, R.R. 1, Dartford, was awarded the highest score by Inspector A. A. Martin and Agricultural representative R. C. Banbury. Plainville School No. 16 in Hamilton township was a close second.

Garden Party Held By Home And School

CAMPBELLFORD, June 28 — (ENS)—The local branch of the Ontario Home and School Association held a successful garden party on the school lawns. The booths were well patronized and the large number who attended showed the aims of the association meet with the approval of the fathers and mothers whose children attend the schools. The Midland Regimental Band furnished musical entertainment for the evening.

Personal

Mr. Andrew Milne, who suffered a paralytic stroke, is showing improvement. His many friends are hoping for a speedy recovery.

Bancroft News

Mr. William Woods of Toronto is renewing acquaintances in Bancroft and Turriff the latter place being his former residence for some years.

Sergeant Arthur Ray is home on leave in Bancroft with his wife and family.

Officers, N.C.O.'s and other rank of "A" Company of the 2nd (R) Battalion, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, stationed at Bancroft under command of Captain Alec Scott, went to Coe Hill Sunday morning to carry out field manoeuvres and also to attend church in Coe Hill Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Flower of Renfrew, spent the week-end in Bancroft as guests of friends made during their previous residence in Bancroft over a year ago when Mr. Flower was in charge of the United church field at Bancroft and neighboring settlements. It was the second anniversary of the opening of the newly erected church at Paudash Lake and Mr. Flower officiated at this service. The choir of St. Paul's church, Bancroft, motored to Paudash Sunday afternoon to assist with the service.

Members of Bancroft Lodge A.F. and A.M. No. 482 held their annual Church Parade from their Lodge Rooms to St. Paul's United church at 7.30 Sunday evening. Rev. Robert McLaughlin, minister of this church, assisted by Mr. N. R. Flower, officiated at the service. He chose as his text: "Awake, Awake, put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem."

INVASION CHAPLAIN—Padre Harold Graven, R.C.N., senior chaplain Canadian Combined Operations looks more like a Commando than an Apostle of God. On a motorcycle, he patrols the coastal invasion areas of France, and is now being called "Invasion Padre." Before the war his church was at Pugwash, N.S.

Missing Soldier Reported Killed

COBOURG, June 28 — (ENS) — Word was received here Tuesday that Rifleman Charles Jacobson, who previously was reported missing, is now dead. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobson of Cobourg. He enlisted in 1940 with the Midland Regiment later transferring to another unit and going overseas in March of 1943. He took part in the invasion and was reported missing on June 11.

He is survived by his parents; three brothers overseas, George, Albert and C. H. Jacobson; two brothers at home, Paul and Donald and two sisters, Helen and Georgina.

Jos. Flannigan Dies Suddenly In Cobourg

COBOURG, June 28—(ENS)—One of Cobourg's best-known and respected citizens, Joseph Flannigan, died suddenly. He had been a barber here almost all his life. Barbering was the family occupation, and although his sons are all overseas now, all but one of them is a barber.

He was born in Cobourg, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Flannigan and has been in the barbering trade for the past 48 years. Death came at the age of 61 years. He was a member of St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society. He was at one time a member of the parks commission and at the time of his death was a member of the Separate School Board.

He is survived by his widow, who was Mary Louise Behan of Cobourg, whom he married 45 years ago; five sons, Tom at home, Clarence, Joseph, Frank and Donald, overseas; and five daughters, Mrs. J. Roach of Toronto Mrs. R. Lawless of Grafton, Mrs. T. Leveque of Oshawa, Mrs. Gerald Doyle of Cobourg and Mrs. B. Lawless of Oshawa.

TRAPPED IN CAR

LEICESTER, England — (CP) — Playing in a disused railway parcel car in Leicester freight yard two six-year-old boys died when they were trapped in the box seat of the car and were unable to extricate themselves.

Population Now 11,812,000

OTTAWA, June 28 — (CP). — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics said yesterday the population of Canada in June of last year, including members of the armed forces, was 11,812,000 compared with 11,654,000 in 1942, an increase of 158,000.

The estimate was based upon a count of the births and deaths recorded and on counts of the first three ration books issued. The increase in the population since the census date in 1941 was 305,000.

Decreases between 1942 and 1943 were recorded in the estimated populations of New Brunswick and Saskatchewan, the decline in the population of the former amounting to 1,000 and in the latter 6,000. Quebec revealed an increase of 67,000, Ontario 33,000, British Columbia 30,000, Alberta 16,000, Nova Scotia 16,000, Manitoba 2,000, and Prince Edward Island 1,000.

The 1943 estimates were as follows by provinces, with figures for 1942 in brackets:

Ontario 3,917,000 (3,884,000), Quebec 3,457,000 (3,390,000), British Columbia 900,000 (870,000), Saskatchewan 842,000 (848,000), Alberta 792,000 (776,000), Manitoba 726,000 (724,000), Nova Scotia 607,000 (591,000), New Brunswick 463,000 (464,000)), Prince Edward Island 91,000 (90,000).

Cobourg Glengarrian Wounded In France

COBOURG, June 28 — (ENS) — Word has been received by his mother, that Pte. Milford Wellwood of Cobourg has been wounded in France. He is with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, and signed up in 1940 with the unit in Peterborough. He has been overseas three years. Born in Alnwick township, his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wellwood. A brother, Russell, lives at Harwood and he has four sisters, Alice at Cobourg Mrs. Gladys Pabst of Toronto; Mrs. S. Alexander of Rochester and Mrs. J. Lawrence of Danville.

HEATING THE SOUP—Signalman B. F. Smith of Salisbury, Wilts., helps a British officer warm up his turtle soup. It is done by applying a light to a wick on the top of the can. This fuses for five minutes, after which the soup is hot and ready to serve. The photograph was taken on the flag deck of L.C.I. (L.) 117 as she heads for France with British troops aboard.

High School Pupils Hold Closing Dance

OMEMEE, June 28 — (ENS) — The pupils of Omemee High school entertained their friends at a closing school dance held in Coronation Hall recently. During the evening Bill Nurse, president of the Student Organization, read an address to Miss Angelia Vincent, assistant teacher, who is leaving at the close of the school year. Miss Elva Boate presented Miss Vincent with a costume jewelry set of brooch and earrings. Miss Vincent thanked the pupils and expressed regret that she would not be with them next year due to the fact that she was, herself, going back to school.

The evening was spent dancing. The High school girls served sandwiches, cookies and lemonade.

Would Continue Wartime Controls

TORONTO, June 28—(CP)—Continuation of wartime controls in the post-war years was urged today by H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, as part of a seven-point program to "provide adequate income and stability" for the farmers of the dominion.

Addressing the annual convention of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists, Mr. Hannam said that assurance of adequate income for the Canadian farmer "cannot or will not be done without a comprehensive program designed not merely to stabilize farm prices, but to support the general farm price level, and maintain it in proper relationship with other price levels and other elements in our economy."

In addition to urging some form of price control including a floor for farm prices, Mr. Hannam's seven point-program proposed: regulated marketing, similar to that carried on by the wheat board; harmonizing of the dominion's agricultural program with "the collective international plan of other food exporting and food importing countries;" some measure of direct or indirect production control; payment by the federal government on the cost of holding food reserves from surplus production; a policy of equality on subsidies as between those on basic wage rates and farm prices; a long range program for soil conservation.

ALL he said was "include Grape-Nuts". And what a piece of advice, friends! Really different flavor—and all this grand nourishment:

CARBOHYDRATES—for energy | IRON—for the blood

PHOSPHORUS—for bones and teeth | PROTEINS—for muscle-building

And what a flavor-treat! Malty-rich, sweet-as-a-nut! There's no other flavor—no other cereal—like Grape-Nuts. You'll like their crisp "chewiness", too. Get Grape-Nuts at your grocer's and enjoy them soon.

The Ilsley Budget

Finance Minister Ilsley has delivered his sixth wartime budget. It is different from its five predecessors, in that there are no increases in taxation and a general easing in some other forms of taxation. But this does not mean that Canadians will not have to pinch the pennies just as hard in the coming year as in the past five. More money than ever before has to be raised and if it is not done by taxation the money must come through Victory Loans. The compulsory feature, the one which has been criticized by the individual perhaps more than anything else in our tax levies, has been removed, thus reducing federal receipts $70,000,000. Why there have been so many complaints about the compulsory savings we have never been able to understand, unless it was that people failed to understand it.

The Government's borrowing requirements this year will be some $320,000,000 more than in 1943-44 or more than $3,200,000,000. This is going to have to be raised by voluntary effort of the individual Canadian and the National War Finance Committee. If you find more money now in your pay envelopes, that additional sum is not meant for your spending but for investing in War Bonds and War Savings Certificates. The Minister apparently believes that Canadians should know by now what the war is all about and they can be expected to put forth greater voluntary efforts.

The man-on-the-street, the little fellow who chips into the nation's war chest with taxes on tobacco, soft drinks, chewing gum and other miscellaneous items will find his lot not changed by the budget. These smaller items remain unchanged and those who like the occasional "nip" will find liquor prices without increase or decrease.

• • •

The removal of the tariff on farm implements will mean that the farmer will get some implements at a reduced price. However, the bulk of farm implements now imported into Canada consists of tractors which at present are not taxable, but here the farmer will benefit by the removal of the 10 per cent sales tax. The manufacture of farm implements also benefits by the promise of steps to be taken to remove duties on materials used in the manufacture of agricultural implements. The list of agricultural implements placed on the free list is an imposing one but we fear that the question of supply will prove a handicap.

For the past financial year Mr. Ilsley reported a budget deficit of $2,659,000,000. The revenues increased $536,285,000 and the expenditures which totalled $5,360,120,000, an increase of $972,998,000. Mr. Ilsley in his fifth budget figured pretty closely for actually things turned out a little better than he had predicted as slightly more than half of Canada's total war expenditure last year was met from current revenue.

• • •

Mr. Ilsley praised the work of the War Finance Committee and the way the citizens had responded to the appeal for bonds and war savings certificates. This borrowing of the personal savings of individuals for temporary use of the nation at war is the only type of borrowing which relieves rather than increases the inflationary pressures which are continually at work. We are not being asked to do too much. Our privations are small and our self denials very limited when compared to the hardships which our fighting forces are enduring. But on the whole Canada has risen nobly to what has been asked of her and Mr. Ilsley has given leadership in financing of this war of which every citizen should feel proud. In the future while our purchasing power in our own hands is going to be increased, likewise our voluntary efforts must increase.

Cutting off the compulsory savings levy on July 1 is one effective way of causing Canadians to remember Dominion Day.

The Highest Lake

The other day we read in The Globe and Mail that Belwood Lake which conserves the water of the Grand River in that great $2,000,000 conservation scheme near Guelph was the highest lake in Ontario. On reading this we said is this just another case where the newspaperman has let his superlatives get the better of his judgement. Largest, biggest, highest, greatest, oldest, grandest, loudest, lowest, smartest, smallest are words often used without ever giving the subject matter much thought. If all the "oldest" people in any community were gathered together we are quite sure there would be quite a difference in their actual ages.

So it is with the highest lake. Now a lake 1,200 feet above sea level in Ontario has something to boast about and when the same lake is man-made it can stick its chest out just a little bit more. But it should not get "too cocky" and not strut too much for then it will be sure to have a fall. Man-made lakes are few but still there are some notable ones above every large power plant or dam.

Now there are some fine lakes in the Kawarthas, Hastings and Haliburton, and we do not think that The Globe and Mail would want in any way to slight this great tourist area. In Haliburton there are lakes over 1,200 feet above sea level, and when we say lakes they are not just seven-mile long ones. Still we would not even suggest that they are the highest in Ontario. But they are lakes that can do just a little more "puffing" about their height than Belwood Lake.

Monk Lake, Cardiff township, Hastings county, is over 1,300 and in Haliburton we have Rock Lake, 1,281 feet. Ox Tongue, on the Muskoka watershed; Louisa, Pen, Long and several smaller lakes on the Madawaska watershed all are over 1,200 feet. Further south is Kashogamigamog, on which shores are Deer Lodge, Wig-a-Mog, Bonnie View, Chateau Woodland, Birch Lodge and many other resorts, and this lake is 1,268 feet above sea level. Draining into Kashogawigamog are Big and Little Sawyer Lakes, Placid Lake and Head Lake. Kennissis Lake, north of Kashogawigamog, a noted lake trout spot, is 1,211 feet above sea level and there are at least 12 lakes draining into Kennissis. Thus when you get talking about Belwood being the highest lake you can find many others going this lake one better.

A Probe Is Required

Hon. T. D. Bouchard has been fired as chairman of the Quebec Hydro Commission but firing him has not settled the charges which he as a member of Canada's Senate brought to the attention of the Canadian people. Mere denial of the Senator's assertions is not enough. The people of this Dominion have seen and read for themselves how the representatives of various organizations in Quebec, in Parliament and out of it, have spoken vehemently against Canada's participation in the war except as a producer of war materials and food and some have even grudged that.

The man on the street in Ontario today believes there is a lot of truth in the Bouchard charges, and it is only the talk of these Quebecers who have been opposing the war effort, that has led him to this conclusion. Either there is truth in the statements Senator Bouchard has made, or there is none. If they are well founded we cannot ignore them. If they are not their recital has brought about a situation that should be speedily cleared up. There is only one way to decide the issue and that is to have a thorough investigation.

Senator Bouchard has been vilified and fired for speaking out in Canada's Senate and from this action the implication is plain that the fundamental right of freedom of speech, even when exercised on the floor of the Senate of Canada is denied by the Government of Quebec to an appointee on pain of dismissal. His speech in the Senate had nothing whatever to do with the affairs of the Hydro Commission, and did not effect in the slightest his qualifications which had for the job to which he was appointed only two months ago. He had the courage to speak what he believed from personal observations of those around him to be the truth. But free speech, one of the Four Freedoms Canadians are fighting for in France and in Italy, apparently does not exist in Quebec.

NOTE AND COMMENT

And now if the people of this country would plough that returned compulsory saving money back into Victory Bonds everything would be lovely on the home front.

Papers have been featuring pictures of Mr. Ilsley in his shirt-sleeves. If the current budget had contained any tax increases many Canadians would not have had a shirt in which to be photographed.

Lanny Budd Rides Again

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

ALL history, so far as it is not supported by contemporary evidence, is romance, said Dr. Johnson, and if we think of the matter soberly, we must realize that a great deal of what is presented to us today as history is romance, and high-coloured, third-rate romance, at that. Numberless books are published which contain accounts of the adventures of foreign correspondents, eminent refugees, and diplomats of all sorts, and all of these books are given to us as records of fact. Sometimes they are so; but more often they mix a noggin of fact with a puncheon of romance. Mark you, the romance is not without its value; sometimes, when it is skilfully used, it gives us a clearer impression of what really happened than a dull and necessarily incomplete record of the facts as they are known to one person. If that is so, why not mix the fact and the fiction frankly, and forego any pretence of strict reporting? If you have no vigorous objection to this method, you are probably a reader of the chronicles of Upton Sinclair, and will be interested in hearing about his latest book, "Presidential Agent." (Macmillan.)

◇ ◇ ◇

FOR some years Upton Sinclair has been writing contemporary history as though it were fiction. He does it with great discretion and skill, and he never distorts historical fact in order to make a neat story. Mr. Sinclair knows that the age in which we live is one of chaos and world revolution, and that history is never neat. Long before it became a popular point of view he realized that the period which followed the First World War was not a peace, but an uneasy truce. The story of that truce has been told by him in four remarkable novels, "World's End," "Between Two Worlds," "Dragon's Teeth," and "Wide Is The Gate"; "Presidential Agent" is the fifth, and presumably the last, of the series.

◇ ◇ ◇

AS novels, these books are anything but classic in form and they are uneven in execution. Sometimes they rise to considerable heights of intensity, and at other times they drop to the level of "True Detective" and the Superman comic-books. The characters in them are in the main people of international fame, and although they are described with the sort of detail in which "Time" specializes—'stubby, scabrous Joe Stalin poured raspberry jam into his seventh cup of tea and strained it squeakily through his moustache"—they never really come to life. Upton Sinclair obviously has read all that there is to read about Adolf Hitler and his gang and writes about them with a wealth of corroborative detail, but that does not mean that he gives us a true picture of them. Similarly, for instance, he writes about Lord Beaverbrook in no very complimentary fashion; but does he know Beaverbrook? Or is he writing from hearsay which his socialist friends have brought to him? Novels which contain portraits of living statesmen based on incomplete information are tendentious pamphlets, and for all their fascination that is the most accurate description of Upton Sinclair's five volumes on the world between the two wars.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE fascination of the books cannot be denied. It is the sort of fascination which made a best-seller of Robert Briffault's "Europa." Bernard Shaw has said of Sinclair's books: "When people ask me what has happened in my long lifetime, I do not refer them to the newspaper files and to the authorities, but to Upton Sinclair's novels." High praise, indeed; but naturally Shaw is not prejudiced against Sinclair by the fact that the latter is an internationally known writer on Socialism. In fairness I must add that many of Sinclair's opinions on world affairs are shared by people who are far from being Socialists. He has a lively and enquiring mind, and a magnificent grasp of modern history, both in its portentous and its trifling phases. He tells us convincingly how the underground movements work, and he is equally ready to tell us the gossip about Dr. Josef Goebbels, who is said to fancy himself as a lady-killer. He appears to know by exactly what methods the Nazis torture their prisoners, and he can give a painfully particular account of what a tortured man or woman looks like. Mr. Sinclair's books are crammed with statements which he offers to us as facts, and undoubtedly a great many of them are facts; it is somewhat curious that a man with a passion for facts should also be a convinced spiritualist, and should use spiritualism freely to move the wheels of his books.

◇ ◇ ◇

LIKE many another historian, Mr. Sinclair is inclined to over-estimate the power and influence of his own country, great though that is. And he is inclined to find excuses for his country's faults when he has nothing but scorn and bitterness for the faults of Britain and France. He is possessed by a hatred of sham and hypocrisy, and certainly sham and hypocrisy were common enough in Europe during the interval between the two wars. But it would be naive to suppose that Europe had a monopoly of sham and hypocrisy, and Mr. Sinclair is not naive. Perhaps he is being tactful, and perhaps he is not above the historian's trick of writing history to please a national audience.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE story of "Presidential Agent," is too complex to be successfully synopsized here. The hero, as in all these books, is Lanny Budd, the millionaire art dealer whose family makes munitions. As a special agent of President Roosevelt, Lanny hurries about Europe, meeting everyone of importance, and lending his funnel-like ear to the inmost confidences of national leaders. Like many socialists, Upton Sinclair is fascinated by the doings of the rich and the notorious, and he writes about them with an uninhibited gush of imagination which is sometimes reminiscent of Ouida at the peak of her career. There are many objections to these novels on grounds of art, and not a few on grounds of taste, but their immense vitality stuns purely aesthetic criticism. Once one has begun to read the things, it is impossible to stop.

Noisy Weddings

This being June, a particularly annoying nuisance is once again afflicting the people of Windsor. The blaring motor horns of wedding parties are sounding in the streets, with the police doing nothing about it. These asinine horn-tooters deserve no consideration, for they show none for others. They blast their noisy way past hospitals and even funerals. There is no telling how many night workers in vital industry have their precious rest disturbed by the din. No doubt the authorities hesitate to interfere with the celebration of such a joyful event as a wedding, and a certain latitude should undoubtedly be allowed, but there can be no excuse for the racket that makes the air hideous throughout the summer.—Windsor Star.

A National Department of Health

(FROM CANADIAN JOURNAL OF PUBLIC HEALTH)

THE establishment of three new Departments of Government—Social Welfare, Veterans' Affairs, and Reconstruction—was recently announced to Parliament by the Prime Minister. The Department of Reconstruction, as its name implies, will advance and co-ordinate the broad program designed to meet post-war needs. The proposed Department of Social Welfare will be responsible for the administration of insurance measures and those functions in the field of public health which are under the Health Branch of the Department of Pensions and National Health. The work of the Pensions Branch will be assumed by the new Department of Veterans' Affairs. The Department of Pensions and National Health will cease to exist. Hospitalization of returned soldiers, which forms such an important part of the program of the Department of Pensions and National Health, will be a responsibility of the Department of Veterans' Affairs. There will, therefore, be a separation of hospitalization, which is essentially a health matter, from the Department charged largely with the responsibility for health, since the work of the Health Branch of the Department of Pensions and National Health will presumably be administered by the Department of Social Welfare.

It is most disappointing that, if the proposed measures are adopted, Canada will no longer have a National Health Department, even though the health services may be included in the broad designation "social welfare." This reorganization raises the whole question of the status of public health services in the Federal Government. When the Department of National Health was established in 1919, following more than forty years of effort by leaders of all parties, there was widespread approval of centralizing public health work in one Department which would be represented in the Cabinet by the Minister of Health. In June, 1928, however, when the Department of Soldiers' Civic Re-establishment ceased to function, the administration of veterans' affairs was transferred to the Department of National Health which thereafter was known as the Department of Pensions and National Health.

At that time public health leaders felt concern lest the magnitude of the responsibilities of pensions might so overshadow those of national health that progress in health work would be retarded. And although much has been accomplished, the disparity between the budgets of the two divisions has been striking, even taking into account the much larger appropriations necessarily required by the Pensions Branch. Today, sixteen years after the amalgation of the two Departments, the budget for pensions is approximately fifty times that for national health.

Now, the progress of the past twenty-five years seems likely to be jeopardized as a result of the proposed reorganization. It is appreciated that the term "social welfare", in its full significance, implies due regard for health and that, without health, social welfare is impossible. Yet it seems most desirable that, since public health and medical services are fundamental to social security, the words "national health" be included in the title of the proposed Department of Social Welfare, in order that there may be a public consciousness which is essential to the achieving of all that social welfare implies.

The omission of "national health" from the name of this Department is likely to constitute a serious handicap to the advancement of public health in the post-war years, and it is earnestly hoped that it is not too late to permit of further consideration being given to this matter.

Anti-Roosevelt Revolt ?

(By CHESTER A. BLOOM)

WASHINGTON: The sixty-four dollar question among professional politicians hereabouts is whether the southern Democratic state machines really mean to ditch President Roosevelt. Do they, or are they only running a super-duper political shell game on the national Democratic convention. Opinion is divided.

The cynics say in the end the southerners will be found voting the regular party ticket—after they have got everything they can out of the national party convention leaders. The root and branch Roosevelt-haters in the south say they'd just as soon have a Republican president. This is a fight between professionals—the so-called "southern colonels" on one side and the "upstart" New Dealers on the other.

The great mass of southern voters indubitably would vote for the convention nominee, be he Roosevelt or any other Democrat. It's an old southern custom.

But the hand-picked state conventions in South Carolina, Mississippi and Texas are adopting a new technique. This is either to delay the naming of slates of state electors until after the conventions or to name them deliberately without instructions.

It is a new dodge in American politics. Under the complicated U.S. constitutional system of voting for president, the parties in each of the 48 states put up a "slate" of electors. Each state is entitled to a fixed number of electors according to population. Whichever party wins in a federal election within that state sends its slate of electors down to Washington to cast the ballots to which the state is entitled for president—that is, one ballot per elector.

These slates of party electors hitherto have always been chosen in advance of the national conventions. It is a century-old tradition—though the constitution did not so intend—that these electors must cast their ballots for the nominee of their own national party for president. It has occasionally happened that this system has elected a president who did not have an actual majority of the total vote cast over the nation as a whole.

In 1876, Samuel J. Tilden, a Democrat, received a national popular majority, but Rutherford B. Hayes, with a majority of the states' electoral votes, became president. In 1888, Benjamin Harrison, Republican, won the presidency with 233 state electoral votes against 168 cast for Grover Cleveland, though Cleveland had 4,000 more popular votes over the whole United States.

It becomes obvious, therefore, that if a few state party organizations either leave their state electors to be chosen after the national convention, or choose them deliberately to go without instructions to Washington, they might hold a club over the head of the national convention of their party. That's what South Carolina, Texas and Mississippi are doing, and trying to draw in Louisiana, Virginia and some other southern balliwicks.

What they demand primarily is restoration of the two-thirds voting rule in the Democratic national convention which had previously given the south an undue advantage in choosing presidential and vice-presidential candidates. Secondly, they want the New Dealers excommunicated from the Democratic party. And they want at least a private pledge that all agitation for political equality for Negroes shall cease. They want Vice-President Wallace thrown out as a symbol of killing the New Deal.

They aren't going to get all these things by a long shot. The national conventions, to begin with, can determine what state delegates they will seat. Thus, the pro-Roosevelt people in Texas broke away from the machine convention and named not only other delegates to the national convention, but also a slate of electors of their own. But the machine convention which controls the state offices has refused to allow Texas Democrats a plebiscite on which slate of Texas Democratic electors they prefer. The issue is now up to the Texas courts. There is very little question, however, that the convention will seat the pro-Roosevelt delegates. If it does, the machine fellows are threatening to desert to the Republicans—a fairly idle threat in Texas.

One interesting point arises. If there were a close election between, say, President Roosevelt and Governor Tom Dewey, the uninstructed electors of any one state might vote for a third person and thus throw the election into the house of representatives where the voting would be one vote to each 435 representatives. The political fight there would set a new high even for the United States.

Fashions In Songs

In 1940 the Germans had a marching song. It was "We March Against England." But that song grew a bit out of date.

So they brought out a new one, called "Die Wacht Am Kanal" (The Watch on the Channel).

Now, since the Allies have been kicking sand from the beaches of Cherbourg into the gears of the German war machine, the Germans will have to change their tune again.

A revival of "The Watch on the Rhine" might be more appropriate—but not for long.—Minneapolis Star Journal

GENERAL ON A LIMB

In a speech at Edmonton on Wednesday, Major General Griesbach, Inspector-General of the Canadian Army, gave vent to unbridled optimism regarding the war outlook. He declared: "I venture to predict that the end of the war approaches. Within a couple of months we shall end this war, ending with a complete victory which is lasting."—Calgary Albertan.

THREE KINDS

George E. Sokolsky finds three kinds of Republicans "struggling" for control of the G.O.P. convention: the hungry politician; the specialist who hates Roosevelt and the one who "bears Roosevelt no personal animosity" but regards the New Deal as "a dangerous and harmful economic and social revolution."—(George E. Sokolsky in the New York Sun.)

A Bible Message

And God spake unto Moses, and said unto him, I am the Lord: and I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them. (Ex. 6: 2, 3.)

◇ ◇ ◇

And it came to pass, as Moses entered into the tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses.... And Moses said unto the Lord, see, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight.

Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found grace in thy sight, shew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is thy people.

And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest....

And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory. And he said, I will make all my goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the name of the Lord before thee: and will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy.

And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live. (Ex. 33: 9, 12-14, 18-20.)

Those Alberta Dividends

Addressing a Vancouver audience the Hon. Solon Low, Provincial Treasurer of Alberta, and now national leader of the Social Credit party, has denied the promise of $25 monthly dividends by Mr. Aberhart. He also stated that constitutional barriers prevented the payment of dividends.

Unfortunately for Mr. Low, the facts are against him. Albertans were promised $25 monthly dividends. And no constitutional barriers prevented the payment of dividends.

The election platform of the Alberta Social Credit League, which afterwards became the Social Credit party of Alberta, contained many planks, but the main plank promised a "basic dividend" of $25 a month. The term "basic dividend" was construed to mean the floor of the dividend structure, with the sky as the ceiling.

On the eve of the 1935 election, Mr. Aberhart did not recede one inch from the platform promise of $25 dividend. Speaking to a large Edmonton audience, he said, "I have been going over the figures and find that we can pay $75 just as easily as $25."—Vancouver Province.

Retiring Minister Given Many Gifts

WARKWORTH, June 28—(ENS)—Dr. J. R. R. Cooper, who has been minister of St. Paul's United Church and Dartford United Church since October, 1933, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday morning, using for his text "For me to live is Christ," taken from the first chapter of Philippians. During the service P. S. Ewing read an address and presented Dr. Cooper with a purse containing $100, and at Dartford, during the service W. T. Runnells presented him with a purse of $25.

Dr. Cooper is retiring after 45 years in the ministry. They are moving to Peterborough, where they have purchased a home on George Street.

Elderly Brigadier Plays Mouth-Organ For Soldiers

By FRANK LOWE,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, June 28 —(CP) —The Brigadier hadn't his health and he hadn't his youth, but he did have a mouth organ so he pitched right in to help Britain's war effort.

After all, the elderly soldier had fought in Britain's wars and skirmishes since before the turn of the century and he didn't see why he couldn't be of some use in this scrap. So he dusted off the mouth organ he had learned to play as a boy and went to work.

You'll find him almost any evening, generally in the cavernous, smoky shed that is Euston Station, merrily wheezing out tunes like, "Tipperary," "Over There," "Bless 'Em All," and other soldier ditties for the benefit of departing and arriving servicemen.

He gets around to Victoria Station, too, and to the others but Euston seems to be his favorite stand because it was from there, he says, that he left so many times himself to take part in the wars of the Empire.

He doesn't want his name told because he doesn't feel that a mouth organ virtuoso and a retired member of His Majesty's Forces are quite synonymous. But, confidently, he admits he hasn't had so much fun since he was a swasbuckling subaltern in a bearskin shako.

It woud seem, too, that he succeeds in his own particular branch of war work. Soldiers, sailors and airmen are continuously crowding around this figure in the neat tweeds with the row of campaign ribbons on his breast yelling, "hey pop, how about Lili Marlene?"

The "hey pop" greeting from Canadian and American privates rather disconcerted the Brigadier at first, but now he merely frowns slightly and struggles with the new tunes that have been born with this war.

He got the idea, he said, when his grandson went off to war early in the conflict. The Brigadier said he was "deeply shocked" to find that in this war the boys were rushed off without the band-playing and general hula baloo that was an indispensable prelude to battle in his day.

Music," he says, is as much a part of a soldier's diet as bully beef, Singing soldiers are happy soldiers, so I decided to give them music."

Extend Leave For McNaughton

OTTAWA, June 28—(CP)—Defence Headquarters announced today that the six months' period of leave granted last December to Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, former commander of the Canadian army overseas has been extended for another three months.

The previous leave, granted Dec. 26, was scheduled to expire to-day.

The Headquarters statement did not elaborate on the extension.

When Gen. McNaughton left his overseas post last December, an official announcement said ill-health was forcing him to quit his command.

At present the General and Mrs. McNaughton are summering at Eagle Lake, near Lindsay, Ont.

Gen. McNaughton has smilingly turned aside newsmen's queries as to what he has been "up to." However, one military source said the General has been participating in various experiments at the National Research Council, giving scientists the benefit of his overseas experience, his knowledge of the needs and his engineering genius. He was on leave of absence from the council when overseas.

There has been a persistent report that Gen. McNaughton does not intend to go back as head of the Council. The most common rumor is that he will be retired as a full General and devote his time to private scientific experiments.

Golden Links Circle Holds Sunset Service

MILLBROOK, June 28 — (ENS)—The Golden Links Mission Circle held its annual 'Sunset Service' at the home of Miss E. L. Hetherington with the president, Mrs. Elsie Paulson, in the chair.

It was decided to hold the postponed silver tea on Saturday, August 12, on the lawn at R. M. Theobald's home. Miss Margaret Smith took charge of the worship service, reading the poem, "God of all, we thank Thee," and Mrs. Cecil Hubbeard read the lesson from Psalm 96, Miss Betty Lunn offered prayer, and the leader gave the story "The Pilgrim's Text".

The president emphasized the missionary atmosphere with the article "It is Honan", and was appointed to attend the School for Leaders at the O. L. C., Whitby, August 28 to September 1.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., June 28 —(CP). — The St. Hyacinthe City Council held a meeting last night when for the first time in 25 years Senator T. D. Bouchard, mayor of the city, was not in the chair.

Rumors were current that the Council would ask Senator Bouchard to resign as mayor; but no action was taken along this line.

REDS DRIVE STRAIGHT FOR BERLIN—Using the historic invasion route from old White Russia to Berlin, the long-anticipated Russian summer drive is on, according to German broadcasts, along a huge front stretching from south of Mogilev (1) to Vitebsk (2). At the same time, Russian successes in Finland were leading to reports of a possible peace settlement, under the terms of which the Reds have demanded certain air bases. Several of these near Helsinki (3), it is said, would provide a springboard for new air attacks against the north German areas. Map shows distance of direct drive from Mogilev, although Warsaw may become a battleground en route.

TAMBLYN
Again Stresses Letters, Snapshots

Keep writing and often. Yes—that's the least we can do in return for what they're going through for us. They're all "Home Folks" and Home means more to them than we possibly can imagine. So, keep those letters going forward regularly, and, better still, whenever possible enclose a few Snapshots—not necessarily new ones—for pictures taken around home at any time tend mightily to mentally bridge that gap that presently exists between them and "Home Sweet Home." Film is rather scarce, it's true, and your Tamblyn Drug Store cannot always supply you, but when new film is available, use it to make Snapshots for them, and, failing that, prints from some of those old negatives will always be most acceptable.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

We are asking all bowlers—men and women—to keep the evening of Wednesday, July 5 open. The ladies are sponsoring a "Milk for Britain" tournament. More details later.

It will be men's rinks on Friday night. This is the information that we have received from Chairman R. Hendry.

It looks like as if our local boys are going to support the Tip Top Tailor competition in fine style. Up till last evening there were 18 rinks entered, and no doubt more will follow in a day or so.

We owe our bowlers an apology for not having last night's scores. We left the greens early—it was the heat.

Hindu Wrestler Tosses Referee Over Ring Ropes

Najo Singh, the Hindoo Horror, won all the fighting honors in his main bout battles with Palermo John Katan in the Tunney Show at the Brock Street Arena Tuesday night, but lost the decision.

Singh wound up the torrid struggle with one of the wildest displays seen here during the current revival when he tossed Katan and Referee Bert Maxwell out of the ring and took sole possession, booting both his opponent and the official out again every time they tried to climb back. The dark-skinned, stockily built Indian, angered by a doubtful decision in the second round, declared warfare on all and sundry.

Maxwell finally gave up trying to get into the ring and raised Katan's arm in token of victory as the two stood on the floor of the Arena and the enraged Singh danced angrily inside the ropes.

When the Hindoo finally realized that he had been disqualified he staged another wild demonstration but it did not earn him anything but the cheers of the crowd, who booed both Katan and Maxwell as they left the Arena.

Nanjo Singh proved not only a clever wrestler but one of the most excitable battlers who have been seen in action here. Whenever he lost his temper, and that was often, he would leap high in the air a couple of times and then tear into Katan like a wild man. The big Panther, rough and tough as he is, found the Indian in his mad moods hard to handle as a fighting wildcat an it was noticeable that Katan, who has a reputation of not backing up from anyone, went into retreat when the Hindoo staged one of his mad rallies.

Katan on Attack

Early in the battle Katan was doing all right for himself. He put his favorite headlock to work and for minutes at a time he had Singh's head in chancery and marched him around the ring, slipping in a punch to the jaw every time he thought Referee Maxwell could not see the blows. Finally however the Hindoo had enough of that kind of stuff. He took a couple of bounds in the air and then tore into Katan like a Sherman tank. Before the bewildered Palermo bad man knew what was happening Singh got his famous cobra hold around his neck and it was all over. The Indian put on the pressure until Katan had to concede the fall and he was almost unconscious when Singh dropped him to the mat. The first round lasted 12 minutes.

Katan evened up after 13 minutes of torrid wrestling but most of the fans are sure that he got the benefit of a dubious decision on the part of Referee Maxwell and also of illegal help from the ropes. Nanjo had been doing most of the pressing and had Katan in hot water several times with headlocks and stepover toeholds. Finally the Indian had the Panther tied up with a leg lock in the corner but Katan managed to grab the ropes and got enough leverage to reverse the hold

Omemee Team Wins By One-Run Margin

OMEMEE, June 28 —(ENS) — Omemee Creamery nosed out the Lindsay Knights of Columbus in a fast and closely contested Town League Softball game in Lindsay on Monday night with a score of 2-1.

Stephenson for Omemee and Lucas for K. of C. each ptiched a good game, the former having a slight edge, striking out seven, walking 3 and allowing only four hits, all singles. Lucas' had six strike out, walked one, and allowed six hits, two of which were doubles. K. of C.'s only run was scored by Hennessey who singled in the fourth inning. Brigden, next to bat, drove a lucky hit which bounded over the short stop's head and brought Hennessey safely across the plate. Crawford scored both Omemee's runs. In the first inning he singled. Williamson followed with a single advancing Crawford to third. Brooks sent a hard fly to second which was picked up neatly by Williams, who spoiled it by making a wild throw to third allowing Crawford to score. In the second inning Crawford hit a two bagger, Williamson equalling it to bring the first hitter in, for the O's second and final score.

Line ups:

Omemee Creamery: Crawford 2b, Williamson 1b, Parsons 3b, J. Deyell lf, McQuade cf, R. Deyell rf, Bradley ss, Stephenson p.

Knights of Columbus: Williams 2b. O'Leary c, Hennessey 3b, Brigden cf, Ashmore 1b, Father Kay ss, Shine lf, Callaghan rf Lucas p.

Wins Award

LOS ANGELES, June 28—(AP)—For directing the "most complete and technically excellent" combat photography of the war during the battle for Tarawa, Marine Capt. Louis Hayward, former screen actor, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, United States Navy spokesmen announced yesterday. The award was made at the U.S. Naval Hospital at nearby Corona, where Hayward was resting after combat service. He is the husband of British-born actress Ida Lupino.

Autry Sues

LOS ANGELES, June 28—(AP)—Gene Autry, Hollywood's No. 1 singing cowboy for several years before he joined the United States Army Air Forces in 1942, filed suit to terminate his contract with Republic Pictures Corporation. In a court action for declaratory relief, Autry stated that his military duties prevent him from meeting provisions of the contract.

SPORTS - Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

In one of the most important games of the season so far as the two teams involved is concerned the U.E.W. team and St. Peter's will clash in the City League game at Riverside Park at 7 o'clock tonight. The battle may decide which of the two outfits will be eliminated from the playoffs for a win will put the Union team well up in the running while a loss would be disastrous for either team. The Union club defeated the Saints last week and did it by a substantial margin and hope to repeat the dose tonight while on the other hand St. Peter's are out for revenge and are confident that they can turn the tables on the U.E.W. The later club is showing plenty of fight since they secured the services of Pitcher MchPerson. They have improved noticeably in their fielding and their power at the plate has also increased so that they can no longer be regarded as pushovers for any man's club. St. Peter's, too, are playing good ball, in spite of a lot of bad luck for they have lost a bunch of games by the narrow margin of one run, including two to the leading Switchgear and a twleve-innings contest with the second-place Plazas. Although they have dropped all three games to Switchgear, the total winning margin has been only five runs so that it can be seen that the Saints have been making a battle of it all the way.

U.E.W. will be back in action again tomorrow night against Plazas and that should be another interesting tussle. When Pitcher Rosy McPherson made his debut against the hockey squad several weeks ago he stopped them cold for the first half of the game, pulling the string on a slow ball that had the hard-hitting Plazas looking very bad. And while McPherson was holding the second-placers the Union hitters were doing all right by themselves, opening up a 6 to 2 lead. Plazas finally solved the problem by laying down a barrage of bunts that enabled them to build up a six-run inning and pull the game out of the fire. But it was close enough for a while and the Union outfit are hopeful of making it even more so tomorrow night when they meet Plazas for the third time this season. Both outfits are anxious to win and the result should be a merry argument. Right now there is a Keen battle going on between Soldiers, St. Peter's and U.E.W. for third and fourth spots and every game is a fight. In fact the third round in the schedule now under way should produce a steady program of thrilling encounters.

Third In A Week

Playing their third game in five nights Westclox seniors will battle Brintons tonight at the Ashburnham Bowl, with action getting under way at 7 o'clock. Naturally both teams are anxious to come home in front in this contest. The Big Bens haven't been beaten this season and are anxious to keep their winning streak intact. They meet Aircraft Friday night and they are hopeful of making it three straight over the second-placers and thus virtually cinch first place before they go way for the two-week holiday period. But before doing that they have to knock off Brintons tonight and the intermediate champs are determined to make their travel at top speed to do the trick. Just who will pitch for Westclox has not been decided. They used an outfielder against Johnson Motors. It may be Nona Whetung, the first base player of the team against Brintons. Tomorrow night Westclox seconds play their second game of the week with Lock Works as their opponents and that should be quite a ball game too for the teams are very evenly matched and anything is liable to happen when they clash.

Softball fans are asked to remember the exhibition game at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon in aid of the British War Victims' Fund between a team representing the Royce Avenue C.G.E. Toronto against an all-star Peterborough C.G.E. team. This should work out into one of the classiest engagements of the season. The Toronto C.G.E. outfit includes in its ranks a number of high-class softball stars and the club is strong in all departments. The Peterborough plant, however, is in the happy position of being able to field a powerful and well-balanced team for most of the best performers in the City League are employees of the big concern. In addition to the Switchgear bunch, nearly all of whom are C.G.E. men there are such players as Eddie Starr, Art Heal, Les Burton, Phil Pryde, George Hawks, Jack Tucker, Dave Wilson and Terry Woods of the Plazas available as well as the pick of the U.E.W. and St. Peter's clubs. Saturday's game will be for a worth while cause and with such a classy array of talent competing the crowd should be about the largest of the season.

A Close Race

Connie Mack counts the present American League race the closest and most uncertain since he came into the circuit in 1901, and he points out that St. Louis, Detroit and Boston, the strongest appearing clubs now, are liable to be outside the contending class within a week, says Bill Gaynon in the Niagara Falls Review. He looks for an up and down struggle all the way and hints that even his A's are by no means impossibilities. The beauty of the 1944 race is the fact that the Harridge circuit does not contain one outstanding club. Unlike preceding sessions where the Yankees shadowed the field and were cinch winners from opening day, things this year are very likely to remain wide open as no club is overloaded with starry material. None will argue that the fans are seeing the class of ball of past races, but for competition, it excels the tussles of other years, and the turnstile response indicates that the customer is in no way disturbed over conditions.

The Commercial Travellers' annual bowling tournament and get together will take place on Friday, July 21st, and will again be held on the greens of the Boulevard Club, Toronto. The committee in charge expect a full entry list of 64 rinks, and it is very important that all entries be sent in as soon as possible to the office at 51 Yonge street, Toronto. The first draw will toe the rubber at 9 a.m. and there will be a number of lovely prizes. The tournament is open to all member of the association, all ex-members and all salesmanagers employing members. A bridge and tea has been arranged for the ladies and all bowlers are cordially invited to bring their ladies along. The day will end as usual with a bang up banquet.

Musial Hope Of Cards To Bat Way To Pennant

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Canadian Sports Editor

Less colorful than some of his buddies but the real power boy behind the St. Louis Cardinals' merry canter to another National league pennant. That's Stanley Frank Musial, the Redbird outfielder who again is bidding for the National league batting title.

Musial, already the top man in the "National league 300 club," may continue on to become one of the greatest batters in league history.

He is in his fourth season with the Cards and currently is hitting the ball at a .360 pace and getting better every day.

Last season Musial capped an amazing career with a hefty .357 batting mark and added a list of other triumphs which included leading the league in hits, total bases, doubles, triples and slugging percentage.

Named the league's most valuable player Musial is hot after another such designation.

Baseball players and observers agree that Musial is one of the greatest all-around ball players that ever came into the league.

The Pennsylvania Pole — he's a native of Donora, Pa. — came up to the big leagues as a much-heralded star and carried on in dazzling fashion. He batted a mighty .426 for the Cards at the end of the 1941 season and then became the Cards' series hero the next year when he drove home the winning run with a single in the first Card victory in the blue ribbon classic.

He was the "rookie of the year" in the National league in 1942, batted .315 for the Cards that year and played a spectacular game in the outfield.

Strangely, the saga of the athletic ace from Pennsylvania begins on the pitcher's mound. For Musial began as a southpaw pitcher with Williamson in the Mountain State league and then did some flinging for Daytona Beach in the Florida State league.

Shifted to the outfield while with Daytona Beach, Musial moved up to Springfield in 1941 and then to Rochester.

Musial was born Nov. 21, 1920, at Donora. He was as good a basketball player as a baseball player around the home town gyms. He played with a Donora team in the national cage tourney in Chicago in 1938.

His father is prominent in Polish activities in Donora and is a foreman in a steel plant. His brother is an artist with a national feature syndicate in New York.

Musial is married and the father of a son now four years old.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

It's probably too early to worry about it but the outlook for amateur hockey next season isn't any too bright. You can take the word of George Dudley of Midland, past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. Dudley told a banquet at Hamilton last night that it is "almost a certainty" there will be no service teams in senior amateur hockey next winter. He expressed the hope civilian teams would provide the relaxation the people needed.

The Montreal Jockey Club has widened the conditions for the Quebec King's Plate, but not to the same extent as the King's Plate itself at Toronto. At a meeting at Montreal yesterday it was decided to allow entry to the Quebec King's Plate of all three-year-olds and up foaled in Quebec and owned by a Quebec resident. Previously a horse had to be foaled in Quebec and owned by a Quebec resident as late as June 1. The change in regulations for the race at Blue Bonnets July 8 means that horses like Balaxy, Brotela and Cattari now racing in Ontario will be eligible.

It's been done before, but it's still a feat when a jockey rides five winners in one afternoon. Bobby Watson did it yesterday at Hamilton—in the first, second, third, sixth and seventh races. Making it a two-man show, Hendy Parise rode the winners of the fourth and fifth events. Watson was to leave last night for Winnipeg to ride H. C. Hatch's horses in the Canadian Derby and the Winnipeg Futurity.

Soldiers Win Softball Tilt Over Plazas By 8-6 Score

Soldiers won Tuesday night's City League battle with Plazas in the first half of the first innings when they scored five runs and the second-placers failed to overcome that early lead. The final count was 8 to 6, with Plazas scoring three runs in the final frame and having the bases loaded when the last out was registered.

Earl Revoir who pitched the Military Training Centre to a victory last week over Switchgear went the route to pick up his second win in succession. Revoir did not strike out a batter and allowed eleven hits but he was effective in the clutches and Plazas had twelve men left on bases.

Frank Stokoe on the hilltop for the losers got a hot reception in the opening frame but allowed the Soldiers only one hit and no runs in the next six innings, only to run into another barrage in the eighth when the winners bunched three hits and an error to score three more runs to put them in front 8 to 3.

Plazas' ninth inning rally got that trio back but the attack fell two runs short of sewing up the game.

Huck Herrick, Soldier right fielder, had the feature play of the engagement when he ran back into deep right to make a beautiful catch of Jack Tucker's hard-hit drive. It looked like a sure homer and that circus grab, made in the fifth inning, saved two runs as Pryde was on the bases.

Soldiers got a great start. Stokoe walked Anderson and Mortimer, first two men to face him. Pryde nearly made a shoe string catch of McIlveen's low drive to right but the ball was jolted out of his hands when he hit the ground and Anderson scored. Procyk's single to left scored Mortimer and McIlveen, the runner taking second on the throw-in. Morgan singled to left to send Procyk in. Herrick got a life when Jones dropped his high fly. Junkin bunted safely to fill the bases. Jenner popped to Ellis for the first out and Revoir fanned. Anderson singled to centre scoring Morgan but Herrick was out at the plate on Blewett's accurate throw home when he also tried to score on the play.

Plazas got three back in their half and looked like more. Jones opened with a single to right. Pryde doubled to left. These blows with a muff by Penner and Tucker's high fly, Blewett's single to centre and Mortimer's high throw home sent three runs in and left Blewett on third with no one out. Starr rolled to Revoir, Burton popped to Anderson and Hawks to Morgan.

There was no more scoring until the eighth. Stokoe retired the Soldiers in order for the next four innings without a runner reaching first. They got the first two batters on in the sixth but could not score and they also failed in the seventh after getting a runner on.

Plazas threatened with two on the second, wasted two hits in the third and had runners on in every frame but the fourth without scoring until they finally broke loose in the ninth.

The Soldiers after being blanked for six frames finally got rolling again in the eighth. Morgan opened with a single to left but was forced by Herrick. Burton dropped Junkin's fly in short left. Jenner ripped a single into right to score Herrick and Junkin ran in when Revoir rolled to Ellis. Anderson drove in the third run of the inning with a single to left centre, scoring Jenner. Mortimer fouled out.

The losers threatened in the ninth. Heal batted for Jones and beat out a bunt to start things. Pryde drew a walk. Tucker rolled to Jenner forcing Heal at third but Blewett walked filling the bases. Starr popped weakly to Anderson. Burton dropped a single into right scoring Pryde and Tucker. Blewett registered when Junkin fumbled Hawks' roller. Ellis drew a pass to fill the bases but with the tieing and winning runs on Stokoe lofted an easy fly to Herrick and the game was over.

Suspended Tilt To Aid War Relief Fund

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer.

Baseball strikes out after its third $500,000 war relief goal to-night as the National League attempts to unravel one of its "suspended" game entanglements.

Across the board in all four Western parks of the senior circuit, gate receipts go direct into war funds. The situation will be reversed in the Eastern parks of the National on July 26 and the American League will stage its eight-game program on scattered dates beginning July 7.

Baseball has raised an estimated $2,130,000 for the war including relief games by each club in the majors in 1942 and 1943, two all-star tilts and portions of two World Series gates. Once again the slogan for the relief games is "Hit the $500,000 mark."

St. Louis has a double feature in the playoff of the "suspended" game of May 16 in addition to the regular tilt with the Phillies. Freddy Fitzsimmons' club held a 9-4 lead in the seventh inning when the contest was called to allow the Phils to catch a train.

The incident touched off a storm of protest in St. Louis where it was alleged the fans had not been forewarned by the Cardinal management of any deadline.

Jersey Captures Twin Bill From Wings

By the Associated Press.

Not many teams have jumped in one season from the cellar to the championship. Jersey City, in the International League, may do it this year.

The Little Giants, last in the 1943 pennant race, walloped Rochester twice last night, 10-3 and 5-1, to climb into second place only 1½ games behind the first-place Baltimore Orioles.

Baltimore backed up Red Embree's effective pitching with a flock of base hits to whip Montreal 9-3. Embree got off to a bad start, yielding two runs in the first on three walks and a wild pitch, but as untouchable thereafter except for Morrie Aderholt's homer in the fifth.

Buffalo lost its fifth of six games since returning home in taking a 9-1 drubbing from Newark. Bill Drescher's homer highlighted a four-run second inning for the Bears.

Al Jarlett pitched Toronto to a 6-1 victory over Syracuse in the first game of a double-header, but the Chiefs gained a split by taking the nightcap 6-4. The Syracuse winning runs in the second game came in the ninth inning after Tony Castano's error with two out put a Syracuse runner on first base. A base on balls followed and Carson then doubled both runners home.

TORONTO, June 28 — (CP). — Horseflesh always has been cheap in the West, but this economy business can be carried too far, R. James Speers might be prompted to lament. James auctioned off 11 thoroughbred yearlings from his Whittier Park farm, and obtained an even $9,300 for the lot.

Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning estimates it costs about $1,000 to raise a racer from a foal to the competition level, and figuring it that way the buyers got all the best of the bargain.

This was the first yearling sale in eight years in Winnipeg, so it's surprising there wasn't greater demand. Speers, incidentally, says he sold the yearlings because he has no wish to enter racing campaigns actively. He says he is interested solely in breeding stock and track management and promotion. He'll leave the competition for the independent owners.

Political tracks:

We see by the Toronto Globe and Mail that Dick Gibson is bidding for the Progressive Conservative nomination in Lambton West for the next Dominion election. Dick ruled the Windsor Star sport roost for years before going to New York as sportster and publicist for New York Rangers. At present he writes general news in Sarnia....Back in Moose Jaw he used to be a track star, so he might run nicely on Bracken's team.

This and that:

Reports say at least three carloads of horses are headed West for the Lansdowne Park season, opening July 1 on the West Coast ....Incidentally, racing bugs on the coast have been circulating the wishful rumors Shepperton and Teeworth may be bought and taken West. But Fred Schelke wouldn't take $25,000 for Shep, nor was Ned Northwood tempted by a $10,000 offer for the mare Teeworth, so they'll have to wait until King Midas makes his headquarters on the coast......Sons don't usually follow their fathers' baseball footsteps, but George Garner has done just that in Welland, Ont. George Senior as one of the smoothest righthanders in Western Ontario, and son George has just flung a no-hitter as a juvenile. He fanned 20 batters in the process.... The country is going under the floodlights. The Ottawa Tennis Club, quite a conservative body, is installing lights for benefit of the day-working players.

Brintons Trim Westclox 17-6

Brintons polished off Westclox Seconds 17-6, in an exciting Ladies' Softball League game played Tuesday evening at Ashburnham Bowl.

Brintons led the attack in the first inning gaining a single run, followed in the second by four runs. The Baby Bens scored their first counter in the second. Brintons went on to register one more run in the third, and four more in the fourth. Millie Miller and Laura Storey helped the Baby Ben's cause by dashing off two runs in the fourth frame. Westclox gained another in the fifth, as against Brintons' two in the same inning. The carpet-weavers continued the attack, turning in three runs in the sixth frame, to make the count at the end of the first six innings 15-4.

With the game well in hand, the carpet-weavers went on to score once in the seventh, and again in the ninth. Baby Bens, still not daunted, managed to turn in one run in the seventh inning, and another in the ninth, to make the final count.

Rita O'Heron handled the first base assignment neatly for Westclox. Joy Nice, doing the catching for the losers, also played a good game. She drove in three of the six runs for Westclox. Florence Robinson was on the hilltop for the Baby Bens, and she tried hard all the way.

Taking charge of the gunnery for Brintons, Doris Walker contributed a slick performance. She held the losers to ten well-scattered hits.

The Sports Round-Up

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Ned Irish, boss of Madison Square Garden, already has so many basketball teams lined up for next winter that he can't find room for all of them . . . Ned says he could use three more dates but the only way he could get them would be to run court shows on successive nights—which wouldn't be good box office . . . Manager George Parnassus reports that N.B.A. lightweight champion Juan Zurita, who shot himself out of a couple of good shots in the east, will be ready to begin training in another month and will start east about the end of August . . . Dickie Jones, the Henry Aldrich of the radio, has ambitions to become a pole vaulter and makes Dutch Warmerdam his idol.

Watchful Waiting

When Allen Dillon, former Drake U. athlete, first went to Alaska, his big ambition was to kill a bear . . . But he learned that a non-resident hunting licence cost $100 while it cost only two bucks for a resident to hunt . . . So Allen patiently waited until a year had passed and he qualified as a resident, then he planked down two bucks and on his first trip bagged a 300 pound Bruin.

Al Akins, U. of Washington centre fielder, hit .556 in 46 trips to the plate during the last season, which apparently qualifies him for the Intercollegiate championship unless somebody comes up with a better record . . . C.C.F. Planning To Win Federal Fight

By GRAHAM WHITING.

In the next Federal election the issue will be whether Canada will vote to go back to the system of poverty in the midst of plenty or whether it will choose to go on with the C.C.F. into a new age of abundance, Ontario C.C.F. Leader E. B. Jolliffe, M.P.P., told a large and enthusiastic gathering in the Canadian Legion Hall on Tuesday evening.

"The old parties," Mr. Jolliffe said, "declare their loyalty to the old system to what they call "free enterprise," which is really monopoly enterprise. They promise to restore the old system in all its glory as soon as the war ends. If you like what we had from 1919 to 1939, the only thing to do is vote for one of the old parties, but if you don't like that system, the breeder of wars and depressions, then you are free to consider something better.

"The C.C.F. does not believe in the monopoly enterprise system, whether it be called free enterprise or any other high-sounding name. A skunk is still a skunk and its odor just the same, no matter what it may be called.

The crowded hall in which the provincial party leader delivered his address was extremely sultry on the hot night, and most of the male members of the audience were in their shirtsleeves. Mr. Jolliffe, shortly after his entrance, which was greeted with a prolonged burst of applause and even cheering, removed his coat also. Though in a minority, there were still many women in the gathering, which was estimated to have numbered 500 to 600 persons.

On the platform with the speaker were William Johnson, nominated C.C.F. candidate for Peterborough West, and Max Hayman, the party's secretary, who served as chairman.

Was No Surprise.

Introduced by Mr. Johnson, Mr. Jolliffe began his address with a review of the Saskatchewan campaign, the results of which he said were no surprise to him. "The only ones who got a surprise," he remarked, "were some of the Liberals and a few others who had their heads buried deep in the sands of time and prejudice."

READY FOR ELECTION—E. B. Jolliffe, leader of the C.C.F. party in the Ontario Legislature, who addressed a rally in the Canadian Legion Hall on Tuesday evening. In his speech Mr. Jolliffe reviewed the Saskatchewan election and intimated the C.C.F. was ready for the Federal vote.

TWO BROTHERS OVERSEAS—Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. Osborne of Marmora are serving overseas. Spr. George Osborne (Left) is with the R.C.E., and has been three years in the Army, one of which he has spent overseas. Spr. Ray Osborne (Right) of the R.C.E. will soon complete his fifth year in the forces and he has been overseas since June, 1940. A sister, Pte. Grace McColl, has been in the C.W.A.C. for two years and is now at Long Branch.

In the fight to win the province, he professed himself most impressed with the enthusiastic work of the amateur political workers, both men and women, who toiled tirelessly to put in "a Government of their own." He said that there was a paid-up membership of more than 30,000 in the party there, and that many others had thrown themselves into the fight. "The Saskatchewan C.C.F." he said, "is certainly a people's movement in every sense They have proved that an organized movement of the people can overcome the entrenched power of machine politics represented by the Liberal Party and the power of big money represented by the Tory Party."

Won't Take Property.

Mr. Jolliffe accused the Liberals of making "the fatal mistake of under-estimating the intelligence of the electors. They made all the same mistakes the old parties made in the Ontario general election a year ago. In one year they seemed to have learned exactly nothing," the speaker said, a remark which drew a burst of laughter from the crowd. He noted that the same tactics which had been used successfully against the C.C.F. in the prior elections in Saskatchewan in 1934 and 1938—those of telling farmers their property would be taken away from them—were used once more, but this time without effect. "It was useless," he said, "for the Liberals to try and fool the people about what their own movement was going to do, the movement the people themselves have organized, financed and built."

Referring to the vote of servicemen 2 to 1 in favor of the C.C.F. its Provincial Leader pointed out that no one could say the electors were not interested in the Saskatchewan election, when more than 85 per cent of them went to the polls. "There were five political parties in the field, but more people voted C.C.F. than for all the other parties combined," Mr Jolliffe stated. "I say it was one of the most complete and decisive electoral victories in the history of Canada."

The speaker, whose visit to Peterborough was his first meeting in Ontario since returning from Saskatchewan, made a brief reference to the part played by newspapers in the recent campaign, reiterating sentiments which had brought down upon his head some editorial criticism in various of these organs. A few Liberal newspapers," he said with sarcasm, "tried to make out that we were foreign invaders, much to the amusement of the people, who flocked to hear us in much larger numbers than they did the Opposition."

Some newspapers, Mr. Jolliffe asserted, had pretended that the C. C. F. had made wild promises which if it were elected, could not be fulfilled. But the provincial leader, Rev. Tom Douglas, had opened the campaign by warning the electors that he would not make any promises which he couldn't keep, and that he did not wish to be elected if the people thought a C. C. F. provincial government could do things that could only be done at Ottawa. Repeating his remark about editorials being irresponsible and light-headed," Mr. Jolliffe went on to say that the people of the Prairie had not been taken in by the tremendous propaganda which had been carried on across Canada since the election last year."

Farmers Support.

The most significant thing about the Saskatchewan election to many people, the speaker pointed out, was the tremendous support found among the farming element. "We carried, for the first time, every city in the Province but it was out in the farm polls that the C. C. F. won the biggest majorities. In fact there were some rural polls where the C. C. F. actually took every vote. These are the facts and they knock into a cocked hat the argument of the old parties that the farmers are all capitalists and therefore cannot have any use for the C. C. F."

Launching into a detailed discussion of C. C. F. philosophy and aims, Mr. Jolliffe stated it was the purpose of the party to give every encouragement and assistance to the enterprises belonging to the farmers themselves, to their co-operatives and pools, just as the C. C. F. did for the economic organizations of the workers, with their co-operatives and their trade unions.

He went on to say that the most serious problems of the people were national in scope and required a national solution. "The old one will simply bring you the same old results. That is why it is absolutely necessary for Canadians that there should be a C. C. F. government in Ottawa as soon as possible. We are preparing to win the coming Federal election whenever it may be held. We fully expect that the C. C. F. will sweep the West and that it will take a great many constituencies in Central Canada and the Maritimes as well."

Damns Old System.

In damning the "free enterprise of the old guard," which he declared was nothing more or less than the economic system existing in this country between wars, Mr. Jolliffe asserted that despite the unnecessary suffering of the people, the great monopoly corporations grew bigger and stronger and richer in bad times as well as in good. "The C. C. F. believes that the great industries of this country, now in the hands of monopoly, must be brought under social ownership.

"We believe in private property and we believe more people should have more of it. Private property is what a man and his family can use, or work or enjoy. But no man and his family can use for their own enjoyment a railroad or a nickel mine or a bank or a sugar refinery or a steel mill. Things of that kind are public property because they have no meaning or value except in relation to the general public. We say that private property should be privately owned and public property publicly owned."

Advocating a maximum maintenance of production facilities for turning out goods and services for the Canadian people after the war and calling it "a fundamental truth which is only beginning to dawn upon the world, that if people produce four times as much as they did before they can be four times better off than they were before," Mr. Jolliffe admitted that to solve the problems of readjustment, reconstruction would not be easy. "We have never said that it would be easy, but we do say this:

"If we try to win the peace with the same old economic devices by which we lost the peace in 1919, we shall lose again. The same old system will give the same old results. If it gets another trial, as it may, then you will all pay a terrible price, and the coming of the age of plenty will be postponed, perhaps for another generation.

"Again, it may be that we have finally learned from the experience of the past 30 years —from two great depressions and two world wars— that fundamental changes are required in our society. If so, and if our people are prepared to make those changes, the future can be bright indeed and we can build a new Canada worthy of the sacrifices which are being made to-night, overseas in the cause of freedom and justice."

Mr. Johnson, local C.C.F. candidate, previously characterized by Chairman Hayman "a plain everyday party of the Labor Party" introduced Mr. Jolliffe to the meeting Referring to the size of the audience, he said "we old members remember meetings like this, of which we haven't had many of late." He remarked on the great strides made by the C.C.F. in Peterborough and said that membership here had grown from 34 to 300 in a year's time.

Next Premier.

The vote of thanks was moved by Dr. Cotton, who eulogized the speaker, and said she had seen him develop into one of the outstanding citizens of this province. "You may place your votes confidently on Mr. Jolliffe," Dr. Cotton said; "he will undoubtedly be the next Premier of Ontario."

In a question period that succeeded the C.C.F. Leader's formal address, Mr Jolliffe gave answers to several queries raised by the gathering. In regard to a tieup between the C.I.O. and the C.C.F., he stated that it was not true that any control was exercised by the American labor union over the Canadian political party. He explained, however, that the endorsation given the C.C.F. by the C.I.O. as the political expression in the Dominion of its point of view was welcome to party leaders, and that the C.C.F. would be glad to have the endorsation of any bona-fide organization representing people who work to make a living and not to exploit others.

Regarding th legislation of the Drew Government, and noting its campaign slogan of "Vote Drew and get action," Mr. Jolliffe asserted in reference to such matters as the promised cutting in half of school taxes and legislation on collective bargaining that "You are getting action at a snail's pace." The Order-in-Council adopted by the Conservatives and governing all collective bargaining had about 100 defects in it, Mr. Jolliffe said.

Mr. Hayman, the secretary, reported on the results of the second membership drive which began in February, and said that 54 new members had joined the ranks of the C.C.F. in the constituency since that time, and 20 had been added from outside. Prizes, the presentation of which was made by Mr. Jolliffe, were awarded to the groups and individuals whose contributions in the drive had been outstanding.

To Appoint 3

TORONTO, June 27—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario said yesterday he will appoint three men temporarily to represent farm organizations on the board which will take over the operation of the Union stockyards here in July. The appointment will be for six months and permanent appointments will be made later.

SWEEPING MINES—Long before the dawn of D-Day minesweeping flotillas of the R.C.N. joined in the dangerous task of clearing away the minefields from the northern coast of France so the thousands of landing craft could proceed across the English Channel. Sub-Lieut. W. Andrew Scott, R.C.N.V.R., Peterborough, is serving aboard a Royal Canadian minesweeper which took part in invasion minesweeping operations. He left McMaster University to join the Navy in June, 1942, and is now 21 years old. His wife lives at 255 Sydenham Street, London, Ont., and his parents, Dr. R. Scott and Mrs. Scott, at 286 Hunter Street West, Peterborough. (RCN Photo)

Be a Good Citizen—
Avoid the "Black Market"

A "Black Market" in anything, from an automobile tire to a jar of marmalade, is bad medicine for a country. It may cause inflation and inflation would send prices skyrocketing so high that the average one of us would be left holding the bag—with nothing in it.

No, sir! Let's all be good citizens and stick to our ration books. Ration books are the greatest preventive we have against inflation and all the distress that would follow. By the way, they have inflation in China—eggs are one dollar each.

REPORT ON WOUNDS.

Howard Stuart, 21-year-old soldier, who wasinjured while fighting with the Stormans, Dundas and Glengaray Highlanders in France, is suffering from shell fragment wounds in the leg and foot. This is the latest report received by his mother, Mrs. Mabel Stuart, 504 Stewart Street

MADE FLYING INSTRUCTOR

PO. Bill Grady, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Grady, 520 Lock street, has been graduated as a flying instructor at No. 2 F. I. S. Pearce, Alta. He served as a sergeant wireless air gunner overseas in 1941, and following his return to Canada was an instructor, later remustering as a pilot.

KILLED IN ACTION.

Canada's roll of honor has had added to it the names of two more soldiers killed in action. A-Sgt. Frederick Clifford Veals, the son of Alexander Veals, R. R. No. 2, Bethany, was killed fighting with a reconnaissance unit; while A-L-Cpl. Orval Earl Brock, son of Francis George Brock, R. R. No. 1, Oshawa, met his death in action with a Central Ontario Regiment.

NO FIRE ALARMS.

Another day was added, Tuesday, to the string that now stretches to nine in which the Fire Department has not received a single fire call. The last alarm that brought firemen out on the double from the Fire Hall occurred a week ago on Monday, June 19. Chief Gimblett said this morning that he hoped this fire-free spell was not "the calm before the storm."

LITTLE SLEEP

Andrew Scott, R.C.N.V.R., son of Dr. G. Raymore Scott and Mrs. Scott, Hunter street west, was recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant. Since May of 1943, he has been gunnery officer on a minesweeper, and since the invasion he writes his parents that they sweep the seas all days and do operational work at night. The men snatch a few minutes rest when and where they can. His picture is is on another page in today's paper.

BOY ARRESTED

A twelve-year-old Toronto boy, a ward of the Bowmanville Boys' School was picked up by Officer John Stevenson shortly before noon today after he had taken a girl's wheel from in front of Woolworth's store. The youngster said that he had been working on a farm near Foxboro and had run away from there on Monday, hitch-hiking this far. He is being held for the Bowmanville school.

A TECHNICAL VICTORY

A Lindsay man won a technical victory in police court this morning after he had been charged with being drunk on June 28. "You say I was drunk on June 28" said the accused and looking at the calendar on the wall "and this is the 27th. How come."? He was right at that for some one had forgotten to change the calendar which was still proclaiming the fact that today was the 27th.

Wide Range Of Temperatures

Everyone agrees it was hot in Peterborough to-day, but an Examiner reporter, out during the noon hour to find the current trend of the mercury via an inspection of the city's thermometers, learned that no heat indicators took the same viewpoint on the weather.

While the thermometer at Soden's conservatively indicated 83 degrees, the thermometer McDermid and Jury's have at George and Charlotte streets, ambitiously displayed a searing 116. Hall's Barber Shop on Charlotte offered 98, Veneranda's 99, and Cassan and Hutchinson's Plumbing Shop, 95, and people passing Le Barr's Sporting Goods Store on Charlotte took one look at the 110 degrees registered on that thermomter, and continued to mop the brow and reach for the ice-packs.

The King George Hotel offered 90 Kingan 89, and Adamson and Dobbin, Simcoe street, 86. Assorted thermometers in different parts of the city seemed to have given up at about 80, and just remained at that reading.

The mercury in the Examiner thermometer raised itself to 95, and likewise remainde there.

The official noon-hour temperature was reported to be 89 degrees.

Wonder Bakeries, experiencing one of their hot days, reported the temperature around stoke-hole 120 while the thermometer in the plant was at 98. The Porcelain Division of the Canadian General Electric Company featured the mercury hovering around 110 — "scorching," as one girl put it.

Chaplain Is Shot But Carries On

TORONTO, June 28.— (CP). — Despite a hole blown in his leg when he was trapped under a tree in a bomb explosion, Hon. Capt. Stewart Bland East, of Toronto, continued his duties for four hours as chaplain of the 48th Highlanders in their big push before the fall of Rome before medical officers discovered it and ordered him out of line, it was learned here to-day.

A graduate of Emmanuel College, Capt. East resigned a commission in the Royal Canadian Artillery in order to get overseas. His father, Rev. Samuel B. East, is filling his pastorate in the United church at Jarvis, Ont.

SERVING OVERSEAS — Pilot Officer A C. Jay, whose wife lives at 629 Stewart Street, is serving overseas. He is a pilot and enlisted three years ago, formerly working at Jay's Cigar Store. PO. Jay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jay, 220 Wolfe Street.

Trumped-up Yarn Brings 2 Charges

TRENTON, June 28 —(C P) — Clark McMurter to-day was given a year's suspended sentence after he had reported being held up by two uniformed men with red patches on their shoulders on May 21.

McMurter said he was robbed of $25 early in the morning while on his way home. After investigation by Trenton police, he admitted the story was concocted because he had spent the money and was unable to turn any over to his family. He is also charged with non-support.

Red Cross Blood Donor Service

The Blood Donor Clinic will be closed from June 29 to July 18 inclusive, and not for all July as previously advertised.

There will be NO Clinic FRIDAY EVENING, June 30th

The NEXT Clinic will be WEDNESDAY MORNING, July 19th

Realizing that the need for blood was never more vital, the Connaught Laboratory has undertaken to speed up its reorganization so that as little time as possible will be lost. The clinic during the last few weeks has been trying to make up the lost time and our donors have come forward generously to make this possible. For this effort on their part we are deeply grateful.

When we reopen, we hope all who wish to contribute their share to a speedy victory will offer their services so that no one may suffer through the delay caused by the necessity of closing. To all who seek a way to help, this opportunity of service is open.

Joy Oil Company Faces War Charge

TORONTO, June 28 — (CP). — Hearing of a charge under Defence of Canada Regulations against Mrs. Margaret P. Austin and the Joy Oil Co., Ltd., opened to-day in a special Police Court before Magistrate J. L. Pritchard. A plea of not guilty was entered by George Baxwell, defence counsel. Mrs. Austin is president of the company. The charge was laid in connection with publication of a newspaper advertisement dealing with the control of gasoline sales.

G. R. Cottrelle, Oil Controller, was in courtroom, and J. L. McLennan held a watching brief on behalf of the Globe Printing Co.

The case is continuing.

War Nerves Cause Stroke

War nerves, worry, and pre-invasion fears are the chief reasons for the mounting number of paralytic strokes, according to Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health for Peterborough.

"Worry in particular brings on a case of high blood pressure," said Dr. Kelly, "which in turn does much to stimulate a paralytic attack."

While the affliction is prevalent mostly in elder people, men and women alike are open to the attack, he declared. Dr. Kelly pointed out the principal treatment for a paralytic stroke, is complete rest for the patiant. Peace of mind, and a change of scene are important, he said.

Dr. Kelly said the reported recent rise in the number of cases was not to be construed as an epidemic, as the disease is not contagious.

Ice Cream Lovers To Go Hungry Dealers See Another Shortage

With Peterborough sweltering in a heat wave men reduced to shirt-sleeves, women going their shopping rounds devoutly wishing they were sitting quietly on the porch at home, and children clamoring loudly for refreshments, the call today is for ice-cold drinks and ice cream, things that will quench the thirst and cool the insides.

But as far as ice cream is concerned, it's the same old story that it was last year. There isn't enough to go around. "I want a chocolate ice cream soda," you say, sitting down at the counter with a deep sigh and preparing to enjoy yourself. "Sorry, no ice cream," the man behind the counter replies. And maybe he sighs too.

This "old refrain" is going to be heard with increasing frequency, especially if the city is in for a sultry summer, just as it was as the summer dragged out its hot weeks last year. It follows a familiar pattern. The man just off the street bedevils the restaurant proprietor with his demand for ice cream; that proprietor, anxious of course to satisfy his customers' wants, complains to and torments unendingly the dairy manager he deals with; and the dairy manager, poor soul, can only take it on the chin. For with as great a desire to please as anyone else, there is absolutely nothing he can do.

Can't Beat Quota

The problem, the insurmountable obstacle, is that old devil "quota." The sale of ice cream is based on the record of sales reported for the year 1941, and what any restaurant gets these days to dish out to the public cannot exceed a given percentage of what it sold three years ago. Therefore, it will be seen that if your favorite eating place ran short of ice cream about the middle of each summer month last year, the same heart-rending situation will obtain once more. Because no one is going to get any more ice cream than they did last year or the year before. Not even if they are friends of the management, not even if they possess vast persuasive powers, not even if they can show up with a whole crock of gold. For that is the law and the dairies have no alternative but to obey it.

It is hard on the dairies, and anent unfilled requisitions for ice cream from the retailers they could tell you many a tale of woe. "Even during the winter we could sell twice as much ice cream as the quota allows, and you have no idea of the orders we must turn down at this time of the year," said a representative of one. "We are faced with the same situation every day. People complain, restaurants have more money than ever before to spend on their supplies, but ice cream is rationed and that is that."

Obituaries

JOHN HOWLAND.

Funeral service for the late John Howland, 498 Rogers Street, who passed away Sunday after a short illness, was held this afternoon from the Nesbitt Funeral Parlors, with Rev. E. W. Rowland of Mark Street United Church officiating. Many relatives and friends attended the service, and floral offerings bore testimony to the esteem in which Mr. Howland was held in the community. Interment was made in Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Howland, who made his home in Peterborough for more than 50 years, came to the city from Yorkshire, England. He operated a meat and grocery business at the corner of Douro and Rogers Streets, and for years had operated a butcher shop on George Street North. In his 77th year, he was an elder of Mark Street United Church, taking a keen interest in all its activities. He made a hobby of flowers and gardening.

He leaves to mourn his passing his widow, formerly Patience Jane Voycey; one daughter, Olive, and two sons, Victor and Ralph, all of Peterborough. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Grace Airriess of Peterborough and Mrs. N. Gawley of Toronto; and three brothers, Fred of Auburn, N.Y., and Robert and Thomas of Lumsden, Sask.

The pall-bearers were T. Beatty, W. Gambie, K. Throop, F. Curtis, J. Welsh and H. Outram.

WILLIAM JOSEPH COLLINS

Funeral services for the late William Joseph Collins, who passed away in St. Mary's Hospital, Detroit, on Friday last, were held Tuesday at the Immaculate Conception church. Rev. James Greenan offered requiem mass in the presence of many relatives and friends, and the wealth of floral and spiritual tokens presented from friends in Detroit as well as in this district bore evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Collins was held. Interment was made in St. Peter's cemetery, Rev. Killen conducting the services at the graveside.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Collins, Mr. Collins received his education in the local schools and as a young man went to Detroit where he was an employee of the American Express Company at the time of his death. His father for many years conducted a store at the east side of Hunter Street Bridge, at a time when Ashburnham was a separate municipality.

Predeceased by his mother in March of this year, he leaves to mourn his loss two sisters, Mrs. J. J. McVay of Holley, N.Y., and Helen of Peterborough; as well as two brothers, Edward J. and Charles J. Collins, also of this city.

Pallbearers were Gordon Wyatt, Ray O'Brien, D. H. Wyatt, Emmet Sheehan, Thomas Armstrong and Basil Clancy. Relatives and friends from New York, Detroit, and other places attended the funeral.

MEMORIES OF WORLD WAR No. 1 are stirred as the Allies begin their push from the beachhead of Normandy into France. Veterans of that first struggle scan their maps and see beyond the battle lines of today such historic names as Verdun, St. Mihiel, Ypres, Argonne, St. Quentin or Soissons. The question rises—will these names now figure in the march of the Allied forces toward Berlin? Will the war in France reach the climax on the same bloody battlefields?

First Of 5 Brothers Wounded In France

The first of five brothers to be wounded in action overseas, Pte. Fred Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Drummond, 153 Cross street, is reported a casualty with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders in France, June 7. The nature of his wounds was not given.

Pte. Drummond joined the Peterborough company of the Highlanders in 1940 and went overseas in July, 1941. Before enlisting he worked at the C.G.E. He is not married.

The other members of his family in the service include: Gnr. Walter Drummond, R.C.A.; Pte. Thomas Drummond, R.C. O. C.; Pte. William Drummond, R.C.A.S.C.; Cpl. Charles Drummond; and two brothers-in-law, Pte. Russell Wilson, S. D. and G. Highlanders, and Sgt. Gerald Haig, S. D. and G. Highlanders.

Heavy Docket Engages Court

Dennis Plumpton, who pleaded guilty last week in police court to a charge of non-support, was remanded again by Magistrate Langley, when Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., announced that the police had not completed their investigation in Grimsby, where Plumpton was arrested.

William Scott, George Street, who pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Ernest Kelso, Lindsay, who was similarly charged, was remanded until tomorrow for trial, with bail fixed at $100. He was arrested early this morning on the Hunter Street bridge.

Bouchard IsNominated As Enemy Number One

QUEBEC, June 28.—(CP).—Antoine Rivard, a Quebec lawyer, in a radio address here last night said Senator T. D. Bouchard was enemy No. 1 of the French-Canadian. He said he was speaking for the Union Nationale party to register "the disgust of Union Nationale for the Bouchard speech" in the Senate in which Senator Bouchard charged the order of Jacques Cartier with stirring up racial strife between French and English-speaking Canadians.

Mr. Rivard said the Union Nationale was against uniform history books and did not want to accept a "little history of Canada to please the English." The party is against the motion of Senator Athanase David for uniform textbooks, he added.

War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

June 28, 1940— Announcement made that Canadian destroyer Fraser had been sunk in collision with H.M.S. Calcutta off Bordeaux, France, with 45 crew members dead or missing. Thirty-nine killed and many injured in Nazi air raid on Channel Islands. R.A.F. bombed objectives in Germany and France.

Canadian Legion Completes 29th Donation

To-day the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund marks another mile-stone in its record of achievement on behalf of those in the British Isles who have been stricken through enemy air raid attacks over that country, which latterly have increased through the new rocket bombs that have been attacking the south of England in large numbers from the shores of France.

This morning the secretary of the fund cabled another £500 to the Lord Mayor of London under the name of His Worship Mayor James Hamilton as representative for the citizens of this region, and to the Peterborough Branch No. 52 of the Canadian Legion goes the distinction of contributing another $62.00, the final amount necessary to put this latest objective over the top.

This perhaps is quite apropos of the assistance that the veterans of th last Great War have given to this fund, for every gift that has been sent so far, has included at least one donation from this group of men who offered life itself in the last great struggle, and it is interesting to note that they have almost contributed full gift of £500 on their own account, for the total that stands to their credit has now reached the splendid sum of $2,159.71.

This represents a portion of the net proceeds of their regular Wednesday night bingo games conducted on behalf of their own welfare work, and those who have supported their efforts by attending must also feel considerable satisfaction in thus assisting such a worthy cause, which to the men who served so well and actively in the days gone by, has also now become a matter of great pride.

This marks the 29th time that help has gone forward from this city and district, the total amount sent to-day standing at £17,200 requiring over $77,000 in Canadian currency, which those who take a glance at the bottom of this column will see what has been contributed by those who have done so well to assist in this one sphere of the war effort.

Creeping ever onward towards the suggested objective of $10,000, another contribution is to-day listed as coming from the C. G. E. Drafting Department Picnic Fund through D. Allen, and makes an over all total of $7,065.46 that has come to the fund from the employees at the large industrial plants presided over by Ian F. McRae as works manager.

That they are up and doing on behalf of the fund is evident from th fact that this Saturday, July 1, will see a most attractive sports feature held at Riverside Park at 3 p.m. when a ball game is to take place between the Royce Avenue Works, C. G. E. at Toronto, and the All Stars of the C. G. E. this city.

Tickets are now on sale at 25 cents each and someone is going to win a Kenwood Blanket which will be drawn for at the time, this having been contributed for that purpose, as the total receipts are all to come to the fund, a typical feature of the way that things are done by these people when it comes to making a thorough job of anything they put their hand to.

Then finally another gift of $4.00 is also listed through a recital given by pupils of Miss Elsie Chambers, 194 Lansdowne Street, another instance of where one form of pleasure has been made the means of giving much needed pleasure to others in distress, adding a value to the former which cannot be measured in terms of just dollars and cents.

Woman Beaten

TORONTO, June 28 (CP) — Although dazed and bleeding from a head wound, Mrs. Christina Carter of Toronto, routed an assailant who attacked her near her home last night. The man beat her over the head with a blunt instrument.

Mrs. Carter started screaming as she fell to the sidewalk and her assailant became frightened and ran away. Three stitches were required to close a cut in her head.

M. G. Bethune Killed

HAMILTON, June 28 (CP)—Malcolm G. Bethune, 50, of Hamilton, was killed today when his automobile swerved and left the Queen Elizabeth Way near Aldershot, Ont. He was pinned beneath his car at the bottom of the ditch by the road.

Mr. Bethune was a brother of the late Dr. Norman Bethune who invented the modern system of blood transfusions on the battlefield and pioneered the blood bank during the Spanish civil war.

WOUNDED IN FRANCE — Pte. Fred Drummond of the S.D. and G. Highlanders, has been reported wounded in France, according to word received by his parents on Tuesday night. He was formerly employed at the C.G.E. and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Drummond, 153 Cross Street. His father operated a taxi business for a great many years.

Alderman Fights Charge In Traffic Court

"There is a condition out there that I think should be brought to light," said Ald. R. M. Glover in traffic court this morning after entering a plea of not guilty to a charge of having failed to bring his automobile to a full stop before entering Hunter street at Reid street. "I think the situation should have some publicity."

The alderman told Magistrate Langley that he was ready to proceed with the case, but that he knew the police were not. There was an adjournment, therefore, until next week when Ald. Glover intimated that he would have something to say. City Engineer R. H. Parsons was in the court when the charge was read.

Harry Dunford, who was charged last week with careless driving as the result of an accident at George and Lansdowne Streets when his car collided with a couple of trees outside the Military Training Centre changed his plea to guilty this morning and was fined $5 and $2.50 costs.

"I think this is a case for the minimum fine," remarked Magistrate O. A. Langley, K. C., in imposing the penalty.

A number of motorists who entered written pleas of guilty to failing to stop before entering a through street were fined $3 and $1 costs. The list consisted of George Northram, F. J. A. Hall, Benjamin Swartz, M. Brown, F. L. Driscoll, and William Noftall.

Similar charges for failing to stop before entering a through street in the village of Lakefield brought fines of $2 and $2.50 costs for Mrs. Norma Walton, Gordon T. Hall, Lillian Bickle and Joseph Maloney.

The Peterborough Lumber Company was assessed $5 and $2.50 for allowing one of its vehicles to sped. in the village of Lakefield.

H. Clarke pleaded guilty to a breach of a village of Lakefield bylaw and was fined $1 and $1 costs.

Rain Benefits Crops In Eastern Ontario

TORONTO, June 28—(CP)—The Ontario Department of Agriculture weekly crop report issued today states that recent heavy rains have interfered with haying operations generally throughout the province. Only in eastern Ontario have the storms helped a drought situation in some areas.

Potato growers in some parts of Western Ontario, particularly Simcoe South, say that sets are rotting in late planted fields due to excessive moisture.

A heavy wind of tornado proportions damaged crops of hay, as well as orchards in parts of Southern Ontario. Corn crops in Central Ontario are affected by the weather with reports of recently planted seed rotting in the ground. In Durham county some farmers have been unable to sow their corn owing to the rains.

In addition to the wet weather, northern districts suffered a severe frost, but say that the rain revived the crops to a great extent. Low-lying grain fields are beginning to show the effect of too much moisture.

Western and southern counties tell of good strawberry crops, while in the east, strawberries are reported to be faring well.

Canadians Throng Streets Of Rome

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press War Correspondent

ROME, June 28 (CP-Cable) — Hundreds of Canadians are among the thousands of khaki-clad sightseers thronging the streets of Rome today, wandering through St. Peter's and poking about the Colosseum and other places of historic interest.

Canadian Auxiliary Services have established a mess hall and arranged conducted tours for the battle veterans, but due to the local housing situation it is impossible to find a leave centre in the city itself.

Meanwhile a school just outside the city has been taken over and the men are able to base themselves there for leave.

He Didn't Know

WASHINGTON, June 28—(AP)—Lieut. Weldon Jame, Marine Corps Public Relations Officer, reports from the European theatre that the Germans may have known when the invasion was coming but there was at least one officer who didn't know where it would be. Among the effects of a dead German captain was found an unmailed letter, written on the eve of invasion to a friend in Berlin, which began: "My lovely wife and child arrived to-day to visit me."

Rocket Bomb Kills Noted Author's Sister

NEW YORK, June 28 — (CP) — Mrs. Gwladys Moorewood, sister of Richard Llewellyn, author of "How Green Was My Valley," has been killed by a German rocket bomb which struck her home in Southern England, the New York office of the British Information Services said last night, releasing a dispatch from London.

Her brother, a captain in the British Army, is stationed in Italy. The dispatch said Mrs. Moorewood, her stepmother and two nieces were killed by the projectile.

Income Tax May Be Gift

OTTAWA, June 28.— (CP).— A provision for avoiding heavy taxation by giving money to the government will be written into the income tax law under the new budget. It applies to a particular situation and is designed to remove hardship where both husband and wife have incomes.

The present law provides that if the husband or wife of a taxpayer has investment income of more than $660 both shall be taxed as single persons. That resulted, said Finance Minister Ilsley, in a man losing his tax credit of $150 and becoming subject to much higher rates if his wife's investment income moved just more than $660.

The proposal is that to avoid this the wife can make a gift to the Crown of the excess with the result that unless her income is sufficiently more than $660 to equal the difference between the tax paid by the husband as a single man or as a married man he can continue to enjoy the credit for marriage status.

Ban On Barley May Be Lifted

OTTAWA, June 28—(CP)—George McIvor, chief commissioner of the Canadian Wheat Board, said Tuesday he believed the ban on the export of barley to the United States will soon be lifted.

Testifying before the Commons Committee on Agriculture and Colonization, Mr. McIvor said the ban had been placed on the exports when crop prospects were not good and when the Agricultural Supplies Board felt that available supplies of barley would be needed for home consumption.

ON THE ROAD TO Mandalay

An airgraph letter received recently from a Canadian flier in India "on the road to Mandalay" says: "I received another carton of Sweet Caps . . . This is the second carton I have received from you and once again I want to thank you . . . Both cartons were in very good condition and the cigarettes were just as fresh as the day they were put in."

Wherever Canadians go, Sweet Caps go along. On convoy duty or in the far North, in Great Britain, Italy or India, Canadians demand the solace and cheer of the cigarettes which are first in their favour over here, over there, everywhere!

SWEET CAPORAL

"The purest form in which tobacco can be smoked"

The best measure of tire value is still the maker's name!

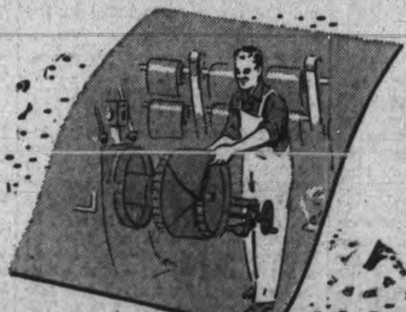
● In the happy days when you bought tires without restriction, you had one infallible measure of true tire worth . . . the maker's name. If you were like the majority of motorists, that name was Goodyear.

Today, a few unthinking folks say "Synthetic rubber will make all tires the same." That is far from the truth! To believe it is to ignore the fact that in prewar days, tires varied greatly in quality . . . yet all makers used the same kind of rubber.

You'll understand why this happened when you remember that TIRES ARE NOT "MADE OF RUBBER." There's rubber in them, of course, but equally important in their construction are cotton, steel, carbon black and a dozen or more chemical compounds. Each one of these "ingredients" must be of top quality, and used in the right proportions, to produce a tire of high performance. Rubber by itself (either synthetic or natural) will not make a satisfactory tire.

Prewar tires varied in quality, too, according to the amount of knowledge, skill and experience possessed by the maker. The advent of synthetic rubber does not alter that fact. Actually, the successful use of synthetic rubber demands the full use of ALL PREVIOUS TIRE-BUILDING ABILITY . . . AND MORE.

Therefore, when your turn comes to buy a new tire, remember that while rubber, to some degree, may be "standardized," quality is not. Now, as always, "More people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind"—because motorists know that the best measure of tire value . . . is still the maker's name.



Over 200 employees of Goodyear, Canada, have served 25 years or more with the company. Here alone is represented better than 5,000 years of experience, one of several priceless, yet unseen, ingredients in every Goodyear tire.

This is a Goodyear ALL-WEATHER Synthetic Rubber Tire!

Goodyear dealers have it . . . for eligible drivers only. It is the result of Goodyear's forty years' experience in tire-building plus Goodyear's specialized knowledge of synthetic rubber . . . gained through unceasing research and testing.

Goodyear's research in natural and synthetic rubbers, begun 17 years ago, resulted in the first practical all-synthetic tire. Today, Goodyear's continuing research program is carried on unceasingly in this, the most modern of all rubber research laboratories.

Ordain Sergeant In Army As Minister

LONDON, Ont., June 3.—(CP).—Ordained as a deacon and later as a priest of the Church of England while serving in the Canadian army as an ordinary soldier, the case of Lawrence Owen of Ingersoll, Ont., is believed to be the first of its kind in this war.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Owen, of Ingersoll, he is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario, where he obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1940. Leaving Huron College before completing his theological course to enlist in the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals this year, he attained the rank of sergeant and served as instructor at Kingston for three years, going overseas in July 1943.

In 1941, while serving in Canada, he was ordained deacon by Archbishop C. A. Seager of the Diocese of Huron. On April 23, St. George's Day, this year, he was ordained a priest by the Bishop of Chichester, England.

Following his ordination into the priesthood, Sgt. Owen was transferred to the chaplaincy service. He now holds the rank of honorary captain.

He is married and has a son.

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 28 (CP Cable).—This gives an idea of the immensity of the barrage laid down yesterday by Canadian gunners working with British artillery regiments: The "shoot" lasted 160 minutes. In that time a Canadian gunner loading one gun moved eight tons of ammunition.

Deep Tan Helps Toronto Flier Escape Japanese

WITH THE R.C.A.F. ON THE BURMA FRONT, June 28 — (CP).—A strange series of adventures recently befell a young Canadian on the Burma front, starting when a little Stinson aircraft proved unequal to the task of lifting a 250-pound British Army colonel into the air.

The R.C.A.F. flight lieutenant, Dave Bockus, of Toronto, with Flt. Lt. Eric Loken of Kelowna, B.C., had been operating an unofficial air rescue service from the armed stronghold established by the Wingate Expedition far inside the Japanese lines in Central Burma.

Bockus tried to take off with his real-life version of Colonel Blimp aboard, to evacuate him from Jap territory, but the Stinson failed to hold air speed and crashed into a hillside. The Canadian suffered light cuts, the British colonel nothing more than a shaking up. Jap forces were approaching the spot and there were more casualties to be evacuated.

Bockus was helpless without a plane, but American rescue pilots arrived and took the colonel and all others out except Bockus and a British Army major. Before they could return to evacuate them also, the Japanese had possession of the place.

Rips Off Shirt

Bockus' only avenue of escape from this tiny take-off strip was over open ground to a deserted village some distance away. As he started across country the Japanese spotted him and opened fire.

Bockus threw himself to the ground, did some quick thinking and decided to try to hoodwink the Japanese. Ripping off his shirt, he calmly rose and walked toward the village. The Japanese stopped firing, either too surprised to act, or deceived, by the Canadians deep coat of tan, into believing him to be one of the natives, with whom they supposedly wished to establish friendly relations.

In any case, Bockus reached the village, as did the major, though by what expedient was not revealed. They spent the night there and when the Japs entered the village by one path next morning, Bockus and the major slipped out into the jungle by another.

Foodless, and with only shirt, trousers, shoes and revolvers, they set out for a hideaway they knew of, where they could stay until the Japs had passed on.

They spent days in the jungle-strewn hills, narrowly avoiding Jap patrols, living on wild fruits and pulp from a banana tree, and sheltering under great banana trees' leaves. Eventually reaching their hideout, they remained there several days until the Japanese had apparently left the region. They returned to the tiny landing strip to find the little Stinson operating again.

Two days after returning to the strip Bockus was aloft again, dropping supplies to Allied detachments entrenched in the Jap-infested wilderness.

Flt. Lt. David Bockus, 22, played rugby and hockey for Parkdale Collegiate Institute and was a member of the Argonaut Rowing Club before he enlisted in the R.C.A.F. here in September, 1941. He trained at Oshawa, Aylmer and Moncton, receiving his wings and commission at the latter station and has been overseas since October, 1942. In his latest letter to his father, D. H. Bockus, 53 Harvard avenue, the young flier said he had contacted malaria and was in hospital in India.

NO TIME TO FIRE THIS GUN — Germans retreated so fast in some sectors of Normandy they left loaded guns, like this "Bazooka" and bomb behind. The weapons were captured by Canadians. Here a Canuck examines the gun.

RCAF Suspends Recruiting Until Oct. 1

OTTAWA, June 28.—(CP).— The R.C.A.F. has suspended recruiting until Oct. 1, it was reliably learned here last night. There was no official comment from air force headquarters, but it was understood Air Minister Power would make a statement in the Commons on the subject.

It was understood the chief reason for the halt in recruiting was the fact casualties have been much under the estimates of operational commanders.

Shoot Lunatics

LISBON, June 28—(CP-Reuter)—An English girl repatriated from Liebenau concentration camp in Germany said here yesterday that when part of the foreign office was moved to Libenau Lunatic Asylum after the Wilhelmstrasse was bombed during last week's attack on Berlin, the worst cases among the inmates were killed off to make room for the diplomats.

Now Dive Bombers

ROME, June 28—(CP Cable)—Left without Luftwaffe opposition, the R.C.A.F.'s famed City of Windsor Spitfire squadron has been converted into a divebombing unit under a new commander. The command was taken over by Sqdn. Ldr. Oliver Charles Kallim, D.F.C., of Ironwood, Mich.

Obituaries

JOHN GIBB.

HAVELOCK, June 28.—(ENS).—The funeral of the late John Gibb was held Monday afternoon.

The late Mr. Gibb yas born April 3, 1866, in the township of Seymour, and was a son of the late John and Wealthy Gibb. He received his education at Old Havelock school, and as a young man took up the trade of builder and masonry. He was always an active man, despite his total deafness since he was nine years old. For the past sixty years he has resided in Havelock. In religion he was a member of the Baptist church.

He was married to Mary Ann Hubbel, who predeceased him on February 25, 1927. Palmer of Detroit, Mich.; also one brother and three sister, William G. of Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Margaret Thurlow, London; Mrs. Ida Brooks and Miss Jennie Gibb of Hastings. One brother, Hugh, and one sister, Mary, predeceased him some years ago.

Pallbearers were Wesley Johnston, Harry Peters, Bert Wannamaker, Harry Tinney, Garnet Rutherford, and Ernest Leeson.

SAMUEL LEASON.

HAVELOCK, June 28.—(ENS).—Another elderly and highly esteemed resident of the village, Samuel Leason, passed away at his home recently in his 80th year.

He was a son of the late Winfield and Ellen Leason and was born in the township of Dummer. As a young man he worked at farming and in the lumber camps, later moving to Havelock about 40 years ago and entered the employ of the C.P.R. About eight weeks ago he suffered a stroke.

Left to mourn is his sorrowing wife, formerly Emma Patterson, also one brother, Hugh, of Lakefield, and one sister Mrs. David McDonald, of Trenton.

His funeral was held Tuesday from the Pentecostal Tabernacle at 2.30 p.m., conducted by Rev. G. Sternall, with interment at Pine Grove cemetery. Pallbearers were William Smith, Donald Anderson, W. McBurney, Herb McMillan, Ernest Leeson and G. Hull.

Miss Aileen Young Gets Farewell Gift

LAKEFIELD, June 28 — (ENS)—The teachers of the Lakefield Public School gave a farewell party for Miss Aileen Young who is leaving the staff.

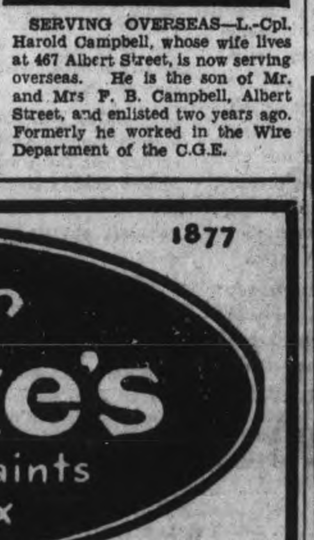
On behalf of the staff, Miss Bertina Beavis presented her with a boudoir set encased in a handsome mirror-lined mahogany box, while Everett Sloan, principal, presented her with a large bouquet of spring flowers. Miss Elsie Kidd read an artistically illuminated address.

Hit Yap Island

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, June 28—(AP)—Aircraft from the Southwest Pacific hit Yap Island in the Carolines with 35 tons of bombs and destroyed nine enemy airplanes in the newest sweep from this sector in support of the Saipan operations farther north. Bombers also sank a Japanese freighter and damaged three merchantmen off Northwest New Guinea.

Change Chaplains

ST. THOMAS, June 28 — (CP).—Flt. Lt. Alexander Nimmo, senior R.C.A.F. Protestant chaplain at the Technical Training School here for two years, has been transferred to the R.C.A.F. Air Training Station at Trenton, Ont., it was reported here last night. He is succeeded by Flt. Lt. A. E. L. Caulfield, former Anglican minister at Ottawa, coming her from Trenton.



SERVING OVERSEAS—L.-Cpl. Harold Campbell, whose wife lives at 467 Albert Street, is now serving overseas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs F. B. Campbell, Albert Street, and enlisted two years ago. Formerly he worked in the Wire Department of the C.G.E.

RIGHT LEG AMPUTATED — Lieut. J. C. Arber of Roseneath has had his right leg amputated at the hip as a result of wounds received on invasion day. He also received wounds in the neck and shoulder. Lieut. Arber enlisted in 1940 with the Queen's Own Rifles and went overseas in 1941. Prior to joining the Army, he worked at the Roseneath branch of the Royal Bank.

Lee—Walsh

HASTINGS, June 28—(ENS).—A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, when Mary Elizabeth Walsh, only daughter of Mr. Richard Walsh and the late Mrs. Walsh, was united in marriage to John James Lee, son of Mrs. William Lee and the late Mr. Lee of Niagara Falls, N.Y. Rev. J. J Garvey officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, David Walsh, was dressed in a street-length dress of white silk jersey, and wore a matching hat, with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Frank Walsh, sister-in-law of the bride, was her bridesmaid, and wore a two-piece rose silk jersey dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and cornflowers. Frank Walsh, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. William Armstrong and Mr. Fred Barry.

A reception was held at the home of the bride.

The couple left by train for a trip to Montreal, the bride wearing a teal blue suit with black accessories. The young couple will live in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were. Mr. and Mrs. A. Dowell of Windsor, Ont.; Mr. John Dumling, Detroit, Mich.; Miss Phobe Milne and Mrs. James Woodcroft, of Toronto; Miss Mary Collins, and Miss Margaret Milalby of Cobourg.

WMS Garden Tea Held In Evening

In a lovely setting of green lawn, and tastefully arranged rock garden, at the home of Mrs. Gordon Miller, 161 Douro Street, Tuesday evening, Group D of the Women's Missionary Society of George Street United Church held a garden tea. Because of the extreme heat during the day, the tea was held from 7 to 9.30 in the evening, and the large number of guests present proved that it was a happy choice.

Tea was served from a dainty table, laid with a lace cloth, and set with silver. Mrs. James Marshall and Mrs. Richard Batton poured tea, and Mrs. T. Mark, Mrs. W. McMillan, Mrs. O. Williamson, Mrs. W. Morris, Mrs. W. J. Routly, Mrs. William Young, Mrs. F. Syvertsen and Miss Reta Sedgewicke served. Mrs. P. Hetherington and Mrs. James Tinney supervised the tea table.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. F. E. Latimer and Mrs. Gordon Miller, and Mrs. F. Mather was treasurer for the evening. All proceeds will be used to further mission work. General convener for the event was Mrs. F. E. Latimer.

Norwood Girl Pledges Vows

NORWOOD, June 28.—(ENS).—Potted ferns and baskets filled with pink and white peonies formed the setting in Trinity United Church, Hastings, for the wedding of Ruby Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Willis Preston, Norwood, to Flt. Sgt. S. Bruce Scott, R.C.A.F., of the Eastern Air Command, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, Stewart Valley Sask. Rev. J. E. Glover, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by Rev. E. E. Pugsley, of Norwood.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the wedding music played by Miss Carrie Doxsee. Preceeding the entrance of the bride, Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, Norwood, sang "O Perfect Love," and during the signing of the register sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride chose a floor-length gown of white embossed satin with a full skirt falling into a slight train from a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, and long tight sleeves coming to a point over each hand. Her flowing veil of white net was caught from a halo headdress, and she carried a shower bouquet of deep red Bettertime roses, white sweetpeas and fern. The streamers were entwined with sweetpeas and roses.

The attendants were her sister, Mrs. Richard Patterson, matron of honor, of Norwood, dressed in pink, and Miss Helen Glover, bridesmaid, of Toronto. They wore long gowns of blue triple sheer, fashioned alike with fitted bodices and full skirts, puffed sleeves, and wore shirred mittens of the same material. Their headdresses were of pink rosebuds and forget-me-nots. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations and rosebuds.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Douglas Scott, RCAF, stationed at Rockcliffe, and the ushers were Jack Preston, brother of the bride, and Earl Hamblin, of Norwood.

Following the ceremony the wedding party motored to the home of the bride's parents at Norwood where a reception was held for 60 guests. The bride's mother received in a mauve lacy sheer dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of sweetpeas. She was assisted by Mrs. Annie Scott, aunt of the groom, wearing a black and white printed crepe dress with black accessories, and wore a corsage of sweetpeas.

A buffet lunch was served by six friends, Misses Winnifred Metcalfe, Rheta Lobb, Ruth Jones Helen Andrews, Jean Beavis and Wilda Lobb.

Later the couple left on a motor trip amid showers of confetti, the bride wearing a two-piece dusty rose wool crepe with white accessories.

Don Carpenter Marries Elsie S. Tanner

All Saints' Church, decorated with peonies, delphiniums and ferns, was the setting for a pretty wedding this afternoon, when Elsie Sopha Tanner, of Apsley, became the bride of Donald Edward Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Carpenter, Peterborough. Rev. A. J. Arthur officiated. Mrs. W. A. Logan was at the organ, and Mrs. J. Morley was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sheer chiffon, on long torso lines, with suede lace insets, a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline, buttoned at the back from neck to waistline with tiny selfcovered buttons, and long fitted sleeves, coming to a point over the hand. Her long veil of white tulle was caught to a lace halo with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Mrs. Ivan McGowan was matron of honor, in minuet blue sheer, with fitted waist, full skirt, and long full sleeves caught with a matching band at each wrist. The high neckline was finished with a quilted yoke, stitched with silver, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Jack Carpenter was best man, and the ushers were Alex Thorne and Ivan McGowan.

At the reception, held in Hooper's Palm Rooms, the bride's mother received, in green printed silk jersey, brown hat and accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, also receiving, was gowned in green printed silk, with a large black hat and bag, and a pink carnation corsage.

For a motor trip to Toronto and other points, the bride donned a two-piece gold and brown dress, and white accessries. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter will make their home at 647 Bethune street.

Muriel Payne Weds On Lawn

A pretty wedding was solemnized recently under a pink and white arch, trimmed with evergreen, on the lawn of the bride's home, when Muriel Payne, daughter of Mrs. M. Carveth and the late Herman Payne, of Warsaw, became the bride of AC1 Everett Gerald Carveth, R.C.A.F., son of Melvin Carveth and the late Mrs. Carveth. Rev. E. D. Snelgrove, of Warsaw, officiated. Mrs. Alex Darling played the wedding music, and Albert Harrison sang "O Promise Me," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, George Dunford, the bride was frocked in a two-piece street-length ensemble of white silk jersey, with a small white straw hat, trimmed with white flowers and veiling, and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses and white sweet peas. Miss Doris Carveth, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, in rose silk jersey, and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses and blue cornflowers.

Elwood Payne, brother of the bride was best man.

At the reception, the bride's mother received in a gown of black sheer, with white collar and cuffs, white accessories, and a corsage of salmon pink roses. The rooms were decorated in pink and white, and the bride's table was centred with her three-tiered wedding cake flanked with white tapers. Mrs. K. Lean, of Lakefield, supervised the serving of refreshments by friends of the bride: Misses Noreen Adams, Pearl Smith, Mary Hendren, Violet Darling, and Margo Clysdale.

After a few days at Stoney Lake, the bride and groom are leaving today for Calgary, where AC1 Carveth is stationed. For travelling, the bride chose a blue silk jersey dress, with matching hat, and white and brown accessories.

For Thursday, June 29

A DAY of dramatic and exciting events, affecting the business and personal life with precipitate and far reaching significance, is read from the predominant lunar and mutual aspects. Sudden and unpredictable visitations, probably demanding a radical and fundamental about-face in all angles of living, if quickly and prudently grasped, may build a future of romantic, progressive and productive status, with promotion, leadership, popularity and prestige. Romance and adventure may loom large. But don't be unreasonably carried away by the impulses. Be sensible.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a sudden and unprecedented upheaval of far reaching reaction on the future, its security and high significance. This may affect the romantic, intellectual and business career, which may have factors of public importance. Quick, logical and sagacious, even exceptional or unorthodox, tactics may turn this opportunity toward high levels of accomplishment, adventure, fine fortune and romance. Thrills, drama, unique experiences may await in new pastures, if not too emotionally or impulsively pursued.

A child born on this day may be abundantly endowed with exceptional skill, talents and creative abilities, which may lift it to the limelight or to romantic or spectacular heights, with great adventure and drama in its career.

VICTORY RECIPES

By LAURA C. PEPPER
Chief Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture

"Fresh green vegetables are on the market"....that's an everyday summer comment. They're so refreshing to look at, they revive the appetite at just a glance; they're delicious in flavor.....if properly prepared, and they are full of good values and well-known minerals and vitamins that help to keep us going—and cheerful.

These greens, any of them, spinach, chard, beet tops, cress, and lettuce, all taste best when they are young, tender and crisp. Whether you serve them as a cooked vegetable or eat them raw in salad, the fresher they are, the better. So, as soon as the greens come into your kitchen, look after them. If you are not going to cook them at once, put them away where they will keep fresh.

First wash them carefully. Grinding molars on little grains of sand is enough to build up a mighty prejudice against such a good vegetable as spinach. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, suggest that the secret of gritless greens is to wash them in several waters, lifting the greens out of the water instead of pouring it off. Before washing, cut off the roots and discard wilted and damaged leaves. Shake the greens gently to remove any excess moisture. Then put them in a covered container and set them in the refrigerator or other cool place until you are ready to use them.

Tender young greens are a treat when served cold, crisp and shredded, tossed with a well-seasoned French dressing of oil and vinegar.

Greens should be cooked in only a small amount of water — just enough to prevent scorching. In fact, there is usually enough water clinging to the leaves after washing without adding more for cooking. Salt the greens and cook for 5 to 10 minutes in a tightly covered pan over medium heat. Drain thoroughly, season and serve at once.

Lettuce is a natural salad in itself, but when the price is low and lettuce is abundant you might like to try it cooked for a change. A tasty way to make old-fashioned wilted lettuce is given here.

Savoury Lettuce.

6 cups leaf lettuce broken into large pieces
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
6 slices of bacon, chopped
1-3 cup chopped onion
1-3 cup vinegar

Mix lettuce, salt and pepper in a serving bowl. Cook bacon a few minutes in frying pan, then add onion and cook together until bacon is crisp and onion lightly browned. Add vinegar and and boil 1 minute. Pour mixture immediately over lettuce. Toss together well and serve at once. Six servings.

A chopped, hard-cooked egg may be sprinkled over lettuce before serving.

Beet Tops and Egg Scallop

2 lbs. beet tops, spinach or other greens (about 3 cups cooked)
4 hard cooked eggs, sliced
1 cup diced celery
1½ cups cheese sauce
1 cup buttered crumbs

Wash and cook spinach. Place half of spinach in greased casserole. Cover with half of hard cooked eggs, celery and sauce. Repeat, using remaining ingredients. Cover with buttered crumbs. Place in a hot oven, 400 deg. F, for 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Six servings.

Spinach Patties

1½ pounds spinach or other greens (about 2 cups cooked)
½ cup thick cream sauce
2 eggs
½ cup bread crumbs
Salt and pepper
Few grains nutmeg
2 tablespoons mild flavored fat.

Wash and cook greens. Chop slightly and add sauce, beaten eggs, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Melt fat in hot frying pan and drop mixture in by spoonfuls. Brown on both sides. Six servings.

Home Atmosphere Of London Club Charms Officers

LONDON, June 28— (CP)— Alice Massey, wife of Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's High Commissioner to Great Britain, is no Whistler's mother to sit quietly with folded hands and immobile face. Her hands are always busy, her face always intent, reflecting flashes of interest in the people she's talking to, in whatever she's talking about.

Her eyes cloud when she speaks of some little tragedy that has come to her notice. They snap with fun when she tells an amusing story. She has a quality, undefinable, that leaves you thinking of your own mother.

Mrs. Massey is good copy—so good that after interviewing her you find yourself with a fistful of notes and it's hard to sculpture them together into a model of the chatty lady of the Canadian Office's Club or the versatile hostess of the flat in the Dorchester.

The imprint of her personality is on the club for Canadian officers, just off Trafalgar Square near Canada House. The walls are green, the curtains orange, the furniture covers bright chintz and it looks like home to the Canadian general or second lieutenant.

Behind a serving table Mrs. Massey heaped plates with cold meat and fried potatoes. A red apron covered her plain black dress, but her black hat had a jaunty angle.

"How are you, you haven't been in for a long time—would you like beef or pork?" she said to an R. C. A. F. officer. "How is the leave coming?" she fired at an army officer over the fried potatoes. "What shows have you seen?"

There was a lull and she explained how she founded the club early in the war so men in London would have a homey place to have their lunch. For less than half what they'd pay in any restaurant they get a plate of home-cooked food, dessert, coffee.

Popular Rendezvous

More than 24,000 Canadian officers have come here, at the rate of about 180 a day, to eat, to read the papers from their home towns and to have reunions with old friends.

Mrs. Massey supervises all the cooking herself, every morning at the crack of dawn in her own flat in the Dorchester, with the help of a negro maid. The Massey chauffeur helps her carry it to the club where it's kept hot on a little bit of a stove.

Mrs. Massey carves the roasts herself and arranges the salads.

"I try to make things taste like Canada," she said.

A nursing sister, Major Helen Wilson of Moosomin, Sask., came past for her lunch and Mrs. Massey explained she had furnished a cosy room upstairs for Canadian women officers. The large downstairs room is strictly for men only.

This is Mrs. Massey at work. Mrs. Massey at home, with an hour or so to herself in the comfortable Dorchester flat that is a jumble of books and pictures and has a well-lived-in look, is not much less busy.

Makes Early Start

Her day had begun at 6.30 a.m. she explained when the Canadian papers were brought to her in bed with her tea. "I gobble up every scrap of news about Canada," she said. "Vincent and I both long to get back to Canada and our house near Port Hope, Ont.—its an obsession with us."

She's up, has her own home matters in order—and that may include planning a luncheon party for a dozen or more guests—has the club cooking on the way and is off to the club herself by 9 a.m.

In the afternoon she goes to her office in Canadian Military Headquarters where there's usually a pile of mail and unfinished business. There may be a concert to arrange for Canadian servicemen, or a letter from a young English girl married to a Canadian and asking her about Canada.

Usually the letters aren't finished, and Mrs. Massey brings her secretary home to the living room which looks onto Hyde park. Even while she said this, her secretary came in with a sheaf of late letters.

One was a gracious letter telling a mother in Canada how well her son was looking. Another was to a boy just finishing his convalescence at Garnons, the country place the Masseys have turned into a convalescent home for Canadian men overseas.

Mrs. Massey becomes canny when she talks about her far-flung work among Canadian men overseas. She insists that it can't be mentioned in an interview. "I just do the sort of things their own mothers would do. I know what it's like to have a boy away." (Capt. Lionel Massey returned with repatriated prisoners of war.)

The little things are what mothers in Canada would like to know, like the time Mrs. Massey arranged a wedding luncheon at her flat for a Canadian boy and girl who were married, like the times she helped boys shop for presents for their wives and newly arrived babies, the times she has scoured photographers for a picture of a soldier who has become a casualty, so she could send it to his mother.

"I enjoy doing it all so much," she said, and she meant that.

Mrs. Massey is a Maritimer, born in Fredericton, N. B., daughter of Sir George Parkin, who later became head of Upper Canada College.

Women Golfers Hold Field Day To Aid War Work

The ladies of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club held a special Field Day Tuesday, to raise money for the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union War Services' Fund. After an enjoyable luncheon, the afternoon was spent in taking part in various golf competitions arranged by the captains for the nine and eighteen hole players, or playing bridge in the lounge.

Prize winners in the 18 hole competitions were: first low net, Mrs. W. Lloyd; second low net, Mrs. S. Northrop and Miss M. Hatton, who were tied. Mrs. Fred Roy, who had the lowest score on long holes, also won a prize, as did Mrs. O. A. DeGraw, for first low gross, and Mrs. C. G. Graham, for second low gross. Mrs. O. M. Steer had the least putts on nine holes and Mrs. C. Sootheran was winner of the sealed holes for the first nine, and Mrs. Fred Roy was winner for the second nine.

Winners of nine hole competitions were: Low net, Miss J. Ketcheson; greatest number of five, Miss B. Martin; least putts, Mrs. C. B. Westbrook first, Miss N. Davidson second and Mrs. M. Richardson, third; sealed holes, Miss A. Wood. Miss A. A. Howson, Mrs. J. Comstock and Mrs. F. L. Robinson were winners at bridge.

Among those present were: Mrs. Madge Richardson, Mrs. C. B. Westbrook, Mrs. C. G. Graham, Mrs. J. H. Vernor, Mrs. J. L. Thompson, Mrs. C. S. Cummer, Mrs. F. C. Neal, Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. Fred Roy, Mrs. John Comstock, Mrs. W. Comstock, Mrs. Charlton, Mrs. F. L. Robinson, Mrs. W. J. Thompson, Mrs. Roy Goring, Mrs. J. H. Eastwood, Mrs. S. Northrop, Mrs. W. S. Hubbs, Mrs. W. Lloyd, Mrs. C. Sootheran, Mrs. R. G. Maniece, Mrs. O. M. Steer, Mrs. O. A. DeGraw, Mrs. A. F. McConkey and Misses A. A. Howson, Earla MacVannel, Nina Ross, Marion Rannie, E. Scott, M. Hatton, J. Ketcheson, B. Martin A. Wood and N. Davidson.

St. Andrew's Holds Annual Picnic

Ideal weather Tuesday afternoon made the attendance at the annual picnic of St. Andrew's Sunday School and congregation at Nicholls Oval, larger than in previous years. After an afternoon of fun, games and races supper was served. A refreshment booth, in charge of Misses Ailwyn and Margaret Jones, Helen Black and Doris Dawson, did a brisk business.

Transportation to and from the park was provided by G. A. Gillespie, Harold Tudhope, Mrs. J. K. Hughes, F. E. Kerr, Paige Rowell, and Dr. E. W. Young, with arrangements in charge of Gordon Johnston. The following committee supervised the supper arrangements: Mrs. Angus Munroe, Mrs. G. A. Ham, Mrs. Roy Lewis, Mrs. F. Langton, Mrs. R. Jones, Mrs. T. C. Crozier, Mrs. E. W. Young, Mrs. M. Weir and Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson.

A softball game, between a girls' and boys' team, was set in motion by Angus Munroe and Dr. E. W. Young, with the boys emerging by a slight margin. F. E. Kerr was in charge of the sports, assisted by Angus Munro, Gordon Johnston, Paige Rowell and Dr. Young.

The following were winners of prizes:

Boys, five years and under — Tommy Kelly, Wayne Jamieson and Paul Holman.

Girls five years and under—Evelyn Hawkins, Katherine Lewis and Sherris Hutchinson.

Boys six and seven years—Gilbert Hillier, Bob Corp and John Middleton.

Girls six and seven years—Sherry Hope, Mary Tudhope and Patsy Tudhope.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

Every housewife appreciates recipes for nice supper dishes and so to-day I have turned my attention to them, hoping you will like them.

Stuffed Tomatoes.

Wipe 6 medium sized tomatoes and remove thin skin from stem end. Take out seeds and pulp and sprinkle inside of tomato with salt, invert and let stand 30 minutes. Cook 2 tablespoons of butter with ½ tablespoon finely chopped onion for five minutes, then add ½ cup soft bread crumbs, tomato pulp, salt and pepper to taste, and cook for 5 minutes, add 1 egg slightly beaten, and cook 1 minute longer. Refill tomatoes with mixture, place in buttered pan, and sprinkle with buttered cracker crumbs. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven of 350 degrees.

Chicken Souffle.

Two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, 1 cup milk, 1 cup chicken broth, ½ cup bread crumbs, 3 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, 2 cups minced chicken. Make

Kidney Ragouts

We think this "KIDNEY RAGOUT" is new and will help relieve the monotony of wartime menus.

Wash and halve 8 lamb kidneys. Then remove thick white tissues. Cut into quarters; cover with boiling water and let stand for 5 minutes. Drain; dredge with 4 tablespoons of flour and fry in 4 tablespoons melted fat with ½ cup of minced onion until brown. Add 2½ cups of tomato juice, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons H. P. Sauce and simmer for 10 minutes. Serve piping hot on buttered toast.

Get a bottle of H. P. Sauce today and try this ration-time recipe. Incidentally, just try serving H. P. with meat, fish, stew, salads, fowl or sandwiches and taste the difference.

Get One-Half More Jam or Jelly from the Same Amount of Fruit . . . use CERTO

YOU'LL find it so profitable and convenient this season to make your jams and jellies with Certo. This way you'll get up to one-half more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit than you will if you use old-fashioned jam and jelly making methods. And you'll get simply lovely jam or jelly—firmer, more sparkling and better tasting.

There are other important wartime reasons, too, for using Certo. It's so much quicker, so easy that even beginners find it very easy to use.

Certo Makes Fruit Go Further —Saves Your Time and Energy

SUCH A VERY SHORT BOIL—It's quite astonishing how Certo cuts down boiling time. Certo jams need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil . . . Certo jellies only a half-minute to a minute! No long, tedious, boiling and stirring. You economize on time, on effort and on fuel.

50% MORE JAM OR JELLY—During this very short boil practically no fruit juice boils off in steam as it does when you use the old long boil. The saving is so great that you get an increase of about 50%—or one-half more—jam or jelly without any increase in the amount of fruit you use.

RETAINS NATURAL TASTE AND COLOUR—Long boiling spoils the natural fruit taste and dulls the natural colour. But boiling time with Certo is so very short it cannot spoil either taste or colour. The luscious taste and lovely colour of the fresh fruit are both retained in Certo jams and jellies.

ENDS GUESSWORK—You end guesswork when you make jams or jelly the Certo way. You get easy-to-follow recipes that give exact quantities and timing—full directions for every step. Different fruits need different handling. Follow exactly the Certo recipe for the fruit you are using and you'll get splendid results.

WHAT CERTO IS

Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jellying substance in fruit—extracted from fruits in which it is most plentiful. It allows you to make jam or jelly from fully ripe fruit instead of the under-ripe fruit called for in old-fashioned recipes.

Look for Book of 72 Tested Recipes under the label of every Certo bottle.

A pound of jam or jelly made the Certo way contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way.

DOROTHY DIX

HUSBAND SHOULD STAY HOME

Duty To Be Companion To Wife With Child, Not Leave Here Alone Evenings

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young woman with a 15-month-old baby. Every night as soon as my husband has had his dinner he dresses up and steps out, leaving me to spend the long evening, after the long day, with the baby. As he goes out he says: "I'll be seeing you," and that is the last glimpse I have of him for the evening. I have told him several times that I am tired of staying at home by myself and his answer is: "Well, you can go, too," but how can I go anywhere when I have no one with whom to leave the baby?

Also, I am jealous of the girl who works with him and pursues him all the time. When I speak to my husband about this he gets angry because he say I do not trust him. We are so young. I am only 22 and he is 26. And I love him very much. What can I do?

HOPELESS

Youth's Desire For Fun Wrecks Homes

ANSWER: When I get letters like this—and I get so many of them—I think that maybe people should not marry until they get too old and decrepit to want to run around. For there is nothing the matter with this couple except youth. They are both at the playtime of life. They want change, excitement, fun, to dance and make merry, and they can't do it without wrecking their marriage and bringing tragedy down upon not only their own heads but upon the little helpless child they brought into the world.

Doubtless it is a waste of breath to tell the pleasure-loving young husband how unjust and cruel he is being to his girl wife to leave her alone of evenings while he sees forth to amuse himself. In his selfishness he does not consider her, or have pity on her for the long, dreary evening she spends alone, with no company except her bitter imaginings that picture him having good times with other women.

Probably her suspicions are ungrounded. He may still love her but his leaving her alone is a concrete fact. He can't get around that, or evade the knowledge that it is his duty to stay with her and be a companion to her and to try to make her happy. And I hope he will realize his responsibility before he has killed her love for him by his neglect.

What a pity young people don't wait to fall in love until they are ready to settle down!

DEAR MISS DIX: I would like to know if my husband and I will make good on our chicken ranch. Of late it seems that everything we do turns out badly. Will I ever be really happy?

MRS. C. E. H.

Expert Knowledge Necessary To Handle Chickens

ANSWER: Well I'd hate to trust my chances of happiness to a hen, for my observation is that hens are the most temperamental unreliable hysterical creatures the Lord ever made. Of course, there are people who make fortunes out of raising chickens, and when you think of what we have to pay for eggs and poultry it looks as if every pullet was an Aladdin's Lamp and that you had only to shake her to get a government bond out of her. But in real life everybody that I have ever personally known who tried raising chickens for profit went bankrupt. If you are going to try it, let me beseech you to go to an agricultural college and take a course in medicine and baby chick culture and philosophy and patience

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a woman of 28 with two children. My husband is overseas. I have been going with a married man for almost two years now. He has a sweet wife who is in poor health. They have five children under 7. He loves his wife and I love my husband, but she can't be the wife to him that I can.

Will I be wrong if I go and tell her to leave and to go and live with her people? I could be just as good a mother to her children as she is. He makes over $100 a week.

ANSWER: As an exhibition of modern morality this letter hits the all high. Most women who have an eye on an other woman's husband at least wait until she dies or gets a divorce, but here is a frank love thief who proposes to ask a sick woman to move out and go to live with her people and leave the coast clear for her. Can you beat it for sheer heartlessness?

Millbrook

P. I. Bentley, who has been in business in the village for the past thirty-two years, has sold his hardware business to Alfred and John Coulter, the former of Millbrook, and the latter of Hamilton. The brothers will not take over the stock immediately, but when they do they will move it across the road to the store formerly occupied by the late S. E. Eakins, who had a hardware business here for over forty years.

Mr. Alfred Coulter is giving up farming for reasons of health, and his brother is joining him, having had experience in the hardware business.

Lawrence Ingram, of Toronto, and Carmen Ingram, of Timmins, are at present holidaying with their mother, Mrs. Thomas Ingram, Anne street. Miss Vanita Ingram was home from Toronto over the week-end, joining the family party.

Mrs. S. E. Eakins is spending the present week in Toronto with her daughter, Miss Mary Eakins, expecting to return home on Friday evening.

C.S.M. Henry Gray, and Mrs. Gray, who have been with her parents, Rev. A. L. and Mrs. Sisco, and other friends, for the past two weeks, left for their home in British Columbia on Sunday evening.

F.O. H. Vernon Ryerse, R.C.A.F., and his bride, the former Barbara Sisco, spent a short time at the parsonage en route from their honeymoon to New Brunswick.

The Young People's Union held a weiner roast at the Mansion grounds on Monday evening, a ball game preceding the regular meeting. Mrs. Franklin Bannister, and Miss Jean Burnham took the worship service, following an opening sing-song, the open fire and the cooking of the weiners completing the happy outing.

Fraserville

Margaret and John Waterman, pupils of Miss Jean Staples at Cairo school, have been granted thier Entrance on recommendation. Other pupils who will be writing at Bailieboro to-day and Thursday are Greta Moncrief, Billy Douglas, Gordon Clifford and George Hall, all pupils of Cairo school.

The Fraserville Sunday school anniversary is to be held this Sunday, July 2. There will just be the one service for the day, commencing at 3 o'clock. Rev. H. J. Mahoney of Knox church, Peterborough, will be in charge of the service. Special music has been prepared by the young people's choir and there will also be a baptismal service.

Cairo school pupils held their picnic on Monday at Fairbairn's creek. Swimming was enjoyed by the pupils in the afternoon. The school will close Thursday, June 29 for summer holidays.

a sauce by mixing flour and butter together and gradually adding milk and stock, bring to the boiling point stirring constantly, then add crumbs, seasonings and chicken. Pour into well-beaten egg yolks, fold in egg whites beaten until stiff. Bake in moderate oven of 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until golden brown.

Cheese Dreams.

One tablespoon butter, 1 beaten egg, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 cups grated cheese, 6 slices bread, 6 slices bacon. Add butter, egg and seasonings to cheese and mix to a paste. Spread on bread. Place bacon on top. Bake in hot oven of 400 degrees for 5 to 8 minutes.

Cheese Omelet.

Three eggs, 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, ⅛ teaspoon mustard. Beat egg yolks, add salt, pepper, mustard and melted butter. Place in hot omelet pan and stir constantly. When partly cooked, add beaten egg whites and beat again until frothy. Add cheese and brown in moderate oven 350 degrees.

and pin Singh for the fall. Referee Maxwell apparently missed the rope-holding and when he proceeded to count the Indian out both Nanjo and the crowd protested vigorously. However the decision stood.

Singh Goes Berserk

When the third round opened it could be seen that the Indian was as hot as the weather. Two or three times he pushed Maxwell angrily out of the way and tore into Katan and the more he tore in the wilder he got. Finally he picked up the Panther and hurled him bodily through the ropes. Then he grabbed Referee Maxwell and he went sailing out the other side. Katan tried to climb in and Nanjo deftly kicked him back again. By this time Maxwell was attempting to get back but an Indian boot in the face discouraged him. Katan tried it for third time and had no better luck. The referee had succeeded in getting inside the ropes at this stage but once more the Indian grabbed him and tossed him out again. Then the idea finally struck both Katan and Maxwell that for some reason or other Singh didn't want them in the ring so they remained outside while Maxwell proclaimed Katan the winner. It was a wild ending to a bout that was as warm as the weather.

Another for Sexton

Frankie Sexton still remains undefeated. He circled Cliff Swede Olsen in the semi-final bout and flopped his opponent after nine minutes to win handily. Olsen, big and none too clean, gave Sexton some bad moments early in the battle when he made a dead set on the Ohio grappler's eyes and had Sexton going around the ring half-blinded while the crowd roared that the Swede was using some foreign object with which to assail the popular choice. However eventually Sexton got an opening and he crashed Olsen two or three times with well-aimed flying tackles. Olsen tried one himself but Sexton was waiting for him as he came off the ropes, met him with a right swing to the jaw that lifted the Swede off his feet and then it was a simple matter to flop on him and measure him for the fall.

K. O. Koch, a new bad man who has invaded the Canadian circuit under the management of Gentleman Jack Washburn, who accompanied him here last night, met John Arthur the Chicago strong man in the opening bout and they battled thirty action-filled minutes to a draw. Wrestling fans will remember Washburn as the roughhouse wrestler about whom Ted Reeve pulled the quickie that he knew Jack was a gentleman because he always washed his feet before kicking an opponent in the face. Koch has been brought up, apparently, according to the Washburn tradition because he handed out a lot of unorthodox stuff. Arthur, however, absorbed it all and pounded Koch's bald head a few times to let him know that two could play at that game. It was a good exhibition all the way.

Bert Maxwell handled all three bouts and the other official was Fred C. Scates, who did the timing and the announcing.

Convict 3 Greeks

CAIRO, June 28—(AP)—Three Greek sailors, accused of leading a political mutiny in the Greek fleet last April, were sentenced to death yesterday by a court martial at Alexandria. They were convicted of murder, as well as mutiny, in connection with the death of officers and men putting down the rebellion. Two other sailors were sentenced to life imprisonment and five more to terms ranging from five to 15 years. Six were acquitted.

92 Students Writing Entrance Exams

High school entrance final examinations for 92 out of 364 grade-eight pupils commence to-day, with English Literature being the first on the menu. In the afternoon, the students tried mathematics, and on Thursday, it will be English composition and English spelling. All exams are being written at Peterborough Collegiate, under the supervision of J. E. R. Munro, Queen Alexandra public school, D. T. Crawford, King Edward school, and P. D. Windrim, Prince of Wales school.

The Literature exam begins with an excerpt from Stevenson's "Kidnapped", in which David Balfour arrives at the house of Shaws. Of this, nine questions are asked with a total value of 34 marks.

An extract from Winston Churchill's immortal speech after Dunkerque provides B section of the examination. Churchill's address after Dunkerque, in which he said, ... "We shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills, we shall never surrender".... is regarded as one of the finest ever made by the British Prime Minister. For questions are asked of this excerpt, including, "What is the effect of repeating the word fight'?", with a total value of 37 marks.

Section C is a four-stanza poem, and 6 questions are asked of it with a total value of 29 points.

R.C.A.F. Suspends

It could not be learned whether volunteers would be routed to one of the other services or held on a waiting list for entry into the R.C.A.F. after Oct. 1.

Air force recruiting has been based on an estimated intake of 2,000 men monthly. The army intake for active service was given as 4,000 monthly and recruiting activity in that branch has been stepped up to ensure a steady flow of reinforcements to divisions engaged in Italy and France. The navy intake estimate was given as 1,200 men monthly.

Defense Headquarters reported a "definite upswing" in recruiting for the army, with the intake for the week ended June 17 totalling 1,769, highest for this year to date. An official statement said the invasion was "a factor" in the increase.

Of the 1,769 volunteers, 975 were from among callup units, 707 from the public and 87 from the Reserve Army.

The statement said:

"The need for recruits to fill the growing requirements of the Canadian Army overseas is being stressed in the new recruiting drive and it is anticipated that the initial successes of Canadian troops in France will spur voluntary enlistments considerably."

Bridgenorth W.M.S. Meets At Udy Home

The June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Miss Lily Udy, with an attendance of 12 members. The president took charge, and after a brief business session the theme for discussion was "Children and Youth Leaders of To-morrow." A lively discussion took place as to the part the local church is taking in the activities of the adolescent boys and girls, particularly in the training of leaders. The hostess served afternoon tea, assisted by Mrs. C. Telford. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Johnson.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
33—Lead-Throwing Plays

MANY combinations of cards are more productive in the long run if the opponents lead to them than if you lead them yourself. Sometimes you are reasonably sure that a hostile high card is located just where you don't want it to be, and on other occasions you are in doubt and would rather not have to make a guess which might prove incorrect. In these, and some other cases, you can sometimes "pass the buck" by throwing the lead to an opponent and making him do for you that which you cannot do so well for yourself.

The simplest form of lead-throwing play is that in which an opponent is obliged to lead right into your tenace. Suppose play for a No Trump contract reached the stage where these were the only remaining cards, and you had to get two tricks to make your contract:

West	North / South	East
	♥6 4 ♦5
♥K 5 ♦Q	N W E S	♥10 3 ♦9
	♥A Q ♦J

If you had the lead in dummy and tried the heart finesse, it would fail, and you would get only one trick. But if you led the diamond, West would have to win it and then lead a heart, giving you two tricks.

That kind of "end-play," as many call it, will work at either No Trump or suit contracts when conditions are right. Another, which works only in suit play, is this:

West	North / South	East
	♠7 ♥4 ♦7
♦Q 9 ♣6	N W E S	♥Q ♣10 3
	♠J ♥8 ♦J

If those cards finish play for a spade contract, you apparently must lose two tricks, a heart and a diamond. But if you lead a diamond, you will get two tricks, losing only one. West must win the trick. Then, when he returns a diamond or club, you can trump it in the North while discarding your heart. This "ruff and discard" play has given you a trick which offhand seemed impossible to take.

Sometimes the chance to combine those plays will arrive, as in this case:

West	North / South	East
	♠7 ♥4 ♦7 ♣Q 4
♦Q ♣K 6 5	N W E S	♥Q 5 ♣J 6 2
	♠J ♥8 ♦J ♣A 9

With spades as trumps and the necessity of taking three tricks, you can do it in only one way, by leading a diamond to West. If he returns a club, you get two tricks in that suit. If he returns a diamond, you can discard a heart from your hand while ruffing in the dummy, and thus make sure of three tricks.

There are many variations of those plays. Notice that the first general type necessitates your first getting the opponent out of all suits except the one you want him to lead to you. With the second, you must eliminate other suits from your own hand and dummy, so that you are prepared to ruff his return in one hand while discarding from the other. The preliminary "stripping" is as important as the ultimate play itself.

Sometimes the first type can be worked when only one suit is left in all hands. If you have the A-J-10, and lead toward it, putting in the J or 10, you are certain of two tricks when the suit is returned. Combinations which are much better if led to you are those like a K-10-2 opposite an A-J-3. If the opponents lead it, you are sure to capture the queen. If you have an A-10-2 opposite a K-9-3, and you make one of them lead it, you get three tricks if the missing honors are split and you finesse against the second one.

Farewell Party Given Rector

MARMORA, June 28 — (ENS) — Members of St. Paul's congregation assembled at the Parish Hall Monday evening to say goodbye to Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell and their son Arnold, who is an Able Seaman in the R.C.N., on the occasion of the former's departure for Elizabethtown near Brockville, where he has been appointed rector.

W. J. Cottrell acted as chairman for the evening, and after a brief introduction, introduced community singing with Mrs. L. R. Rundle at the organ. This was followed by "Love's Old Sweet Song," sung by a quartette made up of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rundle, Mrs. P. Gray and Mrs. I. Nichol. A quiz program was conducted by Mrs W. D. Lavender. A repast was served by members of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild on tables decorated with roses, sweet peas and peonies.

The president of the Guild and secretary, Mrs. L. R. Rundle and Mrs. W. D. Lavender, presented Mrs. Caldwell with a Royal Canadian Navy pin and a gift of money on behalf of the Guild.

The chairman discussed features of parochial work and various accomplishments during the rectorate of Rev. A. B. Caldwell, who unlike the majority of clergymen had not taken a holiday during his long term of rector in the parish.

Two presentations were then made to the departing rector. R. G. Winters, immediate past president of the Laymen's Association, read an address and W. D. Lavender, people's warden, made the presentation of a purse of money on behalf of the congregation. Miss Jennie Gray, on behalf of the Sunday School, made the presentation of a picture.

D. Dart Leaving Omemee School

OMEMEE, June 28 — (ENS) — The pupils of the senior room of Omemee public school (grades 7 and 8 planned a surprise party in honor of their teacher, D. F. Dart, who has for the past four years been principal of Omemee public school, and who is leaving this year.

Miss Bernice Smith. teacher of the junior room, (grades 1 2 and 3) took the chair and first organized a spelling match. Mr. Dart gave the words, and it continued until on one side there were left standing Doreen Clifford and Miss Smith, and on the other Mary Tallman, David Weir and Mrs. D. F. Dart. Finally a tie was declared between Miss Smith and Mrs. Dart.

Miss Smith then called on one of the grade 8 pupils David Weir, who on behalf of his schoolmates, expressed appreciation to Mr. Dart and regret that he is leaving. Doreen Clifford presented Mr. and Mrs. Dart with a pair of carved wood plaques and Beatrice Fisher presented a Mickey Mouse picture to little Freddie.

Mr. Dart addressed the boys and girls thanking them for their gifts and their good wishes. Miss Smith spoke briefly, expressing the pleasure she had experienced working with him as principal and regret at his departure. The girls served refreshments.

Flier Awarded Posthumous V.C.

LONDON, June 28—(CP-Reuters)—Pilot Officer Cyril Joe Barton, of London, captain of an R.A.F. Halifax bomber, has been posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross for "unsurpassed courage and devotion to duty in the face of almost impossible odds," it is announced.

After his aircraft had been hit over Germany, and the navigator, bomb-aimer and wireless operator had bailed out by mistake, Barton flew on and released the bombs himself. Then he jockeyed the crippled bomber back to England. With only one engine working, he attempted to clear some houses, made a crash landing and was killed.

Barton was the 89th man to receive the Empire's highest gallantry award in this war. Three of these V.C.'s were won by Canadians.

HUNS RUSH RESERVES TO CAEN FRONT

Russians Score New Advance 37 Miles From City of Minsk

By EDDY GILMORE—Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 29—(AP).—Soviet armies nearing Minsk drove within 37 miles of the White Russian capital today, pushing the Germans swiftly back over the same road to Warsaw and Berlin which Napoleon followed in his disastrous retreat from Moscow. With the freeing of Mogilev the Russians for the first time in nearly three years have a direct rail route between Leningrad and Odessa. A Russian military commentator, Col. Nikolai Akimov, said the reopening of this rail route "is a factor which should not be underestimated, for the advantage it affords in transferring forces parallel to the line of the front is one of the major conditions for achieving supremacy in any direction chosen for new blows."

Field dispatches said the Germans had retreated from this area so quickly they had had little time to damage the rail line.

The three main thrusts at Minsk were: Along the old Smolensk-Warsaw road; over the Bykhov-Minsk highway across the middle of the Berezina River; through the valley of the Ptich River; over the Gomel-Minsk railway and highway.

Historic Spot.

Red Army troops on the Smolensk road reached the Upper Berezina north of Borisov, near where Napoleon, with his staggering remnants, made a crossing at the village of Studenky. Here advance units were 37 miles northeast of Minsk and Borosov appeared as good as gone.

On the Bykhov-Minsk highway Red Army units approached the middle Berezina area through rolling woodlands. In the valley of the Ptich the Russians northwest of Osipovichi were 55 miles from Minsk.

Huns Lose Heavily.

Moscow said Nazi troops were surrendering in large numbers and were being routed everywhere at a tremendous cost in German lives and equipment. Fighting for the capture of Lepel, north of Kostrista and 42 miles south of Polotsk, was "characterized by mass annihilation of enemy manpower," the Soviet communique declared

Mogilev fell to Gen. Matvei Zakharov's 2nd White Russian Army after 24 hours of bitter street fighting, Premier Stalin announced in a special order of the day. In blasting the Nazis out of the Dnepr fortress they had held since July, 1941, the Russians captured two German generals, Lt.-Gen. Bammler and Maj.-Gen. Ermannsdorf, and routed completely the 12th German Infantry Division, the war bulletin said.

Capture of Lepel, announced in the communique, placed Gen. Ivan Bagramian's 1st Baltic Army within 20 miles of the old Polish border, the closest approach by Soviet troops to the frontier in Northern Russia.

Stalin's announcement said that Osipovichi was taken in a deep "out-flanking" manoeuvre by Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's 1st White

Allies Abandon Hengyang Base

CHUNGKING, June 29.—(AP).—The U.S. Air Force has abandoned its airfield at Hengyang, strategic city surrounded by Japanese forces, and a communique today said American bombers dropped 1,000-pound bombs on the field—formerly one of the U.S. 14th Air Force's principal forward bases in China.

The attack, which took place Monday, was aimed at making the airfield useless to the enemy. It left one runway destroyed Lt.-Gen. Stilwell's headquarters said.

The American Air Force commanded by Maj.-Gen. Claire Chennault was going all-out in an attempt to arrest Japan's drive down the Canton-Hankow railway, an offensive designed to bisect China and make difficult the supply problems of both the Chinese Army and the American Air Force. The communique reported attacks at a dozen different points along the railway and in the vicinity of Hengyang.

1,000 Bombers Smash Factories

LONDON, June 29 (CP) — Upwards of 1,000 American heavy bombers attacked Germany today, hitting four aircraft producing centres, a synthetic oil refinery and a number of other military and industrial targets in the centre of the Reich.

Escorted by an equal number of fighters, the heavies attacked aircraft plants at Leipzig, Oschersleben, Aschersleben and Fallersleben and a refinery at Bohlsen, capping a 12-hour offensive which saw more than 3,000 Allied planes scourging important Nazi installations across the face of Northwestern Europe.

Leipzig, Oschersleben and Aschersleben are within 90 to 100 miles southwest of Berlin, while Fallersleben is 40 miles east of Hannover. Bohlsen is also in the Hannover area.

Railroad centres haltingly feeding reinforcements to the Germans' taxed battlelines were other targets in the big assault.

Rip Rail Centres

In darkness preceding today's assaults, R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavy bombers struck at railroad centres about the French town of Metz near the German border in an attack which cost twenty planes, including two Canadian craft

In simultaneous operations, Mosquitos plunged into Germany, hitting Saarbrucken just across the border and an oil plant north of Essen, returning without loss.

The night blows came after daylight attacks by both British and American heavy bomber formations yesterday, which included the bombing of the Saarbrucken rail yards.

Canadian Victory

A CANADIAN AIRFIELD IN FRANCE, June 29 —(CP Cable)— Canadian fighter planes in one of the most brilliant achievements in the history of the R. C .A. F. shot down 26 out of a total of 34 enemy aircraft destroyed over the Normandy front between dawn and dusk yesterday.

In addition R. C. A. F. pilots chalked up a number of enemy planes probably shot down and a number of others which were damaged.

Four pilots scored double kills.

20 Oil Plants Blown To Bits

ROME, June 29.—(AP).—At least 20 of the 22 oil refineries attacked by Italy-based bombers had been put out of service by mid-June, and Nazi oil reserves "are being used up at a faster rate than ever before," Headquarters of the Mediterranean Allied air force announced to-day.

The announcement said nearly 4,800 planes have dropped about 11,000 tons of bombs on Nazi oil facilities, including rail-yards serving refineries. The production at Ploesti, which has been the source of 35 per cent of German supplies, was said to have cut to very low levels.

"More than half the German synthetic oil production has been knocked out by attacks of the U.S. 8th Air Force based in the United Kingdom," the announcement said. "So much damage has been done to oil plants, ranging almost from the Baltic to the Black Sea, that the enemy's stored reserves represent his main cushion against having his military machine brought to a grinding halt."

10,000 Shells Fired Into Counter-Attack

TILLY-CAEN FRONT, June 29—(CP-Reuter) — More than 10,000 shells were fired today in a four-hour barrage to break up what looked like a formidable German counter-attack from the flank in the region of Colleville.

A hundred guns fired more than 100 rounds each, and the German force of more than 30 tanks was thrown back without making any gains.

No towns or villages have changed hands during the last hours of fighting. While the battle is still raging, the British forces are consolidating their positions and bridges across the Odon.

Vichy Cohorts Flee In Terror

MADRID, June 29 (AP) — The assassination at Paris of Philippe Henriot, Vichy Minister of Propaganda, has inspired a new wave of desertions by Vichy provincial officials and stirred new terror among those unable to leave; border reports and diplomatic dispatches from France said today.

Berlin dispatches acknowledged that "Germany has lost a valuable comrade in Henriot," who ranked only second to Joseph Darnand, "Vichy's Himmler," in Nazi favor. The Vichy radio acknowledged no clues had been found as to the identity of the assassins.

Clark's Army Punches 5-Mile Gain

32,000 Prisoners Taken In Italy In Latest Push

By NOLAND NORGAARD Associated Press War Correspondent.

ROME, June 29 -- (AP).— Along a highway littered with enemy dead and abandoned equipment, troops of the Allied 5th Army punched forward another five miles along Italy's west coast yesterday and captured the town of Castagneto, only 25 miles from Livorno (Leghorn), while a second column farther inland pierced through German lines to within a dozen miles of Siena, Allied Headquarters said to-day.

Livorno is an important port 11 miles south of Pisa, and Siena is a key rail and communications centre 31 miles south of Florence.

8th Gains Slowly.

The British 8th Army reported limited gains in heavy fighting in the areas of Lake Trasimeno and north of Perugia. Eleven guns were destroyed and 200 enemy troops were wiped out in mopping up Casella, six miles north-east of Perugia.

West of Lake Trasimeno the villages of Frattavecchia and Lafoce were occupied. Among the trophies taken were German railway guns with 70-foot barrels, firing 500-pound projectiles.

An official spokesman declared the enemy "is showing signs of confusion" in the Tyrrhenian coastal sector, where the incessant battering by American guns caused heavy casualties and the roundup of prisoners from decimated German units progressed steadily.

Capture of Castagneto gave the Allies control of an important lateral road which formerly linked the enemy's coastal defenders with the Nazis' central sector.

The enemy intensified the retarding of the 5th Army advance, felling trees across roads, then booby-trapping them, destroying all bridges and laying mine fields. The tactics failed to prevent a close pursuit, and a enemy infantry company which attempted to break the advance by infiltration back into the captured village of Sasseta was wiped out.

An American armored force driving from the southwest captured the road junction town of Monticiano on Highway 73, and leading elements thrust beyond to within 12 miles of Siena. The village of Montalcinello also was taken.

French Gain.

French units on the right wing of the 5th Army reported substantial gains, capturing the towns of Monticchiello, Pienza and Montal-

Earl Rowe Raps Ilsley Budget

OTTAWA, June 29 — (CP). — Hon. W. E Rowe (PC-Dufferin-Simcoe) in the Commons to-day opened Opposition criticism of the Ilsley budget presented on Monday by stating that Government policy had been reversed and the "lid" lifted from inflation.

"The old policies of 'pay as you go' and safeguards from inflation and the control of ordinary expenditures— which were adopted for war—now are disbanded for election," said Mr. Rowe.

".....This dying Government now lifts the lid from the inflation they have long since fought, in a last desperate bid for election at any cost."

He looked on the proposed payment of children's allowances with doubt. They appeared to be a "reckless political bid for power" made by a political party as a "piece of callous cynicism."

The inconsistencies of the budget could be seen by a child, "and the pre-election bids can be seen by a blind man."

Mr. Rowe said the Progressive Conservatives sought to assure a sound social security program, while there had been "glittering generalities" of security in Speech from the Throne with "pre-election bids for cash handouts to families."

The chief Progressive Conservative budget debate spokesman said there should be a Dominion welfare fund from which grants would go to provinces; a halt to "government by order-in-council"; employment for those in the home defense army of 75,000 men; simplified taxation forms; revision of taxes on business and agriculture; protection of taxpayers' rights; explanation of taxcreased ordinary costs of government; wider world markets for farm products and encouragement of mineral development.

Mr. Rowe said the government should at once set up a Dominion-Provincial welfare and assistance fund.

A body of experts nominated by all parties in the House should examine the "half-digested" social security proposals of the government and report on them. This inquiry group might be a re-organized social security committee of the House or a specially appointed commission of inquiry.

Provincial representatives should

New Serum Curbs Measles

Preventive Obtained From Blood Donations

CHICAGO, June 29—(AP). — A new medicine to prevent measles, a discovery used so far only by the armed forces, is going to be made available in the United States at cost, the American Red Cross announced today.

The preventive is called immune serum globulin and is obtained from the blood contributed by citizens through the Red Cross.

Recent studies disclosed that the serum contains all the blood's antibodies, the substances which provide immunity after one has had a particular disease. So far immune serum globulin has been used only for measles.

The announcement, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, said that now that a surplus has been built up, beyond the needs of the armed forces, the Red Cross decided to release the medicine to civilians.

Five pharmaceutic manufacturers process the material and have agreed —since the blood is donated by the people—to make the product available through health departments at actual cost.

British Widen Odon Breach Great Barrage Weakens Huns

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 29—(CP). — Increasingly heavy fighting raged at La Byude, 2½ miles north of Caen's city limits in Normandy today, Supreme Headquarters announced, and reconnaissance reports indicated the German High Command was bringing strategic reserves from Germany to support the faltering Nazi defence. Gen. Montgomery's British troops widened their bridgehead across the Odon River and seized important high ground overlooking the battle area around Esquay, four to six miles southwest of Caen, in an encircling manoeuvre. The Germans were reported already to have thrown most of their 15th and 17th Armies into the struggle centring around the eastern end of the Allied battleline.

A typical Montgomery barrage from hundreds of British and Canadian guns, coupled with Allied aerial sweeps, smashed at German reserves trying to reach the battle zone. British heavy bombers overnight struck at Metz, a choke point for German strategic reserves moving westward from the Reich.

Incomplete reports of today's air activities showed at least 44 German fighters destroyed in unusually ferocious air battles over France and Germany today and about 200 German fighters appeared over cloud-spotted battle areas.

The air victories today followed destruction by the Allies of 34 enemy aircraft in daylight operations over the bridgehead yesterday, 26 of the destroyed planes being credited to Canadian pilots.

Enemy air support was forced to come from air bases driven back 100 miles by Allied warplanes.

Supreme Headquarters announced British infantry and armor—supported by artillery fire from British and Canadian guns—were streaming across the Odon southwest of Caen in an ever-widening bridgehead.

Field dispatches said the Nazi command had sent practically the entire strength of the two armies into fierce armored clashes on three sides of the city.

General Montgomery is forcing the battle against his old desert opponent Field Marshal Rommel, who is struggling to prevent British columns from strangling his communications about the Caen strongpoint.

The long-dormant Luftwaffe sprang to life under a cloud cover to support Rommel's desperate bid to drive back the Allied attack, but 27 of the Nazi planes were downed.

American units continued to mop up on the Cherbourg peninsula, and the only German resistance reported remaining in that region was at Cape de la Hague, where it was unofficially estimated about 3,000 Germans were still holding out in isolated pockets.

Little Change In Front

Indication the Germans might be moving strategic reserves from the Reich and possibly even Russia into France to meet the increasing threat of the Allied invasion armies was seen in the heavy R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. night-bomber attack on Metz, important railway junction in eastern France.

Today's communique No. 47 told of a similar attack on the French rail centre of Blainville, also in eastern France.

There has been little change in the front positions in the last 12 hours, with tank and infantry fighting to the south, north and northwest of Caen remaining fluid.

"Every British advance has been met with the most violent type of lo-

Wave Of Heat Kills 2 People

By The Canadian Press.

Ontario residents yesterday sweltered under the hottest day of the summer when the thermometer hit new highs throughout the Province. At least two deaths were attributed to the extreme heat.

In Hamilton, where the official high during the day was 96.2, Harry Edwards, 49-year-old employee at the Hamilton Potteries, collapsed and died before medical attention arrived and William Agar, a lumber company employee at Wingham, suffered from a sun stroke and died.

The temperature in Toronto was set officially at 92 degrees above and thousands of citizens flocked to beaches and swimming pools to get relief. Humidity also hit a high of 78. It was the hottest day since last September 1, although it was three degrees warmer than the record hot day last summer of June 25.

The Province generally was hodded in heat with the warmest spot at Windsor, where an official 98 was registered. Other temperatures were Port Arthur 84; Ottawa, 87; Parry Sound and Huntsville, 90; Guelph, 94; Galt, 97; Peterborough 92.

The forecast is for a little cooler weather to-day.

Capt. J. Hall Dies Fighting In Battle Of Les Buissons

By ROSS MUNRO—Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 29—(CP Cable) —During the fighting on the beaches of Normandy, at Bernieres and St. Aubin and in the inland push and defeat of German counter-attacks on the Canadian 3rd Division, tankmen of the Fort Garry Horse, a Winnipeg regiment, won their battle spurs

Like the tanks of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers from Sherbrooke, Que., and the 1st Hussars from London, Ont., the Fort Garry's went through several heavy actions in the first 10 days ashore in France. In every fight they showed skill and courage in gaining and holding valuable territory and giving strong support to Central and Eastern Canada regiments.

Two Fort Garry squadrons landed in the initial assault, a squadron commanded by Maj. J. A. Meindel, Winnipeg, coming in at Bernieres to support the Queen's Own Rifles from Toronto and a squadron commanded by Maj. Roy Bray of Virdetn, Man., touching down at St. Aubin to fight alongside the north shore (New Brunswick) regiment.

Officer Wounded

Meindel was wounded on D-Day by mortar fire and the squadron later was taken over by Capt. Alex Christian of St. James, Man.

Maj. H. S. Blanchard of Winnipeg brought in the third fighting squadron and linked up with Le Regiment de la Chaudiere of Lake

Finland Faced With Collapse

By EDWIN SHANKE Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, June 29 (AP) — Finland was faced with the threatened collapse of virtually all semblance of democratic government today as Nazi troops swarmed through that tragic Baltic country, now plunged into full military collaboration with Germany.

At a parliament meeting today the five cabinet ministers of the dominant Social Democratic party were scheduled to withdraw formally from the government of President Risto Ryti and Premier Edwin Linkomies, which opened the doors of Southern Finland to Nazi troops.

Slated to Leave

Social Democratic cabinet ministers slated to leave the government are Finance Minister Vaino Tanner, Minister of Social Affairs A. Aaltonen, Minister of Communications Vaino Valovaara, Minister of Trade

Flier Equals Record Bag

Englishman Runs Count To 32 Planes

LONDON, June 28.—(CP).—Wing Cmdr. J. E. (Johnny) Johnson, an Englishman from Nottingham with 32 enemy planes shot down in air combat, shared to-day with Group Capt. A. G. (Sailor) Malan of South Africa the status of top-ranking Allied air ace of this war.

Johnson, who commands a Canadian fighter wing operating from base in Normandy, downed two German ME-109's yesterday in air duels over the bridgehead front to bring his score up to that of Malan. The latter now is on ground duty.

Top-ranking Canadian airman is Flt. Lt. George (Buzz) Beurling of the R.C.A.F., now an instructor in Canada. Beurling has downed 31 planes

One of the highest-scoring Canadians flying from the R. C. A. F. Normandy base, which was established shortly after D-day is Sqdn. Ldr. Wally McLeod of Regina, whose total stands at 17.

Johnson's Canadian wing achieved a mark of five enemy planes downed within 48 hours last week.

Johnson, a quiet-looking, pipe-smoking man, is regarded by many airmen who have flown with him as one of the most brilliant fliers now in operations.

Nazis Bottled On Cape Near Cherbourg

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press War Correspondent

CHERBOURG, June 29—(AP). — Enemy troops making their last stand on the Cotentin peninsula in the Cap de la Hague area northwest of Cherbourg, were reported receiving supplies today from planes flying by night.

East of Cherbourg, Americans finished mopping up and took 1,102 prisoners yesterday while caging 450 more in other sectors. Strong artillery concentrations silenced German guns holding out at Fort Central.

Indications were that the die-hard elements at Cap de la Hague were preparing to make a stand on the Vauville-Beaumont Hague-Greville line. They are the escaped remnants of four German divisions shattered in the Cherbourg trap.

The enemy's artillery was silent last night but it is known that he has two 250-millimeter railway guns somewhere near Auderville. He also has 20 to 30 light and medium tanks on Cap de la Hague.

The entire northern tip of the peninsula now has been cleared except for those at Cap de la Hague.

cal counter-attack," the supreme command said, and added: "It is expected the Germans will make a co-ordinated major counter-thrust."

Expect All-Out Blow

It is unlikely that the present battle for Caen will be decided before Rommel delivers such an all-out counter-blow.

There seemed little doubt that the outcome of the battle would have an important bearing on the whole campaign. In a front dispatch late last night, Ross Munro, chief Canadian Press war correspondent in the field, wrote: "A big victory seems in the making."

Latest field reports said 60 German tanks have been destroyed within the past three days, bringing the total for the campaign to 160.

Nine separate Nazi attacks were beaten off by British units after they had forded the Odon River, and the battle flowed to within a mile of Maltot, three miles south of Caen.

The British mobile and infantry units are being aided in their drive by supporting fire from both British and Canadian artillery.

Today's communique said the width of the Odon bridgehead had been increased, and more Allied forces had crossed the river.

Broadly speaking, the salient which British armor and infantry hold in the fourth day of their offensive is beyond Caen, extending east from Tilly Sur Seulles and across the River Odon to a depth of about six miles on a two-mile front over the river.

Roads Under Fire

From high ground southeast of Tourville, the British can overlook the southern edge of the town of Caen, and bring under artillery fire all but two roads leading into the German stronghold.

These remaining two arteries can be reached by British troops east of Caen along the Orne River, although it is doubtful they hold high enough ground to observe their fire.

Rommel's force reacted strongly to a British attack north of Caen in the Cambes sector, but the tank-supported Tommies managed to capture Chateau de Lalond in that area.

Northwest of Caen another small advance was made after heavy fighting but the gain was measured in bloody yards.

Roger Greene, Associated Press war correspondent, told in a front dispatch last night of tank duels throughout this region at ranges of as low as 30 yards.

On other sections of the Normandy front there was little action to report. The Canadian-held sector east of Caen remained quiet, while a German report of an American attack in the St. Lo region at the base of the Cotentin peninsula went without confirmation here.

Canadians Bag 18 Planes
Spitfire Units Range Over Beachhead

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, June 29. — (CP Cable) —Canadian fighter units flying over the frontline area in France yesterday had their best day since the invasion started, shooting down 18 enemy aircraft, it was announced to-day.

Spitfire units accounted for this bag. Last night an R.C.A.F. Mosquito on offensive patrol over the battle area made it 19 by downing a JU88.

During the night Canadian heavy bombers attacked railway installations at Metz in North-eastern France. Visibility was good and the attack was pressed home in the face of considerable enemy fighter activity.

In the course of yesterday's air operations, Canadian Typhoons participated in a heavy attack on a bridge across the Orne River, 10 miles south of Caen.

From all these operations, two Canadian fighters and eight heavy bombers are missing.

Russian army and completed encirclement of Bobruisk.

Shklov, 20 miles north of Kogilev, and Bykhov, 23 miles to the south, fell as the Red Army advanced, the order said.

The Moscow communique also told of progress on the Finnish front, reporting enemy troops cleared from an island in the Gulf of Finland southwest of Viipuri, and an advance of 19 miles made between Lakes Ladoga and Onezhskoe (Onega).

Yesterday's fighting on the 250-mile eastern front, the Russians said, resulted in capture of more than 1,000 populated places, bringing the announced total liberated thus far in the new offensive to approximately 5,000.

1,000 Heavy Bombers

Several hundred heavy bombers carried out the night attacks, knifing their way through stiff German opposition. Metz is 30 miles from the border near the First Great War battle field of Verdun. The night raiders also hit Blainville nearby and other objectives around Nancy, 30 miles south of Metz.

Despite the weather, which limited the scale of operations over France, a total of 26 German planes were shot down in daylight.

Two Junkers bombers attacking Allied shipping off the beachhead were shot down last night, one falling to a Canadian Mosquito.

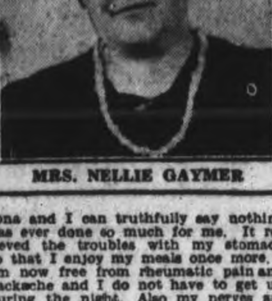
From all operations yesterday, eight Canadian fighters are missing.

Another precision attack like Tuesday night's demolition of a German corps headquarters south of the Cherbourg peninsula was made by rocket-packing Typhoons which shot more than 100 projectiles into buildings in an unspecified village.

Other Typhoons—including Canadian craft — attacked a railroad bridge just beyond the British front line near Ste. Honorine on the Caen-Flers line.

"Syntona Has Been A Great Help To Me I Feel Years Younger"

"Relieved Stomach Disorders, Rheumatic Pain; Nerves Are Relaxed, and I Sleep Soundly at Night."



MRS. NELLIE GAYMER

Mrs. Nellie Gaymer, 26 Erie Street, St. Thomas, Ontario, is glad to pass her experience along to others, because she knows what it has meant to her to get relief from long standing stomach disorders, severe rheumatic pain, nervousness and disturbed sleep. It will pay every man or woman suffering in a similar manner to read carefully her inspiring message.

"I suffered with stomach disorders, constipation and sluggish kidneys for almost 12 years," said Mrs. Gaymer.

"I used to be terribly distressed with gas, bloating, and sour acid risings after my meals. I was subject to spells of heartburn between meals and a feeling like there was a lump in my throat. Sometimes I got dizzy spells and sick headache. Then rheumatic pains set in my arms, limbs and joints. I developed a nagging dull pain across my back. My kidneys were acting too freely and frequently disturbed my sleep at night. I became extremely nervous and worried over my condition.

"After taking many different things without benefit, I decided to try Syntona and I can truthfully say nothing has ever done so much for me. It relieved the troubles with my stomach so that I enjoy my meals once more. I am now free from rheumatic pain and backache and I do not have to get up during the night. Also my nerves are calmed down and my sleep is more restful than it has been in years. Syntona has been a great help to me and I feel years younger."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

All Saints' Wins Juvenile Title

All Saints' won the Church Juvenile League championship Wednesday night when they defeated George Street 11 to 6 in the second game of the playoffs, taking the final series in two straight games.

The winners broke fast from the barrier, scoring three runs in the first inning and they had the score 5 to 0 at the end of the third. George Street did not score until they pushed two runs across in the first of the fourth but the Saints' got one back in their half and then broke the game wide open by scoring four runs in the fifth.

The All Saints' team won because it capitalized on every opening. George Street on the other hand lacked power in the pinches and could not hit McDougall when safe blows would have meant runs. Nicholls pitched good ball for the losers and came through with a sensational one-handed catch.

Border reports said that Darnand's Ministry of the Interior offices had been swamped, since Herriot's assassination, by telegrams from provincial officials demanding transfers, offering their resignations or simply reporting the disappearance of superiors.

The militia leader at Mont-de-Marsan, the capital of the Landes Department, was reported to have been shot by the Germans when he was captured while trying to escape across the Pyrenees.

The German Transocean Agency said today that all Ministers and Secretaries of State of the French government were in session with Laval at the Hotel Matignon in Paris, adding: "Political circles attach particular significance to this session because all members of the government are taking part. Because of the division of officials between Vichy and Paris departments this is an infrequent occurence."

Megantic, Que., to advance inland far ahead of any other units on the eastern flank that first day. They cracked through to Aguernay, six miles from the coast, wiping out enemy pockets en route.

A headquarters squadron, commanded by Maj. C. J. Fletcher of McCreary, Man., came ashore early, too, with the commanding officer and regimental headquarters staff. On the staff were Maj. E. M. Wilson of Stayner, Ont., and Capt. O. J. Atkins, Belleville, Ont.

Medical Officer Capt. B. W. Casselman of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., was praised for the way he and his medical orderlies cared for the casualities.

Bray's squadron saw more action in the Douvre area just east of Tailleville where it attacked strong enemy positions with the hard fighting North Shores.

Lead Squadron

The squadron which Christian now was commanding went down the highway toward Caen and shared in some of the hottest action at the hamlet of Les Buissons where the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders held a line against German counter-attacks and shelling that roared for four days.

Capt. J. M. Hall of Peterborough, Ont., acting second in command of this squadron, was killed in the Les Buissons action while he was inspecting his own defences.

Blanchard's squadron working with a Royal Marine commando, fought one entire day clearing the German-infested valley of the River Mue, along six bitter miles from Thaon to the Caen-Bayeux highway. The tanks worked through the woods and along the river bank, shooting into caves and trenches where Germans were holding out right in the centre of the Canadian Divisional Sector.

Dr. Takki and Jalo Aura, Minister of Food.

At the moment Finland is a democracy in little more than name only since Ryti, Linkomies and Foreign Minister Sir Henrik Ramsay accepted Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop's proposals for full military collaboration with the Germans without consulting parliament. Some advices said the decision would have met a resounding defeat if it had been submitted to parliament.

Despite the Nazi show of strength in the Finnish capital, Sturdevant said there was a feeling in Helsinki that the Germans were sendiing only token aid and nothing like the nine divisions Von Ribbentrop was reported to have promised.

A London broadcast recorded by C.B.S. said a German pocket battleship and two cruisers "are said to have arrived off Helsinki and there are German infantry and tanks in the city where only a few Finnish forces remain."

3 Men Drown

KAPUSKASING, Ont., June 29—(CP)—Three men were drowned yesterday at Remi Lake, 17 miles from Kapuskasing, when a launch upset, it was reported here. Drowned were: Emeda Desmeules, 48, of Kapuskasing; and Arthur Cyr 45, and Lionel Ouelette, 34, of Val Albert, Ont., details were unavailable.

Saipan Forces Gain 2 Miles

PEARL HARBOR, June 29—(AP). —While American warships and planes attacked half a dozen Japanese bases along a 3,300-mile ocean-spanning arc, U.S. forces on Saipan Island scored gains of up to two miles, headquarters have announced.

From Washington came the promise of impending blows at Japan itself. Secretary of Navy James Forrestal said at a press conference:

"The final occupation of Saipan will enable us to project surface and air operations that will include the mainland of Japan, the Philippines and a greater part of the Dutch East Indies."

American marines and infantrymen, already possessing the southern half of Saipan, occupied two villages in a two-mile push up the east coast. On the west coast they blasted the Japanese from Garapan, Saipan's largest town.

An estimated 20,000 Japanese defenders were pushed into Saipan's northern peninsula, an area two miles wide and seven to nine miles long.

Meanwhile a trap, already narrowed to 150 miles, was compressed today on thousands of Japanese at Wewak, British New Guinea.

The erasure of 80 jungle coast miles in 28 days by Australians who are within 70 miles of Wewak on the east was disclosed by General MacArthur. Americans have been approximately 80 miles from it on the west since Wewak was bypassed in the April 22 invasion of Attape.

It was announced the 5th Army alone has taken over 25,000 prisoners since the offensive began seven weeks ago to-day.

Total bag of prisoners for the offensive exceeds 32,000.

American gunners, with a surprise concentration of fire, destroyed a newly-organized enemy artillery unit. In a single sector the Germans lost six tanks, five guns, two anti-tank guns and 15 Caissons.

To illustrated the frame of mind of the bewildered Germans being beaten steadily back in Italy, an official spokesman cited this portion of a letter taken from a captured Nazi trooper on the 5th Army front.

"For us this is no war any more, it's a cat and mouse game. Their superiority is so great in everything. Our soldiers have been indifferent as never before... The Americans are finishing us off in their stride just as they please."

A medium force of 15th Army Air Force Liberators successfully attacked two oil refineries and a rail yard at Bucharest and an airdrome at Karlovo, Bulgaria, yesterday, while R.A.F. forces at night hit objectives at Gigurio, in Romania. The battle score for the day was 23 enemy planes downed, compared with six Allied planes missing.

Despite adverse weather, the Mediterranean Allied Air Force flew 1,200 sorties, with fighter-bombers ranging over the Northern Italy battle front, striking at rail and motor targets as well as objectives in Yugoslavia.

be consulted on the social security program, with financial assistance in the form of public health grants to provinces freed from "the unworkable insurance section of the proposed national health act and made available immediately to the provinces."

Emphasizes Health

Grants from the Dominion-Provincial welfare fund would go to each province in accordance with its needs so hospitals, nursing services and clinics might be expanded in urban, rural and hinterland areas. The Dominion should share with the provinces the burden of new capital expenditures for hospitals, convalescent homes and homes for the aged.

Mr. Rowe said the standard of nutrition should be raised by education and by assisting the marketing and distribution of essential foods to Canadian families of small means, especially where there are young children.

Dominion-provincial conferences should be utilized for the drafting of housing plans for urban and rural communities, with a view to reallocating population as economic and hygienic considerations demanded.

Residual problems of social assistance, such as provision for the aged, blind, handicapped or dependent persons, should be dealt with swiftly and flexibly. This purpose could best be gained by developing provincial agencies, assisted by the Dominion welfare fund.

Quebec Holds Election Aug. 8

QUEBEC, June 29.—(CP). — The Liberal Government of Premier Godbout will seek a new mandate from the electors of Quebec Aug. 8 with dissolution of the present Legislature to take place today. Announcement of the election date was made last night by the Premier in a broadcast address over a provincial network.

The administration of the 21st Legislature has been in office since the general elections of Oct. 25, 1939, when 69 Liberals were elected to the 86-seat House. In a redistribution bill passed at the fifth session of the Legislature, the number of seats was raised to 91.

It is expected that Liberals and the Union Nationale party will run candidates in every constituency, while the Bloc Populaire is expected to run in about 80 ridings. The C.C.F. will seek representation in about 30 seats with the Labor-Progressive party showing around 10 candidates in urban constituencies. Scattered representation may be sought by supporters of the Social Credit party.

At dissolution, standing in the Legislative Assembly was: Liberals, 69; Union Nationale, 17; Nationalist, 1; Independent 1; and vacant, 8.

In his address last night Premier Godbout fired the opening guns of what is expected to be a heated election campaign. He reviewed the legislation brought in by the Liberal administration in the past five years and criticized the Union Nationale and Bloc Populaire parties.

"Union Nationale and the Bloc Populaire represent the deadly rise of a narrow spirit, opportunism and fanaticism in our province," he said. "There are the three forms of congenital weaknesses which are sources of division, irresolution and among the most harmful. They are danger. To drink at this fountain would be to accept with all its consequences, the poisoning of our national life."

During the 21st Legislature, the Government gave the provincial franchise to women, he said. The Aug. 8 election will give female voters their first opportunity to exercise this franchise on a province-wide basis.

Hun Reserves Rushed To Front

By DOON CAMPBELL
Reuters War Correspondent.

ON THE TILLY-CAEN FRONT, June 29 — (CP-Reuters). — The Germans have rushed up reinforcements to meet the sharpening threat to the hole of their defensive line south of the River Odon.

British infantry have been engaged for the last few hours in mopping up small but strong pockets of German resistance on both sides of the river.

Almost 150 German tanks are in this sector in groups ranging from 10 to 30, but the Germans are showing restraint in committing them in large forces, only three or four from each group being so used.

"I am quite happy with the picture as a whole," a staff officer commented.

"The infantry are fighting along both sides of the Odon although there are groups still holding out well behind our forward line."

Committee Of Three To Locate New Playground

After considerable discussion about the location of a children's playground in the residential section of the West Ward, a committee made up of Aldermen Roland Glover, Adam Sands an Thomas Mark was named to investigate the matter and report back to the council, at a meeting of the Parks committee Wednesday afternoon.

Exception was taken to a recent Examiner editorial dealing with playgrounds in the city, in which it accused the committee of taking no action on behalf of the children. Alderman Glover declared that he felt Alderman F. Curtis had not been given enough credit for the work he has done in the past two years under the most difficult circumstances. Alderman M. Swanston said that if the Examiner or anyone else had concrete suggestions to offer about lots, and labor, the Parks committee would be delighted to hear them. Mr. Swanston declared he would like to know where property for a park could be found in the West End.

"There are enough parks in the city for the present, what we want is a place for the children to play ball," Alderman Glover reported.

"And that is needed." Alderman H. Bradburn asserted. "I saw children playing ball on Weller street on Tuesday, and it's dangerous."

Check on Sites

Reviewing vacant lots in that section, Alderman Glover and Mayor James Hamilton offered some opposition, questioning whether the residents would appreciate having a playground out so far.

Different members of the committee suggested other sites and the matter was left with the committee to investigate.

Alderman Curtis, chairman of the committee reported that picnicers and others using the parks, were giving him a headache. He said that following the Rotary Carnival, a great many bottle caps were found driven right into the ground, making it impossible for a lawn mower to function. It was decided to have the city clerk write other bodies using Riverside Bowl to see that caps be placed in a container. Mr. Curtis also reported that boys in picnic parties at Nicholls Oval were continually climbing trees, and he said that the man in charge could not keep tab on them when there was such a crowd.

"We want the parks kept clean and the boys kept off the trees," Alderman Swanston asserted, moving that different bodies who have requested permission to use the Oval be so notified. "When a group of children get together it's hard to control them."

"It's a case of mob physchology," Wilfrid Huycke, city solicitor chuckled.

It was also decided to erect signs on the roads going through the Oval, warning that children were playing and placing the speed limit at 10 miles an hour. This was moved by Aldermen Swanston and Mark.

Take Away Stones

Mayor Hamilton reopened the question of having the big stones removed from the East City Bowl. At one time they were kept whitewashed, but in the past few months, it has been dropped.

"It is one of the most unsightly things and the most countrified, I have seen," His Worship declared.

"Don't you know we have some countrified people, who can't keep their cars off the grass?" Alderman Swanston interrupted.

"It isn't done in other places, and I think if we trust the people, they won't let us down, the Mayor affirmed.

It was moved by Aldermen Glover and Swanston that if Alderman Curtis could find the time and the men, he would be asked to move the stones and use them to finish some gates at Nicholls Oval.

Praise Lifeguard

Members of the Parks committee praised their new woman lifeguard Mrs. Kenyon Choate, for the job she is doing at Inverlea. One of the Aldermen said that she was a regular water dog.

Three children's parks are unsupervised, King Edward Park, Inverlea and Nicholls Oval, and the committee decided to take out insurance for a year. Aldermen Sands and Swanston moved that it be left with Mr. Curtis for action.

"WOLVES" NAB NAZI NAGS IN NORMANDY—German cavalry officers were in such a hurry to quit the French invasion coast recently that they left their horses behind in the very area occupied a few days later by the City of Calgary Wolf Squadron. The Wolf pilots quickly held a roundup, then talked about staging a stampede, Calgary style. After a couple of canters around the airfield, the flyers admitted they might need a bit of briefing in broncho busting plus a short course in the German equivalent of "Whoa," "Giddap" and "Home on the Range." Still in their saddles when the photographer got his shutter set were, Left to Right: Flying Officer J. M. Calvert, Biggar (a Red Indian Squadron fighter pilot); Flight Lieutenant Andy Mackenzie, D.F.C., Montreal; Flight Lieutenant Mac Gordon, Edmonton; and Flight Lieutenant Doug Lindsay, Arnprior, Ont.

McTague Renews Home Army Change Status

OTTAWA, June 29 — (CP). — C. P. McTague, national chairman of the Progressive Conservative Party, last night defined his recent Guelph, Ont., speech in which he called for immediate Government action in making Canada's Home Army available for overseas service as the considered opinion of the Party and not only his own view.

Mr. McTague met some 20 parliamentary press gallery reporters at his first press conference since resigning from the Ontario Appeal Court and assuming his new office. He was known to most of them as the former chairman of the National War Labor Board.

He dealt, in reply to questions, with the manpower situation and family allowances. He said his address at Guelph was not departure from the policies laid down by John Bracken, National Leader of the Party, and it had been based not on his individual viewpoint, but after careful consultation with the members of the Party.

In the speech at Guelph on June 10 in accepting nomination as Progressive Conservative candidate for Wellington South Mr. McTague said Canada's national honor demanded immediate pasage of an Order-in-Council making men called up for service in Canada available for overseas duty as reinforcements.

Statements made in connection with casualties were "of a kind and character very open to suspicion" and left doubt as to what immediate manpower requirements were. In support of this statement he referred to the announcement of American casualties while Canadian losses in France were withheld on security grounds.

"I find it very difficult to reconcile that security had anything to do with it," he said.

Need Reinforcements

While the government alone was in a position to know whether all of the available 75,000 defence forces should be sent overseas or only 15,000 there was evidence of serious manpower needs in the efforts of the army to speed up recruiting and in Labor Minister Mitchell's statements regarding shortages in industry and on the farm.

In the face of these conditions the time had arrived when use should be made of the manpower pool in the home army.

On family allowances Mr. McTague said they had been advanced in the majority report of the National War Labor Board enquiry during his term of membership early last year as an alternative to removing wage control restrictions on wages up to 50 cents an hour.

The majority report, which he signed with Leon Lalande, a Board member, had made it clear that removal of the wage ceiling on these groups was considered preferable to allowances, which should only be introduced if the first course was considered too inflationary. Financial advisers to the government had held easing of the control would be inflationary.

Both Want Them.

If family allowances were introduced they should be part of a scientifically planned broad social security program. The main difference between the Liberal and the Progressive Conservative party was in the method to be followed in bringing in allowances.

In answer to questions on the Saskatchewan election and its relationship to Mr. Bracken as party leader he said he did not think Mr. Bracken's leadership carried any guarantee of the return of provincial governments.

"His influence will be amply evident in Federal elections," he added.

The C.C.F. victory was "a crusade and a sweep into the C.C.F. camp on the basis that the old parties hadn't anything definite to offer as an alternative."

"That is the job that faces us," he said. "We have to demonstrate that we have something to offer and my personal opinion is that we have very much."

Hay Crop Cut By 50 Per Cent

COBOURG, June 29.—(ENS). — While there are few farmers who could not use more help, there is a greater tendency this year, probably due to the fact that the farmer realizes that assistance is not available, to plan a program that can be carried out by the home group, decuared R. C. Banbury, Northumberland county agricultural representative.

Haying is general in the county with rather bad weather conditions but a start has been made and many acres were in coil last week. No western help has reached Northumberland yet and it is not expected that many will be available. Already there are applications for several times the probable number, which is difficult to check as the men from the west come of their own accord and labor problems are influential in their home farm situation.

The tonnage of hay in Northumberland is about one-half that of last year, but still could be called an average crop and with good haying weather it should not be difficult to get it in. Quite a number of men in the army are helping at home on two months' leave, Mr. Banbury points out, and while there are many applications on hand at the Selective Service and Agricultural offices, and few men available, conditions on most farms are fairly satisfactory for the season.

Since canning factories are seasonable they have somewhat difficult labor problems but many high school boys are planning to assist in this type of work and those who want to help out can contact the Selective Service offices in Trenton and Cobourg and the agricultural office in Brighton.

Cordova School Holds Field Day

CORDOVA MINES, June 29. — Two important events were held in Cordova Mines during this last week of school.

On Monday the pupils of the senior room celebrated a sports day in E. Bowen's field at the river. It was lunch time when the pupils arrived and all enjoyed their lunch under the shade of a beautiful elm. Some kind ladies had sent pickles, rolls, a cake and candies to add to each person's lunch. The results of the sports program were:

50-yard dash—12 and under: girls Joan McCurdy boys Morley Chard; over 12: girls Thelma McCurdy, boys Earl Clemenger.

Three-legged race — Ellen Warrington and Imogene Pressick.

Wheelbarrow—Earl Edwards and Earl Clemenger.

Ball throw— girls Thelma McCurdy, boys Don Graham.

Shoe kick—Ralph McFarlane.

Hopping race—Girls, Thelma McCurdy; boys, Edmund DuShaney.

Backward race — Girls, Thelma McCurdy; boys, Earl Clemenger.

High jumping—Thelma McCurdy.

One-half hour was allowed for a swim in the river before the ball game started.

This game was between grade 7 and the remainder of the pupils. Grade 7 was defeated in a score 15-20.

The teacher, Miss Anna Retallick, was ably assisted by Barbara Barrons, who acted as score-keeper for races and umpire in ball game.

Another short swim was enjoyed by all before leaving the field. The pupils all reported a good time, although there were many complaints about sunburns. When the scores were added Thelma McCurdy was champion for girls and Earl Clememger for boys.

Unveil Honor Roll

On Tuesday morning 25 guests were present at the school to see the unveiling of the Cordova Mines honor roll and to hear Sgt. Lorne Hornsby invalided home from overseas tell some of his experiences.

Sgt. Hornsby, still using his crutches, told some of his experiences in France, in Sicily and in Italy. He was invalided out of Italy the day that Mt. Vesusius erupted.

Ralph Lidster, who has four uncles in the services, and Keith Hornsby, brother of Sgt. Hornsby, unveiled the honor roll, and Mrs. Warrington, junior room teacher, read aloud the 43 names on the roll. Then followed a prayer for His Majesty's forces.

Ellen Warrington recited "The Flag," and "Onward Christian Soldiers" closed the services.

Bobby Haughton presented the guest speaker with cigarettes. On the platform beside the speaker was his aged grandfather, Mr. Youmans; the chairman of the School Board, W. Hamilton; J. Sopha and T. Fitzpatrick.

Wipe Out Debt

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, June 29 (AP)—This country's entire foreign debt, totalling $8,050,000 will be paid off immediately, it was announced last night. Most of the debt—$6,150,000—is owed to British bondholders.

Cherry Prices

TORONTO, June 29 (CP) — The Ontario Farm Production Control Board yesterday set the minimum prices of 10 cents a pound for sour cherries and 11 cents a pound for sweet cherries for processing for 1944 crop.

Lawyers Claim Code Needs Revision

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 29.—(CP).—Some of the ablest lawyers in the Commons yesterday agreed the Criminal Code needed revision, that many of the maximum sentences were out of line with modern times and with penalties for other offences in the code.

As the House speedily passed the annual bill which makes amendments to the code, John Diefenbaker (P.C.-Lake Centre), a prominent Saskatchewan criminal lawyer, proposed a committee of jurists, psychiatrists and experts in penal administration be set up to review the code.

Justice Minister St. Laurent said the proposal was a good one and

YES SIR! You must keep fit these days—to do your best. Eno can help keep you fit in three important ways. First, Eno assists nature in removing food wastes that often cause constipation and headaches. Second, Eno helps neutralize excess gastric acidity, sometimes the cause of so many upsetting attacks of indigestion. Third, Eno helps maintain the alkaline constituents of the body.

You'll find the use of Eno the pleasant and refreshing way that helps toward inner and outward sparkle. Buy a large, economical bottle of Eno's 'Fruit Salt' from any druggist today.

Sit In Your Bones

'O heat, dry up my brains', cries a character in Hamlet; we have made no request of this nature on our own behalf, but we are suffering that fate all the same. At the time of writing it is 94 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade, and markedly hotter than that in our office, which is not in the shade. Is it possible in such an atmosphere to weigh great matters judiciously, and pronounce upon them sagely? It is not. While we sit at our typewriter in a condition of dissolution and thaw is it advisable for us to embark on the long and statistical editorial which we nave been contemplating on Lend-Lease, now more suitably named Mutual Aid? It is not. If we did flog ourself to produce two columns of ponderous comment on public affairs, would anybody read them in this heat? They would not. The course of wisdom, obviously, is to deal in trivialities until the weather moderates.

Observation convinces us that the human race meets great heat in two ways: there are those who scorch, and those who melt. The Scorchers are not intended by Nature to drink much, and they have difficulty in disposing of a single glass of water. Job was obviously a Scorcher, for he cried, "My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat". We have been told that Scorchers who go to live in hot countries like India are quite likely to dry up and die, because their bodies do not contain enough juice to keep them alive. Upon the whole it is better to be a Melter than a Scorcher.

The Melter stews in his own juice all through the hot weather, but upon the whole it seems to agree with him. He drinks water, fruit juice, soft drinks and hard drinks in great quantity in order to keep his cooling system in order. The Rev. Sydney Smith was a notable Melter, and it was he who wrote, in a letter to his daughter, Lady Holland, while he was travelling in Europe, "It was so dreadful here that I found there was nothing left for it but to take off my flesh and sit in my bones". Since that was written many a Melter has yearned to sit in his bones. O, to feel the zephyrs play about one's rib-cage, while a cool breeze flutters through the pelvic arch, and up the spinal column to the hollow of the skull!

To men and women bred in the tropics any heat below a hundred degrees is a trifle. But we who live in northern climes, and who see the mercury fall ten or twelve degrees below zero every January, consider 94 a very respectable heat. We want to sit in our bones, and we do not want to read heavy editorials, or write them.

"Hick Town" Of Peterborough

A resident of this city has sent to us a clipping taken from one of the Vancouver newspapers in which is described the plans being made for a Dominion Day celebration. It is a four-day celebration, planned by the Vancouver Entertainment Council at Kitsilano Beach. We have never heard of such a council before, but apparently from its name it is interested in providing playgrounds and entertainment for both young and old. This program is going to be international in scope, and will feature a kiddies' float parade, a fashion parade, open-air dancing, on Sunday a combined service and hymn festival with massed choirs and orchestra, a police sports program and a carnival operated by the Kinsmen Club.

But what got our goat was the note attached to the clipping, "And what has the 'hick town' of Peterborough got on this day?" At first we were inclined to be angry to think anyone would call Peterborough a 'hick town'. Have we not got one of the best cities in the Dominion? Have we not a splendid location situated on a beautiful river? Have we not just as fine and enthusiastic citizens as are found anywhere? But then we said to ourselves, yes that is all true, but what have we done with all our natural beauty spots? Our parks have not been developed as playgrounds to the extent which they might have been. With the exception of Inverlea Beach our swimming and bathing facilities simply do not exist. So perhaps the term "hick town" was not too far from the mark.

In the past we as citizens have expected to be spoon fed by our city council. We have no Entertainment Council simply because as citizens we have failed to realize the duties and responsibilities of our citizenship. True the Lions' Club has developed a playground, and they are certainly to be commended for their initiative but as a whole we have failed to grasp the opportunity which our location has given us. What we need is more playgrounds and bathing beaches developed along the Otonabee.

Lord Vansittart Is Vindicated

When fifty British airmen who were prisoners of war were shot while escaping from a German prison camp Lord Vansittart, who is very widely known as an advocate of complete post-war occupation of Germany, said that they had probably been lined against a wall and shot in cold blood. We now know that Vansittart was right.

The Hon. Anthony Eden, the British Foreign Secretary, has made a statement on the incident to the British House of Commons, and he did not hesitate to call the German action "cold-blooded butchery". Those words from an important Government official make it clear that no doubt exists of German guilt. This is the story: the fifty men escaped, and when they were captured they were taken to another prison and locked up, six to a cell; they were given civilian clothes, and were then taken away in groups by Gestapo men armed with sub-machine-guns; nothing more was seen of them. Six of the murdered men were Canadians.

It is high time that we listened more attentively to Lord Vansittart, who has had long experience of the Germans, and paid less attention to those who deride him as a witch-hunter and fanatic. Fifty men have been killed, not in fighting but in prison, without a chance to defend themselves. If this were an isolated case it would be horrible enough, but it is not; it fits in with scores of proven charges which are made against the Germans; it is characteristic of the brutality and degradation which they have preached as a code of life and a code of war. War is horrible enough when all the rules of international fighting are scrupulously observed; when they are thrown overboard war becomes more nightmareish than it has ever been before. The Barbary pirates in their most vicious days were never so thorough in their beastliness and criminality as the Germans have shown themselves during the past decade.

After the last war the war-guilt trials were a farce, because we expected the Germans to carry them out. What are we going to do this time? Already the United Nations have enough evidence to keep international courts busy trying war criminals for ten years. Have we the fortitude to go on for so long? If we have not, we must expect German barbarism to break out again as soon as it can. And we must remember—we may not always win our wars with Germany.

What Do You Know?

How well are you informed about the war? Have you simply a general notion of what is going on or do you follow events with the care which their importance to our cause warrants? As a very mild sort of quiz, we list the names of six fighting groups which are helping the cause of the United Nations; how many of them can you identify?

1. Partisans.
2. Evzones.
3. Leathernecks.
4. Cossacks.
5. Anzacs.
6. Maquis.

Here are the answers: The Partisans generally means a fighting group in Yugoslavia under the command of Tito, although there are partisan groups in Greece and France; the Evzones are Greek soldiers; the Leathernecks are the men of the United States Marine Corps; everybody knows about the Cossacks, who are Russian and often fight as cavalry; the Anzacs are the troops of Australia and New Zealand; the Maquis are Frenchmen who are fighting the Germans in the mountain regions of France. Now that you know all the answers, try this quiz on your wife, and show off your superior information.

Future World Order

(By GRANT DEXTER)

WHAT kind of a world organization was approved at the London conference by the prime ministers of the Commonwealth?

No precise answer to this question is available but there have been several declarations which give a fairly clear outline of the kind of organization the Commonwealth desires. To begin with, there is a reference in the statement issued at the close of the conference on May 17:

"We affirm that after the war a world organization to maintain peace and security should be set up and endowed with the necessary power and authority to prevent aggression and violence."

The communique affirms that unity was achieved but, most significantly, adds that "that unity finds its strength not in any formal bond but in the hidden springs from which human action flows." "Our system," is described as one of "free association." Most important of all, the statement pronounces against a common or single Commonwealth foreign policy. It says: "We have also examined together the principles which determine our foreign policies and their application to current problems." The word is "policies" not "policy."

There are references to future world organization in Mr. King's address to the Houses of Parliament, but the language is not specific and adds nothing to the statement of the conference.

Prime Ministers Curtin and Fraser both endorsed the world organization policy in their speeches at the closing session of the conference. But they, too, added nothing to the statement.

PRIME Minister Smuts of South Africa, however, revealed more detail. Referring to the world organization, he said: (Birmingham, May 19)

"It would almost inevitably be an improved and reformed version of the old League of Nations. That brave and brilliant improvisation failed in part largely because it was not clothed with sufficient authority and coercive power to maintain peace. Next time responsibility should be placed on those who have the power, and the great powers who won the war should be made responsible in the first instance for keeping the peace—at least for the transition period, until a more permanent scheme for effective police supervision could be worked out."

He went on to argue for regional groupings among nations, but with an emphasis markedly different from that of his speech of last November. Then he advocated the federation of the small European democracies with the United Kingdom. He seemed, in November, to be alarmed by the prospect of Russia "bestriding" Europe. This time he talked of a European federation, but apparently exclusive of the United Kingdom. He grouped the British Commonwealth with the United States. The text of Prime Minister Smuts' speech rather indicates that where he spoke of the world organization he had in mind the discussions at the conference, but that his views on federations and regional groupings were his own.

A STILL more specific statement on post-war world organization appears in the closing part of Prime Minister Churchill's speech in the House of Commons at Westminster on May 24. He said that this matter was "very prominent at the conference just concluded."

Mr. Churchill said:

"We intend to set up a world order and organization equipped with all the necessary attributes of power to prevent future wars or the planning of them in advance by restless and ambitious nations. For this purpose of preventing wars there must be a world council comprising the greatest states which emerge victorious from this war, who will be obligated to keep within certain minimum standards of armaments for the purpose of maintaining peace; there must be also a world assembly of powers whose relations to the world executive or controlling power for the purpose of maintaining peace I am in no position to define. If I did, I should be stepping outside the bounds which are proper to us and our Allies. The establishment of these bodies and their relations with each other can only be settled after the formidable foes we are now facing have been beaten down and reduced to complete submission. It would be presumption for any one power to try to prescribe in precise detail exactly what solution we should find....We must undoubtedly in our world structure embody a great deal of all we have gained for the world by the structure and form of the League of Nations."

IT was common knowledge at London that the prime ministers worked out a fairly complete plan for the post-war world organization. Few details are available because the final negotiations with the United States and Russia have still to take place, and no good purpose could be served by announcing detailed plans in advance.

Particularly interesting is the distinction suggested by Mr. Churchill between the prevention of war and other matters coming before a world organization. He seemed to indicate that the world council—comprising only the great powers—would have exclusive jurisdiction with respect to the prevention of war, and that the world assembly would deal with other international matters. Mr. Eden, speaking in the same debate on May 25, enunciated five principles which would govern the future world organization:

"The organization must have the necessary force to prevent a recurrence of aggression, and to ensure this there must be close collaboration between the United States, the Soviet Union, the British Commonwealth, China and other powers. Responsibility in the future world organization must be related to power and consequently should be constructed on and around the four great powers with all other peace-loving states playing their part, and so on."

BOTH Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden were speaking in a debate on foreign policy. Therefore it would be inadvisable to scan their language too closely with respect to the conference and the future organization of the Commonwealth. But while this is true, there are definite declarations in Mr. Churchill's text, and implications in Mr. Eden's references to post-war organization which, to say the least, require further elucidation. Mr. Churchill seemed to believe that peace in the future will be maintained by a council comprising only the great powers, among which he seemed to include the Commonwealth as a unit. Mr. Eden did not repeat Mr. Churchill's formula. On the contrary, he included the small powers ni hte world organization whose task it will be to preserve peace. Like Mr. Churchill, however, he used language which is open to the interpretation that he thinks of the Commonwealth as a unit, operating in the world as one of the great powers.

The achievements of the conference, however, are not to be found in speeches which, at best, are opinions expressed by members of only one of the five governments.

The only official report of the conference is the statement issued on May 17 and signed by all five prime ministers. This statement, as already pointed out, disposes summarily of the idea that the Commonwealth is a unit or can be presented by a single policy.

The kind of a world organization approved by the conference, therefore, is one which stems directly from article four of the Moscow pact—an organization open to all freedom-loving nations, large and small. The British nations, undoubtedly, will become full-fledged members in their own right.

LOOK TOJO! U.S. BOMBERS IN RUSSIA —By Thomas

Misplaced Sympathy

(FROM MONTREAL STAR)

ANOTHER authentic American voice has been added to the chorus of warning against any false sentimentality shown towards Germany. The U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Henry Morgenthau, told a large audience in New York the other day that Germany would probably make a semblance of surrender before her armies had been destroyed, and before German territory itself was invaded. He added that such an offer would probably be coupled with the overthrow of Hitler and his gangster government.

"No doubt there will be protestations of democracy....No doubt we shall all be told that we need a strong Germany to protect one united nation against another...but we shall have betrayed all those who suffered and bled upon the soil of Europe if the United Nations settle for anything less than unconditional surrender".

The quite natural horror created in many people's minds by the ghastly tragedies of war is responsible for the development of a sympathy complex which under normal circumstances could never exist. This is particularly the case with people whose emotions are easily stirred, people of gentle disposition whose whole nature is anti-pathetic to violence in any form at any time.

There is another group of pacifists who take the stand that the more severely the Germans are punished the greater likelihood there will be of another war in the near future. These people cannot possibly have read any of the stories, the horrible, the unimaginably revolting and inhuman stories of Nazi and Japanese atrocities. It is difficult to find any tolerance for such blind prejudice or such painfully shortsighted views. But even accepting their argument as tenable for the purpose of argument, if pursued to its logical conclusion it would simply mean that the Germans would get off scot-free despite the abominable crimes they have committed under the guise of war, and would therefore be all the more likely to feel that it was safe to go ahead and prepare for the next war.

All these groups are apt to lose perspective, and in their anxiety to see war ended forget that the way in which to end it most quickly is to wipe as many of the enemy as possible off the earth. This seems quite out of keeping with the ordinary dictates of religion, but it is in fact a stern necessity dictated by realism and experience.

Any sympathy shown towards Germany or the Germans is not only misplaced but dangerous. The time for sympathy will be when Hitler's armies have been smashed and Hitler and Hitlerism wiped out—not before.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE FARM FAMILY

Sir,—I have read your editorial on "Children's Allowances" with keen interest, and I confess I don't see much danger in this decidedly "social legislation", so long as it is universally applied, and so long as care is taken to see to it that selfish interests do not use the proposed enactment as a screen, either to lower minimum wage scales or deny fair or "parity" prices to the farmers?

Mr. Bracken's alternative plan which "would remove the ceiling on low wages" and which would mean "an easing on tax levies on low wage groups" does not appeal to this reader, if for no solider reason than that (of all the strange things!) Mr. Bracken apparently makes no provision for the farm family.

Come to think of it, I have seen no reference to the rural aspect of these "Children's Allowances" in any of the editorial comments—most of which seem favourable to the proposals—and, so far, only "organized labour has expressed its opposition to the plan as being a violation of personal independence...."

The only key I have to the universality of hte proposed allowances is an Ottawa item in the news-columns, indicating that "the number of children in Canada under 16 years of age was set today at 3,409,911 by Trade Minister MacKinnon...." This adolescent and child population, plus the estimated cost of the plan—i.e., $200,000,000—is all one has to work on. Nevertheless, in view of the fact that nigh 45 per cent. of those children would be found in our 740,000 farm homes across Canada, I find it quite curious that there has been such a general silence on this rural aspect of the matter?

In view of the fact that only the merest fraction of our farmers win a place in the income-tax ledgers (even today, with gross agricultural income immensely improved!) by the time operating expenses and marital status have been considered, I think rural homes will be among the chief beneficiaries of the proposed "Children's allowances". The bit of cash will be welcome, so long as it does not prejudice the aim of "floor prices", at decent levels.

W.P.D.

North Dakota's Dilemma

(By J. H. GRAY)

JOHN BRACKEN has summed up in a sentence the real meaning of family allowance. Thus: "The Government's plan smells too much of the dole."

It is no false smell. Family allowances are not merely the dole; they are the dole in its most vicious form. In the 1930's relief payments were given men who could not get work. Under family allowances, allied with other forms of paternalism, men will be encouraged to not work. Thrift will be penalized, idleness subsidized, human dignity undermined. Our people will be told, in effect, that family loyalty and family responsibility are not important, that it is the business of the State to look after those who refuse to look after themselves. Ambition, family pride, individual self-respect and self-reliance—these will no longer matter.

Is this to be the "brave new world," of which we hear so much. We have been told — Prime Minister King said it only last week—that when this war is over there will be "full employment" for everybody. If that be true, if peace is to bring work and good wages and a better life for all of us, then why this dole? Somewhere there must be confusion, double-talk or double-dealing.

What many must fear greatly is that we are getting all three; that, to serve the ends of political expediency, we are being led along false and dangerous paths, victimized by an auction sale which sees one party bidding against another with the nation's moral and financial credit. We have in this country a party which believes in socialism, aiming at making all of us wards of the State. We are told by the other political parties that this socialism is dangerous, that it will sap our spiritual and economic strength, and that it must be fought; yet the methods being adopted by these parties to fight this evil are a process of imitating and competing with it—methods that add hypocrisy to weakness.

Canada, in days gone by, was a land of opportunity; of fresh hope. We sent our missionaries to Europe to tell them there that they could come to a home of opportunity, to a land where strong arms and stout hearts and right ambitions could win rewards, where there was freedom and adventure and the good life for all. Today, in defeatism, we deny that—tell the peoples of the world that if they come to us we will bonus their babies; reward them with the dole.

Thus the measure of our decline; the measure also of our weak surrender to the doctrine of paternalism. We used to boast of our "boundless resources," of our "last great West," of our "rich Northland"; of the rewards that were ours for honest toil and ambition. We were proud. Today, our old spirit of adventure gone, we talk of the dole. Talk down our country to the scale of State assistance for our people.

That spirit—the spirit of the dole—did not build Canada in the past. It will never make Canada great in the future.

A Bible Message

But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine.... Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there by after me....

I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God. (Isa. 43: 1, 10, 12.)

"Well," said the guard, "you had better come along; your information is leaking."

"All right," replied the farmer, "but as you are better educated than I am, do you mind if I only give half a crown?"

"All right," agreed the professor. "You have first turn."

"Well, what animal has three legs walking and two legs flying?"

"I don't know. Here's five shillings. What's the answer?"

"I don't know either. Here's your half-crown," answered the farmer.

Frigon Resents Charges By Newspapers

OTTAWA, June 29—(CP)—A reply to a brief presented to the Commons Radio Committee a month ago by the Periodical Press Association was made Wednesday by two Canadian Broadcasting Corporation officials—Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager, and E. A. Weir, commercial manager.

Replying to P.P.A. criticism that the CBC was cutting deeper into advertising appropriations, Dr. Frigon told the committee that "if we were the greedy people that some people think we are, we could easily double our present commercial revenues."

Mr. Weir said that "the truth is that press and radio as advertising media are complementary to each other."

Dr. Frigon said it was true that parts of advertising budgets went to the Corporation, but he was told that upwards of 75 per cent of the biggest advertising appropriations in Canada go to the press and only 20 per cent to the radio. He did not indicate where the other five per cent went.

"It appeared that what periodicals are afraid of is that we may increase our commercial revenues indefinitely. It is not possible to indicate clearly what will be the actual ceiling in dollars and cents which we will attain.

"This depends a good deal on the general economy of our country, and, indeed, on the purchasing value of the dollar. If revenues expressed in dollars and cents increase for everyone in Canada it is evident that our own business will be subject to the same economic trend. Again, if there is much more money spent on advertising, I do not see how with our small shore of the business we should not benefit by the overall policy; I can say, however, that so far as the C. B. C. is concerned, we have a number of self-imposed restrictions .... which limit the total number of commercials we may carry."

Make Little Profit.

These factors, he added, made it impossible for the C. B. C. to increase its commercial revenue indefinitely and guarantee to all concerned that the Corporation "will never be in a position to compete commercially to any extent with the printed publicity media."

He said he had tried to establish that the very nature of the C. B. C. operation made it impossibel for the Corporation to make a profit on the ordinary sense of the word.

He added:—

"But if the fact that every year we spend less money on current expenditures than we receive during the corresponding fiscal year, results in our being accused of making a profit, then we have to plead guilty to making a profit for Canadian listeners, using mostly their own money."

In conclusion he said: "We claim that we are not overdoing it and we know that we are restricting our commercial activities to the very minimum required for us to discharge our duty towards the listening public."

Post-War Plan Imperative For Farmers

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP)—R. E. S. Archibald of Ottawa, director on the Federal Agriculture Department's experimental farms service, said here today that it is imperative that a post-war program be developed which is "economically sound" and which may add to Canada's national developments.

Addressing the annual convention of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturalists, Dr. Archibald said: "I am not so optimistic as to think that Canadian taxpayers, both rural and urban, will be content to enter into very heavy expenditures along these lines after the cessation of hostilities," he said, referring to plans for meeting various agricultural problems such as rehabilitation, land control, land clearing, flood control and improvement of farm buildings.

"Nevertheless it is obvious to all Canadians that the future of Canada cannot stand periods of unemployment and relief. The loss financially to the country as a whole in idle manpower is unbearable.

"For this reason alone it is imperative that all who are in a position to give constructive thought may aid materially toward the development of a program which is economically sound and which may be used as needed in our national development.

"It is obvious to all that a post-war works program on which to base full employment, good homes and contented people should start with agriculture, for on that industry depends adequate food at reasonable prices, employment in the city with agriculture providing the best peace-time market for urban industries, and the vast number of products produced on the Kamvmich add comfort alike to both rural and urban homes."

Peterboro 2nd In Swim Relay

TORONTO, June 29— (CP).—Swimmers from Hamilton were in the limelight at the Ontario swim championships here last night, carrying off several events for both men and women including the 150-yard senior men's medley relay in which a team from Peterborough placed second. Time in the medley was one minute, 29 9-10 seconds.

Hamilton winners were: ob Parks, who took the 100 yard senior men's free-style event in 57 1-5 seconds; Irene Barr, who won the senior women's 100-yard free-style event with Marg Thompson third; Miss J. Woods who finished third in the 100-yard free-style event for junior women; June Woods who won the 50-yard backstroke for girls 14 and under; Miss B. Belbach who won the senior women's 100-yard backstroke in one minute and 15 seconds.

In addition to winning the men's senior medley relay, a Hamilton team won the senior 150-yard medley relay while others placed third in the junior men's 200-yard relay and the junior women's 200-yard relay.

All other events went to Toronto swimmers.

St. Pete's-UEW Battle To 11-All Draw

St. Peter's and U.E.W. battled nine innings to a 11-11 tie in a loosely played but exciting game in the City League series at Riverside Park Wednesday night in a contest that saw the lead change hands several times.

The Union outfit picked up a 6 to 0 margin at the end of the first half of the second but by the end of the third the Saints were in front 7 to 6. They picked up another run in the fifth and added two more in the sixth to go in front 10 to 6 only to have U.E.W. stage a five-run rally in the seventh to go into the van 11 to 10. The Saints, however, fought back, sewed up the game with another run in the eighth and it remained tied when play was called for darkness at the end of the ninth.

At that the St. Peter's team would have won the argument if Bas Murphy, trying to score on a short passed ball in the eighth had slid instead of coming in standing up and missing the plate.

U.E.W. imported Haddy Eakins, the Lindsay speed-baller who pitched for the Genelecs in the playoffs last season, and he went the route for the Union gang, despite the fact that he was wilder than Nanjo Singh at the Tunney wrestling rodeo the previous night. Eakins had a lot of speed but he passed no fewer than 12 batters and his total of wild pitches was a new high for the season.

Gene Reynolds pitched for the Saints and remained in there until the finish in spite of support that in the early stages was bad enough to have broken any pitcher's heart. For a few innings the St. Peter's fielders could not seem to do anything right.

Eakins also suffered from costly errors and it was a loose struggle all the way.

Two fast double plays rattled off by Courneya, Caccavella and Condon in the Saints' infield were the outstanding defensive features.

A Big Early Lead

U.E.W. got a soft run in the first innings when Quigley's fly to centre field was misjudged and went for a triple and Murduff got a double on a pop fly to the same field.

The Union came back with a bang in the second when they scored no fewer than five runs on singles by Isaacs, Eakins and Quigley, a double by Murduff and three costly Saint errors.

St. Peter's got three of them back in their half, when Eakins lost control and passed Stewart, Reynolds and Caccavella and yielded a single to Conroy and a timely double by Al Courneya.

The Saints roared back again with four in the third to take over the lead. Two walks, a couple of passes and three fielding misplays sent the quartette of runs over.

Eakins passed three more batters in the fourth but got out of the hole by striking out Caccavella. Fast running by Jack Condon however gave the Saints a run with two out in the fifth when Griffin dropped the first sacker's drive to centre field and the runner went all the way round to score.

In the sixth the St. Peter's crew registered two more on Pearson's double, a single by Caccavella, a double steal and Courneya's single.

Doughty, the Union first baseman and Grant Patterson were kicked out of the game in this frame by Umpire Batley for crabbing over a decision on Bas Murphy at first base. Jackson took over first and Mac McPherson went to the outfield.

Union Goes Ahead

Reynolds had blanked Union for four frames but ran into heavy weather in the seventh, when singles by Girard, McPherson, Platt and Murduff, along with three fielding misplays gave U.E.W. five runs and put them in the lead 11 to 10.

St. Peter's tied it up again in the eighth and threatened to do more than that. With one out Pearson walked and Caccavella singled to right. Murphy forced Pearson at third but Courneya came to the rescue with a double to left, scoring Caccavella. Condon drew a pass to Another lively battle may be expected in the City Softball League tonight when U.E.W. and Plazas clash in a game which both clubs want in the worse way. The race is tightening up and every game has an important bearing on the standing. Switchgear, thanks to the defeat handed the Plazas by the Soldiers Tuesday night can hardly be headed out of first place now. They have only two more games to play and would have to drop both of those while Plazas were winning all three of their remaining fixtures to land in a tie for top honors. In other words Manager Chambers' outfit only have to win another game or Plazas lose one to put Switchgear in first place at the end of the regular schedule. Plazas, therefore, have to win tonight to keep alive a mathematical chance of sewing up the leaders and incidentally to keep in front of the Soldiers who after a bad start are coming along at top speed right now. The Union team gave the second-placers a tough argument the last time out and hope to do better tonight. It will likely be Terry Woods on the rubber for the Plazas with McPherson the probable starter for the Union club.

One of the biggest softball crowds of the year is expected at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon when the Royce Avenue C.G.E. softball team of Toronto will clash with a picked All-Star Peterborough C.G.E. team with the proceeds to be turned over to the British War Victims' Fund. The local C.G.E. team will be able to line up a club strong in all departments and to give the classy visitors a stout argument. Royce Avenue have an abundance of softball talent and they will have their strongest possible team on the job here Saturday as they are anxious to go home with a win at the expense of the Peterborough plant. There should be plenty of thrilling features and a real exhibition of softball and at the same time the fans will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are helping a splendid cause. With pilotless planes bombing Southern England continually the number of bomb victims is on the increase again and the need for funds is correspondingly greater. It is to be hoped then that the attendance Saturday will be worthy of the occasion. In addition to the game there will be a draw for a Kenwood blanket.

Continuing Westclox week in the Girls' Softball League the Baby Bens will be seen in action again tonight when they clash with the Lock Works team in what should be a lively battle all the way. The two outfits are newcomers to the league and on paper the teams look very evenly balanced so that they should stage a keen tussle. Tomorrow night there will be another one of those Westclox-Aircraft clashes and this will be the last appearance of the unbeaten Big Bens for over two weeks as holiday season opens this week-end. The clash is all important for another win for the Westclockers over the Aircraft girls would give the champs a stranglehold on first while an Aircraft win would afford the second-placers another chance. The Big Bens are reported to be anxious to sew up first place before starting out on vacation and they will field their strongest team for this important battle. Westclox will use either Isobel Bullock or young Joyce Withers against their strongest opposition while Aircraft will probably send Norma back in against the leaders. It looms up as one of the best girls' games of the year.

St. Peter's and U.E.W. played a tie game last night and that means of course the two outfits will have to play that one over again because it will have a direct bearing on the standing. The Union brought in Eakins, the Lindsay pitcher whose appearance with Genelecs in last season's playoffs produced so much fireworks.. Eakins had a world of speed but apparently U.E.W. had failed to furnish him with a relief map showing where home plate was located for he passed a dozen men and might have beaten that generous mark if some of the Saints' batters had not helped him out by going after bad balls. The league race is warming up all the time and every game is a battle because the teams are now in the third and last round of the regular schedule and every battle counts. Here is the standing of the loop at present:

	Won	Lost	To Play
Switchgear	9	1	2
Plazas	6	3	3
Soldiers	3	5	4
St. Peter's	2	6	4
U.E.W.	1	6	5

Game tonight—Plazas vs. U.E.W. Next game—Military Training Centre vs. St. Peter's on Tuesday night, July 4.

Action In Sight

Peterborough folk anxious to see the arena project get under way will be glad to learn that there will likely soon be plenty of action. The artificial ice arena is being incorporated into a more comprehensive scheme by which it is hoped to see established in Peterborough a Memorial Health Centre that will stand comparison with the best in this line to be found anywhere. For weeks the fact-finding committee appointed by the original citizens' arena committee has been digging up and digesting information from all over the country and is now prepared to recommend to the main committee at its meeting next Wednesday night that a modern health and sport centre should be established in Peterborough. It is believed that the recommendation will be accepted and that a financial campaign will be inaugurated immediately after the next week's meeting. In this connection there has been an official ruling that donations toward this great community enterprise will be treated as income tax deductions, a feature that should make the financing of the ambitious plan an easier task. Industrial concerns are to be asked to subscribe liberally, the city council will make a worthwhile donation and the balance will be expected from individual citizens. Definite action soon is promised and that will be welcome news to all and sundry.

Just about the time the baseball public was about to read the New York Yanks out of the party the McCarthy club has had a new lease of life. Yesterday the Yanks won their fifth straight victory by knocking off the St. Louis Browns 7 to 2 with Atley Donald doing a swell pitching chore. Another feature of the Wednesday baseball was the fact that Max Lanier, cagey little Cardinal southpaw managed to lose two games in one day which is quite a feat for any pitcher and totally unexpected of a left-hander of the calibre of Mister Lanier. Max was the victim when the unfinished game of May 16 wound up in favor of the Phillies and then he tackled them again in the regularly-scheduled game and lost that one too when Kenny Raffensburger handcuffed the Cards, shutting them out with four hits. Brooklyn Dodgers who had won five straight games and were beginning to get quite pleased about the whole affair ran into twin disasters yesterday for the Chicago Cubs knocked them off twice without a great deal of difficulty with Bill Nicholson reeling off his 13th and 14th homers of the season.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: City League ball games these nights are never dull....There is always action of some kind and most of the recent battles have been decidedly exciting....Big Mac McPherson will in all probability pitch for the U.E.W. against the Plazas at Riverside Park tonight....His slow-ball had the second-placers baffled the first time he went into action against them....Estel Crabtree went in as a pinch-hitter for the Cincinnati Reds last night and came through with a hit that won the ball game....Peterborough Y.M.C.A. swimming team took second place in the medley relay race in the Ontario swim championships at Sunnyside Pool in Toronto last night. Hamilton won the event and High Park, Toronto, took third place....Hod Lisenbee of the Syracuse Chiefs may be 42 years old but he can stagger out to the mound and beat the Toronto Leafs just about any time....Johnny Niggeling whose knuckle-ball is a thing of beauty when he has it working right used it to hold the Detroit Tigers to three singles, two of them of the infield variety last night and the Senators won over the Bengals 3 to 1 with Rufe Gentry the losing pitcher.

Brintons Lose To Big Bens By 18-1 Count

Behind smooth pitching by 14 year-old Joyce Witchers, Westclox Seniors defeated Brintons 18-1 in a Ladies' Softball League game played Wednesday evening at Ashburham Bowl.

Highlight of the game was the slick center field work shown by Aggie Anderson for Westclox, and Margaret Barrie for Brintons. Nellie Smith, pitching for the losers, hurled steady ball but the Big Bens made 17 hits. Westclox first base assignment went to Nona Whetung who handled the chore efficiently.

Joyce Withers, hurler for the Big Bens struck out 6 and managed to hold them to 2 scattered hits. Marjorie Walling turned in the only run registered by Brintons. Westclox began the attack in the first inning, with Nona Whetung scoring. They surged ahead in the third frame, scoring seven times in quick succession. They went on in the fourth to register 3 more, and another in the sixth.

In the seventh, Brintons saved themselves from a white-washing when Marjorie Walling contributed that teams' one and only counter In the same frame, Big Bens chased in 5 runs, followed in the ninth by one more, to wind up the count.

The teams:

St. Louis Cardinals Drop Two Games To Phillies

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer.

War relief picked up an estimated $80,000 to-day from the first four major league fund games, but chunky Max Lanier of St. Louis Cardinals just picked up two more black marks in the loss column.

Lanier worked only 6 2-3 innings last night, but he was beaten by the Phillies 4-0 and charged with another 6-5 defeat in a continuation of a May 16 "suspended" game.

The largest crowd of the St. Louis season, 24,782, turned out for the novel double-header, but Ken Raffensberger of the Phils spoiled their fun with a neat four-hit job in the regulation game after Charley Schanz picked up where he had left off in the "suspended' tilt to notch his sixth victory.

Bill Nicholson continued his mid-season rush toward the home run and runs batted in leadership by bashing his 13th and 14th circuit clouts and driving in five runs as Chicago whipped Brooklyn twice, 12-6 and 6-2, before 16,332.

New York Giants' western trip started on a sour note as Pittsburg Pirates clubbed out a 9-2 edge for Max Butcher to hand Rube Fischer his sixth setback.

Dain Clay's 10th-inning single in the opener and Estel Crabtree's pinch single in the nightcap gave Cincinnati a double-decker win over Boston 4-3 and 3-2.

The Yankee Stadium "jinx" struck down St. Louis Browns who bowed before Atley Donald's talented curving 7-2. Bos Muncrief's six-game in streak was snapped by the New Yorkers.

Don Black kept Philadelphia out of the American League cellar by scattering eight hits for win No. 5 by a 7-3 margin over Cleveland's Vern Kennedy and Washington's Johnny Niggeling turned back Detroit with three scratchy hits to decision Rufe Gentry 4-1.

Manager Joe Cronin's seventh-inning double earned Boston a 4-3 twilight edge over Chicago.

McSpaden High In Mixed Golf Tourney

CHICAGO, June 29—(AP)—Jug McSpaden, the season's pro golf money winner, equalled the Edgewater course record today with a 29-35—64, seven strokes under par, to boost his foursome into the team competition lead of the Chicago Victory National Golf championships.

McSpaden played with his pupil, Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, runner-up in the women's Western Open last week; amateur Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., and senior Arnold Minkley of Chicago. Miss Germain shot a 39-38—77, three over women's par, for the best card in the feminine section of the field, while Armstrong and Minkley each had 75's.

Thus his combine bingoed for the first lead in these divisions: Pro-woman — McSpaden-Germain, 141; pro-senior—McSpaden-Minkley, 139; team aggregate, 291.

The final 18 holes will be played tomorrow, with the pros and amateurs teeing off Friday in a 72-hole medal tournament for the Victory National championships.

The pro-amateur lead was held by last year's Victory National team champions, Sam Byrd of Detroit with 70 and Bob Cochran of St. Louis with 68—a 138 total. They were followed by McSpaden-Armstrong, 139; Ky Laffoon (68)-Steve Kovach of Pittsburgh, Pa. (72), 140; Johnny Revolta (67)-Ken Morine of Chicago (75), 142, and Byron Nelson (68)- Wilford Wehrle, Racine, Wis, (75), 143.

Patty Berg authored a 79, and, paired with Revolta and his 67, the combination placed second in the pro-woman brackets with 146.

In third place with 149 were Lieut. Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Tex., with a 67, and Babe Didriksen Zararias, the women's Western open champion, with 82. Babe took an eight on the par three second hole after knocking two balls out of bounds.

By HYE BOSSIN

One of Canada's best-known showmen is the veteran Charlie Stephenson, who quit being a printer's devil in 1897 to sell songbooks in theatre lobbies, became a leading comedian and today is in charge of advertising for a Canadian theatre chain.

Charlie, who was proposed for membership in the famed Friars Club by the late George M. Cohan, started Beatrice Lillie of Toronto, now Lady Peel, on the professional stage. There's a good story in that connection.

The Lillies, Beatrice, sister Muriel and the mother, were a musical act and Charlie engaged them to appear with him in Cobalt under the name of Francis. The reason was that Mrs. Lillie had quite a reputation as a church singer and there was much prejudice against the stage in those days.

While Charlie was in the theatre a fire broke out in the boarding house where the Lillies were staying. Charlie rushed out to find his charges. Amid the salvaged furniture and the excited crowds on the street there was a piano. And Beatrice Lillie sat at it playing and singing "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" until the firemen made her move.

Charlie's son, Howard, is a bright name in show business and his niece, June March, was recently listed as a movie starlet.

Joan Blondell's story of why she is divorcing Dick Powell provided a look behind the Hollywood front.

"He was bad husband," says Joan, "never sent me any flowers, left me alone at Christmas, was never happy in the house. Sure, we put on a good act in public. No one ever guessed what was going on at home. Not even my mother or sister knew I was unhappy."

Asked why she married Dick she explained that "she was all broken up about George Barnes," a cameraman.

Pierre Aumont, husband of Maria Montez, who made "Assignment in Brittany" before joining the armed forces of the Free French, distinguished himself in Italy. . . Neil Hamilton, a star of yesterday, makes an unusual comeback in "Since You Went Away." Everybody talks about him, letters are written to him and his photograph is shown. But he doesn't appear in the film. . . How they fool you: Alan Ladd got 20 lashes from the cat-o'-nine-tails at the hands of William Bendix in "Two Years Before the Mast." The cat-o'-nine-tails is made of felt and soaked to make it look heavy. And lipstick is used on Ladd's back to look like welts.

* * *

How time flies: Dickie Moore is in the army. . . Joseph Calleia was in Africa entertaining the troops when a message arrived with his next stop, Malta, his birthplace. He hadn't been there for 22 years and his 85-year-old father, of whom he had heard nothing since the daily bombing of the island began, was there to greet him. . . Porter Hall, a Presbyterian church deacon, will appear in "Murder, He Says". . . Do you remember Andrea Leeds who retired about four years ago to get married? She'll be back in "Lost Week End". . . Radio earphones came back to their own in Hollywood on D-Day. Sound-box sets would have interfered with the recording of dialogue on the sets so the actors listened to the progress of the invasion with head sets.

Newark Bears Sweep Double Bill

By the Associated Press.

Newark Bears ran up their longest winning streak of the season to five straight by winning both games of a double-header from Buffalo yesterday, 4-1 and 8-6, before the season's largest crowd at Buffalo, 4,629 people.

The double victory put the Bears in a tie with Syracuse for seventh place, only half a game behind the sixth-place Toronto Maple Leafs.

Ken Holcombe barely missed a shutout, holding the Bisons to three hits. Of the five Newark pitchers to hurl in the second game, Ed Marleau, who pitched a fraction of an inning, was credited with the victory. Steve Kuk was the hitting star with five hits in both games.

Pat Riley and Felix Mackewicz walloped home runs to lead Baltimore Orioles to an 8-4 triumph over Montreal. A five-run Baltimore rally in the eighth inning overcame a two-run handicap.

Lean (Red) Treadway banged out four hits to pave the way for Jersey City's sixth straight win over Rochester 7-2.

Syracuse Chiefs downed Toronto Maple Leafs 7-5. The Chiefs went into a 4-0 first-inning lead, which included a home run by Catcher Len Rice. Three other home runs were hit, by Walter Cazen and Al Mele of Syracuse and Harry Davis of Toronto.

Hoare's Return To Spain Puzzling

By SYDNEY GRUSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 29—(CP)—Sir Samuel Hoare's return to Madrid caught a lot of political people around London well off base.

They had guessed the British ambassador to Spain was home to stay and not just on leave. They guessed he was unhappy away from the inner sanctum of the country's leadership where he operated so long.

When Sir Samuel was boosted by press and parliament for his part in the Anglo-Spanish agreement on supplies to Germany, London's politics nodded wisely and guessed that was the buildup to wipe out whatever aroma lingered over the Hoare-Laval arrangement on Ethiopia. Hoare, they thought, would resume his seat in the House of Commons preparatory to starting back along the cabinet road.

His return to Madrid, hastened by the plane crash of his deputy, Arthur Menchken, charge d'affaires at Madrid, has put a stop to the guessing. It probably is only a temporary stop for Hoare's future is a favorite subject of speculation.

Aneurin Bevan, centre of the Labor Party's latest storm, has been upheld by his constituency. Bevan went down to his mining centre of Ebbw Vale and put his case for opposing the government's anti-strike regulations before a crowded meeting.

At the end of his explanation, the delegates gave unanimous support to a resolution congratulating him on his stand and expressing full confidence in him as the member from Ebbw Vale.

Bevan's chance to become a member of the Party's National Executive has been postponed along with the national conference where the elections were to have been held. He regretted the postponement in his constituency speech because "I think the time has come for the Labor Party to declare its intention to break with the Tories immediately the end of the war in Europe is in sight."

There would have been strong pressure from many sections of the party for such a declaration from the conference.

Plan To Spend $92,000 On Beach

WEST VANCOUVER, June 29—The $92,000 bylaw for purchase of beach properties carried at the polls on Saturday 1,309 to 596, with 166 votes above the three-fifths required majority, Returning Officer Rupert Harrison has announced.

Beach sites to be purchased at strategic points along a 12-mile shoreline to assure municipal control for future development in a long range policy of the Parks Board include the former Rogers' property, with hotel, at Horseshoe Bay; a section at Caulfeilds; Sandy Cove Beach and five cottages; West Bay Beach and the property extending to the beach from Marine Drive, and cottages; a site at Dunderave Pier with an hotel; a section of the beach on the East side of 17th St.

Revenue Producing

It is estimated by the Parks Board that revenue from these properties will prove sufficient to liquidate interest charges and sinking fund on the property over a 20-year period, stated C. S. Downing, chairman.

No immediate steps will be taken toward improvement of the properties as municipal beaches due to the lateness in the season in acquiring control, he said, but it was expected that plans will be laid this fall for a scheme of development that will proceed as requirements grow.

Minister Given Farewell Gift

BONARLAW, June 29.—(ENS).—About fifty parishioners of St. Mark's Church gathered in the Sunday school rooms Tuesday and presented Rev. A. B. Caldwell and Mrs. Caldwell with a purse of money, and expressed their regret that they will soon be moving from this vicinity.

In making the presentation, Rector's Warden J. P. Baker spoke of the happy relations which had existed between Mr. Caldwell and all members of the congregation during the past two years, and wished them every success in their new parish near Brockville. Mrs. A. V. Brown, president of the Women's Auxiliary, spoke on behalf of that organization of the assistance and inspiration given them by Mr. Caldwell during the time he was acting as rector of St. Mark's.

Allan B. McComb, on behalf of the Men's Club, and Carl Heath, on behalf of the Young People's Association, also expressed their regret that Mr. Caldwell is moving away.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell replied thanking those present for their generous gift, and inviting all to visit them in their new home. Their son Ab. Seaman Arnold Caldwell, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, who was present, also addressed the meeting and said he would always think of Marmora and the surrounding country as his home.

Ironside Says Huns Finished

BURY ST. EDMUNDS, ENGLAND, June 29 (CP)—Field Marshal Lord Ironside told a meeting here today "the war is nearly over," because the Germans will not stand and fight on any front where their lines are broken.

"We broke the line in the last war in July, and then enemy never faced us again," he said. "Look at the picture now. We've broken the line in Italy and the Germans are not standing against us. In the east, the line has been broken more than once, and they're not standing against us.

"In the west, we have captured Cherbourg. The great fight at Caen and Tilly will decide in fact whether the line will be broken or not."

Lord Ironside, chief of the Imperial General Staff in 1939 and 1940, added: "Every great war ceases by the fact that men will not fight any more. Whatever the order given by a general or a Government, when men cease to fight then the war's over. That, I hope, is just coming."

VOL. LXXXIX, No. 153 | THURSDAY, JUNE 29 | PAGE NINE

IT BEGAN ON D-DAY—D-Day meant no shave for Pte. C. L. Jewell, New Glasgow, N.S. . . . and he hasn't shaved since. He has a regular Frenchman's beard by now and seems happy about it as he totes a can of petrol for his Jeep. Jewell is serving with a unit of the Third Canadian Division in Normandy. (Canadian Army Overseas Photo)

Main Street Topics

WIN CERTIFICATES

The winners of the $5.00 War Savings Certificates drawn at the Canadian Legion bingo on Wednesday night in aid of the bomber fund are as follows: Mrs. Elizabeth Brady, 362 Burnham street; Elizabeth Houghton, 39 Orpington road; Mrs. Louise Moscrop, 51 Sophia street.

IT COULDN'T BE

People passing the Post Office on Wednesday when the mercury hit the 100 mark in the down town section gazed unbelievingly at a thin train of smoke coming out of the Post Office chimney. In spite of appearances it wasn't a case that the occupants wanted to have a little more heat, but that there was some rubbish to be disposed of.

SERVING IN FRANCE.

Lieut. Norman Chate, who has been overseas for a year, is believed to be serving in France with the Cameron Highlanders. He is the son of RSM. Harold Chate and Mrs. Chate, 112 Murray Street, and has been 3½ years on active service. His father is on the staff at the Armouries. This is the third Peterborough officer listed with the Camerons.

HIGH TAX PAYMENT.

A total of 39.45 per cent. was paid by citizens on the first instalment of city taxes this year, as compared with a figure of 38.83 per cent. for the initial instalment last year. The city treasurer considers this a satisfactory increase, noting that, though not an all-time high, it is the largest proportion of the total roll in the first instalment in some years.

TOPSY-TURVY.

A curious situation is facing the citizens of Peterborough, particularly employees, due to the fact that the city and Federal holiday is being celebrated on two different days. When the first of July is observed by the Government, the banks will be closed and the stores open. When the city celebrates Monday, the stores will be closed and the banks open.

BLOOD DONORS.

Ninety-seven persons contributed blood at the Wednesday morning clinic, which will be the last until three weeks from now, on July 19. Originally the Clinic was to have remained shut for the entire month of July, but this was changed in a revision of the reorganizing plan as first announced. Thirty-two of Wednesday's donors came from the C. G. E. and Genelco and good groups were on hand from the Outboard Marine and DeLaval. Other plants sending employees were the Quaker Oats, Peterborough Lock and Peterborough Lumber, the Westclox and Raybestos. Out-of-town donors journeyed in from Port Hope, Westwood, Lakefield and Havelock.

BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings for the past week ending today amounted to $970,678, one of the few weeks this year when the total has been below the million dollar mark.

SCHOOLS ARE OUT

Peterborough's Public and Separate Schools closed for the midsummer holidays today and will not reopen until September 5. In the public schools the promotions were completed and for the most part the pupils met their new teachers and were assigned their seats.

BICYCLIST UNHURT

No one was hurt when a bicycle ridden by David Gracie, 320 George street and a truck owned by Kawartha News and driven by Emmet Donaghue collided at Water and Hunter streets but the bicycle was damaged considerably in the crash.

LEAVES TWO SONS

The late William Daniel Edwards, former lockmaster at Lock 19 who died on Tuesday, is survived by two sons in addition to his wife and five daughters. They are Jack Edwards, now overseas, and George Edwards, who only recently returned from overseas.

SUMMER SPEAKERS

Dr. Leslie, Professor of Ethics at Victoria University, Toronto, will be the guest speaker during the month of August at church services held for campers at Juniper Island Pavilion. Mr. Rose of Corunna will be the speaker for services from July 9 until the end of the month.

THREE SOLDIERS WOUNDED.

Two men from Port Hope serving with Eastern Ontario regiments have been wounded, Pte. Lloyd Arthur Corbett, son of Mrs. Grace E. Corbett 59 Chourbourne street, and A-L-Sgt. Herbert E. E. Mathison, whose wife is Mrs. Vivian Anne Mathieson, 67 Brown street. Sgt. Mathison's wounds are reported to be slight. Another name contained in the list of wounded is that of Pte. Ray Warren McGill, the son of Percy Ray McGill, R. R. No. 2, Janetville.

CHECKING ON CYCLISTS

Bicyclists who do not obey the Highway Traffic Act and the city traffic bylaw are going to find infractions costly. This morning Officer W. A. Clarke secured the names of 13 different bicycle riders who failed to stop for the traffic lights at Park and Charlotte streets this morning. This baker's dozen, all travelling south on Park street, will be summonsed for violation of the Highway Traffic Act and police intimate there will be others.

NO DROWNING

A mean rumor which has been making the rounds in the Westclox and along main street has been squashed. A wire to the Sea Cadet camp at Gananoque today brought this reply: "Commander Hugh Plaxton emphatically denies that there was any drowning at the Sea Cadet camp." Further enquiries indicated there had been no drowning in the Gananoque district this week, so people who have circulated this unfounded rumor can congratulate themselves on causing a lot of worry at a time when there is worry enough in the world.

North End Group Makes $50 For War Victims

All the various efforts having a bearing on the successful prosecution of the war effort, must of necessity be a series of one achievement after another leading up to the day of final triumph, for to rest on one's oars is a type of insensibility which just plays into the enemy's hands, and give him an unlooked for advantage, the results of which may not be at all advantageous to the cause.

Having reached another milestone and drained it's bank balance to the vanishing point by sending another £500 to the Lord Mayor of London the Peterborough and District British War Vicitims Fund gets off to another good start through a nice contribution of $50 which has been contributed by the North-End War Workers group headed by Mrs. G. S. Kingdon as President and Mrs. G. Simpson as secretary-treasurer.

During the long winter months this group met at least once each week for the purpose of making quilts, and other home made sewing articles, and then they held an annual garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Winslow on Barnardo avenue, at which they realized on the fruits of their toil, which enabled them to make this nice gift to the fund besides making two other sizable gifts to other worthy war services.

Included in this was a draw on an afghan made and donated by Miss Jean Sine, who was also responsible for selling the largest quota of tickets which assisted materially in raising the receipts to the high level they attained.

After spending many laborious evenings in preparation for an event of this nature, there surely must be much satisfaction in seeing it turn out so well, and thus providing them with the means to do some real good towards the general war effort. Last year at this time they were also represented in a similar manner in help given to this fund, and there have been other occasions on which they have also given help towards this same worthy cause.

Only a few short days ago, a nice personal gift appeared in this column acknowledged as coming from "A Friend" and now another appears for $6.25 from the same donor, and is listed in a similar manner. From this it is quite evident that this contributor is taking a keen interest in doing something in the ever blessed field of relieving the distress of other people in trouble, many of whom have recently come to that state through the new type of rocket bombing from the shores of France.

Ball Game Saturday July 1.

A major sports event which promises to give the fund quite some material assistance, is to take place at Riverside Park this Saturday, July 1, when the All Stars from the local Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd. plant will meet the Royce Ave. Works of the same company at Toronto.

Tickets have been on sale for some time at 25 cents each, and in addition to the pleasure derived from the game itself, someone is going to be lucky and win a Kenwood Blanket which has been donated for a draw on this occasion, which added to the cause they all seek to serve, should make it worthy of receiving a large measure of support from the public at large.

Previously Missing Pte. Millburn Killed

Reported missing two days ago, Pte. Robert Cameron Milburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Milburn, 274 Sherbrooke street, is now officially reported to have been killed in action June 8.

The 19-year-old soldier was serving in France with an Eastern Canadian unit which has suffered heavy casualties since fighting broke out June 6. Although his parents were hoping that he might make his way back to his unit, as Pte. Frank James did, word arrived Wednesday night to the contrary.

ON PRINCE DAVID—Buckhorn's only sailor, Ordinary Seaman Earl Hall, has been taking part in the invasion. He is a member of the crew of H.M.C.S. Prince David which has been carrying many Canadians. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hall, he has been exactly a year in the service.

HEADS BUSINESS MEN—Vern Selkirk (Right) and Ed Riley (Left) have been elected president and vice-president of the Peterborough Business Men's Association. Mr. Selkirk succeeds Fred Cripps as president of the Association. Both men have been strong supporters of the Business Men's Association since its organization seven years ago.

CWAC Musicians To Give Concert

The Canadian Women's Army Corps Pipe and Brass Bands, whose visit to this district will happily coincide with the long week-end ocasioned by Dominion Day, will make their first public appearance in Peterborough at a concert to be given on the Armouries lawn on Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. An oficial greeting will be extended by Mayor James Hamilton to the 70 members of the bands, and Mrs. Norman D. Seaton, chairman of the Women's Voluntary Services, will introduce Lt. Nora Dawes-Booth, recruiting officer of the unit.

The bands, which will be in the city and the immediate district until Tuesday, are to arrive in the city on Friday evening from Port Hope, and for their stay they have been allotted quarters at the Training Centre here.

Visit District.

Saturday morning the bands are to be in Lindsay where they will parade at 1:15 p.m. from the corner of Kent and Lindsay Streets to the Exhibition Grounds, where a concert will be given at the Kiwanis-Oddfellows field day. Mayor Charles Lamb and Col. R. I. Moore K.C., wil welcome the bands.

In Lakefield, their other stop in the district, the bands will parade at 12:30 p.m via Main Street to Memorial Park, where a concert will be played at 1 o'clock. Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., will give the address of welcome to the C.W.A.C. musicians there.

The Women's Voluntary Services are contributing greatly to the pleasantness of the band's stay in these parts and have arranged a picnic, supper and swim for them at Chemong Park on Sunday afternoon.

A feature of the C.G.E.-Genelco employees' picnic on Dominion Day will be an hour's concert by the bands. This will take place between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. Ian McRae, general superintendent, will welcome the bands on behalf of the two companies whose guests the C. W.A.C. girls will be at the picnic. Following the concert, they will be served refreshments and dismissed to take part in all the carnival fun.

It is expected that the bands will return to Kingston before continuing with their nation-wide tour some time on Tuesday.

War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

June 29, 1940 — Six thousand Polish troops crossed from Syria to join British forces in Palestine after Gen. Eugene Mittelhauser, French commander-in-chief in Middle East, announced cessation of hostilities in Syria. Two killed, eight injured in Nazi air raids on Britain.

Maj. R. Yelland Hero Of Battle

WITH THE 8th ARMY, Italy, June 29— It is now possible to tell that Major Reginald C. Yelland, of Peterborough, a Canadian tank officer who was killed in action, occupies a hero's grave here, writes Major Bert Wemp, Telegram representative in Italy.

Major Yelland was killed in the Hitler line battle between the Pontecorvo hinge of the line and Aquino on the north. In a terrific stage of the battle the tank situation need straightening out, which the major did, going far forward smack under the big guns of the Germans with their revolving turrets sunk in concrete and steel.

He had completed his task and as he turned his tank about to return, he was hit by a heavy shell.

When I spoke to the officers of his regiment later, they all paid the highest tribute to his heroism and brilliant leadrship, especially when the going was heaviest and the battle fiercest.

A Big Job

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP).—Adivance shipments from the United States for the invasion piled up more than 16,000,000 tons of supplies in Britain in a year, twice the tonnage shipped during the First Great War, Lt.-Gen. Brehon Somervell reported yesterday. He said that preshipment of supplies for the invasion began 12 months ago.

Airman Drowns

ST. THOMAS, June 29—(CP)—An airman from the Technical Training School here drowned within 25 feet of the shore of Pinafore Lake last night while attempting to reach land after complaining to comrades that he felt ill. Next-of-kin have been notified and his name will be released shortly.

Advise Gypsies To Move Along

For the past two or three days a caravan of gypsies has been visiting this district and today the nomads are camped near the Auburn mill property where they have pitched four tents.

The outfit travel around Ontario in four cars and the men are copper workers who secure work repairing boilers and vats in cheese factories and other similar jobs, according to the "queen" of the band.

Police visited the camp this morning and issued a warning to the gypsies. The latter declared that as soon as one of their cars was repaired they were going to leave town. They were not pressed by the men in blue to extend their stay here.

Dieppe Prisoner Pays Visit To Old School

An old Confederation school graduate, Grenville Juniper, who was repatriated from a German prisoner-of-war camp two weeks ago, visited Peterborough Wednesday to attend the celebration given for Mrs. T. J. Jackson, retiring principal of the school.

The young soldier, who formerly lived on St. James Street, was wounded in the ankle and side and captured at Dieppe. He spent 22 months as a prisoner-of-war and came home on the Gripsholm recently. Further treatment is necessary and after his leave, he will report back to Christie street hospital for care.

Grenville Juniper left Peterborough and moved to Toronto about 10 years ago. He is a son of Witt Juniper, formerly of C. G. E. toolroom and one-time machine shop operator on King Street.

Two Bail Out

BROCKVILLE, June 29—(CP)—Two airmen from Trenton R.C.A.F. station bailed out of their Harvard trainer plane about three miles northeast of Brockville early today. The men were unhurt. The fliers are reported to have lost their bearings and run out of gasoline. The badly damaged machine was later located about a half mile from where the men bailed out.

Minesweeper Spends Night In Peterborough

The crew of a minesweeper which spent the night in Peterborough at the Lock Bridge, didn't think much of the reception given them in this district by the weatherman Wednesday.

"It was a terrible trip," one member of the crew declared, and the stretch from Lakefield to Peterborough was the worst. We just got through one lock when it was time to go through another. It wasn't an easy job."

After passing the Lock Bridge, the ship docked and crew members, most of them showing severe sunburns, took time out for a swim. The ship was something on a style of a corvette, although it did not appear to be as long.

Like the corvette Peterborough, it did not seem as though the ship could weather the stormy Atlantic weather, but past records of minesweepers show that the stocky little boats can more than hold their own against the elements.

Veteran Printer D. D. C. Dawe Dies Age Of 81

For well over half a century a resident of Peterborough, during which time he was prominently connected with the printing industry, Dexter Delano Calvin Dawe, 479 Gilmour street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday afternoon, in his 82nd year. He had been in poor health for the past year.

Mr. Dawe's association with the printing business in Peterborough began in 1884 when he entered the employment of the Review and for over 22 years with the exception of two years in the State of New York he continued in the employ of the Review until in 1906. During that period he was associated with the late E. J. Toker, John Carnegie and later with the F. H. Dobbin.

When he joined the staff of The Examiner on June 27th, 1906, there were only 18 employees in the establisment and when he left on August 19, 1926 to go into business for himself in the job-printing plant he carried on until the present, the staff of the Examiner had increased five-fold.

During his twenty years' service with the Examiner, Mr. Dawe as business manager and manager of the job-printing department instituted a cost system which proved most satisfactory and was evolved from the major points in seven different systems studied by him before completing his own method.

In his sixty year's residence in Peterborough he enjoyed the friendship and respect not only of the many who associated with him in the printing industry but of citizens generally. His amiable qualities and friendly personality earned him many friends in the community.

D. D. C. Dawe was the son of the late James Dawe, born in England and the late Sarah Robinson, native of Kingston. He was born in Cataraqui near Kingston and was educated in Belleville.

His wife, formerly Cordelia Burns, predeceased him in April, 1938.

Surviving are one son, William Arthur Dawe, of Toronto and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Legassic, living in Montreal. A daughter, Mrs. Wilbert Thornton died in 1935.

Mr. Dawe was a member of Trinity United Church and took a prominent part in church work for many years. He was a member of Royal Arthur Lodge, A. F. and A. M. Corinthian Chapter R. A. M., Moore Preceptory, No. 13 K. R. and Peterborough Lodge of Perfection.

The funeral will be held on Saturday from the funeral home of D. Belleghem and Sons, Hunter street to Little Lake Cemetery. Owing to the illness of Rev. George S. Easton of Trinity Church, the funeral service will be conducted by Rev. F. W. Craik of St. James United Church.

Cavan Soldier Back From Italy

CAVAN, June 29.—(ENS).—Cpl. George Foster, who before enlisting was employed with Ira Gillis on his farm, has arrived in Cavan after having been overseas for almost four years. He saw action in Italy and Sicily, and was wounded twice, the last time early in December when he received a severe head and face wound which confined him to the hospital for several months.

CPL. GEORGE FOSTER

His father and mother, two sisters and four brothers are living in England. Two of his brothers are serving with the army and one brother was drowned, after having been taken a German prisoner when the boat he was travelling on was torpedoed.

Cpl. Foster has a thirty-day leave which he is spending with Mr. and Mrs. Gillis and other friends in this locality.

Aids Refugees

NEW YORK, June 29—(AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, United States Under-Secretary of State, announced last night Great Britain has agreed to establish a new centre for European refugees in Libya. The camp will add to facilities already established by the United States.

FIGHTING IN FRANCE — Sgt. Roy Garrett, of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, is fighting in France, and up till now has not been injured, according to a cable received by his brother, Harry Garrett of Lakefield. He went overseas in July, 1941, and before enlisting he worked on a farm.

Mrs. O. Green Has 2 Sons Now In France

With two sons taking part in the Allied invasion of France, another in training in Canada, and the youngest about to join the navy, Mrs. O. Green, 217 Hunter street says she is a very proud woman.

"I wasn't so keen about my first son joining up," she said, "but now I'm glad they're in the fight, and I'm only hoping they'll all come back together."

Mrs. Green said word came quite suddenly that two of her sons, LAC Max Green, 21, and Pte. Bill Green, 30, were in the thick of the fighting in France. Wednesday, she saw a picture of Max appearing in one of the Toronto papers, with the caption stating he was at Wing Commander Keith Hodson's R. C. A. F. airfield in France. A few days before she received a small army field post card from Pte. Green saying he was well, and would write soon.

LAC Max Green joined the air force in October, 1941, and after taking ground-crew training in Toronto at Manning Pool, and Oshawa, went overseas in June, 1943. When he was only 17 Max joined the Glengarrians Highlanders, and remained with that outfit for almost a year, later transferring to the R. C. A. F. Previous to his enlistment, Max was employed at Curtis Brick Works.

Pte. Bill Green who is a motorcycle dispatch rider with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, enlisted in November, 1942, and after training here, Nova Scotia and Kingston, went overseas in June, 1943. He was employed at Canadian General Electric Company.

Both boys wrote and said they liked England immensely, and often told of going through many air raids there. "They're dreadful," wrote Bill. Ireland was their favorite place to go for leaves, however, and Mrs. Green said it was because they had several cousins living there, who could show them around.

Pte. Reginald Green is presently taking his training at Orillia, Ontario.

Douglas, 17, the youngest son, intends to join the navy soon. He has been with the Sea Cadets in the past, and also done considerable work on lake freighters.

Mrs. Wm. J. Hickey Dies In Hospital

Stricken suddenly Monday afternoon in her home at 213 Simcoe street, Mrs. Beatrice Hickey, beloved wife of William J. Hickey, sales manager of J. J. Duffus Co., passed away Wednesday afternoon at six o'clock in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Born in Peterborough, she was the daughter of one of the city's oldest and best-known families, the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Picard. Educated in Lindsay and at the Couvent de St. Michel de la Chasse, Quebec, Mrs. Hickey was an accomplished musician and artist and did considerable work in oils. She belonged to St. Peter's Cathedral, and was a member of the Catholic Women's League and the Catholic Women's Auxiliary.

She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, William J. Hickey; two sisters, Rev. Sister Marie, Port Arthur, and Mrs. George Pope, Windsor; and two brothers, Euclid of Saginaw and Leo at home. Another brother, the late Major R. E. Picard, was killed in 1917 in the First World War.

The funeral will be held on Saturday at 8:40 a.m. from the J. J. Duffus Funeral Parlors to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Peter's cemetery.

Lindsay Man Finds Plenty Of Strong Drink

Complaints about a liquor shortage in this part of Ontario were knocked right out of the picture by the time Ernest Kelso, Lindsay, got through giving his evidence in police court this morning.

Kelso had been arrested early Wednesday morning on Hunter Street bridge and when he appeared in police court on a drunk charge later in the day he was remanded until this morning for trial.

Today he appeared in the dock with only fragments of his shirt draped around his shoulders and police stated that he had torn the garment. The semi-nude Lindsay man entered a plea of not guilty.

Constable Leo. Murphy testified that he had found Kelso lying on the sidewalk on the Hunter street bridge with his legs hanging over into the roadway and that he was asleep and drunk. Constable Andre Dalton and W. A. Clarke who saw him later in the police station also swore that the accused was drunk.

Kelso went into the witness box and told the court that on Monday afternoon he had five or six glasses of beer in a Lindsay beverage room, had consumed another bottle of beer on the bus while travelling from Lindsay to Peterborough and had had more rounds of beer in Peterborough beverage rooms before the evening meal. Then he said there were more glasses with soldiers and other friends during the evening. Later he encountered some kindred spirits in a restaurant and a "party" was suggested.

Three Crocks

Three bottles of liquor turned up, also two bottles of wine and finally a visit had been made to a bootlegger where half a case of beer was bought.

Kelso said that he found himself on the Hunter street bridge early yesterday morning and that he was very tired because he had no sleep from Sunday night on.

"I can't treat this as an ordinary case of intoxication," said Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in registering a conviction. "This man in his evidence has admitted several infractions of the Liquor Control Act." Kelso was fined $15 and $4.50 costs with the alternative of 15 days in jail.

3,860 Examined At Chest Clinic

More than 3,860 persons have been examined by the two Chest Survey units, that began operating in Peterborough June 19, Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health reported today.

The project, which is sponsored by the Ontario Department of Health, has been widely accepted and approved, Dr. Kelly said, with only a small percentage of people refusing treatment.

The examination helps to detect tuberculosis, silicosis, tumors of the lungs and many other minor afflictions. As yet, none of the persons examined has been found to be suffering from any of the ailments.

"The entire procedure is confidential," Dr. Kelly stated, "and is most certainly not compulsory. There is no charge to the individual, the industry where they work incorporates the cost."

The survey units, which are able to examine more than 100 persons per hour, will examine the employees of all major industries in Peterborough.

Cobourg Rink Captures Duffus Trophy

By HERB MARTIN

With the thermometer showing well over 90, the ladies of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club staged their annual tournament for the J. J. Duffus Trophy yesterday afternoon and evening. To Mrs. J. Harrison and her rink from Cobourg goes the honors of the day, taking the Duffus Cup and first place in the tournament. Mrs. H. R. Martin's Peterborough rink followed closely for second place, with Mrs. Norman Killingbeck, also from Peterborough, a few points below in third place.

Mrs. S. Culbert, of Lindsay, took the high for two wins, while the high one game winner was Mrs. J. Coursey, of Peterborough.

Despite the extreme heat the ladies' tournament went over in a big way. Rinks came from Lindsay, Cobourg, Port Hope and All Saints' club and, together with a goodly number of locals, 24 entries in all made up the tournament.

One game was played before the supper hour and two after. The games were well handled by Fred Brown and were all over in good time. The prizes were well distributed, three staying at home and two to the outside clubs. Congratulations are due the ladies' games committee. They worked hard and long to make this tournament a success. Mrs. R. Hendry, Mrs. T. Doughty, Mrs. H. R. Martin, Mrs. H. Beatty and Mrs. F. Hall were members of the committee.

Over at Cannington on Wednesday afternoon two of five local rinks got in the money. G. Gimblett's rink won third prize and H. Freeman's rink fourth. The rinks were: C. W. Williams, Dr. Long, Judge S. Smoke, G. Gimblett, skip; S. Lowe, J. Fitzpatrick, B. Chesler, H. Freeman, skip.

Two newcomers to track and field competition scored surprises in the regional military games at Woodstock yesterday when Pte. J. O'Connor captured the pole vault with a leap of nine feet eight inches and Pte. W. Knihnicki won the 12-pound shot with 36 feet five inches. In the annual meet of No. 12 basic training centre at Chatham, Pte. J. H. Reynolds of London won the individual championship with 13 points and Pte. J. Couch of Dorchester was second with four points. Lieut. William Green of London Tossed the discus to a new district record of 104 feet two inches. Winners of the regional meets will compete in the district finals at London July 15.

Capt. J. Doug Crashley of Oakville, Ont., captured the all-round title of the Canadian Corps track and field championships in Italy after carrying off the individual title of the Canadian Armored Division last week. Two hundred soldier-athletes competed at the meet.

Louis Lick of the University of Minnesota won the U.S. Intercollegiate golf title at Toledo, O., yesterday with a one-up victory over Johnny Jenswold of Michigan.

Jockey Conn McCreary, suspended for the duration of the Arlington Park meet, yesterday was permitted to ride in the $10,000 Princess Doreen stakes and brought Twilight Tear, Calumet Farm's filly, to victory for her eighth consecutive win.

In a 1,500-metre race at Stockholm yesterday, Arne Andersson took the measure of Gunder Haegg in 3:48.8, this being the first time in two years the Swedish rivals had met. Andersson holds the world record of 3:45 for the distance.

Police Stage Revolver Shoot At Guelph

GUELPH, June 29—Crack marksmen from all parts of Ontario today took part in the seventh annual revolver competitions of the Guelph and Ontario Police Associations on the Arkell Range of the Guelph Police Department.

Closest shooting was in the Ontario police individual match which was won by A. V. Irwin, Windsor, who scored a single point win over the perennial champion of Guelph matches, Sgt. D. H. Darby of the Ontario Provincial Police, Hamilton. In third position was R. Wood, St. Catharines. In the deliberate firing, Irwin tallied a six-point lead on his nearest competitor and in the rapid firing was five points behind him.

St. Catharines City Police captured the team award in the Ontario Association event and the Guelph Police Association match with an entry composed of W. Watson, R. Wood and B. Hammett with a total score of 592 points as compared to 574 chalked up by a Provincial Police team composed of Sgt. D. H. Darby, Constables J. Rowe and T. Fulton.

In the tyro competition for the Provincial Association, R. Reid, Toronto, was first with 185 points. Two Fore Erie men, D. Day and T. Matthews, were second and third, respectively. Insp. R. Dunn, London, won the senior officers' match.

Individual laurels in the Guelph Police Association shoot went to Walter Leslie, Fort Erie, with 341 points. Second place was occupied by A. V. Irwin, Windsor, with 308 points, and third by R. S. Spencer, Toronto, with 297 points.

Inspector Robert Gill of the Guelph Police Department was awarded the Alex Forbes Trophy, open to police officers in Wellington and Waterloo Counties, while the Nash Trophy, given to the first tyro in the Guelph match, went to D. Day, Fort Erie. G. Agnew, Toronto, was second, and T. Matthews, third.

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP). — One of the past's greatest long-distance runners, Alfred Shrubb, was in a reminiscent mood in Bowmanville, Ont., the other day. In a speech at a testimonial dinner he recalled some of the outstanding episodes of his career.

Shrubb started out with the London, England, Harriers, later moving to France, Australia, New Zealand and the U.S. to run down the best those countries could put against him. He trimmed Tom Longboat twice, but the Canadian Indian downed him in a 20-miler at Toronto later.

He was so much ahead of most other runners of his day that the promoters used to match him against relay teams of three, four or five runners. And he usually came home first. Then they started matching him against horses, and he ran some of them ragged in distance races.

The only kind of horse Alf did not like to stack up against was a doctor's steed. That animal was just too tough, because it was used to trotting phenomenal distances while the country medico made his rounds. But a milk or bread wagon horse was easy prey.

Incidentally:

Schoolboy Bobby Nisher of Toronto can't be blamed if he swaggers a bit in front of his pal. The 15-year-old jockey performed a not-often-seen trick of riding his first mount to a win at Montreal's Blue Bonnets Track.....The Vancouver hayride is all the rage now. Because of transportation difficulties, race-goers will have to travel to the suburban tracks by all sorts of horse-drawn vehicles. It'll look like a scene from "Westward Ho." ....Johnny Lifford, old man river of the boxing game in Saint John, N.B., is still winning fights. Johnny, now an Army corporal, decisioned Montreal's Ralph Walton again the other night.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP). — What's this story that the Phillies are wooing Bucky Harris again because Freddie Fitzsimmons is squabbling with his players?...If anybody cares, there's a wrestling "war" on in Los Angeles...Promoter Walter Miller, who has leased the Olympic Arena, says he won't deal with booking offices and that there'll be no biting, gouging, slugging or tossing-out of the ring. And if that's true, there'll probably be no attendance...Minneapolis report is that Mike Kelley, one of the founders of the American Association, won't field a team next year if the war continues...Although Babe Didrickson Zaharias inquired several months ago about becoming a tennis amateur, she failed to file an application which wouldn't be acted upon for a year anyway.

Irish Intelligence:

Pat Filley, the '43 captain, likely will be back to lead the Notre Dame next fall unless the operation he underwent last week fixes up his trick knees so that the armed forces will accept him. Pat recently was handed a medical discharge from the Marines...Bob Kelly, a good runner and the only capable receiver of Gasparella's passes, only will be available for five games...McKeever really is "high" on the Gasparella kid, who is 6 feet 4, weighs 205 and won't be 18 until next February.

DAD loves a salad...

WITH HOT SOUP FOR A STARTER!

Is there a hard-working man with a lively appetite in your family? Serve delicious Campbell's Chicken Noodle Soup and just watch him sail into the meal! Men love the honest chicken goodness of Campbell's that comes from using plump chickens simmered ever so slowly to bring out the deep, rich flavor of the golden broth.

That's the way chicken noodle was made in the old days—and the way Campbell's make it today, adding tender pieces of chicken and plenty of good egg noodles for every bowlful.

Yes, Campbell's Chicken Noodle Soup is a hearty favorite with the men folks and a tempting treat for the rest of the family, too. That's why so many women build light summer meals around this substantial "starter." You can fix it in a jiffy—and it adds just the satisfying nourishment you need in cold lunches and suppers.

Enjoy it at the very next meal. Your grocer has plenty in stock. Look for the familiar Red-and-White Label.

RCAF Band Aids Concert For Marmora Legion

MARMORA, June 29.—(ENS). — The new military march, "The Hasty P's," composed by Lt.-Col. A. V. Yates, M.C., of Deloro, O.C. of the Hastings and Prince Edward Reserve Battalion, was played for the second time in public Wednesday evening at Marmora Town Hall, the occasion being a band concert by the R.C.A.F. Band of Trenton. Through kind permission of Group Captain A. D. Bell Irving, M.C. this band gave its concert to aid the cigarette fund of Marmora branch No. 237 Canadian Legion.

Following the playing of the composition, Lt.-Col. A. V. Yates explained that incorporated in the march is the bungle call of the battalion to whom it is dedicated, which are notes of "Sussex by the Sea," the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment having affiliations with the Royal Sussex Regiment.

Music lovers from the district braved the sweltering heat to enjoy the concert. L.A.W. Dorothy Kenton, of Orillia, delighted the audience with four songs in a sweet soprano voice, with L.A.C. Ivan Stumph as her accompanist. Cornet solos were played by Sergt. Alex. Davidson. Under Bandmaster W.O.-2 E. Hancock, the band presented a successful performance. W.O.-1 J. Silver was announcer.

During the intermission the drawing took place for the $50 Victory Bond, with James Gardenier, of Marmora, being the winner. After the concert the band, with the other R.C.A.F. visitors, were served refreshments in the Council chamber by the local Legion, under President T. E. Pritchard.

The program was as follows: March, "Thunderer"; overture, "The Student Price"; waltz, "Blue Danube"; vocal, "I Couldn't Sleep a Wink Last Night," by L.A.W. Dorothy Kenton; rhumba, "Tropical"; popular, "So Nice To Come Home To"; cornet solos, "I Hear You Calling Me," "The Sunshine of Your Smile," Sergt. Alex. Davidson; Fantasy Rhythmoods; march, "The Hasty P's"; overture, "The Merry Widow"; vocal, "This is a Lovely Way to Spend an Evening" and "Say a Prayer for the Boys Over There," by L.A.W. Dorothy Kenton; popular, "The Song Is You"; patrol, "Something About a Soldier"; Interlude Caravan, featuring L.A.C. Earl Gaetz; tango, "La Paloma"; march, "The Victory Polka"; hymn, "Abide With Me."

Pests Menacing Western Crops

OTTAWA, June 29 — (CP). — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports the "general promising outlook" for crops in the Prairie Provinces was maintained during last week.

While there was still need of rain in some sections of Southern Alberta, in extreme Western Saskatchewan and here and there in other parts of Saskatchewan, most parts of the grain belt would welcome a spell of sunshine and warmer weather.

Early varieties of wheat and the coarse grains are heading out in a number of districts, while a large part of the wheat crop is in the shotblade.

Oil-bearing seed crops are "very promising" in Southern Manitoba, with flaxseed showing heavy growth in the Morden area and equally promising around Neepawa and Woodnorth. The hay crop appears to be generally light, but clover is a heavy crop, and some alfalfa now is being cut.

Browning rootrot of wheat is noticeable on the Regina plains and around Indian Head in Saskatchewan, while grasshoppers are doing some damage in the Fox Valley area of Saskatchewan. Cutworms have done some damage in Alberta, but grasshoppers have been a minor source of damage there, while the sawfly flight has been delayed by cool weather.

OIL IN PERFUMES.
Castor oil now is used in the production of perfumes.

Crown Charges Gas Advertisement Was Distorted

TORONTO, June 29—Full-page advertisements published by the Joy Oil Company relevant to gasoline black market operations in Canada presented a distorted picture of the situation, thus tending to undermine public confidence in the gasoline rationing regulations. Special Prosecutor J. C. McRuer thus summarized in court yesterday the basis of the prosecution against the Joy Oil Co. and its president, Mrs. Margaret Austin, charged with a breach of the Defence of Canada Regulations.

From a full-page advertisement headed "An Appeal to the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King to Stop the Gas Black Market," the Crown has selected as the basis of its case a reference to consumption of gasoline per motor vehicles in the pre-rationing and post-rationing periods of 1941 and 1942.

Objection is also taken to statements under the heading "Black Market Sales Est'd 300,000,000 Gallons Yearly." The paragraph in question asserts that "the average Canadian citizen comes to the conclusion that the Coupon System of Gasoline Rationing is a gigantic hoax, being perpetrated on the Canadian public."

Cottrelle To Testify

Federal Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle, who was present in court, will be called as a witness today by Defense Counse George Bagwell.

In unsuccessful argument for a non-suit, following the presentation of the Crown's case, Mr. Bagwell contended the advertisement was an act of criticism in good faith of the present rationing system based on distribution of coupons.

"If a company or individual is to be prohibited from criticizing the Oil Controller and the operations of his department, we might as well close up business," Mr. Bagwell declared.

The advertisement published by the Joy Oil Company outlining black market activities and prosecutions undertaken against black market gasoline operators would be helpful rather than detrimental to the war effort, Mr. Bagwell maintained.

Asserting that the Joy Oil Company had urged the adoption of the quota system for the distribution of gasoline, Mr. Bagwell declared:

"Just because our suggestion doesn't appeal to the Oil Controller is no reason why we should have our mouths shut by criminal prosecution."

In rejecting the appeal for nonsuit, Magistrate Pritchard held the Crown had established a prima facie case to the effect that the statements made might be prejudicial to the efficient prosecution of the war.

Under the protection of the court requested by J. L. McLennan, counsel for the Globe Printing Co., Miss Agnes McCullough, secretary to the advertising manager of The Globe and Mail, testified that the copy for the advertisement had been brought in by Mrs. Austin.

Pyjama Case Finally Ends

MELBOURNE, June 29 — (CP). —Australia's sensational "pyjama girl" case closed yesterday with the conviction of Antonio Agostini, an Italian waiter, on a manslaughter charge for the death of his wife Linda.

Almost 10 years elapsed between the death of Linda and the manslaughter verdict. The court reserved sentence.

Agostini, former manager of a Fascist newspaper and former internee, was acquitted of a murder charge.

He said his wife, in an intoxicated condition, threatened to shoot him and when he grabbed the revolver from her it discharged and she was killed. He acknowledged disposal of the body.

Result of Fall.

The court trial was based mainly on medical evidence. The defence claimed wounds on the woman's head were the result of a fall after death while Agostini was carrying the body down a steep stairway.

Prosecution medical witnesses testified the head wounds caused death and were inflicted prior to the bullet wound.

The case, one of the most celebrated in Australian criminal law, arose out of the finding of the body of a young woman under a culvert near Albury, N.S.W., September 1, 1934. The body, partly burned, was clothed in pyjamas.

Police kept the body in a formalin bath pending identification, made only in March of this year.

20,000 Coming

WINNIPEG, June 29.— (CP). — Maj.-Gen. B. W. Browne of Ottawa, assistant national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, said in an interview here yesterday flow of British dependents of Canadian soldiers from the United Kingdom to Canada, temporarily frozen because of the invasion, will shortly be resumed. He estimated there are about 20,000 more wives and children of Canadian soldiers to come to Canada.

CWL Entertains At Garden Tea In Cameron Home

A refreshing breeze alleviated the pressure of the heat, at the home of Mrs. John Cameron, Weller street, Wednesday afternoon, as tables were set in the shade on the spacious lawns for a garden tea, sponsored by the St. Peter's sub-division of the Catholic Women's League. The garden made an ideal setting for the daintily decorated tables, and could be seen to advantage by the guests while they were being served.

Receiving the guests were Miss Lillian Hurley, president of the League, and Mrs. John Cameron, the hostess. Tea was served from a lovely table set with green cloth, and centred with a bouquet of roses in silver and crystal bowl. Flanking the bouquet were two silver bowls, filled with rose sweet peas, the rose tints of the centrepiece and sweet peas contrasting beautifully with the green cloth. Silver services were placed at either end, and pouring tea were Mrs. F. R. McNulty, Mrs. Joseph Galvin, Mrs. Marrocco, and Mrs. J. R. Corkery.

Mrs. A. E. Cauley had the convenership of the tea table, with Mrs. F. J. Hickey and Mrs. J. E. Sullivan as members of the committee. Those who assisted by serving were Mrs. H. Hickey, Mrs. J. McCarney, Mrs. J. Rutherford, Mrs. R. J. McGrath, Miss C. McCarthy and Mrs. W. J. Young.

Several attractive tables were set up with novelties, flowers, and home-cooking for sale, as well as chances on a cake, a lucky prize, and a complete breakfast. Mrs. D. J. Emery was convener for the white elephant and flower tables, assisted by Mrs. R. Macdonald, Mrs. T. J. Carroll and Miss Joan Lynch. Convener for home-cooking table was Mrs. John Cameron, assisted by Mrs. D. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. G. Bard, and Jackie Cameron.

Mrs. J. Burke was in charge of the draw on the cake, assisted by Miss T. McNamara and Miss Agnes Grant, and Miss A. Simons was in charge of tickets for the lucky prize. Mrs. E. Riley was treasurer for the afternoon. Winner of the lucky prize was Mrs. A. D. Foley. Miss Mary McDonald was the lucky winner of the cake draw, while Mrs. P. J. Burke won the complete breakfast.

Mrs. T. J. Jackson Honored By Confederation School

The lawn of Confederation School was the setting for an impressive ceremony Wednesday evening, when Mrs. T. J. Jackson, retiring principal of Confederation School, was presented with several gifts on behalf of friends, fellow teachers, Home and School Association, and parents and pupils.

The gifts, a gold wrist watch, a sterling silver dresser set, and a Royal Doulton figure were presented by Wren Gwen Doleman and Miss Ethel Garbutt. Ernest Horton, one of Mrs. Jackson's first entrance pupils at S. S. No. 2., North Monaghan, read the address. Flower girls were Gale and Skippy Wood. Mrs. Jackson will be teaching at King Edward School in the fall.

The first part of the program took place in the school, where a large number of guests gathered for the unveiling of the honor holl of the school by Rev. E. C. Moore, of St. George's church, who also offered a prayer. Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, of Murray Street church, where Mrs. Jackson is a member, briefly addressed the gathering, and paid tribute to Mrs. Jackson's fine work and interest, during her principalship. Arthur Pitchford, a former trustee, also gave a short address. Musical selections offered included two solos, "Come to the Fair", and "Sundown", by Mrs. James Goldie, accompanied by William Potter; a solo, "Song of Songs", by Walter Farr, accompanied by Norman Hurrle; and a guitar solo by Miss Mildred Anderson.

Mrs. Jackson paid tribute to the members of the staff, the Home and School Association, and the Board of Trustees and the pupils themselves, for their cooperation. Following the presentation, a social hour was spent, with the combined Home and School Associations of May's and Confederation Schools serving refreshments. Among the former pupils present Wednesday evening was Grenville Juniper, a Dieppe casualty and a prisoner of war, who has just returned from overseas. W. Bannon was chairman.

The pupils of Confederation School also presented Mrs. Jackson with a Waterman pen and pencil set, as a token of remembrance.

Lt. R. MacLaren Weds Mary T. LaPlante

Sacred Heart Church, decorated with pink peonies and rose buds, was the setting for a pretty wedding, when Mary Therese de LaPlante, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward de LaPlante, became the bride of Lieut. Royle John MacLaren, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacLaren, of Winnipeg. Capt. F. Grant officiated. John Armstrong was at the organ, and accompanied Mrs. D. Campanero as she sang "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white chiffon, with a fitted bodice with shirred yoke, finished at the back, from neck to waist, with small self-covered buttons, and long full sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of white net was in heart shape, and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Rita de LaPlante, in floor-length powder blue chiffon, with insertions of matching lace at the neckline and waist. She wore a blue straw hat with matching shoulder-length veil, and carried a bouquet of Briarcliffe roses.

Sgt. Carl Garskey, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Gordon and Gerard de LaPlante, brothers of the bride.

After the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Empress Hotel, where the bride's mother received the guests in a gown of turquoise blue, with a navy taffeta hat, and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, who also received, was gowned in printed yellow sheer, with a black hat, and a red rose corsage.

For a wedding trip to Montreal, the bride chose a two-piece suit of blue printed silk jersey, with white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. On their return, Lieut. MacLaren and Mrs. MacLaren will make their home in Cornwall, where the groom is stationed.

SERVING OVERSEAS — A soldier's daughter, Lieut. Betty Matheson R.C.A.M.C., is serving overseas. She is the only daughter of Postmaster H. T. Matheson and Mrs. Matheson, Havelock. Her father was wounded at Vimy Ridge in 1917. Lieut. Matheson is a graduate of Nicholls Hospital and enlisted this year.

Local people who were in Peterborough this week included Mr. and Mrs. V. Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. C. McColl, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lean, Mrs. Arthur Earnshaw, Jewel Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. A. Blakeley, Mrs. F. McFadden, Wallie Reynolds, Russell Woodbec, Mrs. Ross Reynolds, Don Newberry Mrs. Percy Prouty, Mrs. Claire Reid.

There are only six candidates writing entrance examinations here. They are Francis Prouty and Rice Woodbec from Owenbrook, Ruby Reynolds, Lasswade; Russell Elliott, Tucker's School, and Doreen Martin, Rose Island.

GIVEN PROMOTION — Rita O'Toole, daughter of Mrs. Catherine O'Toole, 20 Aylmer Street, has been promoted to Sergeant. She is with the C.W.A.C. in ordnance work, Toronto, having enlisted in April, 1942.

COLLIE ADOPTS BUNNY—While Butch (the collie) supervises, Mrs. Edward Roller feeds Bunny milk from an eye-dropper. The young rabbit was picked up after heavy rain had washed it from its nest, and was immediately adopted by Butch, who permits it to sleep in his warm fur and will scarcely let the rabbit out of his sight. Mrs. Roller, who lives in the town of Mequon, near Milwaukee, feeds the little one every two hours. It is growing rapidly.

LOVE THIEVES ACTIVE IN WAR
Working With Married Men in Big Factories Affords Chance to Snare Victims.

Among girls there has always been a type of man-hunter that specializes in married men. No adolescent college boy for her. No unattached bachelor No widower ready to blunder into any sort of a trap. Bringing down one of these is like shooting ducks on the ground. It takes something with the spice of danger in it to arouse her sporting blood, and so she goes in for taking other women's husbands away from them, and gets a kick out of seeing the deserted wives writhe in helpless jealousy as they pit their faded charms against her youth and beauty.

All of us have known conscienceless and heartless girls whose pathways are strewn with wrecked homes but never before have there been so many of them, or their work so devastating as it is now. For the war has given them their opportunity. It has opened up to them a new game preserve that has been practically untouched and in which the hunting is so good that even an amateur can make her kill.

Heretofore the average married man has been safe. He has spent his days working among other men and his evenings in the bosom of his family. The only women with whom he was thrown in contact were his wife's friends, who were no more glamorous or seductive than she, and so if he craved adventure he had to go out and hunt for it, which he seldom did because his feet hurt him.

Men Vulnerable to Helpers' Flattery

Then came the war, and these thousands of men had their protection stripped from them. They were put to work in huge factories with thousands of pretty young women who were out to get their men and who knew how to do it. And the men were singularly vulnerable. It has been a long time since their wives had wasted any flattery on them, or told them how handsome and fascinating they were, and how wonderful it was that they could manage that big machine, and when the cute little helpers or the blonde they worked next to, applied the old true and tried technique, it worked as usual.

The sharpshooter had brought down her game. The husband spent his money on giving Sweetums a good time instead of paying off the mortgage, and there was another brokenhearted, deserted wife.

These predatory girls, whose tribe has so increased, defend themselves by saying that most of the single men are in the service and that they can't sit at home and suck their thumbs of an evening. They have to have some fun. They have to have some man to take them out and give them good times. And if there is nobody to do it but married men, well it has to be the husbands and fathers. Goodness knows, they are not responsible for war conditions.

Which is but a lame excuse for wrongdoing, but love thieves are no more considerate of their victims than horse thieves. What they want they take with ruthless hands. But in the end they pay for it, for no woman ever yet built a house of happiness for herself on the ruins of another woman's home.

Of Interest to Women

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

The latest in dress materials is the sheer, either plain or printed. A dress of sheer gives you that well-bred, great-lady appearance. They are worn on any occasion, in the afternoon, or in evening. The printed sheer takes first place in the fashion world this summer. They are shown in either one-piece style, or in suit effect, and are trimmed with pockets of self material, or they may have plain collars, the same shade as the ground of the sheer. Then there is the new black crepe suit, worn for luncheon, five o'clock, or after six occasions. This suit is a charming style, so smart yet not conspicuous. For dining or dancing slip off the jacket and show the sleeveless blouse of either dutsy pink or ice blue, with the low neckline, and you will have a two-tone frock. When you wear the jacket, the colored blouse does not show, so add color by wearing a bouquet of flowers the shade of the blouse or as near as possible, or, place a colored handkerchief in the pocket. For street wear, wear a smart felt beret well forward over the brow, and gloves the shade of the flower you are wearing. The hat is worn either in black or in the shade of blouse but mostly in black. This makes a very charming ensemble.

Sparkling with color are the new summer dresses made of the soft rayon, voile, gingham or print. These are show in both large and small patterns and in either one-piece or the two-piece jacket style. With these are worn large sailor hats in white straw or in tan shades. Hats must be wide of brim to keep up to date this summer. All this summer's fashions are smarter than ever, and while we have fewer styles than usual to choose from, we still have a good selection The new mesh frocks, either plain or flowered, are so good looking and cleverly styled. These dresses are devoid of trimmind except for fancy pockets and the new shoulder cap sleeve all tailored in self material. Every kind of cotton is in the limelight, butcher linens, tropicanas, piques, in either stripes or plain pastels.

WHET THE FLAVOUR!

QUESTION: There is a little bake shop in our town that sells orange muffins. We like them so well, I buy too many and they keep my budget unbalanced. I think the time that it takes me to walk back and forth purchasing them could be spent making them at home, and a great saving effected. Try and hunt out your best orange muffin recipe and I will be very grateful. I still make the sultana pound cake you gave me years ago.—Margaret Kemp.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: I love giving you this because it won a prize.

Orange Muffins.

One-quarter cup butter, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1⅔ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup orange juice, grated rind 1 orange. Cream the butter and sugar very well together, then add the egg and beat well; add milk and orange juice and rind, then flour which has been sifted with the baking powder. Bake in well-buttered muffin tins at 375 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes. This batter will keep several hours before baking. A few sultana raisins or chopped candied cherries make a nice addition to this dish.

◇ ◇ ◇

QUESTION: I am sending you a recipe that is very useful to me. It is a Noodle Ring that can be used for creamed mixtures such as chicken, chipped beef, salmon or shrimps. It makes these choice dishes go further, and the texture of it is so perfect you enjoy it as an extender.

Noodle Ring Custard.

One lb. noodles, 3 eggs, 1 cup milk, ½ tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, dash of salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons catsup, 1 cup grated cheese. Cook the noodles in plenty of salted water and drain. Beat eggs well. Combine with other ingredients. Add to noodles and pour into buttered ring mould. Set in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven of 350 deg. Fahr. for about 45 minutes. Unmould carefully on large platter and fill the centre with any savory creamed mixture—chicken with peas and pimiento being my favorite. (Contributed by Lexie Smith).

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: My part in this suggestion is the detailed method of making a good creamed chicken: to 2 cups good rich cream sauce add 2 cups diced cold cooked chicken, 1 tablespoon each chopped green pepper, parsley, pimiento—nice additions also are chopped hard cooked egg and sauteed mushrooms, and new green peas. Heat sauce with chicken and whatever vegetables you choose, and just before time to serve pour it over 2 beaten egg yolks, and reheat for about 2 minutes. Serve in above noodle ring or on toast or patty shells and garnish with parsley.

◇ ◇ ◇

QUESTION: Instructions for making iced coffee would be very much appreciated some time when you have the space.—Margret.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER:

Iced Coffee.

Prepare strong coffee (3 tablespoons coffee to 1 cup boiling water). Fill tall tumblers full of cracked ice or ice cubes. Pour over them the boiling hot coffee. Add cream and sugar as desired.

Another way is to chill freshly made coffee well covered, in the refrigerator in glass or enamel or porcelain container. When ready to serve pour over 1 or 2 ice cubes in tall glass and add cream and sugar to taste. Whipped cream may be used in place of pouring cream.

A SCARF WITH A TASSEL—As long as winds and coiffures blow there will be new scarfs to defeat the zephyrs. Here is a new summer scarf which exhibits a smart bulkiness while keeping cool. Your chunky material scarf is always easier to arrange than your sheerest model; this coarse stitched, tasseled model practically arranges itself.

When Company Drops In On Nice Summer Sunday

By MARY MOORE.

To keep your patience when treasured friends write from 200 miles south of the border saying they are coming next Sunday, but "don't have roast beef or lamb or chicken because we've recently discovered they aggravate John's asthma"; and we had a ham last week-end—what do you do? Serve them an omelette?

Oh no! Not when there are Gaspe salmon to be had. Thank goodness or Mr. Ilsley there's a price ceiling, for this one cost around two dollars and served ten.

I want to tell you exactly how to execute the lovely picture platter of food that can be built around one large salmon, boiled and hot; or what's better still, boiled and cold.

Hot Boiled Salmon Platter With Accompaniments and Garnish.

First catch your salmon—about a 5-lb. one—and then you'll know it's fresh. Then wrap it in cheesecloth or parchment paper and place on platter or trivet of roaster and place in roaster. Pour inside enough boiled water to cover. Add 2 tablespoons salt and 1 tablespoon vinegar, cover and boil 35 to 40 minutes, testing by inserting sharp point of knife at back bone of thickest part of fish—it is opaque when done and will separate from bones. Lift the water on platter or trivet, and unwrap, but do not slip cloth from beneath it—use it when it drains to lift fish to serving platter without breaking.

Garnish with hot potatoes cut into 1-inch cubes before boiling and sprinkled with finely chopped parsley, asparagus tips banded with strips of pimiento and pass Hollandaise or Mock Hollandaise (if you save your butter ration for 2 days you can have Hollandaise, but who will?), so here's how to make

Mock Hollandaise Sauce
(For Fish and Vegetables)

Two tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 or 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt. Melt the butter, stir in the flour, and when blended stir in the milk until thick. Remove from heat and add the salt and yolks stirring fast, then the lemon juice. Serve at once. To make this sauce more elaborate finely chopped parsley, drained pimiento and peppers chopped may be added.

Cold Boiled Salmon Platter and Accompaniments and Garnish

See method above for boiling salmon and proceed up to point where salmon is boiled and draining. After draining chill on platter on which it is to be served—removing the skin very carefully. Put genuine thick mayonnaise in pastry tube and run a ribbon of mayonnaise over entire length of fish and sprinkle it with paprika. Place mounds of potato salad on either side of the fish; between individual sized mounds of potato salad place wedges of hard cooked eggs, tomatoes and lemons. Garnish generously with watercress. Pass mayonnaise. Gherkins, pearl onions, and olives are a nice addition to the platter.

Orange Torte.

(I am giving you this because I know you can get oranges and because it is better if made the day before needed). One-quarter cup melted butter, 1¼ cups sugar, 2 eggs, ¼ teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons

For Friday, June 30.

A day of definite progress and achievement is foreseen with abundant increase and expansion all along the line of human aspiration and satisfaction. There may be strongly solidifying and stabilizing influence on the affairs, with concrete and enduring gain in real possessions, finance, credit, and other tangible resources. These should be husbanded for future security and manipulation, by hard work, initiative, perseverance and sound judgment. Co-operate with public or corporation influences, with originality and innovation and there may be surprising returns.

Those whose birthday it is should take advantage of the excellent opportunities of this year for placing their future, its foundations and enjoyments on a firm, enduring and pleasant basis. This may be in both business and private life. Both may be assured auspices of unusual future significance, with promise of abundant expansion, growth, advancement, and preferment, while the tangible assets are under signs of gain through investments, real estate, unusual production with enterprise, initiative and concrete aggressiveness under unusual stimuli. Well-organized work and persistence, with good judgment, should win the support of influential institutions and bring generous rewards for merit. Personalities may also be due for exceptional expansion and emotional gratification.

A child born on this day may be bounteously endowed for an efficient, gracious career, with substantial popularity, and many tokens of appreciation and good fortune. It may gain by its own thrift and diligence.

"Gentle All-Bran keeps me regular"
"You bet I think ALL-BRAN is helpful for constipation. It sure helped me. You see I'd been dosing myself for years with many kinds of purgatives which helped only briefly. But eating ALL-BRAN keeps me free of that. Now I'm regular as a clock — and I like ALL-BRAN a lot."

Here's all you do, if your constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, and drink plenty of water. This wholesome cereal helps to produce smooth-working "bulk", and prepare wastes for easy elimination. So, to stay regular, eat ALL-BRAN daily, as a cereal or in several ALL-BRAN muffins. Remember, ALL-BRAN is a cereal—not a medicine. Get it at your grocer's. 2 handy sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

IN MEMORIAM

MEIN—In loving memory of our Dear Mother, Mrs. George Mein, who passed away on June 29th, 1941.

Dear Mother you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

—Sadly missed by sons and daughters.

MATTHEWS—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Elizabeth Matthews, who passed away June 29, 1941.

Upright and just in all her ways,
Faithful and true to the end of her days,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.

—Ever remembered by Husband and Daughter Florence.

Scott, Johnston Dominate Tennis Opener

The Quaker tennis league got off to a brilliant start on Wednesday evening when the Scott and Johnston teams broke even with three wins each.

The lady players stole the show with a flashing display that drew plenty of applause from the gallery. The feature match was the first ladies' doubles in which Eleanor Patte and Mary McPherson outlasted Ruth Johnstone and Nancy Stuart by a narrow margin. All four are long drivers and the play was fast and well sustained.

The play of the men was spotty, ranging from brilliance to sloppiness. The best match was the first men's doubles in which Scott and Jones defeated Elmslie and Patte in three sets. Jones was very steady in making the openings for Scott, and the veteran put away enough of them to take the verdict.

The following are the results, the first mentioned players being those of the "A" team in each case.

Scott and Jones defeated Elmslie and Patte 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Wilson and Lettner lost to Wright and Johnston 0-6, 5-7.

Margaret Skitch and Vera Johnston lost to Bryar Sedgewick and Maurice Sopha 3-6. 1-6.

Nancy Stuart and Ruth Johnstone lost to Eleanor Patte and Mary McPherson 2-6, 12-14.

Vera Welsh and Grace Caddy defeated Jean Jack and Agnes Dixon 6-1, 6-4.

Leo Copp and Eva Copp won the mixed doubles by default.

The next match will be on Saturday, July 8th between the Johnston and Blair teams.

Lawyers Claim

hoped it would be taken up after the war.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he thought one of the sections being amended presented an anomaly. It provided a maximum penalty of life imprisonment for theft from the mails. The amendment was to remove the minimum penalty of three years' imprisonment and permit the courts to impose shorter sentences.

Mr. Diefenbaker and some others contended there was no balance between a maximum penalty of life and a minimum of possibly a few days.

Mr. St. Laurent said it was possible to conceive cases of mail theft—such as the mail robberies of earlier times in the light of which the section was probably framed originally—which would call for a life sentence while the removal of a dollar bill from a letter would call for a light sentence.

He saw no point in dropping the life sentence maximum unless the whole code was revised as there were many other instances where maximum penalties were out of line with modern conditions.

After giving the code amendments third reading the House spent an hour on Fisheries Department estimates and then adjourned to start the budget debate today with Hon. Earl Rowe (P.C.-Dufferin-Simcoe) leading off as chief opposition financial critic.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
34—The Squeeze Plays

NO TYPE of play is less understood among pretty fair players than what experts call the "squeeze." Perhaps the plural should be used, for there are several kinds of squeeze plays. Basically, they are alike, in that they squeeze an opponent into making a costly discard. What they really do is make him choose between different discards, one of which would be just as costly as another.

To make clear the structure of two basic squeezes, let's give examples which reduce them to their simplest elements. The position at the left is usually called a "forward squeeze" and that on the right the "backward squeeze":

        ♠K                     x
        ♥AJ                   ♥AJ
♠A    (Small           (Small       ♥KQ
♥KQ    cards)           cards)      ♣A
        ♥2                    ♥2
        ♦8                    ♦8
         x                    ♣K
```

In the case at the left, West is the opponent who is squeezed, East's cards being inconsequential. In the case at the right, this is reversed. In each diagram, the "x" means some card of no consequence.

Suppose, in either case, that South leads the last diamond, the 8. In the first case, West must discard something. If he tosses off the spade A, the dummy's K becomes good, so the heart J is discarded from the dummy. If West instead discards the heart Q, the spade is thrown from dummy and the two hearts are good.

In the right-hand case, when the diamond 8 is led, the inconsequential card marked "x" is played from the dummy, and now East must discard. If he throws off the club A, South scores next the club K and then leads to the heart A. If East discards a heart, South leads to the heart A and then scores the J.

Notice this difference between the two types of squeezes. The first one will work only against the opponent who plays first. If you held the cards shown and the strong opposing hand was in the East, you would have to discard from the dummy before he did, and your play would be wrecked by your own discard. The right-hand one, however, the "backward squeeze" will work, no matter where the strong player sits, as after you discard the inconsequential card from dummy, you will have all of your important cards left. That play should be made oftener than the other, because it squeezes either opponent, but is not, because it is less understood.

Now notice what is considered a very complex play, but is really only a combination of the other two, the double squeeze:

            ♠K
            ♥A3
             N
♠A         W   E         ♥J 10
♥KQ          S           ♣A
            ♥2
            ♦8
            ♣K

When the diamond is led here, West must keep his spade, as he is the only one who can guard against the spade K. So he discards a heart. Now the spade K is thrown from the dummy, and it is East's turn. Notice that South now has him in the same backward squeeze as before. Whatever he does is wrong.

If you transpose the East and West hands, this play won't work, because the dummy's discard would come before the one by the player holding the spade A. In other words, to have a double squeeze position, the "single threat cards" must be in the position where they play after the one guarding against them.

Learn the general pattern of these three plays, and you will have a big advantage over most fair players on the occasions when a chance is presented to use them. There are endless variations, including cards of much smaller denomination. But they all require several main elements: 1. A card on which the victim cannot follow suit, but must discard. 2. An entry suit into the opposite hand, containing the highest card of it still out. 3. A threat card of a third suit.

Tirpitz Attacker Killed In Accident

OTTAWA, June 29—(CP)—Lt.-Cmdr. Digby Bill Cosh, 26, of Ottawa, who received the Distinguished Service Cross for "good service" in attacking the German Battleship Tirpitz as she lay at anchor in Alten Fjord, Norway, in April has been killed in a flying accident in England, the navy announced yesterday.

Cosh, a Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm pilot, led a squadron of "Hellcat" fighter planes which scarred the Tirpitz with machine gun fire and smoothed the way for the following bombers. Lieut H. R. (Hank) Wilson, of Orillia, Ont., flew with him during the attack.

Lt.-Cmdr. Cosh received mention in dispatches May 30, the day on which his award of the D.S.C. was announced. He was previously awarded mention in dispatches for his conduct during heavy air raids on Plymouth and Davenport, Eng., in April, 1941.

Red Cross Asked Make Post-War Survey

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP) — Each of the 460 Red Cross branches in Ontario is being asked to consider what work it will do after the war, it was announced to-day. The survey is being carried out by the post-war organization committee of the Ontario Division preparatory to planning for a post-war program.

When the war started in 1939 there were 80 Red Cross branches and the executive committee has expressed the hope that the 390 new branches will carry on when hostilities end.

Norman Evans of Hamilton heads the post-war committee and other members are Bruce Hill, St. Catharines; Mrs. A. C. McKenzie, Beaverton; Alan L. Ambrose, Hamilton.

Flailing Tanks Combating Mines

HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED ARMIES, June 29.—(AP).—The British Army is using flail tanks on the Normandy battlefield to clear paths through the minefields for troops and airmen across the front.

The tank, usually a Sherman, has a steel cylinder to which are attached lengths of chain, several feet long. As the tank moves the cylinder revolves, beating the free ends of the chain against the ground.

The flailing sets off the anti-personnel as well as the anti-tank mines.

This method was used successfully at El Alamein, one tank alone having destroyed 47 mines on one run without damage to itself.

These tanks played a part in clearing the invasion beaches of mines, thus helping the rapid deployment of the troops and saving many lives.

British Women Win Laurels On War Jobs

By MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 29 — CP)—Without the work of British women in war factories, the Second Front could never have been opened, a spokesman for Ernest Bevin, Minister of Labor, stated in London today.

In a report that said all Britain—war workers and men and women in uniform — had been an invasion team, it was pointed out that in some key munition factories more than 85 per cent of the skilled workers were women.

Of all single women in the British Isles between 18 and 40 more than 90 per cent are in either war industry, the women's services or civil defence. More than 80 per cent of the married women in the same age group with no children under 14 also do jobs of national importance.

Looking backward, the ministry of labor admitted that it had trembled at the task on mobilizing women but that this branch of its work had caused the least difficulty.

A few months ago, the ministry of labor put British womanfolk to still another test. Britain's hospitals, they knew, would be taxed to the utmost when invasion wounded started to seep back across the Channel.

Women were urgently needed, not as nurses, but for the drab jobs, the potato peeling, floor scrubbing, clothes washing.

Workers couldn't be diverted from other war jobs, the need must be supplied from housewives exempt from mobilization because of their own household duties. The housewives didn't let them down, in three months, 12,580 women joined the scrubbing brush brigade on a part time basis.

Britain, editorially and in the newspaper columns today, expressed admiration for this army of women workers, but one London paper said what women's leaders have been thinking for many months.

Congratulating the women, the editorial continued: "This should be remembered whenever such problems as equal pay for equal work or the employment of marrried women arise. In the last war, women's work gave them the vote.

"In this war the work of women in the services and factories should give them equality with men in the fullest sense, whether they are single or married, parents or not."

INVASION MAKES MORE URGENT THE SAVING OF CIVILIAN GAS!

A Message to Canadian Motorists

THE invasion of Europe has thrown a vast and critical burden upon the petroleum resources of the United Nations.

In the first eight days of the campaign alone Allied aircraft flew 56,000 sorties. Many thousands of oil-burning warships and landing barges are shuttling ceaselessly across the Channel. Tanks, trucks, jeeps, mobile artillery, tractors, ambulances, by the thousands, are in action.

The driving power behind all this activity is petroleum—gasoline and fuels drawn from a dwindling crude oil supply. But—there is only so much oil. If existing supplies are to prove adequate, the most stringent economy of gasoline and fuel oil must be practised here at home.

Canada is able to produce only 15% of her own gas and oil needs. The remainder must be imported from the common pool of the United Nations and the bulk of this is shipped here by tankers. Critical manpower is needed to produce our gasoline and oil. Precious lives and precious ships must be risked to deliver it to our shores.

Invasion, and the difficulties of supply and transportation are not our only problems. Right here in Canada gas and oil are needed in enormous quantities for vital war purposes. The Commonwealth Air Training Plan has consumed as much as 548,000 gallons in a single day. Canada's Navy—expanded since war began from 15 ships to 650—consumes over 2,150,000 gallons every week. Army training, war plant operation, food production, essential trucking—all are huge consumers of gasoline and petroleum products.

Gasoline is ammunition—ammunition of which we have all too little. To waste a gallon of it is a crime against our fighting men.

The "whys" and "wherefores" of the gasoline shortage and the need for rationing of all petroleum products is a long story—a big story, which involves almost astronomical figures—a wide story, covering the whole face of the earth. Some of the facts are military secrets. Some are too technical to be easily explained. But in a series of announcements, of which this is the first, an attempt will be made to show Canadian civilians that the needless use of a single gallon of gasoline robs the common petroleum pool of the Allied Nations and thus lessens the power of our united drive for victory.

U.S. Finland Sever Relations

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER—Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30—(AP).—The United States finally broke off relations with Finland today, declaring that Scandinavian country to be "a puppet of Nazi Germany." After weathering many diplomatic crises during the three years in which Finland and Russia have been at war, the government made the break this morning. A State Department official at 11 a.m. handed to the Finnish Charge d'Affaires, Alexander Thesleff — last remaining Helsinki representative here—his passport and a note from State Secretary Hull giving the reasons for the break.

Mr. Hull stated that the recent infiltration of German troops into Finland "with the consent of the Finnish Government and German infiltration into the councils of the Finnish Government deprived Finland of liberty of action and reduced the government of the republic of Finland to the condition of a puppet or Nazi Germany."

The break marks the end of many efforts over a period of more than two years by the United States government to make peace between Finland and Russia.

Mr. Hull's note reflected the long attitude of friendship on the part of the United States toward Finland, saying that "notwithstanding the esteem in which the American people have held the people of Finland, further relations between the government of the United States and the government of Finland are now impossible."

The note, delivered by George T. Summerlin, special assistant to Mr. Hull, emphasized that the military operations of Finland "have a direct bearing on the success of the Allied effort" to defeat Germany.

The note opened with a quotation of the announcement made by the Finnish government last Tuesday in which it was stated that German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop had been in Helsinki and had given assurance of full military aid to Finland and that complete agreement had been reached between the Finnish government and the German government.

Canada went to war against Finland Dec. 7, 1941, issuing similar declarations against Hungary and Romania the same day. The Dominion's declaration followed similar action by Britain and authorities explained at the time that it was pure coincidence that the declarations came the same day as the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Vienna Area Heavily Pounded Planes Swarming Across France

LONDON, June 30 —(CP) — American bombers from Italy were reported by Berlin to be striking the Vienna area for the second time in 42 hours to-day while task forces of heavy and medium bombers from Britain darkened French skies with attacks supporting the invasion.

Last night R. A. F. heavy bombers —Halifaxes, Wellingtons and Liberators —hammered the Vienna region.

United States heavy bombers from Britain, pressing the Allied Air campaign which has driven the German air force back 100 miles from the French front since D-Day, attacked three air bases in Northern France and another in Belgium.

Medium U. S. bombers and fighters hit railroad and highway junctions and bridges over a wide area of France.

Yugoslovia Raked.

The enemy also reported Italy-based bombers striking Yugoslavia. R. A. F. Wellingtons, Halifaxes, and Liberators bombed the Vienna area last night.

Morning attacks in Normandy stretched from the Caen battlefront, where mediums bombed the Mezidon-Falaise railroad and highway junction, to Tours, 100 miles to the southeast, where five German machine-gun emplacements were knocked out.

Allied fighter-bombers struck transport targets at Arville, east of La Mans, Villefranche, northeast of Beaugency, and in the Orleans area from Vendome to Vierzonville, west of Bourges, no German plane was sighted and all except one U. S. fighter returned.

The night raiders flew from Italian bases and struck an airfield at Feuersbrunn, 30 miles north-west of Vienna.

The German radio asserted that fierce air battles developed over Vienna's suburbs this morning between the U.S. raiders— presumably also operating from Italy—and Nazi fighters.

In northwestern Europe, however, bad weather which has dogged the Allied invasion air forces almost

Chinese Narrow Escape Route

CHUNGKING, June 30 (AP) — Chinese troops on the Salween front have captured Miehchin, thereby narrowing to 64 miles the gap separating them from Lt.-Gen. Stilwell's forces at Myitkyina in Northern Burma, the Chinese High Command announced today.

Other Chinese forces closing in on the Japanese base of Tengchung, about seven miles southeast of Miehchin, have cut all the roads except the one leading to Lungling on the Burma Road, a communique said.

Japanese planes, making their first appearance on the Salween front since the Chinese offensive began May 11, dropped a small quantity of supplies to the beleaguered Japanese at Sunshaw, strong point near the Burma Road bridge over the Salween river.

The Chinese must dislodge the enemy from Sungshaw before they can open any stretch of the Burma Road west of the river.

3 Hun Generals Taken To England

A BRITISH PORT, June 30 — (CP)— Three top-ranking German officers captured at Cherbourg, Generals Schiliben and Stattler and Admiral Hennecke, were brought to England yesterday in a tank-landing ship.

They were given every courtesy on the way over, each having his own cabin and an orderly and freedom of the ward room.

General Schleibn, given a haircut by an American soldier-barber, apologized because he had no money to pay, asked what he should do and wound up signing the soldier's autograph album with a written "thank you."

Admiral Hennecke, who speaks English fairly well, remarked wryly: "I was a prisoner of the British for two years in the last war. Now I am a prisoner of the Americans. Who am I going to be a prisoner of next The Japanese perhaps...."

Eisenhower Thinks Months In Advance To Plan War

AN ADVANCED ALLIED COMMAND POST, June 30 —(AP) — Planning at least 90 days ahead in the campaign for the liberation of Europe, General Eisenhower, Allied Commander-in-Chief, has held an important series of conferences here this week with Prime Minister Churchill, it was disclosed yesterday.

Allied Armies Advance In North Italy

ROME, June 30—(CP).—German troops which had delayed Allied advances in Italy by determined resistance in most sectors within the past few days gave ground yesterday and both the British 8th Army and the Allied 5th Army made substantial advances, it was announced today.

Enemy resistance began cracking under heavy 8th Army pressure and British forces, streaming northward, captured the picturesque Lake Trasimeno town of Castiglione Del Lago, site of a Nazi seaplane base and also of the castle of the knights of Malta.

At the same time German troops on Italy's west coast, breaking off contact, fled northward and American units of the 5th Army, in swift pursuit, reached the vicinity of Cecina, only 20 airline miles south of the port of Livorno (Leghorn).

American armored forces farther inland stabbed to within seven miles of the historic city of Siena, 31 miles south of Florence, and French troops on their right were only 10 miles from the same target.

Huns Lose Heavily.

The new break-through, which appeared to be paving the way for the fastest advance on the widest front since Field Marshal Albert Kesselring managed to slow down the Allied offensive by great sacrifices, was costing the enemy heavily in

Men Deserted Nazi Officers

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Correspondent

ON THE BRITISH FRONT OUTSIDE OF CAEN, June 30.—(AP).—Two German officers who were captured in a bloody battle for a chateau southeast of Cambes today waved white flags "because of our troops ran off and deserted us."

Lieut. J. R. Wilson, of Cornwall, said the Germans "looked like ghosts," their faces white with terror and eyes red gimlet holes from what they described as "three nights and days of hell" when they emerged from a machine-gun nest at the chateau.

"We were under orders to fight to the last bullet and the last man, but our soldiers broke and ran," the Germans told Wilson, "so we decided to surrender. What was the use of dying alone?

"We had nothing hot to eat and had been sitting in a hole in the rain under a terrible shelling 72 hours. It was unbearable, even for the Fuehrer."

The chateau fell late Wednesday after a 12-hour assault by British infantry supported by artillery and Sherman and Churchill tanks.

An elaborate system of underground machine-gun nests 12 feet deep and firing trenches hidden in the woods made the citadel most difficult to capture.

Allied Tanks Carve New Gains

Armored Pincers Tighten Around Caen City

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE June 30 (AP)—Marshal Rommel has brought entirely fresh reserves into Normandy but British troops have hammered a "considerable salient" into enemy lines southwest of Caen, Supreme Headquarters announced tonight.

Advance elements of Lt.-Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's British 2nd Army, thrusting on both sides of Caen, were reported within 11 miles of drawing a circle about that port, the seventh most important in France.

The situation was described by headquarters as "altogether satisfactory."

British infantry and armor is delivering the principal encircling move against Caen from the west and southwest and also from the east but Canadian artillery is providing support to the southwest.

Field dispatches said Rommel's effort to smash the salient between the Odon and Orne Rivers had been a "complete failure." Although a Nazi counter-attack on the British right flank last night drove British forces back more than a mile in the initial stages.

Headquarters said the Germans suffered "very heavy casualties" in these counter-attacks, and field dispatches estimated that two dozen enemy tanks were knocked out or crippled.

From newly-captured Marcelet, on the Caen-Tilly Sur Seulles road, General Montgomery's troops struck due east toward Caen in a thrust that menaced one of the city's main airfields. At last reports troops were half a mile from this field.

In the drive to encircle Caen, forward British elements fought in the Esquay sector, southwest of the city, and in the Troarn area to the east. The fighting around Caen slackened somewhat despite German counter-attacks as British units cleaned up parts of the newly-captured area.

British armor north and east of Esquay where the fighting has flowed back and forth could close on Caen from the rear by joining troops 1 miles away in the Troarn vicinity.

Four roads leading to Caen run through this bottleneck and it is likely all are under some sort of artillery fire from Allied lines.

Rodney's Guns Help

A Navy announcement said the assault around Esquay had support from the big guns of H.M.S. Rodney lying offshore. The battleship's guns have a range of 33,000 yards, fully enough to reach the battle area.

Field Marshal Rommel who now is reported rushing strategic reserves to Normandy, yesterday tried to cut off the main British salient with a heavy counter-attack from the south at Grainville and Bretteville, but his forces were halted by a heavy artillery barrage.

It was not known immediately if the Rodney had taken part in this shelling.

Three smaller attacks were also launched by the Germans near

MOSCOW, June 30 (AP)—Red Army units in force plunged today into the Berezina River northwest of Minsk, while engineers of two Soviet armies hurried pontoons into place for mass crossings of the last natural obstacle before the White Russian capital. Field dispatches said the first units met stiff fire from strong German forces on the west bank and from artillery positions west of the river, but there were no indications the retreating Nazis would be able to make a stand here.

Although the fighting was sharp, the gateway to Minsk appeared open.

Great swarms of Stormoviks, Yaks and medium bombers kept up a round-the-clock aerial offensive against the withering Wehrmacht.

The Russians said 71 Nazi planes were downed in 24 hours.

The biggest crossings were headed by staffs of Gen. Ivan Chernikovsky's 3rd White Russian army and Gen Ivan Bagramian's 1st Baltic Army, all veterans of quick crossings under fire.

Southwest of Minsk the 1st White Russian army of the newly-made Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky was moving rapidly up the valley of the Ptich toward Minsk, cracking an important outer defence line of the city.

More than 500 localities were occupied west of Mogilev by the 2nd White Russian army of Gen. Z. F. Zakyarou. This drive swept across the Drut river in several sectors and captured Belynici, 25 miles west of Mogilev.

Conquest of Bobruisk by the 1st White Russian army of Gen. Konstantin K. Rokossovsky in two days of bloody fighting brought him promotion to a Marshal of the Soviet Union.

Bombers of the Russian northern fleet hit Kirkenes in Northern Norway, sinking three enemy transports totalling 20.000 tons and damaging three others, the Moscow communique said. In addition, another transport en route to Petsamo was reported sunk and 11 German planes shot down.

The communique said 3,000 Finns were killed in one sector of the northern front, and Soviet troops liberated 30,000 civilians held in Finnish concentration camps.

It was reported Red Army units in force were plunging into the river, while engineers of two Soviet armies hurried pontoons into place for mass crossings of the last natural obstacle before the city.

16,000 Huns Killed

Premier Stalin, in announcing last night the fall of Bobruisk—last German stronghold on the "Fatherland Line"— said five German divisions were liquidated there, with 16,000 killed and 16,000 captured. A special Moscow communique said 52,000 Germans were killed and 25,000 captured in the fighting earlier around Vitebsk, making a total of 111,000 killed or captured in those two sectors alone.

Stalin disclosed also the recapture of the Karelian Soviet Republic capital of Petrozavodsk in the Finnish campaign, clearing the last stretch of the Murmansk- Leningrad railway and giving the Russians a line from Murmansk in the far north of the Black Sea port of Odessa.

Russian authorities in London estimated one-third of White Russia had been retaken by the Red Army, and that, apart from the enemy-held Baltic Republics, the enemy now had a foothold in only about

Robot Bombardment Stepped Up Children's Hostel Is Wrecked

LONDON, June 30—(CP).—The Germans intensified their blind bombardment of southern England today with robot aerial torpedoes, killing several dozen persons. The robots were flung across the Channel at frequent intervals during the day. A children's hostel, a hotel, shops, homes and office buildings were hit. The scene at the hostel was a heart-rending one as rescue units of more than 50 men tore at the charred wreckage with shovels and with their hands and children's bodies were recovered one by one.

The first body recovered was that of a baby and then the rescue party unearthed that of a fair-haired girl, dressed as they had been when they were put to bed.

Broken baby carriages, rocking horses, books, small shoes and toys were scattered about over the garden and grounds of the home, to which the children had been removed last March after another hostel had been burned out by incendiary bombs.

Rescue Work Continues.

Total deaths here were not established definitely as the rescue work continued.

U-Boats Took Heavy Toll Within Sight Of Halifax

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, June 30 (CP) — The sea war raged close to this port during the days when the outcome of the Battle of the Atlantic swung in the balance, but it's not generally known just how close it did come.

Looking seaward with the naked eye from a Halifax headland, you could have seen the work of the submarines. For ships were sunk, during that period in 1942 when the subs haunted the Western Atlantic at their thickest, within sight of the Canadian shore.

A British freighter was torpedoed 160 miles offshore to touch off a cycle of sinkings on the fringe of Canada's coastal waters, or actually within them.

One Greek freighter was blown up by torpedoes only 30 miles off this harbor.

But the closest sinking came when a tanker was hit just seven miles beyond the submarine net guarding the mouth of Halifax harbor. Loaded with fuel, the vessel went up in a burst of flames, and only one survivor emerged.

He reached Halifax to tell of swimming through a sea of flames that spread over the water. Lifeboats laden with men were consumed in the inferno, and the lone survivor escaped only because he swam underwater for an almost incredible distance.

In all, in the first two months of 1942, about 10 ships came to grief close to the Nova Scotia shores.

General Schleibn, given a haircut by an American soldier-barber, apologized because he had no money to pay, asked what he should do and wound up signing the soldier's autograph album with a written "thank you."

Admiral Hennecke, who speaks English fairly well, remarked wryly: "I was a prisoner of the British for two years in the last war. Now I am a prisoner of the Americans. Who am I going to be a prisoner of next The Japanese perhaps...."

Eisenhower Thinks Months In Advance To Plan War

AN ADVANCED ALLIED COMMAND POST, June 30 —(AP) — Planning at least 90 days ahead in the campaign for the liberation of Europe, General Eisenhower, Allied Commander-in-Chief, has held an important series of conferences here this week with Prime Minister Churchill, it was disclosed yesterday.

His plans were said to deal with vast schemes for men and materials and even with post-war policies.

The Prime Minister normally meets Eisenhower once weekly, but for these conferences he drove to headquarters, and all [illegible] Front commanders and [illegible] still are in England [illegible] the discussions.

Policies and machinery for military control of Germany also were said to have been discussed in this week's meeting.

At headquarters, Eisenhower outlined the grand strategy of the campaign and initiates the broad programs. Then he approves the details of the plans as produced by his staff.

Ideal Foster Mother

CHICAGO, June 30—(AP). —Mrs. Morris Proger, who has been sharing her home with neglected and dependent children for 22 years, is Chicago's "ideal foster mother." During that period, Mrs. Proger has raised 13 children — five boys and eight girls. Two of the boys are in service. The title was conferred upon her by the United Home-Finding Service.

Allied Armies Advance In North Italy

ROME, June 30—(CP).—German troops which had delayed Allied advances in Italy by determined resistance in most sectors within the past few days gave ground yesterday and both the British 8th Army and the Allied 5th Army made substantial advances, it was announced today.

Enemy resistance began cracking under heavy 8th Army pressure and British forces, streaming northward, captured the picturesque Lake Trasimeno town of Castiglione Del Lago, site of a Nazi seaplane base and also of the castle of the knights of Malta.

At the same time German troops on Italy's west coast, breaking off contact, fled northward and American units of the 5th Army, in swift pursuit, reached the vicinity of Cecina, only 20 airline miles south of the port of Livorno (Leghorn).

American armored forces farther inland stabbed to within seven miles of the historic city of Siena, 31 miles south of Florence, and French troops on their right were only 10 miles from the same target.

Huns Lose Heavily.

The new break-through, which appeared to be paving the way for the fastest advance on the widest front since Field Marshal Albert Kesselring managed to slow down the Allied offensive by great sacrifices, was costing the enemy heavily in

Men Deserted Nazi Officers

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Correspondent

ON THE BRITISH FRONT OUTSIDE OF CAEN, June 30.—(AP).— Two German officers who were captured in a bloody battle for a chateau southeast of Cambes today waved white flags "because of our troops ran off and deserted us."

Lieut. J. R. Wilson, of Cornwall, said the Germans "looked like ghosts," their faces white with terror and eyes red gimlet holes from what they described as "three nights and days of hell" when they emerged from a machine-gun nest at the chateau.

"We were under orders to fight to the last bullet and the last man, but our soldiers broke and ran," the Germans told Wilson, "so we decided to surrender. What was the use of dying alone?

"We had nothing hot to eat and had been sitting in a hole in the rain under a terrible shelling 72 hours. It was unbearable, even for the Fuehrer."

The chateau fell late Wednesday after a 12-hour assault by British infantry supported by artillery and Sherman and Churchill tanks.

An elaborate system of underground machine-gun nests 12 feet deep and firing trenches hidden in the woods made the citadel most difficult to capture.

Armored Pincers Tighten Around Caen City

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE June 30 (AP)—Marshal Rommel has brought entirely fresh reserves into Normandy but British troops have hammered a "considerable salient" into enemy lines southwest of Caen, Supreme Headquarters announced tonight.

Advance elements of Lt.-Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's British 2nd Army, thrusting on both sides of Caen, were reported within 11 miles of drawing a circle about that port, the seventh most important in France.

The situation was described by headquarters as "altogether satisfactory."

British infantry and armor is delivering the principal encircling move against Caen from the west and southwest and also from the east but Canadian artillery is providing support to the southwest.

Field dispatches said Rommel's effort to smash the salient between the Odon and Orne Rivers had been a "complete failure." Although a Nazi counter-attack on the British right flank last night drove British forces back more than a mile in the initial stages.

Headquarters said the Germans suffered "very heavy casualties" in these counter-attacks, and field dispatches estimated that two dozen enemy tanks were knocked out or crippled.

From newly-captured Marcelet, on the Caen-Tilly Sur Seulles road, General Montgomery's troops struck due east toward Caen in a thrust that menaced one of the city's main airfields. At last reports troops were half a mile from this field.

In the drive to encircle Caen, forward British elements fought in the Esquay sector, southwest of the city, and in the Troarn area to the east. The fighting around Caen slackened somewhat despite German counter-attacks as British units cleaned up parts of the newly-captured area.

British armor north and east of Esquay where the fighting has flowed back and forth could close on Caen from the rear by joining troops 1 miles away in the Troarn vicinity.

Four roads leading to Caen run through this bottleneck and it is likely all are under some sort of artillery fire from Allied lines.

Rodney's Guns Help

A Navy announcement said the assault around Esquay had support from the big guns of H.M.S. Rodney lying offshore. The battleship's guns have a range of 33,000 yards, fully enough to reach the battle area.

Field Marshal Rommel who now is reported rushing strategic reserves to Normandy, yesterday tried to cut off the main British salient with a heavy counter-attack from the south at Grainville and Bretteville, but his forces were halted by a heavy artillery barrage.

It was not known immediately if the Rodney had taken part in this shelling.

Three smaller attacks were also launched by the Germans near

MOSCOW, June 30 (AP)—Red Army units in force plunged today into the Berezina River northwest of Minsk, while engineers of two Soviet armies hurried pontoons into place for mass crossings of the last natural obstacle before the White Russian capital. Field dispatches said the first units met stiff fire from strong German forces on the west bank and from artillery positions west of the river, but there were no indications the retreating Nazis would be able to make a stand here.

Although the fighting was sharp, the gateway to Minsk appeared open.

Great swarms of Stormoviks, Yaks and medium bombers kept up a round-the-clock aerial offensive against the withering Wehrmacht.

The Russians said 71 Nazi planes were downed in 24 hours.

The biggest crossings were headed by staffs of Gen. Ivan Chernikovsky's 3rd White Russian army and Gen Ivan Bagramian's 1st Baltic Army, all veterans of quick crossings under fire.

Southwest of Minsk the 1st White Russian army of the newly-made Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky was moving rapidly up the valley of the Ptich toward Minsk, cracking an important outer defence line of the city.

More than 500 localities were occupied west of Mogilev by the 2nd White Russian army of Gen. Z. F. Zakyarou. This drive swept across the Drut river in several sectors and captured Belynici, 25 miles west of Mogilev.

Conquest of Bobruisk by the 1st White Russian army of Gen. Konstantin K. Rokossovsky in two days of bloody fighting brought him promotion to a Marshal of the Soviet Union.

Bombers of the Russian northern fleet hit Kirkenes in Northern Norway, sinking three enemy transports totalling 20,000 tons and damaging three others, the Moscow communique said. In addition, another transport en route to Petsamo was reported sunk and 11 German planes shot down.

The communique said 3,000 Finns were killed in one sector of the northern front, and Soviet troops liberated 30,000 civilians held in Finnish concentration camps.

It was reported Red Army units in force were plunging into the river, while engineers of two Soviet armies hurried pontoons into place for mass crossings of the last natural obstacle before the city.

16,000 Huns Killed

Premier Stalin, in announcing last night the fall of Bobruisk—last German stronghold on the "Fatherland Line"— said five German divisions were liquidated there, with 16,000 killed and 16,000 captured. A special Moscow communique said 52,000 Germans were killed and 25,000 captured in the fighting earlier around Vitebsk, making a total of 111,000 killed or captured in those two sectors alone.

Stalin disclosed also the recapture of the Karelian Soviet Republic capital of Petrozavodsk in the Finnish campaign, clearing the last stretch of the Murmansk- Leningrad railway and giving the Russians a line from Murmansk in the far north of the Black Sea port of Odessa.

Russian authorities in London estimated one-third of White Russia had been retaken by the Red Army, and that, apart from the enemy-held Baltic Republics, the enemy now had a foothold in only about

Robot Bombardment Stepped Up Children's Hostel Is Wrecked

LONDON, June 30—(CP).—The Germans intensified their blind bombardment of southern England today with robot aerial torpedoes, killing several dozen persons. The robots were flung across the Channel at frequent intervals during the day. A children's hostel, a hotel, shops, homes and office buildings were hit. The scene at the hostel was a heart-rending one as rescue units of more than 50 men tore at the charred wreckage with shovels and with their hands and children's bodies were recovered one by one.

The first body recovered was that of a baby and then the rescue party unearthed that of a fair-haired girl, dressed as they had been when they were put to bed.

Broken baby carriages, rocking horses, books, small shoes and toys were scattered about over the garden and grounds of the home, to which the children had been removed last March after another hostel had been burned out by incendiary bombs.

Rescue Work Continues.

Total deaths here were not established definitely as the rescue work continued.

R.A.F. Prisoners Capture Nazi

LONDON, June 30.—(CP Cable). —The power of the Allied bombardment now going on in the Caen area can be attested by the crew of an R.A.F. towplane which, captured on D-Day, had to endure shelling as German prisoners in Calvados Chateau. The crew wound up unhurt and captors of their 60 scared German custodians.

U-Boats Took Heavy Toll Within Sight Of Halifax

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, June 30 (CP) — The sea war raged close to this port during the days when the outcome of the Battle of the Atlantic swung in the balance, but it's not generally known just how close it did come.

Looking seaward with the naked eye from a Halifax headland, you could have seen the work of the submarines. For ships were sunk, during that period in 1942 when the subs haunted the Western Atlantic at their thickest, within sight of the Canadian shore.

A British freighter was torpedoed 160 miles offshore to touch off a cycle of sinkings on the fringe of Canada's coastal waters, or actually within them.

One Greek freighter was blown up by torpedoes only 30 miles off this harbor.

But the closest sinking came when a tanker was hit just seven miles beyond the submarine net guarding the mouth of Halifax harbor. Loaded with fuel, the vessel went up in a burst of flames, and only one survivor emerged.

He reached Halifax to tell of swimming through a sea of flames that spread over the water. Lifeboats laden with men were consumed in the inferno, and the lone survivor escaped only because he swam underwater for an almost incredible distance.

In all, in the first two months of 1942, about 10 ships came to grief close to the Nova Scotia shores.

Six German Generals Been Killed In France

LONDON, June 30.—(CP).—Col.-Gen. Dollman, commander of a German army fighting on the French invasion front, has been killed in action, the Berlin radio reported today. Five other German generals previously have been reported killed in France.

BBC broadcast identified the German general reported to have been killed in a plane crash over Finnish Lapland as Gen. Ferdinand Jodl, brother of Gen. Alfred Jodl, Hitler's personal military adviser.

The reported crash, in which Gen. Eduard Dietl was also said to have perished, has not been confirmed by German or other enemy sources.

Irish Regiment Traps Nazis In Fast Moves

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, June 30 (CP)—Movement, sometimes so fast leading troops caught up with German sappers laying mines, carried the Irish Regiment of Canada 24 miles in little more than a week from the Hitler Line to the heart of the Sacco Valley.

The men of the green bonnet exploited the Hitler Line, breaking through, crossed the Melfa and Liri rivers, pressing on against a stubborn though furtive enemy until relieved, when near the Ceccano-Frosinone Highway. They sent back approximately 200 prisoners and accounted for many German dead.

The Irish went into action May 24 when, supported by Western Canada tanks, they adanced 1,000 yards beyond the Hitler Line. Their casualties were not heavy.

Concentrated Fire

The Melfa River bridgehead, established by reconnaissance tanks and a company from a Western Canada motor battalion, was consolidated by the Irish in face of concentrated shell and mortar and machine-gun fire.

Next move by the Irish was toward Ceprano, the first town beyond the Hitler Line to fall to the Canadians. Mines, sewn in great numbers, were encountered and the advance was slower than in previous days.

Once across the Liri, the battalion was in semi-rest for a day, then moved on to its final objective. Because of mines and demolitions, riflemen sometimes were as much as three miles in front of even their supporting arms.

Cleared Road Mines

The incident of the German mine layers is a good example of this. Major W. W. Reid of Halifax and an artillery officer were a little in advance of the riflemen with Sgt. John Oliver, Mount Albert, Ptes. N. A. Butler, Weston, and Elmo Wilson, Lakeview, clearing the road of mines.

Before long the Canadians had caught up with the mine layers. Major Reid captured one prisoner by threatening to throw a rock at him. There was a brief exchange of fire and seven prisoners were rounded up.

Another incident the Irish recall vividly was a patrol led by Lieut. G. J. Wood of Toronto, then scout officer, into the outskirts of Ceprano. There were five other ranks, including Ptes. Cyril Lusty, W. J. Davidson and D. Crawford of Toronto.

All Bridges Wrecked

It was a recce job, and Wood learned the Germans had blown all the bridges across the Liri, had left snipers and machine gunners behind, but apparently did not intend to fight more than a delaying action. The lieutenant returned to report to his commander, for his wireless set was not operating.

The other ranks heard a vehicle approaching down the highway, which they believed to be in Allied hands. But it was German and two men got out to inspect a road sign. The Irish killed one and the other fled.

The four Canadians climbed into the truck while Crawford returned on foot. The Irish soldiers drove the truck back down the highway, discovering soon they were in German territory.

Bluffing their way along, they drove through a German company marching up the road, waving as they passed the foot soldiers. Luck was not with them, and a tire blew out, so they were taken prisoner. Details were revealed later when Lusty and Davidson escaped.

Juvenile Crime Grows In Ontario

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics said yesterday 53 juveniles per 10,000 of the population of ages 7 to 16 were convicted of breaches of the law during 1943, of whom 33 were convicted of major offences, and 20 of minor offences.

Ontario led all provinces, with a rate of 73 convictions, with British Columbia second with 57. Prince Edward Island followed with 52, Quebec 50, Nova Scotia 49, New Brunswick 49, Manitoba 37, Alberta 32, and Saskatchean 26.

Ontario led the Dominion in convictions of juveniles for major offences, the rate per 10,000 of the juvenile population being 49. New Brunswick was second with 39, followed by Nova Scotia 38, British Columbia 37, Prince Edward Island 31, Manitoba 31, Alberta 25, Quebec 23, and Saskatchewan 22.

Former Grand Trunk R.R. Agent At Campbellford Gets Promotion

TORONTO, June 30. — Staff changes affecting the senior operating officers of the central region, Canadian National Railways were announced today by J. F. Pringle, regional vice-president and general manager, and approved by N. B. Walton, executive vice-president of the Canadian National System. The appointments, which are effective July 1st, are as follows:

John A. Rogers, general superintendent of transportation, central region, to be regional assistant general manager, with headquarters at Toronto.

Oscar Masse, general superintendent, Quebec district, to succeed Mr. Rogers as regional general superintendent of transportation, with headquarters at Toronto.

Robert C. Johnston, general superintendent, Montreal district, to be general superintendent, Southern Ontario district, with headquarters at Toronto, succeeding Geo. A. Stokes, who retires under the Canadian National pension system after many years of faithful and eficient service.

Alfred J. Lomas, superintendent, Toronto terminals to be general superintendent, Montreal district, with headquarters at Montreal.

Frank Griffin, general superintendent, Northern Ontario district, to be general superintendent, Quebec district, with headquarters at Quebec City.

W. E. Robinson, general superintendent of transportation, Atlantic region, to be general superintendent, Northern Ontario district, with headquarters at North Bay.

In making the announcement of John Andrew Rogers to be assistant general manager of the central region, Mr. Pringle pointed out that the region is the largest operating unit on the Canadian National System in point of volume of traffic, with 7,500 miles of operating track which reaches from Riviere du Loup to the head of the Great Lakes. "As a result of this volume of traffic and the extent of its mileage, with its addition to almost 4000 miles of tracks used for yardings and sidings," Mr. Pringle said, "transportion problems continuously arise which call for special studies of both facilities and operations. There are also the changing conditions which inevitably will arise in the post-war years, and in this connection it is essential that a continued search be conducted with a view to improvement in all aspects of railway industry."

J. A. ROGERS

Mr. Rogers is one of the best known senior officers of the Canadian National Railways and has a wide and varied service both in western and eastern Canada. Born at Cayuga Ont., he is a graduate in civil engineering of the Royal Military College, Kingston, and has served as resident engineer at such widely varied points as Northern Ontario, Alberta and Saskatchewan, as well as being superintendent at Prince Albert, Hornepayne, Allandale and Ottawa. In 1942 he was made general superintendent of the Alberta District and subsequently was appointed general superintendent of transportation for the Central Region, at Toronto.

OSCAR MASSE

Oscar Masse, who succeeds J. A. Rogers as regional general superintendent of transportation, also has had a long and successful career with the railways, commencing his service at the turn of the century, at Coteau, Que. He is thoroughly familiar with transportation matters, having served for nine years in the general superintendent of transportation's department, at Toronto, and subsequently as superintendent at Levis and Quebec. He was appointed general superintendent of the Quebec District four years ago.

ROBERT C. JOHNSTON

Robert C. Johnston, who becomes general superintendent, Southern Ontario District following the retirment upon pension of George A. Stokes, has had a long railway career, commencing at Novar, 1906, as station assistant. Subsequently he served as telegraph operator at points upon the Toronto-North Bay line, and, in 1912, was made agent at Campbellford, Ont. Seven years later he became division agent, at Montreal, and in 1926, superintendent of terminals. He was appointed general superintendent, Montreal District, in 1939.

George A. Stokes, retiring general superintendent, is widely known throughout Ontario. Formerly general superintendent, Northern Ontario District, he was appointed to a similar capacity in Southern Ontario in January of last year, but previous to his move to the northern district, he had served in many sections of south-western Ontario in various capacities, such as operator and agent, prior to becoming superintendent of terminals, at Port Huron. In 1918, he was moved to Toronto in the same capacity, and 10 years later became superintendent of the Belleville Divison. In 1938, he was appointed superintendent of the London Division and three years later became general superintendent Northern Ontario District.

Lawson Appointed

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP)—J. Earl Lawson of Toronto, representing the Canadian Red Cross Society, yesterday was appointed provisional chairman of the executive committee, council of Canadian Voluntary Agencies, at a meeting here. The committee will assist the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

3 Years Today Russians Planned Defence

By EDDIE GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 30. — (AP).— Three years ago to-day the State Committee for Defence with Premier Stalin as chairman—the organization which has directed the Soviet Union's heroic fight against the German invader—held its first meeting in the Kremlin.

It was a determined little group of men that stood around a big table in Stalin's office and heard Stalin and Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov, Vice-Commissar of Defence and at that time chief of the Red Army General Staff discuss the weapons to be used against the German army which had conquered Poland and France and over-run other countries of Europe.

In addition to Stalin the committee included Foreign Commissar Myacheslaw M. Molotov, vice-chairman, Klementi Y. Voroshilov, chairman of the Defence committee; G. M. Malenkov, member of the Central committee of the All Union Communist Party; L. P. Beria and N. A. Voznesenki, members of the Soviet of People's Commissars, Mikhail M. Kaganovich, former Commissar of Defence Industries, and Anastas I. Mikoyan, Commissar of Foreign Trade.

This group of Soviet leaders, who had been giving all their energies to building up a young country into a big peacetime nation then turned abruptly to the designing of what the world now knows of the Red army which turned back the German army, then mastered it.

It was the committee which had seen that there has been no fifth column and which has wielded the people together so that the last war loan of 12,000,000,000 rubles was over-subscribed in a single day, then swelled within a few days to 20,323,000,000 rubles.

It has been this committee that directed the war effort which surprised the military experts of nearly every country in the world—especially Germany.

Old Norwood Boy C.C.F. Member

One of the successful C.C.F. candidates in the recent Saskatchewan general election was Warden Burgess who was elected with a plurality of 1,000 votes over his liberal opponent and 3,100 over the Conservative. Mr. Burgess's father, the late James Burgess, came from Norwood and was a brother of the late Wellington Burgess, his mother was formerly Bella Blakley, sister of the late James Blakley.

Born in Norwood, he went west with his parents when a child. The family settled in the Allindale district north of Sintaluta. He has taken a prominent part in co-operative movements and resigned as Wheat Pool Delegate to accept the C.C.F. nomination. He is also a member of the C.C.F. Provincial Council.

don Thring, in peacetime a teacher from Guelph, Ont., had only one revolver and were caught by two German bicycle soldiers as they tried to sneak across a road.

The fliers were taken to a big group of Germans moving inland and bivouaced the first night in the chateau. "Our own mortars got the range of the chateau," Thring related. "The shelling got hotter as it got dark."

The Germans moved everybody, including the R.A.F. fliers, into trenches, remarking, "Excuse please, British soldier," every time they crowded by the trench. "It got crazier and crazier," said Thring.

Nightmare Night

During the night a stable where the fliers had been held went up in flames. "All in all, it was a pretty terrible night," said Thring.

The Germans finally got so frightened they wanted a Scottish R.A.F. flier to go out with one of their soldiers carrying a white flag. Thring's men insisted the Germans should surrender to them.

Finally, the German commandant tacked a white flag on the chateau wall in acknowledgement of submission.

Then the job was for Thring and the others to find reinforcements. They found a French peasant who located a British soldier who went out and brought back an entire patrol.

Soldier Guilty On 3 Counts

Pte. Leonard Charles St. Charles, 20 year old member of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, pleaded guilty to three charges before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning.

On a charge of stealing $15 from another soldier at the camp St. Charles was remanded until next Wednesday for sentence and the same procedure was followed on a second count of having in his possession a false certificate of discharge from the Canadian Army.

On the third charge of having two beer permits the soldier was fined $20 and $2.50 costs.

Provincial Constable Price Morris in giving evidence in the theft charges said that the offence occurred around 2 o'clock in the morning. A wallet containing $15 had been stolen and had been hidden under the steps of the camp hospital. The stolen money had been recovered, the officer stated.

"I had been drinking pretty heavily," Pte. St. Charles told the court.

In regard to the false discharge found in his possession the soldier said that some time ago he had been a member of a fatigue party cleaning up an orderly room and they had found some discharge blanks. "We filled them in more in the nature of a joke," he said.

Still another smashed small shops and a home with accompanying fatalities.

Six persons were killed in another incident.

Britain's well-trained rescue and relief units went to work with the efficiency they displayed in the German bomb-blitz period of 1940-41. While workers dug in the smoking ruins of the children's home firemen stood by and played water on the wreckage so fires could not break out to hamper the rescue.

Women of a volunteer air detachment and ambulance workers were quickly on the scene and set up an improvised hospital ward and supplied injured victims and relief parties with warm drinks.

There was less fighting directly before Caen than there had been in recent days, but British raiders attacked Breville in the Orne sector.

Not Confirmed.

To-day's communique No. 49 made no reference to a report broadcast early to-day by the German-controlled Paris radio which said British and Canadian troops had landed at the mouth of the Orne estuary and seized the port of Cabourg, 13 miles northeast of Caen.

As far as was indicated by official reports and recent front dispatches, the present offensive is an all-British effort except for support from Canadian artillery units. The Canadian-held sector of the front remained quiet.

On the American sector Lt.-Gen. Bradley's troops made a series of small attacks towards St. Lo to straighten their lines while other units beat down dwindling resistance on Cap-De La Hague after being regrouped with special units.

German resistance also was waning in the Beaumont Hague area but American infantry was closing in only after heavy artillery and aerial softening of the Nazis' positions.

The series of forts along the Cherbourg breakwater now are in Allied hands. The last surrendered when a medium bomber swooped in at less than 6,000 feet and cloaked it with high explosives.

Outside of the use of fighter planes, the Contentin peninsula was the only battle area where the Allies bombarded by air, because of low-lying clouds.

U.S. Battleships Bombard Guam

PEARL HARBOR, June 30 — (AP)—After crushing the last organized Japanese resistance on the south half of Saipan, American troops battled north step by step today while enemy broadcasts hinted of new American battleship attacks of Guam, Tinian and Rota.

Seven hundred miles southwest of the Marianas invasion scene, General MacArthur's bombers supported the Saipan operation by dealing the Japanese air base of Yap its fifth blow in a week during which more than 50 Jap planes have been destroyed or damaged.

In Washington, the Navy department said more than 12,000 Japanese planes have been destroyed — better than one every two hours—by American airmen since Pearl Harbor was attacked. American losses were 2,726 planes.

On Saipan, a pocket of Japanese which had been holding out on the southeast tip since the invasion began June 14 was overwhelmed Tuesday, Admiral Nimitz announced in a communique Thursday.

Envelope Garapan

Six miles up the west coast, cautious patrols probed deeper into shell-shattered Garapan, administrative centre of the Marianas. In the mountainous centre of the island, other small gains were made.

The Berlin radio last night broadcast a Tokyo dispatch saying Japanese naval planes attacked American fleet units, which included battleships, off Guam, Tinian and Rota Thursday. Those Marianas Islands, each with enemy air bases, have been raided by carrier planes and shelled by warships since Saipan was invaded.

The Tokyo dispatch was not confirmed by official reports but the Thursday communique listed a knockout blow to the north of Saipan against Pagan Island. Returning fliers reported the island's air base had been bombed out.

The Tokyo radio said today 170 planes raided the Japanese-held islands of Guam and Rota in the southern Marianas yesterday.

By sea and air, Allied units maintained heavy pressure against shipping lanes and airstrips still used by the Japanese in the New Guinea area.

Air patrols and light naval units destroyed 16 Nipponese barges and damaged four near by-passed Wewak, British New Guinea, Tuesday night.

Fuel Officer Checks Problems Of Dealers

Peterborough wood dealers anticipating the vexatious wartime problem of getting their supplies for next winter met on Thursday morning with W. H. Thorburn, Ontario regional officer, wood fuel division, from Ottawa, to have clarified various facts of the complicated purchasing procedure now in effect for retailers of wood fuel. Mr. Thorburn was brought to the city by Alderman Glover, chairman of the City Commission on Fuels, at the insistance of the local firms, representatives of all of which attended the meeting.

It has been said that some dealers have not been getting the satisfaction in the matter of subsidies which they expected originally and that difficulties had been experienced in making out the forms. Mr. Thorburn explained for the meeting the manner in which dealers are able to purchase their wood and the way in which bonuses are to be paid so that they can get in their supplies, and generally clarified the rules and regulations at present governing the wood fuel business.

Two Trucks Damaged In Warsaw Collision

WARSAW, June 30.— (ENS). — Two trucks collided on the Rock road about half a mile east of Warsaw this afternoon at 1.30. The drivers were uninjured, but the left wheels and steering gear of their trucks were badly damaged. One machine was driven by George Webster of Warsaw, and Mr. Holmes, of Peterborough, was driving a truck loaded with logs. Provincial Officer Price Morris, of Peterborough, investigated the accident and estimated the damage at $200.

Allies Dislodge Jap Remnants

KANDY, Ceylon, June 30 (CP)—Allied troops, strongly supported in the air, are continuing the task of dislodging scattered Japanese remnants still clinging to positions east of the Kohima-Imphal road in the northeastern India frontier region, Allied Headquarters announced today.

Across the border in northern Burma, meanwhile, the bulletin said, Chinese troops participating in the siege of Myitkyina have penetrated further into the southern part of the city, which is being bitterly defended by the Japanese.

Southwest of Mogaung, some 35 miles west of Myitkyina, other Chinese forces were reported advancing along the main railway leading to Mandalay.

Reverberations of German demolitions of bridges and other structures were heard as the Americans streamed up Highway 1 along the west coast toward Livorno and Pisa.

Infantrymen found the little town of Bibbona, five miles southeast of Cecina, cleared of the enemy, and by yesterday afternoon they swept on to within 1,500 yards of Cecina. Only scattered fire was encountered and it appeared likely that the Americans today were far beyond the point and well on the way to Livorno, a major port which will undoubtedly prove of immense value in supplying future operations.

On the important lateral road inland the Americans wiped out large numbers of enemy snipers in the village of Monteverdi

Farther inland tanks reached a point two miles south of Castelnuovo, advanced a mile northeast of Radicondoli and reached a point 14 miles due west of Siena.

The French captured the villages of Frosini and Poggio Siena Vecchia, on high ground commanding Highway 73 into Siena. Other French forces farther east reached the outskirts of Buonconvento, a road centre on the east bank of the Arbia River, in a six-mile advance The villages of Pampana and Murlo also were taken.

In a general advance west of Lake Trasimeno the 8th Army swept through the villages of Nardelle and Pozzuolo. Without opposition it captured Laviano and mopped up Cassamaggiore.

A little to the west, Aquaviva was taken. After a brush with Nazi rearguards Chianciano was captured and advance troops entered the town of Montepulciano.

East of Lake Trasimeno 8th Army patrols thrust to the vicinity of Magione. North of Perugia troops passed Pitonico and Paterno, and now are confronted with the river Chiascio. This stream is 100 to 150 feet wide with steep banks, but can be forded in places.

The British 78th division which won fame in mountain fighting in Tunisia and Sicily, rejoined the 8th army at the beginning of the current offensive and played a big role in the advance of some 270 miles from where it began the assault on the Gustav Line.

Bombs Ruin Vehicles.

German efforts to re-equip battered armies in Italy suffered a major blow yesterday when light and fighter-bombers destroyed the bulk of a shipment of about 600 motor vehicles, numerous tanks and supplies of gasoline.

since D-Day, closed in again, and for the second time in a week the night passed with no sizeable operations reported over the Continent.

British fighter-bombers yesterday evening attacked an enemy tanker escorted by a minesweeper in the Bay of Biscay. The tanker was left smoking furiously and the minesweeper was hit, the Air Ministry announced It said British aircraft also laid mines in enemy waters last night. No planes were missing from these operations.

British-based American 9th Air Force craft topped off an active day yesterday, considering the weather, by attacking the Germans' reinforcement lines between Rouen and the Normandy battle front.

They also extended the campaign against railroad facilities to the area south of Orleans, with a blow at the Vierzon-Ville yards 30 miles further inland.

Fighters and fighter-bombers of the R.A.F.'s tactical air force, which yesterday hit a new peak of activity with 1,100 sorties, attacked more railroad junctions and bridges behind the German lines.

The total aerial score for yesterday was 55 German planes shot down with 25 Allied planes lost.

Cattle Trade Slackens; Prices Down 25

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP) — Cattle trade was slow this week on the Livestock Market here with prices down about 25 cents cwt. on steers and heifers and 60 to 75c on cows. Veal calves held steady. Hogs held the 10 cent gain made last week. Lambs were 50 cents lower and sheep were steady

The heavy cattle run included both stall and grass fed cattle of mixed quality. Weighty steers sold at $11.50 to $13.15. Butcher steers were $10 to $12.25 and heifers mostly $11.90 down. Butcher cows were $7.50 to $9.50 and canners and cutters from $5 to $9.50. Bulls ranged from $7 to $9.50. A few good stockers sold early up to $11.75, but the plainer kinds were draggy and sold from $7.50 to $10.50. Milkers and springers sold from $85 to $150.

Veal calves were $13 to $14 for choice, with common to medium $7 to $12.50.

Choice spring lambs, off car, sold at $16 cwt. and delivered by truck at $15.50. Yearlings sold from $8 to $13. Sheep were $3 to $6 cwt.

Hogs were at $17.65 to $17.75 for grade A dressed and at $17.25 to $17.35 for Grade B1. Sows sold at $13 dressed.

Enemy Admits Break-Through

LONDON, June 30 — (CP). — The German communique announced to-day a British break-through near beleaguered Caen and American gains in the St. Lo area at the base of the Cherbourg Peninsula. The Germans asserted most Allied gains were liquidated in the counter-attacks.

The enemy communique said "tremendous" Allied efforts continued to cut Caen off from its supply line and capture it from the south-west.

It added, "using extremely large forces of artillery and aircraft the enemy was at first able to widen his breach in bitter fighting, but a strong German counter-attack struck his flank and a large part of the lost ground was recaptured."

$12 Fine Imposed For Reckless Driving

As the result of a recent accident on Charlotte street, Kenneth Foottit pleaded guilty before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in police court this morning to a charge of careless driving.

The charge arose out of a collision between the car driven by Foottit and another car driven by Ralph McDermid at the intersection of Charlotte street and Maitland avenue. After the crash the car driven by Foottit mounted the curb and skidded on to a lawn. It was damaged considerably.

The police report indicated speed on the part of Foottit but in court today he said that he was only driving 25 miles an hour at the time of the collision.

Magistrate Langley imposed a fine of $12.50 and $2.50 costs.

Ernest Kelso, Lindsay, charged with vagrancy, pleaded guilty and was given two days in jail. "Couldn't you make that two years", asked Kelso who appeared in court this morning nude from the waist up. He is to be taken back to Lindsay tomorrow.

Circus Feature At Annual C.G.E. Picnic

More than 10,000 people are expected to attend the annual employees' picnic of the Canadian General Electric Company and Genelco, to be held Monday at Nicholls Oval. A giant circus will be the headliner attraction, and delicious refreshments, races of all kinds for all ages, and prizes galore comprise the program.

The grounds will be open at 10 a.m. and from that time until midnight the emphasis will be on fun and frolic. Races are time-tabled to begin at 1.15 p.m., and the lucky draws will start to pick out the lucky ones at 2 p.m. Among the prizes will be a C.G.E. refrigerator for one of the employees, and also a C.G.E. washing machine, which will be won by some lucky employee's wife. Volley-ball, horseshoes, bait-castings and other events fillout the sporting schedule.

Trained Elephants

A professional circus, which has been playing Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto recently, will be on hand to dispense liberal portions of regular "big-top" acts, including trained elephants, one of which, "Judy," is said to be the only elephant in the world who has mastered the trick of walking a 4-inch plank, and make a complete turn while on the plank. Performing dogs and military ponies will do their best, and two aerialists will be on hand to cut capers on the high trapeze. Fifi, the children's favorite in clowns, is the only actor able to return to the picnic this year. Last year, Fifi made a great hit with the youngsters. The Cycling Kirks, Australia's gift to trick bicycle riding, use every conceivable type of bike in their act. And Len Sellers, who has reached perfection in the art of balancing, will do many tricks on the wire, and to make it more exciting, the wire will be moving at all times.

Starting at 12 noon the bus lines will operate a ten-minute service from George street south, George street north, Byersville and Jackson's Park, direct to Nicholls Oval. This service will continue until 3.30 p.m.

PRESUMED DEAD—WO.-2 Carl Norman Hurl of Young's Point, son of Mr. and Mrs Norman Hurl, Toronto, is now reported "presumed dead." The young airman was listed missing in October, 1943, after completing 12 operational flights. A sister, Mrs. Victor Brown, lives at Burleigh Falls.

15 A.R.P. Police Suggested As Auxiliaries

It has been suggested that 15 A.R.P. Auxiliary policemen remain organized as an auxiliary branch to the city police force to function at the direction of Acting Chief J. Thompson, in a resolution to the Police Commission prepared by members of the Finance Committee of the City Council, Thursday night.

A delegation representing the 15 appeared before the committee. Constable Andre Dalton headed the group which included Fred Marshall and Sgt. Sage and Shaw. Acting as spokesman, Constable Dalton outlined the work done by 40 members since the beginning of the war and said that some of them felt they would like to carry on in an auxiliary capacity. He added that the Police Chief had expressed his willingness to carry on such an arrangement. The policeman also explained that the men were accustomed to attending the lectures given to the regular force.

Before the delegation arrived, Mayor James Hamilton told the Aldermen that he felt the auxiliary policemen were only seeking an invitation to go on operating because they didn't want to break up. They were not asking for any financial help, he declared.

Alderman Dutton asked if they were sure that 15 men would be enough and Constable Dalton said that Chief Thompson had signified that it would.

"What arrangements would be made if the men were called on an emergency during their working hours?" Alderman Herbert Bradburn asked.

Status Clarified

"That is one thing we would like straightened out," Andre Dalton said. "We would like the same status as auxiliary firemen in case of injury or being called from work."

"I think it is a mighty nice idea for the men to volunteer their services. It is a wonderful thing for the city to have 15 extra partially-trained men who can be called out at a moment's notice," Alderman T. Mark asserted.

Alderman Bradburn and R. Glover moved the resolution that a recommendation be forwarded to the police commission that the A. R. P. policemen be kept on in an auxiliary capacity. The City Council will provide insurance to cover any man who is injured while on duty and will pay any man for time lost if called out from work.

No Work On Sewers.

A deputation from North Monaghan Township Council, made up of W. Grady and Harold Cassan appeared before the finance committee, with a request for help in building a sewer on Brioux avenue. If they undertake it on their own, they explained that the property owners would be charged heavily. In view of the fact that they will be part of the city within six months, they wanted to have the city assume part of the cost.

The Finance committee listened sympathetically but said since they were doing no such improvements within the city this year because of a severe labor shortage, they could not very well do it in this area. The Monaghan representatives, said that they were prepared to supply the labor, but that was only one of the difficulties.

Request Turned Down.

"I don't see how the Corporation of Peterborough can assume an obligation for the Township of North Monaghan, Mayor Hamilton declared. There is a special legal procedure and we just can't follow it."

It was moved by the Mayor and Alderman Dutton that the City Council inform the North Monaghan Council that they would be unable to accede to their request about financing any public works until after January 1, 1945, when annexation takes place.

Must Buy License.

The Finance Committee declared war on dog owners who have not purchased licensese for their pets. Chairman William Ovens reported that only 533 licenses had been purchased and there are 3,000 dogs listed in the records. Dissatisfaction at the way in which the dog catcher was operating also was evidenced. The Council pays $25 a week to the Humane Society to help pay for the work done by the dog catcher. Aldermen alleged that the man was only investigating direct complaints and not going out and checking on the licenses from lists available and prosecuting where the law was not being obeyed.

Alderman Dutton pointed out that with 3,000 dogs in the city and licenses collected at $2 and $5, it meant a considerable sum of money and it was poor business to ignore it.

The committee felt that it was not fair of the Humane Society to cut off their money without giving them chance to explain and perhaps correcting the fault. So it was moved by Alderman Dutton and Bradburn that representatives of the Humane Society be asked to come and discuss the matter with the City Council, July 4.

Want Supervision.

Permission was accorded the Board of Health to advertise for a supervisors of nurses for the public health department, after members again reviewed the report submitted by Dr. R. Kelly M. O. H., at the last Council meeting.

It was emphasized by Alderman Dutton that the work carried on by the Public Health staff was of great importance and they simply could not cope with conditions at the present time. He warned that if they were not prepared to pay, they would not get qualified nurses.

Some of the committee said that they were not really acquainted with the work of the Board of Health and therefore could not understand the urgency of the situation. Mayor Hamilton agreed that he could understand their viewpoint and said that he felt if it were fully explained to them by Dr. Kelly, they would appreciate the job they are doing. In addition to 300 or 400 visits a month, the nurses handle the Well Baby Clinic, chest clinic and other cases. Alderman Glover said it was one of the most important departments in the city's organization.

"I suggest we have Dr. Kelly come and talk to us when we can take plenty of time and really let our hair down," Mayor Hamilton said and on a motion by Alderman Glover and Bradburn, the Board of Health was authorized to advertise for a supervisor.

An invitation from the Lions Club asking the Council to be present at 10:30 a.m., July 3, when the wading pool at Riverside is officially opened, was accepted on a motion by Dutton and Mark. The aldermen praised the job which has been done by the Lions Club.

A new ruling sent out by the Unemployment Insurance Commission which left the committee in some doubt as to its specific meaning was left aside and the mayor and Alderman Dutton were appointed to go and see the Selective Service officer.

To Make Survey

A report from the Workmen's Compensation Board listing rates or new insurance coverage was studied, and it was decided to ask Thomas Lister, C.G.E. safety engineer, to make a survey covering city employees. Alderman Dutton expressed the opinion that it was a good idea and should have been introduced long ago.

A communication from the lacrosse group in the city, which was referred back to the finance committee by the Council about 10 days ago, was dealt with. A committee which investigated the grounds recommended that the street frontage be levelled off and a $100 donation to be made for repairing the box, when they have an organized club.

It was said that they thought the money well expended when it would keep 48 children off the street.

The Board of Works, under the chairmanship of James Dutton, met for a few minutes following the finance committee. A request or work on a sidewalk from Mrs. T. Anthony, Kent street, was refused because no such work is being undertaken this year. But it is to be put on the petition file for next year. Applications received for building inspector are to be considered by a committee of Aldermen F. Curtis, M. Swanston and Dutton, and a recommendation made to the Council.

11,499 Recruits Enlist In 3 Months

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP)—Active army recruiting for March, April and May reached an estimated total of 11,499 or 501 under the 12,000 quota for the three months, it can be deduced on a return tabled yesterday in the Commons.

The information was contained in a reply by Defence Minister Ralston to a question from John Diefenbaker (P.C.—Lake Centre). Col. Ralston told the Commons in February the army needed 4,000 active army recruits a month.

The total for March was 3,397 which included 389 home draft army men who volunteered for active service. The April total was 4,302 and it included 1,429 men from the home army. The May total was estimated at 3,800 including 700 from the home army.

Indications are that the June figures may go above the quota. Last Tuesday Defence Headquarters announced a "definite upswing" in recruiting with the intake for the week ended June 17 totalling 1,769—highest for the year.

An official statement said that the Allied invasion "coming at a time when an intensive recruiting effort was initiated" was a factor in the increase.

From Home Army

A Defence Headquarters spokesman, commenting on recruiting figures for April, said "a good number" of the general service men from the home army had volunteered after Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, M.C., chief of the Pacific command, launched a recruiting drive among units stationed in British Columbia.

Tuesday's figures showed that of the 1,769 volunteers, 975 were from the home army, 707 from the public and 87 from the reserve army.

An army statement issued with the figures said:

"The need for recruits to fill the growing requirements of the Canadian Army overseas is being stressed in the new recruiting drive and it is anticipated that the inital successes of Canadian troops in France will spur voluntary enlistments considerably."

There is usually a seasonal slackening off in recruits at this time of year, but this sometimes is made up by a surplus of manpower built up during the other seasons.

An army spokesman recently said that the drain in army strength, caused by invasion casualties, was taken into consideration when the 4,000 a month estimate on army intake was made.

Yesterday's return for Mr. Diefenbaker showed that an estimated 5,390 men were drafted for military service during March, April and May. In the same period 15,745 were discharged from the active and home army.

Sailor Handed Down Suspended Sentence

COBOURG, June 30 —(ENS)— Charged with being absent without leave, contrary to the Canada Shipping Act, Stanley Crawford of Fort Erie, car ferry employee on Ontario No. 1, pleaded guilty in police court Thursday. The complainant, Captain W. Bryson, informed the court that he was not proceeding with the case, so Magistrate R. B. Baxter allowed the accused on suspended sentence for six month.

Charged with theft of a cheque from Leslie Pratt of Brighton township, George Bryant of the same township was remanded for a week when he appeared in court Thursday. He was arrested recently in Oshawa for Provincial Constable A. W. MacLeod of Cobourg.

Harold La Rouche of Gonquieve, Que., was remanded for another week on a charge of refusing to produce his registration certificate. Roland La Belle of Kanogani, Que., was rmeanded for a week also on a charge of committing an indecent act in a public place.

North Bay Man Held For Murder

NORTH BAY, June 30.—(CP). — Bernard Lentz, 37, was arrested last night at his home here on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Gordon Faught on Wednesday morning, June 28. Faught died in the Lentz home as a result of a stab wound near his heart.

Lentz was arraigned this morning before Magistrate M. G. Gould in police court. He was remanded one week at the request of Crown Attorney E. A. Tilley to permit time for further investigation.

At the time of Faught's death, police said they believed the wound was self-inflicted but the charge followed further investigation.

Faught who was 36 years old, had lived at the Lentz home or the last five or six years.

High Grading Robs Dominion

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP) — Hon. W. E. Rowe (PC-Dufferin-Simcoe) said in debate on the budget in the Commons yesterday the Dominion revenue was losing more than $1,000,000 annually from the operations of high-graders."

He suggested steps to encourage mineral development and added that revenue was being lost to the government because the "high-graders' traffic" had not been stopped.

"By operating across provincial boundaries these 'high-graders' are able to elude the vigilance of our provincial police forces, who have tried to restrain this illegal traffic," he said.

"May I suggest that at the forthcoming Dominion-Provincial Conference an agreement be sought whereby jurisdiction over this nefarious practice becomes vested in our Royal Canadian Mounted Police."

Egg Offerings Show Decrease At Toronto

TORONTO, June 30 — During the past few weeks a gradual decrease in the volume of arrivals on the egg market has been apparent. The net difference in the rate of supply on the current market as compared with supplies reaching the city a few weeks ago is considerable. This decrease, however, has failed to cause any material change in the general market trend other than some increase in prices for first-grade receipts. Trading on yesterday's market held firm, with a fairly steady consumer demand being adequately met. Prices to country shippers for top grades advanced ½ to 1 cent, closing on the basis of 35½ to 36 cents for grade A large and 33½ to 34 cents for grade A medium.

Offerings of Ontario receipts on yesterday's butter market were again in appreciable volume. The local consumer demand appears quite spotty and trading in general inclined to be rather draggy. Enquiry for Western receipts has been about sufficient to keep the present slow rate of arrivals moving. Prices held unchanged.

There are still a few odd offerings of white unparaffined cheese, with prices for same holding firm at their previous level.

41 Pigeons In Race

COBOURG, June 30 — (ENS).— Flying the 232-mile course from St. Anne's, Quebec, to Cobourg, forty-one pigeons took part in a race of the Cobourg Pigeon Club. The senior entries finished as follows: G. H. Rawlings 1,163.59, G. Maton 1,132.83, and E. Hie 1,128.30. In the junior section there was one entrant, W. Jamieson, whose best bird flew at the rate of 1,067.25 yards per minute.

Goodrock owns a solid block of 300 acres, lying alongside the proven Ptarmigan Mines—a property controlled and operated by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Limited and on which a 100-ton mill has been set up.

Yellowknife is noted for its high-grade veins. Production from all mines has ranged from $18.00 to $38.50 per ton or better in gold. Already, in the 5-year war period and despite all wartime restrictions, Yellowknife has disclosed six mines which have produced over $14,000,000 in gold. Practically the whole Yellowknife group of properties and interested development companies are registering in market action the high faith which the public is displaying in this new land of rich mineralization.

TELEGRAM from the property (June 12): "Have outcrop 50 feet wide 300 feet long so far well mineralized quartz, slate, greywacke, schist andesite that looks good and should be diamond drilled. Am calling for tenders for 3,000 feet to start with. Am putting on four men to do more stripping on same outcrop. Will keep you posted as work proceeds." C. P. Charlebois.

Rumour In Peterborough

We have often written in these columns about the foolishness of spreading rumours about the war: we should like to say something today about rumours here in our own city, connected with matters which are of the most intimate concern to great numbers of citizens.

* * *

On Wednesday night a rumour went around the city that a local boy had been drowned while swimming at the Sea Cadets' Camp at Gananoque. As the boy's name was not given, and as there are about 140 Peterborough boys at that camp there was the greatest anxiety among parents, and a great many calls were received at this office asking for further news. The Examiner investigated the matter and found that there was not a scrap of truth in it. How did the story begin? Was it invented by someone who had nothing better to do? Was it the result of a misunderstanding? We do not know. But we do know that it caused a great deal of unnecessary alarm and that a great many people worked eagerly to spread the bad news. They would have shown more sense if they had nailed the rumour by demanding to know where the information came from.

* * *

Last week a local clergyman visited a lady of his congregation to tell her that her son had been wounded in France. Two or three days later a telephone call was received at his house, which was represented as coming from one of the telegraph companies, saying that the young man was dead. The clergyman got in touch with the telegraph companies later to verify the message, and found that they had not received it, and had not called him. The message was a hoax. Imagine what the feelings of the mother would have been if the hoax had succeeded! Imagine the distress and humiliation of the clergyman if he had trustingly carried this false news to her! What sadistic wretch sent that message, and why did he do it? We do not know, but we venture to express a hope that all clergymen who have to carry bad news will make sure that they are not the innocent instruments of a cruel deception.

* * *

It is very easy to spike a rumour. It is only necessary to say, Who told you so? and to go on saying it until the strength or the weakness of the tale begins to appear. But too many people are pitiably eager to hear and pass on bad news; it gives them a pleasureable sense of being 'in the know'; it gives them a gloating satisfaction to play Chorus to a tragedy, whether the tragedy is genuine or merely imaginary. It is a pity that anyone should suffer an hour's misery because a rumour is being passed around by foolish people, and we hope that those who are not foolish will greet rumours with firm and sceptical enquiry.

Hurrah For a Wedding!

Last week one of our contemporaries complained in what seemed to us to be a needlessly harsh and curmudgeonly manner about the noise which wedding parties make as they drive through the streets, honking their motor-horns and drawing attention to themselves. Admittedly this noise is sometimes irritating and sometimes the merrymakers go too far with it, but upon the whole we think that the custom is a defensible one. The majority of people marry only once in their lives, and when they do we maintain that they are justified in making a noise about it.

Most people live drab and uneventful lives, unknown except to a small circle of friends and business associates. Only twice in all their three-score years and ten are they the centre of a dramatic and exciting occasion; the first of these is the day they marry; the second is the day they are buried. On both occasions, we feel, they are entitled to their full measure of attention and respect from the rest of us. The funeral is an ostentatious parade of mourning and grief, and if we are to be critical of wedding processions we must also admit that funerals are nuisances, hindering traffic and forcing the idea of death upon people who may find such reflection uncomfortable. But nobody takes this attitude; we are all ready to subordinate our own immediate convenience in order that the bereaved may bury their dead in the way which they think fitting. If we are thus prepared to honour the dead, why should we grudge honour to the living? In spite of all the sour jokes which are made about marriage by people who have found it less pleasant than they anticipated, a wedding is a time for great rejoicing and the man and woman who have decided to share whatever life may bring them are worthy of our honour and our indulgence.

We are glad to hear the horns blow for a wedding. We should like to see people take off their hats, or cheer, as a wedding procession goes by. Sometimes the noise is a nuisance, but communal life demands that we should endure a great many nuisances if they give pleasure to others. The raucous hooting of wedding horns is only repellent to those who hate to see other people happy.

Could You Pass It?

At this time of the year many children and their parents are anxious about examinations, though their anxiety is of different quality. The children are in the grip of the educational machine; they have to sit for the examinations, and their futures—for a year at least—depend upon how well they do. The parents are anxious that their young should acquit themselves well, but as they are far beyond the grip of the examiner, they are apt to underestimate the difficulties which must be overcome in order to make a satisfactory mark. We have often wondered if some of the parents who poon-pooh their children's anxiety about examinations would cut a good figure if they suddenly found themselves in the examination hall.

That is why we are reproducing here a simple question from the High School Entrance Paper in English Literature. The questions are based on this passage from one of Winston Churchill's most famous speeches:

"I have, myself, full confidence that if all do their duty, if nothing is neglected, and if the best arrangements are made, as they are being made, we shall prove ourselves once again able to defend our island home, to ride out the storm of war, and to outlive the menace of tyranny, if necessary for years, if necessary alone. At any rate, that is what we are going to try to do....Even though large tracts of Europe and many old and famous States have fallen or may fall into the grip of the Gestapo and all the odious apparatus of Nazi rule, we shall not flag or fail. We shall go on to the end, we shall fight in France, we shall fight on the seas and oceans, we shall fight with growing confidence and growing strength in the air, we shall defend our island, whatever the cost may be, we shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills; we shall never surrender, and even if, which I do not for a moment believe, this island or a large part of it were subjugated and starving, then our Empire beyond the seas, armed and guarded by the British Fleet, would carry on the struggle, until, in God's good time, the new world, with all its power and might, steps forth to the rescue and the liberation of the old".

These are the questions which must be answered, with the number of marks for each in brackets after it:

What three conditions does Mr. Churchill say must be fulfilled if "our island home" is to be defended successfully? (6).

What reason for discouragement is mentioned? (3).

Select three statements which show the determination of the speaker and his people (3).

What statements show that all branches of the armed forces will be needed? (3).

What is the effect of repeating the word "fight"? (3).

"We shall defend our island, whatever the cost may be". Of what probable cost is he thinking? (3).

Why are beaches, landing grounds, fields, streets, and hills mentioned in that order? (5).

State in your own words the worst result which the speaker can foresee. (3).

What part does Mr. Churchill say that the Empire might be called upon to play in the struggle? (4).

Explain "ride out the storm of war" and "the menace of tyranny". (4).

The total value of the question, as you see, is 37 marks; let us call 25 the pass-mark; what mark do you think you would get on the question? Do not say airily that you would get 37; write your answers down and criticize them; cut off a mark for your every mistake in spelling. Perhaps you will not do so well as you think.

Examinations are very trying experiences, especially in hot weather. And as you see, the questions are searching and complicated, although they are not likely to give much trouble to an intelligent adult. To the examinee they are a test not only of intelligence, but of courage and self-possession, and we have printed this sample question to show you what thousands of children have been up against in the weeks past.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The modernizing of Turkey is coming along nicely. They have taken the veils off their women; the next job is to take them off their foreign policy.

The Australian View

(By GRANT DEXTER)

WHILE the London conference ended in agreement, it is of interest to examine the viewpoints of each member of the Commonwealth.

The best starting point is Australia. The common opinion in Canada prior to the conference was based on the speeches delivered by Mr. Curtin in August and December of last year, and the Australian-New Zealand agreement of January, 1944. First Mr. Curtin advocated an empire council and later on an empire secretariat. These speeches and the agreement received much publicity in Canada and, in Imperialist quarters, were freely interpreted as meaning that Mr. Curtin favoured greater Commonwealth unity in the sense of a common foreign policy to be expressed by power greater than she alone could muster, to the end that interests which Australia regards as vital shall be more surely protected in the future. Prior to the conference, therefore, Mr. Curtin was widely hailed as the prophet of empire consolidation. But as the full implications of his proposals became clear, the shouting speedily subsided and, before the conference closed, had quite died away.

AUSTRALIA'S attitude merits sympathetic study because it is the result of experiences through which Australians have passed. If Canada had endured similar perils in this war it is very doubtful if a Canadian government would have shown greater restraint than Australia.

The roots of Mr. Curtin's council or secretariat proposal are to be found in Australia's experience since Dec. 7, 1941. The story is told in a statement issued by Mr. Curtin on May 4 and supplemented by him at a press conference on the same day.

Australia, while strongly nationalistic, has aways been ultra-loyal to the British connnection. Australians, though they be second generation native-born, commonly refer to England as "home." Australia is over 90 per cent pure British stock. Bearing these facts in mind, the Curtin statement takes on special significance.

The statement recounts that:

"Australia had been nurtured in a conception of Empire defence in which it accepted the responsibility to do all that it could for its own local defence. It also depended on British sea-power to deter aggression or to aid in defeating an invasion of the Commonwealth by attacking lines of communication of enemy and keeping open those by which reinforcements and supplies could be sent to Australia. Conversely, if there were no serious threat to Australia, its forces would be available to defend the vital areas on the principle of mutual support. The exercise of British sea-power depended on adequate naval strength and the secure defence of strategically located bases which could be used by the British fleet. The base of cardinal importance to the defence of Australia was Singapore. These were the basic principles which governed the security of Australia when she entered the war with Britain in September, 1939. On the assumption of their absolute validity, Australia concentrated on the maximum contribution, it could make to the fighting fronts overseas."

THE statement proceeds to describe events prior to Dec. 7, 1941. The Australian navy was scattered over "the seven seas of the world." Land forces totalling 122,000 men were sent to the Middle East. They fought in Africa, Greece, Crete and Syria. Twenty thousand airmen and air trainees were sent abroad. After Dunkerque, Australia stripped herself of small arms and ammunition and shipped them to the United Kingdom. An army division was also diverted to the United Kingdom. As the Japanese menace became greater, Australia still further weakened her home defences by sending airmen and army units to Malaya, New Caledonia, Timor, the Solomons, and so on.

The onset of the Japanese, therefore, caught Australia unprepared and virtually defenceless. All she had was an inadequately armed militia and some 50 bomber and reconnaissance aircraft. To the Australians, the plight of Britain in June, 1940, was not as grave as that of Australia in March, 1942. Twice the Curtin statement declares that: "No country faced a greater danger with less resources than Australia."

As the Japanese swept southward towards Australia, an acute difference of view arose between the Australian and the United Kingdom governments. Australia did not dispute the wisdom of the decision to beat the Germans first, but disagreed fundamentally with the failure to provide sufficient power to make certain that Australia would be held as a base for the ultimate offensive against Japan. If Australia had been conquered, it would have been "a disastrous blow." In Australia's view, the requirements necessary to hold Australia "were relatively small in relation to the resources of the United Nations, and did not appear sufficient to have a vital influence in another theatre."

◆ ◆ ◆

THE statement notes that Mr. Churchill repeatedly emphasized the immensity of the task of defeating a Germany which controlled Europe. But what about Japan which had become the master of vast territories in the Pacific with large populations and vital resources for the waging of war? The statement refers with "satisfaction" to the ultimate decision to place the two wars—east and west—on a parity and it records, without comment, that in March, 1942, Mr. Churchill and President Roosevelt decided that the United States would become responsible for the Pacific war. "It followed, therefore, that we had to look to the United States for the aid to supplement our own efforts." There is irony in this statement, having regard to the faith in Empire defence in which Australia was "nurtured."

The Petain Legend

Petain's broadcast on the eve of the invasion must extinguish whatever is left of the Petain "mystique." It is strange how long it has lingered and what shocks it has survived. Our correspondent with the forces in Italy reported not long ago that he found officers in the French Army who were still followers of Petain. The old story was that Petain was a clever schemer who, while outwardly collaborating with Germany, was seeking means for obstructing her and that his policy was to avoid open quarrel and wait for the moment when France could strike. Events made it more and more difficult to accept this interpretation. There seemed no concession that he would refuse; no point at which he would defend France or Frenchmen.—Manchester Guardian.

A TOUCHING SIGHT

Good Old Dime Novels

(By J. H. GRAY)

WE see by the news columns that our school board has decided to do something about improving the taste of the current crop of children in literature. In this we wish them well, but if nothing much comes of this well-intentioned excursion into uplift it will surprise few adults who have a realistic recollection of their own childhood reading habits.

Indeed our first thought on glancing through Mr. Zuken's list of novels being read by the small fry was that the taste of children in books has improved tremendously since we went to school.

According to Mr. Zuken, typical novels being read are The Greek Coffin Mystery, by Ellery Queen; The Garden Murder Case, by S. S. van Dine, and The Case of the Velvet Claws, by Earl Derr Biggers. It so happens that we have read all these and perhaps a hundred more of the same genre. What they are about escapes us at the moment, but they must be first-rate "whodunits" to intrigue the school children.

In our day we ran more to action stuff. Deadwood Dick was favourite, and we followed him through a dozen adventures in sudden death and violence. The adventures of Billy the Kid took the edge off boredom, as did the lurid accounts of the adventures of the James brothers.

These books came in pocket size. They had blue paper covers upon which the illustration always seemed the same—the hero stood with legs apart with six-guns blazing from hands held near the hips. The variations were confined to the position of the hero. Sometimes he was shooting it out in a bar, sometimes in the street, sometimes on horseback and sometimes from behind a rock or from atop a stage-coach. But no dime-novel ever showed the hero with his guns silent.

The shooting began on the covers and continued, page by page, until the end. The dime-novels were all published in the United States, and during the last war they cost, as we remember, 20 cents in Canada. They were, as any of their fans will testify, infinitely superior to the penny dreadfuls which the British publishers sent out.

Penny dreadfuls were exciting enough, but too many screaming heroines cluttered them up, there was too much mush to appeal to our tastes. The gals in the dime novels could take care of themselves. In the penny dreadfuls they were forever being lured into traps by scheming orientals and the hero spent most of his time extricating them from pitfalls any pinhead could have avoided.

Our choice of books did not meet parental approval. We suppose that organized adults conducted surveys even then and did some viewing with alarm. Once an effort was made to wean us of dime-novels by stealth. A friend of the family suggested Fenimore Cooper, which some of our contemporaries found exciting. Fenimore Cooper was a bore.

But when we encountered Dumas for the first time it was like coming upon a whole trunk full of new dime novels. How we discovered him is lost in memory, but we waded through volume after volume, and of course recommended him to our friends. And from Dumas it was just a short step to Balzac.

With all deference to the superior wisdom of our school trustees, we think that the reading tastes of present-day scholars are superior to those of ourselves and our contemporarie. In our day we would have spurned Mr Queen, Mr. Van Dine and Mr. Biggers. What we demanded was action, sudden death and gore aplenty. We got as much of these ingredients in a single chapter of a dime novel as the detective stories provide in a whole book. Few of them ever kill off more than half a dozen characters. Jesse James and his brothers would account for twice that number in a single bank robbery. Billy the Kid was always good for two or three killings before noon, and he was a late sleeper.

And, come to think of it, the generation which cut its teeth on Billy the Kid has not been a total loss. Neither will the generation which is satisfied with the milder diet now being supplied.

A Warning from Alberta

(FROM CALGARY HERALD)

WHILE the new C.C.F. Government of Saskatchewan may consider this gratuitous advice, it might be to its advantage to study the record of so-called unorthodox governments in Alberta during the past twenty-three years. If it does so, it will find that while glowing promises can readily be made in the pre-election campaign, it must proceed carefully and judiciously if it is going to avoid harmful actions.

The Social Credit Government of Alberta destroyed the credit of this province in the early years of its administration. It is safe to say that if it had to go through those years again it would do everything possible to avoid any repudiation of bonded indebtedness. The gain has been comparatively trivial while the harm done will take years to overcome.

Of course, it is quite easy for a provincial government to repudiate, and such a step may be immediately popular among thoughtless people who have nothing to lose, but repudiation means that no new loans can be floated and any capital expenditure must come out of tax revenues. In years of prosperity when such revenues are buoyant the problem is not so serious, particularly when no large capital expenditures have to be made. If present plans for the post-war period materialize, however, very large sums will have to be obtained and they certainly cannot be extracted from the taxpayers.

The process of repudiation is harmful to the unfortunate individuals who bought provincial bonds. While a large percentage of these bonds may be held in Eastern Canada, Great Britain and elsewhere and the people in power may not be so considerate of the welfare of these far-away investors, at the same time a substantial percentage of the bonds and virtually all of the $10,000,000 worth of savings certificates were held by the people of this province after the advent of Social Credit Government. It is a sad state of affairs when the citizens of a province cannot with safety invest their earnings in provincial securities.

There are other unhappy developments following in the wake of repudiation. For one thing, home building slowed down to a standstill in Alberta cities and towns in the years prior to the war because investment money would not take the risk of coming into Alberta. That situation accentuated the serious housing situation during these war years.

In many other instances capital was scared away from Alberta and if the people of this province knew the full story they would realize that the destruction of Alberta's credit was one of the most harmful things that ever happened in this province.

How To Avoid Lightning

Lightning — man's fiery mysterious enemy — will continue to cause death, injuries, and property damage, but its death and injury toll would be greatly reduced if everyone took some simple precautions.

First and most important safety measure is to get under a shelter as quickly as possible the instant a storm comes up. Houses, barns and other buildings—the bigger the better—are good shelters, but trees are not.

Records show that many of the scores of lightning deaths that occur each year in the nation would be avoided if golfers and picnickers ran for shelter as soon as they saw a storm approaching instead of waiting for it to blow over.

If you're riding along in a steel-topped sedan when an electrical storm develops, stay in the car. It's a safe place to be, so far as lightning is concerned. Dr. Gilbert D. McCann, Westinghouse lightning expert, proved this three years ago when he sat in a sedan in a high voltage laboratory while 3,000,000 volts of man-made lightning bombarded the top of the car and streaked harmlessly to the ground.

Keep away from wire fences, wires of all types, metal objects and pipes during a storm. These metallic objects can and often do conduct electricity through their entire length, endangering persons standing near by.

Stand clear of stoves and pipes in kitchen or cellar, and shun the chimney and fireplace. Stay away from the attic. Don't stand near a window or door, particularly if either is open. Choose a place near the centre of a room.

In large buildings and modern homes the danger of being hit by lightning is slight. Thunderbolts strike hundreds of such structures every year, but seldom harm the occupants. The tops and sides of buildings usually provide a good path to conduct lightning to the ground.—Chicago Daily News.

FARMING IMPORTANT

The Earl of Athlone has characterized Canadian farmers as "workers in one of the largest of our munitions factories of which the output in the form of agricultural produce is among the most valuable of the sinews of war." True enough, but we imagine a good many farmers find it difficult to understand why their rates of pay do not accord with those granted other munitions workers. — Brockville Recorder and Times.

WHERE IGNORANCE RULES

People of the Axis countries are kept in the dark with respect to the real war situation. It is said that many Germans do not know yet that Sevastopol has fallen to the Russians, and the Japs believe that their troops are fighting in California and Florida. However, at the Rome end of the Axis they know all about it.—Chatham Daily News.

FASHIONS IN SONGS

In 1940 the Germans had a marching song. It was "We March Against England." But that song grew a bit out of date.

So they brought out a new one, called "Die Wacht Am Kanal" (The Watch on the Channel).

Now, since the Allies have been kicking sand from the beaches of Cherbourg into the gears of the German war machine, the Germans will have to change their tune again.

A revival of "The Watch on the Rhine" might be more appropriate—but not for long.—Minneapolis Star Journal.

A Bible Message

Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright.... He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. (Ps. 33: 1, 5.)

Clarifies Point Re War Pensions

OTTAWA, June 30 — (C P) — Brig. James Melville, chairman of the Canadian Pensions Commission, said Thursday in a statement that other income has no effect on pensions awarded for a war disabilty, except in cases where awards have been made on discretionary grounds.

"Where service has been in Canada only," Brig. Melville said, "and pension is awarded for disability which arose out of, or was indirectly connected with, such service — that is the direct result of the performance of military duties— the award is not affected by the pensioner's income or earnings. This applies to awards to pensioners who have served outside of Canada during the present war.

"Pension is awarded for the loss or lessening of normal abilities and is intended to compensate for impairment on the unskilled labor market. When pension, as of right, is awarded for disability, it is continued for as long as the disability exists. It may be increased (if less than 100 per cent) or decreased in accordance with the degree of incapacity as ascertained by medical examination.

"A disability pensioner in the categories indicated might, therefore, earn an income of, say, from $10,000 to 20,000 a year but this would not affect his disability pension."

Brig. Melville said confusion sometimes arose over the question of income tax, and explained that under amendments to the income tax act, passed in 1942, pensions awarded under the pension act are exempt from taxation.

Bloc Populaire Plans Bid For Power

MONTREAL, June 30—(CP)—Andre Laurendeau, Provincial leader of the Bloc Populaire party, announced today the Bloc will have a candidate in every constituency in the general provincial election on August 8.

In his announcement, Mr. Laurendeau added: "The hour of Quebec economic liberation has finally come. The tyranny of the pro-trusts and imperialist parties is about to end.

"The Bloc Populaire will start at Quebec on August 8 a French-Canadian policy, a policy against the trusts, a policy intensely in favor of family life. Nationalists, forward!"

224,158 Americans On Casualty Lists

WASHINGTON, June 30—(AP)—American casualties in the war, including the first two weeks of battle in Normandy, total 244,158, and of these, 55,206 are dead—35,104 soldiers and 20,102 navy, marines and coast guard personnel, War Secretary Henry Stimson said today.

A report of Supreme Allied Headquarters showed that during the first two weeks of fighting in France American casualties totalled 24,162, with 3,082 killed, 13,121 wounded and 7,959 missing.

Canadian Unit Covers Lots Of Ground

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, June 29 — (CP). — Lieut.-Gen. Sir Oliver Leese, 8th Army commander, said "they seem to be everywhere at the same time."

He was referring to the 4th Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, a reconnaissance battalion whose Canadian headquarters is Ottawa, but whose men come from all parts of Canada. The General was right, for in the battle through the Hitler line to the Canadian junction with the 5th Army, the "plugs" were everywhere.

Use Carriers.

These black-bereted soldiers who travel in carriers and armored cars, put in grim winter as infantrymen. The war they like to fight is one of movement, not a static war of slit trenches, mud and night patrols on foot.

When the Liri Valley battle opened they reverted to their proper status as reconnaissance troops and they were in their element as they sped forward, sometimes four or five miles a day, ahead of the infantry, snapping at an enemy whose speed of withdrawal was matched only by the speed of the P.L.D.G.'s advance.

The Germans did all they could to delay the Recce. They blew the bridges, blasted craters in the roads laid mines in the path of the cars and carriers. But the troopers kept pushing forward, advancing on foot when their vehicles could not get through. An engineering section which moved with them cleared the obstacles.

It was a P.L.D.G. platoon, commanded by Lieut. Dick Bruce of Ottawa, which linked up with French and Americans of the Fifth Army in the vicinity of a town called Castellacio, on Highway Six halfway between Ferentino and Valmontone.

That day, June 3, was a typical P.L.D.G. day. The battalion had moved up the previous night from Ferentino and had "bumped" the enemy at a route six crossroads south of Nagni. The Germans were in platoon strength and after the initial brush the Recces let a company from the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment under Maj. Allan Ross of Montreal take over.

Escaped On Horses

There was a brisk fire fight. Some Germans were killed and a few captured. The enemy, who apparently had horses in the vicinity, didn't hold out long and the infantrymen soon heard them galloping off into the hills.

Next morning the P.L.D.G.'s were on the hop again, with a squadron under Maj. K. L. Campbell of Toronto and Perth, Ont., in the van. The boys were tired for they had a total of 3½ hours sleep the previous two nights, but they rounded up another 20 prisoners and killed a few Germans.

Lieut. Hugh O'Donnell of Perth, Ont., a troop commander, said he never saw more bedraggled individuals that the German prisoners. They were dog-tired and some hadn't eaten for four days.

Sgt. Bruce Huton, Prescott, Ont., Cpl. W. N. Deevey, Ottawa, and Trs. A. Plumb, Billings Bridge, Ont., and George Tomlinson, Ottawa, all in O'Donnell's troop, hadn't much respect for the retreating enemy. They told of one German who shot two Italians who wouldn't work for him and hoped he was among their prisoners.

By mid-afternoon the P.L.D.G.'s work was over for the time-being. South African troops had passed through the Canadians and the Recces watch them chasing Germans across a field without drawing a return shot. Then they harbored and slept.

Dewey Assures Allies War Won't Lag

By C. R. BLACKBURN,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

CHICAGO, June 30 — (CP) — Thomas E. Dewey, 42-year-old Governor of New York who won national fame as a "gang-buster" district attorney today set out to win the presidency of the United States and end 12 years of Democratic rule in the White House.

Before a tumultuous crowd of 25,000 in the Chicago stadium yesterday he accepted the nomination handed him some eight hours earlier by virtually unanimous action of the Republican national convention.

Early in his speech of acceptance Gov. Dewey assured the Allied powers that the forthcoming campaign would strengthen—not weaken — the war effort, and he warned the Nazis powers not to believe otherwise.

A Republican victory in next November's elections would not mean the slightest interruption of the war effort. "We are with you to the limit of our resources and manpower," he declared, addressing himself to the Allied powers, and that meant in the effort to make an enduring peace as well as the effort for victory.

Gov. Dewey and his wife and party flew here yesterday afternoon.

Youth against age was the predominant theme of Gov. Dewey's acceptance speech. He promised that "next year our government will again have a cabinet of the ablest men and women to be found in America."

"Its members" he declared, "will expect and will receive full delegation of the powers of their office. They will be capable of administering those powers. They will each be experienced in the task to be done and young enough to do it."

The task of achieveing a lasting peace, he declared "is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office."

Takes Middle Course.

He advocated a middle-of-the-road path on the touchy foreign policy issue.

"We are agreed, all of us," he said, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a co-operative effort to prevent future wars."

"There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her Allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state"

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the platform committee, told reporters, "he stands on the platform 100 per cent."

Wendell L. Willkie, who came from behind to beat Dewey for the nomination in 1940 and who recently criticized the foreign policy plank as "ambiguous," congratulated Gov. Dewey and said he has "one of the greatest opportunities of history."

Gov. Dewey, first Republican to win the New York office in 20 years, said the present military high command is "doing a superb job" and should be allowed to continue without any civilian interference.

Eight-Hour-Day Effective July 1

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP) — Ontario's new eight-hour-day, holidays-with-pay legislation becomes effective July 1 and Eric Billington, chairman of the Provincial Industry and Labor Board, explained to-day that postponement of the regulations has been granted for war and essential industry.

Mr. Billington said the postponement was "for the duration of the present crisis" and the regulations might be made applicable to those industries before the end of the war if the manpower situation and production needs made it possible.

Postponement is provided for such industries as agriculture, horticulture, fishing, food production, dairying industry, construction and upkeep of roads, transportation, textiles and other undertakings which can be considered essential "to the full maintenance of the war effort."

War Work Excepted.

"Industries engaged in actual war production need not observe the regulations now and need not make any application to the Board for a postponement order," said Mr. Billington. "But firms which are uncertain of their status should make application to the Board which will rule on the case."

J. F. Marsh Deputy Minister of Labor explained in an interview that the Act—which provides for an 8-hour day and 48-hour week and one week's holidays with pay annually—covers every business trade or occupation except those for which postponement has been granted.

Employers are liable to fines ranging from $25 to $500 and employees from $10 to $25 for breaches of the Act.

Mr. Marsh said it was difficult to give an accurate summary of how many firms and employees might be affected by the regulations but he referred to a year-old survey which covered 8,000 Ontario employers employing 500,000 persons. The survey showed that 43.2 per cent of the employees worked 48 hours a week or less.

"We know that about 1,000 of the 8,000 firms were granting holidays and since that time, the Regional War Labor Board has been approving as many as 40 applications a week from firms requesting authority to grant holidays with pay," he said.

Drew Explains Extension Of Air Travel

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., June 30—(CP)—Premier Drew of Ontario said in an interview to-day that the Ontario government has decided to extend the activities of the Ontario provincial air service which will be re-organized as the Ontario Air Services.

The new organization will absorb the personnel of the present service which has its headquarters here and is engaged chiefly in forest protection work across the province.

"This will give wider opportunities for the existing personnel and make it possible for the Provincial government to provide such air services as are necessary within Ontario for the more effective expansion of our own activities," said the Premier who arrived here this morning from the Lakehead.

"We believe that air communication throughout this province must be planned now. We hope that it will be possible for these planes to be made by air transport organzations capable of giving the type of air service this province needs. We are concerned about the decision of the Dominion government not to grant licenses until the end of the war and if this very unwise position is not changed, it will be necessary for us to adopt whatever measures are within our power to see that this province is not tied down in the development of an essential means of communication which we must have if we are to keep pace with modern developments. Unless plans are made for air routes now, we will not be ready to absorb the trained personnel which will be available when the war ends."

"The Seabee Athletic Association is in its infancy, but in competition with other service teams has made an excellent record," Buckley writes. "Last week the boxing team defeated the army air force, the track team placed third in an 11-team A.A.U. meet, May 29th. Plans are under way to place a football team in competition this fall. The only drawback is the lack of uniforms. I'd appreciate any ideas you might give us in respect to schools that have abandoned football" . . . Well, Princeton dropped out and from what we saw last fall the Tigers had very little besides uniforms.

Plazas Trounce U.E.W. Crew In Ragged Game

Plazas had little difficulty in tucking away Thursday night's City League game with U.E.W., defeating the Union outfit 13 to 2 in a game in which the losers play got so ragged on end that Umpire Bob Batley called the game in the first half of the ninth after the Plazas had scored a run on a couple of bad errors.

The score, of course, reverted back to the end of the eighth and that gift run was wiped out.

Plazas scored four runs in the first inning and as it turned out that was the ball game. Terry Woods on the Rubber for the winners fired a smoking fast ball past the U.E.W. bats with so much success in the early innings that the first ten outs were strikeouts. Altogether Woods whiffed twelve men in the eight innings for a new mark for the season.

Big Mac McPherson was on the firing line for U.E.W. and was not as effective as usual while the support he received from his team mates was enough to make any pitcher walk out. The U.E.W. team in fact came up with a very bad game and didn't have much of a chance after that first big inning, especially in view of the effectiveness of Woods until the later innings when the Plazas were a mile out in front.

Plazas started with four in the first. Heal beat out a bunt and after Pryde had fanned Tucker doubled to left. Heal went home on a wild pitch. Blewett singled down the first base line, scoring Tucker and then ran home himself when Starr tripled to centre. Starr registered on a passed ball.

In the second Woods walked, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch.

Plazas got three more in the fifth on singles by Tucker, Blewett and Starr, Hawks' double to left and an infield out.

Union Scores One

The Union team finally got a run in the fifth, McPherson opened with a single to right and Platt was safe when Woods fumbled his bunt. Quigley bunted into a double play, Ellis to Tucker but Woods passed Murduff, Griffin and Isaac in a row to force in a run.

Eddie Starr's double to centre after Pryde and Tucker had singled gave Plazas two more in the sixth and they added three in the eighth on a single by Blewett, three errors in a row by Griffin, Anderson and Platt and a solid single to left by Woods.

U.E.W. got their second run in the last half of the eighth when Girard walked, McPherson got a life on Tucker's muff of a high fly and Platt singled to centre. The next three went out in order.

Tucker opened the ninth with a fly to centre that nobody fielded and it went for a double. Then when Blewett flied to right and Anderson dropped the drive and Patterson muffed the throw-in to the plate Umpire Batley called the game and the score reverted back to the eighth.

Uttermost Wins Winnipeg Futurity

WINNIPEG, June 30 (CP)—Uttermost, 2-year-old colt from the Harry Hatch stable of Toronto made its first bid on a Western Canada race track here Thursday and copped the Winnipeg Futurity, with a $2,000 added purse.

Uttermost took the lead in the back-stretch and staved off a bold bid by Broad Camp from the Parslow and Denoon stable of Calgary in the home stretch to win by almost a length. Sillavroc, owned by Mrs. H. E. Fierce, Corvallis, Mont., was third. Uttermost, with Jockey Bobby Watson up paid $4.95, $4.25 and $4.75.

Tonight may decide first place in the Girls' Softball loop as the Aircraft and Westcox teams clash for the third time this season. The two rivals are slated to meet only once more in the regular schedule after tonight and as the Big Bens have already knocked off the Aircrafters twice a win in this engagement would practically ensure the top of the ladder for the champions. With so much at stake both teams will be out in full strength and the tussle should be about the closest of the entire campaign. The Aircrafters say they got a bad game out of their systems the last time the two clubs met and they promise that they will be a different team when they clash with the Big Bens this evening. Norma Strickland will do the gunning for the second-placers with Annette DeCarlo behind the bat while the Westclockers will have as battery either Isobel Bullock on the firing line and Jean Castle doing the catching or Joyce Withers on the mound and Isobel Bullock handling her offerings. The game will get under way at 7 o'clock sharp and will draw the usual big crowd that always attends these clashes between the two old rivals. Westclox will not be seen in action again until the third week in July as the annual holiday starts this week-end.

The C.G.E.- All-Star lineup to meet the Royce Avenue, Toronto, C.G.E. in a benefit game for the British War Victims' Fund at Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon was announced yesterday and it is made up entirely of players from the Switchgear and Plazas, the two leading teams in the City League. Two batteries, Ronnie Akers and Holly Mowry of Switchgear and Dave Wilson and Eddie Starr of Plazas have been selected. The infield will consist of B. Ashmore, Switchgear at first base, Art Heal second base, Jack Tucker shortstop and George Hawks third base, all of Plazas while the outfield will be made up of Jack Playford, Jack Carpenter and Gib Brockley of Switchgear and Les Burton and Phil Pryde of Plazas. That is a team that is strong defensively in all departments and has plenty of power at the plate. The Royce Avenue club is said to be of senior calibre so that the game which gets under way at 3 o'clock should be one of the most interesting contests of the season. There will be a draw for a blanket as an added incentive. The entire proceeds will be handed over to the British War Victims' Fund, a cause that needs all the help available at the present time with the new attacks on England daily increasing the damage.

Readying For Labor Day

A meeting has been called for the Y.M.C.A. tonight for the purpose of setting up an organization to plan for and carry out an inter-cadet field day under the auspices of the Sea and Air Cadets to be held here on Labor Day, with the proceeds to be turned over to the navy, army and air force auxiliaries to provide comforts for Peterborough boys on active service. An ambitious program is being mooted. It is proposed to bring in a couple of star service softball teams, possibly the crack Navy team from Toronto and the fast Trenton R.C.A.F. organization and also to include on the list of the day's doings a game between two of the strongest Toronto girls' teams. In addition to these games a program of athletic events will be lined up. While the details have not yet been decided upon there will be afternoon and evening cards, with the track events and service softball game in the afternoon and a tug-of-war for service clubs and the girls' softball game as the big feature in the evening. The Sea and Air Cadets will be asked to stage a preliminary parade for the two programs.

Teams in the City Softball League have some fast-fielding outfielders this season, sure-handed boys who can cover a lot of ground and make drives look easy. But in spite of that fact old baseball men point out that the gardeners have a lot to learn about shifting for various batters. This column believes the criticism is justified. In the first place the tendency is developed of playing too deep, with the result that soft flies have been consistently dropping for singles and doubles that should have been easy outs. Several games have been tossed away because of that weakness. Night after night, too, we have been seeing rightfielders, with a right-handed batter up playing miles deep and similarly left fielders have been noticed deep in the back of their territory with left-handed batters at the plate. Playing the batters is something that the majority of the City League gardeners are not doing and managers could do some useful missionary work if they would try to have their outfieders smarten up in this most important part of the defensive side of their work. There are too many soft flies going for hits.

Catcher Of The Year

The American League player most deserving—and in our book, most certain—of being selected to take part in the twelfth annual All-Star game to be played in Pittsburg on July 11, is without a doubt Catcher Frankie Hayes of the Athletics, though it might be a greater favor to him to have the day off to catch up on his rest, says Doug Vaughan in the Windsor Star. Hayes is today's iron man of baseball. He has been in every game played by his team to date, missing only a few scattered innings. Hayes is practically the catching staff of the Mackmen. There are some American League catchers who have a better batting average than Hayes, the Tigers' veteran Paul Richards being one of them, but there is no other catcher who hits in the clean-up spot for his team, and no catcher in the loop who can bang the tallies over the plate as well as the sturdy 28-year-old native of Jamesburg, N.J. Through yesterday Hayes had been in 61 of the A's 61 games and had caught both ends of 13 doubeheaders, two of them in succession.

* * * * * *

There was some nice pitching under the big top yesterday and probably the best hurling contest of the day was the battle between Lee for the Phillies and George Munger for the St. Louis Cards which was finally won by the Blue Jays 1 to 0 in ten innings. Munger was gunning for his eleventh win of the season but finally had to accept his second defeat when his teammates failed to score for him. Walter Dubiel, rookie pitcher of the New York Yanks came through with a masterpiece when he banked the St. Louis Browns 1 to 0 and allowed the leaders only two hits. Reynolds on the mound for the Cleveland Indians also dipped deep into the whitewash to shut out the Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 0. Christopher was the victim. Tex Hughson, ace of the Boston Red Sox harvested his 11th victory as against three defeats when Boston won their ninth straight game from the Chicago White Sox 5 to 4. Hughson did not finish the game but got credit for the win. Joe Cronin hit a homer for the Red Sox and as it turned out that was the margin of victory.

Nine Sentenced

MOBILE, Ala., June 30.—(AP).—Nine negro soldiers, convicted by court martial of charges growing out of a gun battle with white military policemen, have been sentenced to prison terms ranging from 16 to 25 years and dishonorably discharged from the service.

The convictions yesterday were based on charges of mutiny, failure to suppress mutiny, and rioting. The shooting occurred at nearby Brookley Field last May 24.

Says Mathewson Greatest Pitcher Of All

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, June 29—(AP)—Roger Bresnahan, who laid aside his big league catching mitt some 30 years ago, still believes his old battery-mate, Christy Mathewson, was the greatest pitcher of them all.

Bresnahan gained fame as a great backstop for New York Giants and later managed St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.

Now a brewing company representative, Bresnahan came back to the Polo Grounds this week for a guest appearance at the war bond show. As he donned his uniform, the 64-year-old Irishman said:

"Too bad Matty can't be here. He would have loved this. There was a great man.

"Matty was the greatest pitcher of all time. Walter Johnson, Cy Young, Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell—they were good, very good, but none could touch Mathewson. There was only one Matty."

"Matty never had an equal, particularly in a pinch. He was an absolute master. Matty was not a fire-ball pitcher, but he had a world of speed when he preferred to cut loose. Why, do you know he holds the season strike-out record in the National League?

"He fanned 267 in 1903 . . . his famous 'fade-away' no batter could hit. There never was another pitch like it, except Hubbell's screwball. But Hub was no Matty."

The most remarkable pitching performance he ever witnessed?

"Matty again," Bresnahan replied, "the Giants were in the thick of a pennant fight with Pittsburgh. In one of the late innings we were ahead 3-2 when a hit and a couple of errors put three Pirates on and none out."

"Tommy Leach, Fred Clarke and Kitty Bransfield, three great batters, were coming up. Matty whiffed Leach on three inside pitches, Clarke with three consecutive fade-aways, and Bransfield on three drop curves around the knees. I can still hear the crowd yelling. Yes, when you find a second Matty, I'll walk clear across the continent to see him pitch."

Villiers Whips Westwood 22-9

VILLIERS, June 30—(ENS)—Villiers baseball team loosed a barrage of hits to swamp Westwood 22 to 9 on the local diamond this week.

Roy Renwick and Gavin Shearer shared equal honors for their pitching ability. During the fifth frame, Harry Garnet, a local farmer, poled a long home run with the bases loaded.

Bill Wood and W. Middlebrook were umpires. Line-ups:

Westwood: Bruce Warr, c; Roy Renwick, p; Percy Elmhurst, 1b; Whibb Graham, 2b; Ralph Clysdale, 3b; Bill Warr, ss; Speed Nelson, lf; Dick Elmhurst cf; Jack McColl, rf.

Villiers: Cliff Irwin, c; Gavin Shearer, p; Harry Garnet, 1b; John Wood, 2b; Bruce Davidson, 3b; Bill Wood, ss; Don Starke, lf; Jim Eason, cf; Dick Elmhurst, rf.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Promoter Mike Jacobs gave out statistics last night at New York which showed the 20th Century Boxing Club had made more money and attracted greater crowds for the first 11 shows at Madison Square Garden this year than had been recorded for a similar number of fistic programs in comparable periods of the past two seasons. For the 11 shows in 1944 aggregate attendance was 182,822 and receipts totalled $767,002 for 1943 the figures were 180,544 and $626,372 and for 1942, 150,340 and $604,183. Included in the 1942 list were the last two title fights of heavyweight champion Joe Louis. Jacob's conclusion was that the war's inroads on pugilistic material hadn't hurt the game.

Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., with a four-under-par 67 and Patty Berg, carding a women's par 74, were among the leaders to give their teams a boost at the close of play yesterday in the Chicago Victory national golf matches. Revolta's mixed team had an aggregate 695 to be the lowest among the 40 foursomes and to score three of the four team titles.

The Inter County Baseball Association yesterday decided to stage the annual all-star game as a night feature at Labatt Park, London, July 22. A picked nine from the Galt, Stratford, Waterloo and Hamilton clubs will opposed the London team.

General Manager Herb Pennock of the Philadelphia Phillies last night denied rumors that Bucky Harris might be re-hired as team manager because of trouble between Freddie Fitzsimmons and the players.

Six teams in the juvenile series of the Inter County Baseball Association have been divided into two sections. Brantford, Galt and Preston are in one group while the other is made up of Kitchener, Waterloo and Guelph. Junior playoffs will be arranged at a league meeting July 19.

Yankees Show New Life Win 8 Out Of 9

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

Reports of the New York Yankees' death appears to have been greatly exaggerated. The world champions today seek their seventh straight and a clean sweep of the series from the league leading St. Louis Browns.

Only half a step from the American League last-place graveyard two weeks ago, the New Yorkers have pulled out of their tailspin and captured eight of their last nine.

Walt "Monk" Dubiel hurled the McCarthy clan to within two and a half games of the top yesterday with a brilliant two-hit shutout made possible by Rollie Hemsley's line single to centre, scoring Bud Metheny. There were two out in the last of the ninth and two strikes on the hitter when the veteran catcher pasted Sig Jakucki's "Sunday" pitch to earn a 1-0 New York edge.

Shutout pitching was the order of the day, with Allie Reynolds of Cleveland hanging a 6-0 whitewash on Philadelphia, Detroit's Hal Newhouser stopping Washington, 4-0, for his 11th victory, and Bill Lee tossing the Phillies to a 1-0 nod over George Munger of the St. Louis Cardinals on a 10th inning single by Jimmy Wasdell.

Tex Hughson collected his 11th decision as the Boston Red Sox shaded Chicago, 5-4, but Francis "Red" Barrett had to turn in a fancy four-inning relief chore to save the game.

The New York-Pittsburgh game in the National ended in a 1-1 tie with Bill Voiselle opposing Nick Strincevich, called at the end of the fifth due to rain.

Royals Sweep Twin Bill At Syracuse

(By The Associated Press)

Morris Aderholt and Elmer Durret are vieing with each other for slugging honors as they combine their talents to nudge Montreal Royals into a contending spot for the top rung in the International League standings.

Each belted his ninth homer to aid the Royals in sweeping a double-header yesterday from Syracuse, 4-1 and 4-3, in a twilight-night attraction. Both circuit blows came in the first game to give Tom Sunkel his eighth victory.

Walter Chipple and Ed Stevens combined to give Johnny Gabbard his sixth triumph in the nightcap. Chipple hit a double and triple, while Stevens homered for the winning margin.

Rochester broke a 10-game losing streak by coming from behind to score twice in the ninth and defeat Newark, 6-5. Del Rice's single with two out scored the winning runs. Rich also made two other hits.

Buffalo handed Ken Brondell his first defeat after four wins as the Bisons defeated Jersey City Giants, 4-1.

Alex Mustaikis rang up his eighth win, holding Baltimore Orioles to eight scattered hits for Toronto's 6-1 decision. Jimmy Gruzdis led the Maple Leafs with two for two, batting in two mates.

DODGERS TOP PHILLIES 8-3 IN NEW YORK GAME—Phillies 2nd Baseman Letchas is out at home on Wasdell's tap to Maglish, who threw to Owen in the 7th inning of the Brooklyn Dodgers-Philadelphia game at Ebbets Field, New York. The Dodgers won 8 to 3. Barr is umpiring.

Westclox Seconds Trim Lock Works By 10-7 Score

Aided by clever pitching by Alice McIvor, Westclox II, trimmed Peterborough Lock 10-7 in a close, fast-played Ladies' Softball League game on Thursday evening at Ashburnham Bowl.

The Lock company headed the winners 4-3 up to the fifth inning, when Westclox bounced back with 4 runs. Lock Works gained their 4 runs all in the first frame, and failed to score again until the seventh inning. In the meantime the Westclox had gone ahead, scoring once in the sixth, bringing the count at the end of that frame 7-4 in favor of the Baby Bens.

The Lock Company attempted a comeback in the seventh, when Margaret Fredenburg and Olive Varcoe each scored. Westclox turned in 2 runs in the eighth, against Lock Works' single counter, to wind up the game 10-7.

Highlight of the game was the clever fielding worked by Olive Varcoe, Anna Howrang, and Isobel Varcoe for the Lock Works, and Florence Robinson, Verla Ferguson and Dorothy Starr for Westclox. Snappy work by the fielders blocked more than one probable home run.

Beryl Lee, pitching for the Lock Company, gave a good performance and although the winners got 12 hits, battled keenly to hold them. She struck-out 4 and walked 5.

Rita O'Heron made a neat showing on first base for Westclox. The Westclox third base assignment went to Mina Dunford, who turned in her usual good game. Alice McIvor, hurling for the Baby Bens, held the losers to 7 scattered hits. She struck-out 4 and walked 6.

The teams:

Westclox Seconds — Mina Dunford 3b, Marjorie Miles ss, Doorthy Johnson 2b, Joy Nice c, Rita O'Heron 1b, Alice McIvor p, Dorothy Starr cf, Verla Ferguson lf, Florence Robinson rf.

Peterborough Lock — Isobel Mathews 2b, Isobel Varcoe lf, Vera Carr ss, Beryl Lee p, Margaret Fredenburg ss, Olive Varcoe rf, Barbara McMahon 1b, Betty McMahon 3b, Audrey Patton c, Anna Howrang cf.

Umpires—Payne at plate, Barrett on bases.

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP). — The battle of words of Teeworth's sad showing in the San Juan Capistrano Handicap at Winnipeg is still raging. The highly-favored Teeworth upset more than the fans who laid $13,000 on her nose only to see her come home a dismal last.

An official inquiry was held in the affair, and the stewards announced the clasy mare was in season at the time of the race. But that didn't satisfy others who asked why the mare was allowed to race at all.

Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning says that Teeworth should never have been allowed to race, or at least the loyal public should have been warned in time for them to hold up their bets.

Herb suggests something should be written into the racing rules to make an owner "responsible for sending an unsound horse to the post to betray the public's confidence."

All in all, it was quite an expensive lesson for the faithful.

Race reviver:

Still on the nag subject, Tommy Gorman says that racing at Montreal's Mount Royal Park owes its survival to Lou Caruso. A staunch race fan, Caruso made many trips to United States points to buy good horses which he resold to owners in Montreal. The American horsemen wouldn't bring their steeds to Montreal for the purses offered, so that was the only way to scare up sufficient racers to keep the ball rolling.

Incidentally:

They may not have had as much class as the younger players, but there was plenty of color mixed up with the group of old-timers who put on the two exhibition baseball games in Toronto. The "Old Men" included many old sandlot league players, and they got plenty of fun out of the game, a charity affair to aid the juvenile and other minor teams....The Hastings Park racetrack on the West Coast has been completely manicured this past winter and spring, and is reported as smooth as a billiard table. It used to be something of a rockpile.

Toronto Lakeshores	3	0	6
Mimico	2	1	4
St. Catharines	2	1	4
Brampton	0	1	0
Burlington	0	4	0

Toronto Lakeshores moved into first place in the Senior Lacrosse League with a 14-9 victory over Mimico at Mimico last night.

Mountaineers had Jackie McClure, Mimico juvenile in goal for the first time, and the winners took advantage of his inexperience to rap home six tallies in the first period. Rock took over the netminding duties after this. Love and Elliott with three goals each led the winners with Murphy and Gilkinson getting two each. Doyle 2, Hayes and Blaine McDonald counted for the losers. Hartley in goal for Lakeshores and Sandhurst for the Mimico team were standouts.

Toronto Lakeshores — Hartley, Murphy, Collins, Love, Lee, Elliott, Standaben Stewart Gilkinson, Harden Gair, Kerfoot.

Mimico—Rock, Richards, McLean, Curran, Breakspeare Sandford, B. McDonald, J. McDonald, Haney, Doyle, Dickson, Mason, Hayes, McClure.

Quakers Lose Overtime Tilt

After 13 innings of thrilling play, Nashua defeated Quakers 11-10 in an Industrial League game, played on Wednesday evening at Brinton Field. It was one of the best games of the entire season. Montgomery scored the winning run in the 13th from second base on a hit by Scotty Maudsley. The game produced some heavy clouting and each team miscued three times.

Montgomery hurled for Nashua, and the Quakers garnered 11 hits. Horton was on the hill for Quakers and Nashua touched him for 12 safeties. Quakers were handicapped in that they didn't play with their regular team.

The teams:

Nashua— Montgomery p, Maudsley c, Scotty Maudsley 1b, Hughey 2b, Houcks ss, Crary 3b, Martyn lf, Lewis cf, White rf, Gilmour c.

Quakers—Horton p, Gunn c, Sullivan 1b, Townsend 2b, Roote ss, Weaver 3b, Fisher lf, Willshaw cf, Prescott rf, Tice rf.

Havelock Has Bowling Tourney

HAVELOCK, June 30 (ENS) — The first bowling tournament of the season was held on the C.P.R. bowling greens, when 16 rinks were present to enjoy a "Mixed Doubles' Tournament."

The president of the local club, Douglas Brennan, welcomed the guests, which included nine rinks from Campbellford, four from Belleville and three from Havelock.

First prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. Glover of Campbellford with three wins, a score of 40 and 40 points. Second prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. B. Taylor of Campbellford with three wins, a score of 36 with 38 points. Their prizes were hassocks for the men and wall brackets for the women. Third prize for 2 wins and a score of 32 and 38 points, was won by Mr. and Mrs. Argue of Belleville. They received a chair and lunch set. Fourth prize for one win with a score of 26 and 40 points was won by Mr. and Mrs. Bray of Campbellford. They received a luncheon set as their reward. During the evening coffee and sandwiches were served by the women of the club.

MILLBROOK, June 30.—(ENS).—The municipal council, at the request of the Business Men's Association, has proclaimed Monday, July 3 a public holiday when all places of business will be closed.

Also, to comply with the 48-hour week law, as passed by the Ontario Legislature, the Business Men's Association held a meeting and arranged hours of having business places open as follows: Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon; and from 1 p.m. to 6 o'clock; Thursdays closed all day; Wednesdays and Saturdays, open from 9 a.m. until 12 noon; from 2 p.m. to 6; and from 8 p.m. until 11 o'clock. The public has been apprised of these changes in business hours by means of placards in every store. The change begins from Saturday, July 1.

Cut Rail Service

PORT BOU, Spain, June 30 —(AP)—Service on two French railway lines near the Spanish border was halted today, frontier reports said. Nazi authorities were said to have stopped traffic on the Begiers-Pierpignan Line, without explanation, while the Tarbes-Toulouse-Carcasonne trunk line was reported cut by saboteurs.

Buchanan Warns Danger Ahead

MONTREAL, June 30—(CP)—Canadians needed a better understanding of one another if Canada were to realize her destiny, Senator W. W. Buchanan said in an address today to the Kiwanis Club of Montreal.

Senator Buchanan, who is president and publisher of the Lethbridge, Alta., Herald, and president of The Canadian Press, declared that no country in the world had greater opportunity, but "if we don't build up understanding, then God help Canada."

What we need are provinces and peoples moving ahead together," he added, and he said he believed service clubs could do much towards this end by sending men from each province to speak in the others.

Pupils Give Lamp To Teacher Leaving

BEWDLEY, June 30—(ENS)—A surprise party was held for Miss Eleanor Retallick before the last day of school when many of the children and their parents and friends were present.

A short program had been arranged consisting of piano solos by Arleigh McCallister, Garth Manley and Warren Buttar, Doris and Sheila Gordon sang "You Are My Sunshine" and Teddy Paul Manley sang "Mairzie Doats," with Shirley Halligan accompanying the songs, and Joyce Buttar gave a recitation. A contest and two amusing stunts were also enjoyed. Frank Halligan, acting as chairman and the retiring teacher, Miss Retallick, surrounded by pupils heard Shirley Halligan read an address and Eugene Halstead made the presentation of a table lamp.

World Attention Focussed On GOP Moves

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 30 (CP) — The thoughts of Americans, and indeed of politically-minded people all over the world, centred this week on Chicago where some 2,000 delegates of the Republican party assembled to choose candidates and adopt a platform for next November's Presidential elections.

Everybody who is interested knows now that the party picked the man nearly everybody knew it would—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York—as candidiate for President.

The only element of surprise was the decision of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, after a strenuous six month campaign to win the presidential nomination to accept instead unanimous nomination as vice president.

Dewey, at 42, faces the toughest assignment ever handed a politician. He must win from a man who defied all signs and portents and broke all tradition and precedent by winning three Presidential elections in a row.

He must beat President Roosevelt at a time when the United States may be in the most critical stages of the Great War into which Roosevelt led them—possibly at a time when this three-times President may be the leader of a victorious nation.

Lavish and Costly: This week's convention has been described as the dullest in history, up to the few hours of the actual nominations, but it was not cheap. Millions of dollars were spent, tons of paper wasted, oceans of liquids consumed, all in the name of democracy, and all for the purpose of choosing a candidate known far ahead.

All Over Again

And in three weeks it will happen all over again. The Democrats will come here in the same force July 19. They will go through the same preliminaries and probably pick Roosevelt for a fourth term and adopt a platform with little public debate. And Chicago will reap another $2-000,000 or so.

Trivial. Because the convention ran a day short of the traditional four days and the attendance was low the second day, drink and refreshment concessionaires took a licking, so did those who bought bootlegged tickets . . . Like everyone else the Dewey's have maid trouble and it seemed they might not get anyone to care for their children until a cousin went to their Albany home from New York so they could come to Chicago.

Presbyterian Dies Served At St. Mary's

LONDON, Ont., June 30—(CP)—Rev. John T. Strachen, 56, Presbyterian minister at St. Marys, Ont., died in hospital here yesterday.

He was born at Brussels, Ont., where he attended public school. Later he was graduated from the University of Toronto and in 1916 he was graduated from Knox College.

He was a former minister at Owen Sound, Ont., and one-time Moderator of the Presbytery of Bruce. For three years he was a member of the Senate of Knox College and has been active in the Synod of Hamilton and London.

He is survived by his widow, a son, FO. K. M. C. Strachan, R.C.A.F. at Fingal, Ont., and a daughter, Mrs. Alan Andrews of Pembroke, Ont.

Now Brigadier

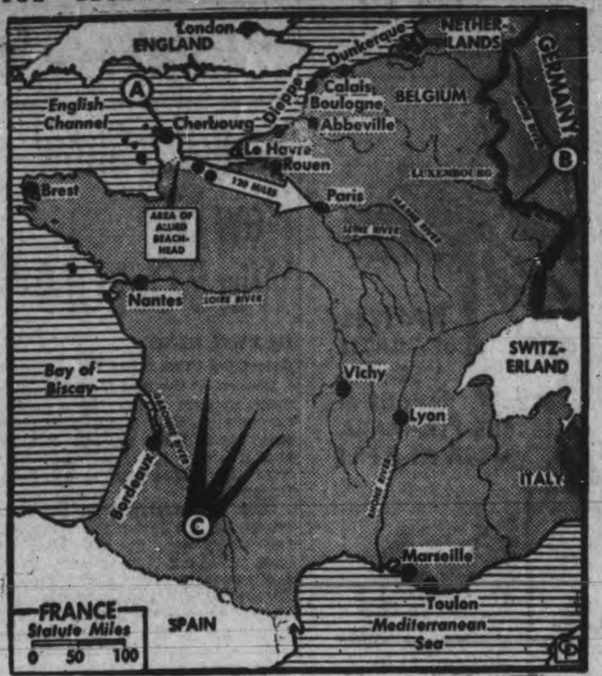
OTTAWA, June 30—(CP)—Defence Headquarters announced today the promotion of Lt.-Col. I. S. Johnston, D.S.O., E.D., 35, of Toronto, to acting rank of Brigadier with the Canadian Army overseas.

Brig. Johnston, a barrister in civilian life, has seen much action in the present war, having served briefly in France in June, 1940, and in Sicily and Italy. Born in Toronto, he attended Ridley College, St. Catharines, and then attended Royal Military College, Kingston, for five years.

Japanese Loss

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH BURMA, June 30—(CP-Reuter)— Chinese-American troops commanded by Lt.-Gen. Joseph Stilwell have in eight months' fighting in North Burma virtually destroyed the crack Japanese 18th Division, veterans of China, Malaya, Singapore, and the early Burma campaigns, it was announced yesterday.

MADE PRISONER — Gen. Von Schlieben, above, commander-in-chief of Nazi ground armies in Cherbourg, sought safety from American hands by hiding 30 feet underground in the wine cellar of the Cherbourg arsenal, but he hadn't figured on the hunting sense of the American boys. He was captured with more than 2,000 other Nazis.



CHERBOURG TAKEN, PUSH IS ON—Invasion foothold firmly secured with the complete conquest of the Cherbourg peninsula (A) the Allies now begin the big push south and east with Paris the next big objective. The German "west wall" (B) and other heavy troop concentrations (C) lie in the path of the Allies. Paris is 120 miles from Caen, which British troops have now outflanked on the road to Paris.

Germans Hint Use Of Gas In Europe

MADRID, June 30—(AP)—The latest German propaganda for distribution in neutral countries hints the Nazis may resort to the use of poison gas to combat the Allied invasion of France.

Pamphlets have been received here bearing the title "Against invasion by North American beetles" and pointing out that beetles can be combatted by "chemical means."

"If beetles attempt to raze your fields, you would never hesitate to begin a war of arsenic and sulphuric gases," said the pamphlets. "Rather that millions and millions of North American beetles should die by asphyxiation than a single European potato be lost."

Senate Passes New Voting Ban

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP)— The Senate Banking and Commerce committee adopted yesterday an amendment to the Elections Act Bill clause which is designed to prevent Japanese voting in the next Federal election.

The section provided that when in any province persons of racial origin of a country at war with Canada were barred from voting the same ban should apply throughout the dominion.

The effect was that Japanese, who are not allowed to vote in British Columbia, would come under a similar ban in all parts of Canada.

Senator Norman Lambert (L—Ontario) led a movement to have the clause struck out altogether and allow the Japanese to vote, but on a vote the amendment, sponsored by Senator J. W. de B. Farris (L.—British Columbia) carried 11-5.

The committee then passed the bill and later also passed, with only minor amendment, bills providing for the establishment of a Veterans' Affairs Department and the disposal of Crown assets.

Soldier Fined For Missing Drill

Magistrate O. A. Langley, K. C., this morning gave judgment in a cause celebre that has been before the court for weeks. His Worship registerd a conviction against R. L. McIntosh on a charge of having failed to attend a drill of the Prince of Wales Rangers, Reserve.

The evidence in the case was heard some time ago after a number of adjournments and judgments was reserved until to-day.

His Worship found that it had been proved that R. L. McIntosh was the person who had signed the attestation paper and he was therefore a member of the regiment. He also found that on the whole evidence that the accused had failed to attend drill of the unit on the date mentioned. "The onus to show a lawful excuse for not attending is upon him" Magistrate Langley said, adding that there had been no direct evidence to prove such excuse.

The fact that the uniform of the accused had been called in two years ago might well lead to a reasonable belief that he had been discharged but was not a lawful excuse in itself in the absence of direct evidence, His Worship said.

McIntosh was fined $5 and costs amounting to $10 on the one charge. Seven other similar charges laid against the accused have still to be heard.

W. J. Arthur Fair appeared for McIntosh and Major V. M. Eastwood prosecutor.

27 TONSIL OPERATIONS — Careful skilled attention by graduate nurses was given the 27 Peterborough children who had their tonsils removed at the Red Cross Blood Donors Clinic on Thursday, when the Lions' Club sponsored the tonsillectomies. Nine doctors from Peterborough worked on the cases and the Red Cross committee donated the use of the Blood Donor Clinic when the Lions were unable to get accommodation in the hospitals. School Children Give Aid To War Victims

To-day marks the final one for all school children in this region, and had one been in the vicinity of these august institutions of self-advancement, one would probably have heard many a whoop of joy or sigh of relief that the long-looked-for recess had arrived at last.

Few youngsters fully realize the important part that their school associations play in their lives in the days that are to come, nor how pleasant it is to recall the things of real worthwhile value of this period in their journey through life, much of which is so beneficial in shaping their course that it stays with them to the end.

Pleasure is all the sweeter when one can look back and feel that it has been justly earned, and when it is coupled with deeds of achievement on behalf of others in distress, it becomes all the more so. This should be the case of numerous children in the city and district at this time, for having given thought to the difficulties and troubles facing the sufferers from bomb attacks on Britain, before they entered on another of those happy periods in their lives.

S.S. 7, Smith, Sends $13.51.

The pupils and teacher, Miss Velma Northey, of School Section No. 7, Smith, take the spotlight to-day in what is purely a day belonging to the school children on behalf of the fund, their contribution amounting to $13.51, having been forwarded through J. McKerchar of Lakefield, who represents the fund in that district. This school and teacher have been heard from in a similar way before, this latest gift having been raised in various manners.

Then locally, King George Public School, of which F. E. Kerr is the principal, is credited with $3.37 they having appeared also a number of times in this column, some of quite recent date, from the collection and sale of salvage paper, itself an important war assist.

Three Gifts from Central.

No less than three different classes at Central School are included in this children's day. Grade 7, taught by G. Ball, sent $3.40 by the hand of Carl Sergeant and Harold Wilson, two of the boys of this one group.

Grade 5 taught by Miss Buck, is credited with the sum of $2.35, which follows on their previous gift given at Eastertide. The little children of Grade 2, taught by Mrs. Londerville, have also done their bit for this worthy cause, following others given on previous occasions.

Once again the fund management would draw attention to the attractive sports event to take place this Saturday, July 1, at Riverside Park, when the All-Stars of the C.G.E. Co Ltd. will stack up against the Royce Avenue Works of the C.G.E. Co. Ltd. of Toronto, at 3 p.m. Admission is 25 cents, and there wil be a draw for a Kenwood blanket.

On the same day a bazaar and stall will be operated by Dorothy McGee and two other young school girls on the dawn of the family residence at 526 Water Street, witn the proceeds coming to benefit the fund—a splendid way to start the summer holidays by doing a kind act on behalf of people in distress.

27 Children Have Tonsils Removed At Special Clinic Organized By Lions

Twenty-seven children, who might have been badly handicapped for life, were given a new opportunity for better health Thursday when the first mass program of tonsilectomies in the history of Peterborough was performed at the Red Cross Blood Donors' Clinic.

Under the sponsorship of the health and welfare committee of the Lions' Club, the project was carried out only through the co-operation of the Peterborough branch of the Red Cross, who provided the entire staff of doctors and nurses needed, and the medical facilities necessary for the operations. The Peterborough Kiwanis Club provided enough cots for the children, and blankets were supplied by the Queen's Hotel.

"We could not have possibly had any better co-operation than we received from everybody," stated F. B. Sargent, chairman of the Lions' health committee. "It is a great satisfaction for everyone concerned to have achieved such an important accomplishment in so short a time," he said.

"Mrs. R. Taylor, organizer of the project and technician of the clinic, Dr. A. G. Howson and Mrs. C. J. Ray deserve great credit for their help in making this effort a success," Mr. Sargent said.

He praised the Red Cross, who turned over the facilities of the Blood Donors' Clinic for the project, and whose doctors and nurses donated their services, and pointed out the tonsil clinic would have been impossible without the Red Cross' services, due to lack of hospital space and facilities.

Attended By Nurses

Although there was preparations made for the treatment of 29 children, two were unable to be treated; one became ill and the other ate breakfast and went to school. The children were brought to the clinic in cars supplied by the Lions, and the operations were started at 9.00 a.m. Taking their turn, and without a demonstration of any kind, the children quietly went into the room set aside for the operations, and after having their tonsils removed, lay down to rest on comfortable beds. There nurses gave them regular hospital care and in a short time were taken home. The children were selected from Separate and Public schools by Miss M. Hurtubise and Mrs. I. W. Gibson, public health nurses.

What impressed the nurses more than anything else was the manner in which the children, all of Public school age, took the operations: "They were so quiet," one of the nurses commented, "that it all seemed like a dream."

Miss M. Hurtubise, who was in the clinic all morning, said the children reacted quite favorably when told they were about to have their tonsils removed. None of them advanced any ideas about having their holidays spoiled, and they talked about what good times they'd have after it was all over, she said.

"It was one of the best clinics I've ever seen," said Miss M. Jory, Public school nurse. "The children took things so easily, and seemed to be glad to get the operation finished."

One Bolted

One amusing highlight of the day's work was when a determined eight-year-old who got cold feet at the last moment espied an open door and quickly took advantage of it to gain his freedom. Dashing out onto Water street, it required all the running ability one of the nurses could muster to finally bring him back to the clinic. Quizzed as to what he thought he was doing, the lad cheerfully replied, "I'm going home." Upon realizing his tonsils were coming out sooner or later, the youngster somewhat reluctantly submitted.

Mrs. C. J. Ray praised the doctors for their splendid co-operation and St. Joseph and Nicholls hospitals for contributing much equipment.

"It was very well done and the nurses and doctors made a great success of the project," said Mrs. R. Taylor, technician of the Blood Donors' Clinic and organizer of the program of tonsil treatments. Mrs. Taylor added she was impressed with the children's attitude and reactions which were very favourable.

The following doctors operated: Dr. C. Cragg, Dr. A. R. Stevenson, Dr. W. J. Gordon, Dr. S. Walsh, Dr. R. F. Nott, Dr. W. D. Clark, Dr. R. Young, Dr. N. D. Buchanan and Dr. F. O'Reilly.

The nurses who assisted are: Mrs. R. Taylor, Mrs. C. Davern, Mrs. G. Renwick, Mrs. D. Hill, Miss M. Hurtubise, Miss E. Morrison, Miss M. Robson, Mrs. R. Chenoweth, Mrs. S. Shields, Mrs. G. Gillespie, Mrs. G. Morrison, Mrs. V. Zufelt, Mrs. J. Vernon, Mrs. G. Miller, Mrs. M. Pringle, Mrs. A. Campbell, Miss May Jory, Miss B. Snider, Mrs. R. Gamble, Mrs. O. Steer, Miss S. Crowley, Mrs. W. J. McLaren, Mrs. A. Johnston.

Refreshments were served by Miss M. Elliott, Mrs. C. Seymour, Miss T. Allen.

Red Cross assistants who helped move equipment and drove the children home were: Miss G. Comstock, Mrs. E. Purvis and Mrs. W. Preston.

The job was finished and children at home by 5.30, except for one youngster, who was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital overnight as a precaution. He is reported fine today.

Rangers Carrier Section Training Hard Seek Top Honors At Connaught Ranges

The carrier section unit of the 2nd (R) Battalion, Prince of Wales Rangers, which will put on a demonstration of its training in tactics at Rangers summer camp at Connaught Ranges, is putting special efforts into its current drills, in order to reach the peak of efficiency and present as fine a performance as any section of any Reserve unit that will stage a demonstration at Connaught this year.

The carrier section unit is a hard-hitting, fast-moving fighting outfit that packs a tremendous wallop for its size, and, transported by universal carrier, might be described as a mobile, armored, light-machine-gun crew. The section which has been developed by the Prince of Wales Rangers is under the imemdiate command of Lieut. Graham Eastwood, while Sgt.-Maj. J. Miller is in charge of the training.

The signals section of the battalion is now able to broaden its training activities further since recently receiving new equipment, including field telephones. It is also hoping that in the future radio sets will be supplied.

This past week Victor L. Chate, 112 Muray Street, the son of R.S.M. Harold Chate of the Rangers, has enlisted in the battalion, and a second recruit was Charles R. Harte-Maxwell, 110 Simcoe Street.

ENNISMORE BOY IN FRANCE —Word was received last Saturday by Dan Kennedy, Ennismore, that his son, Pte. Mark Kennedy, taking part in the invasion of France, was fine and would write later. This has been the first word received from him in several months. He has been overseas since July, 1941, with the S.D and G. Highlanders. He was formerly an employee of the Peterborough Canoe Co.

Bail Set At $250 For Former Soldier

David McDonald, Glen Alda, who told Magistrate Langley that he had been discharged from the Canadian Army two weeks ago, pleaded guilty to a charge of having been drunk Thursday night and not guilty to a second charge of having obstructed Constable Leo Murphy in the execution of his duty.

On the first count he was fined $10, and costs, and on the second was remanded until next Wednesday on bail of $250, when the Crown announced that it was not ready to go on with the case to-day.

McDonald said at first that he was the owner of a farm in Chandos, but added later that the property was in his wife's name.

"Your wife will have to come down and bail you out," said Magistrate Langley in remanding the acused.

Drunken Driving Case Remanded Five Days

Following an accident on the Warsaw Road, west of the canal on Thursday, Richard McMahon, R.R. 10, Peterborough, was charge in the police court this morning with drunken driving and pleaded not guilty.

He was remanded until Wednesday next for trial with bail fixed at $250.

Roy Wright, charged as a third offender with having been drunk pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Magistrate O .A. Langley, K. C., to three months in the county jail.

Peter J .Kearns, stewart street, and George Rosebush, Owenbrook, who entered pleas of guilty to drunk charges were fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

70 Air Cadets To Fly At Brantford

Seventy members of Peterborough Squadron 164, Air Cadets, who will leave Wednesday, July 5, for nine days at the R.C.A.F. Service Flying School in Brantford, will all be given the opportunity to make thrilling flights in regular R.C.A.F. training planes, as part of their summer instruction.

While at camp they will be instructed in regular R.C.A.F. drill, discipline and aircraft recognition. A full program of athletics has been scheduled, and all recreational facilities of the station will be turned over to the Cadets. The boys will live on the station, and observe full military procedure.

Four officers will leave for Birch Auxiliary S.F.T.S. No 5, Brantford, Saturday, July 1, where they will take a four-day refresher course. The officers are: Flying Officers D. J. Hamilton, K. J. Currie, R. E. cers will be accompanied by Flight Sager and W. J. Hamilton. The offi-Lieutenant A W. Smith, commanding officer of the Peterborough Squadron.

"It's a great opportunity for the boys to fly under the best of auspices, and something the boys have looked forward to for the past two years. Nine days should prove an enjoyable holiday for the boys, as well as giving them the further benefit of R.C.A.F. training and discipline," Flt. Lieut. Smith said.

The Squadron Trumpet Band will accompany the Air Cadets to camp. Going to Brantford at the same time, will be the Trenton Squadron 173 Air Cadets, and Port Hope Squadron 127.

Peterborough Squadron 164 was organized in 1942, and went to camp last summer at the Bombing and Gunnery School, Mountain View. Fifteen boys have completed training with the squadron, and are now taking air-crew training in the R.C.A.F.

WO. L. M. Murie Of Cobourg Awarded D.F.C.

"A fine fighting spirit and cheerful confidence in times of stress" are high words of praise to be spoken of an airman by his superior officers, but in view of his accomplishments, now recognized by the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross, they are eminently suitable when applied to Warrant Officer L. M. T. Murie, the son of Mrs. J. Murie, 169 Hibernia street, Cobourg.

Announcement of this flier's winning the D.F.C. was made Thursday by Public Relations of the R.C.A.F. and a picture painted in a small way of the consistently high quality of performance in a heavy bomber that earned WO. Murie his decoration. The citation reads: "Through a tour of operational duty this Warrant Officer has displayed a fine fighting spirit and by his cheerful confidence in times of stress has largely contributed to the successes attained by his crew. As mid-upper gunner by his unceasing vigilance and skilful use of his guns he has several times frustrated attacks by enemy fighters."

Plan Broadcast Of Band Concert

Arrangements were made today to broadcast one half hour of the band concert on Saturday night over CHEX. The concert which is being given in front of the armouries by the military and pipe bands of the CWAC will go on the air at eight o'clock.

The bands which are made up of 46 girls in the military unit will arrive this evening and while in the city will put up at the Training Centre. The pipe band is in charge of Pipe Major Lillian Grant of Victoria the only girl pipe major in the world.

Most of Saturday afternoon will be spent in Lindsay but the units will arrive back in time for interviews to be broadcast over CHEX at 6.15. p. m.

On Sunday a picnic is being given members of the two bands and on Monday they go to Lakefield at noon where they will give a concert and on their return to Peterborough will attend the C. G. E.-Genelco picnic at Nicholls Oval.

The bands travel in three large troop transports.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

MONDAY, JULY 3, 1944

The regular collection of garbage will be carried out in the rural areas on Monday, July 3. Waggons will leave yard at 7 a.m.

2nd Annual Picnic

THE OUTBOARD MARINE & MFG. CO. are anxious to have the families of any former employees of this Company who are now in the Armed Services as our guests at the Second Annual Picnic, July 8th, at Nicholls Oval. Rides, games and "cokes" for the kiddies will be in great demand and if these families will phone 3557 they will be taken care of.

Attention - Parents

A Special Clinic for immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever and smallpox will be conducted by the Department of Health in the Immaculate Conception School every Tuesday morning, 10 to 11, during the months of July and August, beginning July 4.

The regular Clinics will be held as usual at All Saints Church on Wednesday afternoons, Dixon House Community Centre on Thursday afternoons and Central School on Friday afternoons.

Parents having infants and pre-school children who have not already been immunized against these diseases are invited to bring them to the centre nearest their homes.

Smith—McKenzie

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday afternoon in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, with Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe officiating, when Ann R. McKenzie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. McKenzie, of Inverness, Scotland, became the bride of Arnold Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Smith, Carlisle Avenue.

The bride wore a street-length dress of blue sheer, with white accessories, and a corsage of Briarcliffe roses. Her attendant, Mrs. E. Pearse, was frocked in street-length rose sheer, with white accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses. E. Pearse was best man.

After the reception, held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. Miller, Boswell Avenue, the couple left for a short honeymoon. On their return, they will make their home on Albertus Street.

Entertain Bride Before Marriage

Prior to her marriage to Arnold Smith, Miss Ann McKenzie was entertained several times by friends and fellow-employees. Mrs. W. Williams, John Street, was hostess for a miscellaneous shower recently, and Mrs. E. Milburn, assisted by Mrs. Rita McLean, was hostess for a cup and saucer shower. At a banquet, given in honor of the bride-elect at the Empress Hotel by Mrs. E. Pearse, Miss McKenzie received an occasion chair, presented on behalf of her friends.

Her fellow employees of the Porcelain and Plastics Department of the C.G.E. entertained at a picnic in her honor, and she received several gifts in pyrex. They also presented her with a floor lamp, as a wedding present.

SENT TO NEW POST—Wren Sally Courneya, who has been serving for 15 months in the W.R.C.N.S. has been reposted after taking a photographer's course in Ottawa. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Courneya, 63 Olive avenue, Wren Courneya enlisted in April 1943 and has been stationed at both Galt and Halifax. She has four brothers in the Navy, L/S Cecil, Petty Officer Writer Gordon, O/S Billy and Ldg. Steward Eddie Courneya, all on active service.

50 Girls Attend Sorority Review

About 50 girls, representing various women's organizations in the city, gathered at the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening to meet Mrs. Melita O'Hara, travel councillor for the international sorority. Beta Sigma Phi gave a review of the activities of the sorority. She also showed black and white and color pictures of Hawai, which she had taken on one of the Beta Sigma Phi "rambles" before the war.

Mrs. O'Hara, introduced by Mrs. Maurice Holt, a former director of the Omicron Chapter in Niagara Falls, outlined the educational, social and cultural encouragements offered by the sorority, which is the largest Greek letter organization in existence. She explained that from September to June, each chapter followed a general program outlined by headquarters in Kansas City, but nice gift to the fund besides making topics were developed by members. The motto of the organization, "Life, Learning and Friendship," is carried through in all programs. She also explained several interesting customs of sorority members, and said that the yellow rose was the official flower, while Beta Sigma Phi colors were black and gold.

Personal interviews with Mrs. O'Hara are necessary, and each applicant will be given careful consideration before she receives a "bid," or an invitation to join the sorority. Each girl who received an invitation to attend the meeting Thursday evening but could not be present, can still get in touch with Mrs. O'Hara and arrange for an appointment.

Bride Of July Tendered Shower

Miss Effie Graham, whose marriage to James Ross McFaul takes place July 5, was recently entertained at a personal shower by Mrs. G. Manning, 90 Gladstone avenue. Miss Betty Harrison and Miss Yvonne Manning carried in the pretty blue and pink basket of gifts to the bride-elect, and after Miss Graham had opened her gifts, the hostess served refreshments.

Those present were: Mrs. Frank Turner, Mrs. E. Young, Mrs. A. Rusaw, Mrs. G. Manning, Mrs. J. Harrison, Mrs. H. Buckton, Mrs. A. McLaren, and Misses E. Graham, Elma Hill, Louella Morgan, Yvonne Manning, Betty Harrison, Mary Samis, Jean Samis, and little Artie McLaren, Jr. Misses Jean Crawford and June Blewitt sent gifts but could not be present.

Red Cross Nursing Class Receives Graduation Pins

LAKEFIELD' June 30— (ENS) — The Red Cross Emergency Reserve Nursing Class Graduation Exercises were held in Memorial Hall and twenty-one girls were graduated.

J. McKerchar was chairman and the guest speaker was Mrs. A. C. McKenzie of Beaverton who presented the nursing class with their pins. Mrs. McKenzie said that the Red Cross now has everything on hand that can possibly be needed everywhere the boys are fighting. She spoke briefly on Florence Nightingale—how she received her nursing training first in Germany, then France, opened a nursing home in London and eventually was asked to organize an army of nurses to take into Crimea in which was the start of nurses going to war to nurse the wounded and sick.

The Reserve Nursing class said the speaker, was organized so that women in the various communities would receive training which would be of great use to them in the event of an epidemic, and to relieve the trained nurses. After the last war Canada lost more people from the 'flu' epidemic than in the war.

Work Just Beginning

Mrs. McKenzie said the work of the Red Cross only begins as the war draws to a close. One of the country's greatest problems is the checking of the spread of venereal diseases, over 70,000 cases are reported, and the doctors say for every case reported there are four unreported.

In speaking of work done by the Red Cross Mrs. McKenzie said that the men who are prisoners of war, and are trying examinations for matriculations and degrees are assisted in every way possible. One class wrote for fifteen live frogs, arrangements were made, the frogs were shipped to Switzerland and from there to their destination and one boy wrote back to say fourteen arrived safely—one having apparently hopped out on the way.

Of 6,000 boys who tried examinations 76 per cent were successful which is a high average. In closing, Mrs. McKenzie expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Belanger for bringing the class through and presented the girls with their pins.

Mr. McKerchar thanked Mrs. McKenzie for her splendid address and Mrs. J. Ridpath on behalf of the class said that they were grateful for all the kindnesses shown to them by their leaders during their training and also to Mrs. S. Trude, Mrs. S. Staples, Mrs. S. Northey, Mrs. E. Dunford who helped to get the class organized

Important Job

Dr. C. Smith gave a short address stating that it is important that the country have nurses who know what to do and what not to do. "Although," said the doctor, "Science has developed some marvellous drugs such as the sulpha drugs, they should not be looked upon as a "cure-all"—good nursing and rest are still the assentials. He extended his congratulations to the graduating class.

Mrs. L. G. Belanger, Local officer in charge then presented the certificates. Little Jo' Ann Rosborough and June Mathews presented spring flowers to Mrs. McKenzie and Mrs. Belanger. Mrs. J. Galvin was also given a gift by the class.

The addresses were interspersed with musical and dancing numbers Mr. J. Lozitto, of New York City, who with his wife, the former Janet Charlton of Lakefield is holidaying in the village, played two violin solos. He was accompanied by Miss N. Nelson.

Miss Jean Clark sang two solos which were accompanied by Mrs. Drury. Little Marlene Crowe and June Mathews in their colorful costumes danced gracefully accompanied by Miss Aileen Young, Helen, Joan and Doreen Kelly sang the "Victory Polka", and Jo' Ann Rosborough and June Mathews then drew the tickets for the Red Cross draw and the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion draw. The winners were as follows:— Doreen Northey, Lakefield; Mrs. Wanamaker, Lakefield; Mrs. J. M. Simpson, Lakefield C. Poynton, Port Hope; Mrs. Walter Baker, Oshawa; Dr. J. A. Bannister, Peterborough; Miss Mary Boyes of Pickering won the hand painting donated by Mrs. Doris Shewen.

Graduating Class

Those who graduated were—

Mrs. J. W. Ridpath, Mrs. S. E. Richardson, Mrs. J. Charlton, Mrs J. Delladonne, Mrs. A. Clayton, Mrs. E. Dunford, Mrs. R. Matthews, Mrs. J. Sabatino, Mrs. F. L. Erskine, Mrs. S. A. Grylls, Mrs. C. H. Hunter, Mrs. T. Sullivan, Mrs J. N. Brown, Mrs. G. A. Rosborough, Mrs. R. Crawford Miss J. Clark, Mrs. G. Fairbairn, Mrs. D. Davis, Mrs. C. Chittick, Mrs. L. Knox, Mrs. G. Graham. Mrs. L. G. Belanger, local officer in charge. Mrs. J. E. Galvin, Mrs G. Staples, assistant instructresses.

JUST FOR WOMEN

By CONNIE NICHOLSON
(Society Editor of The Examiner)

There's no doubt about it, liquid stockings are certainly the coolest and simplest way to insure a neat, finished appearance during the summer months. However, there is quite a knack to applying them in a really "professional" manner.

Naturally, the smoother the skin, the smoother the finish obtained. A daily rubbing with a light cream or oil has been suggested as an aid to more velvety skin, and it is a good idea. There is another way too, to get an even coat of lotion. Most experts suggest that a simple, harmless depilatory be used to remove hair from the legs. However, for the girl who wants a natural finish, more on the order of a tan, it is not necessary to do this. When the "leg-do" is smoothed on, just run the fingers lightly down the legs, to get an even coat, and eliminate streaking.

Little "bumps" in the flesh on the legs can be removed by working up a thick lather with a good complexion soap, and scrubbing vigorously with a rough wash cloth or a complexion brush. Two or three treatments generally eliminate these little spots.

The lotion should be poured into the palm of the hand, and then smoothed on in the shortest time possible. If allowed to dry before the job is completed, a streak finish generally results. It is always wise to put a little on the feet and ankles first, before tackling the rest of the leg. If it is done quickly, the liquid on the feet has no chance to dry before the rest of the lotion has been applied, and the trouble of bending over to dab liquid on the feet is eliminated. In addition there is no danger of spoiling the liquid on the legs by rubbing the hand or arm against them, or marking slip or negligee.

Liquid stockings are never suggested if there are any open cuts or scratches on the legs, where infection might set in. Until the spots have healed over, it is wiser to apply the lotion around them, or refrain from using it. If the former plan is chosen, it's really easy to steer around sore spots and cover them with a bit of gauze or adhesive after the legs have dried.

Allow at least five minutes before donning a dress, to give the liquid a good chance to dry, and avoid the danger of marking clothes. In addition, be careful when washing the hands after applying, so that no drops of water manage to splash on the legs until they have thoroughly dried, or a mottled effect will result. As soon as the "stockings" have dried, however, there is little danger of water spotting them, since it generally takes soap and water to remove the finish.

BREEZY BREVITIES

Brevity seems to be the by-word for summer styles, as Peterborough store windows have blossomed with brief, but smart, swim and play suits, and bare arm, back and midriff dresses for sports. Snappiest thing in bathing suits is the little two-piece number in a bright shade, with contrasting trim, tailored to the minute, which can be used as a play suit as well.

Cool cottons feature the play and sport outfits, with new, smart slack suits in light, cool, shades and materials, vieing with the ever-popular shorts. Many women argue that they feel much more comfortable in slacks and that they are really flattering, while others just as stoutly maintain that shorts are definitely "it" for sport. However, every woman has her own particular taste in clothes, and chooses her wardrobe accordingly. This season, whether she chooses slacks or shorts, she will be up-to-the minute, cool and attractive.

Children Need Early Training

"Women's Place in Post-War Rehabilitation" was the topic chosen for discussion by Mrs. John Cridland, as she addressed the regular meeting of the Church Women's Year of All Saints' Anglican Church Thursday afternoon.

The speaker said that Christianity and democracy went hand in hand, and should begin in the home, since it was the link between the individual and God. She also stressed the value of reading the Bible, and of teaching the child good citizenship, because the "earliest years of a child's life are the formative years." Mrs. Cridland outlined the five clauses of the government's post-war discharge re-establishment order, and concluded by asking women to work together to help bring those plans into effect.

The contents of the bale which has been packed and sent to Rev. E. J. Smith of Peace River were listed as follows: 148 articles of clothing, two new quilts, and one used quilt. Reporting for the Navy League, Mrs. R. N. Jones said that 33 knitted articles had been handed in for the month. In her report for the visiting committee, Mrs. A. Lacey said that four visits had been made, and six cards sent to sick members.

Mrs. J. Adams presided, and Mrs. R. N. Jones read the Bible lesson. Mrs. P. Hooper played an enjoyable violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. H. Logan. Mrs. W. A. Filer, in the absence of the rector, Rev. W. A. Filer, introduced the speaker. Following the adjourning of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Lacey and her group.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP

One of our recipes to-day will be for a delicious beet relish and as beets are now at their best, do some up in this way for next winter. Beet relish is delicious served with cold meat or in a salad.

Beet Relish.

Two dozen small beets cooked until tender. Put through the food chopper and add the following dressing: 1 pint vinegar, 1 cup of water, 1 pound of brown sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 teaspoon mustard, little pepper. Add 1 cup chopped celery, about 2 tablespoons of horseradish. Put on dressing and just bring to a boil.

Lady Rose Pickle.

Chop the following not too fine: 1 quart cucumbers, 1 quart onions, 2 bunches celery, 3 red peppers (hot), 3 sweet red peppers, 1 large cauliflower cut in small pieces. Cover with hot brine, ½ cup salt to enough water to coverw vegetables, and let stand overnight. Drain and add 1 quart of vinegar, 6 cups of granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons of mustard seed, 1 tablespoon celery seed. Let come to a boil, then stir in a batter made of vinegar and 2-3 cup flour, 4 teaspoons tumeric, 3 teaspoons mustard. Boil a few minutes and bottle while hot.

American Sauce.

Two dozen large cucumbers, 2 or 3 dozen small cucumbers, 1 small cabbage, 12 good sized onions. Put all through food chopper.

Mustard Dressing.

½ cup mustard, ¾ cup flour, 2 teaspoons curry powder, 2 teaspoons tumeric, 2 teaspoons (small) white pepper, 4 cups brown sugar. Mix all smooth with a little cold vinegar and add slowly 3 pints of boiling vinegar. Let boil hard about 10 minutes and bottle.

Orange Cake (By request).

One cup sugar, ½ cup butter, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ cup orange juice. Cream butter and sugar together, add eggs, milk, flour, baking powder, orange juice.

Orange Filling.

6½ tablespoons of sugar, 2 2-3 tablespoons flour, pinch of salt, 1 egg yolk, 1 1-3 tablespoons butter, 9 tablespoons boiling water, 1-3 orange, 1-3 lemon.

Orange Icing.

¼ cup butter, 2 cups icing sugar, grated rind of orange and orange juice.

Murray St. Choir Guests of Organist

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Northrop, Monaghan road, entertained 40 members of the choir of Murray Street Baptist church at their home Thursday evening. After a picnic supper, and a series of games enjoyed on the lawn, the group adjourned to the house, and joined in a singsong, with Stanley Northrop at the piano, and Mrs. Helen Welch playing her guitar. Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe and Mrs. Sutcliffe were present, and Rev. Sutcliffe on behalf of the choir, presented the host and hostess with a gift.

DOROTHY DIX . . . . .

WHY WAR BRIDE LEAVES HOME

Girl Looks Upon Living With In-Laws As Cruel Treatment But She Does It.

DEAR MISS DIX—Why, when a girl marries a man in the service, does the war bride uproot herself from her home and familiar surroundings, (provided she has a home and is happy there) to go to live with her husband's parents who are usually entire strangers to her? It doesn't make sense to me, even when you try to explain that it is in order that the husband can be with his wife and family at the same time when he is on furlough. For, if her home is in this country, surely she could go to his home for a visit at that time.

CURIOUS WOMAN.

Keeps Bride in Hand

ANSWER—I share your puzzlement over the matter, for, as a general thing, brides regard having to live with their in-laws as a cruel and inhuman treatment, nor do in-laws crave to have daughter-in-laws as permanent guests. I have wondered much over this and the only conclusion I can reach is that when a son, who is starting off to war, wishes his wife off on his family it is because he wants Mom to keep an eye on her and see that she doesn't step out with any other lad.

Or, it may be because the girl's family didn't want to be bothered with her. Perhaps they already had their house over-crowded with other daughters and daughters-in-law with their kids and, much as they love Sally or Mary or Jane, her room was better than her company. The lot of parents in war time qualifies them for honorable mention in the Book of Martyrs.

But, for whatever reason the war bride goes to live with her in-laws, it is a ghastly mistake, and one that no one with a grain of common sense or knowing a single thing about human nature can find any excuse for making. For in-laws to live together has always been a feat that only angels could pull off successfully even in ordinary times. But now, when everyone's nerves are on edge; when everybody is hungry and worried and their dispositions are at an all time low, nobody is in a mood to handle strangers with diplomacy and to laugh off other people's peculiarities.

Many men do foolishly, but no man ever does such an idiotic thing as the young husband who dumps a strange girl down into his family circlet, and says: "Mother, sisters, I know you and Mary Jane will love each other."

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a high school girl of 17 and am horrified at the fact that I am getting gray. Do you think this will affect my popularity with the boys? Please answer me at once as I am developing such an inferiority complex that I stay home all the time.

My boy friend thinks I should dye my hair red, but I feel that girls with dyed hair look very cheap.

K. H.

Gray Hair Distinguished in Youth

ANSWER — Don't worry about your hair turning gray. There is nothing more chic and distinguished and that catches the eye quicker than gray hair with a young face. Go to any gallery and you will see that when the great artists of old painted pictures of women who were famous beauties nearly all of them had on white wigs.

Don't dye your hair. It always is messy and fools nobody.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl under 20 and am employed in the work which I hope to make my career, but I am so embarrassed by the attentions of my boss that I don't know what to do. He is 60, but he seems to think that any girl working for him should permit him to kiss her whenever he wants to. I would like him as a boss if he would try to act his age and not try to get familiar every time he catches me alone. Why don't these old married men behave themselves?

WORRIED.

ANSWER—Nobody knows. But it is easy to tell you what you should do. Give up your job. No matter how good it is, it isn't worth your self-respect. There are plenty of employers who are not kissing bugs and now, when clever girls are at a premium, is a good time to hunt another job.

Reginald Tupper Conducts Exams

REGINALD DE HAVILAND TUPPER

Reginald de Haviland Tupper, vice-director of the Music Faculty of McGill University, is in Peterborough to-day and Saturday, to conduct the music examinations, on behalf of the faculty, in St. John's Parish Hall.

Born in Wimbledon, Surrey, England, Mr. Tupper was educated at the Worcester Cathedral Choir School, and sang as a chorister under Dr. Hugh Blair. Later he studied music at the Royal College of Music in London. He joined the McGill University Conservatorium in 191.

A well known lecturer and radio commentator on musical subjects, Dr. Tupper has also composed many orchestral selections, and his Suite of Old English Pieces has been played by the Montreal Symphony Orchestra.

Bible Class Honors R. W. Goheen

HAVELOCK, June 30.—(ENS). — Twenty-four members and friends of the Bible class of the United church met at the home of rMs. Harrison Wing, to honor their teacher, Mr. R. W. Goheen, who leaves shortly for Lindsay.

A sing-song of favorite hymns was led by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson. Miss V. Locklin conducted an interesting Bible quizz which was won by the team of men. During the evening Mrs. Wing read an address and Mr. Charles Roberts presented Mr. Goheen with money for a book. Mrs. Goheen sang a solo, "Face to Face."

CWAC Women Entertained At WMS Picnic

In a new setting, the Jean Wagar Mission Circle held their annual June picnic as well as their regular meeting at McDonald's Point this week.

The fine attendance of members with the C.W.A.C. girls of the local Training Centre as their guests assured a jolly afternoon and evening.

When all were seated at the table Miss Jean Hammond asked the blessing and a cordial welcome was extended to the visiting girls by Miss Jessie Martin. Under the direction of Miss Jean Davis and her committee, a picnic supper was served and a social time enjoyed.

After supper the girls gathered in a large circle when the president, Miss Lilyan Huggins, presided over the meeting. She first welcomed the guests, and then called upon Miss Lottie Leggitt, who opened the meeting with the invasion prayer. Instead of the usual scripture reading Miss Vera Leggitt led in a Bible quizz. Miss Gladys Langton gave a reading entitled "Maggie's Crutch." Miss Lottie Leggett gave an interesting talk on temperance and Miss Connie Wagar told a missionary story for girls, "The King's Daughter."

The sports program, in charge of Miss Gladys Langton, included the shoe toss, jumbled shoes, pin on the patch, a half-minute walking race, with relay races as a finale. One prize was given in each contest, and for the "pin on the patch" two prizes were given.

There will be an executive meeting in August, and the opening fall meeting will be held Sept. 25 at the home of Miss Gladys Langton with Mrs. D. Sedgwick as convener of the committee.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, July 1

Continuation of the concentrated efforts to reach high goals and to place the future and its fortunes upon an enduring and dependable basis, may bring many avenues of assistance of concrete and definite cooperation from those in influential positions. However, there is need to take particular care not to run counter to the codes or to observe public rules and regulations. Clever, judicious change, new arrangements sustained by keen judgment and common sense may secure unexpected benefits. The personal or romantic affairs may have surprises.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should marshall the forces for a sustained and enduring stabilization of the future and its comforts. There may be signs of reaching desired goals by friendly support of those in power and influence, although adherence to rules and regulations of a public nature should be strict. An alert grasp of openings, with ingenuity and out of the ordinary ways and means for handling important productions might develop surprising benefits, with promotion of favors. Use sound judgment and good sense and not impulse emotions.

A child born on this day may have high ambitions, with much ingenuity and cleverness to take advantage of lucrative conditions for attaining its objective.

To Make Tablets

HILLSBORO, Ore., June 30. — (AP).—The next important step in obtaining wider benefits from the drug pencillin will be a tablet form, says Dr. William E. Hinds, who has been producing considerable quantities of the drug in his office laboratory. Dr. Hinds, one of the first general practitioners for the drug, reported to-day that he has a Pencillin ointment fairly well developed and is busy on a new soluble type which is expected to give more accurate curative results.

...F Amendment On Budget Lost 66 to 13

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — Parliament to-day had passed another port on its long voyage home with Opposition Leaders' views on the budget set down on the record.

In addition, the House, just before adjournment last night, defeated by a vote of 66 to 13, a C.C.F. amendment to the Government motion to go into committee on the budget resolutions. A Progressive Conservative amendment ment awaits decision.

Hon. W. Earl Rowe (PC-Dufferin Simcoe), M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, and John Bracken, Social Credit House Leader, each had criticism of the financial proposals set forth on Monday by Finance Minister Ilsley.

Mr. Rowe, moving an amendment to the motion to have the House go into committee to consider the budget resolutions, said there should be an increase in the income tax exemption from $660 to $800 for single persons and from $1,200 to $1,600 for married persons. He sugested that there be exemption of overtime pay from taxation to encourage production.

Boost Exceptions.

The amendment also regretted that ful mobilization had not been made of financial, industrial and material resources as well as manpower, but was maintaining a home defence army at a time when the need for men for Army reinforcements, for farming and industry was urgent.

Mr. Coldwell suggested that income tax exemptions be raised to $1,000 for single persons and $1,500 for married.

The C.C.F. amendment regretted the government had failed to provide relief for taxpayers in lower income brackets, and had failed also to provide for the expenditure of $6,000,000,000 in the first two postwar years to establish a comprehensive system of social security and maintain full employment through housing and similar programs.

Criticizes Finances

Mr. Blackmore moved no amendment but was critical of the government financial policy which he said showed no change. He said the key to economic problems was the adequate use of national credit. Money could be created by the government of any sovereign state and be used to provide the purchasing power required to provide a demand for goods and employment.

Private members took up the discussion of budget proposals when the leaders had finished their addresses.

Members said they hoped the budget discussions would be short. With the war appropriation bill approved, and many of the ordinary non-war estimates discussed, the budget resolutions represent an important part of the remaining sessional business.

T. Farguhar (L-Algoma East) said that C.C.F. policies represented a threat to organized labor as government ownership of industry would end the freedom of labor to organize and strike.

Frederic Dorion (Ind.—Charlemoix-Saguenay) said doors should not be opened for immigration until it had been ascertain by survey how many immigrants could be absorbed by Canada.

He said he had "nothing against" Hebrews but sometimes it appeared as if the war were being fought for the purpose of saving Jews.

Provinces should be asked to pass legislation on immigration, as was their right, so their views would be made known.

Lt.-Col. Arthur Ross (PC-Souris) said there was "a great deal of extravagance" under the present government. The Wartime Information Board spent $1,000,000 a year on propaganda, much of it political and some of it misleading.

TOOK SOLDIERS TO FRANCE —Robert L. Jopling, who is a gunner on an L.C.I. helped take troops to France for the invasion and by June 12, had made three trips to the invasion coast. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jopling, Bridgenorth.

Heavy Attack Like Fireworks To Navy Gunner

A gunner on the front of a L. C. I. (Landing Craft Infantry) shuttling between the coasts of England and France, has a ringside view of the actions according to Robert L. Jopling, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jopling Bridgenorth who wrote his parents about three trips he made up until June 11.

"We have at last opened the second front and it was exciting and terrible. I am writing this about a quarter mile off the coast of France and it is just like July 1 with heavy gunfire and aircraft bombing of the beach. We have been very busy with troops and have had little time for sleep. I expect we will be going back to England to-morrow.

"On our third trip I was ashore and I saw many dead soldiers. Until you see them, you would never believe there is a war on. When you view a few of these sights and hear the lead whistling around your ears, it brings it home to you."

The young sailor wrote that he had picked up a few souvenirs on his second trip. He said he guessed his ship must have been lucky as mines were going off and ships went to pieces like paper boxes all around him.

The writer concludes the letter, the following day telling his family that he is on his way back to port. He wrote that he could see the shores of England, which for once he'll be glad to see, and that he hopes to get a leave.

Robert Jopling joined the navy in 1942 and has been overseas 1½ years. A brother Jack, was a wireless operator, ground, with the the R. C. A. F. overseas for 1½ years and was discharged a year ago.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

It is men's rinks for tonight. The draw will be made at 7.30 p.m.

The ladies' section is sponsoring a mixed tournament, next Wednesday evening, all in aid of The Milk for Britain Fund. The fee is 50c per player and the draw is scheduled for 7.30 p.m. Keep this date in mind.

Some of the smartest bowling that has taken place on our greens this summer was seen on Thursday afternoon, and done by the women. One game was tied 7-7, another tied 11-11, two won out on the last end and the other one, won by two shots. And make no mistake about it, these women were playing for keeps. As far as the draw game is concerned we believe they compare very favorably with a lot of men bowlers. They seem to be improving everytime they play. And just on the side, if things keep going the way that they now are, there is going to be one sweet race for the club championships.

Hatch's Acara In West Derby

WINNIPEG, June 30—(CP)—A six-horse Canadian Derby is considered likely in a survey of the stock now in contention for the West's premier three-year-old stake to be run at Polo Park here Saturday. A fast-drying oval gave promise that the 15th running of the $5,000 added classic will favor three-year-old Canadian breds that like a slow track.

Bobby Watson, abroad H. C. Hatch's Acara in winning the 1944 running of the King's Plate at Toronto, believes he will be up on the "best three-year-old in the Dominion" in the Derby. If the track is heavy, Ompalo, the other half of the Hatch entry, will be a real threat said the jockey who booted home five winners in one day at Hamilton, Ont., last Tuesday.

Western breds expected to compete against the Hatch duo include Dr. L. H. Appleby's Cum Laude, the Whittier Park Stock Farm's Gower Mon, A. G. Tarn's Divulge and S. T. Knifong's Galline.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
35—The Grand Coup

COMPLEX squeezes, throw-ins and other fancy plays do not occur very frequently even among the most advanced players of the game. It would hardly be fair to expect new devotees of bridge to begin making them very soon, but an understanding of those devices will add to anyone's appreciation of his pastime. It is in that spirit that the most fancily named play of all is explained today—the "Grand Coup."

This play is for the purpose of protecting yourself against a trump honor held by an opponent, who has it so well guarded that apparently you have no chance to trap it, since you are unable to finesse often enough through it. Here is an example:

West	North	East	South
♠ 4	♠ A 2	♠ Q 8 7 5	♠ K J 10 9 6 3
♥ J 2	♥ 9 8 7 5 4	♥ A K 10	♥ Q 6 3
♦ 9 8 6 5 4 3 2	♦ A Q J	♦ 10 7	♦ K
♣ 9 7 2	♣ A Q 10	♣ 8 6 5 3	♣ K J 4

Playing at 4-Spades, South sees East score the heart K and A and then lead back the 10, which West ruffs with the spade 4. Now West leads the diamond 5, which South wins with the K. He leads the spade J to induce West to cover if he has the Q, but the latter discards a diamond. South now knows the bad news about East's trump holding, but careful planning saves the day for him.

He wins that trick with the spade A, leads the spade 2 to finesse the 10, goes to the dummy with the club K overtaken by the A, and leads the diamond Q. He ruffs this perfectly high card with the spade 3. Next he enters dummy with the club J to the Q and leads the diamond A. East seeing that a ruff by him would only sacrifice his spade Q, discards a club, whereupon South ruffs a second good trick with his spade 6.

Now he goes to dummy again with the club 4 to the 10, and leads one of the two cards remaining there, both of which are hearts. East, with only the spade Q-8, has to play before South, who has the spade K 9. So South captures East's trump queen.

Notice what would have happened if South had not trumped those two diamond tricks. He would have finished with the lead in his own hand and would have had to lead away from his trumps to East's guarded queen, assuring the setting trick to him.

When a player trumps some card for the express purpose of shortening his trump holding in this way, it is called a "trump coup." And if the card ruffed is one which would have been a winner otherwise, it is called a "grand coup." When two such winners are ruffed, it is called a "double grand coup." There have been rare cases of triple grand coups, well authenticated, and on a number of occasions through the years somebody claims having heard that a quadruple one was made by somebody. It has never been our privilege to meet such a chap, though we have seen a number of synthetic hands with such plays set up.

New Ack-Ack Gun Undergoes Tests

ERIE PROVING GROUNDS, Lacarne, O., June 30—(AP)—Capable of outreaching the highest-flying bombers, a new anti-aircraft giant is being used by the United States army to clear the skies of enemy planes.

Army ordnance experts at this testing grounds today took the wraps from the 120mm. anti-aircraft cannon, bigger than any other similar armament known.

Newsmen saw a demonstration of the 20-ton mobile monster, with a potential firing rate of 12 shells a minute. Newest feature is an automatic rammer, which sets a 50-pound shell in the breech, adjusts its fuse and rams home a semi-fixed charge of powder.

Assembled in Grand Rapids, Mich., the gun costs more than $100,000 per unit, Col. F. E. Rundell, commander of the proving grounds, said.

Described by one officer as "a box of brains and 19 strong backs," because of its highly secret control mechanism and crew of 19, the gun has been in combat, although no details are available on its performance, Col. Rundell asserted. Proof-firing and testing of the gun was begun several months ago.

Biggest army anti-aircraft weapon previously used was a 90mm. gun which sent a projectile less than half the size of that fired in the new unit to a height of about 35,000 feet.

It Went Back

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND, June 30—(CP-Reuters). — Straight-faced anti-aircraft gunners tell this story about one German buzz-bomb which failed to land where the Germans hoped it would. An anti-aircraft shell burst immediately beneath the robot projectile as it whizzed across southern England, they said. The blast caused the buzz-bomb to turn around and it was last seen headed back toward France.

2 Destroyers Fire 3 Hun Trawlers

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 30—(CP Cable)—The Canadian Destroyer Huron, in company of the British Destroyer Eskimo, fired on three German trawlers off the Channel islands from nearly five miles and closed the range quickly to blow up one and force a second to abandon ship early yesterday.

The second vessel was sunk with gunfire while the third trawler, last night's communique from Supreme Headquarters said, managed to escape though it was believed to have been damaged.

The Tribal class destroyers were on patrol around the islands off the coast of France when they encountered the enemy craft.

Ticklish Job

LONDON, June 30—(CP)—An understanding on the civil administration and currency of liberated French territory—two ticklish problems—have been reached by Britain and representatives of General de Gaulle's National Liberation Committee, it was learned today.

The agreement was worked out at a series of secret meetings and it is expected that a formal draft will be signed within a few days.

The draft then will be sent to Washington for possible suggestions.

Still A Problem

HEADQUARTERS, 21st Army Group, June 30—(CP). — Maj.-Gen. Cecil Ray Moore, United States Army, chief engineer of the European theatre of operations, who had just returned from Cherbourg, told correspondents yesterday that the port, while extremely valuable, was no complete solution to the Allied shipping problems. The general stressed that Cherbourg was an addition to, and not a replacement of Allied beach facilities.

British Labor Dislikes Gen. Fra[nco]

LONDON, June 30—(CP-Reuter)—The National Council of Labor, joint governing body of the British Labor Party, the Parliamentary Labor Party and the Trades Union Congress, in a statement yesterday said it views with misgivings Prime Minister Churchill's recent "kindly words" in the House of Commons regarding the Spanish Government.

The statement said: "In dissociating itself from these observations the Council recalls those tragic years when the Spanish people were engaged in a bloody struggle in defence of their constitutional rights and liberties against the military rebels under the leadership of Gen. Francisco Franco who with [the aid] of the German and Italian dictators threw the Spanish people back into physical, intellectual and political servitude..."

Government Still Discourages Building Of Non-Essential Homes

OTTAWA, July 1—(CP).—Housing construction in Canada must be limited in 1944 by shortages of materials and labor, Lionel Chevrier, Parliamentary assistant to Munitions Minister Howe, said in a statement in Commons Friday on behalf of Mr. Howe. The statement said housing construction licenses were being issued only in areas where houses were required and within limits set by the expected availability of materials.

The shortages which would restrict residential building applied also to commercial and industrial construction, and the Minister asked those now holding licenses for such projects to give serious consideration to postponing the work until the supply situation eased.

He reported that 23,575 licenses for the construction of private dwellings were issued in 1943 and to May 31 this year there have been another 12,945.

Erroneous Interpreaon.

Recent amendments to the National Housing Act to give assistance in financing home building had been erroneously interpreted in some quarters as indicating a general Government policy of encouraging immediate construction on a large scale all across Canada.

"During 1944 the housing program must be limited," the statement continued. "It will be limited by our war program and the resultant shortages of materials and manpower.

"Materials for housing are being produced only to the extent that it does not jeopardize, in any way, the flow of munitions to our troops and Allies. The time is not yet here when we can provide unlimited quantities of construction materials.

Because of these conditions licences would be restricted to projects needed to provide homes for those without essential accommodation. Housing intended merely to provide improved accommodation would have to be postponed.

The Department's most recent survey showed shortages in lumber, brick, tile, concrete blocks, plumbing fixtures, and furnaces. The supply of hot air furnaces fell short of a wide margin of meeting overall requirements.

Conflicting Statements

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said that a recent statement on housing by Finance Minister Ilsley had dealt with financing provisions.

Allied Leader Sends July 1 Greeting

ADVANCE COMMAND POST, SUPREME ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 1.— (CP).—Gen Eisenhower to-day sent a Dominion Day message to all Canadian members of the Allied Expeditionary Force.

The message, signalled from Supreme Headquarters to Canadians in the army, navy and air force and to Canadian airmen in the R.A. F. Bomber Command, said:

To you Canadian members of this Allied force all your team-mates send Dominion Day felicitations. We are proud of the fighting record that you are every day establishing by land, by sea and by air.

On this 77th anniversary of the Dominion's birth you are adding new glories to the name of Canada and standing true to the principles that have made her great.

Last Germans Rounded Up

By ROBERT REUBEN,
Reuter War Correspondent.

WITH THE UNITED STATES FORCES, CAP DE LA HAGUE, July 1 —(CP-Reuter) — German forces cornered in the Cap De La Hague surrendered last night and for all practical purposes their resistance has ended.

American patrols are now engaged in seeking out stragglers in the wooded country near the shore line.

Late yesterday, it was reported that some German forces attempted an evacuation from the tip of the peninsula but that Allied ships sunk their escape vessels.

Several huge railway guns, flame throwers, and other equipment have been captured and over 20000 prisoners taken.

Polish Government Is Denounced By Patriots

LONDON, July 1 —(CP) — The union of Polish patriots in Soviet Russia denounced the Polish Government in London to-day as illegal and said the new Poland would be built around the National Council of Poland.

A Moscow broadcast, announcing a resolution to that effect had been adopted by the Union, was recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Both the Union and the National Council are pro-Russian and their representatives have been met by Premier Stalin.

A Provisional National Government for Poland was suggested by the Union.

Monetary Men Planning Post-War Era

By DONALD KOVACIC
Associated Press Staff Writer

BRETTON WOODS, N.H., July 1—(AP).—The United Nations' monetary and financial conference opens today to plan the foundations for two new business houses on the world's main street.

One is a $310,000,000,000 department store, the shelves of which would be stocked with dollars, pounds, rubles, yuan, francs and the other monies of the world and with a storage vault for some $2,000,000,000 in bright and shiny gold.

The other is a $310,000,000,000 bank, patterned after the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Together they are designed to promote world trade and prosperity and remove the causes of war.

Elect President.

The conference will convene late in the day to hear a message from President Roosevelt, to name United States Treasury Secretary Morgenthau its president and to chart the course of discussions that probably will last three weeks or more.

On hand at this newly-refurbished resort are representatives of more than 40 countries and the French Committee of National Liberation. Their decisions—the first sought on a world-wide scale since the 1933 London monetary and economic conference—will go before each government for approval or rejection.

The projected department store, more formally designated as an international monetary fund, would be set up at the start as an $8,000,000,000 project, later to be expanded by opening its doors to the nations now neutral or at war with the United Nations.

Its purpose would be to assign gold values to the various monies and then by buying and selling them at stabilized rates, provide each country with the foreign exchange it needs to pay its curent bills abroad.

To participate as the fund is now blueprinted would mean an investment by the United States of about $2,500,000,000. Britain could come in for about half that amount, Russia for about $1,000,000,000, China something over half Russia's share and the other nations correspondingly smaller amounts.

The conference must fix these quotas definitely and, among other things, determine how the fund should operate to keep all monies plentiful enough in the world supply so that Canada, for instance, would not find its foreign markets closed by a lack of dollars abroad.

The world R.F.C., proposed as a United Nations bank for reconstruction and development, would mean an outlay by the United States of about $3,500,000,000, Britain about $1,000,000,000 and Russia little less. Its purpose would be to provide long-term credit when other sources are not available.

Nazis Murder Army Padre Treating Wounded Soldiers

NEW YORK, July 1 — (CP). — The following dispatch by Leonard Mosley, war correspondent of the Kemsley Newspaper of Great Britain, was distributed in New York yesterday by the British Information Service. It bore the dateline "With the British 6th Airborne Division in Normandy, June 29.

"This is the story of one of the most brutal actions perpetrated by the Nazis against British troops in Normandy—the story of how German soldiers broke into a medical aid post of killed and wounded in the Orne Valley on D-Day, killed the helpless men, then murdered the padre, George Edward Maule Parry of the 6th Airborne Division who tried to defend them.

"Parry, 29, formerly of parish churches in North-east London suburbs at Leytonstone and Forest Gate, was killed by knife and bayonet. His brother, Lieut. Peter Francis Maule Parry, was killed in North Africa in November, 1941.

"Here are the details of the Nazi murder raid on the wounded as far as could be pieced together for me by the officers and men of the 6th Airborne Division to which I was attached as a war correspondent.

"The Parachute Division was given the job early on D-Day of dropping by parachute and capturing intact the vital bridges spanning the River Orne and the Caen Canal. Parry dropped with them. Soon all were engaged in defending themselves against the determined Nazi counter-attacks. Hearing that A Company of the battalion holding defences in the perimeter along the west side of the canal near Le Port village was in sore straits and aid for the wounded was badly needed, Parry went to join them through the darkness.

"After he arrived Nazi forces infiltrated between the company and the rest of the battalion, cutting them off from all help. Soon after dawn a panther tank and a self-propelled gun opened fire on the

Rommel Takes Over On Death Of Gen. Dollman

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE July 1 (AP)—The British Second Army stood firm on its Odon river salient in the seething battle for Caen today, having repulsed furious attacks by elements of seven Panzer divisions.

Thirty more German tanks were reduced to shattered hulks bringing the total destroyed by the British alone since D-Day to 142 and the total destroyed or disabled to 322.

If the German armored units which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has thrown into the fight were up to strength they would represent about 2,000 tanks and self-propelled guns. Some of the units have been brought from Russia.

American forces, in local attacks in the central sector of the bridgehead, drove to within two and one half miles of St. Lo, reaching the village of La Forge, on the main highway to Isigny and Le Carillon, due north of the city.

Short Sharp Attacks

Indications were seen here today that Rommel himself had taken personal command of the bridgehead front, particularly after the death of Col. Gen. Friedrich Dollmann, commander of the German 7th Army, which Berlin announced yesterday.

It was apparent, too, that Rommel was trying to use his Panzers as he did in the Libyan desert to force quick, violent decisions.

But thus far British pressure in the Odon River salient was so great that Rommel had been unable to mount a large scale counter-attack but had been committing his divisions in local attacks as they reach the scene of action.

Rommel still had a sizeable reserve of tanks.

"Allied troops are strengthening their positions on both banks of the Odon River," said Allied communique No. 51 to-day. "All enemy attempts to break through were frustrated in the Caen-Evrecy sector. There is nothing to report on the west of the front."

The Royal Air Force yesterday sent big Lancasters and Halifaxes, usually used for night bombing, on one of their few daylight tactical missions, the bombing of Rommel's reserves of armor. More than 250 of these heavy bombers dropped 1,000 tons of bombs on a concentration of German tanks at Villers-Bocage.

The Supreme Command also announced that a British division which crushed the heaviest German armored counter-attack to date yesterday across the River Odon has never been in action be-

British Guns Block Nazis

By ROGER GREENE,

ON THE BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 1 —(AP) — Massed British guns laid down a sky-flaming, all-night bombardment against German troops and tanks attacking on the west flank of the Odon river corridor.

Instead of finding the British napping, the Germans ran into a deadly barrage by British 17-pounders, and were thrown into rapid retreat.

"The Hun found we were bristling with guns tanks and troops" a staff officer said.

On the east flank of the corridor, the Germans staged a hit-run "demonstration" attack this morning near Macelet, and again bumped into a stonewall, with four Mark IV tanks knocked out.

MOSCOW, July 1 (AP)—Front dispatches said today that remnants of a demoralized Germany Army are pouring into Minsk, now outflanked from the northwest, and that the roar of battle is echoing through the city's outskirts. Storm Troopers and the Gestapo were reported trying to create some kind of order out of the battered, frightened Nazi legions defending the capital of White Russia, now Hitler's most important bastion on his Eastern front.

Three Soviet armies converged rapidly upon Minsk from the northeast, east and southeast. Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's Third Army streamed through the thick forests northeast of the city over numerous bridges now stretched across the Berezina River.

The Army paper Red Star revealed that the main crossing was made over a bridge which guerillas held in a pitched battle until Red Army troops arrived.

NEW YORK, July 1 — (AP). — Russian troops have surrounded Minsk and taken possession of the leading rail and road routes leading to Warsaw from the White Russian capital, the BBC said to-day in a broadcast recorded by NBC.

The Red Star dispatch said Soviet cavalry moved through the forests north of Minsk and outflanked the city from the northwest.

Correspondents reported hundreds of demoralized Germans surrendering before they reached the city.

The Red Army was represented as having some difficulty in moving up for a direct blow upon Minsk because of the large number of captives crowding the roads.

Fraser Talks Post-War Plans

OTTAWA, July 1 — (CP). — Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand to-day renewed acquaintances with Canadian Cabinet ministers and discussed war and post-war problems in which two countries have a common interest.

He was a Dominion Day guest of Prime Minister Mackenzie King for luncheon at Laurier House and for dinner at the Country Club.

With Mrs. Fraser the New Zealand Leader reached Ottawa yesterday from the United Kingdom after attending the conference of Prime Ministers and visiting New Zealand troops fighting in Italy.

In a speech to a joint meeting of the House of Commons and Senate he expressed confidence the end of the war in Europe would not be long delayed. After that, he said he hoped Prime Ministers Mackenzie King, Churchill, and other leaders would come to Australia and New Zealand for a conference as the entire forces of the United Nations were turned against Japan.

To a press conference later Mr. Fraser outlined his views on the post-war international organization. He said it was proper that the big four, Britain, United States, Russia and China be permanent members of the executive council.

As such, however, he said Britain would not speak or act for New Zealand and the other member states of the British Commonwealth Each would speak for itself in the assembly of the organization and have a turn at temporary membership in the council.

Asked if it was not possible for the Comonmwealth to have a common voice while each country had representation, Mr. Fraser said:

"Going into an international body in a bloc? That's no good at all. None of us stand for that."

New Zealand, he said, favors complete internationalization of international air services, but is prepared to discuss the whole question of aviation with other countries.

Failing internationalization, he he said he hoped there would be a Pacific air line under the control of those parts of the Commonwealth bordering the Pacific.

Allies Raid Europe Five Times In 24 Hours Of Heavy Bombing

LONDON, July 1—(AP).—Heavy British bombers, maintaining a steady campaign, aimed at strangling the Nazis' channels of reinforcement for the Normandy front, bombing rail centres at Vierzon, 48 miles south of Orleans, last night in the fifth heavy bomber operation in 24 hours. At the same time Royal Air Force Mosquitos kept up the pressure on Germany itself by attacking a synthetic oil plant near Homberg on the Rhine. One Mosquito failed to return.

The five heavy bomber operations cost 16 planes. R.A.F. heavy bombers struck twice at the Germans' flying bomb launching ramps in Northern France yesterday and American bombers sashed at five enemy air fields in France and Belgium before a force of over 250 British Lancasters and Halifaxes turned from strategic to tactical work shortly after suppertime last evening.

In that unusual operation the R. A.F. heavy bombers, escorted by Spitfires, dumped over 1,100 tons of expolsives on German armor and troop concentrations near Villers Bocage. The big planes descended below 4,000 feet to deliver that blow in support of the Allied ground troops in Normandy.

The Germans continued sending their flying bombs into Southern England last night and to-day, causing additional casualties and damage.

Allied fighter-bombers attacked rail lines and other installations behind the battlefront until dusk yesterday. Supreme Headquarters said these continuing assaults had been so effective in the triangle bounded by the Seine and Loire rivers that the Germans now are

Nazi General Commends Allies

ROME, July 1 (AP)—Headquarters of Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring credited the Allied offensive in Italy with being "launched and conducted with absolute co-ordination," conceded that Allied troops moved through mountains considered impassable and that the performance of Allied tanks and vehicles was "astoundingly good."

This evacuation was contained in a German official document captured by the 5th Army.

It said the first attacks followed an artillery barrage "of unprecedented intensity" which "reached as far as our own artillery.

"Smoke was employed to screen our observation and conceal enemy movement on an unprecedented scale....The enemy artillery frequently was directed by air observation. Artillery reconnaissance planes were protected so strongly by fighters that they could operate without the slightest disturbance as if on manoeuvres.

"With the aid of these artillery observation planes the enemy was able to kill off strongpoint after

Robot Casualties Mounting Churchill To Give Report

LONDON, July 1—(AP)—German flying bombs crashed intermittently into Southern England today and it was believed likely that Prime Minister Churchill might make a brief statement to Commons next week on this new form of German attack.

It was felt, however, that the Prime Minister would not give full details on the districts where the missiles have been hitting, the extent of damage they are doing or the methods used to combat them.

Yesterday the Prime Minister toured anti-aircraft sites watching the battle against the winged bombs.

The number of robot planes coming over increased after dawn and the Air Ministry announced additional casualties and damage.

Some were shot down by gunfire.

Two more hospitals were hit. Seven of 30 patients were killed at one hospital struck at night, but there were no deaths or serious injuries at the second.

The toll of deaths climbed as the blindly fired bombs fell across wide areas during the day. Two women were killed in a dentist's office, five persons were trapped and one killed in the wreckage of one house, another person was killed and several hurt when some houses were smashed at breakfast time, and six were killed at another place.

Workmen still were digging in the ruins of a nursery hit and demolished yesterday with an undetermined number of fatalities. Twenty-six babies, all less than two years old, were sheltered there.

In one of the most detailed descriptions yet given of the Nazi flying weapon, the International Information Bureau, German propaganda agency, said in a broadcast that a "rocket propelled gear" gives the winged bomb a speed of 375 miles per hour, carrying an explosive load of more than one ton. The range, the broadcast said, is fixed before firing.

The robots, the agency claimed, are launched from underground emplacements which "are indestructible for all practical purposes."

5th Repulses Counters Below Cecina

Drive On Liverno Gaining 8th Army Moves Up

ROME, July 1 —(AP) — Fifth Army infantry beat off German tank counter-attacks in the outskirts of Cecina yesterday and continued the drive along the Italian west coast in the direction of Livorno (Leghorn) and Pisa, while the French gained another mile on the road to Siena, 31 miles below Florence, Allied Headquarters said today.

In the Adriatic sector the enemy has withdrawn from the Chienti river and the Eighth Army has crossed the stream in several places. The Germans were falling back to the Musone river, only 100 miles south of the big port city of Ancona.

Around Cecina, where the enemy had broken contact previously and started to flee, close pursuit by the Fifth Army caused the Germans to attempt a counter-attack last night. This was repulsed, and the Doughboys moved into the Southern outskirts of the town yesterday afternoon, while others pushed across the Cecina river, some three miles northeast of the town, and drove on northward.

By late afternoon the Americans were in contact with the enemy on the south bank of the Cecina river on the coast, meeting mortar and small arms fire. The important port of Livorno was 17 miles ahead.

Guardistallo, six miles east of Cecina, and Casale, five miles southeast, were taken in the newest advance.

French Close In

The French closed in to a point only six miles south of Siena, and captured a number of towns and villages in the rough area between the west coast and Lake Trasimeno, including Buonconvento and San Giovani which first was bypassed and then was the scene of a bitter fight.

An American armored column drilled through minefields and curtains of enemy fire to seize the villages of Montecerboli, Montecastelli and San Dalmazio, all in an area of

Blue Uniforms Anger Soldier

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN FRANCE, July 1.—(CP Cable.) — There's a story going around R.C.A.F. messes in France that the blue air force battle dress commonly worn here may be replaced by a uniform of another color—perhaps khaki battle dress.

The reason given is that the present blues—particularly when dusty—look too much like the uniforms worn by German troops.

It's a fact that a party of fighter-pilots including Sqdn. Ldr. Dal Russell of Montreal was roundly abused when travelling to a United States sector by a doughboy who poked his head out of a slit trench as they drove by.

The Canadians couldn't understand why the American was irate until they saw him again as they returned by the same route.

The American apologized, and said "it was your uniforms." He had thought the Canadians were Germans.

9,752 U.S. Casualties In Fighting On Saipan

PEARL HARBOR, July 1 (AP)—American forces punched through intensified Japanese resistance today on Saipan Island, already the Pacific war's bloodiest battlefield, with 9,752 American dead, wounded and missing.

Admiral Nimitz announced Friday that casualties for the first two weeks were: dead, 1,474; wounded, 7,400; missing, 878.

Japanese losses were higher—4,961 bodies have been buried — but the defenders were fighting with increased tenacity.

New gains were reported in the centre of the battle line and on the eastern flank as American forces pushed through difficult terrain.

Senators Bitter Deny Vote To Japs

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP)— The Senate last night wound up its most spirited debate of the session with a 13-9 vote against removing from a bill amending the Elections Act a clause depriving Japanese of a vote in a federal election.

As a result of other amendments to the bill main purpose of which is to provide for taking the vote of members of the armed forces, the measure will go back to the Commons and there was strong opinion in parliamentary circles today that it would lead to a wide-open debate on the Japanese question in that chamber.

Japanese in British Columbia already are banned from voting in a general election because of provincial legislation disfranchising them in a provincial election. The clause to which objection was taken would have made this restriction applicable in all other provinces and would have affected some 4,000 Japanese in other provinces.

Senator J. J. Bench (L.—Ontario) led the group of upper house members who objected to the clause as being "racial discrimination." He proposed an amendment to strike out the clause.

Senators who spoke in support of his amendment included William Duff (L.-Nova Scotia), Norman Lambert (L.-Ontario), Cairine Wilson (L.-Ontario), W. A. Buchanan (L.-Alberta) and James Murdock (L.-Ontario). Senator W. A. Greisbach (P.C.-Alberta) and Senator John T. Haig (P.C.-Manitoba), acting Progressive Conservative Senate leader, opposed it in addresses.

Those in favor of allowing the Japanese to vote held that there should be no discrimination against native-born and naturalized Canadians because of their racial origin.

Senator Greisbach said the Japanese by their treatment of prisoners and other actions had proven that they could never become true citizens of a democracy. After the war all Japanese should be deported from Canada, he suggested.

The Senate adjourned to July 18.

fore, and it was the first time they had fired their guns in a fight with the enemy.

A check of the battlefield revealed that the Germans suffered heavy casualties in their violent counterattack to the river Odon two nights ago. This attack was repelled in four hours of bitter fighting by a British division which never had been in action before.

3 Vicious Attacks.

Yesterday Rommel attacked "viciously" three times at the salient across the Odon, Supreme Headquarters said, but was unable to disrupt reorganization of his striking forces by Lt.-Gen. Miles Christopher Dempsey, commander of the British Second Army.

The grim determination of the German High Command to block the Allied advances was seen in the fact that despite their serious defeats on the Russian front, they have been withdrawing divisions from the eastern front and sending them to France.

Dempsey announced at the front last night that his men had captured prisoners who only recently had arrived from the fighting in Russia. He asserted he was "completely confident as the situation stands now. The enemy has had a crack. As usual the Hun has reacted very quickly and violently. He is now rushing reinforcements into the battle. We are fully ready."

Rommel was using his best tanks, Panthers and Tigers, in the assault on the Caen sector.

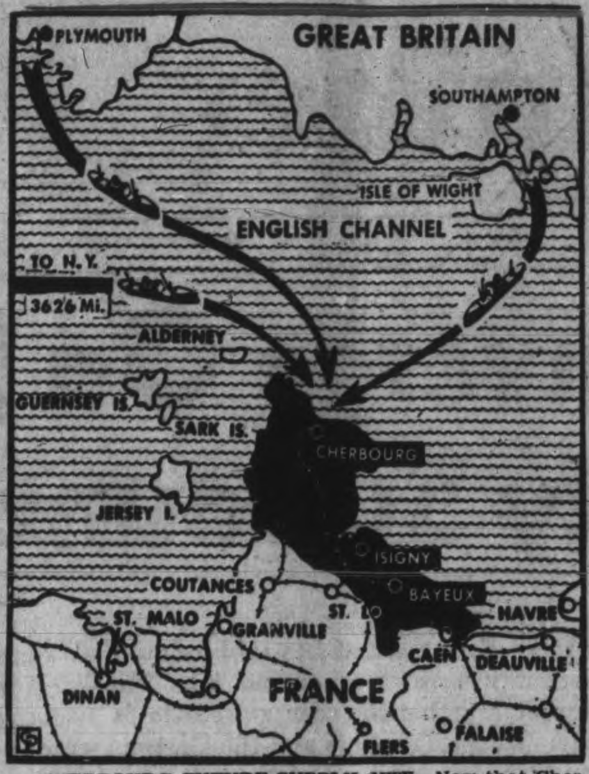
Today there was a temporary lull in the fighting as both sides regrouped their forces for a big effort.

Maj-Gen. Joseph Lawton Collins, commander of the Seventh U.S. Army Corps, continued his steady mopping up of the Cap de la Hague sector on the northwest tip of the Cherbourg Peninsula, the last centre of German resistance.

The fall of Fort Querqueville removed the last heavy gun menace to Cherbourg harbor. It was learned that some of the batteries of this fort put up a tremendous fight before being overwhelmed by air bombardment and land and sea shelling.

As yet there was no full report on the condition of Cherbourg harbor. Minesweepers were the first ships into the port which had been heavily mined.

As heavy air support of the land operations was continued it was estimated by the air forces that their attacks had cut nine-tenths of all rail transport into the battle area—and now almost everything the Germans bring up is forced to move at night by road.



CHERBOURG FUTURE SUPPLY SITE—Now that Cherbourg is in Allied hands, experts expect its vast port facilities to be engaged in "limited unloadings" of supplies and troops for the Battle of Normandy. As the map shows, ships arriving from Canada and the United States will be able to move directly to the French coast, rather than to British ports, and big ship movements will replace the beach landings.

Protested Action.

"A Company's commander was so badly wounded that he carried on the direction of the battle from a stretcher. All efforts to get help from the rest of the battalion failed and many died trying to get through.

"After one attack the enemy broke A Company's line at one point, penetrating sufficiently to reach the medical aid post where Parry was working on the wounded. Those near enough to see what happened say the Nazi troops who seemed to be in a frenzied condition, set upon the wounded, shooting and bayoneting them.

"Parry immediately went to the aid of the helpless Britons lying on the dressing station floor. He protested against the murder of the helpless paratroopers and then when this was ignored by the enraged Germans he is believed to have put himself between the Nazis and the wounded troops. He was then charged by the enemy and in the following struggle the Nazis used bayonets and knives and Parry was cut down. He fell beside the men he tried to save.

"Owing to the desperate situation prevailing it was impossible for anyone in A Company to aid him or their comrades and for several hours the medical post was in No Man's Land. Later the company's second in command managed to reach the battalion headquarters to tell the story, despite a wounded shoulder.

"There he refused to have his wound dressed but asked for a patrol and immediately returned to his company, fighting the whole way back. It was this patrol which recaptured and occupied the medical post. They found all the occupants dead with Parry lying beside them. Then with this small reinforcement A Company held off the subsequent Nazi attacks until the late evening when troops from the beaches fought their way through and relieved them.

"Parry was immensely popular and the news of his death and the way he died sent a wave of fury and indignation through the whole division."

Scots Avenge St. Valery Fight

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 1.—(CP Cable.)—Four years after the original 51st Division of the British Expeditionary Force surrendered to an overwhelming German army at St. Valery in Normandy, Supreme Headquarters announced last night that a reconstituted 51st, one of the most famous formations in the British Army, is back in the fighting in France.

The reconstituted division avenging the originals are battle-tempered veterans of El Alamein—where it suffered heavily—Tunisia and Sicily.

The 51st were the only British formation to take over a divisional sector on one Saar front during the first battle of France in May, 1940, it was switched to Normandy where it made a gallant attempt to crack the German hold on Abbeville.

The end came at St. Valery when the remaining men, exhausted, surrounded without hope of relief, their artillery's last round fired, surrendered June 12 after marching past their General in review. The larger part of one brigade managed to escape to Dunkerque.

For the first time in several days a Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlander casualty has been reported. Mrs. Beda Wells, 227 Prince street, has been notified that her son, Pte. A. Russell Wells, is seriously wounded after action in France.

The young soldier, who was formerly employed by Warne's jewelry store, joined the original unit and went overseas in July, 1941, where he has been with the 3rd Division. His wife is living in Fort William and a brother, Pte. J. D. Wells, is also with the S., D. and G. Highlanders.

Strawberries Moving At 27 Cents A Quart

Only a few strawberries were in evidence at the Farmers' Market to-day, and what there were, sold like hot-cakes at 27 cents a quart.

New potatoes were in great demand, and prices for the spuds began at 35 cents per peck or 6-quart basket. There was plenty of eggs on the shelves, and the prices ran the gamut from 35 to 45 cents, per dozen.

Green firm cabbage sold for 8c-10c a head, and fresh cool lettuce did a thriving business at 10 cents a head. Green peas went for 60 cents a 6-quart basket, and much business in peas was conducted along the quart box route, selling at 13 cents. Young asparagus went 3 bunches for 15c, green onions, 3 bunches for 15c, and rhubarb and beets each went for 5 cents per bunch.

Young spring chicken was popular and sold for 35 cents per pound.

using rail transport for only one-tenth of thier movements. Other enemy moveents in that sector are by road, and virtually all are made under protection of darkness, an air officer said.

Only minor enemy opposition was encountered. Three German planes were shot down and another destroyed on the ground. One American plane was lost.

One Lightning group bombed and shut one end of a tunnel just as a train entered the other end. Another hit 50 to 75 flat cars loaded with half-track vehicles.

Altogether American fighter-bombers hit 15 highway and railroad bridges and attacked 25 rail yards, damaging or destroying at least 285 freight cars, 24 tank cars, 26 locomatives, seven barges, 13 trucks and three staff cars. Other targets included power stations, flak and water towers, canal locks and factories.

The Mediterranean Allied air force made approximately 2,600 sorties and destroyed 14 enemy planes. Nine Allied planes were missing.

Yesterday was another big day for Canadian fighter pilots flying over Normandy. They accounted for 13 of the 17 German planes downed during the day. Americans chalked up the remainder.

One of the 13 fell to Wing Cmdr. J. E. Johnny Johnson, English leader of a crack Canadian Spitfire wing operating from French bases.

The kill—his 33rd—snapped the long-standing record of 32 held by the South African ace, Group Capt. A. G. (Sailor) Malan, who piled up most of the total in the Battle of Britain. He has not been on active operations for some time.

Johnson, who downed his 31st and 32nd enemy planes Wednesday, now stands even with the late Brendan (Paddy) Finucane and is two up on the top Canadian ace George (Buzz) Beurling of Verdun, Que., now in Canada on flying-training duty.

Top American in the European theatre is Capt. Don S. Gentile who downed 23 planes in combat and destroyed seven on the ground. He now is in the United States.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, July 2

Sunday's horoscope holds indications of many trivial and adverse annoyances with all affected and unfruitful excepting as it relates to spiritual, intellectual or artistic or affectional affiliations and pursuits. Some brilliant stroke in connection with an uncommon or unique idea of production might prove exceptionally successful. Social, and domestic affairs should be lively, but shun extravagance and show, maintaining gracious hospitality.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a successful and profitable year by adopting a quick and ingenious insight into certain uncommon or perhaps unorthodox situations, worked out with novel and original tactics. All literary, professional, artistic and cultural plans should flourish, and social or romantic associations should be pleasant provided they are not lavish or over indulged.

A child born on this day may have some unusual talents of creative artistic or intellectual phases, seeking expression in unusual or exceptional skills.

For Monday, July 3

Monday's astrological forecast shows an important opening for the attainment of some major objective which might have some public or community connotations. In any case there are public angles which may promise close co-operation from this or other major organizations, in which there are secret agreements. It would be well to be prudent in such tacit understandings, as there may be peculiar angles.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for an unusual opportunity for making a worthwhile connection with large interests, possibly public, community or fraternal. Perhaps diplomatic or political, but in all undercover agreements it is well to be alert to hidden factors, surprising and disruptive. Beware suspicious entanglements, financially risky or otherwise undermining.

A child born on this day may be ambitious, talented, ingenious, inspirational and may win some public or fraternal acclaim. It may, however, be easily deceived or imposed upon.

For Tuesday, July 4

The stellar influences for this day accentuate the possibility of a concentration of the energies and faculties largely on the pursuit of pleasure. Demonstrations of patriotism and democracy may be expected to run riot, with noisy celebrations and pyrotechnic display. In more re-

Cobourg Sailor Blames Talk For Sinking Of Pacific Vessel

COBOURG, July 1 (ENS)—Able Seaman Maxwell Davey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Davey, R.R. 6 Cobourg, blames careless talk for the sinking of his ship in the Pacific, when Japanese Zeros closed in for the kill. He was picked up a few hours later and is now back in Edmonton taking a course.

His studies at the University of Alberta were interrupted when he left to serve aboard an English armed vessel which was escorting a freighter loaded with ammunition for an expeditionary force in southeast Asia. Both ships failed to reach their destination. Davey's letter to his parents, explains "why."

"I hardly know how to begin to write this letter," Davey wrote. "There seems to be so much to tell," he began.

"I got back to Edmonton and I got your letter that you had sent here to me. The officer kept my mail for me. I also got my same room back. I didn't have time to pack anything to take with me except a shaving kit and a few pair of socks. It is just as well I didn't take many things as I lost what I did take. I got what clothes I needed in British Columbia before I went to sea.

Escorting Freighter

"I was on an English armed vessel which was escorting a freighter loaded with ammunition for some expeditionary force in the south of Asia someplace—India, I think," he explained. "We just never got that far. We didn't travel very fast and we were some place north of Australia. The next day we were attacked by Jap Zeros. There were planes over us for about two hours but our guns kept them high enough so that their bombing was not accurate. They got in closer after a while though and finally blew up the freighter. It made a terrific noise—all that ammunition going off.

Several Killed

"There were quite a few killed on our ship," Davey related after telling that his fellow anti-aircraft gunner was killed right beside him.

"Most of the officers were lost," he continued. "I guess all the crew on the freighter were lost. There were a lot of South Americans on it. Our ship was quite badly battered up and was slowly sinking so we had to abandon ship about midnight of the next day."

"I was on a carley float with a couple of Englishmen all night," Davey continued. "In the morning we were picked up by a minesweeper and got some food and warmer clothes. We did not go back to port then as they had some sweeping to do. I was on that ship for about nine days. We refueled at one of the island refueling bases north of Australia. When we got into Melbourne I was left to shift for myself as the ship I was on went right out again before the captain could make definite arrangements for me to get back to Canada. I went to the Red Cross there. They were pretty good to me. You see I had no money or clothes so I couldn't go out much. The Red Cross fed me and gave me cigarettes and a pair of trousers and a shirt. I just got off the trawler with a pair of overalls.

Lost Sailor Suit

"My sailor suit is at the bottom of the Pacific," said Davey and he blamed the mishap squarely on careless talk. "The Japs must have heard about us, because someone talked, as they seemed to be waiting for us," he commented.

Resuming his narrative, the sailor continued: "I was down around the dockyard looking for a ship back to here. The Navy yard said they would get me back sometime but they never do anything very fast so I thought I was stuck there for a while," Dave recalled.

Returns b Bomber

"So I was just waiting around and I had a great stroke of luck," he related. "I met a flying officer who had gone to Varsity. He was in Engineering in my first year. He said he was bringing a bomber back to Vancouver and he thought he could get me a lift. He worked it o.k. as I had a note from the captain of the minesweeper that picked us up at sea, saying that I belonged to the R.C.N.V.R. I had my identification card too, so that helped. I had to go back to Vancouver and explain about the clothes I lost which I got from the barracks there. They gave me a train ticket to Edmonton.

Couldn't Help

Recalling the death of his anti-aircraft mate, Davey continued: "Whenever I think of it I can see that kid lying there dying and I couldn't even leave the gun to help him at all. I would just like to even that score with about a dozen Japs' lives. I prayed when I was out there in that carley float that I would be spared. I guess all the fellows pray when they are in a tight spot.

"My nerves are pretty frayed but the doctor said I would be okay in a month or so if I get some rest," the adventurer continued.

"In my records they have me down as being in Edmonton all along and that is the way I want it to be," he said.

"Please excuse this mixed up letter as I am all mixed up," Davey said. "It seems awfully strange to be back where everything is safe. There is no place like Canada," was Davey's last reference to his adventures.

Born at Camborne 20 years ago, Able Seaman Davey is a graduate of Cobourg Collegiate Institute. Besides his parents, relatives include two brothers, Carmen of Port Hope and Howard at home.

Russians Boost Polish Nation

MOSCOW, July 1 (AP) — The Supreme Soviet issued a decree today empowering inhabitants of the western provinces of White Russia and the Ukraine to adopt Polish citizenship.

Others empowered to take the same course under the decree include Soviet citizens of Polish nationality in other Russian provinces who are serving in the Polish army of the U.S.S.R., and those "actively helping the army fight against the German occupants."

The decree, published in the bulletin of the Supreme Soviet, also extended the right of citizenship to members of families of the categories named.

At the same time the Council of Polish patriots, in the name of all Poles in the Soviet Union, renounced the London Government of Poles as being based on "The illegal constitution of 1935."

Each Household Asked To Give 30 Lbs. Paper

Thirty pounds of salvageable paper from each house in the city, the minimum figure calculated by the Government as required to keep the paper mills of the country operating on a basis that will fill the needs of wartime industry, is the goal that the Peterborough Women's War Services committee, running the city's monthly salvage drives, is aiming at in the four-day collection for July.

As announced before, when the system of monthly collections was inaugurated, each month's drive is to take place the first full week in the month. Starting Tuesday, the areas of collections will follow the same order as before, with the part of the city between Sherbrooke and McDonnel streets and stretching east to the river to be covered that day. Wednesday the north end of town, and Thursday the south end will be collected, while on Friday the salvage trucks will make pickups in East City.

Able Leadership Provided By Joshua for Israelites

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 2 is Joshua 1-6, 23, 24, the Golden Text being Joshua 1:9, "Be strong and of good courage; be not affrighted, neither be thou dismayed: for Jehovah thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.")

IT IS thought that the events chronicled in this very long lesson occurred around 1400 to 1375 B. C., or thereabouts. The first events are located on the east side of the river Jordan; the rest on the west side. Joshua died at Schechem.

After the death of Moses the Lord appointed Joshua, son of Nun, to lead the people of Israel into the Land He had promised them. He told Joshua of the great lands they were to take for their homeland and it may be mentioned that never even in the time of Israel's greatest glory was all this land inhabited by them.

First, Joshua chose two men to go to Jericho and spy secretly. They went to the house of a woman named Rahab, but the two must have been seen entering her house because men came there at night to arrest them. Rahab, however, hid them on her roof under long stalks of drying flax, so that the men did not find them, and after they had left she let them down the wall with ropes, through a window, as her house was built on the city wall.

Jericho Afraid

She told them that all the city had heard how God caused the Red Sea to part for their crossing and all Jericho was afraid. She asked them to spare the lives of herself and all her kin for the great favor. They promised, and told her to bind a line of scarlet thread in the window and bring all her relatives to live with her. The two men hid in the mountains for three days until the pursuers gave up the search, then returned to Joshua.

Next day the children of Israel began their march across the Jordan with the ark of the covenant leading the way. The waters of the Jordan parted, as Joshua had said, and they passed over in safety. Joshua chose a man from each tribe and told each to take a stone from the bed of the river where the priests' feet had stood and bring them to him. And Joshua set them up as a memorial of the Lord's goodness.

Now all the people inhabiting the lands that had been promised to the Israelites were afraid because of the reputation of the children of Israel, and the city of Jericho was shut up tight no one leaving and no one going in. The Lord told Joshua to send seven priests with trumpets ahead of the ark of the Lord, and armed men were to go before and behind, and they were to march around the city walls blowing trumpets. Seven days they marched around the city, blowing their horns and on the seventh day the trumpets blew and the people all shouted and the "walls came tumbling down."

All the inhabitants were put to the sword except Rahab and her people, and the city was burned, but the silver and gold, vessels of brass and iron, were put in to the treasury of the house of the Lord.

Joshua Groows Old

A long time after these events the Lord gave Israel a rest from their enemies. Joshua had grown old and feeble and knew that his time was almost gone. He "called for all Israel and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers," and told them that he would not be with them much longer. He reminded them of all the mercies the Lord had vouchsafed them, and warned them not to serve the false gods of the people among whom they dwelt, but to cleave to their own God.

"For the Lord hath driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, no man hath been able to stand before you unto this day.

"One man of you shall chase a thousand: for the Lord our God, He it is that fighteth for you, and He hath promised you.

"Take heed, therefore, unto yourselves, that ye love the Lord your God."

The people were told to choose whom they would serve, whether the gods of strangers or this their own God, "but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord," said Joshua.

And all the people answered and said "God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods."

"And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua and all the days of the elders that overlived Joshua, and which had known all the works of the Lord, that He had done for Israel."

Two Outstanding Truths

By REV. E. R. JAMES

The Book of the generation of of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

St. Matthew 1:1.

This is the age of the making of many books. A thoughtful man wants to know something of the book before he reads it. Perhaps this brief review of the Gospel according to St. Matthew may encourage some to re-read the book with fresh interest.

Apparently the book was written at a time of great tribulation. The prophecy of Caiaphas, the High priest, had been fulfilled. The Romans had come and taken away both their place and nation. St. John 11::48.

Do not forget that the Apostles of our Lord were extremely patriotic men! Practically all came from Galilee, the home of fanatical loyalty. Do you need much imagination to realize the strain the Lord placed upon His Apostles when He prophesied the complete destruction of Jerusalem and the Holy Temple, closing with the words:—"When these come to pass then look up and lift up your heads" They were to rejoice at the downfall of their nation and country.

St. Matthew is writing for the Jews telling them that the Messiah, the Anointed of God, the Christ, was come in the Person of Jesus Christ of Nazareth born of the House of David, an absolute necessity, before any Jew would give a second though to such a claim. At the same time He is to be Emmanuel; "God is with us"; a thrilling thought for a patriotic Jew.

He is to be a King. So we have the story of the wise men offering their gifts to the infant King. The King must have a kingdom. This Gospel is the Good News of the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven. It is interesting to remember this expression. Being a devout Jew St. Matthew dislikes to use the word "God" which is in line with Jewish teaching and practice. The Jews h[illegible] a horror to pronounce the n[illegible] of God in ordinary conve[illegible]satio[illegible]

St. Matthew tells us ma[illegible] the other Evangelists omit. [illegible] longest gospel. He gives us ten parables whi[illegible] otherwise we would not know. Ab[illegible] all he alone describes the para[illegible] of the Pearl of great price, which would have a tremendous fascination for the devout Pharisee, willing to pay any price to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. He emphasises the title on the cross:—"This is Jesus the King of the Jews."

The book contains two outstanding truths:

SEVERITY. Dean Church, the great scholar, reminds us that the New Testament is a very severe book. He is referring especially to this Gospel, which contains many sayings on judgement. Read the twenty third chapter with imagination and you will understand why the Jewish authorities crucified Him. Addressing the leaders of the church He cries:—"How can we escape the damnation of Gehenna?" In saying this He signed His own death warrant. It is good for us to keep such a statement before our minds in view of the emphasis laid upon the "Gentle Jesus."

TENDERNESS. This also is a kingly quality. The true king has a tender care for his people, especially the poor and the weak. St. Matthew alone gives us these tender words:—"Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones, for I say unto you that in Heaven their angels do always behold the Face of my Father which is in heaven."

It is still more important to fix in our minds that we owe these precious words to this writer:—"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

I DID EAT THE BOOK AND IT WAS IN MY MOUTH AS HONEY FOR SWEETNESS.

77th Birthday of Dominion Being Marked by Canadians

By JOHN C. SCOTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Thoughts of Canadians turn this week-end to the names of Brown, Cartier, Galt, Macdonald, McGee, Tilley and Tupper — "Big Seven" whose work made Confederation possible. For to-day Canada celebrates her 77th birthday.

And that birthday will be celebrated despite the fact that some calendars for 1944 show July 3 as Dominion Day. The confusion arose out of last year's decision to celebrate Dominion Day—one of the six wartime statutory holidays — on the first Monday in July. Since then, however, an Order-in-Council was passed reinstating July 1 as the observance date. At that, in a few isolated cases firms have announced they are giving their employees a holiday on Monday instead of to-day.

It will be the nation's fifth birthday since the start of the Second Great War, and the celebrations will be tempered by the fact that Canada's sailor sons are sailing the world's seas searching out the enemy, that her soldiers are fighting bitter battles in France and Italy, and that her airmen are encountering the enemy in the skies.

Confederation followed on the heels of a movement for union of the Maritime Provinces and it was during a convention of Maritimers at Charlottetown in September, 1864, th[illegible] a delegation arrived from Uni[illegible] Canada-Quebec and Onta[illegible]his delegation pledged support to the Charlottetown plan for Maritime union and urged the possibility of including all British North America in plans of federation.

Historic Conference.

As a result, a conference of British North American provinces was held in Quebec the next month. The results of this conference were incorporated in 72 resolutions which became the basis for the British North America Act of 1867 — an Act which was passed by the British Parliament without a division at any stage of its consideration. A Royal proclamation announced July 1, 1867, as the official birthday of the new Dominion of Canada.

Peculiarly, however, Prince Edward Island, where the groundwork for Confederation was laid, did not enter the Dominion until 1871, the B.N.A. Act at first bringing together only Quebec, Ontario, New Brunsick, and Nova Scotia. Manitoba—half her present size — entered in 1870, while British Columbia became part of the nation, with P.E.I. the next year.

In 1906 the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were carved out of the giant North-west Territories.

It's a far cry back to 1867 and the beginning of the nation, but if the Fathers of Confederation could turn benevolent eyes upon the Dominion they would see real fruits of their work for Canada has taken her place among the major nations of the world.

As one of the United Nations fighting Nazi and Fascist tyranny the Dominion boasts a Navy with 80,000 personnel, while 478,000 Canadians are in Army uniforms and 206,500 in Air Force blue—and her industrial effort has been by no means small. In 1943 Canada's export trade hit $3,001,600,000, the highest in the nation's history.

CHAPLAIN OF FLEET—Chaplain of the fleet B. C. Martin was principal chaplain (Roman Catholic) from last November until his present appointment was made. He was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and has been associated with the navy as chaplain since the outbreak of the war.

False Pride

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying in other words that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

Vanity is the mother, and affectation is the darling daughter; vanity is the sin, and affectation is the punishment; the first may be called the root of self-love, the other the fruit.—Lord Halifax

Pride either finds a desert or makes one; submission cannot tame its ferocity, nor satiety fill its voracity, and it requires very costly food—its keeper's happiness.—Colton.

The pride of circumstance or power is the prince of this world that has nothing in Christ. All power and happiness are spiritual, and proceed from goodness.—Mary Baker Eddy.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Entering the Promised Land — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Joshua 1-6, 23, 24

Joshua, Israelite leader, sent two men into Jericho to spy out the land. They lodged with a woman named Rahab, who hid them on the roof, under stalks of flax when men came to search for them, and they escaped back to their people.

The Lord caused the water of the Jordan to part so that all the Children of Israel walked across with dry feet, and Joshua commanded one man from each tribe to pluck a stone from the river to be set up as a memorial.

The city of Jericho was shut up tight because of the Children of Israel, and Joshua told seven priests to go before the ark of the covenant, blowing horns, the rest to go before and behind, and on the seventh day the walls would fall.

Finally Joshua became old and feeble and was about to die, so he called all the people together and asked them if they would be loyal to their God, and all of them swore fealty before him.

GOLDEN TEXT—Joshua 1:9.

Able Leadership Provided By Joshua for Israelites

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 2 is Joshua 1-6, 23, 24, the Golden Text being Joshua 1:9. "Be strong and of good courage; be not affrighted, neither be thou dismayed: for Jehovah thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.")

IT IS thought that the events chronicled in this very long lesson occurred around 1400 to 1375 B. C., or thereabouts. The first events are located on the east side of the river Jordan; the rest on the west side. Joshua died at Schechem.

After the death of Moses the Lord appointed Joshua, son of Nun, to lead the people of Israel into the Land He had promised them. He told Joshua of the great lands they were to take for their homeland and it may be mentioned that never even in the time of Israel's greatest glory was all this land inhabited by them.

First, Joshua chose two men to go to Jericho and spy secretly. They went to the house of a woman named Rahab, but the two must have been seen entering her house because men came there at night to arrest them. Rahab, however, hid them on her roof under long stalks of drying flax, so that the men did not find them, and after they had left she let them down the wall with ropes, through a window, as her house was built on the city wall.

Jericho Afraid

She told them that all the city had heard how God caused the Red Sea to part for their crossing and all Jericho was afraid. She asked them to spare the lives of herself and all her kin for the great favor. They promised, and told her to bind a line of scarlet thread in the window and bring all her relatives to live with her. The two men hid in the mountains for three days until the pursuers gave up the search, then returned to Joshua.

Next day the children of Israel began their march across the Jordan with the ark of the covenant leading the way. The waters of the Jordan parted as Joshua had said, and they passed over in safety. Joshua chose a man from each tribe and told each to take a stone from the bed of the river where the priests' feet had stood and bring them to him. And Joshua set them up as a memorial of the Lord's goodness.

Now all the people inhabiting the lands that had been promised to the Israelites were afraid because of the reputation of the children of Israel, and the city of Jericho was shut up tight no one leaving and no one going in. The Lord told Joshua to send seven priests with trumpets ahead of the ark of the Lord, and armed men were to go before and behind, and they were to march around the city walls blowing trumpets. Seven days they marched around the city, blowing their horns and on the seventh day the trumpets blew and the people all shouted and the "walls came tumbling down."

All the inhabitants were put to the sword except Rahab and her people, and the city was burned, but the silver and gold, vessels of brass and iron, were put in to the treasury of the house of the Lord.

Joshua Groews Old

A long time after these events the Lord gave Israel a rest from their enemies. Joshua had grown old and feeble and knew that his time was almost gone. He "called for all Israel and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers," and told them that he would not be with them much longer. He reminded them of all the mercies the Lord had vouchsafed them, and warned them not to serve the false gods of the people among whom they dwelt, but to cleave to their own God.

"For the Lord hath driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, no man hath been able to stand before you unto this day.

"One man of you shall chase a thousand: for the Lord our God, He it is that fighteth for you, and He hath promised you.

"Take heed, therefore, unto yourselves, that ye love the Lord your God."

The people were told to choose whom they would serve, whether the gods of strangers or this their own God, "but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord," said Joshua.

And all the people answered and said "God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods."

"And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua and all the days of the elders that overlived Joshua, and which had known all the works of the Lord that He had done for Israel."

77th Birthday of Dominion Being Marked by Canadians

By JOHN C. SCOTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Thoughts of Canadians turn this week-end to the names of Brown, Cartier, Galt, Macdonald, McGee, Tilley and Tupper — "Big Seven" whose work made Confederation possible. For to-day Canada celebrates her 77th birthday.

And that birthday will be celebrated despite the fact that some calendars for 1944 show July 3 as Dominion Day. The confusion arose out of last year's decision to celebrate Dominion Day—one of the six wartime statutory holidays — on the first Monday in July. Since then, however, an Order-in-Council was passed reinstating July 1 as the observance date. At that, in a few isolated cases firms have announced they are giving their employees a holiday on Monday instead of to-day.

It will be the nation's fifth birthday since the start of the Second Great War, and the celebrations will be tempered by the fact that Canada's sailor sons are sailing the world's seas searching out the enemy, that her soldiers are fighting bitter battles in France and Italy, and that her airmen are encountering the enemy in the skies.

Confederation followed on the heels of a movement for union of the Maritime Provinces and it was during a convention of Maritimers at Charlottetown in September, 1864, that a delegation arrived from United Canada-Quebec and Ontario. This delegation pledged support to the Charlottetown plan for Maritime union and urged the possibility of including all British North America in plans of federation.

Historic Conference.

As a result, a conference of British North American provinces was held in Quebec the next month. The results of this conference were incorporated in 72 resolutions which became the basis for the British North America Act of 1867 — an Act which was passed by the British Parliament without a division at any stage of its consideration. A Royal proclamation announced July 1, 1867, as the official birthday of the new Dominion of Canada.

Peculiarly, however, Prince Edward Island, where the groundwork for Confederation was laid, did not enter the Dominion until 1871, the B.N.A. Act at first bringing together only Quebec, Ontario, New Brunsick, and Nova Scotia. Manitoba—half her present size — entered in 1870, while British Columbia became part of the nation, with P.E.I. the next year.

In 1905 the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were carved out of the giant North-west Territories.

It's a far cry back to 1867 and the beginning of the nation, but if the Fathers of Confederation could turn benevolent eyes upon the Dominion they would see real fruits of their work for Canada has taken her place among the major nations of the world.

As one of the United Nations fighting Nazi and Fascist tyranny the Dominion boasts a Navy with 80,000 personnel, while 478,000 Canadians are in Army uniforms and 206,500 in Air Force blue—and her industrial effort has been by no means small. In 1943 Canada's export trade hit $3,001,600,000, the highest in the nation's history.

False Pride

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying in other words that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

Vanity is the mother, and affectation is the darling daughter; vanity is the sin, and affectation is the punishment; the first may be called the root of self-love, the other the fruit.—Lord Halifax.

Pride either finds a desert or makes one; submission cannot tame its ferocity, nor satiety fill its voracity, and it requires very costly food—its keeper's happiness.—Colton.

The pride of circumstance or power is the prince of this world that has nothing in Christ. All power and happiness are spiritual, and proceed from goodness.—Mary Baker Eddy.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Entering the Promised Land — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Joshua 1-6, 23, 24

Joshua, Israelite leader, sent two men into Jericho to spy out the land. They lodged with a woman named Rahab, who hid them on the roof, under stalks of flax when men came to search for them, and they escaped back to their people.

The Lord caused the water of the Jordan to part so that all the Children of Israel walked across with dry feet, and Joshua commanded one man from each tribe to pluck a stene from the river to be set up as a memorial.

The city of Jericho was shut up tight because of the Children of Israel, and Joshua told seven priests to go before the ark of the covenant, blowing horns, the rest to go before and behind, and on the seventh day the walls would fall.

Finally Joshua became old and feeble and was about to die, so he called all the people together and asked them if they would be loyal to their God, and all of them swore fealty before him.

The Mounting Storm

On this Dominion Day it will be well for us to give some consideration to the speech which the Hon. Telesphore Bouchard delivered in the Senate on June 21, for on the birthday of our national unity it behooves us to see that our Dominion is sound. According to Senator Bouchard strong influences are at work trying to destroy our national unity, and in particular the Senator named the Jacques Cartier Order, and the Bloc Populaire, the Union Nationale, and the Young Laurentians, which he said were subordinate to the Order; Senator Bouchard said that the Order worked with the approval of the Catholic clergy in Quebec, and that its aim was to establish a separate French Catholic state in what are now the provinces of Quebec and Ontario. Understandably these charges have created a great sensation; elsewhere on this page we print comment from newspapers across Canada on the matter. There have been carefully worded and politic denials from clergy, and passionate and abusive repudiations of Bouchard from laymen. Senator Bouchard has been ousted from his position as Chairman of the Quebec Hydro, and the French press has screamed that such a reprisal is richly deserved by one who has blasphemed against race and creed. Beyond question, Senator Bouchard foresaw these things before he made his speech, but he made it all the same. "In a mounting storm I like to face the wind and not to be caught by it in the back", said he. "I am not a pessimist, but when I hear distant rumblings of thunder I am aware that the dark clouds are liable to burst over my head".

* * *

Senator Bouchard would not have said these things if he had not felt them deeply; the cost of such speeches is too great. At the lowest estimate Senator Bouchard will pay $18,000 a year for the next ten years or so for his accusations against the Jacques Cartier Order and those who stand behind it, and such a sacrifice is impressive. It is impressive enough for the Dominion to want to know what lies behind it, and whether Senator Bouchard is right or wrong. The way to find out is to set a Commission to work to investigate the question, but the Minister of Justice, the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, says that he does not mean to do so, and says further that he has never heard of the Order. Both Mr. St. Laurent and Senator Bouchard are prominent French-Canadians with ample sources of information; it is queer that the Minister of Justice has never heard of a society which so greatly exercises the Senator from St. Hyacinthe; it is even queerer that a newspaper so far away as Edmonton seems to know a good deal about the Order, including the names of its directors. The Minister of Justice, apparently, wants to let the matter drop. We do not think that the majority of Canadians want to let it drop; they want to hear more about it.

* * *

Let no Quebec-hating Ontario fanatic imagine that Senator Bouchard has accused the whole Province of treachery and disloyalty. This is what he actually said: "It is my firm belief that at least seventy-five per cent. of the members of this Order, which according to the most recent information numbers around 18,000, are good British citizens who do not suspect that they are being pushed around by the fanatics of every description who are the real leaders of that secret society. Imagine the harm that can be done by these active agents of destruction in a more or less passive population such as the one living in my Province". As an example of the way in which the passive majority is bamboozled by the active minority Senator Bouchard referred to the serious disapproval which has been shown toward Abbe Adelard Maheux, professor of Canadian history at Laval University, who is certainly one of the best friends of Canadian unity in this country. Abbe Maheux has repeatedly told the people of Quebec that they were very generously treated by the British at the time of the conquest of Canada, and it is his opinion that the French and the British in Canada should work together more closely than they have done heretofore. His most recent book, What Keeps Us Apart? (a copy of which lies upon our desk as we write) is an admirable and reasonable exposition of the case for complete Canadian unity. But what happens to Abbe Maheux? He is treated like a traitor by many sections of Quebec, and his lectures are interrupted by terrorists. By the introduction of the name of Abbe Maheux, incidentally, Senator Bouchard made it clear that not all the Catholic clergy of Quebec are anti-British in feeling.

* * *

If the Order of Jacques Cartier is half as black as Senator Bouchard paints it, steps should be taken to destroy its power at once. And having done that, the next step is to correct the teaching of history in Quebec schools, which at present is designed to foster bitter resentment against the 'conquerors'. Because Quebec is the political key to Canada it will take great courage to do what is necessary there—a courage far above party politics. The party which thwarts Quebec need not expect to hold a single Quebec seat for at least twenty-five years. But—if Senator Bouchard is right—some party must make a choice between holding Quebec and holding all of Canada together. The first task is to find out whether or not the Senator is right. If that is not done, next Dominion Day will inevitably show a wider breach in our country than exists now, for so forceful an indictment cannot be glossed over as of no consequence.

News By Press And Radio

Speaking recently before the House of Commons Radio Committee, Mr. M. J. Coldwell, the leader of the C.C.F., protested against the ownership of radio broadcasting stations by newspapers. It was not a healthy situation, he said, for press and news channels to fall into the hands of a relatively small group of persons.

We see what Mr. Coldwell means, and his fear is understandable. But a further investigation of the subject would show him that his fear was groundless, all the same. The press and the radio are not really separate sources of news. There is only one real source of news about any matter of public interest, and that is the place where it happens. When something important happens in Normandy, for instance, newsmen on the spot collect all the information that is available for the news agencies which they represent. As newsmen work together, and not as individuals, they all get the same story. And that story is then made available to the press and the radio alike. The radio may make the news available to its listeners a few hours before the newspapers, but it never carries any news which the newspapers lack. The great news agencies are maintained by the fees which they collect from newspapers; the fees paid by radio are trifling in comparison.

Mr. Coldwell apparently fears that news might be kept from the public for the advantage of newspaper and radio owners. He need not worry about that. Mr. Coldwell, quite understandably, forgets that the newspaper business is a competitive business, and that it is literally impossible to suppress any news which comes over the wires from a news agency. Why? Because if one paper, or a dozen papers suppress a news item there will be other papers which will print it, and take the credit for printing all the news. To prove this to himself, the reader may like to take this copy of the Examiner and compare it with any other paper of his choice; he will find that they both carry every important news story of the day, as they have received them from the news agencies.

Newspapers are interested in radio as a medium of advertising and as a competitor in that line. They do not fear radio as a news rival, for the daily paper, by its nature, is capable of carrying more news than the radio can possibly broadcast.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The name Rommel, we read, was originally spelled Rummell. That was before Monty knocked some of the 'l' out of him.

Canadian gunners in France have been firing shells at the rate of eight tons in 160 minutes. That may be one reason why it has been found necessary to speed up munitions production in Canada after slowing down a few months ago.

Before German troops left the palace of the Princess Colonna they cut the heads off all the paintings and smashed up the furniture. The Princess, who does a great deal of entertaining, remarked with pleasure however, that they had not stubbed cigarettes on the rugs or put coffee cups in the piano.

Diary Of An Epidemic Victim

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Had planned a picnic today, basing my calculations upon several fine Sundays in weeks past; however it rained and for a time it looked as though there would be no picnic. Compromised, however, on a drive through the country and, a rather special tea at home.... During the course of the afternoon met two friends whose profession I shall not identify, but who had fled to the woods to mark examination papers. They looked thoroughly happy, and were making chicken noodle soup over an open fire. This impressed me as practical philosophy; nothing could be more miserable than marking examination papers except writing them; what could be more sensible than to seek the pleasantest surroundings for a disagreeable job? But would it not be a good idea to let school children write their examinations on picnics? They could draw inspiration from their surroundings, and even do a little cribbing from those books which, Shakespeare assures us in a famous passage, are to be found in running brooks.

◆ ◆ ◆

MONDAY: Visited a house today where there are children, and picked up a picture-book about a cat who set up as a doctor. One of his patients was an ill-tempered, gouty, rich man named Sir Penny Schwindl, whom the cat treated by dividing his money among six men, thereby making them all healthy, wealthy and wise. This is the first child's book that I have ever seen which contained socialist doctrine. It is odd, however, that the only country which ever tried equality of income soon abandoned it.... Went to the movies tonight and sat in front of a young couple who seemed to be deeply in love. The girl, who had a very alert mind, explained the plot to her campanion, who seemed to be so besotted with passion that he could not understand any voice but hers. Every once in a while he would writhe with ecstasy, kicking the back of my seat as he did so. Note for the post-war world: movie houses with special pens for courting couples. We already have special seats for the deaf; why not for the partially demented?

◆ ◆ ◆

TUESDAY: Suffered a sudden cold, prickling sensation in my inside this afternoon, rather as though I had made a meal of gramophone needles. This was followed by ominous rumblings which grew louder and louder until I was forced to call up a learned leech and implore his counsel. "I have shooting pains and I rumble," said I, holding the telephone low so that he could appreciate the full symphonic effect. "So you do," said he; "but don't let it worry you. You have an infection which is reaching epidemic proportions hereabout. I don't know whether it is a germ or a chemical reaction. Eat dry toast and boiled milk for a few days and it will go away. It may come back in ten days. If it does, call me again."....As I sat this evening, listening to the roarings of my entrails, it occurred to me that my ailment might be an omen of coming victory, for I recall that a similar disturbance sent its thunder round the earth in 1918, not long before the day of armistice. 'I feel the deity within' said the prophets of old, when they were about to predict future events. Me too.

◆ ◆ ◆

WEDNESDAY: When I returned to my work this afternoon, I found a bunch of beautiful roses on my desk, with a note saying, 'From An Executive Gardener'; they have given me great pleasure, as flowers always do which someone else has watered, pruned, sprayed, cut and arranged. I am what is called a Parasite Gardener; I enjoy other people's flowers but produce none of my own. However, I have my place in the garden. I am the man who walks patiently about the gardens of his friends, while they prattle happily about how they nursed the nasturtiums through blight, and gave the peonies hot cocoa on the cold winter nights. At intervals I say, "Really? I wish I had your gift for making things grow!" And when my host says that I should have seen his garden last week when it was at its best, I always say, "You don't mean that it was better than this!" In this way I give a great deal of pleasure, and have all the fun of smelling other people's flowers; as a matter of fact, the encouragement and praise which I dispense are largely responsible for the high standard of gardening which some of my friends achieve. Without my admiration they could never keep up the pace.

◆ ◆ ◆

THURSDAY: Sudden necessity caused me to spend the night on a train, and as I had a berth and a great many people were sitting up I should not complain about it. But Nature, when she framed me, had a far more generous notion of the human form than the late George Pullman, and the only way in which I can lie at full length is from corner to corner, and in this position I pass the night in longing for the morning. Sometimes I think it would be better to sit up, and sleep in that position. But on the few occasions when I have tried this I have always shared a seat with a more determined sleeper than myself, who has used me as a pillow....When the social revolution is complete I hope that I shall be a commissar of some sort (or at least Valued-Servant-of-the-State Marchbanks) and ride in a private car with a bed of the right length, slumbering gently as the adoring proletariat sleep on straw in box-cars.

◆ ◆ ◆

FRIDAY: A very busy but satisfactory day in Ottawa. Although I had much to do I found time to look in at the Senate Gallery, which was filled, for only two days ago Senator Bouchard said out loud in the Senate what several thousand people had been saying in private for months, and the crowd was eager for further indiscretions....Later spent a few minutes in the Commons gallery, and found 34 of our legislators there, one of them mumbling at the Speaker (who was busily writing notes and conferring with the Clerk) and the other 33 reading the papers and writing home to their wives....It is not easy to cross a street in Ottawa; females in uniform, driving ugly little trucks, buzz about like hornets, fiercely intent on putting down all nonsense by civilians. Renewed my conviction that Ottawa is a beautiful city, and I hope it will some day be a really magnificent capital, with all the proper accompaniments of concert halls, libraries and theatres.

◆ ◆ ◆

SATURDAY: In the midst of more business found time to pay a short visit to the National Gallery; when good Mounties die they get jobs at the National Gallery and pass Eternity in saying Shhh! at noisy children. The Gallery, I understand, has been expecting a new building every year since 1920 and the building is now high on the list of post-war plans, but I shall be greatly surprised if anything is done about it. Aesthetically speaking, Canada needs a new National Gallery building much worse than it needs an insurance scheme to keep a lot of artistically worthless people alive. Let 'em die, and give Canada a gallery which will allow her to hold up her head among cultured nations.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

—By Goldberg

Comment On Bouchard's Speech

VANCOUVER SUN—Nothing is more certain than that the differences in race and religion between Quebec and the remainder of Canada have long been exploited for unworthy political designs.

It is therefore salutary and most encouraging when people inside Quebec itself, and belonging to the French Catholic stock, take the trouble in hand and deal with it frankly.

It will be the best possible solution if Quebec can learn the truth from her own enlightened citizens. At the same time we hope for more tolerance and understanding in the rest of Canada. Education both ways will bring dividends to Canada.

◆ ◆ ◆

WINNIPEG FREE PRESS—The question whether there is, or is not, a secret Jacques Cartier Society among French Canadians, dedicated to narrow nationalist ends, obscures the far more important feature of the courageous speech made by Senator T. D. Bouchard on June 21. That is his assertion that the gap between the thinking of average Canadian of English and of French descent would not be as wide as it is if better educational forces were at work in the country. His speech was fundamentally a plea for a common teaching of the facts of Canada's history which would widen the common background of the boys and girls in Quebec and the rest of Canada.

◆ ◆ ◆

TORONTO GLOBE AND MAIL—Only a French-Canadian Catholic could have discussed this condition freely, and Senator Bouchard deserves credit for his frankness. He has made a notable contribution to Senator David's crusade for honest history books. We do not see how this can be the end of it. The nation will realize now that the French-Canadian people themselves are not to blame, and that the leaders are responsible for the existing racial and religious cleavage, and, in the words of Senator Bouchard, the blindness to the advantages derived from association with the British. The remedy is in the hands of the politicians and lawmakers who have fed the flames for selfish purposes. They will be held culpable until they reverse conditions.

◆ ◆ ◆

OTTAWA CITIZEN—Senator T. D. Bouchard has done a great patriotic service to Canada by exposing the subversive activities of a secessionist movement with secret headquarters in Ottawa. Many loyal Canadian people whose mother tongue is French will welcome the Liberal senator's courageous declaration against enemies within. They are obviously following Fascist tactics as they have been employed to spread confusion in other countries.

◆ ◆ ◆

OTTAWA JOURNAL—Senator T. D. Bouchard's charge that there exists in the Province of Quebec a subversive, quasi-Fascist organization which aims at separation is not something that can be dismissed lightly. As a former member of Mr. Godbout's cabinet and a public man of long and high standing in his province, he is in a position to speak with authority.

There is not much that any of us in English-speaking Canada can do—except to commend Senator Bouchard for his courage and patriotism in dragging such a condition into the open.

◆ ◆ ◆

LE DEVOIR—Mr. Bouchard should be proud of having rendered so "grand" a service to his compatriots in delivering such a speech, in English, in the Senate, at a particularly difficult time in our national life. He should be equally proud of having helped, in the most efficacious manner possible, in the electoral defeat of the Liberal Party in the province of Quebec.

◆ ◆ ◆

WINDSOR STAR—This is a grave charge made by Senator Bouchard....That a man of his political experience and sagacity should make the assertion means that it is no fly-by-night orator spouting for a couple of headlines. Before the storm that is bound to blow up subsides, there will be many recriminations, much argument. But, it is noteworthy that the speech was made in the Canadian Senate by a man from Quebec. That gives it importance and an air of authenticity. It serves as a warning not to take too much for granted, but for all Canadians to get busy and see how the present national disunity can be changed to national unity.

◆ ◆ ◆

EDMONTON JOURNAL—Coming from a French-Canadian, a Liberal and a Roman Catholic, the charges levelled at the Order of Jacques Cartier by Senator T. D. Bouchard in his place in the Senate last week cannot be dismissed lightly. Senator Bouchard is a responsible citizen of Quebec. He has served his fellow French-Canadians as mayor, legislator, cabinet minister and speaker of the assembly for many years....Certainly an inquiry by the department of justice is the least that parliament can ask.

Comment On Bouchard's Dismissal

LA PRESSE—The action of Hon. Mr. Godbout, an action both rapid and energetic, was pointed, and no doubt the rebuke publicly inflicted on Mr. Bouchard will be of a nature to reassure troubled minds and to satisfy the French Canadian conscience and the rightly outraged Catholic.

The confused protester has not been pacified; but the attitude of the Premier ought to be of a kind to appease popular wrath, which has been vented so unanimously since last Wednesday.

◆ ◆ ◆

LA PATRIE—It was difficult for Mr. Godbout to act otherwise after the unfortunate speech delivered in so prominent a place by a man of the importance of Mr. Bouchard and at so critical a time, when the country feels a pressing need for unity and the good will of all.

Mr. Bouchard's action could only exaggerate the importance and influence of an—to say the least—obscure society, which nobody here was greatly concerned about, and stir up among our English-speaking compatriots unwarranted suspicions.

L'ACTION CATHOLIQUE—L'Action Catholique was the first to suggest that the president of Quebec Hydro was no longer worthy of his high position. We said it without any political consideration, and without concerning ourselves with the difficulties that it would cause the Government or the capital that the Opposition would make of it.

Certainly the only French government on the continent, the government of the most French and most Catholic province, ought to avenge the odiously slandered clergy and all the population falsely accused of conspiracy.

◆ ◆ ◆

TORONTO GLOBE AND MAIL—The issue involves a basic parliamentary principle, which will be nullified if Premier Godbout is allowed to establish the precedent that an authority outside of Parliament can discipline a member of Parliament for a statement made in either House. The seriousness of the challenge must be known to the Government and the officers of the Crown, but in the delicate political nature of the subject it might be disregarded unless public opinion is asserted. This must not be permitted. If freedom of speech in Parliament is denied by threats and punishment soon there will be no freedom of speech anywhere. We believe the nation will wait with deep concern for necessary action by the Government and Parliament.

◆ ◆ ◆

WINDSOR STAR — Vilifying Hon. T. D. Bouchard and firing him as Chairman of the Quebec Hydro Commission does nothing to settle the grave matter he has brought to the attention of the people of Canada. The Dominion authorities will be recreant in their duty if they do not conduct an investigation into the charges he made on the floor of the Senate. Senator Bouchard is not the firebrand agitator type. He is a solid, sane, substantial man who has held important posts in public life. All this being the case, what he says on his responsibility as a Senator of Canada cannot be lightly brushed aside.

GOOD FOR GRANDFATHER

A 53-year-old Waterloo farmer and his 29-year-old son were saved from certain death by "grandpa" when attacked by an enraged bull. The father was badly hurt and the son was down and about to be gored, when the grandfather interposed and in some miraculous manner drove the maddened animal into the barn. It's a good thing to have an intrepid and experienced grandfather around in a time of crisis.—Renfrew Mercury.

WHY HE DIES

Fat persons give various reasons for dieting, but it is doubtful that anyone ever had a more valid one than Laird Cregar, Hollywood film actor, seen recently in "The Lodger," says The Hamilton Spectator. He has reduced from 350 pounds to 260, and this was the cause of it: He was attending a crowded social event one afternoon when he overheard a woman near him say to another: "I'll meet you by Laird Cregar in ten minutes." That settled the matter there and then.

PAPER BOMBING

Secret missions flown by R.A.F. Bomber Command have dropped 1,264,466,656 newspapers, leaflets and magazines over Germany and occupied territory since war began.

These "paper bombs" go down at the rate of 1,200 a minute—200 tons of paper a month.

And all this does not include the great weight of propaganda and news dropped on enemy lands by the American Air Force.—London Daily Mail.

A Bible Message

The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the holy place. (Ps. 68: 17.)

And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people....

Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were filled with indignation, and laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth and said Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him and called the council together and all the senate of the children of Israel and sent to the prison to have them brought.

But when the officers came and found them not in the prison they returned and told saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within....

Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people. (Acts 5: 12, 17-23, 25.)

Letter To The Editor

CANADIAN FLAG

Sir,—I have been trying to discover the difference between the British Flag and the Canadian Flag.

It is a queer thing, but I have yet to find someone who is better informed on this than myself.

Could you please tell me if our Canadian flag is the red one with the small replica of the British Flag in the left upper corner?

SUBSCRIBER.

EDITOR'S NOTE: No, the flag to which you refer is the flag of Canada's Merchant Marine and has no significance when flown on land. Canada's official flag is the Union Jack.

Unconsidered Trifles

Two vocal teachers were discussing the troubles of a student singer for a recital.

"What, in your opinion, is wrong with her?" asked one.

"That's simple," replied the other. "It is just another case of incorrect voice-placement."

"Hm-m—[illegible] But just how do you mean that?"

"Well, there's only one correct placement for that voice that I can see—a deserted island in the Pacific."

SWISS STONE MASON BUILDS HOME AT BANCROFT—In memory of his early home in Switzerland, where he was born and taught his trade as a stone mason, John Charles Albert Ciana of Bancroft has built himself a home of stone. The view of the house (Top Left) resembles a Swiss chalet which might be found tucked away in some corner of Switzerland. One of the most beautiful things in the house is the enormous fireplace. The Indian head above the fireplace mantel (Upper Right) shows his delicate artistry as a stone mason. The finest features have been skilfully cut into the rock.

Artistry Distinguishes Swiss Stone Mason's Home At Bancroft

By R. W. BLATHERWICK

BANCROFT, July 1—(ENS)—His expert stone work brought to the public attention by a swimming pool he erected on the York River in Bancroft, John Charles Albert Ciana, a native of Switzerland who came to Canada eight years ago, has at last acquired a real measure of local fame such as his artistry deserves, and is now being kept busy with many orders for work in stone masonry.

Accompanied by his son and daughter, Mr. Ciana, who was born in the village of Vaud, just north of Lake Geneva, came to this country in 1936 and at that time did not know any English. He purchased a parcel of land in Monteagle Township and set about erecting a home for himself and his family.

Being a stone mason by trade, he naturally sought to build the type of home that would express his own personality and the result is easily one of the finest examples of stone work hereabouts. The lower part of the house exhibits the natural stone erection, while the upper half and gables are plastered. The main floor and upper floor are built entirely of concrete and the inner walls plastered and painted. Since the home was built, Mr. Ciana has also completed a stone balcony on the front of his home. The place is heated by means of a large fireplace which will amply accommodate short logs; and by this means he is able to heat his home and do most of his cooking, although he has a small range for auxiliary work.

Learned Early

Schooled in stone masonry in a government trade school in Switzerland from an early age—Mr. Ciana lost both his parents when he was but three years old—he took naturally to a line of work that, as he says today, "wasn't hard for me, for it seemed to be in my blood." He explains that his father and seven uncles were all in the builder's trades as architects, contractors and stone masons.

It was the building of the public swimming pool, which he undertook with the aid of his son, Antoine, and some other workers, that catapulted Mr. Ciana into the public eye and brought him the appreciation which his work deserved. When he came here, though able to converse fluently in French and Italian, he didn't know English; and he was further handicapped in establishing and maintaining a home in a new country by the misfortune of having lost his wife in Switzerland 17 years ago. Now he is acquiring a proficient knowledge of his third language, and his English is quite understandable to all his neighbors.

Experts To Plan Peace Structure That Will Work

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

More force, more decisiveness and more restricted responsibilities will probably be the chief points of difference between the world peace structure which will follow this war and the League of Nations which followed the First Great War.

The form of this new structure is slowly being hammered out in the minds of expert advisers of the governments of the United Nations. The progress to date was reviewed by the prime ministers of the British Commonwealth at their recent conference in London.

Until governments of the big three — the United Kingdom, United States and Russia—come together and agree on something, the form will not assume its full and final shape. A somewhat general picture of what the setup may be, however, can be deduced from the guarded statements of political leaders and the trends of thought being followed by some of their expert advisers.

The post-war world will have more force since the idea of disarmament is no longer entertained. The big states among the United Nations after victory propose to retain power to curb aggressors and, if necessary, intervene when any nation appears to be building up towards the position of an aggressor.

International police forces are not likely to be created in the future as far as it can be foreseen at this time. The extent to which smaller nations such as Canada may be obligated to maintain and employ force, in the event of aggression, is one of the important unsettled questions.

May Retain Key Bases

This policy of force will probably mean the retention of key bases around the world by the larger states and perhaps some reciprocity in their use. Great Britain will retain its Mediterranean bastions of Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus and Suez.

Former British and United States bases in the Pacific will be re-established. Others will be added and under regional co-operative arrangements Australia and New Zealand may share in their operations.

The new set-up will be more decisive in that a limited number of great powers having between them adequate force will be able to nip incidents of aggression off quickly. It is anticipated that some will arise but if they are promptly dealt with they will become fewer.

Its responsibilities will be more restricted in that the settlement of boundary disputes and the protection of minorities will not be on its shoulders. An attempt will probably be made to settle European boundary questions as quietly as possible by negotiation before the permanent peace set-up comes into operation.

Some transfers of population, such as removal of Germans from territory to be allotted to restored Czechoslovakia and Poland will be carried out.

Question of Minorities

Some of the planners are convinced that a mistake was made in the old league when minorities were given a right to appeal against the treatment meted out to them by majorities. The provision while well-intentioned was unworkable and a cause of irritation. So it is probable the new set-up will be less ambitious and confine itself to preventing real disturbances of world peace.

There is also a disposition in important quarters to keep arrangements for international economic co-operation separate from the peace structure although their success is considered essential to enduring peace.

Separate discussions are in progress on such questions as currency stabilization, tariff reduction, regulation of civil aviation, long term investments. On each of these questions an agreement may result in the creation of some sort of international authority in which varying number of countries will participate.

Moved towards caution by experiences after the last war some of the experts are averse to linking all these probable agencies together. They hope that each will work out a path to usfulness by process of trial and error. Eventually they might be linked up but it is feared a linking in the early stages would make the whole suffer for the mistakes of one.

Bit Premature

BRANTFORD, July 1 — A Brantford man was a little premature in his efforts to cash in on his compulsory savings. He received a statement from the Income Tax Department showing the amount he had paid just after the announcement that the compulsory savings plan was being abandoned. He immediately headed for a bank where he unsuccessfully sought to collect.

Two-Month Ration May Be Purchased

TORONTO, July 1—(CP)—Saving up the June-July 26-ounce liquor ration for possible use during August vacations is taboo under a clarifying announcement made by the Ontario Liquor Control Board.

The two-month ration may be purchased half in June and half in July, or all in either month, but may not be carried past this two-month period. The board has fixed two-month periods for each 26-ounce allotment. The next period will be August-September.

Lakefield News

Mrs. M. Jory entertained this week at a delightfully arranged tea, proceeds of which will be given to the W.A. of Lakefield United Church. Mrs. G. Kelly passed around puzzles and games and tea was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Percy Spence, and Mrs. F. Erskine.

Miss Dorothy Wilford left this week to join the Farm Service camps at Niagara.

Use More Police

MONTREAL, July 1 — (CP) — Squads of four men, a member of the Provost sections of each of the armed services and a city police officer—will carry out combined patrols of the central and west-end sections of the city on week-ends and pay nights for the armed services, the new system will be inaugurated tonight.

British WAAFS See Invasion At First Hand

By MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ADVANCED R.A.F. BASE IN BRITAIN, July 1 (CP) — Three young British Waafs were the first British servicewomen to set foot in France since Dunkerque.

But when they stuck their heads out of the planes on which they travelled as nursing orderlies to the wounded men who were the cargo they looked like tired weary girls, a bit shaken by what they had seen in the frontline airfield and the flak that had showered around them while they waited in Normandy for good flying weather.

The girls had had the luck to be aboard the first R.A.F. transport plane carrying casualties to a hospital in Britain, but they had had the bad luck to fly in the teeth of a gale that grounded them on the other side of the Channel in a dust storm that seasoned fighters labelled worse than the African desert.

One of the girls, Cpl. Lydia Alford, who was the first to land, and the first to return home was hurled to the floor of the plane several times, as she gave hot tea to her six patients and kept the blankets wrapped warmly around them. She was a shaken young brunette when she reached this airfield in one of England's lushest farming districts.

Pre-Dawn Take-Off

She was too tired to talk much, but from what she said and the remarks of the crew of the plane we could piece together Lydia's adventure. The plane had taken off in a cold pre-dawn drizzle from this airfield, and we heard it pass over our Nissen hut and shivered in our grey blankets.

The trip lasted less than two hours and at the hastily constructed R.A.F. airfield in Normandy it took Lydia with the help of the crew only 10 minutes to convert the supply carrying transport to a hospital ship capable of carrying 20 passengers.

An almost capacity load of wounded, who had been waiting on their stretchers at the emergency first aid station near the field were loaded onto the plane. Then the wind rose and it became almost impossible to anchor the plane to the ground.

With the help of medical orderlies Lydia unloaded the worst stretcher cases from the plane and sheltered them from the sand storm that ground stinging grit into their eyes, their teeth and their clothes. At intervals the slight young woman in her air force battle dress gave the men tea and soup from thermos bottles.

From a hill not far away a sniper's rifle cracked and occasional bursts of flak spattered around them. Once after a fierce dog fight, over their heads a plane in flames was shot down nearby.

Dash For Home

After six hours on the beachhead, the pilot decided to bolt for home with six sitting cases—wounded men able to bale out if necessary. One of these was Pte. Philip Karn of Kitchener, Ont., who was wounded in the leg.

The plane was alone on the trip back without the umbrella of Spitfires that had accompanied it across, and the pilot flew low for the sake of the wounded who might not be able to stand a high altitude.

Nine hours after they had left England, Lydia's plane, touched its wheels down on this airfield and an ambulance jockeyed into position to sweep the casualties from the plane to the casualty air emergency centre nearby.

Lydia adjusted the blankets for the last time on her patients, and then almost collapsed at the foot of her medical officer.

The other two Waafs, LAW. Edna Birkhead and LAW. Myra Roberts, who returned five hours later in two other planes had had more fun and less adventure. In France, they's watched for a while while Spitfires landed to refuel and then swooped back to the battle. A party of British war correspondents drove them in a jeep to a French village, where British soldiers cheered and whistled at the pretty brunet and red head.

THE TEAM OF DEWEY-BRICKER—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, the Republican party's choices for the president and vice-president, respectively, clasp in a firm handshake. They were pictured at the conclusion of Gov. Dewey's acceptance speech at Convention Stadium, Chicago, Illinois.

The following six took highest marks of the total: Earl Cooper, Morris Little, Marie Drain, Ralph Payne, Eleanor Rogers, Joan Creighton.

Personals

Mrs. Uriah Payne, Montreal, is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. James Newall, Toronto are spending two weeks at Cedar Lodge, Quarry Lake.

Mrs. A. L. Bryan and Leslie are spending a month in Toronto with her parents.

Garage Mechanic Does Record Job

GROESBECK, Tex., July 1 — (AP). — Eighteen-year-old Troy Lewis, infantile paralysis victim, won a tilt with death last night. He was out of an iron lung for two hours and 37 minutes while the apparatus was repaired. His physician said the boy was "getting along very well."

Technician Cecil Wren, Nurse Mildred White and State Highway Patrolman Herman Couser made a 100-mile automobile dash here when the respirator broke down. Garageman Joe Lee, who had vulcanized five holes in the bellows of the apparatus, put away his tools after "the fastest job I ever did in my life."

Community Honors Newlyweds At Party

STEWART HALL, July 1 (EIS)—A community party was held at Wallace Point Hall this week, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Whittington, a bride and groom of recent date, also Miss Gwenyth Staples, teacher of S.S. No. 10, Otonabee, who is leaving to take a position on the Toronto Public School staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittington were asked to come forward, while Miss Helen Savigny read an address of felicitation, and a welcome to the bride. The presentation of a walnut table, and two trays, was made by Mr. Howard Harper on behalf of the community.

Following this, Miss Staples was presented with a Travelling Case by Miss Beth Stewart, and the address was read by Mrs. Stewart Dawson.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Murder Charge

TORONTO, July 1 — (CP) — Mrs. Lucy Hawley was committed for trial on a charge of murdering her seven-year-old daughter Barbara, last May 17, when she appeared in County Police Court here yesterday. She was taken into custody following the finding of the body of her child in a small basin of water in her kitchen.

Taxes Recovered

TORONTO, July 1 — (CP) — The City of Toronto, through a Supreme Court decision in its favor, will recover nearly $200,000 in "lost" taxes, deputy city solicitor J. Palmer Kent said yesterday. The judgment was on an appeal brought by the Aluminum Company of Canada over the amount of taxable income of the Company for 1940.

Addresses Nurses

WINNIPEG, July 1 — (CP) — The need for directing nurses to opportunities where their skill can be utilized toward the welfare of the sick was emphasized by Anna L. Tittman, executive director, Nurse Placement Service, Chicago, in an address to the biennial convention of the Canadian Nurses' Association here yesterday.

Plaxton Given Promotion In Navy List

OTTAWA, July 1 — (CP). — All sections of the Canadian Navy, from men who took part in the invasion of France and sank U-boats in the Atlantic to men who mine-swept the approaches to Halifax Harbor, were included in the list of 333 naval promotions and rank confirmations announced here last night. The promotion announcements are made semi-annually.

A great many of the officers have been carrying the rank they now are confirmed in and it means no change in their pay.

The permanent force—the R.C.N.—is represented by 43 promotions; the professional peacetime sailors—the R.C.N.V.R.—by 65, and the recruits from the general public—the R.C.N.V.R.—by 221. Four Wren officers were also included in the list.

The highest rank attained is captain. The promotions are effective July 1.

Among Canada's invasion officers mentioned in the list were A. M. Hope of Chester, N.S., and Halifax, and H. G. DeWolf of Halifax and Ottawa, to be captains, and H. S. Rayner of St. Catharines and Bedford, N.S., to be commander. Hope is commander of the anti-aircraft ship Prince Robert, DeWolf is commander of the destroyer Haida, and Rayner is commander of the destroyer Huron.

Anti-Sub Officers Named

One of the successful anti-U-boat officers mentioned was Harry Freeland of Charlottetown and Sydney, N.S., to be acting commander. He commanded the corvette Regina when it scored against a U-boat a year ago, and now is on the bridge of the Outremont.

Another new acting commander is McD. Barkhouse of Halifax, who had supervision of the dangerous task of removing mines from the approaches to Halifax Harbor a year ago.

The director of the Naval Air Division—a Canadian Navy branch that has been very much under wraps—has been promoted. He is J. S. Stead of Montreal, and his new rank is acting commander. Whether this means an increase in activities of this branch could not be learned. It is known that Can-

SPORTS—Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Next game in the City Softball League will be staged on Tuesday night when the fast-travelling Soldiers will clash with the St. Peter's team in a battle that will mean a lot to both clubs. The Soldiers in their last two starts have knocked off the two leading teams and they are counting on making it three straight by taking the Saints for a ride Tuesday night. The Military Training Centre will start big Earl Revoir who has won two games in a row with Tony McIlveen doing the catching while the Saints will likely use Bill Moorhead agains the Soldiers. He has been beaten by one run in each of his last two appearances on the mound and is about due for a win. Saints are confident that they will come through in this crucial game and make sure of a playoff berth. They are gunning for third spot in the standing and the result of the Tuesday tilt will have a lot to say about which team will eventually land that position. With the third round rapidly passing and the playoffs drawing near each game in the schedule is important and this particular clash should be one of the best of the season. Other games scheduled for next week are U.E.W. vs. Switchgear on Wednesday night and Plazas vs. St. Peter's on Thursday.

* * * * * *

The Girls' Softball League will also be idle until Tuesday night when the schedule will be resumed with a game between the Quakers and Brintons. It should be a fitting start for the week's activities as both teams are playing good ball and there is not much to choose between them except that the Brintons have had more experience. The Quakers have been improving with every start, however, and they are confident that they can take a fall out of last season's intermediate champions. Gertrude Masters will probably do the tossing for them with Doris Walker or Bernice Stinson likely starter for the champs. Johnson Motors and Peterborough Lock will play Wednesday and Thursday the Outboard Marines will be back again for a game with Aircraft. A Friday night clash between Brintons and the Lock team will complete next week's interesting card.

The Colts Lose

For the first time since August last the Oshawa Colts have been beaten in a softball game. They lost with Dean McLaughlin on the rubber for them and "Soup" Campbell tells about it as follows: "Oshawa Colts were beaten last night! Believe it or not—but that's "NEWS." You see, it so happens the Colts haven't lost a game since August 28 of last year, the night they were nosed out 6-5 by Oshawa Laundry, in the 5th game of the local championship series. After that night the Colts went on to win the local title, won the Ontario honors and have played so far this season also, without losing a single game, exhibition or otherwise. As a matter of fact, as long as they have had a "full team" on hand, the Colts haven't been beaten that badly (12-7) since 1942. GM Main Office did the trick and they did it by getting their hits when they counted. Each team had 9 hits but Main Office got their bingles when they had runners on bases. They were trailing 5-2 going into the 5th inning and it looked just like another game—except that they had done what no other local team had done so far this season, scored a run against the Colts. That wasn't enough for the "Officers" however. They scored 4 runs in the 5th to take the lead and then pounded out a 6-run rally in the 6th inning to clinch the verdict. Harvey Bennett took "all night" to pitch his nine innings but he won his game, thanks to some good support from his infield and centre-field Roy Covert. Bennett kept hits scattered and Colts had men on bases often, loaded the paths a couple of times, but they couldn't do much with the stick."

* * * * * *

You don't expect 14-year-olds to always pull off the proper play instinctively for that is something that comes only with experience. Joyce Withers, young pitcher for Westclox should therefore have learned something from last night's game with Aircraft in which the latter team handed the Big Bens their first defeat of the season with a three-run rally in the ninth to win 6 to 5. Twice when the opposition had the bases full the next batter dribbled a weak roller to the box and the automatic play with only one out should have been a throw home for a force at the plate, cutting off a run. In both cases the 14-year-old Westclox pitcher made the throw to first instead of to the plate and thus presented Aircraft with two runs, the difference between victory and defeat. This column mentions this feature of the game for it brings into the limelight something that most girl players might do well to think about and that is the importance of having a play figured out in advance so that when the ball is hit to you you know just what you are going to do. Incidentally that was the snappiest girls' game of the season and the Aircraft came through with a fighting finish, sparked by Eleanor Craig's double to grab off a victory in the final inning. Marg Selkirk earned brackets for her steady pitching and she was at her best in the last of the ninth when she struck out the side to make sure of the win.

Another For Cooper

St. Louis Cards snapped off their brief losing streak yesterday when they bumped off the Phillies 8 to 4 with Mort Cooper doing the throwing for the champs and harvesting his eighth win of the year. He has had three defeats. Another of the season's winning pitchers did not however do so well. Rip Sewell, maestro of the blooper ball went gunning for his 10th win but found the Giants in a hitting mood and had to take a 7 to 5 beating. Ace Adams who relieved Feldman was given credit for the win. Al Pascoe's homer with a runner on the sacks gave the Cincinnati Reds a 2 to 1 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers, a tough loss for Ed Head. In the American League the Yanks' winning streak was interrupted when the veteran Al Hollingsworth gave the New Yorkers a 3 to 0 dose of whitewash, keeping seven Yank hits well scattered. St. Louis only got five blows off Page but turned them into three runs.

A recent poll conducted by Tommy Armour has revealed how the golfing fraternity, past and present, rate their all-time greats, says Bill Westwick in the Ottawa Journal. Armour, who is entitled to high recognition himself, asked: "If Hagen, Bobby Jones, Byron Nelson, Craig Wood and Ben Hogan were playing in a golf tournament, which one would you follow?" The answer placed Jones and Hagen well in the lead as the popular choices. None in the history of the game has surpassed "Emperor" Jones. He was as close to golf perfection as the average duffer dared to dream about without running the risk of nightmares. There are many who think Byron Nelson one of the most technically perfect golfers of them all. They may not be far wrong at that, though Nelson has a piece to go to establish himself with the methodical Jones, whose sheer brilliance captured the imaginations of the golfing masse in an entirely different way to that of Hagen. Yet even Jones isn't apt to supplant Hagen as the darling of the public—and the professionals, too. Though the carefree, colorful and talented "Haig" may be through as a top-flight shotmaker, he'll be remembered as having given to golf something of the color Ruth lent to baseball, and Dempsey gave to boxing.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Lefty Judd, the Ingersoll southpaw who has been out of action most of the season tried to pitch yesterday's game for Boston Red Sox but had to walk out in the third with a lame arm... However the Sox took the game from Chicago 11 to 0, their tenth straight win over the Pale Hose this season....Washington Senators won 4 to 2 over the Detroit Tigers when Miles Candini allowed the Bengals only seven well-distributed hits....Cliff Melton has been farmed out by the New York Giants to their Jersey City club....Bucky Walters walked off with his 13th triumph last night as the Reds defeated the Boston Braves 3 to 2....At that it was a tough loss for Barrett for the Boston pitcher allowed only six hits and all three runs scored off him were unearned....The Philadelphia A's dropped into the American League cellar last night when they were beaten 5 to 4 by the Cleveland Indians in 12 innings. Joe Heving did some fine relief pitching for the Tribe and was credited with the win.

TOO MANY BASE RUNNERS SPOIL CHANCE TO SCORE—The base paths were plenty crowded when this action took place in a Yankee-Senator ball game in New York. Yank Centre Fielder Johnny Lindell and Catcher Rollie Hemsley are caught in a rundown. Johnny Sullivan is chasing Hemsley, who got back safely. Lindell was out.

Derby Officials Say No Betting

WINNIPEG, July 1.—The "no wagering" sign will be hung up for Saturday's 15th running of the $5,000 added Canadian Derby at Polo Park. The presence in the race of the H. C. Hatch entry of Acara and Ompalo scared off the owners of several western breds. Only four could be found to oppose the easterners when entries closed Friday morning. One of these, Pagan Star, is considered a doubtful starter as he ran in Friday's fifth race.

The western breds entered are: Alf. Tarn's filly, Divulge, Jim Speers' Gower Mon, Dr. Appleby's Cum Laude and Neil Campbell's Pagan Star.

The race will be run and the $5,000 purse paid but there will be an additional race on the holiday program in order to provide a seven-race betting card.

The track will be muddy or heavy for the race.

Castano Boosts Batting Record

NEW YORK, July 1. — (AP).— Antonio Castano is out to make it two straight this year.

The Toronto second baseman this week hit the top in the International League race for the batting title, making 14 hits in 38 trips to the plate to raise his average from .333 to .341.

Elmer Durrett, Montreal outfielder, who took over the leadership last week, dropped to second with .330.

Castano led the Piedmont League batters last year, hitting .333 for Richmond. Oddly enough, he failed to hit a home run last year and he has yet to hit one this year.

Only two newcomers moved into the first 10 hitters, Eddie Kobesky of Buffalo, and Dewey Williams of Toronto, who has since been sold to the Chicago Cubs. They replace Howie Moss of Baltimore and Mayo Smith of Buffalo.

Royals-Chiefs Mix In Wild Scramble; Leafs Lose

The International League pennant race is knock-down-drag-out affair in which even the umpires and the president of the league, Frank J. Shaughnessy, are becoming involved.

Amid a wild scramble, mixed with errors, arguments and reversals of decisions, Montreal Royals sprang into the runner-up spot by defeating Syracuse Chiefs, 6-5, with a two-run rally in the ninth inning last night.

Trailing 5-4 in their half of the ninth, the Royals loaded the bases with one out via a base on balls, a hit and an error, plus an intentional walk. Red Durrett then hit to Pitcher George Woodend, who threw to the plate too late to catch the runner.

Catcher Len Rice charged Umpire Tighe, who immediately put him out of the game. A terrific argument ensued, and while this was going on, Morris Aderholt sneaked home from third with the winning run.

Tighe at first allowed the run, but First Base Umpire Walter Heline consulted Prexy Shaughnessy, who was in the park and Aderholt was sent back to third Ed Stevens then broke it up with a single which scored Aderholt.

Baltimore Orioles combined 15 hits and 10 walks off six Toronto pitchers to defeat the Maple Leafs, 14-8. Blas Monaco and Stan Benjamin each made three hits and scored four runs.

Mike Roscoe blanked Jersey City with four hits to give Buffalo a 7-0 victory.

Bill Trotter scattered four Newark hits to give Rochester a 2-1 victory over the Bears. It was Trotter's sixth win of the year.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 1 — (AP). — Arithmetic lesson, or figures can be misleading, but where do they lead?......Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, likes to point out that most of the dough that goes through the mutuel windows at racetracks finds its way back to the public—less 10 per cent.....He was quoted the other day in a local paper as saying: "When the size of the daily handle is mentioned, I would like to see it recorded this way: Total pool $2,000,000, State's share $120,000, track's share $80,000, breakage $20,00, or whatever it is, redistributed to the public $1,780,000.".....Swope then went on to explain that the amount of money actually bet and re-bet to make up that two million buck is roughly about a quarter of the total pool, which would be $500,000.

Applied science:

As this department reads those figures, that $20,000 "take" would come out of the $500,000 and thus would amount to 44 per cent of what the public carried into the track......Reducing that to more understandable numbers an "average" fan who laid aside 10 bucks to bet on the horses would have the fun of wagering $40 during the afternoon and would be nicked $4.40 by the machines.....On top of that he'd spend about $1.60 for admission, 65 cents for transportation, a dollar for refreshments and 35 cents for a program and tip sheet .....That adds up to $3.60, so the day's entertainment would cost him $8.....That isn't what we'd call cheap, but it may be okay if you like horses.

Conn McCreary Fractures Wrist

CHICAGO, July 1—(AP)— Little Conn McCreary, 22, leading money-winning jockey in the United States, will be on the sidelines tomorrow when 10 outstanding fillies battle for the $39,000 Arlington Park Lassies' Stakes, richest prize for this juvenile event.

McCreary, who rode the Calumet Farm's Pensive to victories in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, had contracted to ride the Calumet Farm's Twosy tomorrow, but suffered a fractured right wrist in an automobile crash Friday, and probably will be out of the saddle for at least six weeks. F. A. Smith, promising Cuban jockey, likely will fill McCreary's engagement.

McCreary may have been knocked out of a $60,000 income for the year by the smash-up. He was en route to Washington Park Race Track from suburban Chicago Heights, where he lives, when his car swerved and crashed into a tree. McCreary's companion, Sammy Grezne, a stable employee, suffered a fractured hip.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Bucky Walters, Reds—Hung up 13th win of campaign, collected two singles and drove in one run in Cincinnati's 3-2 nod over Boston.

Andy Pafko, Cubs—Broke up game with 2-run homer in last of ninth for 2-0 victory over Brooklyn's Ed Had.

Stan Musial, Cards— Took over National League batting lead by rapping two doubles and one single, driving home two in 8-4 decision over Phils.

Ace Adams, Giants and Bob Elliott, Pirates—Adams saved first 7-5 game for New York by stopping Pittsburg rally in ninth; Elliott collected five hits in 10 at bats during double bill driving in tying run and scoring winning tally of 9-8 nightcap.

Vern Stephens Browns—Homered with George McQuinn on base in first inning of 3-0 victory over Yanks collected two singles, handled eight chances faultlessly and took part in four double plays.

Mio Candini, Senators—Scattered seven Detroit safeties in 4-2 triumph over Detroit.

Yank Terry, Red Sox—Broke into the win column after six losses by neat relief support in 11-0 shutout of Chicago after Oscar Judd's arm failed in third inning.

Mickey Rocco, Indians — Singled home Ray Mack in last of 12th for 5-4 margin that dumped Philadelphia into American League basement.

Nelson Scorches Chicago Course

CHICAGO, July 1—(AP)—Tournament golf followed a familiar pattern Friday as Byron Nelson—putting for birdies on 15 holes and eagles on three—scorched the compact Edgewater course in 32-33—65, six strokes under par, to take the first round lead for the Chicago Victory National championship.

"I was hitting my shots just as good as I ever did in my life," said the Toledo pro, who has cashed $14,341 in winnings this season. "And if my putter had been a little hotter, I could have broken a 60."

Bunched at 67, two strokes behind Nelson, were Amateur Steve Kovach, 27-year-old Pittsburgh steelworker, with 34-33; Jug McSpaden of Philadelphia, the season's top money earner with $15,100, 33-34, and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., the 1944 Texas Open champion, 32-35.

Grouped at 68 were Sam Bernardi, Chicago veteran, with 34-34; Amateur Chuck Kocsis of Detroit, former N.C.A.A. titlist for the University of Michigan, with 34-34; Sgt. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Wright Field, Ohio, 33-35, and Lieut. Ben Hogan, Fort Worth, Texas, 34-34.

Gene Sarazen of New York was alone in the 69 bracket, and the 70 division included Abe Espinosa, Decatur, Illinois; Jim Foulis, Chicago; Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N.Y., and Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind.

Equalling par 71 were Defending Champion Sam Byrd of Detroit; Willie Goggin, White Plain, N.Y.; Gene Kunes, Philadelphia, and Amateur Wilford Wehrle, Racine, Wis.

UNLUCKY SPOT.

PETERHEAD, England —(CP) — When he was a young man and coxswain of the Peterhead lifeboat, James Cameron almost drowned when the boat was dashed to pieces on the rocks at the harbour entrance here. He was drowned almost at the same spot recently when he fell out of a small fishing boat. He was 85.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

After being rained out completely on two Friday nights and partially rained out on two others, the week-end tournament finally hit the jack-pot last night. Taking advantage of the long lay-off and the cool evening a good crowd turned out to enjoy three 8-end games. The greens are now rounding into good condition.

We wish to remind the bowlers that the Tip Top Tailor tournament scheduled for Monday, July 3, starts at 1 p.m.

The Ladies Games Committee has asked that the schedule games which were rained out on Tuesday, June 20, be played on or before July 7.

Here are the group standings to date:

Group 1—T. McMillan 12 points, H. Darling 11 points.

Group 2—W. Jeffries 12 points, H. Martin 12 points.

Group 3—C. Williamson 10 points, G. Sorenson 8 points.

Group 4—C. Lawrence 8 points, W. Ashby 8 points.

Technocracy Theories Bring New Philosophy

The theories of Technocracy, a radically different philosophy of social and economic values in the modern world which discards all the familiar concepts taught the average person in his education and his dealings in the everyday world of business, relying for its interpretation of life solely on the basis of physical phenomena was introduced to a few interested people in Peterborough last night by W. E. Walters of Detroit, an authorized speaker of Technocracy, Inc.

At the bottom of Technocracy, Mr. Walter said in a lecture at Paragon Hall, was the theory of "energy determinants," which he characterized as meaning that as the "amount of goods and services available to any populations the amount of energy per capita put into useful forms." In a world governed by technological principles, the speaker said, all man-made concepts, the result of centuries of traditional thinking, since they had no existence as far as the physical world was concerned, would have to go by the board.

Technocracy, Mr. Walter revealed, had had its beginnings in the studies of certain obscure scientists near the start of the century; and had been incorporated, in order to protect the name, in 1933. At one time or another, such minds as Thorsten Veblen, Stuart Chase and the great physicist Steinmetz, had been connected with it.

South End Group Makes $25 For War Victims

Every type of association could if it would, find time and opportunity to do something in the strenuous times through which the nation is passing, to assist the general cause towards the day of victory, and particularly is this so from a humanitarian standpoint, when it comes to the giving of practical aid to those whom the misfortunes of war have unduly afflicted.

To the credit of the South End Group of the Progressive Conservative Association it will ever be recorded in the records of the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund, that they took time out on at least two occasions to raise money on behalf of the sufferers from enemy air raid attacks over Britain, the most recent of which saw at least eighteen young infants just purely murdered in cold blood by the latest rocket bombs sent indiscriminately against the south of Britain by the German foes.

Their latest effort took the form of a draw for a quilt made by the ladies of this group headed by Mrs. E. W. Fisher, and who were mainly responsible also for the sale of tickets, which led to the nice sum of $25.00 being raised for the fund.

The draw was made by S. R. Clarke at a social evening held recently for the whole of the local Association, and this resulted in the prize being won by Mrs. C. Reynolds of 584 Aylmer street, and their gift to the fund makes it possible for the balance on hand towards the 30th donation to go over the first $100.00 since the latest gift was sent three days ago.

Ladies' Fraternal Group

Favorable notice of any fraternal group in a public sense is bound to arise from good deeds done in a general way for the common weal, more so than that within their own select circle, a tribute which can justly be handed to the Peterborough Chapter No. 161 of the Order of the Eastern Star.

This group has on a number of occasions given assistance to this fund, the latest of which amounting to $10 in included in today's list through Miss Vera Squire, Worthy Matron, and Mrs. William Beggs, their treasurer, and when one considers that at the same time they also gave assistance to their own Mobile Canteen Fund, and contribution towards a fund to provide shoes for bombed out children and comforts for crippled children in Britain, it can readily be seen they are doing a real worth-while public service in the prosecution of the war effort.

Then to make the day one that is entirely given over to help from ladies' organizations, another contribution of $2.00 is listed to the credit of the Women's Friendly Bible Class of St. John's church, through Miss H. Ward, which was taken up through a collection among a few members who were quilting at the residence of Mrs. T. Groombridge at 461 Bolivar street on behalf of the Russian relief, this making the third quilt they have completed for that purpose in the past short time. This one group has now contributed a total of $212.00 to the fund.

Tag Day For Fund

During the past two weeks, enemy bombings of the Motherland have been on a much larger scale, particularly through the latest type of most indiscriminate warfare against civilian life, through the rocket or pilotless bombs, which have caused considerable damage and loss of life, occasioning an enlarged amount of need to those so stricken.

Next Saturday, July 8, a Tag Day to assist them will be held by the management of the Fund, and in appealing for a generous support, the secretary would also appreciate offers of assistance through groups who could undertake to supply a group of at least 20 taggers to take care of one two hour shift.

War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

July 1, 1940—Nazi prisoners of war arrived in Canadian camps. German occupation of channel islands of Guernsey and Jersey announced. Romania renounced British-French guarantees given in 1939. Hungary placed on war footing as army corps mobilized on Romanian frontier.

July 2, 1940—First British refugee children arrived in Canada. German air raids killed 12 and injured 120 in northeast and southwest England. French government moved to Vichy. R.A.F. attacked targets in Germany, Denmark, Belgium and the Netherlands.

July 3, 1940—Royal Navy took action to prevent portions of French fleet from falling into German hands and in an engagement without precedent at Oran, Algeria, sank one battleship, a seaplane carrier and two destroyers and severely damaged and beached the battle cruiser Dunkerque.

Orange Church Parade To Be Held At Knox

The annual church parade of the Orange Order and associated lodges will be held July 9 to Knox United Church, where Rev. F. W. Craik of St. James' United Church will conduct the service and preach the sermon. The service will be preceded by a 15-minute singing of national hymns and will commence at 6.45 p.m.

This has been arranged so that the Salvation Army Band, who have kindly consented to lead the parade, can get back to their temple in time for their regular broadcast.

The celebration of the Glorious 12th will take place in the village of Hastings this year, and all Peterborough lodges which can arrange to get away will be taking part.

The usual parade of city and county lodges will be held from the C.N.R. station at 8 p.m. sharp on the evening of July 12, and owing to the interest that has been shown of late within the lodges, it is expected that this parade will be larger than ever.

Peterborough Orangemen are anxiously waiting the end of the war when a celebration of all lodges in Victoria, Durham, Northumberland, East and West Peterborough will be held in this city.

Plan Band Concert King Edward Park

The first band concert of the season in the King Edward Park will be held on Sunday evening commencing at 8.30 o'clock. The program which will be provided by the Peterborough Temple Band is as follows:

Berries Being Bought At Grower's Garden

"They are lining up at the gardens waiting for the pickers to come in," said a market gardener on the local market this morning when asked where all the strawberries were.

He went on to explain that consumers from the cities were driving out to fruit gardens in the district and buying the berries as soon as they are picked.

Many housewives were looking for the fruit on the market to-day but all except the early arrivals were looking in vain. There were small supplies on hand but they sold quickly at 27 cents a box and by 10 o'clock not a berry was in sight.

LAKEFIELD, July 1—(ENS)—Mrs. Thomas George Dunford, the former Nellie McPherson, passed away Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Melvin Carveth of Dummer. In failing health for some years, Mrs. Dunford, who was 68, was taken to the home of her daughter when she became severely ill.

Born in Cobourg, she was the daughter of the late David McPherson and Eliza Jane Oak of Port Hope. She was a member of Bethel United Church and until her illness and active member of the Ladies' Aid.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Melvin Carveth of Dummer and Mrs. Kernel Lane of Lakefield; and three sons, Ernest, R.R. No. 3, Lakefield, and Leonard and Ray of Peterborough. Also remaining are two sisters, Mrs. Fred Thomas and Mrs. Maude Hunter of Washington, D.C.; and three brothers, David of Montana and Joseph and William of Washington, D.C.

The funeral will be conducted on Sunday at 2 p.m. from the residence of her son-in-law, Melvin Carveth, on the 3rd Line of Dummer. Rev. W. J. Wilkinson of Havelock and Rev. Snelgrove of Warsaw will officiate. Interment in Lakefield cemetery.

TREASURE TROVE

His car stalled on the Inverlea bridge, he had a case of beer (quarts) in the back, with one bottle empty and just then the police car slipped by going in the opposite direction. Fearing the police would return and start asking questions the motorist heaved the 11 quarts of evidence, case and all into the Otonabee all in vain for the police didn't return. The next day he was up at Inverlea, trying to get the female lifeguard to dive for his beer, but it was no dice, and the bottled sunshine still reposes in the bottom of the Otonabee.—McG.

Swimmers Give Demonstration In Y.W.C.A. Pool

The balcony of the Y.W.C.A. pool was filled with proud parents and interested children on Friday evening for a swimming demonstration presented by the babies and juniors, and life-saving and ornamental swimming by advanced pupils. Great interest was shown in the various exercises of the babies, who demonstrated kicking and arm movements, separately and together. Many swam across the pool, while others jumped from the diving board and swam the length of the pool.

The four methods of life-saving were demonstrated, alterntting by teams of victims and rescuers. Those taking part were Margaret Martyn, Elsie Black, Gillian Groombridge, Arleigh Brotherstone, Beverly Martyn, Betty Williams, and Donna Brotherstone. Pat Martyn and Lillian Wood demonstrated senior life-saving methods, showing the skill and knowledge needed to keep control when rescuing a drowning person.

The [illegible] Finettes, Hazel Dunford, [illegible]kins, and Shirley Mokiav[illegible] [illegible]ted an unusual and attractive [illegible] of ornamental swimming routines, including the figure eight, marching, semi-waltzing, spirals, planking, and several floats, including flower float, concertina, and pinwheel. The girls concluded their demonstration with a few excellent dives from board.

At the beginning of the program the juniors entertained with swimming and jumping from the board, and many dove for a five-pound weight, bringing it to the surface and swimming with it to side of the pool. Gillian Groombridge received a life-saving intermediate certificate from Mrs. G. R. Scott, a member of the Health Education Committee. Other members of the committee who assisted Mrs. Scott with the races were Mrs. F. E. Johnston and Mrs. E. G. Porter. Miss Caroline Littlefield, physical director at the Y.W.C.A., conducted all demonstrations and the races. Winners were as follows:

Red and green frogs — Joyce Thompson, Donna Rooke

Silver frogs—Jack Plunkett, Johane Beemer.

Five years and under — Peter Faulkner, Helen Walker.

Six and 7 years—Dona Brotherstone, Jack Huggins.

Eight years—Larry Godfrey, Helen Campbell.

Capt. Don Scott Badly Burned

Word was received in the city today that Captain Donald Scott of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders has been badly burned while on active service in France. Captain Scott was the manager of Scarfe's Paint store in Peterborough. He is a past president of the Kinsmen Club and took a keen interest in the Peterborough Businessmen's Association. Early in the war he joined the Prince of Wales Rangers and when the Highlanders were mobilized he went active with that unit. A year ago he was married overseas to a Halifax girl who was serving as a nurse.

Wading Pool To Open Monday, July 3

Mayor James Hamilton will officially open the Lions Club Wading Pool at the tourist camp alongside Hunter street bridge at 10.30 on Monday, July 3, and the citizens of Peterborough are invited to attend the ceremony.

The Peterborough Women's Service Corps band will parade from the business section to the Ashburnham Bowl prior to the opening and will remain for the ceremony. Members of the City Council and heads of the other service clubs in the city have been invited along with a few other citizens who have given special assistance and encouragement to this project. Opening of the pool also means the opening of the first supervised playground in Peterborough for many years.

An experienced, competent male supervisor has been engaged and also a female assistant who is studying sociology at the University of Toronto. A lifeguard will also be on duty during the hours when the pool is open to the kiddies. Swings, teeters, and sandboxes are in place on the grounds and the supervisors will organize games, such as softball, tag, etc., for the children. Dressing rooms now in existence under the bridge will be used by the bathers.

Members of the Lions Club under the direction of Hurrell Dodds and Thomas Doughty have been working every night during the last two weeks to have the pool ready for Monday, and a rise in the river water in the past two days has added to their difficulties.

AN EARLY START.

Ken Wesenberg, 667 Homewood Avenue, bet a fellow worker he would have a 20-pound muskie by noon. He missed by a pound and a half. At 8 o'clock this morning he tied into a beautiful fish, and it weighed 18 pounds 9 ounces. He was fishing alone near Keene, and is the first lucky fisherman reported on the opening day of the season.

2nd Annual Picnic
THE OUTBOARD MARINE & MFG. CO. are anxious to have the families of any former employees of this Company who are now in the Armed Services as our guests at the Second Annual Picnic, July 8th, at Nicholls Oval. Rides, games and "cokes" for the kiddies will be in great demand and if these families will phone 3557 they will be taken care of.

Showers For Bride

Mrs. J. D. Stewart, nee Audrey Garside, was guest of honor at several entertainments prior to her marriage today. At the home of Mrs. B. McWilliams, George Street, she was presented with a lovely crystal sandwich tray by girls of the Knitting Club of which she was a member. Miss Myrtle Sargent and Miss Mignon Mayneord assisted.

Miss Joan Fletcher, Weller Street, with Misses Ethel Smith and Dorothy McAuliffe as hostesses, also entertained at a shower, attended by fellow workers at the Western Clock Company of the bride-elect. Mrs. Maurice Fitzgerald and Mrs. G. Myles were joint hostesses at the former's home on New Romaine Street, for a miscellaneous shower, where the bride-to-be received many lovely and useful gifts, in a decorated treasure chest. A dainty lunch was served completing a happy evening.

Her fourth floor friends of the Western Clock Company also presented Mrs. Stewart with a walnut Duncan Fyfe table, as a wedding gift.

TOWN TOPICS—Take a slim but gracefully easy skirt and a cool, practically air-conditioned latticed top—and there you have a fine fashion formula, especially when it is handled by Eta. This famous European-born New York designer cites dark, flattering and functional crepes ideal for busy summer days in town. Dark brown crepe is used for this good looking number with its cool, lattice-detailed bodice and simple skirt with waistline tucks released to give it movement. A real town frock.

Irene Battle Wears Taffeta At Knox Church Wedding

A pretty wedding took place in Knox United Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Irene Mary Battle, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Battle, Rubidge street, became the bride of John Edward Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Flat Valley, Sask. The church was decorated with summer flowers and ferns for the ceremony, with Rev. H. J. Mahoney officiating. William Potter was at the organ, and accompanied Jack Ridyard of Toronto, who sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of Swiss embroidered taffeta, on long torso lines, with a full skirt and flowing train. The bodice was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, and three-quarter-length sleeves, and was finished at the front with small covered buttons from neck to waistline. Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion fell from a matching Queen Anne halo, and she carried a shower bouquet of Bettertime roses. Her only ornament was a cameo pendant, the gift of her mother.

She was attended by Misses Dorothy and Eva Battle, her sisters, who were gowned alike in floor-length blue and pink taffeta, respectively, fashioned on long torso lines, with full gathered skirts, slight trains, three-quarter length sleeves, and buttoned down the back from neck to waist with small self-covered buttons. Each wore matching net gloves, a strand of pearls, and a small matching taffeta hat, with contrasting veil. As an unusual touch, they carried old-fashioned taffeta muffs, with corsage of pink roses with tulle streamers.

Spr. Arthur Johnson of Terrace, B.C., brother of the groom, was best man, and Sgt. Talbert Battle, of London, brother of the bride, and John Latchford were ushers.

At the reception in the Business Girls' Club Room of the Y.W.C.A., the bride's mother received the guests, in a gown of turquoise blue silk crepe, black accessories, a brown squirrel fur, and a corsage of Bettertime roses. Mrs. R. Parnell, aunt of the bride, received, in the absence of the groom's mother, in a two-piece daytime dress of orchid crepe, with a Leghorn hat, orchid accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

For a trip to Toronto and other points, the bride donned a pink silk jersey dress with a full skirt, three-quarter length sleeves, and black accessories. On their return, the young couple will make their home at 255 Reid street.

Otonabee Pupils Honor Teacher

Graduation exercises were held at St. Joseph's school, No. 8 Otonabee on Friday evening. Paul Powers, the president of the class was chairman for the evening.

The teacher, Miss Dorothy Grady awarded prizes to the leading girl, Bernice Sullivan of Grade 7, and to the leading boy, Paul Powers of Grade 8.

Rev. J. J. O'Brien, the pastor of Sacred Heart Parish congratulated the teacher, pupils and parents on the work done during the past year, and the program closed with the singing of "O Canada". Miss Grady, who is leaving to be married was presented with a complete set of Pyrex and behalf of the children by Anne Marie O'Toole.

The beautifully worded address with this presentation was read by the Secretary Joan Fitzgerald.

Refreshments were served by the mothers and home economics class. Among the numerous guests were Dr. A. J. Madill, Miss Olga Johnston and Miss Constance Wager of the Peterborough Normal School staff. Music for dancing was provided by Jack O'Dette.

YOUTHS REBEL AT OLD MODES

Friction Caused By Parents Refusal To Admit Life Speeded Up, Teen-agers Mature

ONE OF the reasons why there is so much friction between parents and children is because the fathers and mothers are trying to force out-moded manners and customs upon them and the youngsters rebel. They refuse to submit to a schedule that is 25 or 30 years behind the times, so there is fighting all along the home front.

It is not the principle of the things that the children wish to do to which their parents object. It is whether they did those things themselves or not. For instance, in many households whenever a teen-age girl uses a little lip stick Mother acts as if she had committed a mortal sin, and every time John drives an automobile at over 35 miles an hour Father prophesies that he is hurling to perdition. This is not because Mother really believes that there is anything intrinsically demoralizing in a dab of colored grease, or Father thinks there is anything wicked in a little speed, but because when Mother was a girl, ladies didn't use cosmetics, and Father's only means of transportation was old Dobbin.

Yet while Father and Mother are so distressed because they can't force their children to dress and act as they did over a quarter of a century ago, you don't see them following along in the pattern of their youth. Father doesn't wear high stiff collars as he went a-courting. Mother doesn't doll herself up in long skirts and feathered hats. Nor have they taken their seats by the fireside to wait for their latter end.

Youth's Apparel Scandalizes Parents

On the contrary, they wear the latest-up-to-the-minute clothes and they step out at night so often that they seldom see their children after dark. But they are scandalized by Susie's shorts and Johnny's shirt-tails and dirty shoes and their not wanting to go to bed with the chickens, because they never did that way when they were boys and girls.

Chief among the causes that make the home with teen-agers in it a perpetual battle around is the "keeping company" problem. According to Mom and Pop, they took no serious interest in the opposite sex until they were mature men and women. They indulged in little of this calf-love stuff. So when Minnie and Tommy begin stepping out, they do it practically over their parents' dead bodies.

Now admittedly the date line has been moved up considerably of late years, but so has all life been speeded up, and girls and boys in their teens are just as old and sophisticated as their parents were at 20. And fathers and mothers would save themselves a lot of grief if they would just recognize that as a fact, and quit having a row with their girls every time their boy friends come around.

Whether we like it or not, our children are modern. They are not going to turn back and we have to keep going ourselves if we want to keep in touch with them.

R.C.A.F. Wedding At Mark Street

A wedding of interest took place in Mark Street United Church when LAW. Bernice Kathleen Daynes, R.C.A.F. (WD), niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson, 123 James street, became the bride of Cpl. Clayton Manley Johnson, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnson, Lethbridge, Alta. Rev. E. W. Rowland officiated, in a church decorated with peonies and ferns. H. I. Northrop was at the organ, and accompanied Miss Ruth Smith as she sang "Because" and "Through the Years," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her uncle, James Robinson, the bride wore a gown of white satin, a white lace veil with matching halo, and carried a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by Miss Florence Robinson, her cousin, and Miss Doris Free, her sister, who were gowned alike in white and blue sheer, with matching veils and bouquets of sweet peas and roses and baby's breath.

Stoker Morley Daynes, brother of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Cpl. Johnny Lee of Trenton, and LAC. Johnny Quirk, both of the R.C.A.F.

At the reception, held at Hooper's Palm Rooms, the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Robinson, received, in a blue sheer gown, with black hat trimmed with matching blue, and a corsage of pink roses. Also receiving was Mrs. Walter Free, in black sheer, with matching hat, and a red rose corsage. Mrs. Free assisted as the groom's mother was unable to be present.

For a trip to Lethbridge, Alta., the bride donned her Airforce uniform. The young couple will return to their stations at Trenton and Dunnville after their wedding trip.

Toronto Man Weds Audrey Garside

Trinity United Church, decorated with ferns, delphiniums and orange blossoms, was the setting for a pretty wedding today, when Audrey Bernice Grace Garside, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Garside, 269 Thomas street, became the bride of Jack Duncan Stewart, son of W. H. Stewart and the late Mrs. Stewart, of Toronto. Rev. William McDonald officiated. Miss Mabel Clarry was at the organ, and accompanied Miss Helen Parkinson when she sang "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register, and "Because," before the bride entered the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of white lace Bulah, made on princess lines, with a semi-train, sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves, coming to a point over the hand. Her fingertip veil of white net was caught to a heart-shaped halo of matching material with a wreath of orange blossoms, which her mother wore at her wedding, and she carried a bouquet of Bettertime roses.

Miss Jean McCullough of Port Hope was bridesmaid, in floor-length Windsor Rose embossed taffeta, made with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. She wore a rose net headdress, and carried a nosegay of Talisman roses. Misses Carol Crossley of Fenwick, and Carole Garside of Peterborough, were dainty flower girls in similar gowns of blue taffeta, with sweetheart necklines, and head bands of pink and blue rosettes. They carried white baskets of pink and blue flowers.

W. A. Stewart of Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man, and Gerald Clarke, of Brighton and William Messervey of Peterborough were ushers.

Receiving at the reception in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A., was the bride's mother, in rose lace Bulah, with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations and sweet peas. The groom's aunt, also receiving, wore orchid sheer, with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations and sweet peas.

For a trip to the Muskoka Lake district, the bride chose a dusty rose crepe dress, with tan and white accessories.

Out-of-town guests were present from Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton, Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Newcastle, Bowmanville, Fenwick, Oshawa, and Mount Albert.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP

As this is the month when picnics begin I am going to suggest a few recipes for sandwiches, that are both tasty and easily made. When meat (sliced) is used be sure to slice it very thin, as thin as a knife blade, and use several tiny slices, instead of one thick one. Below you will find some very appetizing sandwich fillings.

Peanut Butter and Orange Marmalade

½ cup peanut butter, ¼ cup cream, ½ cup orange marmalade. Mix peanut butter with cream until it is smooth and light in color. Spread generously on thin slices of bread and add a layer of orange marmalade. The peanut butter may also be mixed with the marmalade if preferred.

Almond Sandwiches

1¼ cups almonds, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Chop almonds fine, mix with salt and lemon juice and use with thin slices of bread buttered. Cut into small ovals, pressing a blanched almond in the centre of each sandwich.

Cheese Sandwiches

Yolks of 3 hard cooked eggs, 2 tablespoons salad oil, mustard, paprika, salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 cup grated cheese. Rub smooth the yolks of the hard boiled eggs. Add the oil, stirring very slowly with a fork, and mix thoroughly with a little mustard, paprika, salt and the vinegar. Add the grated cheese and spread between thin buttered slices of either white or brown bread.

Chicken Sandwiches (1)

1 cup cooked chicken white meat, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 1 tablespoon cold water, 6 tablespoons thick cream, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of paprika. Chop the chicken very fine and pound to a paste, adding salt and a dash of red pepper. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for 15 minutes, and add thick cream. Dissolve the gelatine over boiling water, beat it slowly into the chicken and add salt and paprika. Set aside to cool, smoothing into an even mass. When cool divide into squares, cut these squares into very thin slices and arrange on thin buttered slices of bread. Cut into fancy shapes, removing crusts.

Chicken Sandwiches (2)

¾ cup chicken white meat, ¼ cup chopped stuffed olives, ¼ cup chopped almonds, ¼ cup mayonnaise. Cut chicken into small pieces and add the almonds and olives. Moisten with mayonnaise and spread very thin on thin slices of buttered bread, either brown or white.

HANDKERCHIEF DRESS—Here is a mighty useful frock designed to take the wearer through Summer into early autumn. It is a version of the famous handkerchief dress created by a New York designer. It comes in a brown and white checked crepe top with a brown crepe skirt buttoned down the side to the hem. The orange-bound handkerchief buttoned to the dress looks like contrasting drapery and lends animation to the slim skirt.—By Alice Alden.

Heirloom Lace On Dress Worn By Margaret Hurley

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a lovely summer wedding recently, when Margaret Catharine, daughter of Mrs. Hurley and the late Mr. Francis Roderick Hurley, became the bride of Francis Aloysius MacPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Randolph Joseph MacPherson, of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. J. Carroll of Norwood, cousin of the groom. Rev. J. P. Collins of Campbellford, cousin of the bride, was in the sanctuary. The altar was decorated with white and pink roses and peonies interspersed with ferns. Miss Marion Best played the wedding music and during the Mass, George Daly sang "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Sgt. J. Raymond McDonnell of Toronto, wore a gown of traditional satin with moulded basque bodice and long sheath-like sleeves. Heirloom lace formed the yoke and edged the sleeves. The richly gathered fulness of the skirt fell from two peplums of matching lace. Her veil of French net was caught with a cluster of rose buds and lily of the valley, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and roses, with bouvardia.

Miss Margaret MacPherson of Toronto, the groom's sister, and the bride's only attendant, was frocked in dove-grey net with a bolero of sire lace. She wore a grey crepe juliet cap with coral ostrich tips and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Herbert C. McDonnell of Toronto, cousin of the bride, was best man and the ushers were John J. Doris of Toronto, cousin of the bride and Ronald M. McPherson, the groom's brother.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Hurley, mother of the bride, received in an ensemble of Nassau blue crepe, trimmed with Irish-point lace, and a matching wide-brimmed hat. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Mrs. MacPherson, mother of the groom, assisting, had chosen a gown of black crepe, accented with white, with which was worn a matching hat and a corsage of Delight roses.

For travelling the bride chose a frock of Equador green crepe, and dark brown hat and accessories with a corsage of white orchids completed her costume. Upon their return from a trip through the Muskoka district, Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson will live in Peterborough.

3 Showers Given For Irene Battle

Prior to her marriage today, Mrs. J. E. Johnson, nee Irene Battle, was entertained on several occasions by her friends. Mrs. G. Heffernan and Miss Mabel Courneya entertained at the former's home at the miscellaneous shower, where the gifts were brought to the bride in a pink and white decorated basket, carried by Mabel Courneya and Theresa Collins.

Those present were: Mesdames B. Beach, Burns, G. Heffernan, Sr., F. Collins, G. Heffernan, Jr., and Mrs. Ruby Payne; and Misses M. Payne, G. Dunford, H. Rennie, K. Heffernan, E. Latchford, E. Battle, H. Hetherington, T. Collins, M. Courneya and D. Battle. Those who were unable to attend but sent gifts were Mrs. William Battle, Mrs. J. Wilson and Miss E. Gurnie.

Misses G. Dunford and H. Rennie also entertained for the bride-elect at a personal shower at the former's home, Hunter street, and those present were: Mesdames W. Page, G. Heffernan, O. Grant and Misses E. Dale, E. Battle, L. Edwards, M. Elliott, F. Cruikshank, D. Battle, H. Rennie, G. Dunford and M. Payne.

Those who sent gifts but were unable to attend were Mesdames R. Dale, M. Baldwin, William Battle, William Dale, B. Newison and Miss D. Payne.

The Knitting Club, of which the bride-elect was a member, presented her with a large crystal sandwich plate in cornflower pattern, at a surprise party at the home of Mrs. B. McWilliams, George street, with Miss Mignon Mayneord a co-hostess.

Friends Honor W. A. Sidey At Bridgenorth

BRIDGENORTH, July 1—(ENS)—To mark the occasion of W. A. Sidey's retirement at the end of 21 years as a general merchant in Bridgenorth, a social evening was held in his honor in the church school room recently. The room, decorated with baskets of flowers, the gift of residents of the village and countryside.

Following a community "sing-song" led by Mrs. J. H. Johnson, to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Clayton Telford, a short address was given by Rev. H. H. Mutton in which he paid tribute to Mr. Sidey's work as Sunday School superintendent and praised his faithfulness and efficiency as a leader of children and young people.

Jim Jopling read an address which expressed the appreciation of the community for the contributions made by Mr. Sidey and his family. Will Telford presented the Sidey family with a purse of $50 which he offered on behalf of the village as a token of the high regard in which they were held and voiced the hope they would return to make their home in Bridgenorth.

Mr. Sidey, replying for himself and Mrs. Sidey, said that the services they had been able to render were a privilege and a pleasure. He and his family, he said, had been very happy in Bridgenorth and hoped to return and make their home where they had found so many good friends and been the recipients of so many kindnesses.

Supper arrangements were ably supervised by Miss Ella Nicholls, Mrs. William Robinson and Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

strained relations there is need of safeguarding the health, keeping alert to intrigues in the realm of the romantic. Adhere strictly to the conventions in writings, actions and general behavior.

Those whose birthday it is may look forward to a very active and enterprising year, in which propositions and objectives of major importance and worthwhile and lasting security may materialize. Influential persons may be disposed to lend a friendly hand, the social or sentimental factors being significant. In all arrangements be wary as to loopholes for intrigue or collusion. However, there may be much pleasure, festivity and celebration with enhanced prestige and popularity.

IN MEMORIAM

FORD—In loving memory of my dear husband, Wesley Ford, who passed away July 1, 1942.

I have only your memory, dear husband,
To remember my whole life through;
But the sweetness will linger forever
As I treasure the image of you.
—Ever remembered by his loving wife, Jessie.

BATHGATE—In loving memory of Mrs. George Bathgate, who passed away July 2, 1941.

The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.
Remembered by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Bathgate.

FORD—In loving memory of our dear father, Wesley Ford, who passed away July 1, 1942.

Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of a father
Your loved ones would never forget.
—Ever remembered by Winnie, Violet, Leonard, Douglas and sons-in-laws, Eldon and George.

PAYNE—In loving memory of our dear Mother and Dad, who passed away July 1, 1940.

Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they left behind.
Loving and kind in all their ways,
Upright and just to the end of their days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
—Lovingly remembered by Sons and Daughters.

CARDS OF THANKS

George Clark, Jr. wishes to express his thanks to the sisters and nurses of St. Joseph Hospital and priests, and to his many friends who sent fruit, books and many other gifts during his operation and stay in hospital.

Mr. Frank Edgar wishes to thank the nurses and staff of Nicholls Hospital, attending doctors, Lions Club, friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown him during his recent illness.

Senator Nye Leads Seeking Renomination

FARGO, N.D., July 1 — (AP).—With unofficial tabulation virtually completed, Gerald P. Nye, incumbent, had a lead of 800 votes to-day in seeking renomination as the Republican candidate for the United States Senate.

Nye, in the Senate since 1925, had 38,079 votes to 37,129 for Lynn U. Stambaugh, Fargo attorney and former National Commander of the American Legion, on returns from 2,220 precincts of 2,251 in Tuesday's State primary. In third place was U.S. Representative Usher L. Burdick with 34,986.

The State Canvassing Board will meet late this month, when absentee and soldiers' ballots also will be counted. A total of 8,856 soldier ballots were sent out, but how many will be returned was not known to-day. County auditors have until July 17 to certify all their returns to the Secretary of State.

Fraser Invites Empire Heads To New Zealand

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 1—(CP)—Senators and Commoners rested today on the 67th anniversary of Confederation after wrestling yesterday with Japanes voting right and the merits of a new type of fighting boat with long lines.

The Senate voted 13-9 against removing from a bill amending the Elections Act a clause depriving Japanese of a vote in a federal election. But other amendments adopted in the Upper House will send the bill, which provides for taking the vote of members of the armed forces, back to the Commons for further consideration.

Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand, addressing a joint assembly of the Senate and Commons, in the afternoon said that following victory in Europe Empire statesmen might meet in New Zealand to see what was being done in the Pacific and direct the advance against Japan.

All territories liberated from the enemy must be returned to the countries to which they belonged prior to the war, said Mr. Fraser, who is en route home after the meeting of Empire prime ministers in London.

Lionel Chevrier, parliamentary assistant to Munitions Minister Howe, reading a statement for his minister, said that housing construction in 1944 must be limited by shortages of materials and labor. Housing licences were being issued only in areas where houses were required and within limits set by the expected availability of materials.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said the statement appeared to be in conflict with a previous declaration by Finance Minister Ilsley on loans to be available for housing construction and which was taken to mean housing construction was encouraged. Resources Minister Crerar said conditions had changed since Mr. Ilsley made his statement with increased demand for materials overseas.

Charges Monopoly

Speaking in the budget debate, later in the afternoon, Tom Reid (L—New Westminster) said the "MacMillan lumber interests" in British Columbia controlled or would control the entire timber tracts of British Columbia and urged a government investigation of this "monopoly."

T. L. Church (P.C. — Toronto Broadview) said Mr. Ilsley had brought down an "election budget." He thought an election should be held as it "would clear things up." The people wanted to be told "whether we are going to have a totalitarian state, and whether the government is going to take over the banks, the companies and other industries."

He was disappointed the budget contained no reference to retaining trade preferences within the Empire. He was against "throwing away" the empire market for international co-operation.

Questioned about steps to aid east coast fishermen, Mr. Bertrand said there would be a later vote of $50,000 for education, of which $37,000 would be spent in the Maritimes through the St. Francis Xavier extension department.

Subsidies were paid to assist the development and construction of a new type of boat and laboratories were studying means of developing the fishing industry.

Huns Warned

LONDON, July 1 — (AP)—Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels has urged the Germans to a "maximum war effort" lest "the enemy destroy us root and branch." Goebbels said in an article in Das Reich, broadcast from Berlin: "If we want to deal with a robust enemy the German people must conduct total war totally—increase the war effort considerably. We are not exaggerating when we say we fight for a bare existence, for the enemy will destroy us root and branch in order to solve the German problem once and for all."

Generals Killed

NEW YORK, July 1 — (AP) — The BBC said last night "it is now confirmed" that Gen. Eduard Dietl, commander of German divisions in Finland, and a member of his staff, had been killed in an air crash on Wednesday in Finnish Lapland.

The broadcast said Dietl's death had been confirmed by "Stockholm messages." It made no mention of Gen. Alfred Jodl, chief of the German joint general staff, previously reported killed in the crash.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST

36—Laws and Ethics

THE COMPLETE Laws of Contract Bridge require some 70 pages to present, explain and index them in the official book. The main ones, and the underlying principle of fairness at the bridge table, can be clarified quite briefly, however. The main point is to be considerate of your partner and your opponents, to desire to pay a fitting penalty whenever you have unwittingly committed an irregularity, and to try to see that the other fellow has as good a time as you.

In the case of any irregularity, the players should agree on the facts of the case as best they can. Then let them apply the law without rancor, giving and taking on occasion if there is a difference of opinion. Now for a few of the chief provisions.

Whenever it is determined that any player received more or less than 13 cards in the deal, that deal is void and a new one begins.

Any irregularity of bidding, leading or playing is condoned if the opponent at the offender's left acts before attention is called to it, or if that left hand opponent (or the declarer) decides to condone it.

An insufficient bid (such as 1-Diamond over 1-Spade) must be made sufficient; if by a minimum sufficient bid of the same denomination (in that case 2-Diamonds), the offender's partner must pass on his next turn; if with any other bid, the partner must pass throughout.

A pass out of turn before the opening bid, or later when it is right-hand opponent's turn requires the offender to pass on his next turn. A pass after the opening bid, when it is his partner's turn to call, requires the offending side to pass throughout.

An opening bid, when it was right-hand opponent's turn, is cancelled, and the offender's partner must pass when it is his next turn; when it was partner's or left-hand opponent's turn, it is cancelled and the partner must pass throughout. Any other bid, when it was righthand opponent's turn, is cancelled, and the partner must pass on his next turn; when it was his partner's turn, the offending side must pass throughout and, if it has the opening lead, declarer may require or forbid lead of a named suit.

Improper doubles and redoubles are penalized in the same general way. The details are too complex to list here.

A revoke—failure to follow suit when able to do so—is punishable by two tricks for the first revoke in any suit, none for any later one in the same suit; except that no tricks taken before the revoke may be transferred, nor any for a revoke on the twelfth trick, nor any if the revoke is corrected before it is established. It is established by the side playing or leading to the next trick. Up to then it may be corrected, but logical lesser penalties apply then.

Lead out of turn by a defender—declarer, when next it is turn of partner to lead, may require or forbid lead of a specified suit, or may instead treat the improperly led card as an exposed card, subject to being played or led at the first legal chance. Lead from wrong hand by declarer—he must lead any card of the same suit from the correct hand, if it has any of it, playing any legal card he desires.

If you will use your best judgment in applying these principles, when there is no law book handy and no more experienced player, you will not go far wrong. But, to be an acceptable bridge companion, be much more insistent about your own side paying suitable penalties than you are about the opponents. And confess your own faults in bidding and play, rather than blaming your partner. That is the way to assure the best pleasure for yourself as well as for those with whom you play. Above all, don't try to win arguments.

Monday: Competitive Bidding.

Joy Oil Case Adjourned; Bail Allowed

TORONTO, July 1—Bail of $3,000 each was set for the appearance in court here on July 14 of Charles Austin and his wife, Margaret, president of the Joy Oil Company, on charges of breach of the Defense of Canada Regulations. Trial of Mrs. Austin and the oil company ended yesterday, with Magistrate Pritchard, presiding over Special Police Court, reserving judgment. Austin pleaded 'not guilty' to the charges, which arose following publication of an advertisement in The Globe and Mail and other newspapers headed: "An appeal to Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King to stop the Gas Black Market."

Witnesses yesterday included Mrs. Austin, Douglas Robinson, assistant to Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle, and Clem Shields, newspaper reporter, who said he had written a newspaper article on the "saving" of gasoline which Mrs. Austin admitted she had used as basis for a statement in the advertisement charging a $300,000,000-gallon black market.

"If the courts are going to give judicial approval to this prosecution, it's the thin edge of the wedge of a gag on free speech," declared Defense Counsel George Blagwell, K.C., in his argument. "The language (in the advertisement) is picturesque and may be termed strong, but you might as well have Mr. Bracken arrested for saying Mr. King bribed the electors by bringing in family allowances. The statement would be one which would tend to lessen confidence in the Government, but Mr. Bracken is still at large.

Charges Gag Attempt

"This prosecution is an attempt to gag Mrs. Austin and stifle any complaints she may have to make as to how the Oil Controller and Government is handling the gasoline situation in this country." He declared judgment must be based on the whole advertisement and there was "nothing in it which, by any stretch of the imagination, is prejudicial to the safety of the State or the efficient prosecution of the war."

It was common knowledge, he said, that there was a gasoline black market; cases had been tried in the same courtroom; widespread abuse had grown since restrictions were put in force.

"Why not send the advertisement to Mr. King? What was the purpose of publishing it?" asked Magistrate Pritchard.

"Some of us have had experience in writing to the Prime Minister," Mr. Bagwell replied. "Mr. Drew, for instance, didn't get very far in writing letters."

Courts must be vigilant, he continued, against any encroachment against free speech, even in wartime. Mrs. Austin, he maintained, had published the advertisement in good faith and in it she had suggested people should stop patronizing black markets.

In reply, Special Prosecutor J. C. McRuer declared many of the statement in the advertisment were by Mrs. Austin's admission, based on newspaper reports she had read. A reference to "printing presses" in the Oil Controller's office, he said was entirely false. It could only be wondered "what was in the mind of a person who concocted that story" and it could only be wondered, too, "whether it was done in good faith. There can't be good faith by fraud," he submitted. Of the 300,000,000-gallon black market, it was "perfectly apparent it was viciously fraudulent when the total consumption for all purposes in Canada, including air force, tractors, boats and everything else, was 891,000,000."

The advertisement had implied people were being pestered by peddlers with counterfeit ration books, but Mrs. Austin cited only one case—that of her husband being offered books by a man "who had two valises full." Mr. Austin, his wife said, had not reported this to the police.

Says Quota Plan Ludicrous

The quota system of gasoline distribution, supported by Mrs. Austin, would be ludicrous, Mr. McRuer said. "Dishonest fellows who can't be trusted to deal fairly with gasoline coupons are going to become rationers," he declared.

Shields said he had written the articles, estimating a gasoline saving of 500,000,000 gallons by the end of the fiscal year 1943-44 if taken from the start of rationing in Canada. The information he used, he said, came from "various sources." He had several sources of information and "to the best of my knowledge and belief, the story was accurate."

Mr. Robinson, who had been on the witness stand earlier, was called as a defense witness by Mr. Bagwell. He said figures used by Mr. Howe in a speech in Parliament had been provided by the Oil Controller's office, and that figures on Canada's 1941 gasoline consumption had not been issued by that office.

20 Per Cent More Gas Produced At Plant

A 20 per cent increase of gas produced at the plant in May, over that produced in the corresponding month of 1943, was reported by the Utilities Commission Friday afternoon. A total of 5,720,200 cubic feet was produced during May, and the Commission said an increase of 163 consumers over May, 1943, had been noted, bringing the present number of consumers to 3,171.

A marked increase in the use of gas was noted, and 1,106,500 cubic feet were sold to industries in May, 1944, over 723,200 cubic feet sold at the same time last year.

A 4.09 increase was made in domestic lighting, and a 3.98 increase in commercial lighting. Commercial power however, was marked by a 10.36 decrease over the corresponding month last year.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST

37—Competitive Bidding

WHEN ONLY your side is bidding, you have just two objectives—try to get your side into the most favorable declaration, the best suit or No Trumps, and at the height which will pay you the greatest profits. That means, in rubber bridge, that it will pay you in the long run to reach out a bit to get into a game contract, so as to get a leg on the rubber in the first instance or capture the rubber game in the second.

You can ordinarily afford a good 50 per cent gamble to try for game instead of stopping a trick shy, so great is the value of the rubber premium.

Remember this—most hands containing a fitting trump suit between your holding and your partner's will produce an additional trick at the best trump more surely than they will produce one less at No Trumps, even with all suits stopped. But they will not as a rule produce two more tricks so often. Hence, a major suit game, requiring only ten tricks, is generally preferable to a No Trump game contract, which requires nine tricks. But a No Trump game is usually preferable to a minor suit game contract, which requires 11.

That principle applies only from a scratch score. If you have a part score, the various declarations rank pretty nearly equal as to game possibilities.

But remembering the order of preference from a scoreless position, favor supporting a major suit when you fit it strongly with four pieces of cardboard—not necessarily just three with a pretty picture on one—and have just the reverse attitude toward your partner's minor suit. Take it out, if you can, into something else, preferably a major, or even into the other minor, which by showing that suit stopped may enable your partner to see a good play for No Trumps.

Now, as to part-score bidding. Most advanced players now give the same meanings to original bids with a part score as to those without one, so far as kind of hand shown is concerned. In general, then, raise or take out on a bit less than usual if your partner's bid is not for quite enough to give your side game. And remember that any bid at such a time which is definitely meant as a lift above game is an invitation to slam.

On slam bidding, here's a good point to bear in mind—it will pay you to take a 50 per cent chance of getting set in order to seek a small slam bonus, even at the risk of what appears a sure game. Just figure it out for yourself, as to what you gain or lose thereby. But to go past small slam and bid grand slam, which risks both the game and the small slam premium, logically calls upon you to have about a 3 to 1 certainty of making it, so great is the total hazarded.

In the lower bidding, after your partner has opened, you naturally strain a bit to keep it open for him because he may have nearly game strength in his hand. But if the intervening opponent bids, then there is no need to keep it open unless you have pretty fair strength to show. Hence, you should have at least about four supporting tricks if you raise your partner's declaration, with what is called a "free bid" after the opponent's bid, and at least about a couple of high card tricks if you bid something else, or else a good four playing tricks of your own declaration.

If after your partner's bid the opponent doubles, you should not bid if you have real strength, but should redouble with about as good as an opening bid; pass with about enough to have been a free bid over an overcall, and then enter the bidding later, and should bid by either raising your partner or naming something else only when you have enough suit length to make your bid safe enough and sufficient weakness in high cards to wish to shut out the next opponent's response.

When the opponent at your left opens it, and your partner passes perhaps being a sound bidder who will not make a foolishly weak overcall—if the opener's partner then passes, you can keep the bidding open, in the position where it otherwise would end, with a very moderate holding. It can be either a double or a bid with about an average hand, in order to protect your partner from having to make weak overcalls. The converse is this—if your partner opens and the opponent then overcalls, watch for a chance to beat his head off with a penalty double of his low bid, if you are loaded in his declaration. Some of the biggest scores come from that.

Tomorrow: Combative Bidding.

Negro Describes Capture Of Four Nazis

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, July 1—(CP)—Stories the Cape Breton Highlanders told after action in the Sacco valley of Italy:—

Stan Watts is a corporal now, but his desire to be a fighting soldier has brought him other ranks both above and below that. The Hunter's River, P.E.I., man gave up his sergeant's stripes to get overseas from Canada, won them back in England, gave them up to get into Italy, got two of the back in a reinforcement unit, gave them up to get up to the Highlanders.

He went into the recent action as a lance-corporal, was wounded but insisted on carrying on because there were no other N.C.O.'s left in his company.

One company headquarters got a jolt when Pte. L.G. Mitchell, a negro from Vancouver, showed up with four prisoners and an almost apologetic voice that said "Heah's foah of them, suh. What we gonna do with them?"

Mitchell explained his capture this way: "Ah came across these foah snipers and ah was so scared ah didn't dare turn mah back to run away. So heah they is."

Cpl. Fred Kennedy, Glace Bay, can tell this tale: Attracted by an Italian woman's call "Americano, Americano" he started towards a farmhouse, and came upon five Germans. Before they could take him prisoner his own section came up and the Germans fled. Kennedy tripped the last one, grabbed his machine-pistol, and aimed it. Then the magazine fell off. The Germans got away....

The troops learned one lesson in a concentration area. When they took it over German dead were lying around in considerable numbers. They left them alone. British troops later went to bury them and five Tommies were killed by booby-traps.

Dewey's Speech Well Received

LONDON, July 1—(CP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey's acceptance speech won a favorable reception today in most London newspapers as the British press made its first general comment on the United States presidential campaign.

The Times of London said Gov. Dewey had started the campaign on "a high level" and declared that if it is continued on the same plane "the cause of free peoples will gain, not lose, from the constitutional necessity of letting the American people choose...their leader in victory and the critical dawn of peace."

Under the headline, "Dewey Meets 300 Pressmen and Comes Out Well," the London News-Chronicle's correspondent said:

"I got the impression at the first press conference of Gov. Tom Dewey...that he wanted to sound more liberal than the Republican party's election program has sounded since it came out two days ago."

The Laborite Daily Herald's correspondent at Chicago said that "on the whole Dewey's speech, in spite of its indefiniteness, was more forward looking than the party's platform, but it failed to arouse any great enthusiasm." Of the delegates the correspondent said: "In their hearts very few of them feel that they have been attending a victory convention."

Presentations Honor Teachers

HAVELOCK, July 1 — (ENS) — Prior to the closing of school here this week, the various teachers who have resigned from the staff were remembered with gifts.

The Public school principal, George E. Jones, who has accepted a position at Webbwood, was presented with a Morocco leather bill-fold and linen handkerchiefs by his pupils in Grade VII and VIII. The address was read by Helen Anderson and the presentation made by Marilyn Clarke.

The High school principal, R. W. Goheen, who has accepted a position in the Lindsay Collegiate, was presented with a desk lamp with pen holders by the remaining teachers and the pupils. Mr. Goheen expressed his appreciation for the lovely gift, and in his parting words, told the pupils that the best thing students could give a teacher is 'attention.' and he wished them all success in their remaining school years and upon the voyage all down through life.

The pupils of Grade 5 and 6 presented their teachers, Miss Nellie Watson, with a toilet set and handkerchiefs. Miss Watson has accepted a position on the Kirkland Lake staff.

Miss Vivian Locklin, the teacher of Grade 2 and 3 and who has been accepted on the Oshawa staff, was given many personal gifts by her pupils.

Miss Verna Buchanan, the only remaining teacher of the Public school staff was hostess for a dinner party to honor those who are leaving. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Vals and Lynn, Misses V. Locklin, N. Watson, L. Wing, Mrs. D. Petherick and Mr. Gerald Buchanan. The rooms were decorated with baskets of cut flowers, and games were enjoyed after dinner. During the evening, the staff presented Mr. Jones with a shaving kit and Misses N. Watson, V. Locklin and L. Wing each with a box of linen handkerchiefs.

General Strike Ties Copenhagen

STOCKHOLM, July 1—(CP-Reuter)—A strike which today is assuming the proportions of a general strike broke out in Copenhagen last night, according to reports here.

The strike was believed caused by the arrest of trade-union leaders.

Street cars have stopped and nearly all telephone communications have been suspended, the reports said. With few exceptions all shops are closed. Soldiers today occupied the Central Station and the Goods Station.

Geo. Blodgett In Medical Unit

By MAURICE DESJARDINS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, July 1—(CP Cable)—Dr. Herbert Hanford of Renfrew, Ont., captain in a small medical detachment which landed at Bernieres-Sur-Mer June 6, attended to the delivery of the first child born in liberated France.

Capt. Hanford was among the many doctors of the detachment under the command of Capt. Earl Bourbonnais of Montreal, who helped in treating Canadian, English and also enemy wounded in the first days of the invasion.

"There were even Russians and Poles among out patients," Capt. Bourbonnais said. "They seemed to be glad to be out of the war. In several cases, I used them as stretcher-carriers."

Since the arrival of the detachment in Bernieres-Sur-Mer Capt. Bourbonnais and Capt. John McCabe, of Windsor, Ont., who arrived last week, took in hand the health of the civil population which expressed gratitude by giving vegetables, fruits and cider to the Canadians.

Among the men of the detachment are Cpl. Eddy Williams, Lansdowne, Acting Corporal Oscar Cyr, Eastview, Ptes. George Blodgett, Peterborough, Arthur Hornbeek, Kingston, Leslie Bemin, Perth. William Fulton, Belleville, Albert Buell, Kingston.

Council Asked To Put Light At Bad Corner

A traffic hazard at the corner of Reid street and Chemong Road was reviewed by members of the legal committee of the city council Thursday afternoon, and it was decided to put a "flicker warning light" there as soon as possible.

Alderman William Ovens reported that there are several accidents at this corner every week, some of them serious, and he felt that precautions to make it safer should be taken immediately.

Mayor Hamilton said that the sign was needed at that point more urgently than at the Park Hill-Armour Road intersection and it was moved that a resolution be forwarded to the council recommending that the warning sign for the latter area be immediately installed in Reid street and a second one ordered.

Alderman Adam Sands also reported on arrangements for entertaining the C.W.A.C. pipe and brass bands during their stay in Peterborough. Because of the holiday a dinner proved impossible, so arrangements have been made for a small reception to be held in the Armouries Saturday night, following the band concert. The city council will provide refreshments.

Senator Howard Suggests Scare Unfounded

OTTAWA, July 1—(CP)—Senator C. B. Howard (L., Quebec) said in the Senate today that he did not agree with statements of Senator T. D. Bouchard (L., Quebec) that activities of the Jacques Cartier Order in Quebec provided cause for alarm.

Senator Bouchard, speaking in the Senate last week, said the order was conducting subversive activities directed at discouraging national unity and looking to the establishment of a French Catholic State.

"The Jacques Cartier Order does not by any means represent the viewpoint of the people of Quebec," said Senator Howard.

Similar organizations existed in all democratic countries, and were all marked by a lack of experienced judgment and mature development.

Emphasizes Loyalty

Senator Howard referred to a number of personalities of Quebec political history to emphasize the loyalty of Quebec to Canada. He spoke particularly of Premier Godbout, who, he said, was "from the people, of the people and for the people," and was in a position to make a great contribution to national unity.

He cited instances in which English-speaking Protestant candidates were elected in ridings where the voters were overwhelmingly French-speaking and Catholics.

The motion on which both Senator Bouchard and Senator Howard spoke proposes the appointment by the next Dominion-Provincial conference of a committee to arrange for the preparation of a history textbook which would be acceptable to all Provinces.

Senator Howard proposed immediate appointment of three French-speaking and three English-speaking historians to undertake the work.

In resuming the history textbook debate, Senator Howard said he disagreed with Senator Bouchard that "the existence of certain elements in our midst should cause us undue alarm."

"There are, and undoubtedly always will be, apparently subversive organizations in a free and liberal democracy," he said. "But contrary to his (Senator Bouchard's) fears, they may well signify a health normalcy of government.

"To my mind these secret elements in our society are comparable to the fearful attempts of a child to hide some new and untried experience from his parents. At that particular stage of immaturity he does not or cannot comprehend the scope or intent of the parental plan for his present or future welfare and development.

Let Them Run

"Such a state of mind on the part of any sizable group calls for, indeed challenges, the understanding of our present leadership to educate and direct it towards the broad comprehensive idea of 'all for one,' and sacrifice the 'lesser for the greater.'"

Up to the present time history had proven how futile were attempts to control human emotions. Rather than try to suppress what appeared to be undesirable group agitations, experienced leaders had found it wiser to let those feeling have some sort of out.

"Such a group as the Jacques Cartier Order does not by any means represent the public opinion of the province of Quebec, any more than do other secret organizations in Ontario, the Maritimes, or Western Canada, represent the opinion of the people of those provinces," said Senator Howard.

"Such under-cover groups flourish not only in Canada, but in all the countries of the world at the present time. They denote the forward-looking visionary existing among the masses today, as yet untempered by experienced judgment and mature intelligence. The true sentiment of the majority in Quebec, as elsewhere, is expressed by its leaders."

U.S. Destroyer Sacrificed To Save Troops

By JOHN LEBLANC,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

HALIFAX, July 1 — (CP) — An unlucky ship, they called the Awatea when she was running troops out of this port, but one incident told of her transatlantic ferry career—cloaked by censorship until now—should have served to dispel that reputation.

It was after the Awatea, a trig liner of 3,000 tons, had carried the Canadian troops to Hong Kong — a voyage that probably labelled her a bearer of hard luck to those who sailed in her.

Loaded with members of a Canadian division, she had put out from here for Britain in the Fall of 1942, a time when U-booats were preying on this side of the Atlantic. Thirty hours later, she crept back into port, a great hole in her bow.

Members of her crew told this story.

The convoy, including the liner Letitia, had been attacked not far off the Nova Scotia coast. A streak of white had suddenly ribboned the ocean's surface— the wake of a torpedo headed for the Awatea.

It was seen aboard a United States destroyer in the escort. Its engines racing, the destroyer slashed its way up to the side of the liner with its cargo of humanity and deliberately absorbed the torpedo intended for the Awatea.

Explosions ripped the destroyer to shreds. Detonated by the torpedo blast, depth charges completed the destruction of the gallant little fighting craft. And so great was the concussion that a hole was punched in the bow of the Awatea.

Though it was never confirmed officially, that was the story the trooper's crew recounted as she came back to port.

Three weeks afterward, the Awatea sailed again, this time uneventfully.

Red Troops 150 Miles Off Warsaw

Minsk, Polotsk Both Taken In Swift Advance

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, July 4.—(AP).— Russian armies rolled swiftly west of captured Minsk to-day toward Warsaw and East Prussia, less than 150 miles away, while other Soviet forces stamped out the last German defences in Polotsk, gateway to Latvia and Lithuania on the Baltic.

(The German communique said Polotsk had been evacuated and that the Russians had penetrated Minsk and "pushed ahead further west." A Berlin spokesman said Russian vanguards in some places were nearly 40 miles west or northwest of Minsk, Slutsk and Polotsk.

(A Berlin broacast said Russian advances were so rapid that great German units "were left in the rear of the enemy."

(The Finnish Command said the Russians had started a new general offensive on the Karelian isthmus between Suomenvedenpohja and Karisalmi with heavy artillery, tank and air forces supporting the infantry.)

135,000 Prisoners.

Counting the prisoner bag at Minsk, the Russian press said captives in the 12-day offensive that crushed the central front are expected to swell between 125,000 and 135,000. Two German divisional generals were captured yesterday, raising to 21 the German general officers killed or captured in three weeks in Russia and France.

With the collapse of German defences at Minsk before two hard-driving Russian columns, a number of important new objectives lay ahead for the Red army steamroller.

Cutting between the flanks of the disorganized Germans and smashing sporadic opposition, the Russians were battling toward communication lines and border line cities of the Soviet Baltic republics and threatening the bulk of the Nazi positions on the Russian side of the western Bug river.

Root Out Nazis.

In addition to being less than 150 miles from the East Prussian frontier, the Red army troops were only 38 miles from Daugavpils (Dvinsky), in southern Latvia; 94 miles from Kaunas, capital of Lithuania; and only 138 from Bialystok in pre-war Poland, important junction of the Daugapils-Wilno-Warsaw railway.

In Minsk, capital and culture centre of White Russia, special troops of Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's 3rd army and Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's 1st army rounded up hundreds of Germans from cellars and attics, blasted apartments and houses.

Exclusive of the thousands still to be counted in Minsk, the prisoner total for the fast-moving summer offensive already had soared toward the 100,000 mark.

With Cherniakhovsky taking 13,256 between June 28 and July 1, the prisoners in his sector reached 33,256. With Rokossovsky capturing 3,658 July 1-2 his total went to 39,338. Official announcements emphasized these figures were only preliminary and did not include prisoners taken by Gen. Ivan Bagramian's 1st Baltic army and Gen. Matwei Zakha-

Nazis Murder French Peasants

By MAURICE DESJARDINS, Canadian Press War Correspondent

A CIVILIAN HOSPITAL IN NORMANDY, July 2.—(Delayed).—(CP Cable). — A frail 18-year-old girl, who herself was shot in the leg by Nazi soldiers, told me today from her hospital bed how she was an eye-witness to German point-blank firing at French men, women and children the day after Allied troops landed in Normandy.

Here is what she said:

"With my mother and my 10-year-old sister, we fled from Caen on June 6. The next day we left a farm house near Cambes En Plaine, a village six kilometers north of Caen to follow a peasant, his wife and their three young children taking shelter in a slit trench nearby. We had to do that as the farm seemed to be getting more and more within range of the Allied powerful artillery shelling.

"In the trench, we found there was already an occupant—a peasant about 20 years old. A few hours later, from the trench about 6 feet deep, we heard German voices.

"A few moments later, we saw four or five Nazi soldiers—all extremely young—looking down our trench and shouting in German what we readily understood was a command for us to climb out.

Crawled To House

"One of them was threateningly aiming his gun at us. The young mother, showing him her children, shouted 'Don't shoot! Don't shoot! Don't you see they are only kids'?

"The Nazi soldier nevertheless fired four shots point-blank. The first shot killed the children's father, the second killed the young peasant, the third hit one of the children—only two years old—, and the last one hit my right leg."

"Then, the Nazis went away leaving us with two dead men and a wounded child. I myself could hardly stand up. When night came, we crawled back to the farm-hourse helped by my mother and sister.

"There, we spent a night which seemed as long as eternity. There was only dirty water available and neither the child's wound nor mine could be attended to.

"The next day, some civilians came to the farm and with their help, we managed to reach this hospital."

Americans Invade Noemfoor Capture Major Airdrome

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, July 4.—(AP).—American troops have invaded Noemfoor Island off Dutch New Guinea and seized its principal airdrome in a 100-mile swoop toward the Philippines.

Headquarters announced today that units of the 6th Army landed on Noemfoor's western coast Sunday at 8 a.m. Within two hours, the infantrymen overcame light enemy opposition and captured Kmakiri airstrip, a 5,000-foot landing field badly cratered by Allied bombs.

At last reports the invaders were pushing toward the island's two remaining airdromes, one of them three miles away.

Murlin Spencer, Associated Press correspondent, said American casualties were among the smallest suffered in any landing operation in the Southwest Pacific. Only 45 Japanese dead were counted in the first few hours of fighting.

Noemfoor, 100 miles west of the American-occupied Schouten Islands where two airfields already are in operation, is only 80 miles from Manokwari, strongest remaining Japanese base in Dutch New Guinea. Guarding the entrance to Geelvink Bay, it is closer to the Philippines than either to Darwin, Australia, or Port Moresby, New Guinea. Timor, Celebes, Davao, Yap and Palau are less than 1,000 miles away.

Noemfoor is 1,400 miles southwest of the Marianas, where other American soldiers and two divisions of Marines have taken almost two-thirds of Saipan Island and have killed more than 6,000 Japanese at a cost of more than 2,200 American dead or missing—the heaviest casualties of the Pacific war.

The Americans have surrounded Saipan's principal city, Garapan, on three sides, and have squeezed the remaining Japanese defenders into the narrow northern end of the island.

Botonist Dies

WINNIPEG, July 4 (CP) — Professor Arthur Henry Buller, 70, one of Canada's outstanding Botanists, died here today. Dr. Buller was Professor of Manitoba for 32 years and since his resignation in 1936 has been a Professor Emeritus. He was president of the Royal Society of Canada in 1927.

Paris People Live In Terror As Nazis Stage New Manhunt

By Charles S. Foltz
Associated Press Staff Writer

MADRID, July 4. — (AP). — Frenchmen arriving to-day at the Spanish border said Paris was a city of terror as the Germans, with the enthusiastic support of frightened collaborationists, pressed a program of house-to-house manhunts, anti-Jewish roundups and kidnapping of French labor unequalled in the four years of their occupation of France.

"It is worse than anything France has known in modern times," one escaping Frenchman said.

Spanish correspondents of Madrid newspapers writing from Paris said the city was "yellow with panic" as the Germans and Vichy officials staged mass arrests in "reprisals" for the assassination last week of Vichy Propaganda Minister Philippe Henriot.

"Thousands of persons had been arrested by Friday when I left," a refugee said, "and according to official dispatches I saw in Vichy Sunday it goes on without a halt.

"The Cirque D'Hiver (huge indoor stadium in Paris) is so crowded with Jews and Partisans that there is standing room only," the refugee added.

The informant said the Germans were cutting off whole districts of Paris, one by one. Then Gestapo agents and Vichy militiamen go from house to house.

"They seize anybody they please," he continued. "Any men of military age are arrested for work service in Germany. Any Jew or Jewess of any age is arrested for God knows what fate."

Unrest, sabotage and active resistance, meanwhile, were reported on the increase throughout France, particularly in the south.

Reports reaching here from border points said that along the Mediterranean coast German garrisons were fighting Partisan attacks from the rear while awaiting an expected Allied attack from the sea, and that several smaller mountain towns in the Pyrenees within sight of the Mediterranean were in the hands of the Maquis.

Prats De Millo and Arles Sur Tech on the same mountain road and railway from the coast are firmly held by the Maquis.

All the Pyrenees foothills of the Roussillon department were reported in Partisan hands and Maquis power was said to extend deep into the Aude and Ariege departments.

A report from Irun said the Toulouse powder factory was wrecked Sunday night by saboteurs.

Fighting also was reported around Limoges, and the Maquis were said to have cut all communications to the city.

Allied Army Closing In On Leghorn

General Advance Registered In North Italy

ROME, July 4—(AP)—Allied armies surged forward all across Italy today, with the British 8th Army advancing to within eight miles of the inland communications centre of Arezzo, and American units of the Allied 5th Army penetrating to within 15 miles of Livorno (Leghorn) on the west coast.

The Americans were reported within big gun range of prepared enemy positions constituting part of the so-called German Gothic defence line running from Pisa to Rimini on the Adriatic.

The whole area immediately north of Lake Trasimeno was cleared of the enemy as the Germans there fled northward avoiding combat with the 8th Army whenever possible. This flight, however, came only after some Nazi units had fought and perished in stubborn rearguard battles.

Typical of this type of defence was the fighting for Magione on the east side on the lake where an official source said the Germans fought "to the last man and the last round."

Other heavy engagements were reported on the west coast, where the American 442nd regimental combat team attacked the 34th infantry division, spearheading the attack up the shoreline to a point four miles north of Cecina.

Barrage Effective

Artillery observers spotted a solid string of enemy vehicles, guns and personnel withdrawing along the highway toward Livorno and Pisa ahead of the American troops. Big American guns laid down a fire which was officially reported to have caused "heavy destruction and slaughter."

For the first time in recent weeks the 5th Army came under fire of Nazi six-barrelled rocket mortars—an indication the Allied force was "within range of prepared enemy

A Narrow Escape

LINDSAY, June 4.—(CP).—A. M. Paton, 83, an enthusiatic fisherman, had a narrow escape from drowning as he attempted to land a big lunge in Sturgeon Lake.

He manoeuvred the fish to the side of the boat and hauled it in, but before he could pounce on the fish, it flopped out the other side of the boat. In the effort to retrieve it the boat went over. He and his son, Herbert, were picked up in a boat driven by Frank Spiers.

Weather Breaks Bombers Renew Attacks

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 4.—(AP).—Up to 500 American heavy bombers smashed anew at several German airfields in France today as improving weather enabled Allied aircraft to resume their support of the Normandy invasion troops.

The United States bombers flew under an escort of fighters. The skies over the English Channel hummed with sound of many engines this morning as Britain-based planes roared out on attack missions after being held in check for days by miserable weather over the continent

Patches of cloud hung over the Normandy battle area and the ceiling was no more than 3,000 feet in some places, but still the day brought the Allies their best flying weather since July began.

Clouds forced most bombardiers to use the overcast bombing technique. One formation bombed two airfields in the vicinity of Paris. Returning crewmen from that group said they encountered no German planes and only light flak.

R.A.F. Mosquitos last night struck at target in Ruhr and in France, south of Paris, as the weather began to improve.

The better weather permitted the first heavy daylight air action in France in several days. Airdromes in northern and northwest France were bombed today by instrument through heavy cloud layers. U.S. A.A.F. headquarters did not specify targets. Fighters flew with the bombers through varying intensities of flak which felled two bombers and four fighters.

Hit Romania

Objectives of the Mediterranean forces were at Brasov, 85 miles north of Bucharest, and at Pitesti, due west of Ploesti, the Rumanian oil capital. U.S. heavy bombers attacked the Photogen refinery at Brasov leaving it enveloped in smoke.

Others bombed railroad repair shops and a rail bridge at Pitesti on the Bucharest-Belgrade Trunk Line. Convoying fighters destroyed an undesignated number of interceptors over Brasov.

The new daylight operations were launched after a night of increased activity which saw R.A.F. Mosquito bombers spread havoc among German rearline communications south of Paris and attack targets in the German Ruhr valley for the first time since June 30. Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the overnight forays, which were carried out without loss.

The first improvement in the weather was noted last evening, when tactical air formations based in both Britain and Normandy were able to step up their operations, bringing to 600 the total number of sorties flown during the day.

Attacking the area of Orleans, Montfor and Cloyes the Mosquitos wrecked trains, road vehicles, bridges, rail crossings and highway junctions last night. Earlier, mediums of the British 2nd Tactical Air Force had bombed a German fuel dump near Argentan sending it up in smoke.

Overrun Airfield At Caen Americans, British Drive Ahead In Twin Push

Two Strongpoints in Caen Area Taken Americans Move Inland After Cleaning Up All of Peninsula

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 4. — (AP). — British and Canadian forces moved against Caen's powerful western perimeter defences today, capturing two strong points, while the American offensive on the western sector of the Allied Normandy bridgehead rolled to within 1¾ miles of the communications town of La Haye Du Puits.

Canadian infantry and armor smashed into Carpiquet into the early hours of the Caen region attack, launched at dawn, and a field dispatch from Ross Munro, CP War Correspondent, said most of the Caen airfield south of Capriquet had been overrun.

British forces attacking alongside the Canadians drove along the bank of the Odon River and captured Verson, due south of Capriquet. Verson is just south of the highway from Caen to Villers-Bocage and about four miles southwest of Caen, while Carpiquet is three miles from the centre of that German-held city on the River Orne.

Gain 1½ Miles

Headquarters said the British-Canadian advance extended up to 1½ miles on a 2½-mile front. It was the first large-scale action for the Canadians since mid-June, said Munro.

The British advance coupled with the Canadian drive turned what was an exposed Allied salient subject to constant German counter-attacks into a firm position and placed the Germans in an uncomfortable salient of their own north of Carpiquet and west of Caen.

The twin Allied attacks made "steady and satisfactory" progress, Shaef said late today.

The American 1st Army pushing southwest on a front extending inland from the west coast of the Cherbourg peninsula reached Blanchelande, 1¾ miles northeast of La Haye du Puits. Fall of La Haye appeared imminent.

The Americans also occupied La Poterie, three miles east of the road and rail centre of La Haye, and St. Remy des Landes, three miles west of it.

Improving weather enabled Allied planes to resume active daylight support of the ground fighting.

Allied planes were active in support of the drives at opposite ends of the Normandy line. Typhoons fired rockets at the enemy in the Caen sector.

American fighters hit at enemy positions on the western side of the Cherbourg peninsula. More than 200 plans participated in these attacks, between Coutances and Lessay and in the vicinity of St. Lo.

British Move Up

Simultaneously with the Canadian offensive, British troops on the right flank attacked and captured ground south of Carpiquet.

Troops from Western, Central and Eastern Canada shared in the Canadian thrust of infantry and armor that burst into the German lines.

Canadian machine-gunners supported the attack, as did hundreds of artillery pieces.

The attack was launched at 5 a.m. when massed British and Canadian

Missile Shower On England Tapering Off

LONDON, July 4—(CP)—German flying bomb attacks on Southern England tapered off during the night and reports from that area today indicated the assaults were the lightest recorded since the Nazis unleashed their so-called "secret weapon."

Prime Minister Churchill plans to make a statement Thursday in the House of Commons regarding the robot bombs, Foreign Secretary Eden told the House today.

Signs of clearing weather over France, meanwhile, raised hopes that Allied bombers might soon be able to renew their offensive against installations in the Pas de Calais area from which the Germans have been launching most of the robots.

There are indications that the Germans have been doing extensive new construction work in that area, but whether this is connected with the rocket bomb campaign is not apparent.

Even with poor visibility over the channel, observers on the British shore have been able to discern large white scars which have appeared recently on the slopes of Cape Gris Nez—perhaps excavations for a new trench system to command the entrance to Boulogne harbor. Similar markings have been observed near Calais.

It was announced to-day that Major Wyvyan Adamson, Conservative, will ask the Prime Minister if, as a deterrent to Germany in any attempt to rearm after the war he would propose to the United Nations that German territory be encircled by flying bomb sites directed at German centres of population so that immediate action might be taken to curb any infringement of the rules set out by the victorious Powers.

Hun Supply Lines Riddled Artillery Lacks Ammunition

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press War Correspondent

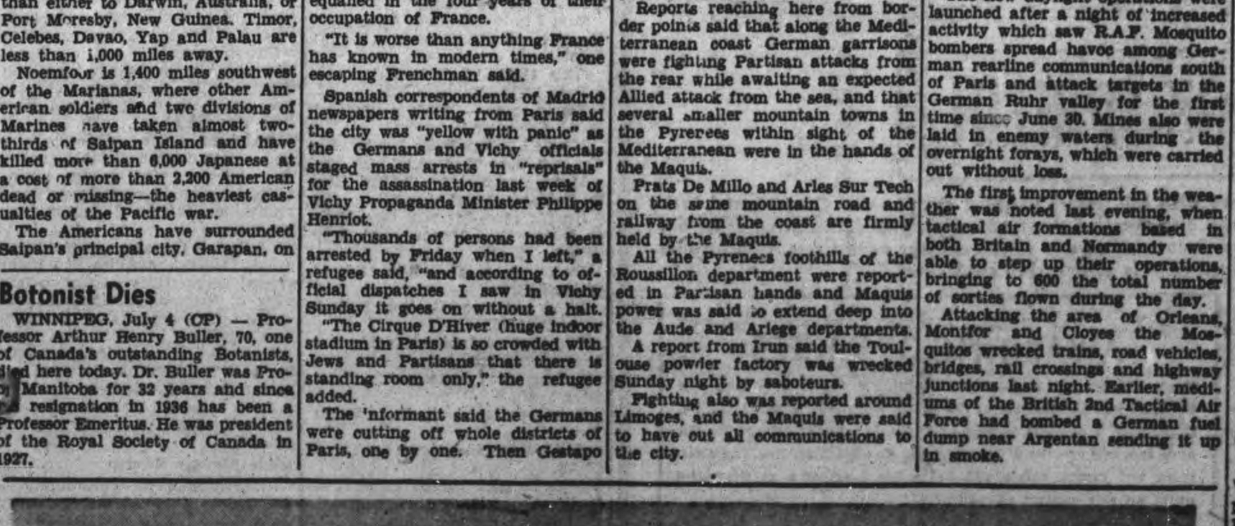
HEADQUARTERS OF THE ALLIED ARMIES IN FRANCE, July 4.—(CP Cable.)—So effective has Allied air support of ground forces been in Normandy the Germans no longer attempt any troop or supply movements by day and venture out on the side roads only by night.

Railways west of a line running south from Paris are completely out of action.

Ammunition and artillery required for a counter-offensive such as the enemy attempted in the Evrecy sector during the week-end is generally needed in such large quantities that it can be carried satisfactorily only through the use of railways. Difficulties facing Field Marshal Rommel in this connection are evident from statements of prisoners who complained they lacked ammunition and artillery.

Officers just back from the front say it is "terrific" to see the way in which Allied barrages open up without drawing any counter-fire, and "it is terribly bad for the morale of the soldier obliged to undergo such shelling without hearing any reply from his own guns."

Tank transporter vehicles were the German answer to shortage of railway facilities in earlier campaigns but now not only have the Allies stolen the idea and equipped themselves with large numbers of these vehicles, but the Germans, because of industrial restrictions, have been unable to produce more than a fraction of the number they need, and they now see the enemy better equipped than they ever were in this respect.



BRITISH TANKS RUMBLE INTO BATTLE NEAR CAEN—British tanks are shown charging across a cornfield in the battle that is now raging in the Caen area of Normandy. A great armored battle is being fought in this sector as the British drive to close a trap around the city of Caen, powerful German stronghold. German counter-attacks have been thrown back, according to latest reports.

8 Canadian Minesweepers Cut Cherbourg Minefields

Written for The Canadian Press
By LT.-CMDR. GEORGE LAWRENCE, R.C.N.V.R.

ABOARD CANADIAN FLEET MINESWEEPER MALPEQUE, July 4 (CP Cable)—Eight minesweepers of the Royal Canadian Navy and six Royal Navy minesweepers have cut through German minefields to sweep clear the first channel from the United Kingdom to Cherbourg.

(The passage was swept July 2 but announcement was withheld until now.)

It was our third attempt to reach the approaches to Cherbourg in almost a week.

It was a proud moment for these sweepers as we turned at the Port approaches, our objective, and continued a check sweep offshore. We finished our job within range of the last bitterly-resisting pockets of enemy resistance.

Every hand that could be spared stood on deck to stare at that shore. We saw the round breakwater forts of Cherbourg itself—they now were in ruins—the harbor entrances and fortifications along the flanking waterfront.

Besides the Malpeque, commanded by Lieut. Donald Davie of Victoria, B.C., the Canadian sweepers engaged were H.M.C.S. Caraquet, under command of Cmdr. Anthony Storrs, Victoria. The senior officer of the flotilla; the Fort William (Lieut. Hugh Campbell, Toronto); Cowichan (Lieut. Kenneth Hall, Montreal); Ballirmore (Lieut. Joseph Marston, Vancouver); Wasage (Lt. James Green, Stratford, Ont.), and the Minas (Lieut. John Kincaid, Victoria). All are of the Bangor class and all were built in Canada.

Our little ships from Canada had drawn the span that within days would bridge the channel with Allied convoys.

Mother And Son Snag Muskies At Same Time

Fishing catches over the week-end were good in most of the Peterborough district and several people report muskies, bass and pickerel were hiting in top style.

Stanley Shields of Bolivar street, was an interested spectator in a boat off Steamboat creek on the Otonabee Sunday while Mrs. Shields and their son Jimmie both snagged muskies at the same time. The fish were landed and weighed 5 and 7 pounds. J. E. Girven brought home a bass weighing close to five pounds.

W. G. Cornell and Jack Ferguson of the Quaker Oats tried Little Mud Lake Saturday afternoon and had a grand time. Cornell was trolling and hauled in six large mouth bass, four of them over three pounds in less than an hour. They wound up the day with nine bass, two of them were small mouth blacks. At eleven o'clock Mr. Cornell tied into a big muskie but the line broke and he lost, his submarine plug and about thirty feet of line.

Down at Rice Lake near Elmhirst's cottage Billy Edgar brought a muskie alongside the boat that was "as long as a paddle" but he got away and the youngster hopes to land him before the week is out.

Motorist Suffers Fractured Arm

Frank Collins, 10 New Chamberlain street, suffered a compound fracture of his right forearm Monday evening when the car in which he was a passenger went into the ditch on the River Road between Nassau and Lakefield and turned over.

The automobile, being driven south by Kenneth McConnell, 27 Lansdowne street, was crowded off the road by a northbound car which did not stop, McConnell told Provincial Constable Price Morris, who investigated the accident.

When the car went into the ditch and turned over Collins' arm was pinned beneath the machine and broken badly. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Hanson Demands All-Out Conscription For Overseas

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP).— Yesterday was a suggestion day in the Commons as private members continued the budget debate and presented a variety of ideas for the improvement of the nation and the war effort while cabinet ministers sat and listened.

From Hon. R. B. Hanson (PC-York-Sunbury) came the strongest demand yet voiced this session for all-out conscription for overseas service. He called for an end to the provision which resulted in the retention of a large number of trained troops in Canada while prospects were for a great need of overseas reinforcements.

Lionel Bertrand (L-Terrebonne) urged the creation of a department of youth. One of the younger members who seldom speak, Mr. Bertrand voiced ideas similar to those expressed before the outbreak of war by Group Capt. Denton Massey (PC-Toronto Greenwood) when unemployment and lack of opportunity for youth caused him concern.

Youth, both those in the armed services and those too young to serve, will come out of the war angry, said Mr. Bertrand; angry at authorities in general and angry at the arrogance of superior officers.

Among the projects he would have the proposed youth department promote would be special agencies for placing young men in employment attached to unemployment insurance offices; expanded training programs, scholarships for those unable to finance their education, subsidies to youth movements, development of parks and recreation facilities, financial encouragement of artistic and cultural activities.

A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F.-MacKenzie) returned to his favorite subject of housing to which he has been devoting special study since his entry into Parliament in 1940. He wanted an immediate conference called to bring together provincial governments municipal authorities from city and country to work out agreements and create machinery for a vast housing program to start as soon as the war ends.

Sounds Alarm

Fred Rose (P.C.-Montreal-Cartier), one of the few Jewish members of the House, sounded an alarm about certain recent occurrences in the province of Quebec and repeated an earlier suggestion that a royal commission be set up to investigate Fascist and anti-semitic activities.

Mr. Rose said the burning of a synagogue in Quebec City, prevention of Tim Buck from speaking, the fact that airmen in certain parts cannot walk out alone without fear of attack, mob attacks on union meetings and union organizers were some of the symptoms of a rear-guard action by Fascist elements.

Referring to the linking of anti-semitism with the problem of immigration Mr. Rose said after 1,500,000 Jews had been tortured and done to death in Europe some publications demanded that the few who managed to escape should not be allowed into Canada.

"This is unfair," he said. "It is inhuman. Though I am not a christian myself, from what I know of christianity I say it is unchristian."

Robert Fair (S.C.—Battle River) said he wanted clear titles to their land for soldier settlers from the last war who had not as yet been able to pay off all their indebtedness.

Another of his group, Walter Kuhl (S.C.—Jasper-Edson), said Canada's present constitutional status was unsatisfactory and demanded a constitutional convention be called to establish a constitution in harmony with Canada's national status.

17,700 Japanese Die In Battle

KANDY, Ceylon, July 4 (CP) — British, American and Chinese troops operating under the command of General Stilwell in Northern Burma have killed 17,700 Japanese troops and have taken 100 prisoners since they launched the campaign early this year, Allied headquarters announced today.

U.S. and Chinese forces have combined to slay 12,000 Japanese, while Chinese troops alone have accounted for an additional 5,000, the announcement said. A total of 700 of the enemy were slain by British Gurkhas from India and by Kachin Levies in the Hertz Valley.

Rev. B. H. Robinson Dies In Windsor

WINDSOR, July 4.—Rev. Burton H. Robinson, 62, pastor of Lincoln Road United Church here, died Sunday in Grace Hospital. He suffered a stroke while delivering the morning sermon in his church, and was removed to the hospital, where he died three hours later.

Well-known in United Church circles, Mr. Robinson was elected many times to the settlement committee and the general council of the United Church of Canada. He has been pastor of Lincoln Road Church for three years, and was conducting his last service before leaving on a vacation, when he was stricken.

Cyclist Hurt When Bar Drops

When the kick-stand on a motorcycle dropped and began to drag on the road, the machine driven by Glen Daniels, Lakefield, got out of control and crashed into a guard-rail on the approach to the High Bridge over the Canal at McFarlane avenue, Sunday.

Daniels and a passenger on the motorcycle Shirley Wilson, 2 McClellan avenue, were injured. The girl received a cut on the chin, requiring two stitches, had a tooth broken and suffered a cut on the left knee. Daniels sustained cuts on the right ankle and left hip and abrasions on the left leg.

The motorcycle was damaged in the crash and the guard-rail broken.

Daniels had been driving north on the Canal Road at around 20 or 25 miles an hour, he told police. The accident happened as he was rounding the curve on the approach to the bridge and the driver and his passenger had a narrow escape from crashing through the railing and going down the steep embankment.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Wednesday, July 5

Although things may move at high tempo, with excitement and commotion, yet any sort of worth-while accomplishments seems to be blocked by a variety of difficult and adverse circumstances. The energies and the health may be basic in a depressing outlook or sense of futility, and this might be owing to the antagonism or discouragement of elders or others of influence or power. Duplicity and sinister undercover doings may arise from many sources. Be wise with all funds and resources, financial, physical and social. Shun extravagances.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a difficult year, in which several forms of opposition or frustration may contribute to a depressed or dejected state of health and mental outlook. There may be serious antagonism from elders, relatives or others of influential standing. They may be sinister and deep seated undercover elements to cope with, by patience, sound insight and persistent effort and acumen. Shun all extragavance in energies, funds and personal conduct. Keep morale bolstered and guard the health of self and family.

Tedford Family Holds Reunion

The estate of P. P. Young, Young's Point, was the setting for the Tedford family's annual reunion picnic, held Saturday, July 1. More than 180 people attended, several coming from Alberta. A full program of sports, including races, tug-o'-war, rolling-pin throwing, and baseball, was carried out. The group decided to hold next year's reunion picnic at the same place, Young's Point, Monday July 2, 1945.

In the afternoon, the picnickers sat down to a delicious supper, served on tables set on the lawn of the estate.

Mr. and Mrs. W Frankish were the longest married couple attending, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Bullock were the newest-married twosome present.

The oldest person on the grounds was Mrs. Andrew Fawcett, and the youngest was Elsie Beatrice Payne.

Among those attending from Peterborough were: Mrs. Betsy Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. G. Mundell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. K. Petrie and family, Mr. and Mrs. K. Memorial Service Is Held For Pilot Officer Harold Morrow

A beautiful memorial service for Pilot Officer Harold Morrow, who lost his life on May 6 flying over the Anzio beachhead, was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. P.O. Morrow was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Morrow, 745 Water street. After seeing service in Europe and Africa he was attached to the City of Windsor fighter squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force and went to Italy. He was shot down over the beachhead and his body was recovered from the sea and buried in the Anzio cemetery.

Flight Lieutenant Robert Moynan, a padre in the R.C.A.F. and stationed at Camp Borden, represented the Royal Canadian Air Force at the service and delivered the address.

The padre in opening his address paid tribute to the courage and deep faith exhibited by parents, brothers, sisters and sweethearts of men who had lost their lives. On many occasions it has been his duty to take the sad news to the next of kin and it was there that the deep faith in the Heavenly Father was revealed.

In the armed service men become more than airmen, more than officers to the padres, "they become our sons, we understand them and get closer to them than anyone else in the world."

"The religion of Jesus Christ is a he-man religion, a two-fisted religion which requires backbone. Often when coming into the services men have thought of religion as something weak. But they soon discover that it is something real." At home they would think nothing of missing church but when they got "over there" the church parade is something they never want to miss.

"They are God's heroes, God's saints and it is only their faith that enables them to go on," the padre declared.

Sacred memorials will be erected for the countless thousands who are laying down their lives, but the speaker warned that there is a danger in erecting memorials if the ideals for which they gave their lives are forgotten. In the last war many memorials were erected but the world completely forgot why those men gave their lives. He declared the same thing dare not happen again. Their sacrifices must not and dare not be made in vain.

Mrs. Al. Spencely sang as a solo "O Rest in the Lord," and the choir as an anthem rendered "Crossing the Bar." The front of the church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and a picture of the airman rested on the communion table.

Obituaries

WILSON ROBERT ROSE

Wilson Robert Rose, 20-month-old son of Wesley Rose and the former Margaret Johnson, died Monday afternoon after 14 months' illness, at the family residence, 180 Perry street, Peterborough. Born in Peterborough, he leaves to mourn his loss his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rose, and three sisters Barbara Ann, Jean Margaret, and Marian Elizabeth, all of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. from the residence to Sacred Heart Church. Interment will be at St. Peter's Cemetery.

VINCENT EDWARD TOBIN

The funeral of Vincent Edward Tobin formerly of Peterborough, who died suddenly at Toronto Isolation Hospital was held Saturday. Interment was in St. Peter's Cemetery, Peterborough.

The son of the late Mrs. Ellen Tobin, and a veteran of the First World War, Mr. Tobin is survived by five sisters, Rev. Sister M. Beata of St. Mary's Convent, Peterborough, Mrs. J. Anglesey of Toronto Miss Katherine Tobin of Toronto, Mrs. E. J. Dunbeck of Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. G. Downer of Peterborough.

MRS. E. MARGARET WILSON

The funeral service for Mrs. E. Margaret Wilson of Lindsay, who died after a brief illness, was held Friday afternoon in Cambridge Street United Church, Lindsay, with Rev. Dr. F. H. McIntosh conducting the services.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William John Beacock, of Nestleton, Ontario, Mrs. Wilson had resided in Lindsay since the death of her husband, John Moore. Her second husband, Albert Wilson, passed away in 1919.

Mrs. Wilson was a life member of Cambridge Street United Church, and an active member of the Women's Missionary Society of the church. She has been a Sunday School teacher for several years, and was also interested in the C.G.I.T. movement. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Morley Greaves, Lindsay; a son, Jim Moore of Peterborough; and four grandchildren, John and June Moore, Peterborough and John and Margaret Greaves, Lindsay; and by her brother, William Beacock, Nestleton.

Interment was in the family plot in Riverside Cemetery, Lindsay.

The pall-bearers were: A. E. Sanderson, Peterborough; J. H. Sanderson, Peterborough; F. J. Brass, Lindsay; A. Chant, Oakville; Herbert Wilson, Cameron, and J. J. Robertson, Dunsford.

MRS. JOHN W. THEOBALD

Mrs. John W. Theobald died Sunday morning, July 2, at her home, 517 Albert street, after an illness of two months. She was born at Cobourg eighty-four years ago, Bridget, eldest daughter of Patrick Minogue and his wife, Catherine Lynch, who had come to Canada from Dublin, Ireland. In her girlhood she lived in Otonabee, her parents having moved into that township when her father was forced by illness to quit the drygoods business in Cobourg for the healthful effect of employment in the open air. She attended the old school at Mather's Corners, and was a resident of Peterborough since her early twenties.

Mrs. Theobald is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Quinlan of Prince Albert, Sask., Miss Catherine Maude and T. Harry Theobald of this city and Staff Sergeant J. E. Theobald of the Army Medical Corps.

The funeral took place this morning from the family home to the Church of the Sacred Heart where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Dr. Grant. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. J. J. O'Brien, pastor, and Rev. John Coughlan, curate, of the parish, of whose Altar Society the deceased was a member and Rev. John T. Finn, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, and Rev. Kevin Corkery.

The pall bearers were: F. J. Hickey, Frank Lawless, James Finn, E. J. McDonnell, A. A. Letellier and Ed. M. Finn.

Rev. Father Coughlan recited the prayers at burial in St. Peter's Cemetery. Mrs. Theobald had suffered an affecting bereavement by the death of her eldest grandson, Pilot Officer John M. Quinlan of the R.C.A.F., who was killed with a bomber crew in the Mediterranean area in March, and is buried in the British cemetery at Algiers.

Floral tokens of sympathy included a beautiful remembrance of roses from the Peterborough Examiner and its staff, others from Mayor Hamilton and the members of the City Council, and the Sergeants' Mess of the Peterborough Army Training Centre.

artillery ploughed a path of exploding shells over Carpiquet's town and airfield and Canadian tanks and infantry moved forward over sloping grain-fields

The Germans laid a smoke-screen over the battlefield and it drifted along the front, mixing with the smoke from guns and shells.

In this murk—at times visibility was only up to 100 yards—the Canadians fought their way over open ground, and by 6:30 a.m. leading infantry elements reported they were in the outskirts of the town of Carpiquet.

A Short Battle

At 8 a.m. it was reported Carpiquet was captured.

Meanwhile fighting continued for the airfield and its hangars and building south of the town.

Smoke obscured a clear view of the battlefield all along the front, but you could hear infantry weapons and other small arms firing in the shell-made fog, as well as tank guns, mixed with the crump of enemy mortars.

Our shells whizzed over our heads and there was no break in the steady barrage which was more concentrated than anything yet laid down from the beachhead.

American columns were converging on La Haye du Puits from the north, east and west. One column reached high ground controlling communication arteries 2½ miles from the town.

(Today's German communique acknowledged the Allies had made several penetrations on the western wing of Normandy bridgehead but claimed most assaults in that area were repelled.)

Earlier today an Allied communique said the British-held Odon salient still was firmly held, and that a fresh series of German counter-thrusts in that sector had been repulsed.

Wade Through Swamp

In many places American infantrymen fought their way through water waist deep as their new attack rolled forward. Lt.-Gen. Bradley's forces were pushing in a rough semi-circle from St. Lo. d'Ourville to a point near Carentan, a sector about 20 airline miles wide.

(The Germans admitted possibly deeper penetrations than the Allies announced officially. The Nazi International Information Service saying in a Berlin broadcast: "During American attacks launched yesterday between Carentan and the west coast of Normandy German positions were withdrawn several miles at some points.")

Until late last evening the American drive had no air support but then clearing weather allowed fighter-bombers to hit German concentrations in the Lessary area, five miles due south of La Haye du Puits.

Minsk Falls

rov's 2nd White Russian army.

The escape route out of Minsk between the yawning jaws of Cherniakhovsky's and Rokossovsky's armies to the north and south, respectively, was only 51 miles wide and therefore it was highly possible that other thousands would be caught before they could escape to the west.

Polotsk, pivotal communications centre east of the Latvian border, was declared evacuated today by the German International Information Bureau, a propaganda agency. Earlier, hard street fighting was reported there in in Molodeczno (Molodecchno), 40 miles northwest of Minsk. Both are on railways and highways into the Baltic republics.

In Southern White Russia Rokossovsky's left flank has reached Moroch, a railway town deep in the Pripet marshes, and is forming a semi-circle threatening Baranowicze.

Also advancing strongly on the Finnish front, Red army troops captured more than 50 places northwest and west of Petrozavodsk, including several stations on the railway line to Sortavala.

In the first 11 days of the westward-surging offensive, the Soviet troops have plunged forward some 150 miles—nearly one-fourth the distance to Berlin. Official announcements have reported some 225,000 Germans killed or captured since the drive through White Russia began June 23.

The fall of Minsk, in peace-time a city of 250,000, came three years to the month after the Germans took it in thier first plunge into Russia.

First dispatches from Minsk by a Red Star correspondent said the city was in Russian hands by noon yesterday. These reports said the streets were littered with German corpses.

Tanks, motorized infantry and cavalry charged down the city's brick-strewn streets as fast as they could go after remnants of the fleeing garrison, the dispatches said, adding that the Germans, bewildered by the force of the Soviet offensive — were surrendering over wide areas to the first Russians they saw.

Red Star's dispatch said the German garrison on Minsk became panicky on the eve of the Soviet occupation and that the Russian civilians, taking advantage of the situation, staged a bloody insurrection, turning on the Nazis who had kept them in virtual captivity for three years.

Take Over Building As War Hospital

OTTAWA, July 4—(CP)—Officials of the pensions department said yesterday that transfer of women's wartime residence in Kingston, Ont., to the pensions' department for use as a permanent military hospital was completed during the week-end.

The officials said they were not certain as to when the building, which has four wings and can accommodate 422 persons, would be ready for use as a hospital.

Once the hospital is in operation it will be used for any service of ex-service personnel "who we choose to send there," said officials.

Playground, Pool Opened By Lions

A supervised playground and wading pool near Riverside Park sponsored by the Peterborough Lions Club was officially opened by Mayor James Hamilton before a large crowd on Monday morning.

Mayor Hamilton in his remarks paid generous tribute to this service club for their worthwhile work in getting the pool and playground in shape for use, and he also commended the club for the hard work the members had put into the project.

Pete McGillen, publicity chairman of the club was master of ceremonies and he lauded Hurrell Dodds, wading pool chairman and Tom Doughty, playground chairman for the leadership and work they had shown in their respective jobs.

He also voiced the hope that this section would eventually be developed to a point where it would be suitable for large picnic groups from out of town and within the city, suggesting that the Lions would be willing to cooperate in having a shell bandstand built. Other work which should be done was completion of the Stuart Drive, a new horseshoe grandstand at Riverside Park, and raising the level of the park four feet to avoid flooding from the river, he said.

James Dutton, Jr., immediate past president of the club gave a review of the work done by the club during the past two years, mentioning donations of $200 to the Russion, Chinese, war relief and $100 to Greek war relief, $200 to the British War Victims' Fund, $200 to the Red Cross, $25.00 to the Lions British Child War Victims' Fund, 3 tons of magazines shipped to the Navy, and 47 tonsil operations performed without cost to the individuals. He introduced Mayor Hamilton who cut the ribbon officially opening the project.

Rev. E. C. Moore, rector of St. George's Anglican church dedicated the playground and pool, and added tribute to T. Doughty for his part.

J. E. Armitage, president of the Lions Club, G. S. Matthews, Rotary Club, Chas. Saunders, Kiwanis club, Art Lewis, Kinsmen Club, A. L. Killaly and G. Wilson Craw, chairman of the Board of Education all spoke briefly.

Judge Sheldon Smoke, an honorary member and past president of the Paris Lions Club also spoke and paid warm tribute to the Peterborough Club.

The Peterborough Women's Voluntary Services bugle and drum corps paraded to the park, and played selections prior to the official ceremony.

LIONS' PROJECT OPENED — Mayor James Hamilton cut the ribbon officially opening the Lions' Club wading pool and playground on the Otonabee River near the Hunter street bridge on Monday morning. Jim Dutton, Jr., retiring president, is shown with Hurrel Dodds and Tom Doughty, chairmen of the pool and playground respectively, while other members of the club are watching the ceremony. Two Dozen Empties Found In Parked Car

COBOURG, July 4. — (ENS).— W. N. Heron of Colborne, pleaded guilty to three liquor charges in police court yesterday and was fined $10 and costs or ten days consecutively on each charge. He paid the fine with a sigh of relief after the magistrate said, in reply to his question, that the fine and jail terms were alternatives.

Provincial Constable Douglas Wilson said that he had received a complaint about a car in Haldimand township on Saturday and on investigating found Heron in a parked car with two dozen empties, two partly-filled bottles and two dozen unopened ones. Heron told him that he had consumed all the beer himself.

Street Dance Held By Canadian Legion

CAMPBELLFORD, July 4. — (ENS).—The Campbellford branch of the Canadian Legion was favored with finest weather conditions for their annual street dance last evening. The Second Midland Regimental Band and Austin's orchestra supplied music for the entertainment and dancing, which was greatly enjoyed by the local residents, augmented by the visitors from across the border. Complete returns are not available at this time, but two hundred dollars was taken at the gate and one game alone reported receipts of over two hundred dollars. The proceeds are to be used for the overseas cigarette fund, and the Legion is grateful to all who contributed to this successful event.

Miss Rosamond Peloquire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Peloquire, left last evening for Boston, Mass., where she is registering as a cadet nurse in the Massachusetts General Hospital. Miss Peloquire is a graduate of the Campbellford High School, and also has completed her secretarial course from Miss Dorothy Kingston, B.A., of this town.

Cobourg Road Pupils Honor Miss Fitzpatrick

HASTINGS, July 4 — (ENS). — The pupils of the Cobourg Road School held their annual picnic at Birdsalls. A good crowd turned out and had diner and supper at the beach. The sports events were run off as follows:

Children under school age—Marilyn Richardson.
Boys 8 years and under— Lloyd Oliver.
Girls 8 to 14 years—Mary Collins.
Boys 8 to 14 years—Howard Richardson.
Girls over 14 years—Isabelle Beamish.
Three-legged race—Isabelle Beamish and Rena Warner.
Wheelbarrow race (mixed).—Isabele Beamish and Murray Beamish.
Stone race—Mrs. Virgil Oliver.
Married womens race—Mrs. V. Oliver.
Married men's race—Virgil Oliver.

After the sports, Howard Richardson read an address to the teacher, Miss Zita Fitzpatrick, and Mrs. V. Oliver presented her with a beautiful wool blanket. Miss Fitspatrick thanked the pupils, expressing her enjoyment teaching them the past few years.

Swimming and a ball game were also enjoyed during the afternoon.

900 Excursionists On Kiwanis Trip

COBOURG, July 4 — (ENS). — Over 900 went on the excursion to Port Dalhousie on Saturday. The excursion was sponsored by the Cobourg Kiwanis Club. The excursionists left at about eight o'clock in the morning on car ferry Ontario No. 2 and returned to Cobourg around 1:15 on Sunday morning.

Traffic was fairly heavy during the holiday week-end, many motorists apparently having saved up their gasoline for the Dominion Day week-end. No accidents were reported, the desire to save gasoline and tires keeping motorists at a moderate speed.

The C.W.A.C. Brass and Pipe Bands visited Cobourg on Friday afternoon and were warmly received. After luncheon provided by the town at St. Andrew's Church, the bands paraded to the park where they presented a concert from the band shell. Mayor Jack Burnet tendered them a civic welcome.

Motorists Are Rusty On Highway Rules

COBOURG, July 4.— (ENS). — Some motorists are getting rusty on their road rules, stated Provincial Constable Douglas Wilson, highway traffic patron, in commenting on the holiday traffic last week-end. On one patrol on Saturday he counted nine cars between Trenton and Colborne with flat tires and in each instance the car was parked right on the highway instead of being parked off as far as possible on the shoulder of the highway or up a convenient side road.

"Tires are wearing thin and many motorists when they have a flat, apparently forget that they must observe the usual safety standards. It is apt to mean trouble for yourself and some innocent motorist when you park right on the highway," stated Constable Wilson.

Ferry Fireman Is Acquitted In Cobourg Court

COBOURG, July 4.— (ENS). — Granting the motion of defence counsel for a non-suit, Magistrate R. B. Baxter dismissed the charge of being absent without leave which Captain W. Bryson of car ferry Ontario No. 1 laid against James Frew. Frew was arrested along with several other firemen from the car ferry and was remanded to Friday from the previous week. He spent the week-end of June 24 in jail. The ship's officers were unable to present any evidence as to when Frew had given his notice, the defendant claiming that his notice of seven days had expired on June 22, the date of the charge.

T. F. Hall, K.C., appeared for the car ferry company and Fred C. Richardson acted for the accused. The only evidence of the prosecution was the claim of Captain Bryson that when the accused signed off as a watchman and signed on as a fireman, he automatically forfeited his seven-days' notice, but defence counsel challenged Captain Bryson to show where the ship's articles set forth that rule. The captain's only argument to that point was his observation that Frew "if he had any brains" would have realized that his seven days' notice had been cancelled by signing on. Frew last week told the court that he was only finishing out his seven days' period in the firehole because they were short of men.

Produced Records.

Murray Maxwell, purser on car ferry Ontario No. 1 produced the ship's records to show that Frew had signed on as watchman May 28 and signed off on June 17, and then signed on as fireman on June 18.

"Did you know that Frew gave his notice to the first mate after May 28?" Mr. Richardson asked Maxwell. The latter replied that he didn't know when the first mate received his notice although he knew that notice had been given. He could not say whether it was an oral or written notice..

"I notice that Frew's signature is witnessed by the initials 'E.C." Who is that?" Mr. Richardson asked. Witness replied that it was his clerk.

"The clerk? Why didn't you have him here to-day?" demanded Mr. Richardson. Witness made no reply.

Chief Engineer W. Crate told the court that Frew had been working above as watchman and had applied for a job as fireman. He gave no notice to him, but he understood that he had given notice to the mate. As far as he knew he just walked off the boat on June 22. He was not sure when he was due back on watch as the records were on the boat.

"You should have those records here in court. The clerk isn't here either," observed Magistrate Baxter.

"A man is employed by the company, no matter what department he is in. Isn't that correct " asked defence counsel. "Yes," answered Mr. Crate.

"When he gives notice he is leaving, he really is giving it to the company?" was the next question. Witness replied that he assumed it to be correct.

Captain Bryson told the court that the accused did not report for the ship's sailing on June 22. When Frew or any employee signs on and then signs off from any department. "contact is broken" and a new contract must be made.

"That is your interpretation of the ship's articles," commented Mr. Richardson.

An Arrangement.

"It is a correct interpretation. When a man quits one department he must give seven days' notice," testified Captain Bryson.

"That is simply an arrangement for you and your officers for the convenience of your records," said defence counsel. "It is the same on all ships," replied Captain Bryson.

"Where does it say in the ship's articles that notice must be given to each department head?" demanded the defence counsel.

"It is a routine matter," witness replied.

Mr. Richardson then moved for a non-suit.

"The captain says that when a man changes from one department to another he must re-sign but nothing apparantly was said to Frew that his seven days' notice was cancelled when he signed up with another department. The first mate should be here to-day," declared the magistrate.

"We cauldn't bring the first mate because an officer must be aboard the ship," said Captain Bryson.

"Then there was nothing to stop you from going back to the ship while the first mate was up here," commented Mr. Richardson.

"Under the circumstances I am dismissing the charge." ruled the magistrate.

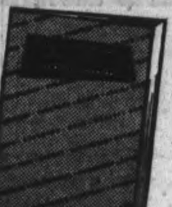
HOW YOU AND YOUR FAMILY CAN

BUDGET YOUR SPENDING FOR VICTORY



Send for The Budget Calendar, a simple budget method that really works—then join the Budgeteers

IT'S UP TO US—the ones left behind—to keep the home front strong. How? One of the important things we can all do is to budget our spending for Victory—plan our spending so that our dollars will do more for us and for our country.

Make your dollars do more

There's so much every pay cheque must do these days! Part of your dollars—through war savings, taxes and contributions—are needed to back up our fighters. With the dollars that are left you have the job of keeping your family in fighting trim on the home front —healthy and active in the battle of production. That job takes careful planning, doesn't it? Wouldn't you welcome the help of a new plan that makes budgeting easy and simple—a plan that family after family tells us "really works."

How this plan helps

We will gladly send you a free copy of The Budget Calendar. This is a budget method first published as a service to our customers. But now that so many families have found the Calendar helpful in solving their wartime money problems we have decided to make it available to everyone who requests a copy. The Budget Calendar is totally different from most other budget methods. You don't start out with a fixed spending pattern and try to fit your way of living to it. Instead, you take the expenses you now have and figure out the best way to meet them with the money you have to spend. That's so much simpler—and it takes so little bookkeeping!

New method sent free

After you see the Calendar you will probably want to join the Budgeteers. Budgeteers receive a new booklet or letter from time to time to encourage them in their efforts. They are always welcome to ask for individual help with their problems. Special recognition is given to all Budgeteers who complete a full year of budgeting.

Here at Household Finance, largest and oldest Small Loans company in Canada, we have seen over and over how careful planning can help families to keep outgo in line with income. That's why we hope more and more families will budget their spending in these difficult times. Don't you want us to send you a copy of the Budget Calendar? You will not be annoyed with loan advertising of any kind.

A BIG FELLOW NOW

● CANADA, take a look at yourself.

You are a mere youngster . . . just 77 this month.

But you have become a giant in stature . . . a greater giant by far than the Fathers of Confederation could have foreseen in 1867.

Since Confederation you have become a world power. With less than 1% of the world's population you have become the world's third trading nation. In the past four years you have become the fourth largest producer of United Nations war supplies, the fourth among the United Nations in air power and third in sea-power.

You have staggered the world with your production of food and materials, and you've done all these things with 35% of your man-power from 18 to 45 in the armed forces.

• • •

Look at yourself, Canada. Look critically . . . appraisingly. There's abundance in your hand. There's a future that offers homes and jobs and happiness to every ambitious son and daughter of yours.

This is a future worth having a stake in—a future that makes the continued buying of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates not a sacrifice, but a privilege.

More About The Budget

There are two or three points in connection with Mr. Ilsley's recent Budget which we think should be stressed, now that every citizen has had time to become thoroughly familiar with the whole matter. The first is that the removal of compulsory savings is going to mean that the objective of the next Victory Loan will be raised, and that we shall have to lend our money to the country in that way. Compulsory savings are abolished, but the country's expenses are as great as ever. Next pay-day you will find more money in your envelope, but that money is not yours to spend; it is yours to save, and when the next Victory Loan comes along you will be asked to invest it in Bonds. If you do not think that you can keep the money till then, you had better increase your weekly buying of War Savings Certificates now.

* * *

Several newspapers have disapproved of the removal of compulsory savings. We approve of it. Money which is confiscated before it reaches us is not a saving; it is a levy; indeed, it is a tax. It smells strongly of totalitarianism. By imposing compulsory savings on us the Government said, in effect: "We do not believe that you people can be trusted to do what is right with your own money; you are irresponsible and immature in your attitude toward the war; therefore we are going to take your money from you in order to make sure that you give us at least a part of what we need." There are people in Canada who justify such an attitude, but they are a minority. The rest of us felt no need for such officious supervision.

* * *

We approve also of the extension of the exemptions for dependents, and particularly we approve of the exemption for illegitimate children. Canada has been described by one of her leading economists as the most prudish nation in the world, and certainly the refusal to allow an exemption for an illegitimate child bore out that charge. It meant one of two things: either the Government refused to consider an illegitimate child as a real child, and therefore a child which eats, drinks, wears clothes and needs shelter, or it sought to punish wicked people who brought children into the world without the permission of church and state. Both attitudes are wrong-headed. Whatever the rights and wrongs of illegitimacy may be, it is stupid and unfair to punish the child by decreasing its chance of a decent bringing-up. That pharisaical regulation has gone.

* * *

Interesting also was the provision which the Budget made to ease the shock of postwar readjustment for business. Sir John Anderson, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, went much farther than Mr. Ilsley in his recent Budget, but Canada has made a gesture in this direction and will do more, perhaps. It is significant that the aid given to business by the British Budget was given unqualified approval by the Labour members of Parliament. . . . As for criticism of the Budget, we still have a complicated income-tax form which is beyond the understanding of many of the new taxpayers and not a few of the old ones. Why can we not have a simpler form for people with small incomes? The U.S. has revised its tax-form, and we could take a few tips from them as to the best way of setting about it.

The Republican Choice

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of the State of New York is now the chosen candidate of the Republican party in the next U.S. presidential election, and as such he becomes an important figure in world politics. Like many another country which can be strongly influenced by the outcome of that election, but which cannot influence the election, Canada will watch Mr. Dewey, and listen to him, with attention and some measure of anxiety, for come what will the party which he represents will have the final say about what the U.S. will do in the peace settlement. If Mr. Dewey is elected his party will say what the U.S. is prepared to do in the matter of international co-operation for peace; if he is defeated it is certain that the Republicans will control the third of the Senate vote which is needed to veto a Democratic proposal.

In 1940 Mr. Dewey did not seem to know much about world affairs, and he was an out-and-out isolationist. After Pearl Harbour his outlook like that of many of his countrymen, suffered a sudden expansion, and recently he has made some determined though rather ill-defined overtures toward internationalism. The U.S. Senate has declared itself in favour of the U.S. allying itself "with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world". Both Democrats and Republicans approved this, as they did President Roosevelt's recent statement favouring international organization. Republican senators have also worked with Mr. Cordell Hull on a scheme for the actual structure of such an organization. Upon the whole it looks as though both Democrats and Republicans had accepted the position of the U.S. as a responsible world power.

But it would be unwise for us to let optimism overcome our knowledge of the past. It was the Republican party which wrecked Wilson's scheme for an international organization in 1920, but in June of that year it published its 'platform', containing this passage:

"The Republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an association must be based upon international justice, and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by the development of law and the decision of impartial courts, and which shall secure instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war.

"We believe that all this can be done without the compromise of national independence, without depriving the people of the United States in advance of the right to determine for themselves what is just and fair when the occasion arises, and without involving them as participants and not as peacemakers in a multitude of quarrels, the merits of which they are unable to judge".

Many a Republican of internationalist sympathies supported his party with this in mind, but the isolationists had their way none the less, and lulled the U.S. into that twenty years' dream which was so dreadful for the rest of the world.

Between now and November Mr. Dewey will make his opinions known, and the whole world will weigh them anxiously. Mr. Dewey will say little on his own authority; his words will tell us whether his party has grown, or stood still, during the period between 1920 and 1944.

Hey Nonny No

Someone has written to the Brantford Expositor asking a question about Gaelic, and our contemporary has replied in a manner which we can only describe as loose. Gaelic, it says, is found in Scotland, Ireland and Wales, and until recently in Cornwall. We are sorry to have to say that this simply is not true. Forms of Gaelic are spoken in Eire, the Isle of Man, and the Highlands of Scotland, and although considerable difference exists among the three tongues people who know one of them can catch the drift of what is being said in another. But the languages of Wales, Brittany and Cornwall are not Gaelic and cannot be understood by Gaelic-speaking people. To the English-speaking man a page of Welsh and a page of Gaelic are equally incomprehensible; there the resemblance ceases. To huddle them together is like lumping Polish with Romanian; it just won't do.

But the Expositor does present a curious piece of information which is new to us and which we present here, hoping that some Gaelic-speaking reader may be moved to comment upon it:

"Think back to some of the old 'English' songs, including Shakespeare's, with their quaint chorus lines such as 'Fal, la, la!' or 'Tooral, looral', or 'Hey nonny, nonny'.

"Nonsense stuff," says the uniformed. But wait a minute! 'Fal-a-la'!, for instance, originally meant 'Welcome, the day'! The Gaelic for 'welcome' is 'faille' and for 'day' the word is 'la'. Similarly, 'hey nonny, nonny' comes from the Gaelic for 'Hail to the noon'. The moral, if any, seems to be that what is dismissed as nonsense can sometimes be traced back to good sense"

We hope that this is right, because we should like to believe it. But the Gaelic which is brought forward as proof conveys no meaning whatever to a Welshman.

Farming News and Views

By HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL

THESE summer days are anxious ones for farmers. Many things can happen to crops as they grow, to either increase or diminish the value of a harvest. Grain as it matures is at the mercy of the weather, and how fickle a jade can be. There are many very valuable crops growing this year. Senator James Donelly told me the other day he had sixty acres of peas, and every acre looked its best. Mr. Donelly has been a grower of peas for quite a few years. It was in 1938 I got some seed from him and it seemed like old times to be growing peas again. This grain seemed too valuable to feed and is much too precious for pigs these times, as there is a constant demand for peas for soup and it is good rations for soldiers....or for anybody. These are the sort of individual efforts put up by farmers during these war years. Probably they are profitable, and why shouldn't they be when labour is high priced and excess profits go to the Government for war expenditures? Every plan to raise necessary, useful crops and increase meat production is a real service to the Allied armies in their heroic work.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE is a little too much rain in parts of Ontario, not enough in sections of New Brunswick, some severe floods in Northern Alberta, a wind storm that almost reached the status of a cyclone in Western Ontario, but on the whole there are fine promises of feed for man and beast, and a good deal for export to the armies, in Canada this year, and our enemies must now have learned that they cannot make famine stalk even in an island as small as Britain.

THE last twelve months has been one of the best periods for Western Canadian cattlemen that has been experienced in many a day, so says Senator Daniel Riley, a High River, Alberta, rancher who has spent sixty-two years in the West. Not a storm last winter for cattle to weather, out looking for feed every day, cows coming through the winter fat and sleek, and a calf crop well above normal. That is a good story from the range, and the quality of beef of the Canadian ranches has long been regarded as the very best. When Canadian beef, killed on its arrival in England, first sold for a higher price than Scotch short sides, the best in the United Kingdom, this Canadian beef was from cattle shipped from Alberta to the British market. Dan Riley's branch will produce about 400 calves this year and he asserts that in all the cattle he and his son own there is not a "brockle face" in the bunch. All faces must be "white" on the Riley Ranch, no red spots permitted, all resulting from the continued use, over many years, of impressive pure bred Hereford bulls.

But, Dan remarked to me, I last year saw the best bunch of yearlings I had ever seen anywhere and they were on Cross Bros. ranch out of Hereford cows and by first class Shorthorn bulls. They were thick and smooth, well fleshed, and had a depth of rib that was remarkable. I thought, as he said it, that Matthew Marshall, of Stranraer, Scotland, would have said, "These youngsters had their drapings about them that you like in a good beast". Dan then said he had not seen the yearlings on the Cross ranch this year but was told by a man who saw them that they were the best bunch of yearlings he had ever seen. This brings up the whole question of cross-breeding and its results. In England just now a number of agricultural advisers are declaring against cross-breeding. The whole matter resolves itself into this — that cattle breeding is a business that requires intelligent study and no end of experience, and cross-breeding should only be carried on by those who understand the business. Choice carcasses of beef and mutton can be, and are, often produced by a "cross" but it is dangerous to use the animal so produced for further breedings purposes, particularly in the case of male animals. It is pretty well decided by men of long experience in the cattle and sheep business that it is only safe to use good pure bred sires. In using such a sire a breeder knows its ancestry and the perfections and faults in type and conformation of these animals and so can use them to correct faults. There is no safe method for improving cattle except by the use of pure bred sires of good individuality. The man who can produce such sires by careful selection and mating in his herd is the one who makes the production of good market animals possible. I am sure that good individuals in farm animals are going to increase in demand.

IT has become a practice in parts of Ontario to plough sod for fall wheat. If the sod contains a good deal of alfalfa so much the better. We haven't been convinced yet by "Plowman's Folly" that it would be better to disc the surface of the sod field and sow the wheat. Be that as it may, I am all in favour of packing the sod furrows as soon as they are turned and discing and harrowing the field to fill in all crevices so as to seal the turned sod to promote its decay. July is the month to break sod. The dry weeks ending July and ushering in August are good for rotting sod and turning it into humus. I think it pays to plough early enough so after it is disced and harrowed it may have a chance to sprout any live roots and when the blades come up disc and harrow it again. This means extra work but a tractor will cover a field quite quickly, and fall wheat planted in a seed bed of that kind has an excellent chance to come on quickly. I would not plough it more than four inches deep. When you are ploughing in the fall for a spring crop, you may plough deeper and bring up new soil which will be improved by the mechanical fertilization of a winter's frost but where you are ploughing in July to be seeded in August cultivate the surface and only go deep enough to get a furrow thick enough to lie in place, and will make a good seed covering and not contain new soil brought to the surface which will need some weathering.

Fall wheat is remarkably good this year, even if sown late last year, but had we a winter like that of 42-43 it would have had a bad time of it. Usually it is safer to plan for an average season

THE State of Iowa has been the foremost in the Union in farm production. During the past summer and autumn Iowa farmers have broken over one million acres of sod. This should mean a substantial addition to the feed crops of the corn-hog state. Iowa has increased its cattle numbers to five and one half million head, which is equal to the total numbers in the range States of Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. In the whole of Canada we hve some eight and one half million cattle.

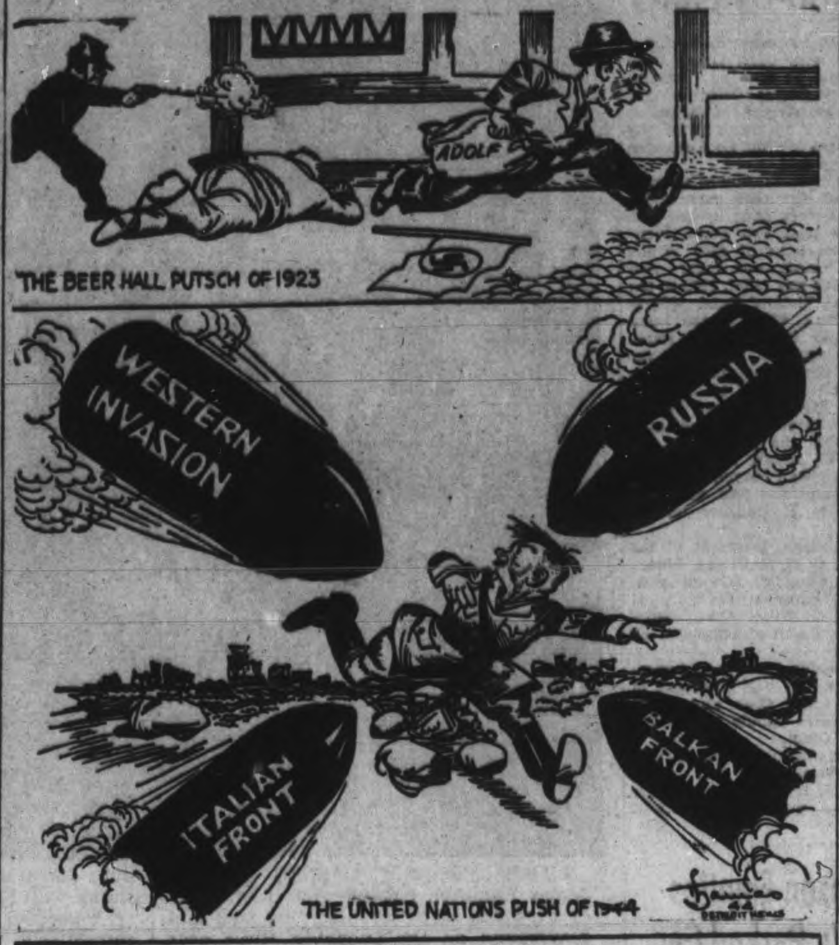
IF you have a vegetable garden this year you should write the Agricultural Supplies Board of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa for the special pamphlet number 46, on the control of insects and diseases in vegetable gardens. This is a well prepared description of pests and disease that attack growing vegetable, with control recommendations in respect to them. It is often difficult to recall methods of treatment for these plant enemies and it is well to have a pamphlet of this kind on hand. Often a very simple remedy is suggested that is easily obtained and much food from your garden can thus be saved.

ADOLPH'S DEPARTMENT OF SECRET WEAPONS —By Thomas



When $45 Looks Like Thirty Cents

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

IT cannot be too strongly emphasized that Finance Minister Ilsley, when he announced discontinuation of the compulsory savings regulation, also declared need for saving by the Canadian people was greater than ever before. The discard of compulsory savings was forced. Large numbers of workers persisted in regarding these savings as straight taxes; absenteeism was mounting, and production suffered. The only remedy appeared to be removal of compulsion and an appeal for greater voluntary savings. It is altogether probable that the move will reduce absenteeism, but unless the appeal for greater voluntary savings is needed, there is a possibility the money thus released may have an inflationary influence. The influence would perhaps be limited, but no matter how small, it is something Canadians should exert every effort to prevent.

Canadians have heard a lot about inflation since war began. They have had it explained to them many times, in terms both simple and complex. One of the most vivid accounts of inflation we have noticed recently, however, was that given in Picton the other night by Mr. Lewis Walmsley, a mission worker returned from China. Chinese workmen, Mr. Walmsley said, were paid 30 cents a day before the war. They now receive $45 a day, and the hugely increased wage doesn't meet their needs as well as the pre-war 30 cents. That's inflation—when $45 looks like 30 cents.

China isn't the only place to feel the blight of inflation. Egypt is suffering terribly from this economic evil, and some details of conditions there were recently related by Sir Ronald Storrs, distinguished writer and public servant, and well-known authority on the Near and Middle East. Speaking at a Foyles literary luncheon at Brown's Hotel in London, England, Sir Ronald said that prices of ordinary commodities in Cairo were beyond belief. Rents for public and private accommodation are swollen to inconceivable proportions; other costs were proportionately high. An ordinary suit of clothes, for instance, sold for approximately $200.

There are many other instances of inflation which could be cited. These two should be sufficient, however, to allow a comparison between conditions under infation and conditions in Canada, where safeguards against infation were established early in the war. As a consequence, the Canadian dollar today still bears a reasonable resemblance to the pre-war dollar. The controls established over prices and wages, while they are admittedly less than perfect, have prevented growth of the inflationary tendency which would inevitably have occurred in their absence. Canadians owe a genuine debt of gratitude to the men who early realized that one of the most terrible perils attendant upon war is inflation and who took steps to prevent it.

More than ever, Canadians must help these men in their unceasing fight against inflatoin. There will be a natural tendency to look upon the savings portion soon to be released as found money, and perhaps a tendency to spend it thoughtlessly. The urgent need to save this money should be thoroughly explained to Canadians. If they save it voluntarily, and more along with it, they will be helping themselves, the war effort, and the men who are fighting against inflation. If they spend it recklessly, they will be helping to bring about conditions which could make $45 look like 30 cents right here in Canada.

The Limits Of Partisanship

(NEW YORK TIMES)

WHEN Representative Clare Boothe Luce was addressing the Republican National Convention on Tuesday evening the American casualty lists for the first two weeks of the Normandy fighting were being added up in London—3,082 known dead; 7,959 missing, some of whom are dead; 13,121 wounded, of whom many will never again be whole and well men. When the Democrats meet the totals will be greater, the grief and pain by that much augmented. We cannot believe that the American people will applaud Mrs. Luce's insinuation that these men are dead, or wounded, or missing because President Roosevelt did not show "skillful and determined American statesmanship" between 1933 and 1941. Neither do we believe that they would applaud a purely partisan Democratic reply.

The blame is wide and deep. The Republicans did reject the League of Nations. They did reject the World Court. They did uphold a narrow conception of neutrality. Their votes, in the House of Representatives, did come within an ace of destroying our new Army less than four months before Pearl Harbor. The Democrats, between 1933 and 1939, shared the responsibility for a parochial international policy. What can possibly be said for a Presidential statesmanship that spoke of quarantining aggressors in one month of 1937 and accepted the embargo act later in 1937? This much can be said, in exact justice, for President Roosevelt: after the outbreak of war in 1939 he did lead this nation in preparedness and in acknowledgment of its international obligations.

But when either party, and its leaders, shrank from war, the nation shrank, too. Because we hated war we were too patient, and, in the case of Japan, too helpful, with our sworn enemies. Trying to keep out of war we ran into it, under adverse circumstances. We followed no material interest, but struck for liberty only after we were attacked. This is America's record, not that of any party. In love and loyalty to the dead we had better not make it partisan.

A Day In Traffic Court

One day in Ottawa Traffic Court saw fines imposed for the following list of offences against the public safety:

Having defective brakes;
Obstructing traffic;
Ignoring a red signal light;
Ignoring a traffic signal;
Exceeding the speed limit;
Riding a bicycle through the red light;
Carrying two persons on a bicycle.
Illegal parking.

No doubt every individual in the list knew he was breaking the law and deliberately took a chance on being caught. And we can assume that for most or all of these offenders, and the scores who pay fines in Traffic Court every week, it was not a first offence, even if the others went uncaught and unpunished.

Traffic will not be safe so long as drivers persist in doing the things they know well they should not do, in taking a chance to save a few seconds or to serve a selfish convenience. The streets and roads are just as safe as those who use them are desirous of making them — they cannot and will not be any safer. — Ottawa Journal.

Food Versus Freedom

Emanuel Kalytka, the German prisoner who escaped from a prison hospital on Staten Island and then slipped back into the "chow" line two days later, said he just wanted to see something of the United States. But he came back when he was hungry—to partake of a dinner which included mushroom soup, roast veal, potatoes, carrots, lettuce salad, chocolate cake, and milk!

Cream of mushroom soup! How often we have tried in vain to buy it these last few years. What we started to say was: Imagine anyone giving up a chance for freedom for the sake of a stomachful of food! But one only has to glance toward some parts of Europe to prove to himself that there are lots of people like that. And, with some of those in mind who have accepted political jobs, political graft, or even social security, we wonder if there are not a few in America.—Christian Science Monitor, Boston.

THE RIGHT ANSWER

In a section of a military hospital where special work is done the lady in charge has been asking in vain for assistance for months, as she finds the increasing work almost impossible to overtake.

This week two "brass-hats" inspected the place, and were delighted with the work being done. On leaving one said:

"I think you've a very excellent unit here, Miss——."

"I think you've chosen the right word, Sir James," she replied. "Unit means one."

The reply was effective. She's getting an assistant.—Glasgow Herald.

FOR BETTER HEALTH

In some of the smaller cities of Ontario and in towns and townships, matters in regard to public health are frequently conducted in a more or less haphazard manner.

This is no reflection on local authorities for, generally speaking, they do the best they can under the circumstances obtaining and in the light of knowledge they possess. Since the outbreak of war, however, which revealed that almost 50 per cent of Canadian young men are below the physical standard required for military service, there has been impressed on the national consciousness the need for better health service.

Provincial health authorities have accepted the challenge and a serious attempt is now being made to reorganize local health units so that they will be able to function in a more efficient way.—Welland-Port Colborne Tribune.

A Bible Message

Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. But John forbad him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he suffered him. (Matt. 3: 13-15.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink....

Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given the living water....

The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain: and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.... But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. (John 4: 5-7, 9, 10, 19-21, 23.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"I wish you'd overlook it this time, constable," pleaded the motorist who had been pulled up for speeding. "As a matter of fact, I was dashing up to town to see my solicitor on very urgent business."

"That's all right, sir," was the soothing reply. "Now you'll have some more news for him."

"The Prodigal Son," was the subject of the Sunday school lesson, and the minister, who had paused to visit the infants' class, was dwelling on the character of the elder brother.

"But amidst all the enjoyment," said the preacher, "there was one to whom the preparation of the feast brought no joy; to whom the prodigal's return gave no happiness, only bitterness; one who did not approve of the feast and had no wish to attend it. Now, who can tell me who this was?"

Silence for several moments; then a hand was raised and a small sympathetic voice said:

"Please, sir, it was the fatted calf."

Dr. R. P. Vivian Addresses Tory Gathering

MILLBROOK, June 4 (ENS) — Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Earle extended the hospitality of their large and comfortable farm homestead for the annual meeting of the Millbrook and Cavan Progressive-Conservative Association, on Friday evening, the host being president of the organization, and the hostess assisted by Mrs. Percy Stinson and Mrs. Ira Lowe in receiving more than one hundred guests. The meeting had Dr. R. P. Vivian, Provincial Minister of Health, as guest speaker, and was held outdoors, strings of colored lights illuminating the grounds against a background of cedars, with the president in the chair and extending a warm welcome.

As an opening feature of the program, T. W. McIndoo, of Fairmount, was called upon to present a basket of flowers, peonies, roses and delphinium, in remembrance of the local men and girls enlisted for active service overseas. The flowers were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. McIndoo, the latter having given two sons, Norman and Malcolm McBain, for the service of King and country in the present war, the former being now in Italy, and the latter having paid the supreme sacrifice in the conflict. In an eloquent address, Mr. McIndoo compared a boy's life to that of a flower, from its beginning and gradual unfolding, until it had accomplished that for which it had been created. The Lord's Prayer in unison, and the National Anthem, followed, and later in the evening Mrs. James H. Paul was presented with a basket of flowers in memory of her husband, the late J. H. Paul, who died last March, and was a past president of the Association, active in the interests of Conservatism practically all his life.

Mrs. Downs, whose son Bombadier Ted Downs, is now serving in Italy, requested and was given a leaf from the basket to send to her boy overseas as a memento of the occasion.

Dr. Vivian Speaks

Introduced by the chairman, Dr. Vivian explained that he was making his first appearance before the electors of Millbrook and Cavan since his return to the Legislature, and that his remarks would be in the nature of a report of what had been accomplished in his department during the intervening months. He emphasized that, while some people think pre-election promises are made only to be broken personally he did not hold with that view, but was determined to make them good as far as he was able. He dealt in detail with the accomplishments in connection with the twenty-two points of the Progressive-Conservative platform, stressing particularly the legislation planned in regard to education, with difficulties encountered, and yet to be overcome. While there is a wide field yet to be covered, the doctor assured his hearers that every effort is being made to reach the objective set in the official program, giving some concrete instances, and also revealing in a vivid manner undertakings already under way, with the progress made so far in constructive legislation before the House.

Personal contact with the electors was the end chiefly in view in connection with Dr. Vivian's visit, his wife accompanying him and making many friends with her attractive personality; this, it was explained, was the first of a round of visits to be made by the Minister of Health to the several municipalities throughout the riding of Durham county, and at the conclusion of his address, which was more in the nature of a heart-to-heart talk with the electors, there was prolonged applause.

Officers Elected

The 'get-together' side of the meeting was further emphasized in the informal lunch served after the election of officers had taken place the slate being: President, Russell K. Earle, re-elected for the second year; vice-presidents: Mrs. Ira Lowe, Mount Pleasant, Mrs. Arthur V. Thorne, Cavan, and Lavergne Fallis, Millbrook; secretaries: Percy Stinson and Charles Thorndyke; treasurer, George H. Hootan, Fairmount; chairmen of the different wards: 1, Delbert Olan and Mrs. Lambert Gibson; 2, W. W. Brown and Mrs. A. Thorne; 3, I. W. Larmer and Mrs. Allie Fallis 4, Herbert Morton and Mrs. Thomas McCamus; 5, Robert McCamus and Mrs. Ira Lowe; for Millbrook: 1, Douglas Sheppard and Mrs. P. Stinson; 2, L. W. Winslow and Anna Fair.

These Ward chairmen are to meet within the next week and choose the delegates to attend the annual Progressive-Conservative convention to be held probably at Orono, though no definite date or place have yet been announced, but there will be ten from each ard making fifty for Cavan and twenty for Millbrook. Owing to unfavorable weather, Friday's meeting had been postponed from the previous week, and two speakers scheduled to be present, Captain Harold Scott, M.P.P., and Gordon K. Fraser, M.P. for Peterborough, were unable to attend, the former through illness, and the latter because of a similar gathering at Lindsay which he was to address.

Have you energy for EXTRA things?

Alice has...
She turns idle moments into energetic hours! "I'm another busy housewife," says Alice, "grappling with housekeeping and shopping problems. My 'relaxation' is writing stories for children's papers. You can't do that when you're tired and worn out, so I keep fit. I'm careful about my habits. But no nasty doses. Instead, I get 'bulk' in my diet by eating Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning. And are they delicious!"

Keep fit with Kellogg's every day in the year!

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP FIT for 'extra' things: 1. To get well, see your doctor. 2. To keep well, watch your habits. Guard against incomplete elimination. Norman Whipp Killed In Motorbike Crash

Fatally injured when his motorcycle failed to make a sharp curve on Highway 7 a few miles west of Lindsay Sunday, Norman Whipp, 216 London street, downtown salesman for Wonder Bakeries, died in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, two hours after the crash.

He was on his way to Toronto on a mercy errand to visit Harold Babbs, Peterborough, who has been in hospital in that city for weeks as the result of a traffic accident. Soon after leaving Lindsay Mr. Whipp's motorcycle ran off the highway at a curve and crashed into a fence with the result that he was very badly injured. He was rushed to hospital in Lindsay.

His wife and step-daughter, Evelyn Gardner, were visiting friends in Norwood and arrived at the Ross Memorial Hospital just a few minutes before Mr. Whipp died.

Born in England 37 years ago, Norman Whipp had been a resident of Peterborough for twelve years and before that lived in Norwood for several years. He has been associated with Wonder Bakeries for the past eleven years and was a popular and highly respected member of the sales staff of that organization.

As a member of the Full Gospel Pentecostal Mission Mr. Whipp's voice had been frequently heard in solos over the air when the services of that church were broadcast over Station CHEX.

Surviving are his wife, a step-daughter, Evelyn Gardner, and a brother, George Edward Whipp, living in Toronto.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the funeral parlors of A. Comstock and Sons. Rev. H. J. McAlister will officiate. Interment will be in Norwood Cemetery.

Bancroft Mill Is Lost In Fire

BANCROFT, July 4—(ENS)—One of the most spectacular fires to occur in Bancroft in several years, took place early Sunday morning when W. A. Davy's water-powered mill on the York River was completely destroyed. Flames lit the sky for miles around. The alarm was sent in at 4.00 a.m., and volunteer firemen with equipment responded. They were unable to extinguish the flames, but prevented the fire from spreading to adjacent houses. The large saw and grist mill and office machinery, a quantity of logs, and a large drying building was destroyed. The origin of the fire was not determined.

The mill was built in 1935, on the former site of the Creak and Flint mills, built in 1877. At the present the mill was leased to D. J. McDonald, who was operating the industry. The estimated loss was in excess of $10,000, and there was no insurance coverage.

We Can Buy Our Way Into a Breadline!

History is a meek little word that covers a multitude of suffering. And only through profiting by past mistakes... will we suffer less! Remember how in the last war folks "blew" their money. Needless spending caused prices to rise .... so that by 1918, the 25 lb. flour you buy today for 89¢ cost $1.85 then; while baby's coat was $12.00 compared to a similar coat at $4.98 today. This was inflation and all too soon it was followed by the inevitable depression! That's why our government is determined to prevent inflation now..... why there are price ceilings and other anti-inflationary measures to hold the cost of living down and keep our dollar value high. And YOU help prevent a future depression and keep your dollars high in value... every time you pass up a needless luxury ... invest your money wisely ... and avoid black market spending.

Make This Pledge Today!

I promise to give my support to keeping the cost of living down. I will buy only what I need. I will observe the ceiling whether buying or selling goods or services. I will pay off old debts, save for the future, invest in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. And I will support taxes which help lower the cost of living.

C.G.E. All-Stars Shut Out Toronto Outfit

Peterborough C.G.E. All-Stars, playing fine ball offensively and defensively behind effective pitching by Dave Wilson and Ronnie Akers had an easy time subduing the Royce Avenue, Toronto, C.G.E. team in the benefit game for the British War Victims Fund played at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon. The final count was 12 to 0 and the visitors were never in the hunt after the Peterborough team had put together a six-run rally in the third frame.

Manager Murph Chambers fielded a team composed of Ronnie Akers, Holly Mowry, Jack Playford, Jack Carpenter and Gib Brockley of Switchgear, Johnny Condon of St. Peter's and Dave Wilson, Eddie Starr, Art Heal, Jack Tucker, George Hawks, Phil Pryde and Les Burton of Plazas and the combination was much too strong for the Toronto club.

Wilson pitched the first five innings with Starr as his battery mate, allowing only three hits and Ronnie Akers who finished the game with Mowry catching was equally effective, yielding but three blows.

The Petes fielded in great style with a shoestring grab of a low liner by Jack Carpenter and a fast double play, started by Hawks with Heal in the pivot spot as the standout defensive plays. On the attack they came through with some timely hitting with Barney Ashmore, Les Burton, George Hawks and Jack Playford sparking the assault. Ashmore drove in four runs, one on a single and three more on a slashing homer to deep centre field.

Don Cavotti did the pitching for the visitors and showed a lot of speed, striking out eight, but the homesters were able to break through

Injury Forces Baer Retirement

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 4 — (AP). — A training-camp injury received several years ago has put an end to Max Baer's fighting career.

The former world's heavyweight champion, now a staff-sergeant with the United States Army, said yesterday his left arm is beginning to "dry up and lose its effectiveness" and that he has no idea of ever fighting again.

He suffered the injury when he was struck on the top of the head by an 85-pound punching bag while training for his fight against Max Schmeling, and it as aggravated in a bout with Lou Nova in 1941, Baer said.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

According to major league attendance figures, night baseball is proving highly successful with an average of 13,931 for each arc-light tilt this season compared with the matinee average of 4,919 for week-day engagements. Major league night ball has attracted a total of 1,156,067, with Washington leading both circuits with an aggregate 368,598 for floodlight fixtures on all week nights.

Pensive, winner of the Derby and Preakness, is moving out of the three-year-old class to-day to compete against the veterans in the $50,000 Stars and Stripes handicap at Arlington Park. The field includes Rounders and Valdina.

A former baseball and football star and later a track and field coach, Robert Kirby has retired as principal of Stamford Centre school to start farming at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont. He has also relinquished his positions as executive director and convener of the Niagara District Baseball Association.

SPORTS—Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

With a whole lot at stake because both outfits want this game badly tonight's City League battle at Riverside Park between Soldiers and St. Peter's should be one of the liveliest engagements of the season. The teams are battling it out for third position so that both clubs are gunning for a win and will have their strongest lineups in an effort to bring home the bacon. Soldiers have won their last two starts, knocking off Switchgear and Plazas, the two leading clubs, in a row and they are playing their best ball of the season right now which is a happy position to be in with the playoffs coming up soon. The Saints on the other hand have been running into a lot of tough luck but they figure one of these nights the breaks may start going the other way and that this may be the night. It looks like Earl Revoir and Tony McIlveen as the Soldier battery with Moorhead or Reynolds and Pearson in the points for the Saints. Tomorrow U.E.W. will face Switchgear and this will be about the last chance for the Union team to keep in the running for a playoff position so that they will have to show a lot of fight on this occasion or fold up for the season.

There was a minor argument Saturday over a play in the Royce Avenue-Peterborough C.G.E. game at Riverside Park when a batter collided with Dave Wilson as the Petes' pitcher was fielding a bunt on the first base line. The hitter was called out and there was a Toronto kick about the interference with the base-runner. However the umpires were right on the play. Sections 7 and 8 of Rule 48 make it clear that the fielder and not the runner has the right-of-way under such circumstances. The last part of Section 7 reads: "But in case a fielder be occupying a base-runner's proper path in attempting to field a batted ball then the base-runner shall run out of direct line to the next base and behind said fielder and shall not be declared out for so doing." Then Section 8 says that a base-runner is out "If he fail to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball in the manner described in Section 7 or in any way obstruct a fielder in attempting to field a batted ball."

Girls' League Resumes

The Girls' Softball League after a few days layoff will resume action at the Ashburnham Bowl tonight when Quakers and Brintons will supply the competition in a league game that should be decidedly interesting. The Brintons, winners of the intermediate championship for the past two seasons are anxious to make it three in a row but are meeting with lots of opposition from Johnson Motors and the new clubs in the loop this season. Quakers have been playing god ball and they will probably give the Brinton club plenty of competition tonight. Brintons have not announced their starting pitcher but it is expected that Gertie Masters will do the tossing for the Quakers. Tomorrow, Wednesday night there will be another keen battle with the Johnson Motors' team clashing with Peterborough Lock. Both teams expect to be at full strength for that important engagement and the game should be well worth seeing. The Outboard Marines are a greatly improved team this season and the Lock Company team, playing for the first time in the loop have been playing good ball. The result should be a classy engagement between the two as the Wednesday night attraction.

All arrangements have been completed for the visit of the famous Toronto Tip Tops on the evening of Friday, July 14, when they will clash with an all-star team selected from the local City League in a game for the Kinsmen's fund. All the proceeds will go to that worthy cause. The Tip Tops, bringing their full lineup, are coming down to Peterborough at their own expense to participate in this battle which looms up as the softball classic of the year. The Peterborough team will be named by the City League executive in a day or two. Cam Ecclestone, celebrated Tip Top pitcher, and one of the best hurlers in the history of fastball will be on the firing line for the Petes; otherwise the team will be made up of City League players. Tip Tops will have big Susie Turner on the firing line for them and that is not exactly in the nature of good news for Peterborough hitters for the big fellow can surely fog them in. There will be a number of draw prizes to add interest to the proceedings and all in all it adds up to the premier sports event of the summer. A huge crowd saw a similar game last year and the attendance will at least be equally large on this occasion for the battle should be softball at its best.

As It Used To Be

George Campbell of the Oshawa Times-Gazette was doing some reminiscing the other day about Dominion Day as it used to be and his remarks will strike a responsive chord. Here they are: "Looking back, we can remember not too far back when July 1st, Dominion Day holiday was quite a sports highlight around these parts. Watching Mustaikus pitch Toronto Leafs to a 6-1 victory last night was bound to remind any Oshawa sports fan, especially a ball enthusiast, of the days when Oshawa GM-Men were setting the pace in the C.O.B.L. The Kingston Ponies and Oshawa team of those days would have given Mr. Mustaikus a much sterner tussle, believe us. It's not a bit better than good senior ball, except that the odd pitcher has just a little more and the odd player comes up with a sparkling play every once in a while but on the general run—we'd take a good old C.O.B.L. battle anytime. Remember when on July 1st Oshawa would play a game at home in the morning and back in Peterborough in the afternoon, or visa-versa or play in Napanee in the morning and come back to Belleville or go on to Kingston for an afternoon game. Those were the days! Then there were tennis tournaments, golf tourneys, lacrosse games usually away from home on July 1st, as well as the odd cricket match and a soccer game or two. We remember a field lacrosse game one July 1st, think it was back in 1930 or 31, when Oshawa played Hamilton Tigers, in St. Catharines. That trip will never be forgotten. The mercury went to something like 103 in the shade that day—hottest day in history of Canada, the record books show. The trip to St. Kitts was terrific, the actual playing of the game was a nightmare and the ride home was murderous."

* * * * * *

There was a lot of baseball in the big show since this column made its last appearance and one of the features was a 1 to 0 victory turned in by Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox, his 12th win of the current campaign as against three defeats. Hughson seems headed for an even better season than a year ago and may eventually wind up with at least 25 victories, if he and the Red Cox continue to go as well as in recent weeks. The Boston ace has of course been selected for the American All-Star team to meet the National League Selects on July 11 and it would not be surprising if he should turn out to be the American League's starting pitcher. Incidentally nothing shows how thoroughly the Yankee machine has been wrecked than the fact that only three of the champs, Pitchers Hank Borowy and Joe Page, the latter a rookie, and Catcher Rollie Hemsley have been chosen for the big game. Time was when the Yanks completely dominated that annual classic. Now their representation is down to three and not all of the trio is likely to see action.

Fire Destroys Oriole Park Grand Stands

BALTIMORE, July 4 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin razed the stands of famed Oriole Park, home of the Baltimore International League club today, causing a loss estimated by club officials at around $150,000.

The wooden stands burned so rapidly that within little more than an hour only charred and smoking timbers remained around the field where Jack Dunn once led his Orioles to seven straight league pennants and where he developed such famous stars as Babe Ruth, Lefty Grove, Joe Boley, Tommy Thomas, Max Bishop and others.

All the uniforms and playing equipment of the league-leading Baltimore club and of the Syracuse Chiefs, scheduled to play an Independence Day double-header, were destroyed. Thomas, now Baltimore's manager, said it would be impossible to play today's games because of the loss.

Seated 13,000

Emergency plans were made a long while ago, Thomas said, to utilise Baltimore Stadium, and as soon as equipment can be obtained the club expects to play its home games there.

Oriole Park had a seating capacity of approximately 13,000. Watchmen said the stands were watered as a usual precaution immediately after last night's game which Baltimore lost to Syracuse.

Shortly after 1 a.m., a watchman said, he detected a scent of smoke and saw that the area was wet again, the procedure being repeated after 2 o'clock.

About two hours later the blaze broke out and swept through the 30-year-old stands so fast the two watchmen and an Oriole player barely were able to get out of the structure. Eight alarms were turned in as the fire threatened scores of houses surrounding the field.

A hardware store and a cafe on a corner next to the stands were gutted.

Besides loss of the stands, Thomas said the club also lost about 150 uniforms, trunks full of bats, 40 dozen new balls brought in yesterday, dozens of pairs of shoes, almost irreplaceable office equipment and many highly prized trophies and pictures owned by the late Jack Dunn. Every seat for today's games had been sold in advance.

NEW YORK, July 4 — (AP). — This department will have no truck with flouting the old baseball tradition that the team that leads the pennant race after July 4 is the one that will win the pennant, but there's a strong suspicion that the tradition must have developed in days when pennant races weren't very close. Looking back through the major league records for 15 seasons we find the tradition held true 11 times and one year the eventual winners, the Yanks, were tied with Cleveland.... In the National, however, only 5 Independence Day leaders managed to hold on to the finish, while others succeeded in blowing leads as big as nine games..... This morning, the Cardinals were 9½ games in front of the Pirates, but the Browns had only 1½ game margin over the Red Sox and eight games over the last-place Athletics.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Dominion Day was celebrated by the people of Peterborough in many different ways, but as far as the members of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club were concerned it was lawn bowling all the way.

Beginning at 1.30 p.m. and playing until past midnight 22 men's rinks competed in the annual competition for the Tip Top Tailor Trophy. To Ken Sloane, donor of the trophy, and his rink go the honor of winning the trophy and the flannels donated by his company.

There was some mighty good bowling all through the contest but probably in the third round the boys did their best. It certainly was the most interesting. When the supper hour came only four rinks remained unbeaten and naturally it was to these games that the spectators focussed their attention. First H. Darling was defeated, then R. Burns and then followed Dr. Fulford. That left Ken Sloane, all by himself, and what a fight he was having with H. Northrop. It was nip and tuck all the way and finally ended up in a tie score 12-all. This gave Sloane two wins and a tie, just enough to nose out the two game winners. It is the first time in the history of this annual competition that the winning rink won the trophy with less than three straight wins.

There were many highlights during the day's play but the one that caught the crowd's fancy was the big eight-end that J. Harrison slipped over G. Gimblett. This is the first possible score that has been turned in this season and George and his rink stood up well under a lot of good natured kidding. A large crowd stayed right through to see the play-offs.

It was an excellent day for bowling and considering the amount of playing the greens came through in good shape.

The following games that were rained out on Wednesday June 7th will be played tomorrow night.

F. Dearborn vs. R. Hutchinson.
L. Loftus vs. S. Lowe.
P. Moore vs. H. Northrop.
T. Ryan vs. G. Sorenson.
D. Bell vs. J. Fitzpatrick.
F. Kerr vs. C. Lawrence.
P. McFadden vs. J. McDonald.
K. Sloane vs. V. Selkirk.
L. Turner vs. E. Wall.

The milk for Britain tournament that was scheduled for tomorrow night has been postponed until a week from Friday night.

The Tip Top Tailor Trophy winners were:

First prize, each a pair of flannels—A. Smith, W. Russell, J. Bennett and K. Sloane, skip.

Second prize, each a credit slip—J. Keys, J. Wood, S. Williams and George Coleman, Jr., skip.

Third prize, each a credit slip—R. Everitt, A. Boorne and R. Payne, skip.

Fourth prize, each a credit slip—R. Fulford, P. Spence, Dr. Fulford and C. Renaud, skip.

Farley, Gray Defenders At Kawartha

Bob Gray and Phil Farley will be called on to defend professional and amateur titles at the third annual Kawartha Lakes pro-amateur golf championship tournament Saturday, July 15, and Sunday, July 16.

Millar Warm-Up

The Peterborough event, over the Kawartha Golf and Country Club course, will serve as one of two tests before the Millar Trophy tournament at Islington July 20, 21, 22. The other will be the Ontario Open at Royal York Tuesday, July 18.

At Peterborough the pros will engage in a 54-hole medal play competition, 18 holes Saturday and 36 Sunday. The amateurs will play a 36-hole event Sunday.

$500 for Pros.

Professional shotmakers will have $500 to shoot at in their 54-hole tour, with $150 to the winner, $100 second, $75 third, $50 fourth, $40 fifth, $30 sixth, $25 seventh, $20 eighth and $10 ninth. Bob Gray, formerly of Scarboro now unattached, topped the field last year. Farley, Scarboro amateur, headed his division.

The amateurs will be listed in three handicap flights, 1 to 10, 11 to 20, and 21 to 32. There will be low gross and low net prizes for each flight and a team prize for four low gross scores from any one club.

Lex Robson veteran Canadian pro and six times winner of the Millar Trophy, is Kawartha's professional.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH? By Ti-Jos No. 46

HEADS YOU LOSE... ...and tails nobody wins if inflation once gets underway. So it's up to each of us to see it doesn't! What can we do? Tell everyone the facts. Never cheat on rationing. Spend as little as possible. Save all we can to spend after the war.

Toronto Team Defeats C.G.E. All-Stars

Pushing over two runs in the last inning Willie Sniderman's Toronto Cadmiums defeated C. G. E. All-Stars in an exhibition game at the C.G.E.-Genelco picnic at Nicholls Oval Monday by 7 to 5.

It was an interesting battle all the way and was witnessed by a huge crowd.

Both clubs changed their pitchers three times. Ronnie Akers pitched the first five innings for the Petes, gave over to Dave Wilson who worked the next three and then went back to the mound in the ninth just in time to absorb the defeat as the teams were tied 5-5 when the final frame opened.

For the Toronto outfit Pichosky worked the first five innings with McMath catching and then Simpson and Axsmith were the visiting battery for the sixth and seventh, with Pichosky and McMath coming back for the last two innings. Both Toronto pitchers had a good change of pace that proved baffling and Akers also pulled the ring on a few that fooled the visitors.

Lewis the Toronto left fielder led the visiting hitters with a homer and a double but the most devastating blow was a homer into the crowd in left field by Gureskey, shortstop of the Cadmiums which came with two on in the sixth and put the visitors ahead for the first time.

Eddie Starr with a triple and a single and Art Heal with two safe blows topped the Peterborough hitters.

The Petes started off well. Heal beat out a bunt and Hawks dropped a double into right field. Pryde was thrown out, short to first, Heal scoring and Mowry singled to short to score Hawks.

That was all the scoring until the sixth when with Wilson on the rubber for the Petes, Lewis opened with a double. Walkoff drew a pass and both scored in front of Guresky when the tall shortstop drove a homer into deep left field.

The Petes evened up in their half. Starr tripled to left field and scored on Tucker's single. Tucker scored on an infield out to tie up the game. Once more a homer helped the visitors. Walkoff, first up for the Cadmiums in the eighth poled a long homer to deep left to tie it up again after the C. G. E. had taken the lead in the last of the seventh.

Ashmore rapped a single through short. Wilson fanned. Heal bunted safely. Hawks forced Ashmore at third but Brockley walked filling the bases and Heal scored when Starr beat out a roller to short.

Cadmiums won out in the ninth. Sniderman got a life when Hawks missed his pop fly. Pichosky bunted safely P. Versage flied out but Lewis and Walkoff were passed forcing in a run and Pichosky scored on Robinson's single past third.

The teams:

Toronto Cadmiums—P. Versage 2b, Lewis lf, Walkoff cf, A'Angelis rf, Robinson rf, Gureskey ss, F. Versage 1b, McMath c, Axsmith c, Kowalik 3b, Sniderman 3b, Pichosky p, Simpson p.

Peterborough C. G. E.—Heal 2b, Hawks 3b Pryde rf, Brockley rf, Mowry c, Starr c, Routley ss, Tucker ss, Burton lf, Carpenter lf, Ashmore 1b, Akers p, Wilson p.

NICE GOIN', BOYS!—Congratulations are in order for Marine Corporal "Andy" Steinbach (Left), of Chicago, Ill., and Staff-Sergeant Joe DiMaggio, of the army air forces. The army scored a 7 to 1 victory over the marines at Hickman Field in Hawaii, but Pitcher Steinbach held the Yankee Clipper to but a few singles throughout the game.

Meets The Wildman

Earl McCready, just back from a triumphant tour of the southwestern states will battle the sensational Nanjo Singh in the main bout at the Tunney wrestling show in the Brock St. Arena tonight. Also on the card are Al Bunny Dunlop versus John Arthur and Verne Baxter against long Joe Christie. The main bout promises to be one of the most thrilling of the season.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, July 4 — (CP). — Sport crowds of to-day aren't easily satisfied with what is dished up to them, opines Al Ritchie, Regina's football and hockey maestro. We've all become too familiar with sport thrills and spectacles and look upon the present brand of athletic show with jaded eye, he says.

Huge crowds are jamming race tracks, but all they are interested in is the price the winner paid and what to bet on in the next race, says Ritchie. Same way with the baseball pennant races, here some close and interesting races are being staged, but the fans refuse to become overly excited about it.

The same attitude is displayed toward all sports, and in fact toward all events in the world that once would have been colossal news. There has been too much of the sensational and the citizens can't be excited as they used to. But Dave (Regina Leader-Post) Lryburgh isn't alarmed despite Ritchie's pessimistic view. Dave thinks that with the end of the war things will get back to normal again.

And that's a good, safe bet. What will help as much as anything will be to get some of the top-notch athletes back on the ice, or diamond or gridiron after their work in the services is finished. Then your fans probably will come bark into the groove with the old enthusiasm.

Incidentally:

Bud Williamson, once star footballer in the West, has moved back to Edmonton after several years in Saskatchewan. Williamson left Edmonton in 1933 to play for Altomahs in Calgary in the Western Canada final...Ten to Ace is making what looks like the start of a gallant come-back. Harry Giddings' Oakville horse made a fine showing in Hamilton, Ont., in a six-furlong handicap, and looks to be over the leg and hoof injuries that put him on the shelf after a brilliant start ....Former star of Montreal Canadiens in the N.H.L., Kenny Reardon, showed he is fleet on the ground also at a track meet in England recently. He won the shot putt, running broad jump, and was on the winning relay team.

Syracuse Chiefs Blast Orioles

(By The Associated Press)

Apparently aware that the accent currently is on youth, the Syracuse Chiefs' 17-year-old Bob Carson stepped to the plate last night in the 10th inning and blasted out a grand slam home run that helped sink Bob Palica and the Baltimore Orioles, 11-4. Carson's blow was the high spot of a seven-run splurge that shattered a 4-4 tie carried over from the ninth inning.

Al Jarlett had no trouble coasting to his 11th win as Toronto Maple Leafs fashioned eight runs from 11 hits to defeat Buffalo Bisons, 8-2. The bright spot from the Buffalo point of view was Eddie Kobesky's 14th home run in the fourth inning. For Walter Wilson it was his seventh defeat of the year, to which Dick Schoff, of the Leafs, contributed a home run in the seventh inning.

Other clubs had an open date.

Joe McSpaden Wins 5th Title

CHICAGO, July 4 — (AP). — Tournament-tough Joe McSpaden, the Philadelphia putting wizard who has monopolized five golf titles in the last seven months—the Victory National his latest—was on his way with Lieut. Ben Hogan to-day to Minneapolis to compete in the Golden Valley best-ball team matches, after defeating Hogan for the Chicago Victory National championship in an 18-hole playoff.

McSpaden, shooting a one-under-par 70 to Hogan's 73 captured his third playoff victory in the last year. It was the fourth time Ben had failed to beat a playoff jinx since 1941.

The championship gave Jug $3,000 in War Bonds.

Ben's second place award was $1,750 in Bonds.

The Victory National title was Jug's fifth in 13 tournaments since January, when he started his sensational winning streak by taking the Los Angles open.

Lieut. Ben found it hard to control a hook in yesterday's playoff and went over part for the first time in seven rounds during the meet.

He won the first hole when McSpaden missed an eight-foot putt to take a bogey five, but on the third Jug dropped a 15-footer for a birdie three, while Hogan missed from five feet for a five. Little Ben squared the match once thereafter, but never regained the lead.

Voiselle, Kramer Pick Of Rookies

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants and Jack Kramer of St. Louis Browns shape up to-day as the pick of the rookie pitcher crop as the major leagues head into the 4th of July flurry of doubleheaders after a day of inactivity.

Under the guidance of Manager Mel Ott, Voiselle has blossomed out as a 10-game winner in the first half of the season, pitching 12 complete contests for a 10-9 record.

Kramer, after taking his first five starts, faltered, but boasts an 8-8 average including eight complete games.

Walt Dubiel of the New York Yankees is giving Kramer a close fit for freshman laurels in the Harridge loop as the husky Hartford, Conn., native includes nine complete games and a neat two-hit shutout while breaking even at 5-5.

Lefty Joe Page of the Yanks who was named to the all-star team ran into first-inning miseries after a sensational start but has shown every sign of becoming a top flight ace when he controls his blazing fast ball.

DO YOU HATE TO GET UP in the MORNING?

Doesn't it feel swell to wake up in the morning clear-eyed, refreshed, full of pep? Yet so many, especially over 40, get up tired all over, with aching joints, never really feel their best.

The reason is often a common complaint—a system clogged with poisonous food waste. Like many people, you need help to clean out a sluggish system, get back pep and sparkle rightfully yours. The mild action of BILE BEANS is an effective aid thousands rely on.

Made from 10 pure vegetable extracts, Bile Beans are so gentle, yet effective, they are called "The Medicine That Wakes Up Nature". These small laxative liver pills tone up the system by stimulating flow of liver bile, so essential to good digestion and daily regularity.

Why not enjoy that "glad-to-be-alive" feeling every day? Try Bile Beans tonight—they work while you sleep. Over 7 million boxes used last year, convincing evidence of how greatly they are helping others. 36

Fleming School Holds Picnic

HASTINGS, July 4— (ENS). — Ideal weather Friday afternoon made the attendance at the annual picnics of the Fleming school and neighbours, larger than in previous years, when a hundred sat down to a delicious dinner and supper at the Birdsall's beach.

Swimming and bathing were enjoyed for a couple of hours, when a ball game took place, followed by the sports in charge of Alf Forde, Ernest Stevenson and Basil Johnston, which resulted as follows:

Children under school age—Darlene Johnston.

Girls 6 years—Shirley Forde, Marjorie Fleming.

Boys 9-10 years—Douglas Forde, Harold McDonald.

Girls 9-10 years — Jean Fleming, Lorraine McConnell.

Boys 11, 12, 13 years — Walter Fleming, Billie McConnell.

Girls 12, 13 years—Phyllis Johnston, Lillian Johnston.

Young men's race—George Forde, Lee McConnell.

Young women's race — Marilyn Forde, Phyllis Johnston.

Wheelbarrow race — Don Lewis and Lee McConnell.

Sack race—Kenneth Forde, Douglas Forde.

Shoe race (younger ones)—Dorothy Fleming, Helen McDonald.

Peanut race—Lorraine McConnell, Harold Johnston.

Shoe race (older ones)—Marilyn Forde.

Married women—Mrs. A. Forde.

Married men—Basil Johnston.

At the close of the sports, Phyllis Johnston read a short address, when Shirley Forde presented the teacher, Mrs. Charlie McDonald, with a lovely piece of Royal Winton (summertime) china. Mrs. McDonald thanked the pupils for their gift. Supper was then served, which brought a very enjoyable afternoon to a close.

Must Cut Newsprint

WASHINGTON, July 4—(CP)—War Production Board yesterday told United States newspaper publishers that orders for July shipments of Canadian newsprint far exceeded authorized delivery quotas and publishers must reduce their orders to stay within their authorizations.

Tourists Numerous In Rice Lake Area

GORE'S LANDING, July 4 (ENS) —Warm weather brought a record crowd to this village over the July 1st week-end. All cottages, cabins and tourist lodges were filled to capacity and many turned away.

Traffic over all roads was heavy throughout the entire week-end, with American cars making their appearance in considerable numbers for the first time this season. Splendid catches of pickerel were reported from tourist camps with every boat bringing in a number of fish.

A new cottage is being built on MacFarland's Point (formerly MacAllister's Point), by Mr. Etherington, Toronto.

During the week, operations were begun on tearing down the old stables belonging formerly to the Rice Lake House. The gaunt foundations of the structure are still standing, with the huge beams intact from pioneer days.
